

HACKER 2541

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2541-If Harvey could seize NandoCorp, it would be easier to take down DillCorp in the future. Soon, the entire Riddle Corporation would belong to him. And when everything Nicole cared about was in his hands, she would naturally get close to him.

Gritting his teeth in anger, Harvey got into the car and said with a dark tone, "Go to the Royal Creek Institute."

Part of the reason he lost this time around was because of Mr. Ellison. If it were not for Mr. Ellison who helped Nicole with the cover up, how would Harvey not realize that Jared had made a move? Especially since Harvey put all of his energy in Mr. Ellison. Harvey would not have suffered such a huge loss.

When Harvey arrived at the Royal Creek Institute, he said coldly, "After all these, you're still choosing to side with an outsider?"

Initially, Mr. Ellison was taken aback by Harvey's sudden visit. He thought that Harvey was there with good intentions. Unexpectedly, Harvey began to scrutinize Mr. Ellison as soon as he entered.

"I don't know what you are talking about," Mr. Ellison replied, confused.

"Quit acting. Nicole had been visiting you a lot. Don't you know what she's been up to?" Harvey said angrily.

Mr. Ellison was stunned. "She just came to visit me because I was sick."

"Hmph, did you think I'd believe you?" Harvey said through gritted teeth.

Mr. Ellison finally understood what was going on. He finally got the answer to the questions that had been lingering in his mind for the past two days. "If you don't trust me, ask the nurse. The previous nurse left. You're the one who hired the current nurse, right?"

Previously, Mr. Ellison found it odd that the nurse seemed to be eavesdropping often. Especially when Nicole was there to visit, the nurse would never leave the room. Even if she had to leave, she would stay right outside of the room and observe everything that was going on inside.

Seeing Harvey's behavior, Mr. Ellison finally understood that they were not on the same side. And Harvey had assumed that Nicole's frequent visits were so that Mr. Ellison could help her out.

Mr. Ellison took a deep breath in silence. A glimpse of sorrow flashed in his eyes. "What happened in the past was my fault. I've done everything I could to compensate for it. If you want to ask for more, I'm afraid I can't provide that. But know that I'd never do anything to hurt you."

After all, Harvey was his biological grandchild. Mr. Ellison was not doing anything wrong, to atone for his sins. In fact, he admitted his fault.

His only hope was for Harvey to be well. It would not only ease Mr. Ellison's mind, but also Harvey's parents.

Harvey froze for a moment, grinding his teeth. Then, he came back to his senses, turned around and walked away.

He came to the realization that Nicole staged all this. She purposely caused a misunderstanding, so that he would put all his focus on Mr. Ellison and ignore the other side.

Harvey suddenly broke out into laughter. It had been five years, and Nicole had not changed a single bit. She was still that quick witted Nicole, that same one who angered and annoyed people.

Harvey's assistant felt chills running down his spine as he watched Harvey laugh maniacally. He subconsciously took two steps back, in fear of being scolded.

Meanwhile, Nicole and Jared had returned to DillCorp.

"Thank you." Nicole did not expect him to turn up and help her.

Jared held Nicole's hands gently. "I know you could do it yourself, but I wanted to end things quickly."

"You're worried about Everett?" Nicole raised an eyebrow. She roughly understood what Jared was trying to say.

"At least we'd have one less thing to worry about," Jared replied calmly.

It was not that he was worried about Everett, but it was necessary for them to be prepared for the worst. It would be great if they could land a headshot.

"Harvey lost this round but his reaction seemed weird." Nicole frowned. She felt that Harvey's attitude was not a display of what he was thinking.

"What has happened, happened. He's just a sore loser." Something flashed Jared's eyes. He would never let Harvey win.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2542-"Do you think Mr. Ellison would be in trouble if Harvey comes to his senses?" After all, Nicole did cause Harvey to be suspicious of her recent visits.

"There won't be any trouble. Mr. Ellison doesn't have anything left that's worth it to Harvey." No matter how insane Harvey was, he would not kill his biological grandfather.

"Actually, I just feel like Mr. Ellison doesn't deserve all this."

Mr. Ellison was extremely kind to Harvey. Who would expect Harvey to hide such resentment towards him?

Jared comforted Nicole. "Mr. Ellison leaves Harvey alone because of the guilt he feels for what happened last time."

"And it was because of this that Mr. Ellison pent up a lot of things and fell sick," Nicole said sadly. "If Mr. Ellison refuses to recover on his own, he'd only get weaker."

"This is up to Mr. Ellison himself." Jared's eyes darkened. 'If Mr. Ellison never forgives himself, no one can help him.'

"We should visit him more often." Perhaps, it would be helpful if they could lighten up Mr. Ellison's mood.

Jared looked at Nicole and held her hands gently. "Just follow your heart."

KNOCK, KNOCK.

“Come in.” Nicole looked up and turned towards the door.

As the door opened, Lester entered. Seeing that Jared was there, he seemed hesitant.

Nicole seemed to notice his reaction, so she questioned him straightforwardly, “Are there any updates about Lulu’s case?”

“Yes,” Lester replied.

He understood that Nicole was signaling him to speak directly. Then, he walked to the sofa and said, “Icyln’s personal assistant contacted those two siblings again. This time around, we gathered some evidence.”

“What does she want now?” Nicole raised her eyebrows. ‘When Icyln looks for that pair, it’d definitely be something more than just a checkup.’

“She wants to frame Lulu. They’re going to stage a show in which the sister is sick and in danger. That way, Lulu would be in a difficult situation. In fact, they’d cancel her bail,” Lester said in a serious manner.

If they were not taking any precautions this time around and found some evidence, Lulu would be in huge trouble.

Nicole’s face darkened. If Lulu’s bail were to be canceled, it would not only affect her career and reputation, but also her wedding. After all, her wedding date was approaching.

“Ma’am, do you think we should report this immediately or put it on hold for now?” Lester asked.

Nicole narrowed her eyes and said coldly, “Let’s put it on hold.”

“Yes, ma’am,” Lester replied and left.

Nicole gritted her teeth. Although they gathered some evidence, exposing it would only interfere with their plan. She would have to wait a little longer.

Once her plan was complete, she would make sure they experienced the consequences of slander.

Knowing that Nicole was worried for Lulu, Jared comforted her. “Since we have the evidence now, everything will be fine.

“Yeah.” Nicole lightly nodded her head and said solemnly, “The wedding will go on as planned.”

For her to do this at such a time, Icyln must have been desperate and anxious to destroy the wedding. As long as Spencer and Lulu could not get married, she would stand a chance.

She really was a detailed person. Unfortunately, she used her skills in the wrong place. From the looks of it, San Joto could no longer accommodate her.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2543-As the sun set, Nicole and Lulu stepped out of DillCorp together.

Lulu looked around and muttered, “Why hasn’t June come yet?”

“You’re just excited to try on your wedding dress, right?” Nicole teased.

Lulu began to blush and replied shyly, "I'm not the only one who's trying out the dresses."

"Calm down. She's here." As soon as she finished speaking, Nicole smiled and waved at June, who was approaching them.

"Sorry, I'm late," June explained, standing in front of the two girls. "The traffic was quite bad on the way here."

"Don't worry. We just came out as well." Nicole smiled. "Let's go! Don't make them wait for you."

June and Lulu replied, "Let's go!"

The girls got into the car and headed to the styling room which they had chosen.

They had decided on that styling room a while back. Since their wedding dresses had arrived that day, the girls set a date to try it out together.

When they arrived, Spencer was already there, waiting for them. The only person missing was Samuel.

"You girls are here!" Spencer approached the girls and added, "Samuel's stuck in traffic. He'll arrive later."

Lulu turned to June and teased her, "The both of you are truly made for each other."

June rolled her eyes at Lulu. "Go put on your dress!"

"We should go together. When Samuel arrives, you're going to make him blind with your glam," said Lulu, pulling June and walking into the shop.

"I'll be with them," Nicole told Spencer and followed after the girls.

The stylist immediately came over to find their dresses and helped the girls put it on.

"Nicole, how's Lulu's case going? June questioned Nicole while she was putting on the dress.

"Don't worry, nothing will happen," Nicole reassured and then remained silent.

"But I heard that girl, Icyln, is quite arrogant. Are you sure nothing will happen?" June was still a little worried.

Nicole sighed. "I guess she assumed that she's getting some support because her teacher will be there. Or perhaps, the wedding date is approaching, so she feels like she would lose everything if she doesn't try hard."

"In that case, I wish that the wedding is tomorrow." June smiled. Once the wedding is over, everything will calm down "No matter what, Lulu and Spencer will still be together." Nicole's gaze darkened. It had always been Icyln who was delusional. Icyln thought that she would stand a chance as long as Spencer was not married yet. However, Nicole trusted that Lulu and Spencer would never leave each other, even if they did not get married.

June nodded in agreement. "You're right."

Spencer and Lulu's relationship was built on a strong foundation. Their relationship was not bound by marriage.

"Alright, does this look good?" Lulu had finished changing, so she asked for the girls' opinion.

June and Nicole turned to look at Lulu, seemingly somewhat annoyed. "We're worried for you, but you're acting as if nothing happened."

Lulu bit her lip and said, "Things won't change even if I worry about it. So why not cherish the present?"

"You mean present and future," Nicole corrected. Then, she patted her friend's shoulders and said, "Don't worry. Lester found some evidence. You'll be fine."

"Really?" Lulu eyes glimmered.

"Of course! I'd never lie to you." Nicole smiled. "I've told you earlier. All you have to do is sit back, relax and be a happy bride."

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2544-Nicole could tell that Lulu was still bothered by the matter. That was why Lulu talked about cherishing the present moment. Perhaps, Lulu felt that if she really could defend herself from slander, she would not be able to complete the wedding with Spencer.

"How is it? Are you guys done?" Samuel's voice sounded from outside.

June and Lulu looked at each other and said, "Let's go outside."

"June? Where-" Samuel called out to June again when he did not get a response. However, the moment he saw June walk out, he stopped talking.

Looking at June, who was holding up her dress and slowly walking towards him, Samuel's eyes became focused, and he could not look away.

June started to grow shy from Samuel's gaze. She could not help but blush. "Don't just stare at me. Is this dress okay?"

Samuel came back to his senses and nodded vigorously. "Fine. Perfectly fine."

It looked really good and was a good fit for June.

In turn, Spencer stared at Lulu. With a wide smile, he said, "It's very pretty. What do you think? Does it fit?"

Lulu held the dress and spun around once. "I think it's just okay."

"You should tell us if it's not the perfect fit. We can still get it altered," Spencer gently reminded.

"I think it still fits." Lulu tried moving around again.

"That's great." Spencer looked at Lulu carefully, and the smile in his eyes deepened.

Looking at how sweet those two were, June could not help but tease Lulu. "Now you don't have to worry about anything. It

Hearing this, Spencer frowned a little. "What should she worry about?"

"Nothing. I guess I was a little too anxious, but I'm fine now," Lulu explained, not mentioning Icyln's issue to Spencer. She did not want to put him in a difficult position.

"That's right. She's getting married soon, so it's normal for her emotions to fluctuate." Knowing what Lulu was trying to do, June played along with her.

Samuel saw that the both of them were done with their wedding dresses, so he reminded them, "You girls should try on some dinner dresses."

June and Lulu went ahead to try on other dresses.

This time around, Nicole did not follow the girls. Instead, she stayed with Spencer and Samuel to wait for June and Lulu.

"You don't have to be here actually." Samuel knew that Nicole specially came for June and Lulu. And because of this appointment, Nicole had asked Jared to fetch Nolan and Lana.

"I'm here to watch them." After all, her best friends were about to get married. Nicole was cherishing that moment. When they hang out together in the future, Lulu and June would carry the status of Nicole's sister-in-law.

Spencer had a different opinion. With Nicole around, June and Lulu would be in a better mood. "At least you can comfort them while you're here. Didn't they mention some pre-wedding anxiety?"

Nicole glanced at Spencer and smiled. She did not mention what happened to Lulu.

She knew that Spencer's attitude towards Icyln was all just volunteer work. It was only because he had a promise with his teacher. Spencer did not really care much about Icyln, so it was only normal for him not to realize Icyln's feelings for him.

While Nicole was lost in her thoughts, Spencer's phone rang.

He looked at the caller ID and immediately declined the call.

"Why aren't you picking up?" Nicole questioned. She could tell that Spencer's mood had changed drastically.

"It's unimportant." Spencer's voice was cold. He really did not want to take Icyln's call.

Realizing that there was something fishy, Nicole could not help but ask, "What's going on?"

"Nothing." Spencer was still persistent on keeping his mouth shut.

However, Nicole found it even weirder so she questioned, "If something's going on, you can talk to us. Maybe, we could help you solve it. Your wedding day is coming soon. I'm sure you won't want things to go wrong."

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2545-Since Preston was also present, it was a good opportunity for all of them to offer some clarity on this issue. At the very least, there was one person from Dillion's family who was reasonable.

"I think we should take care of the issue concerning the medicines first." Nicole's eyes darkened.

Mr. Riddle Sr. narrowed his eyes. "Do you think Everett's evidence is unreliable?"

He had guessed that, as Nicole had mentioned this with such abruptness.

"I've already conducted an investigation. There are indeed some suspicions." Nicole's voice grew deeper and lower.

However, the specifics were still unclear, so they needed to continue the investigation.

"Make sure to investigate thoroughly then." Mr. Riddle Sr. replied, his tone becoming much more solemn.

"Of course," Nicole responded.

"As for Dillion...- Mr. Riddle Sr. looked at Preston and paused for a moment. "Just let them stay at home until everything has been cleared up."

They had already severed ties on paper before, so Mr. Riddle Sr. did not want to get himself involved in their affairs anymore.

"Don't worry, Grandpa. They won't come and bother you," Preston assured him.

Preston figured that his father and sister would not have the guts to come back after they had gotten DillCorp into such a mess.

"Good." Mr. Riddle Sr. nodded in satisfaction. "You can go home now. I need to get some sleep."

"Alright, Grandpa. Rest well."

And after bidding him farewell, his grandchildren left.

Mr. Riddle Sr. heaved a sigh of relief after they were gone." Thank goodness for Nicole."

"Mr. Riddle Sr., please take good care of your health from now on. You can enjoy your life with Miss Nicole taking charge of everything now," the butler smiled and comforted.

"Nicole returning safely has been the greatest boon for me.'

During the past five years, everyone had been living their lives normally on the surface, but Nicole's disappearance had been a thorn in everyone's hearts, one that nobody even dared to mention or address. Fortunately, she had made their way back to their hearts and lives.

"Miss Nicole didn't just return on her own. She brought Nolan and Lana as well." The butler smiled.

'Those two children were truly adorable, indeed,' Alfred thought.

Hearing the butler's words, Mr. Riddle Sr. could not help but smile as he pictured Nolan and Lana's faces in his mind.

“Oh Nicole, she’s been back for so long. Why didn’t she bring the children to me earlier?” he said.

‘I should have seen such little cuties sooner than later,’ the old man thought.

“It’s not too late now. In the future, we should get Mr.

Spencer to bring Nolan and Lana here more often to keep you company,” Alfred suggested.

“Yes, that’s a good idea.” Mr. Riddle Sr. agreed with a nod.

Then, the butler kindly reminded him, “Well, Mr. Riddle Sr.? You should go upstairs and rest. You must take care of your health.”

“I’m perfectly healthy!” Mr. Riddle Sr. said with a hint of coyness.

“Yes, you are the healthiest,” the butler agreed with a smile.

“No, I have to call Mr. Johnston Sr. and share this good news with him.” Mr. Riddle Sr. picked the phone up and dialed a number. “Hey, I have good news...”

Meanwhile, in the courtyard, Nicole, Jared, and Preston were exchanging serious glances.

“It’s not going very smoothly, but we won’t give up,” Preston clenched his teeth.

“Don’t put too much pressure on yourself. I know this is difficult, and it’s actually more of a test. So even if the results aren’t ideal, it’s okay,” Nicole said as she noticed Preston’s guilt.

“We hope to find it as soon as possible too. It would greatly benefit you.”

Unfortunately, the progress was so slow that they even began to doubt their own capabilities.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2546-“Beneficial or not, I’ll still do what needs to be done.” Nicole had always relied on herself, and any assistance would be a bonus. But even without it, she would not give up.

“Let’s go back now. Just carry on with your plan. If you encounter any problems, you can come to us,” Jared said firmly. He was determined to succeed in this matter.

“Got it,” Preston agreed solemnly.

Jared glanced at Preston. Then, he held Nicole’s hand, about to get in the car.

“Nicole, thank you,” said Preston.

“You should go home now,” Nicole replied, smiling faintly. She then got into the car with Jared.

After watching them leave, Preston got into his own car and left the manor.

The Riddle family manor fell silent once again, but tonight, it seemed different from before.

In the car, Nicole leaned back in her seat. She slowly moved her neck, appearing somewhat tired.

“Feeling better now?” Jared asked softly, gently massaging her neck.

“Yes, much better,” Nicole replied with a smile.

Jared looked at her and asked, “Did you remember something in the family manor?”

Knowing that he was asking about what she had told

Preston, Nicole furrowed her brows. “I’m not sure. I didn’t personally feel anything, but at that moment, I just felt like that was the right thing to say, that it should be like that.”

She did not know if her memories were gradually returning, but she just had a feeling that she knew Preston had always wanted to start a tech company, so she just spontaneously mentioned it.

Jared’s eyes narrowed slightly. *So, she couldn’t definitively sense whether her memories were returning, but she’d show it if something was familiar to her.’

“Maybe your memories are slowly coming back. That’s a good sign,” Jared said.

“I think so too,” Nicole replied. Even if she could not regain her memories, it did not seem to affect her now.

Nicole let out a sigh of relief as she rested her head on Jared’s shoulder. She looked content as she closed her eyes, smiling.

“If you’re tired, just sleep for a while,” Jared suggested softly, holding the woman gently.

“Sure,” Nicole murmured before falling silent.

Jared waited for a while and she was still silent, so he glanced at her and found that she had really fallen asleep. There was tenderness in his gaze.

“Max, crank up the air conditioning a bit,” Jared instructed.

“Of course.” Max adjusted the temperature before asking quietly, “Mr. Johnston, now that Dillon’s case is resolved, will they find trouble with Mrs. Johnston if they find out that the DillCorp is now under her control?”

“They don’t have the ability to do so,” Jared said with a cold glint in his eyes. He would not give them the opportunity either.

Just then, Jared’s phone suddenly rang. He immediately muted his phone and saw ‘Grandpa’ flashing on the screen. His brows furrowed slightly as if he could guess what this was about.

He glanced at Nicole and ultimately decided not to answer the call. He put the phone away after the screen went blank.

After a while, the car arrived at the Riddle residence.

Seeing that Nicole was still asleep, Jared did not want to disturb her. So he gently carried her out of the car and returned to their room.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2547-After settling Nicole down, Jared’s phone rang again. He sighed helplessly and went to the balcony to answer the call.

“You punk. You’re even avoiding my calls now.” Mr. Johnston Sr. sounded annoyed.

“I was occupied just now,” Jared explained calmly.

Mr. Johnston Sr. was vexed. “If Mr. Riddle Sr. didn’t tell me, how long were you planning to keep this from me?”

Jared knew exactly what was going on after hearing this accusatory tone. Mr. Riddle Sr. had called Jared’s grandfather and informed him about the children, so his grandfather came to question him.

“I didn’t intend to keep it from you. It’s just not convenient to disclose it openly right now,” Jared justified patiently.

“Hmph! Mr. Riddle Sr. knows, so why can’t I?” Mr. Johnston Sr. questioned angrily. As grandfathers, they both had the right to know.

“Give us some time. I’ll explain everything to you,” Jared said, feeling helpless. “It’s late. Get some rest.”

With that, Jared hung up the phone. Otherwise, his grandfather would keep questioning him. But Jared could not promise him anything right now. After all, he had not even told Nicole about his grandfather.

In fact, he did not tell her anything related to his family. He did not want to burden her when her memory still had not fully returned.

However, things had come to this point, and Jared believed that it was finally time for him to head back and explain things to his grandfather.

He looked back at the room, his gaze softening. ‘She should know some things by now,’ he thought.

The next day, the sun shone brightly, and the sky was clear.

As usual, Jared accompanied Nicole to Riddle Corporation. However, as soon as their car stopped, another car pulled up in front of them. Jared could not help but feel a bit exhausted at this strange occurrence.

Although he found it strange that the car had stopped in front of them, Nicole got out of the car without much thought, so Jared followed suit.

“Do you need something?” Nicole asked, confused when she saw him getting out of the car.

“I planned to tell you some of this in the future, but I’m afraid you have to know about it now,” Jared said. There was no avoiding it now. His grandfather was here, and even if he did not say anything, it was something that could be swept under the carpet.

Before Nicole could ask what he meant, a loud voice was heard as a figure approached them.

“You brat! You found your wife, and now you’re neglecting everything else, huh?”

Nicole turned to look. Even though that person was elderly, he appeared quite spirited, almost appearing younger than their actual age. However, there was one thing that did not make sense to her.

‘This person just called someone a brat. Who’s he referring to?’

In her confusion, the elderly person had already arrived in front of them. He was raising his walking stick and was about to lash out at Jared.

Nicole's expression changed, and she instinctively blocked the cane, frowning slightly. "Sir, how can you injure someone in public?"

Who is this person? How dare he call Jared a brat! He even tried to hit him! Does someone like this actually exist in San Joto? Or did he mistake Jared for someone else?'

Mr. Johnston Sr. was stunned as he looked at the unfamiliarity in Nicole's eyes. She even sounded hostile.

"Grandpa, let's head inside and talk," Jared suggested.

Nicole blinked in surprise. "Grandpa?"

"Well, that's about right. Young lady, you've disappeared for five years, and now that you're back, you don't even acknowledge me anymore. You didn't even let me see your kids even though you've taken them to see Mr. Riddle Sr.," Mr. Johnston Sr. grumbled discontentedly, already walking toward the Riddle Corporation building.

Nicole's mouth twitched. 'Did he just respond to me? I wasn't even addressing him.'

She turned to look at Jared, her eyes filled with questions.1 What's going on?'

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2548-Jared held Nicole's hand. "Let's go, we can talk inside."

"Sure." Nicole followed Jared into her office.

Once they entered Nicole's office, the three of them took seats on the couch.

A secretary brought them some tea and left the room.

It was just the three of them left. Both Nicole and Mr. Johnston Sr. looked at Jared, waiting for him to say something.

"Grandpa, we didn't mean to keep this from you, but it's because Nicole has amnesia," Jared explained, choosing to clarify things with his grandfather first. As long as his grandfather understood the situation, everything else could be sorted out.

Indeed, Mr. Johnston Sr. was shocked at the statement. He looked at Nicole in astonishment. "You don't remember anything at all?"

No wonder she didn't recognize me earlier. She had lost her memory.'

"Yes, but this is something we've kept confidential. Even Mr. Riddle Sr. doesn't know about it," Jared explained with a raised eyebrow, lowering his voice.

Mr. Johnston Sr. was initially surprised, but then he smiled." Well, now I know something he doesn't. That's good."

Jared shook his head mentally as he knew his grandfather would react this way. Once he put it this way, his grandfather would not be bothered by the details.

“Have you consulted a doctor? Is there a chance for her to recover?”

“We’re working on it, but the results of my treatment are still uncertain,” Nicole answered truthfully.

Seeing Mr. Johnston Sr.’s reaction, even though she had no memory of him, Nicole felt a strange sense of familiarity with him.

“Don’t worry too much about it. Even if you can’t remember, it doesn’t matter. What matters most is the future of both of you. You should live happily together from now on,” said Mr. Johnston Sr., to comfort them.

He felt sorry for Nicole. She had gone through a lot before returning to San Joto, and now, she had lost her memory. However, to everyone else, Nicole’s memory loss was not important. What was most important was that she was back safely, and that was more than enough.

“Yeah.” Nicole smiled as she realized that she had been worried for nothing. Gradually, she had become more accepting, and the outcome did not seem so important anymore.

“What about the children?” Mr. Johnston Sr. continued. Last night, Mr. Riddle Sr. had called him, praising how cute the children were, so he could not wait to see them.

“Grandpa, we’ll take the children to visit you in a few days,” Jared said. Since his grandfather already knew about his kids, there was no need to hide it any longer.

“Can’t I see them now?” He had been looking forward to it.

“They are at preschool right now,” Jared explained.

Upon hearing this, Mr. Johnston Sr. proposed, “How about after school then?”

‘If I can’t meet them now, I must be able to see them after their class.’

“You have to give us some time so I can tell the kids beforehand.” It was not that Jared did not want them to meet his grandfather, he just had not told Nolan and Lana about this yet.

Since Nicole had lost her memories and many things had happened after her return, Jared did not tell them about Mr. Johnston Sr. for now.

“What’s there to tell them? Just bring me to them, and I’ll tell them myself. Mr. Riddle Sr. had met them, so I want to see them too,” Mr. Johnston Sr. said stubbornly.

Jared frowned, feeling defeated.

Seeing that both men were standing their ground, Nicole decided to grant Mr. Johnston’s wishes.

“Alright, please wait at home then, Grandpa. I’ll take them to meet you after they’re done with their classes.”

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2549-Suddenly, Mr. Johnston Sr. became delighted. “Alright, it’s settled then! Ill await your visit tonight.”

Jared could only give in. "Alright."

"Hmph! My own useless grandson is less capable than Nicole," Mr. Johnston grumbled discontentedly. Then he smiled at Nicole and said, "I'll be waiting for you all tonight."

"Bye, Grandpa," Nicole responded with a smile, nodding.

Finally satisfied, Mr. Johnston Sr. left.

Nicole raised her gaze to look at Jared. "Why didn't you tell me about your grandfather all this time?"

"There were too many things on your plate, so I didn't want you to be distracted," Jared explained softly. He initially believed that Nicole would remember when her memories returned. However, things had not unfolded as he expected.

Since everyone knew about this now, and Nolan and Lana's identities were going to be announced to the public, Jared figured that there was no need for him to keep it from Nicole anymore.

Understanding his intentions, Nicole stopped condemning him.

But now that they knew, it was time to visit his family's elders.

Jared patted her head affectionately and said softly, "I'm glad you understand."

Nicole could not help but roll her eyes playfully. "No need to be so serious. It's not that big of a deal."

Besides, Jared was considering her well-being. He was not being selfish.

"Nicole!" Lulu burst into the room in a hurry. She froze when she saw Jared there. "Hello, Mr. Johnston."

After seeing the urgency on Lulu's face, Jared said, "I'll be leaving now since you're busy."

"Sure." Nicole smiled.

After Jared left, Lulu walked up to Nicole and teased, "Did I interrupt something?"

She did not expect Jared to be there, which was why she barged in like that.

Nicole rolled her eyes at Lulu. "It's late. Do you have something urgent to discuss?"

Lulu's expression instantly turned serious.

"Yes, well... Raine has gone missing." Lulu's face turned pale with concern.

"How did she disappear?" Nicole asked in surprise. 'Given Raine's current condition, where could she have gone?'

"We don't know. She went to DillCorp the other day, went back home, and never stepped out again. We thought she was just resting due to her injuries, but today we realized she's been missing for who knows how long," Lulu said, her face turning paler. As of now, they only knew that Raine was missing, with no other details.

"So be it then," Nicole replied indifferently.

"But what if she holds a grudge and tries to harm you?"

The person Raine should resent the most was James, but he was arrested now. If Raine wanted to take revenge on someone, her primary target was most probably Nicole.

Nicole said calmly, "She's not capable enough."

Lulu furrowed her eyebrows. "If it's not that, then where could she have gone?"

With DillCorp gone, James arrested, and her family cutting ties with the Riddle family, there was nowhere else for Raine to turn. Where could she be?

Nicole's eyes narrowed as she asked, "What about the others?"

"Well..." Lulu pondered before replying, "Dillon and Karen are at home every day, looking extremely upset. They seem to be on the verge of a breakdown."

Now, in Dillon's family, Preston was the only one who was behaving normally. The others appeared eerie and emotionally unstable.

"Does Raine get yelled at home all the time?" Nicole wondered.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2550-In an instant, Snow became the most despised person in San Joto.
1

Snow, who had yet to receive the news, was rummaging through her wardrobe to find a beautiful dress. She wanted to go to the hotel and pay her teacher a visit after knowing that Spencer had gone there.

Ms. Riddle, something's gone wrong!" Her assistant rushed in with a pale face.

"Why are you shouting? What's wrong?" Snow said in a somewhat displeased tone.

Her assistant approached her and took a moment to catch her breath before saying, "The siblings betrayed us and told the police everything. It's all over the internet now. What should we do?"

"What did you say?" Snow's voice grew sharp and her hand trembled. The dress she had just picked fell to the floor.

However, Snow could not be bothered by the dress anymore. Her mind was in chaos, and she had no idea what to do next.

Suddenly, her phone rang. She was startled and her face became even paler.

She saw that it was her teacher calling. She bit her lip and her expression turned fearful as she already knew why her teacher would call her at a time like this.

"Ms. Riddle, you should answer it," said her assistant. She knew who was calling and after all, there was no way Snow could avoid taking the call.

After hesitating for a while, Snow answered the call and tried to speak in a nonchalant tone. "Hello."

"Come to the hotel now." Her teacher's voice sounded stern. The call was then abruptly ended.

Snow's heart sank as she listened to the beeping sound from the phone.

"Should we go?" the assistant asked cautiously after seeing the reaction from Snow.

“What else can we do?” Snow said with a pale face.

Indeed, she had no other choice.

She fixed herself and left the apartment with her assistant.

Upon arriving at the hotel, Snow stepped out of the car. As she gazed at the hotel’s entrance, her legs seemed as heavy as lead. She couldn’t help but think about her strict teacher and the uncertainty of what awaited her inside. She wondered if she would be scolded once she entered.

“Let’s go,” Spencer’s voice rang out.

Snow lifted her head in shock and saw that Spencer was already walking ahead. So, she gritted her teeth and followed him.

Along the way, Snow wanted to speak with Spencer several times, but seeing his cold and distant demeanor, she just could not find the words to say.

Spencer rang the doorbell when they reached the teacher’s room.

The door opened after a moment. The teacher glanced at Spencer before looking at Snow. “Come on in.”

They went into the room and Snow greeted her teacher, “Hello, teacher.”

Don’t you still remember that I’m your teacher?” The teacher’s voice grew stern as he looked at Snow helplessly.

“I...” Snow choked and bowed her head.

The teacher’s heart softened as he looked at Snow. Then, he shifted his gaze to Spencer and said regretfully, “It’s my fault for not being considerate enough and causing you so much trouble.”

“Sir, this isn’t your fault,” Spencer immediately reassured. He had never blamed him. And everything that had happened had nothing to do with him at all.

The teacher sighed and looked at Spencer with a troubled expression. “What are you planning to do about this matter?”

Spencer hesitated for a moment before his gaze became resolute. “Teacher, we can forgive Snow, but on one condition.”