Chapter 3651

"Of course, if you have to put it your way, I wouldn't mind it."

"That said, I believe you're a smart man."

"Why go against the Bauer family when you already have what you want?"

"After all, there's no grudge between us!"

"Besides, the Bauer family and Longmen are different entities. However, the master of both had always been the same since ancient times."

"Even if you don't respect me, at least think of that person as well."

"Can you only be satisfied by going against the Bauer family?"

Harold showed a faint smile; an unspeakably grim yet insulting look could be seen on his face.

Unlike Jeff and Joseph, Harold seemed more like the wolf in sheep's clothing.

Not only was he hard to deal with, but he was also quite the cunning and sinister man.

Harvey narrowed his eyes at him for a while before revealing a faint smile.

"You're right about that."

"I can hand Jeff to you..."

"But I have a few conditions."

"I'll do everything I can, as long as it's in my power!" Harold replied with a faint smile.

"The properties belonging to me must be transferred under my name tomorrow."

"Of course!"

Harold nodded.

"I also want a report of Jeff's results."

"Deal."

Harold obliged without hesitation.

Harvey stared deeply into Harold's eyes before pointing at Elanor, who was behind him.

"I want this woman with me."

"No problem!"

Harold kept his smile; he didn't seem like he wanted to go against Harvey's conditions at all.

If it weren't for the mercenaries he brought, he would've been mistaken for a people pleaser.

After seeing Harold being so cooperative, Harvey showed a profound look on his face before turning around.

"Fine. Since you're being this respectful..."

"I'll have to pay you my respects as well."

"I hope you'll do everything as you said."

Harold chuckled lightly.

"Don't worry, I'm not like Jeff or Joseph. I wouldn't do anything stupid..."

"Just wait for the good news to come, Sir York!"

When Harvey, Rachel, and the others went away, Harold's smile was gradually replaced by a harsh look.

On the next day, after Harvey and Harold met.

The properties of Flutwell's business alliance were all transferred under the Martial Hall.

Kayden and the others were shocked, and went to receive the properties.

Elanor cleared up her mood and helped organize Harvey's assets as well.

Finally, she made sure that the properties were all transferred without fail.

Jeff's reports were sent to Harvey as well.

Harvey's expression changed instantly after reading the testimony.

"What is it, Sir York?" Rachel instinctively asked.

Harvey's face was cold.

"No wonder Harold didn't want Jeff in my hands!"

"This guy sold out Longmen!"

"He sold all of the participants of the Longmen Summit's information to the Indians!"

"Axel Garcia led eighteen experts from India to challenge all of the provincial champions from the tournament!"

"Other than me, everyone else was defeated!"

Chapter 3652

Rachel, who had a strong heart, couldn't help but gasp upon hearing Harvey's words.

The Longmen Summit was only an event of the underworld, but top talents from Longmen, the Bauer family, and various martial arts backgrounds were involved with it.

Safe to say that the champions of the provincial qualifiers were one of the best out of the younger generation...

But before they could even participate in the actual Longmen Summit, they were already defeated by the experts from India!

This was the equivalent of disrespecting all thirty-five branch leaders of Longmen! Rachel and the others were completely shocked by this.

"You're not joking, right?" Rachel asked.

"How can I even joke about this?"

Harvey took a deep breath and explained the entire situation.

In recent days, Axel, one of India's three Demon Monks who was as popular as Cody, led a group of experts to Country H.

Out of fear for Harvey, he decided to challenge the provincial champions of the Longmen

Summit first.

Not only that, they also used precious treasures of the martial arts world as bets.

When the champions were provoked, they thought that this was only personal, and that they could easily defeat the ignorant Indians.

Not only did they accept the challenge, but they also got people from TV stations and notaries to witness the fights.

The Indians took down every single champion one after another.

None of the champions were dead, but they had completely lost all strength to fight; the unlucky ones were even crippled for the rest of their lives!

Axel then announced the incident on India's TV station the day before.

If he managed to take out the final champion-the man who dared to disrespect the distinguished people of India-Harvey York himself, he would become the man who crushed Country H's younger generation.

With Jeff's help, the weaknesses of the champions were all highlighted for the Indians' convenience.

Simply put, Jeff had already sold out Longmen and his own country to have the Indians' support.

This was why Harold needed to take Jeff with him.

If he didn't, the Bauer family would be in big trouble, since Jeff was still spreading secrets outside.

"You need to be careful, Sir York! Other than targeting Longmen, they're here to take revenge on you too!"

Rachel had a horrible look.

"That b*stard might've already sold you out."

"No worries."

Harvey remained calm.

"Since the Indians aren't here yet, it means they haven't found me out yet."

"Jeff has nothing on me, anyway; he has nothing to sell about me."

"That said, we shouldn't be careless. Hurry and find out what's going on outside."

Rachel nodded before giving George a call; he sent over a huge stack of documents half an hour later.

Rachel had a horrible look when she flipped through the pages.

“Sir York, the Indians probably know about Jeff being confined by the Bauer family.”

“That’s why they released every single footage of the fights on social media and video platforms.”

“They’re even claiming that all martial arts came from India, and that they’re here to prove just that.”

Chapter 3653

“Everyone’s looking up about this right now!”

“All of Country H is in an uproar!”

“Some accused the Indians of being heinous, hiding their identities to challenge the champions so they’d let their guard down!”

“Some were furious with the champions for challenging the Indians before they figured out their identities!”

“Of course, there are people calling out Country H’s martial arts world to be filled with useless people, saying that Longmen is filled with a bunch of posers!”

“The Longmen Summit has become the country’s disgrace!”

“And it’s all because the thirty-five so-called provincial champions weren’t able to defeat a bunch of Indians!”

“I heard that the vice master of Longmen, the person in charge of Longmen’s daily affairs, is holding an emergency meeting to figure out how to de-escalate the situation.”

“The vice master?”

Harvey frowned.

“The master of Longmen isn’t taking action when this is going on? Is he really on his last breath at this point?”

“Do we have any information about the Bauer family?”

“No.”

Rachel shook her head.

“Harold has control of the family right now. Judging from his behavior, he’ll most likely stay behind the scenes.”

“Before making sure that the Bauer family will have the upper hand, he will never take any action.”

“I think he sent you this message so that you’ll deal with this instead!”

“On the other hand, he’s planning to divert all the attention to you while you deal with the situation so you’d have no choice but to go against the Indians!”

“He’ll then wait in the back for the proper moment to strike...”

“That man is heinous, Sir York!”

Harvey smiled.

“The more tricks he’s playing, the more obvious that he was just pretending to be strong yesterday.”

“Alright. Enough about him.”

Harvey changed the subject.

“How is Longmen planning to deal with this?”

Rachel sighed.

“The vice master is Bryce Kennedy. He’s my teacher’s senior.”

“He has a conservative and old-fashioned attitude toward everything. Judging from my and the Elder Group’s understanding, they might just choose to pretend like the entire incident never happened.”

“They’ll at most talk smack on the media, and not do anything else.”

“But if that’s the case, Longmen will be completely done for.”

“Longmen and the country’s martial arts will become the biggest joke of the entire world.”

Harvey sat up straight.

“It won’t be hard to deal with this.”

“We should just take the initiative, and take out Axel and every single Indian he brought here.”

“We need to do it in the public eye as well.”

“Not only can we showcase the strength of Country H’s martial arts, we’ll be able to reclaim both Longmen and the tournament’s reputation.”

“This is the best way to break out of the situation.”

“If we do it any other way, the entire world will surely make fun of us.”

“Whatever the Indians say will probably be considered as a fact too.”

“After all, power means everything in this day and age.”

“If you’re not strong enough, even screaming in front of everyone’s faces wouldn’t work.”

Chapter 3654

Rachel chuckled bitterly.

“Of course I know that, Sir York...”

“But have you thought this through?”

“How are you going to fight them? They’ll tire you out before you can even do anything!”

“Even if Longmen gets thirty-six more young top talents to fight...”

“What if they all lose again?”

“Who’s going to take responsibility?”

“The Indians are fully prepared for this. They said those things to the media because they’re confident in themselves.”

“They were probably picked based on the weaknesses of the Longmen experts, too.”

"If that wasn't the case, they wouldn't dare challenge the provincial champions after knowing that you participated in the Longmen Summit."

"If the Indians lose again, they'll become the biggest joke of the entire world."

"The allies they gathered in the surrounding areas will flock toward Country H if they lose."

"This is definitely a big gamble for them."

"Not only are they trying to reclaim their pride, but they're also planning to make Country H lose its status and reputation throughout the far east."

Rachel calmly speculated about the entire situation.

"That's why, they definitely have a trump card for this."

"If they get enough time to prepare, you probably wouldn't be able to stop them either, Sir York."

After thinking for a moment, Harvey then asked quietly, "Why do you think they're doing this?"

"Even when I trampled on Frankie and killed Cody..."

"Even if they hate and resent me, they should've just sent people to hunt me down."

"Why make such a big fuss out of it?"

"I know why."

Elanor finally spoke up, and stood at their side.

"You don't know since you aren't from here, but the Indians have been making plans here for many years."

"Cody, one of the Three Demon Monks, was willing to be a fighter for the Golden Palace. This should be enough to show their resolve."

"Nothing was announced when the Indians constantly suffered in your hands."

“However, it was an extremely disgraceful thing for one of the Demon Monks to die in the hands of an outsider! The Three Demon Monks are considered to be their country’s pride, after all!”

“Not only are they trying to take revenge, but they’re also planning to wash away their shame by doing this.”

“Their goal is to crush your reputation, and be remembered as the country’s sinner throughout history!”

“They want Longmen to die with you as well.”

“They’re thinking really far ahead!”

“From another perspective, this would be considered a small-scale war.”

“I have another guess, though...” Elanor said after pondering for a moment.

“The Indians made a lot of preparations, but they still aren’t sure if they’re able to take you out. After all, there are no absolutes in this world.”

“That’s why they have one last trick up their sleeve...”

“If they were defeated, as long as they’re able to tarnish Longmen’s reputation, it will remain as the crack between you and the organization!”

“When that happens, it’ll be more convenient for them to come at you.” 2

Chapter 3655

Harvey couldn’t help but nod upon hearing Elanor’s explanation.

As expected from Jeff's military advisor; not only was her analysis extremely reasonable, but her thought process was quite thorough as well.

Harvey took a sip of his tea, and then smiled.

"So this means that the so-called war between the two countries is actually a front to attack me?"

"They're planning to hit two birds with one stone, aren't they?"

Rachel and Elanor looked at each other before nodding.

"That's right."

"Interesting."

"I wasn't even planning to go for them, yet they're already coming for me..."

A playful look appeared on Harvey's face.

"If they want a fight, then that's what they'll get!"

"Rachel, send word to Axel."

"Tell him I'll challenge every single top talent of India on the peak of Flutwell seven days later."

"Tell them to come if they're not scared to die!"

"I'll kill every single one of them if I have to!"

Right as Harvey declared a battle against the Indians...

The Longmen Headquarters, in a manor located on the foot of the Holy Mountain...

The higher-ups were all gathered there.

"We cannot accept the challenge, no matter the cost!"

"The Indians came prepared! Surely they have something up their sleeve! The odds are against us!"

"I investigated the situation before; the champions who fought against the Indians were all defeated in three moves!"

"The only person who hadn't fought yet is the newly-appointed head of Longmen's Law Enforcement, Harvey York."

"I asked the examiner of the current tournament, Fisher Benett, about the situation; even he wouldn't dare say Harvey's invincible."

"Besides, even if he actually is, he won't be able to stop all of India's top talents on his own."

"The Indians are going all out for this fight!"

At this moment, an elderly man with white hair was expressing his opinions in front of the round conference table.

"I understand your concern, but this is an extremely dire situation!"

"If we don't fight back, we'll be criticized by the public, saying that we don't care enough to fight and that we think the Indians aren't playing fair."

"If we accept the challenge, it'll be fine if we win—if we lose, not only will Longmen's reputation be affected, but the entire country will be frowned upon."

"Longmen will be beaten to a pulp on the street, like rats!"

"We won't be able to keep our status as one of the country's four cornerstones if that were to happen!"

"That's why I suggest not to accept the challenge!"

"And not just that, we'll also ignore all of the Indians' provocations!"

"We'll get people from the government to block off all news and videos circulating around the internet. Then, we'll chase those Indians out for illegal immigration."

"Since the master isn't here, I'll have to take action as the vice master."

Naturally, the person who said all this was none other than Bryce Kennedy.

He was an experienced man even within Longmen itself; he had quite a powerful status, as well as an eloquent tongue. The elders who participated in the meeting were all nodding in unison upon hearing his words.

At this point, they were only seeking to get through this tough situation.

They wouldn't have the face to show themselves if they actually ruined Longmen's reputation!

Chapter 3656

"I disagree, Vice Master!"

An elderly man stood up with a grim look.

"We're no different than cowards if we do this!"

"We'll become Country H's biggest joke if we actually go through with this. How are we supposed to keep the underworld under control after this?"

"Don't forget! We've been protecting the country on the front lines since ancient times."

"If we back down right now, how are we supposed to see our ancestors without shame?"

"You're just a vice branch leader, Fisher! You only got permission to be here because you have the only remaining provincial champion with you!"

"What right do you have to question the vice master?"

An elder furiously slammed the table.

“You said we should fight back, but what will you do if we lose?”

“Who’s going to take responsibility?”

“You?”

“Are

you even worthy?’

Fisher glared coldly at the elder with immense authority.

“If we do lose, our reputation might be thrown out the window! The Longmen Summit would be the biggest joke alive too...”

“But at least we didn’t betray our hearts that way!”

“At least we showed the world that we have the courage to fight!”

“Even if we lose, all we need to do is to train harder and win next time!”

“If we choose to give up before we even fight, not only will the Indians get cocky, but people of Country H also wouldn’t be able to raise their heads in the future!”

“The times have changed, everyone! This isn’t the Whip Dynasty anymore!”

“Country H has already risen among the world!”

“We’re a strong country with a history spanning thousands of years. We have great land and abundant resources, and we have talented people throughout the entire country!”

“How can we choose not to fight?”

“Are we actually going to admit that the Indians are better?!”

“Don’t forget! The purpose of the Longmen Summit is to choose the suitable successor as the master of Longmen.”

“If the successor has no courage to even fight...”

“Then what’s the point of Longmen? We should just disband at this point!”

Fisher took a deep breath and stared bluntly at Bryce.

“I suggest we let Harvey take the fight, no matter what!”

“If you’re scared he isn’t enough to deal with the situation, we can get the three top talents from the Outer and Inner Halls who are only participating in the true Longmen Summit to help.”

“With Harvey and the others, we’ll surely have a chance!”

“Are you teaching me how to do things, Fisher?!”

Bryce slammed the table furiously with a deathly glare.

“You talk like you know everything! Do you really think that I’m scared of the Indians? Do you think I’m not angry about this?”

“Let me tell you something! I watched the fights over and over again!”

“I watched the entire thing, frame by frame! I know those top Indian talents like the back of my palm!”

“The top talents we have are no match for them!”

“Besides, they’re only challenging the participants of this season’s Longmen Summit!”

“We can’t send anyone else against them!”

“You think we actually have a chance with just Harvey and the three hidden top talents under such circumstances?”

“Don’t be naive!”

Chapter 3657

"You should understand this, Vice Branch Leader Benett!"

"Avoiding the fight this time doesn't mean that we won't fight another time. We're only staying low for the time being!"

"Next time, when our top talents look good enough to crush the Indians, we'll just challenge them again."

"You should know that power doesn't mean everything in this day and age. We need to think ahead!"

"Hard work always pays off. There's always time to take revenge!"

"If the kings from ancient times only talked about blood and courage, we wouldn't have enough rulers to last this long."

"If they couldn't bear any sort of humiliation, how would they be able to rise in the future?"

"Logically speaking, we should remain discreet and decline the challenge!"

"So what if we endure a little bit of shame?" an elder added sternly.

"We'll just ask for forgiveness after the situation passes!"

"If we lose this fight, we wouldn't be able to fix the situation, even with our lives!"

Fisher took a deep breath.

"Vice Master, I think for us martial artists, progress is always more important than the end result!"

“Not only will we be humiliated for avoiding the fight, the younger generation will lose their backbones as well.”

“There are dire consequences!”

A few of the elders looked at each other after hearing Fisher’s words.

“Maybe we should let the younger ones fight instead; they’ll be brave enough to fight past the shame if they do lose.”

The people on Bryce’s side were completely infuriated by those words.

“What do you mean by that?”

“You think we’re just going to sacrifice Longmen’s reputation for a few young ones?!”

“Only you people can think of something this stupid!”

“Do you think the ones who avoid the fight won’t embarrass Longmen?!” the elders on the other side screamed in anger.

Soon, the elders split into two because of Bryce and Fisher’s differing opinions, thinking that they were right in their own way.

“Just ask the master for instructions if we can’t decide. I’m sure he’ll want to fight as well!” Fisher exclaimed decisively.

“Alright! Enough!”

Bryce’s eyes started twitching after hearing the title.

If the master of Longmen was involved, he most likely wouldn’t be able to hold any power in Longmen in the future, let alone be humiliated!

He slammed the table furiously, and then looked at an elder who had remained calm the entire time.

“Elder Steele! The three top talents we picked out were all taught by you.”

“Do you think those three will stand a chance?”

“If you do, how likely do you think they’ll win?”

“It’s hard to say,” Elder Steele replied.

“The three top talents were chosen from the younger generation of the Outer and Inner Halls.”

“They are all gifted students who study Longmen’s advanced martial arts.”

“But there’s a problem: they have almost no experience. They haven’t fought enough people.”

“They need time to grow; they can’t just get better by reading extensively.”

Elder Steele then looked back at Fisher.

“I don’t know how strong your champion is, Vice Branch Leader Benett...”

“But the other three top talents are just too weak. They’re nothing compared to the Indian top talents right now!”

Chapter 3658

“It’s not that I don’t want to fight! We simply can’t!”

Elder Steele sighed, a miserable look on his face.

Naturally, it was hard for him to admit that the top talents of Longmen were inferior.

Before Fisher could say anything, Bryce frowned for a moment, and narrowed his eyes at him.

“Tell me, what are the chances of your champion winning against the Indians?”

“I don’t know, but he managed to knock out every single one of his opponents with a single move.”

“Compared to the other participants, his strength was simply overwhelming!”

“Even if he can’t crush the Indians, it wouldn’t be hard for him to take down a few of them.”

“Harvey York... Harvey York...”

Elder Steele kept mumbling the name to himself before slapping his head in recognition.

“I remember now! He’s the one who won against Bowen in a bet!”

“That’s right! That’s him!” Fisher exclaimed.

The elders felt relieved after hearing those words.

After all, making someone like Bowen suffer was enough proof that Harvey was both skillful and full of experience.

If that wasn’t the case, Bowen wouldn’t have ended up this way.

“Hand me Harvey’s documents for now.”

Bryce took a deep breath and tapped on the table.

Someone brought over a stack of papers detailing Harvey’s information that wasn’t fully public.

Since Harvey hid his identity when he signed up, the documents didn't specify that he was the newly-appointed head of Longmen's Law Enforcement.

Even so, it was apparent that he was an outstanding participant.

"Not bad. Not bad at all..."

Bryce took a few glances at the documents.

"I heard there was a top talent who won the provincial qualifiers. I didn't think it was him."

"Judging from his information, I think he should be able to fight a few rounds, maybe go against five men at once."

"Even if he can fight ten at once, he wouldn't be the one winning."

"You should know that the top talents from India are rare martial art geniuses!"

"Danny Burton!

"Ryland Burlowe!"

"Zoe Garcia!"

"These people are all in their twenties, but they were all brought up by India's experts; every single one of them are considered to be invincible in India."

"People like Harvey can't even begin to imagine what these people are like!"

Bryce shook his head.

"We're not as gifted, nor are we experienced enough. How are we supposed to fight?"

Bam!

Before Bryce was done talking, before the higher-ups had their decision, the door was suddenly kicked open. A few middle-aged men rushed inside while panting.

“This is bad, Vice Master!”

Bam!

Bryce slammed the desk furiously once more.

“What do you think you’re doing?”

“Patience is a virtue!”

“Calm yourself before you talk!”

“Go outside and knock on the door properly before you come in!”

The middle-aged men had bright red faces; they hesitated for a moment and went outside to knock on the door before entering again.

“Talk. What’s the matter?”

“The provincial champion, Harvey York, is openly challenging the Indians!” a middle-aged man exclaimed.

“He said he’ll challenge the top talents of India alone at the peak of Flutwell after a week!”

Clang!

Bryce dropped his teacup to the ground, looking completely bewildered.

Chapter 3659

Not just Bryce, the elders were all in complete shock.

'He's so arrogant!'

'He's insane!'

'He's out of his mind!'

Before the higher-ups could make up their minds, this young man had already challenged all of India's top talents.

'Is he just ignorant?!'

'Or does he really have the strength to do such a thing?'

"This is insane! What's that young man trying to do?"

Bryce's eyes sharpened into a deathly glare; he was so angry, to the point where his chest started to ache.

Fisher's eyes twitched frantically for a while before he said, "Harvey's made up his mind!"

"He wants to fight against all of them!"

"What are you saying?!"

Bryce slammed the table furiously.

"Are you joking?!"

"This is war!"

"What does he think this is? A damn roleplay session?"

"Who does he think he is?"

"Can he even bear the consequences of this situation?!"

"That b*stard!"

"Goddamnit!"

Bryce was trembling in anger; it was good Harvey wasn't in front of him right now.

If not, he would've slapped the young man to death for running his mouth as he pleased!

"Vice Master!"

"We can't take those words back anymore!"

Fisher stood up with a determined look.

"The provincial champion isn't afraid to go up against the Indians!"

"If us higher-ups decline the challenge, we'll be called cowards!"

"Elder Steele! I suggest we form a team with the three top talents and Harvey."

"We'll fight against the Indians!"

"We'll protect the name of our country!"

"Spread the word!"

"We'll fight!"

"No matter the cost!"

After seeing Fisher's burning passion, Elder Steele hesitated for a moment. Then, he slammed the table.

"Screw this! We can't just avoid the fight anymore when the young ones are so courageous!"

"We'll fight!"

"We'll fight till the bitter end!"

Bryce kept changing his expression; after locking eyes with the elders who wanted to decline the challenge, he let out a huge sigh.

At this point, they had no choice but to move forward.

If not, it would be extremely humiliating for Longmen to take those words back.

At the Longmen Warband headquarters...

A scrawny young man was steadily walking toward the gate with his little backpack.

"Where are you going, Junior? Didn't the master tell you not to go out?"

The disciples of the Longmen Warband were looking curiously at the young man.

'Isn't he scared of being tricked into being a live-in son-in-law when he gets out of here?"

The young man revealed a bright smile.

"Elder Steele called. He told us to go to Flutwell! We'll be fighting against the Indians a week later!"

The disciples froze. Then, pride colored their faces.

"Beat the crap out of those Indians, Junior!"

"Hey! Don't teach him bad things like that!"

"Listen to me: we're all civilized people. Just beat them till their faces get distorted!"

"Here's my soft armor! I wear this all the time. Keep it with you!"

Chapter 3660

In a mountain valley shrouded by fog all year round, Longmen's Three Inner Halls was located.

A young girl in a white dress, looking like an innocent fairy, walked slowly out from the valley.

She took every single step on top of trees and rocks. Even when she was standing on the edge of the mountain, it seemed like she was on flat ground.

The winds of the mountain valley were fierce, but they only hastened her movements and didn't bother her one bit.

Right as she was reaching out to a blue lotus on the edge of the mountain, her phone started vibrating inside her little backpack.

A tender voice could be heard when she picked up the call.

"We have news from Longmen Headquarters."

"They need your help to reclaim Longmen's reputation."

"You should go. Remember, don't go easy on your opponents."

"The Indians are our enemies this time, not your brothers and sisters."

The young girl let out a voice of approval before frowning.

She stood on a tree branch with the tip of her toe, and glided to an ancient-looking building on the cliff.

The move was called the Waterwalk; it wouldn't be an exaggeration if anyone said that the move was perfected by this young girl.

She stumbled into her room before coming back out with traditional clothing on her.

She slowly walked out of the gate with her backpack, and went down the mountain road like a wandering ranger.

On an island east of Country H.

A young boy with a completely tanned upper body threw a punch while standing in the sea.

A wave crashed toward him when he threw the punch.

The wave split apart before converging behind him.

Even after that, the tanned boy stood as still as a rock.

Experienced people would be very impressed by such a sight.

Other people wouldn't be able to copy the young boy's Iron Step!

Even in martial arts, speed is the way to long success..

The Iron Step was still a very important fundamental to have.

Only then could one become stronger in martial arts.

Right as the young boy threw his hundredth punch, an armed helicopter appeared from afar.

The door of the passenger seat opened, and two elderly people with grim looks watched the young boy throw his punches.

"We have word from Longmen Headquarters, kid."

"Longmen needs you right now!"

"The Five Outer Halls have made you into a fine top talent!"

"It's time for you to go out after hiding for so long!"

"Remember: crush those Indians without mercy!"

"Tell those old fools from the Longmen Headquarters that we're no pushovers when it comes to martial arts!"

"Those people from the Three Inner Halls have no chance against us!"

The tanned young boy revealed a bright smile when he heard those words.

He stomped on the ground before standing up straight, turning the rock under him to dust.

“Don’t worry!”

“I’ll make sure everyone knows the name of the Outer Five Halls!”
