

Healing 331

Chapter 331 Disgraced

Camdyn glared at Walter and was really dissatisfied that he had been away for such a long time. He was going to be pissed off that he only come back today.

Walter knew his grandfather's temper, so he immediately confessed and said, "Grandpa, I was wrong." Camdyn would quit while he was ahead. Hearing this, he immediately said, "Good boy. Tell me, why do you come back all of a sudden?"

There was an unnatural expression on Walter's face.

Naturally, there was no way to tell the old man the real reason.

However, he could make up an excuse and tell his grandpa.

Walter said, "Of course it's because I miss you."

Camdyn rolled his eyes unceremoniously, and completely disbelieved Walter's nonsense.

Not to mention Camdyn didn't believe it, even Aimee and Patrick didn't believe it.

The two of them clearly saw a hint of embarrassment in Walter's eyes, because he couldn't even convince himself with this excuse.

Probably only Casey, a simple person, would think that what Walter said was true.

She smiled and said, "I know, Walter misses not only Grandpa, but also me."

Walter was really speechless at her haughty look.

Casey was a "miracle" in the family because her IQ was the lowest.

However, he couldn't tell them honestly the reason he came back home.

Especially, there was such a bad guy as Patrick. If he told him, it will be screwed up.

However, when Walter met Patrick's gaze, he still felt like he was being seen through.

He rubbed his nose and said, "Ah ... I'm exhausted. I'm going to take a shower and change my clothes.

You guys should call Miles back. Let's have a get together and a small party for me."

Patrick laughed lowly, and said, "Walter, do you think you're really welcome?"

Walter glared at him, suddenly thought of something, and said, "I heard that Aimee's cooking skills are very good. I don't know if you can show me?"

Patrick immediately said, "No, she can't cook right now."

Aimee was about to agree when she heard Patrick say that.

Naturally, she would not cut the ground from under Patrick's feet, so she could only smile apologetically at Walter without making a sound.

Walter rolled his eyes speechlessly, as if he understood what Miles said that Patrick was simply crazy now.

He didn't really want a pregnant woman to cook for him, but he was speechless about Patrick's behavior.

However, Patrick being like this was actually quite good.

He looked very humane.

As Walter went upstairs, Casey actively called Miles.

After learning that Walter was back, Miles gritted his teeth and said, "Let him wait for me."

The Hayden family hadn't been this lively for a long time. All his grandchildren were together, and Camdyn was really happy.

He thought of something, and said to Aimee, "Aimee, can you call Mikayla, Matilda, Kelvin and Ash over here?"

They were people he had seen, and they were all close to Aimee, so Camdyn also regarded them as his grandchildren.

Since it was a gathering, it was natural that there must be more people.

Aimee was not used to such a scene, but since it was proposed by Camdyn, she would not reject his kindness.

She called one by one and sent the address, and then went back to the bedroom by Patrick to rest for a while.

Aimee was very helpless.

Patrick was really too nervous about her pregnancy.

Looking at Patrick dumbfounded, she said, "Darling, am I going to walk with you in your arms from now on?"

Patrick's expression froze. He looked at Aimee's face, and then the corners of his mouth curled up.

He said, "Aimee, you reminded me. We'll do that from now on."

Aimee almost raised her hand to hit him.

This guy can't even know that she was mocking him.

Aimee said, "People know that there is a baby in my belly. Those who don't know will think I am a giant baby."

Patrick said, "Of course you are a baby. No matter when, you are my baby."

Aimee's protest was directly dispelled by what he said, and the words that she wanted to deliberately make things difficult for Patrick were taken back abruptly.

Aimee felt a little frustrated for no reason. How could she lose to Patrick so easily?

This was insane.

Patrick curled his lips, hugged Aimee, and said, "Baby, come and let me hug you."

Aimee lay obediently in Patrick's arms, and instantly didn't want to protest.

How could a man not always worry about her so much if he didn't love her to the extreme?

She should feel lucky.

She loved Patrick and Patrick loved her too.

Aimee hugged Patrick's waist tightly, and said, "Sooner or later I will be spoiled by you and become a waste."

Patrick said, "It doesn't matter. You are my baby."

Aimee said, "In that case, you shouldn't say it when there are other people around."

She could even imagine how the prestige she had built up over the years would collapse if Matilda and the others heard it.

Aimee said, "Darling, you still have to show me your respect."

Patrick laughed out loud. How could his baby be so cute?

Listening to her say such silly words, what else can Patrick do? Naturally he will agree to any request.

He said, "Okay, I will only whisper this to you."

Aimee became happy, put her arms around Patrick's neck, stood on tiptoes and kissed him.

She said, "Let's go downstairs. Matilda and the others will be here in a while."

After all, even if they had seen Camdyn, it was during Patrick's surgery.

Speaking of familiarity, he was naturally the most familiar with her.

Aimee still couldn't help worrying. At least, she didn't want them to be too reserved.

Patrick understood Aimee's intention, held her waist and kissed her for a while, and then went down the stairs with her.

Aimee breathed a sigh of relief. Fortunately, Patrick didn't really want to carry her down the stairs. Otherwise, she would really lose her face.

Chapter 332 Simply too annoying for him

When Aimee and Patrick came down from upstairs, it happened that Matilda and the others arrived.

Seeing only Matilda and Kelvin, Aimee asked suspiciously, "Where is Ash?"

"Going to pick your sister up," Matilda said.

As Matilda said it, she watched Aimee, wanting to see how she would react after knowing that Ash and Mikayla were so close.

However, Aimee's reaction only told Matilda one thing.

That was, she thought too much.

Aimee didn't think much of it at all.

She even complimented Ash, "He's so considerate."

Matilda's mouth twitched. Why could she feel that Aimee hoped Ash did this from her tone?

It was just unbelievable.

Matilda still hadn't figured out what was going on with Ash and Mikayla, so it was not good for her to talk too much because of her guess.

In particular, Matilda soon discovered another incredible thing.

That was ...

Kelvin and Casey started flirting?

She hadn't noticed it before, but now that she sat down on a sofa, she caught a fiery gaze inadvertently.

Matilda suddenly couldn't understand them.

Why did she feel that the world had undergone earth-shaking changes just because she went into the crew to shoot a teleplay?

Forget about Ash and Mikayla, for Aimee entrusted Ash to take care of Mikayla at least.

But who could tell her what happened to Kelvin and Casey?

Matilda's eyes flicked back and forth between their faces.

She was horrified to find that Kelvin's eyes were full of tenderness.

Although this man had always had such an expression on weekdays to everyone, Matilda can fully understand that Kelvin's tenderness towards Casey was completely different from towards others.

Matilda suddenly found it troublesome.

She suddenly wanted to go back to the set.

She felt that she could not keep up with the development.

However, just as she was thinking, Matilda saw two men walking in from outside.

One was Miles, her boss, whom she was too familiar with.

The other one was Walter. Although she hadn't seen him in person, she had seen the photos.

Unexpectedly, he came back.

Seeing Matilda, Miles said, "It just so happens that I'm going to look for you tomorrow. Since you're here now, come with me to the study."

Matilda stood up.

After all, he was her boss, so she still had to treat him with respect.

Walter chuckled, put his hand on Miles' shoulder, and said, "What are you doing? Why do you bring your work home?"

Miles' eyes turned cold instantly. He glared at Walter, and said, "As long as you are reliable, I don't need to bring my work back.”

When he said this, he was gnashing his teeth, as if he would have bitten Walter to death if he wasn't his brother.

Walter immediately protested, and said dissatisfiedly, “Miles, can you be reasonable? Am I the only one who is unreliable? Then Patrick is also unreliable. Why don't you scold him?”

Coincidentally, Patrick and Aimee came over. Hearing what Walter said, Patrick said directly, “It is understandable for me to be unreliable. Before my accident, wasn't I managing the group? Is it intolerable that I'm unreliable after the accident?”

Walter choked. There was really no way to refute this.

At that time, as long as Patrick can live well, it will be fine.

Who would let him manage the company?

However, now that he was healed, he still asked others to work but did nothing.

This was different.

This proved that Patrick was also unreliable.

What Walter thought was showed on his face, causing Patrick to sneer at him.

He said, “Walter, although I'm cured now, I have to take care of my wife. My wife's pregnant Can I bear to be busy with work and ignore my wife?”

Aimee was speechless that Patrick just used her as a shield.

However, her biggest role now was probably this.

Walter wanted to say that Aimee herself was actively working, and Patrick simply relied on Aimee's pregnancy and didn't want to be responsible for the company.

Patrick knew what he was thinking, and was not unhappy. Instead, he said proudly, “Walter, if you are jealous of me, I think you can marry too. In this way, you can also be unreliable.”

As soon as he said this, Walter's eyes lit up, and glowed with approval.

But Miles' complexion froze.

On the one hand, the bastard Patrick advised him to trick Walter back, and on the other hand, he advised Walter on how to deal with him.

Patrick was just double-dealing.

However, Miles really could do nothing to Patrick because of Aimee, a pregnant woman.

He could only keep that in mind.

He didn't believe that after Aimee gave birth, Patrick could find any shameless excuses.

Miles at the moment obviously didn't know how shameless Patrick was on the matter of not wanting to manage the family business.

If it weren't for the fact that even Aimee couldn't stand it, and let him be more reliable, Patrick would really be shameless to the end.

At this moment, Miles was really unable to pay attention to Patrick and Walter.

Anyway, since childhood, he always lost to the two of them.

What can he do?

He can just avoid it.

Miles said to Matilda, “Come with me to the study.”

He didn't want to stay here any longer.

Matilda obediently followed Miles, but she was about to laugh out loud in her heart.

She never knew that Miles would be bullied like this.

He looked so pitiful.

So, even though Matilda really wanted to laugh out loud, she still showed Miles her respect and didn't really laugh.

Seeing her holding back her laughter, Miles had a terrible headache.

They all embarrassed him.

It just annoyed him too much.

Chapter 333 The artist who won't let the boss down

After Miles and Matilda entered the study, Matilda finally couldn't hold back and laughed out loud. She laughed and said to Miles apologetically, "I'm sorry, Mr. Hayden. I really didn't mean it, but I really couldn't help it."

Miles held his forehead and said, "Okay, I'll give you five minutes to laugh as you please."

When Matilda heard this, she couldn't stop laughing even more.

She held her waist and said, "No, no, it won't take that long, really."

However, today she really couldn't stop laughing because she thought that was too funny.

Matilda couldn't tell what she was laughing at.

She also felt that the reason she laughed was weird, but she just couldn't control herself.

Miles felt it creepy when Matilda laughed.

Finally, Matilda stopped laughing, but the corners of her eyes were full of tears.

Matilda raised her hand to wipe the tears, and said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Hayden. Don't worry. I won't say anything."

Miles said, "You are an actress. How can you be like this?"

Matilda heard his words that he deliberately found fault with her.

She said, "Okay, okay, I was wrong. I don't have the self-consciousness of an actress, okay?"

Miles was quite satisfied now, turned serious, and said, "Come on, I'll show you two projects. You can choose one, or, if you want both, I can give you both."

Matilda became interested in an instant, but she still didn't forget to tease, "Mr. Hayden, you should have told me earlier, so I wouldn't lose my composure."

Miles was dumbfounded. Was it still his fault?

He won't argue with Matilda about this, but had already clicked on the file shared on the computer.

There were two plays adapted from famous novels and all S-level. It can be said that they were the two most important projects of Globalhive in the next two years.

For these two projects, Globalhive fought fiercely for nearly half a year with its competitors, and it was finally finalized today.

Miles immediately thought of Matilda, and it was the most suitable resource for her.

Matilda couldn't help but click her tongue.

She said, "Mr. Hayden, didn't you say before that I should not only choose S-level projects?"

Miles said, "I really don't want you to limit yourself to this kind of project, but I have to admit that in both projects, I think you are the best candidate."

Matilda said, "I am really happy that you appreciate me so much."

Although her words sounded against her will, her eyes looked very sincere.

As a new actress, being able to be so valued by the boss of the company was such a fortunate thing.

Although Matilda did not become famous by being an actress, she just wanted to experience more.

However, if there was such an opportunity, who would miss it?

Matilda said, "But if you give me both of these two projects, you'll get the blame."

Originally, she showed up in Globalhive unexpectedly, and then replaced Jaylah suddenly, so she was already criticized by that.

However, due to Miles' appointment and escorting her all the way, plus her own strength, her professional ability can match the resources she had, so that people who were bad-mouthing her can shut up.

Now, she was taking the two projects so seamlessly that even one of them can spark outrage.

Besides, Miles wanted to give her both.

This was simply to make other actresses in the company rise up and attack at her.

Matilda said, "Should I be kind and think about it for you?"

When Miles heard Matilda's words, he understood what she meant.

She liked both projects and was having a hard time choosing one.

Miles said, "I said that if you want both, just say it."

Matilda didn't want to be a greedy person in the entertainment industry, but there was no way that she was born with that kind of person, and she had to be the best.

So, the opportunity was right in front of her now, if she didn't take it, she will be sorry for herself.

Matilda said, "Since you're so gracious, it would be too embarrassing for me to refuse."

Miles laughed softly, always feeling that what Matilda said was inexplicably humorous.

He said, "Since you have already decided, I will give you both of these."

Matilda nodded and said, "Thank you, Mr. Hayden."

Miles said, "Don't be in a hurry to thank me. I have a request. I'm the owner of the company after all, so for the resources I give, you have to achieve something from them. I want them to be famous and become hits."

Matilda took a deep breath and said, "You seem like a capitalist."

Frankly speaking, Matilda knew that it was because Miles pampered her so much that she felt this way.

However, Miles really did make her think he was not like a greedy capitalist.

He will not be like the other bosses of other entertainment companies, who only thought about how to make money, without even ethics.

At least, on this point, Matilda still admired Miles very much.

However, at this moment, after hearing Miles' request, Matilda finally felt that he was a very exploiting boss.

However, Matilda wasn't fearful of Miles' request at all.

She raised her chin and said very confidently, "I believe I will not disappoint you."

Miles raised the corners of his mouth, looked at Matilda's eyes, and also showed a lot of admiration.

He believed that Matilda can become the top actress.

In addition to her outstanding appearance, her ability was also impeccable.

As the feedback from her performance in Alby's Memoir was concerned, the ability Matilda had shown was far more perfect than the experienced actors who had been in this industry for more than ten years.

However, Matilda's ambition was the key to her success as the top actress.

With such an ambition, it was possible to do anything.

Miles firmly believed in this.

After the two reached a consensus, they came out of the study.

Coincidentally, dinner was about to start, and everyone was heading to the dining room.

Chapter 334 Miles doesn't dare to do anything to me

Casey approached Miles and asked curiously, "Miles, what did you and this lady do?"

Her gaze kept sizing up Matilda's face, and it could be seen that she was full of curiosity.

This was the first meeting between Casey and Matilda. She only heard that a newcomer was signed by Miles with a lot of money. And she happened to be Aimee's best friend. When they met today, she was so beautiful that Casey couldn't take her eyes off.

Casey always thought that Aimee was the most beautiful woman among them.

Now seeing Matilda, she completely appreciated another kind of extreme beauty.

She was a woman too. Matilda can be so beautiful, but she was just so ordinary.

Casey was a little depressed at herself.

However, it didn't prevent Casey from liking her at all.

So, she was even more curious why did Miles take this beautiful lady to the study?

Miles pushed Casey's head away, and said, "Kid, why do you care so much?"

Casey's head was pushed away, so she tilted her head, looked at Miles, and said, "Miles, why are you doing this? You can't bully me just because you got angry with Walter and Patrick. I'm your cutest sister!"

Miles said disgustedly, "I don't have any sense of accomplishment just because I bully you."

Casey said angrily, "Miles, you are getting more and more outrageous now. Do you know how sad I am when you say that? Am I no longer the dearest sister in your heart? Why are you doing this to me?"

Miles really wanted to teach his sister a lesson because she just liked to do these things that could piss people off.

He didn't want to talk to Casey any more, so he quickened his pace.

Casey watched Miles go away with a smile, then, she approached Matilda familiarly, and said, "Hello, can you tell me what did you and Miles say in the study?"

Matilda said, "About work. He was arranging tasks for me."

When Casey heard this, she felt sorry for Matilda.

"Miles is too cruel. How can he do this to a girl? You just come here to have a dinner. How can he arrange work? Can you tell me is Miles really hateful?" Casey said.

Matilda looked at Casey and thought it funny. Instead of following her words, she asked curiously, "How does he provoke you? Why do you target him like this?"

Casey tilted her head and said, "Do I? I don't target him. I was just discussing the facts."

Matilda said, "However, I think it is a very happy thing that Miles can arrange work for me under such a circumstance."

"Why?" Casey asked curiously.

Although she hadn't started working yet, for Casey, if someone took her rest time to arrange work for her, she will definitely get angry.

Now, hearing Matilda say that, Casey was really dumbfounded.

She really didn't understand. Could it be that there were people in this world who loved to work?

Matilda said, "The acting industry is different from other. Your brother helps me a lot. No matter how much non-working time is taken up, I will be very happy."

Casey sighed.

Sure enough, as the old saying went, money makes the mare go.

She said, "Although, as Miles' younger sister, I should be on his side, I still want to remind you that Miles is extremely ruthless and greedy, so you have to be careful."

Matilda's eyes fell on Casey's face when she heard that.

Although the little girl spoke so seriously, her expression was very playful.

In fact, Matilda thought that Casey's words should be taken as a joke.

Still, she couldn't help but think that Casey might be referring to something else.

Of course, this had nothing to do with Casey directly.

If there must be any direct relation, it can only be that Miles was Casey's brother, and Casey always knew him better than she did.

However, the ruthless feeling that Miles brought to Matilda was due to other aspects.

So, Matilda didn't know if Casey really knew something, or if it was just nonsense.

Matilda cleared her throat lightly, and said, "You've told me so much. Aren't you afraid that I'll complain to Miles?"

Casey's attention was diverted by Matilda's words.

She frowned and thought for a while, then said, "According to reason, I should be afraid. But, you are Aimee's friend, so that means, Aimee will definitely turn to you. That is to say, with Aimee helping me, Miles would not dare to do anything to me."

Matilda almost laughed at Casey's words.

She said suspiciously, "I hear what you mean. Miles is very afraid of Aimee?"

Casey shook her head and said, "It's so strange to say that. I can only say that Aimee is so powerful that it's impossible for Miles not to treat Aimee with respect."

"Besides," Casey paused, and then said with some disgust, "Patrick protects Aimee so much. If Miles dares to make Aimee unhappy, Patrick will definitely fix Miles."

As she said this, Casey leaned close to Matilda's ear and whispered, "Let me tell you secretly. The most powerful person in our family is actually Patrick, neither Walter nor Miles can win him."

Matilda laughed and said, "You told me all about your family, so won't you worry about if I will do bad things?"

How could this little girl be so interesting?

Casey said very firmly, "You won't. you and Aimee have such a good relationship. If there is anyone in this world who won't hurt Aimee, besides Patrick, I think you are the second place."

Chapter 335 Rake up the past

Matilda was inexplicably moved by Casey's words.

As Casey said, the most important person in her life was Aimee.

It can be said that she can give everything for Aimee.

So, Matilda would be the first to kill anyone who would hurt Aimee.

And she herself, although she usually went to her to earn a huge sum of money from time to time, it was all because Aimee herself didn't care about it at all.

She pampered her completely.

If something bad for Aimee really happened, Matilda would really be the first to rush out and do her best.

Now, hearing Casey say that, Matilda's heart was inevitably moved.

"I think you're quite right," she said.

Casey said, "So, can I ride your coattails so I'll be firmly under Aimee's shelter?"

Matilda finally couldn't hold back and laughed out loud.

It turned out that this little girl had such a wishful thinking.

She was a little dumbfounded, but she really felt that she was cute.

Matilda said, "Don't worry. Aimee is very caring for you now."

Casey laughed and was smug.

She said arrogantly, "I know I am such a perfect and cute girl. Aimee will definitely like me so much."

Matilda didn't know what was in Casey's head. How could she be so funny?

As the two walked into the dining room, they heard Walter say, "Casey, what are you messing up again? You're dawdling."

Casey stuck out her tongue, not paying attention to Walter's words at all.

She was extremely happy now.

Anyway, Casey recognized the fact early on, that was, in the Hayden family, Aimee was the top of the food chain. Even Camdyn listened to Aimee.

Moreover, in order to achieve some goals, grandpa will please Aimee very much.

So, with Aimee's protection, Casey was afraid of nothing at all.

When all the members arrived, the dinner was finally served.

Camdyn sat in the main seat. Looking at the fresh faces, he was really very happy in his heart.

He asked Riley to take a bottle of wine, and was ready to have a drink with these juniors.

Naturally, no one would refuse Camdyn. Everyone ate and drank to their content.

The wine was brewed by Fowler family, and several bottles were sent to each family every year. The taste was much more mellow than the wine bought outside.

No matter how much good wine people had drunk, they couldn't help but be overwhelmed by this wine.

However, at the dining table, there were two people who were a little unhappy.

One was Mikayla.

She was sitting next to Ash.

She had long smelled the smell of wine and wanted to taste the wine.

However, the wine glass in front of her was taken away by Ash.

Mikayla was so depressed. She glared at Ash resentfully, but in return he said, "Little kid, don't drink."

Mikayla really wanted to argue with him, but the current situation didn't allow her to lose her temper.

She could only suppress this resentment in her heart, and eat the food.

Ash even purposely picked up a crab for her so that she could eat it slowly.

Mikayla was certain that it was impossible for Ash to have a girlfriend in his life.

And the other depressed one was naturally Aimee.

She was not an alcoholic. Even, most of the time, she did not drink. And her self-control in the matter of drinking can be said to be very strong.

However, she was now forced not to drink due to physical reason, which made her very depressed.

The difference between active and passive had a great impact on her mood.

Aimee ate the dishes Patrick kept serving for her, and smelled the fragrance of wine. It was the first time that she wanted to have the wine so badly.

She even wondered if she became so rebellious because she was pregnant.

The more she can't do anything, the more she wanted to do something.

Obviously, in this period, her body was really very sensitive, but she had developed a strong interest in those foods that she cannot eat.

Not being able to drink was one reason, and not being able to eat crabs also made Aimee very depressed.

Her eyes fell on Mikayla. Watching her angrily biting a crab's leg, she was envious.

Anyway, Mikayla had crabs to eat.

And she had nothing.

Aimee didn't even think she wanted to have a child if she can.

It was just the beginning, and she'd already lost her temper.

Patrick noticed Aimee's emotion, held her hand, and said, "Whatever compensation you want, I will promise you."

Patrick whispered this in Aimee's ear.

He still listened to Aimee's words, and in front of so many people, he still didn't want to go too far.

However, this didn't make Aimee so happy.

Biting the fork, she said in a muffled voice, "I want to drink."

Patrick said, "I will give you a drink later, okay?"

Aimee turned her head to look at Patrick, full of doubts about his words.

Patrick had been nervous since she was pregnant, so it was impossible for him to agree to let her drink.

Aimee already knew very well that Patrick said this on purpose, just to appease her.

However, she still believed in Patrick's nonsense.

Aimee moved closer to Patrick's ear and said, "Darling, if you dare lie to me, you should know that the consequences will be very serious."

Patrick said, "When did I lie to you?"

Aimee looked up and thought for a while, and said, "That's a lot. I remember it all. Do you want me to rake up the past for you?"

Miles coughed lightly in an instant, and thought about it carefully. It should not be as exaggerated as Aimee said.

So, Patrick said, "If I lie to you this time, you can punish me at will."

Chapter 336 Let a dog act like him

Aimee was dubious about Patrick's words.

However, she was finally coaxed by Patrick, and her mood became extraordinarily good.

During the dinner, everyone enjoyed themselves, especially Camdyn, who was the happiest. He had a feeling that he had many children and grandchildren, which made him feel as if he was decades younger.

After the meal, because everyone drank, Camdyn made a decision that everyone would stay in Hayden's Mansion tonight.

As soon as this decision was made, the happiest person was naturally Casey.

She hadn't seen Kelvin for a long time, but now that she did, she didn't dare to be too clingy. On the one hand, she didn't dare to reveal her feelings for Kelvin in front of her family, and on the other hand, she really didn't dare to let Kelvin know she really liked him.

She couldn't help but look at Kelvin, and looked at each other several times.

However, Casey still firmly believed that she was hiding well and had not been discovered at all.

Therefore, Casey was very distressed at first. After seeing Kelvin this time, she didn't know when and where she was able to see him again.

Now that Kelvin was staying at Hayden's Mansion, Casey was all but cheering.

The thought of seeing him tomorrow made her mood so wonderful.

Even when Riley took someone to tidy up the guest room, Casey couldn't help decorating it with enthusiasm. Especially Kelvin's room, she almost tidied it up herself.

Fortunately, she still held back and didn't really do that.

However, in the end, Casey didn't hold back, and furnished Kelvin's room with everything she liked. Kelvin was vaguely aware of this when he returned to the room. Although he didn't spend much time with Casey, when he was in the hospital and took care of her, he found out easily that Casey's preferences were actually very simple. Now, seeing the room, the corners of Kelvin's mouth curled up unconsciously. The little girl's mind was actually the hardest thing to hide. Casey really put in a lot of effort to hide her feelings, but she still let him feel it very bluntly. Kelvin originally wanted to have a talk with Casey after he came back, about their relationship with each other, and how the relationship should develop. He was not a person who acted impulsively. He did not act out of emotion for many things, which made him look very responsible. Therefore, if it was to make further progress with Casey, what Kelvin wanted was not just a temporary happiness, but a permanent companionship. However, Casey was still young, and had not experienced many things yet. For such a girl, Kelvin had no confidence, which was rare. He wasn't sure if she was acting on a whim. However, Kelvin will not miss his feelings because of this. He will want this girl, and he will definitely get her. However, looking at Casey's state now, Kelvin suddenly didn't want to take the initiative, but wanted to see when Casey would lose her composure and come to him to confess her feelings. Seeing the girl silently doing these for him, honestly, Kelvin really enjoyed it. Curving his lips, Kelvin decided to go to the yard to calm himself down. Otherwise, he might really want to hug her, and kiss her. However, without establishing a relationship, it was not a gentleman who can do so. Kelvin couldn't do such a thing. After coming out of the room, Kelvin heard a crisp sound as soon as he entered the yard. It was Casey's. Casey was lying in front of Flabby's den, holding a jerky, and teasing Flabby, "Little fat dog, look at how fat you are. You will have no girlfriend if you keep eating too much, you know? But, I'm not qualified to say that. I don't have a partner too. Isn't it too miserable for us? Tell me, how can I have a boyfriend?" Kelvin was leaning against a wall, with arms folded. Looking at Casey, he almost laughed out loud. She actually came to discuss this matter with a dog. Didn't she know that if she wanted to have a partner, it was best to come and talk to him? However, what Casey said next made Kelvin's face darken. Casey said, "Little fat dog, do you think I can woo him?" Kelvin was about to say something when he heard Casey continue to say, "Why don't you come and practice with me? You play him and let me feel what it's like to confess." Kelvin licked his tongue lightly, really going to be pissed off. This girl, who liked him, actually let a dog play him. Was this going too far? Instead, he didn't move, just wanted to see how Casey was going to confess her love to a dog. Casey really got serious, sat upright, hugged Flabby, cleared her throat deliberately and said, "Flabby, you have to remember. Starting from now, I'm going to call you Kelvin, you know?" Flabby was originally only interested in the jerky in Casey's hand, and didn't really listen to what Casey said.

Now, when he heard that Casey wanted to call him Kelvin, he actually barked twice, as if agreeing to Casey's words.

Kelvin's face didn't look good.

Seeing Flabby's response, Casey became more interested and became more serious.

"Then, I'm officially starting." Casey cleared her throat again and took a deep breath.

However, before she even started to say anything, she was already tense. Her face was flushed, and her breathing seemed to be not very smooth.

Casey opened her mouth, but didn't say a word for a long time.

"Kelvin, Kelvin."

Casey stumbled and finally said the word "Kelvin".

Realizing how nervous she was, Casey was almost mad at herself.

She groaned and hugged Flabby's head.

"Whoo! Flabby, I can't speak to you. I'm gonna be embarrassed in front of Kelvin!"

Chapter 337 I love you so much

Casey held Flabby's fat face, as if she wanted to use this way to vent her faltering behavior just now.

Flabby looked hopeless, and was almost bored by Casey.

He was just a dog. What did he do wrong?

Why did she do this to him?

Flabby wailed and didn't feel good.

Casey said bitterly, "Little fat dog, I'm really miserable. I'm so pitiful. Why is it so difficult to like someone?"

She had never liked any boy before, and the boys she came into contact with were either her brothers or classmates.

She lived with her brothers since she was a child, which made her more certain that she should not make too much trouble with her brothers. Otherwise, the only person who will be scolded will always be herself.

However, because her brothers were so excellent, when looking at her classmates of the same age, Casey will only think of them as very naive kids.

They were not very capable, but had strong personalities. They all looked like they were the center of this world, which was ridiculous as hell.

Although she had no problems with these boys, it was basically impossible for her to become interested in them.

It was even more impossible to fall in love with them.

Even if someone pursued Casey for her pretty appearance, it would only make her feel really troublesome.

She even really wanted to use one of the most commonly used rejection words in TV dramas to ask them, "What do you like about me? I can change."

However, Casey didn't know that when she fell in love with a man, it would be like this.

She never knew she would be so cowardly.

Casey hugged Flabby, feeling extremely sad.

"What should I do, Flabby? Am I unable to woo Kelvin? Am I going to be single forever? Why am I so miserable ..."

After crying for a long time, Casey suddenly seemed to think of something, and suddenly sat upright, with lights in his eyes.

She said, "I can go to Aimee for help. Kelvin listens to Aimee's orders. I can go to Aimee for help and let her order him to be with me. He will definitely agree."

The more she talked, the more Casey felt that this was a really great way.

She thought she was really clever.

Casey stood up straight away, and said firmly, "Just do it!"

However, when Casey turned around, she froze.

She looked at Kelvin who was standing in front of her with folded arms for an unknown how long. The corners of his mouth were slightly raised, and his eyes were full of interest. Casey was startled.

Casey didn't even know how to describe her mood.

She didn't even need to ask but already knew that even if Kelvin didn't see the whole, he probably saw half of it.

Casey didn't know that Kelvin really saw the whole process.

After the huge shock, she was about to run away.

If she didn't run away, was she waiting to be caught by Kelvin?

However, just as she turned around to run, Kelvin grabbed her by the collar and dragged her to him.

Kelvin didn't push her into his arms, but just looked down at her with interest, saying, "Casey, do you think Aimee's order is so intimidating?"

She actually thought that he can obey Aimee's orders in matters of feelings. Kelvin really didn't know how she came to this conclusion.

But any normal people would not think so.

Casey raised her hand and slapped herself on the mouth, saying, "I didn't. I wasn't. You heard me wrong. I didn't think so."

She was really going to cry.

Why did he make it difficult for her?

She just said that, but she couldn't really do it.

Although she really wanted to do that, she wasn't an idiot. With Patrick around, if she went to Aimee to ask her a favor, it meant that Patrick would beat her up.

She was not an idiot.

Hearing Casey's denial, Kelvin could guess what she was thinking.

He also didn't really believe that Casey dared to go to Aimee.

However, Kelvin was still dumbfounded.

He really felt that he might be too old to keep up with the thinking of young people.

He said, "Actually, you don't need to go to Aimee for this kind of thing."

Casey looked at Kelvin suspiciously, and asked, a little puzzled, "What do you mean by that?"

Kelvin said, "If you want to say something to me, why not tell me directly?"

Casey bit her lower lip, and immediately froze in an instant.

She bowed her head, not daring to look at Kelvin.

However, Casey was a smart girl after all, knowing that the situation had become very clear now.

Kelvin had heard her nonsense. He was still able to talk to her normally, and was still guiding her to express her true thoughts.

This showed that he was not indifferent to her.

Casey was secretly delighted in her heart.

However, she was still very cowardly.

Even though Kelvin gave her such a chance, Casey still dared not say anything.

Kelvin was not in a hurry. He just looked down at Casey, and his eyes were unprecedentedly gentle.

Why was he waiting to see how the girl was going to hook him up? If he really wanted to wait like this, he didn't know how long would he need to wait.

When Casey made petty moves secretly, she was very courageous.

As a result, when it was really gonna happen, she became like this.

Kelvin can be sure that if he really waited for Casey to take the initiative to confess, he may have to wait forever.

With that in mind, Kelvin took Casey's hand directly.

His strength was a little great, and it hurt to hold Casey's hand.

However, the warm from the skin made Casey very fond of it.

Kelvin's palm was very dry and very hot, wrapping Casey's hand, which made her feel particularly safe.

Her eyes fell on the back of Kelvin's hand, and her fingers unconsciously scratched the inside of Kelvin's palm.

Casey became courageous, raised her face and looked at Kelvin. Her eyes were extremely firm.

She said, "Kelvin, I like you. I like you so much."

Chapter 338 No excitement at all

Kelvin's body froze, and his gaze fell into Casey's eyes, watching her eyes be as bright as stars, reflecting his appearance.

At this moment, Kelvin's heart seemed to be hit hard by something.

He never knew how pleasant it would be when a girl had all eyes on him.

Especially, he already liked Casey unknowingly.

As Casey finished speaking, she suddenly seemed to relax.

However, what followed was an unprecedented sense of panic.

She didn't know whether Kelvin liked her or not, and everything was just her guess.

What a shame it would be if she really got the wrong idea.

In particular, Kelvin's expression at the moment can't be considered good.

Even, it can make her feel that he was unhappy.

Casey had relaxed just now but became nervous again in an instant.

She looked at Kelvin and felt that this moment was really exhausting.

Whether he liked her or not, he always had to explain it to her clearly.

Even if he would reject her, she wanted to hear it clearly.

After being confessed by such a lovely girl, Kelvin was like this that she almost collapsed.

Just when Casey was about to ask Kelvin about his answer, she felt there was a shadow overwhelming her.

In the next second, she felt a soft warmth on her lips.

Casey's eyes widened in astonishment, but she completely forgot how to react.

But at the moment when she was dazed, Kelvin made the next move.

Originally, Kelvin just wanted to kiss Casey, and from then on, she was his girl.

However, Kelvin underestimated Casey's attraction to him.

A simple touch made him unable to be satisfied at all.

Therefore, Kelvin didn't care about scaring Casey, but directly showed his wild side that he seldom did.

He directly took Casey's waist and held her in his arms.

Casey was completely taken aback by Kelvin's movements.

Her eyes were wide open, and she didn't understand how she had developed to this point.

She was even in a daze at all, and she didn't feel what it was like to be kissed by Kelvin at all.

Finally, when Casey's face was flushed and she was almost suffocated because she forgot to breathe,

Kelvin finally and kindly let her go.

Kelvin's forehead was against Casey's, and there was an unsatisfied glint in his eyes.

He raised his hand to gently hold Casey's face. His voice was low and hoarse, "Casey, after being kissed by me, you can only be mine in the future. And be with me from now on, okay?"

Casey didn't come back to her senses for a long while.

Kelvin didn't force her but just gently rubbed his forehead against hers.

Finally, Casey regained her composure, looked at Kelvin with innocent look, and asked, "Kelvin, what did you just say?"

"Say you're mine."

Casey's mouth opened wide, and she was happy.

She put her arms around Kelvin's neck, nodded vigorously, and said, "Well, I belong to you."

Kelvin thought she was so cute, pinched her face gently, and asked in a deep voice, "Do you still want to kiss?"

Casey let out an "ah" and before she could answer, Kelvin said again, "I want to kiss you."

After saying that, Kelvin's lips had already covered Casey's.

This time, Kelvin was more gentle than before.

If someone could see them, they would find that even though Kelvin was gentle, this kiss was extremely domineering and powerful.

Casey hadn't experienced this before. She fell into Kelvin's arms without even a reaction.

It seemed that couples who had just established a relationship were always keen to get close to each other.

The two kissed in front of Flabby's kennel for more than an hour before came to an end.

After all, they were in the Hayden's Mansion.

After Casey assumed the role of Kelvin's girlfriend, she suddenly stopped being cowardly.

She touched Kelvin's waist and said, "You are very courageous. Dare to kiss me like this. My friend, you are very good. You are excellent."

Kelvin was helpless that she became so naughty after "taking office".

Raising his hand and caressing Casey's head, Kelvin said, "I can be bolder. Do you want to try it?"

Casey asked suspiciously, "Then tell me, how bold can you be?"

She didn't believe that, in her own home, she could be frightened by Kelvin.

However, it turned out that she can.

Kelvin said, "Why don't I wake everyone up now and announce our relationship? By the way, I will bring up proposal of marriage. It just so happens that your two brothers are at home. Maybe it's the best time. And the marriage can be decided today."

Casey sensed Kelvin's seriousness, but was really scared.

She really wanted to apologize to Kelvin for her ignorance.

She didn't even know how Kelvin, who looked gentle, could say such wild words.

Casey swallowed, hugged Kelvin's waist quickly, and said, "No, no, you can't do this. I want to have an underground relationship with you. If it's out so early, it's not exciting at all."

According to Casey's plan, she and Kelvin will have a secret relationship and fall in love under everyone's noses. At that time, when the two of them make it public, they will surely surprise many people.

Just thinking about it, Casey felt she was exciting.

However, Kelvin still wanted to disclose their relationship now. Although it was also very exciting, Casey still thought that doing so was too scary, and she can't bear it.

Just thinking about the scene she might face after doing this, she shuddered a little.

She didn't want something horrible to happen on the first day of her relationship with him.

So, Casey hugged Kelvin's waist and said seriously, "Don't be impulsive. We'll proceed step by step."

Chapter 339 Wouldn't this be more exciting

Kelvin originally wanted to tease Casey, but now that she was clearly cowardly, he couldn't help but feel it extremely cute.

He said, "Casey, if you want it be exciting, I can make it more exciting."

When Casey heard this, she became even happier in an instant.

She hugged Kelvin's neck and said, "Kelvin, you are so kind to me."

When she was in love, her voice was soft and delicate, with a touch of cuteness all over her body.

Facing such a cute and lovely girlfriend, Kelvin really just wanted to hold her in his arms. Thinking about nothing, and doing nothing, he just wanted to hold her like this. That was enough.

Casey was obediently held in Kelvin's arms, and suddenly, as if thinking of something, she raised her head from Kelvin's arms.

She looked at Kelvin, smiled wickedly, and said, "Kelvin, don't you like me very much?"

Kelvin looked down at Casey, with a look of helplessness in his eyes.

For such an obvious question, there was really no need for Casey to ask it again.

Kelvin said, "Are you so happy to know that I like you so much?"

"Of course," Casey said with a grin, "but Kelvin, don't feel bad. I like you too. We're all the same."

Casey had never been in a relationship. For her, feelings meant giving wholeheartedly and giving the other the warmest emotions.

Therefore, she will not reserve to show her feelings.

In this way, Casey naturally hoped that Kelvin can do the same, telling her frankly how much he liked her.

Casey said with a smile, "Just tell me the truth. Have you been plotting against me for a long time? We have just been together, and you want to marry me. Kelvin, when did you like me?"

Kelvin suddenly felt that having a girlfriend who was thinking outside the box was also quite a headache.

As for Casey, who can always think of other things, he can already imagine how wonderful his future life will be.

Bowing his head and kissing Casey's lips, Kelvin said, "If you don't want your family to find out, we should go back to the room now."

Casey nodded and said, "Then let's go up separately."

She really wanted to hold hands with Kelvin and go back to the room. Even, she wanted to go back to the same room with him.

However, Casey still decided to behave properly and not to do risky things.

Casey went back first, and Kelvin looked at her back with tenderness in his eyes.

When Casey's figure disappeared on the stairs, Kelvin looked away.

As soon as he turned around, he met a pair of dog eyes full of resentment.

Kelvin leaned down, touched Flabby's head and said, "You're quite obedient, and you're not noisy. Not bad. I'll buy you jerky later."

Flabby smelled Kelvin who had Casey's smell on his body, and naturally took him as one of his friends. And he behaved well in front of Kelvin.

Otherwise, if Flabby barked, it would be impossible for Kelvin and Casey to have a secret relationship.

As Casey got back to the room, she couldn't help jumping up and down on the bed.

She really wanted to scream, but, for her secret, Casey could only cover her mouth to keep her voice from being heard.

However, what she didn't know was that, in fact, someone had already seen clearly the kiss between her and Kelvin in the dark.

Kelvin stroked the dog's head for a while, and was ready to go back to the room to rest.

However, when he was about to walk inside, he saw a tall figure appearing at the corner of the stairs.

There was nothing unusual about Walter's face, but after Kelvin walked in, he came down from upstairs and said, "Go for a drink."

Kelvin had a different status at the moment, so naturally he will not refuse his future brother-in-law's invitation.

He nodded and said, "Let's go."

Walter took Kelvin into a wine cellar and said, "See which one you want to drink."

This wine cellar was also built by Walter before.

Originally, the wines of the Hayden family were stored in a room and displayed one by one. However, such a temperature was not suitable for some wines, so Walter built a wine cellar by himself.

This was also one of the reasons why he missed home the most after he went abroad.

Kelvin could tell at a glance that some of these wines in the wine cellar were very rare, and even once caused a sensation all over the world, making several wealthy families frantically want to snatch them. But he didn't expect to see it here.

Although Walter asked Kelvin to choose, he brought a bottle of wine over by himself and asked, "How about this one? I have been abroad for so long, and this is what I miss the most."

Especially, the two unreliable bastard brothers in the family always threatened him with this bottle of wine.

There was only one bottle in the whole world. Before Walter went abroad, he told Patrick and Miles that they could drink any other wine as they wanted, but only this bottle. And they had to drink it together when he came back.

Those two were not wine lovers, and they didn't favor that one.

So, Walter just exposed his weakness to his two brothers.

Every time they wanted to make him do something, they would threaten him with this bottle of wine.

Well now, he was back, so it was impossible for him to keep this weakness.

Kelvin didn't understand these things. Seeing that Walter had already made a choice, he smiled and said, "It's up to you."

Walter raised his brow slightly when he heard this, and looked at Kelvin more playfully.

He said, "Actually, you don't need to have any intentions of pleasing me. I have a very clear attitude towards the relationship between you and Casey. This is a matter between the two of you. As long as you two are happy, it's okay."

Kelvin sighed secretly, and then the corners of his mouth curled up, "I don't know if Casey would cry if she knows that the excitement she wants has been discovered."

Walter said, "Wouldn't that be even more exciting?"

The two men looked at each other, as if they had reached some kind of tacit agreement. Then they smiled at each other.

Kelvin just thought about it, that, in the future, Casey would pretend to be unfamiliar with him in front of Walter.

Chapter 340 Just right for my brother

The two men went directly to the rooftop, where there was a swimming pool, and it was very comfortable with the gentle breeze at night.

Walter was decanting the wine, and suddenly laughed out loud.

He said, "I come back and feel that the world has changed."

When he went abroad, the men in the Hayden family were all single.

Now that he came back, he was the only one left alone.

And Flabby was included.

However, it was said that Flabby will hook up with the neighbor's puppy now, but the other puppy was domineering and didn't like Flabby at all.

Kelvin looked at Walter with some doubts, and asked, "Miles also has a girlfriend?"

He had never heard of that.

Walter said, "Matilda, isn't it?"

Kelvin was a little taken aback, but didn't react for a while.

He carefully recalled the recent changes in Matilda, shook his head, and said, "It hasn't reached that level yet."

Walter just smiled.

It was the first time he had met Matilda and he didn't know what kind of person she was, but he knew Miles very well.

Miles didn't have any special temperament towards women at all. Even for Casey, he didn't have any tenderness at all.

However, when Miles saw Matilda, he was full of tenderness.

Moreover, Miles actually directly gave Matilda the two S-level projects that he negotiated so hard. This alone was enough to prove that at least Miles was interested in her.

However, Matilda's temperament seemed extremely wild, and Miles still had to work hard to win her heart.

*

Aimee had been sticking to Patrick's side ever since she came back to the bedroom.

She always remembered that Patrick was going to give her a drink.

In fact, she didn't really drink and knew the things she should not do.

However, she just wanted to know how Patrick was going to give her the drink.

Patrick felt a little bit like laughing when his wife stared at him like that.

He just kept walking back and forth on purpose, but he just didn't want to get Aimee a drink.

Finally, Aimee was a little tired from following, and directly blocked in front of Patrick. She put his arms around his waist, raised her head, and said, "Darling, you can't lie."

Patrick raised the corners of his mouth and put his hand on Aimee's lower back, bringing her closer to him.

This action made Aimee feel shy for a moment, and the touch from the lower back electrified her.

Aimee glanced at Patrick. This man did it on purpose. Knowing that the two of them can't act too much now, he still teased her like this.

At that time when he was turned on, let's see what he will do.

Patrick said, "I said I won't lie to you. I will feed you a drink."

After saying that, Patrick lowered his head and sucked Aimee's lips.

Aimee frowned and was really dissatisfied with Patrick's behavior.

What was this? Feeding her a drink?

However, in Patrick's mouth, there was really a faint aroma of wine.

Understanding Patrick's intention, Aimee was so angry.

This bad guy actually used this method to coax her.

Did he really think she was a child?

As Patrick let go of Aimee, Aimee licked her mouth.

There was a lingering fragrance in the mouth.

Patrick said, "How is it? I didn't lie to you."

Aimee raised her hand and pinched Patrick's waist, "I finally understand now you're really good at coaxing me."

Patrick laughed lowly. Looking at Aimee's angry face, he felt her even more cute.

He said with a smile, "But I'm actually good at kissing you."

As he said so, Aimee lowered her head again and he kissed Aimee's lips.

Now it was impossible to do more things, so they can only kiss and hug each other.

Aimee raised her hand and pushed Patrick away, muttering dissatisfiedly, "You're gonna be responsible for that."

Patrick listened to her complaint, and was really amused.

He leaned down and whispered in Aimee's ear, "If I'm not responsible, who is responsible?"

Aimee naturally heard the extra meaning in his words, and her face flushed instantly.

Raising her hand and pushing Patrick away, Aimee turned and walked to the bathroom.

Patrick touched his nose, shook his head helplessly, and walked towards the cloakroom.

Aimee didn't even take a set of pajamas in, and would run out blushing after a while.

Choosing the most conservative of Aimee's pajamas, Patrick walked over and knocked on the bathroom door.

Aimee was washing her hair, but she didn't hear it. After the water washed away the foam from her head, she realized that Patrick walked in at some point.

She blinked and turned away, continuing to take her shower, and completely ignoring Patrick.

Patrick chuckled, walked over and stuck to Aimee's back.

Aimee was startled by his sudden approach, and subconsciously moved forward to hide, but almost hit the wall.

Patrick reached out and pulled Aimee back into his arms.

"Be careful. The wall is cold," Patrick said.

Aimee turned from his arms and touched his chest with her fingers, "What are you doing here? Do you want to 'bully' me?"

Patrick held Aimee's hand, put it to his lips and kissed it, saying, "I can't bear it."

"Then why did you still come in? Get out quickly. I haven't finished washing yet." Aimee said.

"I'll help you," Patrick said.

Aimee raised her foot and wanted to kick Patrick, but in the end she couldn't hold him back. She could only let him help wash herself, wrap herself in a towel, and carry her out of the bathroom.

Patrick still blew dry Aimee's hair. And Aimee lay directly on Patrick's lap and yawned.

"Darling, I want to cut my hair short. Every time I wash my hair, you have to blow dry it for a long time. It's so tiring." Aimee said.

Patrick stroked Aimee's hair, and didn't answer right away, but imagined what Aimee would look like with short hair.

In fact, in terms of Aimee's appearance, any hairstyle suited her, and it will only make her style different. However, Patrick preferred Aimee's long hair.

Aimee didn't hear Patrick's voice, and understood what he meant.

She got up from Patrick's lap, straddled his lap, raised her hand to hold Patrick's face, and asked,

"Darling, do you think I look better with long hair?"

Patrick twisted a strand of Aimee's hair and played with it between his fingertips.

He said, "I like whatever you look like."

Aimee tilted her head and said deliberately, "You're probably worried that if I have short hair, I will be too handsome, more handsome than you."

Patrick was amused by her, and followed Aimee's words, "Then do you want me to grow long hair, and try to make you feel I'm beautiful?"

"That's not necessary. The hair I cut can be used to make a wig, which is just right for you." Aimee said.

Patrick was almost pissed at what Aimee said.

He pinched Aimee's face gently and said, "Do you want to cut your hair? I will accompany you tomorrow, okay?"

Aimee nodded, raised her hand to hold Patrick's neck, and kissed him on the cheek.

"Darling, you are so nice." Aimee said.

"Okay, let's go to sleep. You just said you're sleepy." Patrick stood up holding Aimee, turned around and put her gently on the bed, "Good night, my baby."

Aimee was really sleepy. When her head touched the pillow, sleepiness swept over her, and she fell asleep after a while.

Patrick lowered his head and kissed her on the forehead, tucked her in, then turned and left the room.