

Healing 101

chapter 101

The next morning, after breakfast, Patrick was accompanied by the old Hayden and went to the surgery site that Aimee had prepared.

Before Patrick entered the operating room, he shook the old Hayden's hand and said, "Grandpa, don't worry, I'll come out fine."

Aimee also said, "Grandpa, with Dr. Dettlaff, you can rest assured."

Dettlaff also said, "the old Hayden, I'm sure Dr. Read and I will work perfectly together, and you have to trust us."

the old Hayden at this moment is really want to tell them that he believes them, but his hands are trembling uncontrollably, in telling them how nervous he is.

The operation on Patrick was done in secret, so the old Hayden was not even informed by Casey and the others.

After they enter the operating room, the old Hayden will be the only one left here.

Aimee was so worried that she called Matilda and asked her to keep an eye on the old Hayden.

The surgery will last a long time and Aimee is not sure the old Hayden will hold up.

If I had known, I would have let the old Hayden inform Casey that they had, so that there would be a response.

Not being able to delay any longer, Dettlaff and Aimee went to prep for surgery, while Ashton and Kelvin were already in place in the operating room, waiting to put Patrick under anesthesia.

After Aimee and Dettlaff entered the surgery, Patrick's anesthesia had not yet taken effect.

She walked over to Patrick, stood next to him and said softly, "Just relax and trust me with your whole heart, okay?"

Patrick responded, and now his consciousness faded.

He closed his eyes and fell into a drowsy sleep.

Dettlaff then said, "I think you were going to operate on him directly without anesthesia before, why did you change your decision on the fly?"

Aimee said, "He wasn't in good shape before, and for a quick surgical cure, it was best to let him feel the pain so we could help determine the condition of the nerves, but after treating him for a while, many of the neurons have been repaired, so there's no need for him to suffer anymore."

Dettlaff said, "Is it not needed, or are you intolerant?"

In fact, he knew very well that if he wanted to complete the operation quickly and achieve the best results, then it would be best if Patrick was awake to cooperate with their operation.

However, Aimee has now changed this surgical strategy so that the length of their surgery will have to be extended, and may take double or even triple the length of the previous surgery.

In this way, the effect may not be able to achieve the kind of program before, but also increased their hard work in vain.

Aimee did this, so to speak, in a way that was unappealing.

And yet, she did so.

It makes sense that Dettlaff would have such doubts.

Aimee glanced up at Dr. Dettlaff and saw that he was looking at her with the eyes of an old father, so she felt helpless.

Is it possible that he thinks he is a love brain and is worried about Patrick, so he gives himself trouble?

It is true that she did this for Patrick's sake, but the big premise is that Patrick's body can support such a scenario and that he has adjusted himself to a perfect physical condition.

In this case, if he still let him suffer that, Aimee naturally is not tolerated.

Not to mention

Aimee looked at Dr. Dettlaff and said, "Dr. Dettlaff, are you doubting my medical skills?"

Dettlaff was stunned, looking at Aimee so arrogant statement, for a moment, there is really some answer can not be.

Naturally, he had 100% trust in Aimee's medical skills and was confident that she would be able to perform the surgery perfectly.

Aimee stopped gossiping with Dettlaff, straightened up, and started the surgery on Patrick.

Patrick's back was cut open and his spine repaired, a delicate and difficult procedure that required a high degree of concentration in every movement and no slackening of the hands.

From the time Aimee started to enter the operation, only the sound of shallow breathing could be heard in the operating room, and no one dared to make a sound to disturb Aimee's movements.

However, one of the things that made them more focused was that Aimee's surgical technique was really very skillful, and every move she made seemed like an art, it seemed like she was not operating, but performing.

Dettlaff would have thrown up his arms in amazement had he not been in the middle of the operation.

Finally, after thirteen hours of long repairs, Aimee completed the first and most important step of Patrick's surgery.

Next, the second phase is carried out, in order to support the rehabilitation training afterwards.

This step, on the other hand, is done by Dettlaff.

It's not like Aimee has never been through a major surgery before, but at this moment, she still felt a little tired.

The high level of mental concentration made every movement as if she was racked up, making her physically exhausted under such high-intensity movements, all relying on a tight nerve to support her, so that she had to hold on to the end of the operation.

Finally, it came to the final step.

Stitching.

Aimee had wanted Ashton to do this step, although her the Tenth disciples, who seemed very unreliable at times, were arguably her best students when it came to the technique of suturing.

However, when Ashton was ready to make his move, Aimee stopped him.

"I'll do it." Aimee said.

Inexplicably, Aimee doesn't want anyone else to leave a mark on Patrick's body.

Even if it's just because of the surgery and had to stay.

Moreover, she would have sewn it up more beautifully if she had sewn it up herself.

Ashton's eyes blew up in confusion, and for a moment, he even had some doubts that he was being disliked by his teacher.

He called out tentatively, "Aimee"

Before the words were out of his mouth, he was pulled aside by Kelvin.

Aimee what the mind, Ashton do not understand, Kelvin and Dettlaff is clear.

What else could it be, damn possessiveness.

Kelvin never thought that Aimee had reached such a level with Patrick, even if she was defending herself from women, now she was defending herself from men.

He looked at Aimee for a moment and said nothing after all.

chapter 102

Aimee grabbed her tools and started stitching Patrick up.

Her movements flowed without any pause.

If Dettlaff and the others hadn't known that Aimee had lasted so long, her appearance would have made them think she had just entered the operating room.

Aimee was very quick and quickly stitched up Patrick's back.

Dettlaff was finally able to give his sincere praise.

He said, "My God, Aimee , your hands are a gift from God, you're not doing surgery, you're making art."

Aimee smiles at Dettlaff, suddenly a little coy.

She looked at Patrick's back and suddenly thought that later, after Patrick recovered, she would give him a tattoo and draw a picture on his back.

Otherwise, even though her stitching technique was perfect, she still felt very sorry that there was such a long, hideous scar on top of his perfect back, which made Aimee look over and very uncomfortable.

However, she also had to discuss it with Patrick.

Because, the tattoo thing, she has to do it herself.

She's not going to give another tattoo artist to do something like this.

Suddenly, he became very possessive of Patrick and did not want his flesh to be seen by others.

The operation was completed successfully after 16 hours.

Patrick was sent directly to the lounge for the rest afterwards.

Aimee and Dettlaff walked out together and went to the old Hayden's heel.

When they came over, it was still morning, and at the moment it's past zero.

The old Hayden just kept on holding on, several times with very red eyes, because there was no end to the worry, making him even more without any bottom, not knowing, in the end, how the operation was going and whether his grandson would recover.

At the midway point, a beautiful woman came over and brought him food, but he didn't have the slightest appetite for it either.

At this moment, when seeing Aimee and Dettlaff come out, the old Hayden's face is finally a smile.

However, he had only opened his mouth when tears fell from his eyes.

Aimee immediately greeted him, held the old Hayden, and comforted him, "Grandpa, the operation was successful, don't worry, we'll just wait for Master Patrick to wake up."

The old Hayden held Aimee's hand tightly, but was still sobbing.

Aimee could understand how the old Hayden felt, and she looked to Dettlaff for help.

Now, only Dettlaff's words could reassure the old Hayden.

Dettlaff immediately understood and hurriedly said to the old Hayden, "the old Hayden, don't worry, the operation is really very successful, now just wait quietly."

With Dettlaff's words, the old Hayden can be considered to have put his heart down.

However, immediately after, the spirit of slackening down is what made the old Hayden almost fall.

Luckily, Aimee was holding the old Hayden, so he didn't really fall down.

Aimee said, "Grandpa, Master Patrick can't wake up for a while, you'd better rest first, and when you wake up, Master Patrick will be almost awake."

the old Hayden also knows that it is not a thing to keep going so hard.

He has to see his grandson get well, so, no matter what, he can't fall down.

the old Hayden responded and said, "OK, Grandpa will do whatever you want."

Aimee thought about it and decided to put the old Hayden on some medication to help him sleep.

This will prevent him from worrying too much about Patrick and having a restless sleep.

Aimee did not give the old Hayden the medicine directly, but soaked it in water.

This sleep aid has no effect on the body and will only make people sleep more soundly.

Aimee handed water to the old Hayden, knowing he couldn't eat right now, and didn't force her to eat.

She said, "Grandpa, after you drink the water, go to sleep, I will go to guard Master Patrick, if there is anything, I will go to Dr. Dettlaff in time to come, you can rest assured."

The old Hayden sniffed, and really felt for Aimee.

Aimee was a full participant in the 16-hour surgery.

the old Hayden has been able to imagine how tired her body is at the moment.

However, she is now required to continue to guard Patrick.

The old Hayden pulled Aimee, eyes red once again.

He said, "Aimee, it's really a blessing for Lao-san to marry you, grandpa thanks you, really thanks you."

"Grandpa, don't say that, these are all things I should have to do to go." Aimee said.

After putting the old Hayden in his room and putting him to sleep, Aimee went to Patrick's room.

His hands were still lit with a sling, but, because of the surgery on his back, he was only able to lie on his back.

This is a very uncomfortable position and Aimee worries about his discomfort and gives him a massage every now and then.

When Kelvin came in, he saw the way Aimee was taking care of Patrick.

He shook his head and said, "Aimee, aren't you giving too much too?"

Such a premise makes Kelvin is very uncomfortable.

Aimee has always been the object of their pursuit, and they always Aimee a command, go to execute.

Now, but to see the god-like existence in their hearts, so to take care of a man who, to them, is a complete outsider.

This feeling, is very bad.

Aimee raised her eyes towards Kelvin and said, "You think that I shouldn't do this?"

The man in her care is her husband in the legal sense.

Isn't she the perfect person to take care of him?

Kelvin said, "Aimee, in your marriage, is there love?"

Aimee wrinkled her brow a little and asked, "What do you think?"

Kelvin said, "Don't you want something from him?"

Aimee thought about it, and it seemed that she hadn't really thought about it that way.

What's more, from the very beginning, she never put her relationship with Patrick above love.

Aimee was silent for a long time and said, "Jingchuan, I know what you're worried about, but you know my nature, and I don't need to be persuaded about what I've decided."

Kelvin opened his mouth to say something else, but in the end he said nothing.

Indeed, Aimee's nature is such that there are not many people who can meet her eyes.

Now it seems that Patrick has been taken under Aimee's wing.

She will give him the best guardianship.

Kelvin, as Aimee's partner, really couldn't say anything else.

He just hopes that Aimee doesn't get hurt.

Because, in this world, the most hurtful, ooh is a word of love.

chapter 103

Aimee took care of Patrick all night long and finally fell asleep on Patrick's side of the bed because she was exhausted.

In between, Matilda, Kelvin and Ashton came in one after another, trying to wake her up so she could get a good night's sleep.

However, Aimee's special physique is something they are well aware of.

If you do wake her up, you basically won't go back to sleep.

Therefore, the three could only observe Patrick's situation in silence, and then exit the room.

When Patrick woke up, his eyes opened and he saw Aimee lying beside him.

His gaze flashed with amazement, followed by a heart full of pain.

This woman, in the end, has gone to what extent for him.

He tried to reach out to touch Aimee's face, but the slightest movement pulled at the knife in his back, causing him to grunt in pain.

This sound also directly woke Aimee up.

Aimee rubbed her eyes and looked at Patrick, who hadn't reacted for a while, but Patrick had actually woken up.

A little confused, she asked, "What time is it?"

Patrick didn't expect that the first question Aimee asked himself would be what time it was.

He laughed helplessly and said, "Aimee, this question, I can't answer."

He also just woke up, not even knowing how long he had slept under the effects of the anesthetic.

As far as the eye can see, all you can see is Aimee.

He wasn't even sure what the room looked like.

Aimee also finally responded and said, "I'll take a look."

She fished over her phone and glanced at the time, it was actually noon.

She actually, slept for almost ten hours.

But, no, in Patrick's case, he shouldn't have woken up so early.

According to her previous preconceptions, he should be at least another ten hours before he wakes up.

Aimee rechecked the time again to make sure she was right before she looked at Patrick in surprise and said, "How are you? Do you feel anything uncomfortable?"

Patrick woke up so early that Aimee's first reaction, a physical abnormality that broke through the effects of the anesthetic, was what woke him up.

Aimee was really worried, she had eaten so much crying and had no problems with the surgery, so she didn't want something to go wrong in this part and make all the efforts come to naught.

She is really not able to accept this result.

Patrick looked at her so nervous, smiled helplessly and said, "I'm fine, I'm just a little hungry."

Aimee heard, still can't rest assured down, and gave Patrick carefully checked again, to make sure there is really no problem after, only then said: "Then you wait a moment, I'll go to prepare food for you."

With that, Aimee was ready to go out.

Her wrist was pulled by Patrick.

He said, "Aimee, stay with me for a while."

When he opened his eyes and saw her lying next to him, Patrick's heart was filled with emotion.

Aimee has been giving to Hayden's Mansion ever since he entered the building.

At first, he didn't even notice that she was having such a hard time.

This was the first time he had seen such a tired face on her.

Patrick said heartily, "Aimee, thank you."

Aimee took Patrick's hand back and said, "It's all I should do, you don't have to be so serious."

She is also not some living Bodhisattva who saves the suffering, but just does what she can, which is within her ability.

Aimee said, "The best thing you can do for me is to recuperate and recover."

Patrick took Aimee's hand and finally, without restraining himself, put it to his lips and planted a profound kiss.

From now on, he will be the one to take care of her, he will be the one to guard her, he will be the one to love her.

Patrick said, "Aimee, from now on, just follow me, okay?"

Aimee was stunned, not having recovered from his kiss, when she heard him say this.

This brings a touch of the same sentiment to Aimee's heart.

She didn't answer for a long time, and Patrick didn't rush her.

He does not force her to have to make a decision, no matter, how she chooses for the future, he will not interfere.

But, at this moment, he only wants to say his heart's truest voice to Aimee.

He wanted her, that was his firmest thought.

Aimee said, "Good."

She smiled brightly, her eyes were brimming, all the words did not need to be said, their mutual feelings, just like that already let each other understand.

Patrick only blamed himself for not being able to get up at this moment, otherwise, he would have held Aimee in his arms at this moment and told her with the hottest hugs and kisses, his true feelings for her.

Aimee saw what he was thinking, smiled and said, "Don't move, or you'll have to go into surgery again, and I can't guarantee you'll be okay."

Patrick could not hear Aimee's threat, he hooked the corner of his mouth and said, "Okay, I'll do as you say and stay put."

Aimee said, "Then rest for a while, I'll go get you something to eat, and see if Grandpa wakes up, so he can come and see you."

"Okay." Patrick responded, but his eyes were glued to Aimee's face until his neck reached a limit and he couldn't see Aimee before he could withdraw his gaze.

As soon as Aimee came out, she saw Matilda sitting cross-legged on the sofa. When she came out, she immediately jumped off the sofa and rushed to her, asking, "How are you? Are you tired? Are you hungry? Are you thirsty? How do you feel? Do you want to sleep some more?"

“No,” Aimee said, somewhat bemused by Matilda’s question, “I’ve been asleep for over ten hours, and I’m still sleeping?”

“Well, are you hungry? Do you want to eat?” Matilda said.

The first time she saw Aimee sleeping for so long, she was really very worried.

“That’s really needed, but I’ll get it myself.” Aimee said.

Matilda, once she heard this, what was there not to understand.

The personal preparation, naturally, is for Patrick.

Aimee didn’t wait for Matilda to say anything, she already rushed into the kitchen.

Matilda’s mouth twitched and her first reaction was, “Aimee is done.

This is something that has never happened to Aimee before.

Matilda followed her into the kitchen and watched Aimee working in the kitchen and couldn’t help but say, “Aimee, is it really worth it to do all this?”

Aimee said, “I forgot to tell you, I’ve decided to follow him.”

Matilda’s eyes widened and she couldn’t believe for a moment what she had just heard.

Only soon, she had another feeling that she had already expected it.

Indeed, it would be really strange if Aimee’s dedication to Patrick did not result in this.

Aimee saw her silence and asked curiously, “What’s wrong? There’s nothing you want to say?”

chapter 104

Matilda shook her head and said, “I know you, what you have decided, who can change anything.”

She approached Aimee, hugged her shoulders and said, “Aimee, no matter what, I just want you to be happy.”

To her, nothing else matters, just this one thing that is important.

Aimee was touched, patted the back of Matilda’s hand and said, “I will, but now you have to let go of me, I have to cook.”

Matilda’s mouth twitched and said, “Okay, okay, I won’t bother you anymore, really, I was fed a mouthful of dog food. How have you become like this.”

With that, Matilda left the kitchen.

Aimee quickly thought about what to cook for Patrick, who had just had surgery and naturally could not eat anything that tasted heavy and would burden his body.

So, Aimee decided to make some white porridge instead.

However, she would not be so cruel as to really let Patrick eat only white porridge, so she added a little bit of material to the white porridge for him, so that the white porridge does not taste bland and tasty.

After putting the porridge on, Aimee went to knock on the old Hayden's door to see if he was awake.

Coincidentally, the old Hayden was already awake and was about to come out of his room.

He slept very well last night, because he was worried about Patrick's body, the nerves that were tense, after falling asleep, completely relaxed.

He only felt that his muscles and bones were very comfortable, and there was no trace of fatigue.

Opening the door to see Aimee, the old Hayden added, "Aimee, did you sleep well yesterday?"

Aimee had some surprise that the old Hayden didn't take the lead in asking Patrick how he was doing, but asked if he had slept well first.

She said, "Grandpa, I slept well."

"That's good, Aimee. Ah, it's really hard on you." the old Hayden said.

Aimee laughed, "Grandpa, you should stop talking to me about this, Master Patrick is already awake, go over to see him."

"Really?" The old Hayden immediately came to life, and with the wind at his feet, he walked over towards Patrick's room.

He didn't even dare to ask, just in case he heard any bad news.

Well, now Patrick woke up, the old Hayden a hanging heart, but also finally put down.

He walked into the room, saw Patrick lying on the bed, and suddenly, there was some fear of approaching.

Aimee said, "Grandpa, it's okay, Master Patrick is in exceptionally good health, a few more days of recuperation and he'll be out of bed."

The old Hayden heard Aimee's words and instantly burst into tears.

He reached out and held Aimee's hand and said, "Aimee, thank you really, Grandpa really thanks you."

Aimee shook her head and said, "It's only because of Master Patrick's good health and Dr. Dettlaff's superb surgical standard that Master Patrick was able to operate so successfully, so don't thank me like that, it makes me embarrassed."

When Patrick heard Aimee say that, he was upset for Aimee.

He wanted to tell the old Hayden that he was able to recover because of Aimee.

It's a shame that Aimee won't let him talk and doesn't want the old Hayden to know what she has done for Patrick for so long.

Aimee's dedication was not intended to be rewarding, she genuinely wanted to do this. So she doesn't want to spread the word around.

Patrick also knew what kind of trouble Aimee could get into if her medical skills were publicized.

He naturally did not want her to get into all that trouble, so he was only able to silently keep this in his heart.

Think of it as a little secret between him and Aimee.

Aimee noticed Patrick's gaze and naturally read the meaning in his eyes.

She smiled at him and said, "Grandpa, you and Master Patrick talk first, I'm making congee for Master Patrick, I'll go and see if it's ready."

the old Hayden nodded and wanted to thank Aimee, but it was clear that she didn't want to hear that at the moment, so she didn't say anything else.

After Aimee left the room, the old Hayden said to Patrick: "Pat, Aimee really gave too much for you, Grandpa does not care whether you have feelings for her or not, in this life, Grandpa will not allow you to neglect her, you know."

Patrick is no longer curious about the reasons why the old Hayden thinks so highly of Aimee.

He is now just very grateful to the old Hayden for bringing Aimee into his life.

He said, "Grandpa, don't worry, I will cherish Aimee well."

Hearing Patrick say so, the old Hayden a heart is also considered down.

He said, "Pat, Grandpa is really happy that you were able to get together with Aimee."

Patrick said, "Grandpa, although I don't know what made you choose Aimee, I really appreciate you bringing her to me."

Hearing Patrick's words, the old Hayden table was clear.

The two of them, probably, have already exchanged their thoughts.

This problem can be rest assured, the old Hayden most worried, naturally, or Patrick's body.

He said, "Pat, how do you feel physically? Do you feel anything yet?"

Patrick nodded and said, "It hurts a lot, and Aimee said that in a few days, after this pain goes away, I can try to stand up."

As soon as the old Hayden heard this, he immediately came to life.

He actually still has some concerns because, for them, such a medical miracle is simply too much to think about.

But now, such a thing, is happening.

The old Hayden could hardly contain his excitement, and he could not wait to get Patrick out of bed and stand in front of him right now.

However, the old Hayden also knows that this period, but also very critical, not to act impulsively.

He hurriedly said, "Then Pat, you must take good care of yourself, listen to Aimee on everything, and never move around on your own."

Patrick was helpless, and now he suddenly felt that it was good not to tell the old Hayden that he was cured by Aimee.

Otherwise, if the old Hayden knew the truth, it is likely to be more to Aimee as a savior.

By then, he may really have no place at all.

His own daughter-in-law, he has not been properly open is painful favor it, this kind of thing, naturally do not want to let grandfather to mix a foot.

chapter 105

Aimee brought in the porridge and said to the old Hayden, "Grandpa, I made you lunch too, you haven't eaten much since yesterday, hurry up and eat some."

The old Hayden is now implementing a principle, listen to Aimee, but all Aimee's requests, must be obeyed.

So, when he heard Aimee call him for dinner, he didn't hesitate at all and left Patrick's room straight away.

Patrick shook his head helplessly, to such a grandfather, there is no way at all.

Aimee walked over and said, "You can't sit up yet, I've brought a straw, so take small sips of the porridge and don't push, okay?"

Patrick responded, "Yes, Aimee, I'm not a little kid."

Aimee laughed, "You're not as good as a kid right now."

Kids don't need to be taken care of like that.

Patrick was even more helpless and couldn't help but ask, "Aimee, when am I going to be able to stand up?"

"You are now recovering better than I expected, and I think, without incident, you will be able to move freely in three days at the most." Aimee said.

This, of course, assumes that she will be treating Patrick post-operatively during the three days.

One, to let the cut on his back recover as quickly as possible.

Secondly, it is also to get all his nerves back to an optimal state.

This process, in fact, is not easy.

Aimee is going to do the same trick again and let Patrick spend the most time in a deep sleep, so that it will be more conducive to his body's absorption of the drug.

However, this matter, Aimee is not going to talk to Patrick.

Because, she knew very well that Patrick's nature would only ask not to use that drug, and he wanted to watch her treat him.

Patrick is already looking forward to the three days when he will be able to stand up, to move around, to be back to his old self.

The first thing he wanted to do was to hug Aimee tightly and tell her how much he appreciated her.

How much he, loved her.

The word "love" came to Patrick's mind and he was unconsciously lost in thought.

He just wanted to keep Aimee by his side before, just knowing that he was interested in her and had a good feeling about her.

However, he never thought that he actually, was in love with her.

The word love, for Patrick, is actually very heavy.

He does not love someone easily.

Once upon a time, he even thought that he might be incapable of loving people, that he didn't need a woman, he didn't need a wife, and he didn't need a woman to have children for him.

Now, however, Patrick's mind has all changed.

In the moment of realizing that he actually loved Aimee, Patrick got an enlightened state from all those things that he didn't need before, at this moment.

He has clarified his heart.

In the future, slowly for the rest of his life, he will want to walk with Aimee in the past.

Seeing Patrick lost in thought, Aimee knelt down, approached his face, and asked, "What are you thinking about?"

She had already cooled the porridge a bit before bringing it over, just to prevent Patrick from getting burned.

As a result, the straw is now right next to Patrick's mouth and he's not moving at all.

This makes her very depressed, if she continues to fret like this, the porridge will get cold.

When Patrick looked back, he saw Aimee's face magnified in front of him.

Almost without thinking, he kissed Aimee on the lips.

Just a light touch, but it startled Aimee.

She didn't expect Patrick to do this at all, and after he moved away, her first reaction was to check whether the magnitude of Patrick's movement was large or not, and whether the knife was involved.

Luckily, she just came so close to the hook that Patrick barely made a move.

Aimee glared at Patrick and said, "Do you know that you have to be careful with every move you make now, are you trying to make all my previous efforts come to naught?"

Patrick was amused by her annoyed look.

He originally saw her face change and thought she would be angry that he had kissed her.

Yet, she was just angry that she might be affecting her body.

This also means that Aimee does not hate his proximity.

Although Aimee has agreed to follow him in the future, Patrick is still very unsure.

He knew very well that Aimee was a very responsible woman.

From the moment she entered the Hayden family, she had already entered the role of his wife.

Even if she has no feelings for him, she will do all the things that she has to do in this capacity.

However, this also means that even though she will not separate from him, it does not mean that she is in love with him.

And just this one kiss, but Patrick can vaguely perceive, perhaps, Aimee is in love with him.

At least, it is possible to fall in love with him.

This discovery was very pleasing to Patrick.

He laughed lowly, and at the end, he said, "If I don't move, can madam take the initiative to kiss me?"

Aimee looked at Patrick in dismay, not expecting him to say such a thing.

For a moment, she didn't know how to answer the question at all.

Just now is too worried about Patrick, Aimee did not realize that he was being kissed.

Now that she heard him say that, she realized what had just happened.

Aimee blushed as an afterthought and stood up with a start, taking a step back.

She pointed at Patrick and said, "You, you, you," before saying, "Don't bully me."

Patrick laughed even more uncontrollably until he collected himself with a painful sensation coming from his back.

"Aimee, my back hurts." Patrick said.

Aimee, how could she not know that he was in pain for some reason.

She finally didn't hold her temper and said to Patrick, "Then you'll be in pain."

This bastard, how can he bully people so much.

chapter 106

Patrick this way, Aimee also can not do anything to him, can only let him bully himself.

He called his wife, the tip of her heart trembled, as if he really caught the general.

Aimee settled down and said, "From now on, you are not allowed to talk, or else, I will leave you alone."

The fact that she said this with a little bit of pique, fell on Patrick's ears, like a deadly hook, Patrick now experienced a sense of what it means to be on fire, their own hard feelings.

Patrick buried his face directly into the pillow, not to look at Aimee, he would not feel so bad.

Aimee didn't know what Patrick was thinking at the moment, and when she saw that he had finally stopped, she nuzzled up to his side and began to examine his cut.

Fortunately, the incision was not affected, which gave Aimee a lot of peace of mind.

She gave Patrick another layer of pain medication, and instead of covering the cut, it was left to dry in the air.

Patrick also sensed this and finally looked up from his pillow, turned his head and asked, "Aimee, my clothes."

"Your incision needs to dry out a bit to help it recover." Aimee says.

Patrick blurted out, "I thought, Aimee, that you wanted to see my body a little longer."

As soon as the words came out, Patrick was hit by Aimee, the force was not heavy, but, because of the sudden action, it scared Patrick.

His body reacted to the stress and bounced straight away.

It was also the one that made the cut he had eased up on, hurt again.

Patrick re-buried his face into the pillow in frustration.

What he calls this, this is called, good scars forget the pain.

Aimee stopped paying attention to him, walked over and picked up the porridge he hadn't finished and said, "Stay by yourself for a while, I'm going out first."

Patrick answered in his pillow and didn't even look at Aimee.

Aimee blinked innocently, dumbfounded by Patrick's attitude.

She did not just hit him a little, and did not force, how can he be so aggrieved look?

Aimee didn't bother Patrick anymore and went straight out of the room.

The old Hayden was walking by, and when he saw her coming out, he hurriedly said, "Aimee, go eat, Pat, I'll watch."

"Okay, Grandpa," Aimee said, "you can always tell Master Patrick to stay put."

The old Hayden responded repeatedly, almost as if Aimee's words were holy writ.

Aimee went to the restaurant and Matilda came over with a bowl of noodles and said, "Finally, it's your turn, I think your heart is growing on Master Patrick."

"It's not like you don't know my physique, what normal people need, I'm not that needy." Aimee said.

Matilda flattened her mouth and said, "Well, you can't do that, either."

Aimee said, "It's good that it's not, it's made up for all that I lacked before."

Matilda couldn't talk Aimee out of it, so she turned around and brought her a plate of Haggis, saying, "Then you can make up for all the portions you've been missing, too."

Aimee looked at the noodles that were already open, and then at the plate of Haggis, and put one in her mouth and said, "One is enough, you fix the rest."

"I'm going to be a big star, and you're not hurting me by making me eat so much?" Matilda said unhappily.

However, the mouth said so, the mouth is also very honest, the effort to talk, has a Haggis down.

Aimee laughed, ate her noodles and asked casually, "How far are you going to play?"

"It depends on Miles, how he's going to promote me." Matilda says.

However, in her nature, since she has to step into this circle, it is to do the best, and she will not rest until all the achievements she can get are taken once.

Aimee said, "Take it easy, don't break your hand." .

The entertainment industry is a complex place for them to want fame and fortune without even stepping into the circle.

With Aimee's own nature, she does not like to get too involved with this circle.

However, she had to get involved after all these years.

Now that Matilda is officially entering the industry, Aimee won't be completely indifferent to her.

She will use all her resources to help her.

Matilda said, "Don't worry, you know me, I'll quit if I really feel something is wrong."

"Okay, I'm relieved to have your word." Aimee said.

Matilda finished the last Haggis, thought about it, and asked, "Aimee, are you worried about me now, or are you worried about Miles?"

"What do you say?" Aimee looked up at her with unspoken eyes.

"He's going to be your second brother, is it really good for you to be so defensive?" Matilda said.

Aimee said, "It depends on what he does to Master Patrick and to you."

If Miles ever hurts one of them, she won't even let him go.

Matilda was in a better mood and said, "Sure enough, you love me the most."

Miles was originally Patrick's brother, so he naturally had nothing to say to Patrick.

Then it was only her that Aimee was worried about.

Matilda can't help but wonder how Aimee would have handled Miles if he had really pissed her off.

Aimee didn't answer her question, but just gave Matilda a look.

Just this look has let Matilda know enough to know what would happen to Miles if something like that really happened.

Because, Aimee this look, the last time I saw it, many years ago, someone touched Aimee's seven apprentices, Aimee in revenge for her, only showed such a look.

That time was the first time they saw what Aimee was like when she really got the urge to kill.

That time, Aimee directly took out the other side of a gang, but also the big brother behind the scenes to uncover, directly engaged in a reunion.

That time, Matilda also became more sure of one thing: don't mess with Aimee.

Usually how to laugh and joke with her to have fun are not related, but, in the big things above, really do not have no proportion, or will be a minute she will be taught to do people.

So now with this assurance from Aimee, Matilda is even more confident.

She said, "Then I'm going to be unbridled in my artifice, oh."

Aimee finished her last bite of noodles and heard Matilda's words and got some more headaches.

She said, "Make it up, make it up, I'm here to give you a leg up anyway."

"Okay, with your words, sisters are relieved."

chapter 107

Once Miles signed the contract with Matilda, he made the arrangements for Matilda's future.

The first thing that happened was that Matilda was assigned an agent.

However, when Matilda found out about it, she was very unhappy.

Arriving at Globalhive Pictures Entertainment at the appointed time, Matilda was ready to go straight upstairs to find Miles.

However, just before walking in, someone had to stop them.

"This lady, sorry, you can't go up." The receptionist lady stopped Matilda, the posture was very respectful and possessed a good professional attitude.

Matilda looked up and down at the receptionist, but it was still easy to see the hostility towards her in her eyes.

She smiled and said, "OK, I'm kind of officially here today, so it's understandable that you don't know me, but, little girl, remember this face of mine, and remember to let me in if you see me in the future."

When the receptionist heard Matilda's words, her heart was actually very apprehensive.

However, she has seen a lot of beautiful women looking for various reasons to run to the company in order to become an actress, and such women, in general, have no good end.

So, it's not a mistake for her to stop this beautiful-to-goodness woman like this now, she's contributing to the company.

Matilda didn't argue with her, she just took out her phone and called Miles, "It looks like you'll have to come down and pick me up yourself, otherwise, I can't get in."

On the other end of the line, Miles' face sank after hearing Matilda's words.

The assistant was looking at the side nervous to the point of no return, and was about to ask a question when he saw that the boss had gotten up and was heading outside the office.

Miles went directly into the exclusive elevator and, in a short time, arrived at the first floor lobby.

When his figure appeared, the whole front desk girl tightened up.

The gaze towards Matilda also became very strange.

She couldn't believe that this woman, surprisingly, wasn't coming over for a chance.

Matilda scanned the receptionist, but did not tell Miles about her rudeness to her.

She looked over at Miles, and said, "Looks like I'll have to get a pass next time."

"No, I'll have your picture hung here later, and from now on, no one will be able to stop you." Miles said.

Matilda's mouth twitched at the corners, to Miles this method is in Feel very thunder.

She said, "It doesn't have to be that way, I don't want anyone throwing eggs at my picture yet."

"So little confidence?" Miles raised his eyebrows lightly and said, "How do you know that people aren't comparing hearts toward your picture?"

Matilda : "....."

She felt that she had met a master and was actually able to run into such a dirt man.

She prides herself on being able to play with all male creatures, but she didn't expect Miles to be able to render her so speechless.

Miles saw that she was silent and asked suspiciously, "What's wrong? I'm not saying the right thing."

"No," Matilda said, shaking her head, "I just think, Mr. Hayden, is pretty awesome."

Miles didn't understand Matilda's words just as the elevator had reached the floor.

When I came out of the elevator, I saw the assistant standing at the door, seemingly in a very anxious manner.

However, when he saw that Miles was coming out of the elevator with Matilda, he instantly understood.

I already felt that Miles was not normal to Matilda, and now I am even more sure of his idea.

He is already silently preparing to cling to Matilda's thighs, and in the future, he may be able to count on a pay raise.

Matilda noticed the assistant's eyes, pursed her lips and smiled a little, as a greeting.

Walking into Miles' office, Matilda said straight away: " Mr. Hayden, I don't have any problem with you arranging an agent for me, but I have one request."

"Go ahead." Miles gestured for her to bring it up as much as she wanted.

Since he has decided to promote Matilda unconditionally, he will naturally go along with her in everything.

It's such a small thing for an agent, Miles naturally won't refuse.

Matilda said, "I want my agent to be completely subservient to my demands."

"You're taking care of things yourself?" Miles was a bit stunned; Matilda didn't seem like the type to want to do this on her own.

Matilda said, "What? Don't trust me? Or do you think I can't handle it? Or, do you think I'll screw you?"

Miles said, "I don't really care about that, but you have to understand one thing, a top stream artist has very little time to be able to handle things on his own."

This is something Matilda is not aware of, she can say that she knows nothing about the entertainment industry.

Those shallow perceptions are also basically from Aimee .

But Aimee is not someone who is interested in the entertainment industry, and those she does come into contact with are the ones who have turned to her for help.

Matilda wasn't interested in them and, therefore, never got to know them.

Now that she heard Miles say that, Matilda became interested, and she held her chin in thought for a while, and finally decided that she wanted to make all the decisions for herself.

Matilda said: " Mr. Hayden, I, you have known me for a few days, should have some understanding of what kind of nature I am, want me to work for you so continuously, is impossible, so, even if you arrange a gold agent for me, it is just a waste of her resources."

Miles heard such frank words from Matilda, in the end, he had some headache.

He originally planned to let Matilda become accustomed to the work of the entertainment industry and let her taste the pleasure of being in it, so that she would willingly become his golden sign.

Now, Matilda has completely cut off the back of what he wanted to do.

Miles pinched his brow and said to Matilda: "Now you are such an idea, maybe, in a short time, your idea will change, do you think, is that possible?"

Matilda heard what he meant, smiled enchantingly, and said, " Mr. Hayden, it would be no fun for you to play with such a mind."

"I can't say it's heartfelt, but you just can't say anything too absolutely, can you?" Miles said.

Matilda shrugged her shoulders and said, "That depends on what Mr. Hayden does, and if Mr. Hayden is a little less condescending, maybe, I'll consider looking at it."

Miles sort of realized that to get what he wanted in Matilda's body was basically a delusion.

This woman, shrewd as a fox, does not give him any opportunity to get his way.

Miles For the first time, there was actually some frustration.

chapter 108

Miles arranged for Matilda's agent, is Globalhive Pictures Entertainment's most gold medal agent, Leah Rose, known as Leah, now the entertainment industry's most top flow of several, almost all are brought out by her.

However, this Leah's temper is very big in recent years has not taken newcomers, even with newcomers, but also in strict accordance with their own requirements.

Leah was very unhappy when Miles told her that he wanted her to take on the newcomers.

She didn't know what this newcomer was about, that Miles would speak to her personally.

But, she was still ready to give this newcomer a little bit of a head start.

So, when Ivan received Miles' notice to come and meet the newcomers, she agreed but deliberately arrived half an hour late.

During this time, Matilda was in Miles' office.

She could sense that although Miles was still chatting with her lightly, a vague anger had sprung up under his eyes.

Matilda originally thought it was because of herself, but, looking at Miles this way, it doesn't look like it.

She thought about it carefully and understood it.

Mostly because of that gold agent.

Matilda also became interested in the agent who was deliberately trying to make things difficult for her.

When Ivan came in, he saw the gorgeous woman sitting on the sofa with her legs crossed and her cheeks propped up.

The moment she saw her enter, the expression on the woman's face was full of playfulness.

That feeling, as if it had already seen her through.

This is the first time Leah has encountered such a situation. Usually, it is she who brings such a sense of oppression to others.

However, at this moment, she feels that the clown is actually herself.

Matilda's eyes swept up and down Leah, not at all interested in how good this gold medal agent was.

What she is more interested in now is that a woman who even thinks of giving herself a downward spiral when they first meet, what kind of good looks will she give herself in the future together?

However, if Leah really dares to set her up like this, Matilda is not a vegetarian and will not let her have too much fun.

In this way, the two women met for the first time, before they officially said a word, they already looked at each other in a bad light.

Miles got even more of a headache, he could clearly feel the electricity coming from between the two women.

He even wondered if he had made the wrong arrangements.

Thinking you've given Matilda the best resources may, in the end, be just wishful thinking on your part.

Even though Miles already thought so, he still had to maintain the appearance of peace.

He came over and introduced the two to, "Matilda , Leah Rose. you can call her Leah."

The two women nodded to each other as a greeting.

Leah was even more curious about the woman that the boss was going to personally come down to support.

She initially thought it was the boss's relations, and when she saw it just now, she thought it was a woman the boss had his eye on, but, after a brief observation, she dismissed her thoughts.

Leah could see how much Miles valued Matilda, but the attitude was not half-ambiguous.

This is very strange, under the sky, there are so many beautiful women, it is not really because Matilda is beautiful, so it is so important to her?

The three of them sat down on the sofa, Matilda did not have much patience, and opened the door and said: "Leah, since you will be responsible for my economic matters, then, before we start working together, I want to make some of my requirements clear."

Leah was polite at the moment, smiling and gesturing for her to go on.

Matilda said, "I have already spoken to Mr. Hayden, and although I agree to have an agent, I want the agent to be completely subservient to my wishes, not to impose any work on me, and, time wise, I want to have absolute control."

After all, she still has to do things for Aimee, come to the entertainment industry to mix a little, to put it bluntly, is to see how Miles is prepared to work on her body, but also to get more money from Miles here.

After all, she is known far and wide as a wealthy person, but anything that has to do with money, she is not at all ambiguous.

Leah was not expecting Matilda to put forward such a request, her face immediately sank, even the surface to maintain the hypocritical courtesy are not willing to continue to maintain.

She did not take Matilda's words, but turned her head to Miles and said, "Boss, what does this mean? You know how I act, and now she is making such a request to me with your tacit approval?"

In all her years in the entertainment industry, she, Leah, has never run into such a thing.

Who doesn't know how dedicated she is to the artists under her care, and as long as they are obedient enough, she is able to rip them off to unexpected resources.

Although several top streams are now no longer under her name, who does not know that they were promoted by her.

How many artists crowded to try to get involved with her, want to become her hand under the artists, is to one day, to break their own situation of not popular, overnight success.

Not to mention the celebrities and noblemen who want to curry favor with her every year, but anyone who has a family member who wants to make a career as a star wants to start with her.

Now it's good that a woman who she hasn't seen any advantages except her looks is so arrogant and makes such unreasonable demands on her.

This incident shocked her to the point of ridiculousness.

Miles said: "Leah, I know your rules, but Matilda she is more special, I look at her, as long as we can sign her to come, all the conditions, there is no bottom line to agree."

Leah's eyes widened in shock as she heard Miles' words.

This is not only because Miles made such a request when he knew what her nature was, but also because, given Miles' own nature, there is no way he would allow such a thing to happen.

In the end, where did this Matilda come from, and what magic did she have that actually made Miles turn out this way.

Miles said: "Leah, you are the best agent in China, too many words I will not say, next, I will directly give Matilda a few big resources, when the time comes, also please Leah take Matilda, reign in the entertainment industry."

Leah's face was not good, yet she would not be foolish enough to directly dislike her boss's intentions.

She nodded and said, "Since Miss Duncan's character is so individual, then I'll also say something ugly up front, how far Miss Duncan's acting path can go is Miss Duncan's own business, don't say nothing to keep me out of the way now, and then let me clean up the mess afterwards when something happens. "

chapter 109

Matilda looked at Leah's attitude, indifferent shrugged, she did not have the heart to say directly, if something really happened, I'm afraid that Leah simply can not solve.

This matter, sort of so reached a consensus.

Miles asked tentatively, “Matilda, I’d like you to make an appearance on a variety show before we shoot the movie.

“Variety?” Matilda raised an eyebrow and gave Miles a meaningful look .

I was very uncomfortable with the fact that he suddenly called himself Matilda.

Miles said, “After all, you’re a pure newcomer, and variety is the quickest place for people to get to know you.”

Leah also said, “As a female artist who came out of nowhere, without any works, it is the most convenient way to make people know through the variety show of casting, a transformation from a vegetarian to an artist.”

Matilda doesn’t know much about this set, but, she is well aware that casting is a long and consuming place.

It can easily take three months to drop in, and it doesn’t necessarily have any effect.

She looked at Leah with amusement, how could she not understand what she was playing at.

Matilda laughed and said, “A draft wouldn’t be necessary, and I don’t care to compete with a bunch of kids for a position.”

She has a very clear idea of herself, if she really goes to this kind of show, there can still be those children what the matter?

Leah’s disgust with her increased by a few points when she heard her spouting off like that.

She originally planned to throw her inside the talent show, so that she can receive a little social beatings, and after coming out, still have to obediently listen to her arrangements.

As a result, Matilda actually saw through her mind, which was too upsetting for her.

Matilda raises her eyebrows and looks at Leah meaningfully.

Seeing her face unpleasant, I knew I guessed it.

This woman, really has enough dishonesty.

She said, “If I must go to a variety show, find the hottest one, and I’ll go to one.”

Leah’s face got even worse.

Popular variety show, she said it was easy.

Doesn’t she know how much work it takes to rip into the resources of such a variety show?

It’s simply a big statement.

Leah looks to Miles, hoping that Miles can sober Matilda up a bit.

However, Miles gave it a quick thought and instantly came up with a variety show.

He looked over at Leah and said, "Isn't August recording 'Hide yourself' next week, have Matilda go along with it."

Matilda looked at him again, still a Matilda, called Matilda more uncomfortable a few points.

She didn't know what the 'Hide yourself' variety show meant; after all, she had always been uninterested in that aspect of things.

Add to that the fact that she has been abroad, she is even more ignorant of what programs are available in the country.

Just, look at Leah's face, Matilda also be able to taste out, the show, how difficult it is to get on.

That made her decide, with unparalleled frankness, that she was going to be on the show.

Matilda said, " Mr. Hayden is still very sincere, so let's arrange it as soon as possible."

Leah simply to be angry to jump, this woman, in the end, know, she so a word, will be involved in how many things to.

She is good, do not know the sky is high, and think that the company is her family owned, she wants to do what she can, simply outrageous.

Miles inclined his head to Leah and said, "Leah, this thing, go set it up as soon as possible."

Matilda smiled with satisfaction, she was very happy that Miles was so on board.

Thinking of another thing, Matilda said: "For the play to take, I have a good look at one, Rosie's that 'Alby's Memoir', I think it's pretty good, so please Leah, the lead actress of that position, to grab me over. "

Now, even Miles was shocked.

'Alby's Memoir' is the one Jaylah is working on, and is the most important project of Globalhive Pictures Entertainment this year.

The female lead of this drama, Miles originally has not been decided, but Francis does not know with what crazy, must choose Jaylah.

He also had a lot of headaches, but finally agreed to do it because only Francis could produce the effect he wanted.

Now that the play has started shooting, Matilda is going to steal the lead actress's position, which is very difficult for him to do.

Francis, that guy, is notorious in the circle for how difficult he is to deal with.

However, hearing Matilda mention 'Alby's Memoir' at this moment, Miles finally realized why he was so determined to sign Matilda.

It turns out that she has the image of the heroine of 'Alby's Memoir' that she always wanted.

Only, at that time, he did not associate with this play above, but only thought of several other plays, which are also the most important projects this year.

Now that Matilda has mentioned it, Miles is very shaken.

If Matilda is really cast in 'Alby's Memoir', then he guarantees that the play will be the biggest hit of the year.

Leah finally found her senses under the great shock, her voice was sharpened a bit, "Matilda, don't you go too far!"

She had never seen any newcomer who could be arrogant to this extent.

'Hide yourself' is even if, on the basis of not changing anything else, it is not difficult to stuff a person in.

Perhaps the most difficult part of this story came from how to convince August to agree to bring Matilda on the show with him.

However, the difficulty of the matter of 'Alby's Memoir' can be said to be sacrificed to the heavens.

Matilda is not annoyed, just light whoosh look at Leah, said: "Leah's fire not so big, if really can not do, there is nothing, I will not force."

"You!" Leah was furious, after so many years in the industry, when had she ever been so disliked that she was dumbfounded.

Even when she first joined the industry as an assistant, she had never run into this kind of thing.

Matilda looked at Miles and said, "Mr. Hayden, I think, this matter is still left to you to do it, if, can not get this role, the rest of us, it is all free."

"Matilda, this thing is not easy, you let me think about it." Miles said.

He did not reject Matilda directly, mainly because, in his heart, Matilda is the heroine herself.

He would also be very happy if, for example, this matter could be reached.

Matilda didn't know what he was thinking, just that she was very pleased with his attitude.

So, she doesn't mind helping him out either.

Of course, the matter still has to go to Aimee.

After all, it was Aimee who was doing all the work to get Jaylah killed.

She didn't pick when Aimee was going to execute the plan, and she'd have to go back and ask if she could move it up a bit for her.

Matilda is speechless at her own thoughts, isn't she here to toss Miles around?

Why did you even help out?

chapter 110

Matilda went back, found Aimee, and told Aimee what she wanted to do, and she saw Aimee looking at her strangely.

“You mean, you’re going to help Miles now?” Aimee raised her eyebrows, very much unable to understand this behavior of Matilda.

“Not really, I’m helping you get your revenge.” Matilda said.

Aimee almost laughed at her comment.

She said, “Help me get revenge? So, disrupt my plans?”

“Anyway, it’s not that long ago, and besides, don’t you feel more relieved to replace Jaylah with me?” Matilda winked a pair of charming eyes to make herself look extra innocent.

Aimee, if you can’t see what she has in mind, it’s a waste of time.

She said, “Think about it, Jaylah’s got a lot of fans.”

This was previously confirmed when she was subjected to online violence.

Matilda laughed: “Aimee, do you think that I am not as beautiful as she is? Am I less capable than her? I can’t be a fan?”

Aimee’s mouth twitched, helpless at Matilda’s words of such shame.

She said, “OK, OK, OK, I know, I’ll get it done for you, OK?”

Matilda immediately became happy, hugged Aimee’s neck, and kissed her hard.

She said, “Aimee, you really do love me the most, and I’m proud to have you as a sister.”

Aimee sighed softly and thought it would be nice.

It’s better to let her wreak havoc on Miles than to keep wreaking havoc on herself.

Matilda didn’t know what Aimee was thinking, and she let go of Aimee before asking curiously, “Aimee, did you have someone else in mind?”

According to Aimee’s plan, it is naturally impossible to let Jaylah finish this drama, and if there is a replacement behind the scenes, he should have already chosen someone.

Then, this is even halfway to cut yourself off.

Matilda doesn’t feel any guilt, she knows how important she is in Aimee’s heart, so she deserves it.

What made her even more curious was that she wanted to know who the person chosen by Aimee was.

There were not many people who could meet Aimee’s eyes, and the fact that she had paved such a path behind her back made Matilda even more curious.

But she also had to find out first, that person, with their own fingertips, in the end will be enemies or friends.

Aimee said, “Eva Chandler.”

“The little girl who almost got the part originally?” Matilda asks, with some surprise.

The one who is not Miles has been kicked out of the game, Aimee actually plans to help her.

That’s interesting.

If it is true that the back of the arrangement Eva took the position, Miles until the matter or Aimee out, I do not know Miles will be angry into what kind.

Aimee said, “She is a little young, but she is very good looking and Francis has the ability to bring her up.”

“So do I count this as breaking a little girl’s star?” Matilda said.

Aimee glanced at her and said, “Do you think, with her status and wanting to debut as a star, she can go back just because she didn’t get this one scene?”

“That’s true,” Matilda nodded in agreement, “then I feel even less guilty.”

Aimee laughed and shook her head, there was nothing she could do about Matilda saying such unintentional things.

Matilda’s temperament, she really knows too well.

What guilt can she feel?

She was just saying that casually.

Aimee said, “However, in the future, this little girl, and her related people, you have to guard against.”

Jaylah stole her role, which Aimee had done deliberately to make enemies of Jaylah.

However, originally this piece of cake can be returned to Eva’s hands, but now because of Matilda’s sudden appearance, so she completely with this piece of cake, can be imagined, this hatred, is to be more thick than to Jaylah.

Aimee naturally does not worry about Matilda will be bullied by a small girl, but, people in that environment, many things, is to have to face.

In order to reduce unnecessary trouble, there are some things that are more than able to use their previous means to solve.

So, she had to make Matilda understand that defensiveness had to be set up from this moment on.

Matilda understood Aimee’s point. After all, the country was in a different situation, and there were many things that she had to do.

She sighed lightly and suddenly got a little depressed, “I feel like I’ve been put in chains, what can I do? If my temper comes up and I can’t control myself, will you hammer me to death?”

Aimee said, “It’s not that exaggerated, you stay longer and you will understand that the country is the most comfortable place to be.”

That's why, in fact, she could have left the Reed family a long time ago and gone far away to any country where she could live with abandon without having to hide her powers.

Yet, she still stays in the country for a reason.

Matilda flattened her mouth and said, "Fine, anyway, you've decided to move your base camp back, so I'll do whatever you want."

Aimee smiled and said, "Then thank my Miss Duncan for being willing to lay down her life for me."