

Chapter 222 Alpha Aura

Noah's p.o.v.

“We have told you this at least three times and this will be the last time, but I will accept any consequences your choice has. Your Father and I were Stepsiblings and our former Alpha told us to leave willingly or he would banish us, your Grandparents chose to leave with us because they didn't want to answer to an Alpha that broke the Law.” The female says and something tells me that I know more about this story than I can remember at the moment.

The brunette tells her Mother that their situation is different, Alayah doesn't deserve four Mates according to her and Alayah should just reject us for the sake of other, better suited females. Uncle Josh asks the female why she believes there are better suited females for me and my Brothers, she looks at him as if he asked her to shave her head and I really would like to hear her answer.

“Alpha Josh, she believes that she can become this Pack's Luna and that she can take four High-ranking Lycans as her Mates.” Is her answer and I hear Uncle Josh burst out in laughter. It takes him a few minutes to recover and then he asks her where she was moments ago when he introduced their rightful Alpha to them, but she has no answer for him.

Alayah steps forward and releases her Alpha aura, there is no mistaking her for anything less than an Alpha. She turns to the males and females on her right, “I will not allow members that disrespect the Mate-bond to make trouble for anyone and I will not stand for any disrespect to any Pack-member. I will inform the Elders that each of you needs a new Pack to live in and if they can't provided you with a new Pack within a week I will turn you Rogue.” Alayah says.

This Pack will abide by the Laws the Elders had given us and there is no place for those that believe they are above those Laws, that believe that they are better than other Pack-members. Alayah is patiently explaining everything to the Pack-members standing in front of us, that this Pack will once again become the Pack that the Elders can rely on to help bring justice and that we will start with going over every file we have in the Archive.

Pack-members are starting to mumble in excitement, except for the twenty three Lycans Alayah just informed they will be moving. A voice from some where in the back ask who her leadership will be and the entire crowd goes quiet as Alayah raises her hand, “My Beta is a male that trained for this position his entire life and I know he will help me in any way he can, my Beta Anton.” She says as she steps to the side and everyone starts applauding.

“My Gamma was a bit tricky. I mean, I could have aske one of my Mates, after all their Father is the Gamma of Autumn Pack. However, I didn't want a Gamma that is influenced by the Mate-bond and who wouldn't be comfortable with talking back to his Alpha and Mate. I chose someone that has had this Pack's best interest at heart and who has done a lot over the years to keep each and everyone of you save, My Gamma Bastian.” She says and again the crowd starts applauding.

One of the females, that is standing to our right, steps forward as she keeps looking at Bastian, “Bastian, can we talk?” She asks but Bastian gives her a murderous look and if I have to make a guess I would say that she hurt him deeply, but Alayah is quick to step in front of her. “You made your choice on three separate occasions, now live with the consequences.” Alayah growls in her direction and the female slowly backs down.

Alayah makes it clear that she is the rightful Alpha and that she has many gifts, “I will only tell you this once, I will not tolerate any misbehavior from Pack-members and I will not tolerate any of you to mistreat another Pack-member. I will always find out the truth and if I find out you lied to me the consequences will be severe, is that understood.” She says as she looks at our Pack-members and as one they say, “Yes, Alpha.”

She sends the ones that were on border patrol back to their posts and tells Bastian that she wants to talk to his team in the morning, the rest of the Pack gets dismissed to go home to rest for the night. We follow Alayah back to the Alpha Residence, but I can tell that she is preoccupied with something and if I had to guess it has to do with the amount of Pack-members that are against her as a female Alpha and against our Mate-bond.

I know there will be Wolves and Lycans that will oppose our Mate-bond, but I also know that Eiji would have never accepted Alayah as his Mate if this would be unnatural and I will remind our Princess of that every day for as long as I live. I feel that she is relaxing more now that Nero and Nikolay have an arm wrapped around her and I smile as she leans her head against Nikolay's shoulder.

I had been more focused on Alayah during the announcement and I look surprised when Bastian hands me a list of names, just before he tells me through the mind-link that these are names of Pack-members that didn't make it publicly known that they were against a female Alpha or our Mate-bond. I see numbers behind each name and I ask Bastian what the numbers mean.

One is for those that don't want a female Alpha, Two is for those that are against our Mate-bond and Three is for those that should have a One and a Two behind their names. Most of the names have a One behind their names and it is equally divided between males and females, the other thing they have in common is that they are older Pack-members that weren't born in this Pack.

Bastian believes that these Lycans aren't against a female Alpha period, but that it has been their upbringing and the lack of female Alphas throughout history.

I have to agree with Bastian on that one, most Wolves and Lycans are raised with the believes that a female can't be an Alpha, a Beta or a Gamma.

They are told that those positions belong to males and history only confirms that to every Wolf and Lycan.
