

Chapter 185 Doing Next

Nero's p.o.v.

We watch Alayah for a while as she sits in my lap, it isn't difficult to tell she is thinking about everything she has heard so far and Dad told us to just let her process everything. Dad and Mara seem to think that she will eventually talk to us about what is running through her mind, I just hope that they are right because I hate not knowing what I can do to help her and when she says we need to talk about the connection between us I fear the worst.

"Topaz and I have decided we will try to tackle one thing at the time and for us the most important thing right now is to figure out what this connection between us means. I think we all want to find the answer to that question, because I doubt this is easy for any of you." She says and I can feel myself relax a little but it doesn't mean she has put my mind at ease, she could still decide that this isn't what she is looking for.

"Alayah, I can understand that this is very confusing. I know I was confused to find out that my Brothers and I each felt a connection to you and my first instinct was to write it off as a sibling bond, but being away from you has shown Khal that this is more than a sibling bond. He hated every second you were not around, he hated not being able to see you or to be near you and he definitely hated not being able to get to know Topaz." Nikolay says.

"I think that what Nikolay said goes for all our Lycans and we all wish we could have used the past few days to get to know you. We will deal with our connection first and then you can tell us what you want to deal with next." I tell her as I wrap my arms a little tighter around her and she giggles when my Brothers try to sit on the couch with us, but Nathan quickly opts to sit on the floor to be near her. She tells us she would like for us to spend the rest of the day on the Gamma floor.

"I know of at least four females that will not like the connection between us and I also know I am not sure if I really like your friends, except for Isla. She is a lot of fun and doesn't care what her Mate thinks of me." She says as she places her head on Noah's shoulder, we were already aware of the fact that our friends had been cautious around her and that had everything to do with the fact that they know how much we hate females that only want a Mate with a high rank.

I explain to her why our friends weren't very welcoming towards her and she sighs deeply before she says that she understands their point of view, but I doubt she really likes the reason. "Angel, if anyone knew who you really were would you trust them to be interested in you for who you are or for what you are?" Noah asks and I hear her growl at his question, "That is what I thought and that is also the reason why our friends don't trust females near us, even if you are our Stepsister." He states.

Alayah growls as she lifts her head to look at Noah, but he isn't giving her a chance to speak because he kisses her and a moment later he lifts her of my lap to make her straddle him. Her dresses gets pushed up by the motion and I see a huge smile form on Nathan face as he seems to have the best view. I let my left hand travel up her leg as Noah deepens the kiss and we can hear her breathing hitch a few times as my hand travels higher to the hem of her dress.

Noah moans as she starts grinding her hips and the moment we smell her arousal we all moan, it is the most delicious scent I have ever smelled. Nikolay has moved to the armrest on her other side, while Nathan just looks at our Angels as she is grinding herself against Noah's cock and the noises both of them make tell us they are close to coming. "Nikolay, keep your ears open. I don't think they would like Dad and Mara to walk in on this." I say.

Alayah breaks the kiss to catch her breath, but Nikolay doesn't give her much time before he claims her lips and I see a very satisfied look on Noah's face. She hasn't made him come yet and he already looks as if he is in heaven, "Because she didn't fight him when he kissed her." Miku states as I push up her dress even further and suddenly Nathan janks it all the way up and over her head, breaking the kiss between our Angel and Nikolay.

She looks hot like fuck in her lace underwear and stilettos and Noah helps her get closer to her orgasm by pushing his hips up, putting more pressure on her clit. "Fuck, Angel. I am going to come in my pants." Noah growls and I see her open her eyes slowly as she is enjoying her second kiss with Nikolay. Her eyes are filled with lust and if her breathing is an indication as to how far from her climax she is I think she will fall over the edge soon.

Nikolay places his hand in her neck to prevent her from breaking the kiss and to prevent her from screaming the moment she comes, but it wasn't Alayah we really had to worry about. Noah groans loudly and I cover his mouth with my hand to muffle the sound, while Nikolay muffles Alayah's moans with his mouth. I smile when I see Nathan adjust himself, but I am not doing any better and I have this feeling that Nikolay is even worse off than the two of us.

Alayah leans forward against Noah's chest, but I don't think it is a good idea if Dad or Mara sees her in just her underwear and I grab the dress from the floor to put it back on her. Luckily she seems to understand why I want her to put her dress back on and she turns slightly red when she gets of Noah's lap, Yeah he better change his clothes all together.

I place Alayah on the couch next to Nathan and she leans against his chest with her back, while Nikolay places her legs over his lap. I ask her what she wants to drink and I grab a bottle of water from the coffee table to hand it to her, Nikolay and Nathan both ask for a soda. Noah sits down next to me on the coffee table, because we didn't get to talk much before things got heated and I know we all would like to know what she wants to do next.
