Lola wasn't that serious about Golden Estate, but she didn't want her failure to turn Saul into the upper social circle's laughingstock.

Thus, she wanted to stop Ronnie no matter what.

Everyone in the meeting room felt a cold chill run down their spine.

They wanted to speak up, but they dared not utter a single word.

Lola glared at the higher-ups, disappointed.

They had been given high pay despite never lifting a finger, yet they couldn't even function properly at such a crucial moment.

Lola then glanced at a newly-hired consultant the chief geomancy expert, Franklin Failes.

With his experience, helping a few high officials in a single year would allow him to live the rest of his life in glory and riches.

He came to be the chief geomancy expert since nobody was able to replace the previous one who had quit.

The Robbins family used a lot of connections to get Franklin here.

Even though he had just got into the company, he enjoyed a high status.

"Do you have any ideas, Master Failes?" daotranslate.com. Lola asked him respectfully.

"It's not that I don't want to help, CEO Hoffman. I'm all out of ideas..."

"Because of Blazer Estate, all the prices of the core lands in the city have been raised exponentially."

"We're completely stuck!"

"It'll be too hard to find replaceable land..."

“For the past few days, I’ve done nothing but walk around Golden Sands with my compass.”

Franklin showed an apologetic expression; he felt extremely guilty.

His salary was high, but he just couldn’t do anything for the Golden Estate.

“Judging from the current situation, I can only make the worst assumptions. We should sell whatever property we have right now and find a different market.”

“I guarantee you, I’ll be able to find the right piece of land for the company to build a massive resort! Our fame will skyrocket after that!”

The others nodded in unison.

“It’s not that we’re letting the competitors have their way, CEO Hoffman. Fast update on daotranslate.com. We just have too many loans to pay right now.”

“If we can’t get our lands in time, we might just go bankrupt!”

“The only thing we can do for the time being is to give away our business in the real estate industry.”

“I believe the competitors will be the ones hurting themselves for going against us!”

Franklin revealed a profound look after hearing the higher-ups’ words.

“We’re not admitting defeat, CEO Hoffman.

This is a strategic retreat!”

“Don’t you worry. I already have design papers for our resort!”

“We’ll be a huge success once we build it.

I’m sure of it!”

“When that happens, you can definitely use the resort to raise the real estate industry to new heights.”

“So what if we lose a couple of times for that?”

The rest of the higher-ups’ eyes lit up instantly.

Changing the company’s market was the best move.

As long as the company was still standing, they could still enjoy all the benefits without suffering any repercussions!

Lola felt relieved after hearing Franklin's honest words.

As long as the company was still standing, it wouldn't be embarrassing to let Harvey handle everything.

Since Saul wouldn't turn into the talk of the city because of this mess, perhaps this was an opportunity to strategize.

After thinking about all this, Lola came to a decision and nodded.

That said, she felt extremely resentful after thinking about just how arrogant Ronnie would be after the situation.He had been constantly harassing her ever since they were children, swearing that he'd get back at her sooner or later.He’d surely grow a lot more arrogant if he did manage to force the company to change markets.

Lola could probably use her connections with the Hoffman family to crush Ronnie...

However, the family would look down on her if she decided to use one of the top ten families to deal with such a small matter.So, Lola quickly dropped the thought soon after.

The Hermit Families were discreet for their own reasons.

Normally speaking, families like that preferred to take control of everything behind the scenes.

Going against people in public wasn't their thing.

Lola couldn't help but feel a little dispirited.

'Do I really have no other way but to let that b*stard do whatever he wants...?' She wanted to relieve her anger by sipping her tea, but she clumsily spilled some on herself after picking up the cup.

Lola pulled out a piece of paper, wanting to wipe herself with it...

"Hold it!"

Franklin suddenly spoke up after being dead silent for a while.

"Don't move, CEO Hoffman!"

He quickly approached Lola and stared at the paper.

A few geomancy symbols marking down some lands could be seen.

Only royal families from the ancient past would use lands like these...

Golden Estate would surely win the war against its competitors if they could find something similar! Franklin ignored the rest and grabbed the paper, taking a closer look at it.

Lola froze; the paper was none other than the one Harvey drew around the junkyard. She was utterly embarrassed about it.

"I'm sorry, I..."

"Quiet!"

Franklin cut off Lola and continued examining the paper. He then hung the paper on the wall beside the map of the city, and compared the two. His entire body trembled, and he spoke up in excitement soon after.

"The legendary Golden Garden!"

"This is it!"

"My god! The legends are true!"

"It's said that during ancient times, there was a sky garden in the imperial capital called the Golden Garden."

"But during the Whip Dynasty, the garden was destroyed."

"The descendants couldn't find the garden after all this time "But it's been here all along!"

"This is the one piece of land we need!"

"Compared to this, the lands we were about to buy mean nothing!"

"This is a master's work!"

"The person who drew this is clearly a master!"

"The best geomancy expert there ever was!"

Franklin was about to go crazy from excitement. His reaction sent those around him in shock.

Franklin stood up, though his legs were wobbling.

"CEO Hoffman! You need to tell me who you got the drawing from!"

"I want to see the person who did this!"

"This is insane!"

“This is simply amazing!”

“The strokes are enough to reveal the city’s true colors! Nobody has been able to do that for the past few decades!”

“He even pointed out exactly where the Golden Garden is!”

“If we can get this and find evidence of the legendary place...”

“Golden Estate will flourish!”

“I need to meet this person, CEO Hoffman!”

Franklin’s professional facade was completely gone; now, he was exactly like a child hopping around in joy.

After seeing the look on his face and hearing his words...

The higher-ups’ minds were blown.

They all froze in place.

Nobody expected a random piece of paper to be so invaluable!

“This is insane!” ‘Everyone in the real estate industry will definitely go crazy for this!’ They were all in the same business, so they naturally knew just how important the map is.

Country H had held high regard toward geomancy for the longest time.

Land that had been appraised with geomancy would make anyone prosper with good health!

Real estate companies could only flourish by selling properties built on top of such lands.

To do that, the most important thing to have was a map that pinpointed where these lands were.

At that very moment, the map was in Lola’s hands.

Golden Estate was on the verge of changing markets...

But after seeing the paper, Fast update on daotranslate.com. the company's future had become as bright as day!

Nobody would believe the things that had happened inside the meeting room if they didn't see it for themselves.

Even Lola herself froze.

She looked at the paper in Franklin's hands, shocked beyond anything.

"This is the map you've been talking about, Master Failes?"

"Is the legendary Golden Garden on the map too?"

"You don't know?"

Franklin froze.

"One of my friends wrote this for me, Fast update on daotranslate.com saying that we'll become tycoons of the real estate industry with this."

Lola was feeling extremely awkward.

"I thought he was just bluffing. Fast update on daotranslate.com I didn't know this was the map you were looking for..."

She still felt a little doubtful.

"This is just a piece of paper, though..."

"How ignorant can you get?!"

"You don't understand geomancy at all!"

Franklin couldn't bother being polite any longer.

"I'll bet on the piece of paper with my life!"

"The Golden Garden is right on the map!"

"And according to my information, nobody's interested in that land at all!"

"We can get it for the cheapest price right now!"

“It’ll become the benchmark for Golden Sands’ luxury houses!”

“All the top-rated families will be seeking this place out soon enough!”

Everyone was dead silent.

Lola’s eyes lit up after hearing those words.

Not only would she be able to deal with Ronnie, but she’d be able to crush him completely.

She had been hoping for a day like this for the longest time!

Franklin showed an odd expression while looking at the paper.

“The most important part of the place is stained with tea. I can’t see it properly...”

“This must be the historic site of the Golden Garden.”

“Without the markings, we won’t be able to find anything to prove that this place is real.”

After hearing Franklin’s regretful words, the higher-ups looked at the beautiful CEO with disappointment.

“I’ll...I’ll give Sir York a call...”

Lola lowered her head awkwardly.

Early in the morning the next day, Harvey got a call from Saul and Lola while he was supervising Fortune Hall’s renovation. They invited him to have lunch together, saying that there was something important they needed to talk to him about.

Harvey didn't decline since he figured that it was about Golden Estate. After passing on the matters to Reece, he got ready to leave.

Before he could step out of the front door, Castiel ran to him with a panicked look.

"This is bad, Master! Someone passed out!"

"Right in front of the main hall!"

"He said he came because he's been seeing ghosts for the past few days. He looked like he was cursed "As soon as I got him in line, he immediately passed out, and white foam came out of his mouth!" Fast update on daotranslate.com

Castiel felt slightly relieved after speaking up. If he did anything before the person fainted, he would've been blamed for it on the spot.

Harvey quickly went to the main hall.

Customers were currently surrounding an elderly man in a gray robe. The man was occasionally twitching on the ground, white foam coming out of the corner of his mouth.

His wife, kneeling by his side, was in tears.

"Why did this happen?"

"I told you to come sooner ! Why would you keep stalling until now?"

"What am I supposed to do without you?"

"There's nothing left for me in this world!"

The woman was screaming tearfully , while the man was on the verge of death.

Castiel was just a rich playboy with little experience in life; he immediately froze, not knowing what to do. This was his first time seeing such a thing. Fast update on daotranslate.com

“Stop crying!”

Harvey silenced the entire crowd, then picked up some cinnabar from the table and smeared it on the man’s head.

A bit of darkness on the man’s face dissipated.

Harvey took a few glances at the man and said, “Next time, don’t let him run around graveyards when he gets up for morning exercises.”

“Graveyard hopping is what dumb young people do.”

“Why would an elderly man go there to suck in evil energy?”

Harvey pierced his finger with a needle and placed a drop of blood on the man’s head.

After Harvey channeled his energy through his blood, the darkness on the man’s face was replaced by a bright red color.

The man shivered; then, he rose and vomited right inside a nearby trash can.

Everyone narrowed their eyes as they watched him vomit. They could see something black coming out of his mouth.

The evil energy was finally out of his body.

Castiel quickly took the trash can away and burnt it in the backyard.

The wife looked at Harvey with gratitude.

“Thank you, Master York! You’re our family’s savior!”

“What happened to me, Master York?” the elderly man asked weakly.

“Stop running around graveyards after this. Do you understand me?”

“An evil spirit was possessing your body!”

“Running around graveyards?”

The man looked confused.

“I like to take walks, sure, but I’ll just go around parks at most. I’ve never been to a graveyard before!”

“Us elderly people are most afraid of that!”

Harvey couldn’t wrap his head around the situation.

‘He’s never been to a graveyard?’ “Did you pick up money on the road with a note inside, saying that a few years of your lifespan is being borrowed, or something of the sort?”

The man thought about it momentarily before shaking his head lightly.

Harvey took a few glances at the man, but couldn’t see anything else since the evil energy in him had dissipated.

“You must’ve been hit by evil energy somewhere...” Harvey reasoned.

“In any case, just be careful. Judging from your physique, you shouldn’t go outside unless there’s sun out.”

The elderly man and woman showered Harvey with immense gratitude before leaving a fifteen-dollar bill and stepping outside.

Harvey shook his head and dealt with the rest of the customers.

It was good that the rest of the customers only had simple problems. It wasn’t that much of a waste of time for him.

When he was done, he then gave Thomas a call.

The two then headed to the Golden Plaza at north of the city. Fast update on daotranslate.com

As soon as the two came to a room that was booked, Saul and Lola, who had been waiting for a long while, stood up from their seats.

Lola handed Harvey a cup of tea, looking rather guilty.

“I’m sorry, Sir York! ”

“You were the one who thought of a plan to help Golden Estate, yet I didn’t even care.”

“I even used the paper you gave me to wipe tea off myself!”

“It’s all my fault! ”

“I bear as much responsibility for this as well,”

Saul added.

He was just as apologetic.

“I believed you were already quite impressive for being so well-versed in geomancy..”

“But I didn’t think you’d know how to read the entire city based on that.”

“After all, you managed something most geomancy experts here couldn’t even figure out!”

“It’s simply insane!”

“In any case, please forgive us for being so ignorant!”

Harvey didn’t mind at all. Saul and Lola’s attitude confirmed his notion that he had picked the right people.

The two were definitely excellent to have around. Fast update on daotranslate.com

After all, people like the two would normally underplay the entire situation rather than just apologizing.

It was why Harvey had a good feeling about them.

"I don't blame you two," Harvey said with a small smile.

"It's only normal for you to doubt me. I'm still young, after all."

"No need to take it personally.

"Besides, I hold ninety percent of the company's shares."

"You two have been doing all the work while I've been sitting behind the scenes. It's fine if I take a small blow for this."

"Anyways, let's not talk about this any longer."

Harvey poured a cup of tea for the couple, still smiling.

"The past is in the past. Let's just leave it at that."

Lola let out a huge sigh of relief after hearing Harvey's words.

"You really are a generous man, Sir York. No wonder you're so successful at such a young age!"

"I'm truly impressed!"

"Speaking of . The paper got wet and covered up the most important part, so.."

Harvey burst out laughing. He happily drew another map on a dollar bill.

"Remember, we need to announce that we're getting the land no matter what. We want everyone to think we're crazy enough to get land like that.."

"We also need to be discreet when looking for the Golden Garden. Our fame will skyrocket once we release news about our findings."

Chapter 4275 novel Harvey York's Rise to Power

Lola Hoffman kept nodding after hearing Harvey York's words.

She wanted to take the land in secret.

But after hearing his suggestion, she thought he had the right idea.

The competitors would probably start fighting for the land if they tried to buy off the land secretly..

But if they did it publicly , everyone would only think that Golden Estate was making every move they could just to go against Ronnie Lee.

Under such circumstances, they would be able to get the land at the lowest price possible.

More importantly, the stunt would draw attention.

Gratitude was clearly showing in Lola's eyes.

She thought that Harvey would actually get mad after what had happened..

But she did not expect that he had already planned ahead for her.

Voom voom voom!

After having a nice chat, dishes were served on the table.

Right when everyone was halfway through the meal, Saul Robbin's phone suddenly vibrated.

After quickly picking up the phone, he promptly reported his location.

"An important person will be coming here soon, Sir York!

"I know you're a discreet man who doesn't like socializing that much.

"But knowing this person will definitely benefit your shop! Fast update on daotranslate.com

“With his support, you’ll go far in Golden Sands!”

Harvey curiously glanced at Saul.

The person must have been quite impressive for the prince of the Robbins family to regard so highly.

“Who is it?”

“You’ll know soon enough!” replied Saul ambiguously.

Around half an hour later, Lola walked toward the door being knocked on.

“You two have been quite busy with your business! It’s rare even to see you at this point!

A middle -aged man in a white suit walked inside.

He seemed a little portly , but his hair was extremely well-kempt.

He was in high spirits when he displayed a temperament equal to an upperclassman.

“What?”

“Are you scared Golden Sands Bank would invest more in the urban construction project and won’t earn your money back in a few years?

“Is that why you’ve been avoiding me?”

The man spoke in a playful tone, but his simple words were enough to convey his high status along with his relationship with the couple.

Harvey checked his phone after seeing the familiar face.

It was the housing director of Golden Sands’ government.

Watson Braff.

The man had immense authority. Safe to say that al of Golden Sands’ properties were under his control.

The project he was working on was promoted by the housing department to renovate old houses.

That said, no other real estate businesses would get involved in the project since it was not profitable. The housing department had been handling it themselves for the longest time.

This was a true passion project. It was only common practice for them to ask the bank for a large sum.

Saul quickly reached out.

“Are you kidding me, Watson?”

“Why would I even do that?”

“I’ve been quite busy myself recently!”

“That said, just say the word if all you need is money! We’ll do our best to support you!”

“I’ve been absent just to get a child of my own!”

“My father’s about to strangle me to death if I don’t have one soon!”

Watson Braff showed an understanding look on his face.

“I see that your father’s still that stubborn.”

“He wanted me to introduce to you a few doctors as well!”

“A shame that everyone I got was all the people you’ve already met before.”

Naturally, Watson had quite a good relationship with the Robbins family for doing something like this.

Lola Hoffman gave Watson a cup of tea with a smile on her face.

“You’re too kind, Watson.”

After sitting down, Watson sized up the couple before showing a faint smile.

“That said, you must’ve dealt with the problem now that you’re here having tea, right?”

“Hahaha! Sure did!

“You have a keen eye, as usual, Director Braff!

“Our problem’s solved all thanks to Sir York here!

Saul Robbins quickly changed the subject.

“Let me introduce you! ” said Saul with a smile.

“This is my good brother and my savior!

He’s also a geomancy expert, Harvey York!

“He was also the one who solved our problem.

Then, Saul smiled at Harvey.

“This is the first-in-command of the housing department, Director Braff. He’s also a good brother of mine.

“No matter what kind of trouble you get into, even if someone’s trying to challenge you in the Fortune Hall..

“Just call Watson, and he’ll deal with everything for you!” Fast update on daotranslate.com

Harvey knew that Saul was just broadening Harvey’s connections in the Golden Sands.

He did not need this at all, but he still extended his hand with a smile.

“Hello, Director Braff.

Watson nodded politely.

Harvey’s expression changed slightly before he instinctively looked at Watson.

“Dead air..?

‘And it’s coming from a man in his prime ?’ “Hello, Master York.

Watson respectfully greeted Harvey with a doubtful gaze.

He wanted to look up to Harvey..

But to his knowledge, people with infertility problems should have visited doctors.

Harvey was just a geomancy expert.

Maybe he has a talent for looking into people’s auspicious days.

But they asked for his help with childbirth ?

What a joke!’ Simply put, Watson believed that he got fooled by Harvey since they had been longing for a child for the longest time.

That said, he did not speak up about it since Saul was in a good mood.

He would bring everyone down if he mentioned anything about this.

Saul showed a faint smile.

““Right, Sir York.

“Director Braff here has been having bad luck. He must’ve been working a little too much lately.

“Judging from his friend groups, he had been distracted a few times while driving his car.

“He almost got hit by a brick falling from the sky while he was supervising too!

“Why don’t you take a look at Director Braff for the sake of us being brothers?

“I’ll make sure to repay the favor!”

Then, Saul winked at Harvey, signaling him to do his best.

Watson showed a disdainful expression before he burst out laughing for the sake of Saul’s reputation.

“I dozed off since I was working overnight .

“The workplace wasn’t strict enough with the regulations either. That was why the brick almost fell on me.

“We don’t need Sir York for this now, do we?”

“He’s just being a little prideful, is al!”

Watson helplessly accepted Harvey York’s help for Saul’s sake.

“Fine. Please take a look at me then.”

Harvey already felt dead air seeping out of Watson’s body when the two made contact .

What is dead air?

Simply put, a person would be filled with gloom when their luck gets extremely bad despite being healthy.

Dead air would normally show on elderly people on the verge of death..

But the people who are destined to die would have the same look.

Typically speaking, dead air was a sign of a person's imminent death. Fast update on daotranslate.com

If it were not for Watson's high position in the government balancing the dead air inside him, he would have been dead a while ago.

That said, Watson's life was only temporarily preserved.

He would not be able to survive for long if the dead air inside him got stronger.

While Harvey was looking around Watson, Fast update on daotranslate.com he found a car key in his hand. It was probably an Audi A8.

Harvey briefly squinted at the key.

"I'll cut to the chase, Director Braff.

"Dead air surrounds you.

"You won't survive for long.

"Am I correct?"

Saul and Lola Hoffman looked at each other after hearing those words.

They did not expect that Harvey would say something that serious.

Watson was smiling before he heard Harvey's words.

"Is that so?" he asked gloomily after freezing momentarily.

"Dead air?

"Where did it come from then?

“Are you saying I’ve been sleeping in coffins or something?”

Harvey shook his head.

“You’d only attract evil energy for doing something like that.

“The dead air within you is extremely strong.

“And the source of it is none other than the car key in your hand.”

“The car key?

Watson’s expression changed.

“The car key is involved with my bad luck?

Watson bought the car after becoming the housing department director symbolizing his position..

And yet Harvey said that he had been meeting with such unlucky events because of it.

“What a joke!

‘I gave him a chance for the sake of Saul and Lola!

‘And yet what happened?!

‘What is all this bullshit?!’ Watson would let it slide even if Harvey said something was wrong with his house.

But he pointed out that it was because of a piece of modern technology.

Watson did not buy any of Harvey’s words.

After all, foreign products had no involvement with geomancy at all.

Saul and Lola looked at each other in disbelief. They were curiously looking at the car key in Watson’s hand, but they could not see anything out of the ordinary about it.

Harvey York lightly nodded with a smile on his face.

“That’s right. Or rather, it’s the car that has a problem.”

“If you don’t mind, would you mind letting me take a look at the car?”

Watson Braff scoffed after hearing Harvey’s words.

That said, he did not just scream in anger at this point. He kept his composure for the sake of his high status.

“This guy sure knows how to act, CEO Robbins,” said Watson with a smile after heaving a sigh.

“I’ll treat this as a comedy show…”

“But there will be no second time.”

His words had another meaning. He would no longer hold back if Saul Robbins kept getting people like this to fool him.

Saul hesitated when he saw Harvey’s calm expression.

“Director Braff, Master York wouldn’t joke about something like that.

“I suggest that you hear him out.”

If this were before Harvey drew the map, Saul and Lola Hoffman would have been doubtful as well…

But they completely believed him after hearing such a serious tone from him.

Lola quickly sent signals to Harvey, saying that Watson was like a brother to her and her husband and that they wanted to help him no matter what. Fast update on daotranslate.com

Harvey could also tell that Watson was a good man. He quickly nodded before looking at Watson.

“I’ll be frank, Director Braff.

“Has your car been around cemeteries or bumped into some sort of cursed object?”

“No! Fast update on daotranslate.com

Watson shook his head decisively.

“This is a brand-new car. I usually don’t drive cars either.

“I’d only be fiddling with the car key since I’ve been swamped.

“You’re not going to tell me it’s because I like fiddling with car keys, are you?”

Harvey frowned.

“I know I’m not wrong about this.

“The dead air came from the car keys which came with the car itself. That is the source of it, no doubt.

“If you don’t mind, can I take a look at your car?

“It’ll be quick!”

“No need! My car’s fine! I’m completely fine as well!

Watson believed Harvey was just a con man who would say anything for money’s sake.

‘He wants to take a look at my car?

‘What a joke!’ That said, he did not want to be too disrespectful since Saul and Lola admired him.

If Harvey were any other con man, he would have slapped him to death by then.

Harvey did not want to give up just yet.

“Think about it, Director Braff. Maybe your family and friends drove your car around before. Or maybe...”

“Enough! No!

In Watson’s eyes, Harvey’s kindness seemed like ulterior motives.

“This is a new car! Who would even dare touch it?!” he exclaimed after coldly chuckling at Harvey.

Harvey frowned.

“I know I’m not wrong. I don’t know geomancy arts well, but I know the art of killing. This is probably...”

“Enough already!

Watson could not hold his feelings back any longer. He could not be bothered to respect Harvey anymore.

“You’re a young man! Why are you learning how to scam other people out of all things?!

“Do you really think I’ll believe the things that you said?!

“You can fool Saul and Lola, but you can’t fool me!”

“Let me warn you something! Stop hanging out with con men like these! If not, you’d get sold out without even knowing why!

“You should be thinking about your own business instead of useless things like these!”

Harvey frowned.

“You can’t go, Director Braff! It’s too dangerous!”

It would be better to believe his words than not.

He quickly ran over and stuck the piece of clothing inside the car.

Then, he ran back with an awkward expression.

“I’m really sorry, Sir York!

“Watson’s just too stubborn! Nothing goes into his head easily!

“He wouldn’t keep the piece of cloth even if we fought.

“That said, is something bad really going to happen to him?”

Saul was distraught.

Harvey heaved a sigh.

“If he’s not cursed, then someone’s been targeting him...

“Who is he anyway?
