

Healing 371

Chapter 371 Isn't it good to go out for a walk?

Kelvin was a little dumbfounded that she actually cared about this.

Casey said with a sullen look, "Although we have separate proofs of residency for a long time, mine is with my grandpa. He said that he will give it to me after I graduate from college. Is it possible that he is afraid that I will get married in college?"

The more Casey thought about it, the more this would happen. His brows furrowed nervously. She looked at Kelvin, and said pitifully, "What should I do? Or, I'll go and steal it from my grandpa?"

Kelvin was almost laughed at by Casey's words. How could this girl's way of thinking be so peculiar?

He said, "You want to marry me so much? Casey, have you already decided it's me whom you want to marry?"

Casey hugged Kelvin's waist and said very seriously, "Kelvin, I'm serious. I've never joked. Don't tell me that you just want to play with me."

Just thinking about it made Casey very sad.

Kelvin raised his hand to scratch her nose and said, "Stupid."

That was fine. Casey followed him so wholeheartedly, which also made him want to protect her even more.

Being intimate with Casey for a while, Kelvin said, "Okay, you can go back to sleep later. I'll go out and come back soon, okay?"

Casey nodded obediently and said, "Okay, I'll wait for you."

After Kelvin left, Casey started to feel unreal again.

From the moment she established a relationship with Kelvin until now, she seemed to be in a dream.

Casey jumped up and down in the room, and after going around several times, she got to bed again.

It was still the room where Kelvin slept with her last night, and there seemed to be his smell on the bed, which made her very happy.

Casey hugged the quilt. Actually she couldn't fall asleep, but she just wanted to lie on the bed and not move.

*

The Villa.

Matilda was reading a script, when she heard the voice. She raised her eyes towards the door and saw Kelvin walking in.

She raised her eyebrows and said, "Tsk tsk, Kelvin, I really didn't expect that when you're in love, you are just a beast."

Kelvin didn't care about her teasing at all, but just smiled and said, "This shows that I am a normal man."

Matilda was dumbfounded, and even had some doubts whether the man in front of her was the Kelvin she knew.

Why did she feel it so strange?

Matilda put down the script and asked, "Why? Are you going to live with someone else's young sister?"

She didn't need to ask where they went last night.

Looking at Kelvin's posture when he came back, it was more like he came back to pack his things.

Kelvin said, "There is no way, cos my girlfriend is clinging to me. She is thin-skinned, and doesn't want to stay with you guys."

Matilda really wanted to swear.

It was like she and Ash were some kind of scourge.

Matilda said, "You can take it easy but don't make her pregnant."

Kelvin was always calm before. No matter how much Matilda teased him, he didn't take it seriously.

However, when he heard these words, the tips of his ears turned red unconsciously.

Last night, if he hadn't suppressed the last bit of reason, it was really hard to say whether she would be pregnant.

Kelvin said, "I go up first."

He knew Matilda very well. If she was allowed to talk nonsense like this, she might say something shocking.

"Wait a minute," Matilda called Kelvin, and said, "By the way, are you really planning to move out?"

Kelvin paused, looked at Matilda, and asked, "What?"

"Ash and I are planning to move out. Ash said that in order not to run into the scene last night, it's better for us to have our own house." Matilda said.

Although Matilda agreed with Ash's words, she still blamed Ash.

Kelvin felt a little helpless, and said, "So, you two are envious because you saw that scene last night?"

Matilda was very speechless.

Where did this man get the courage to say such things? He just fell in love, but he didn't even want his dignity.

Matilda almost laughed at Kelvin out of anger.

"So, what are your plans?" she said.

"For the time being, I'll live with her at her place, but I've seen a nice house. I'm going to renovate it,"

Kelvin said.

Matilda was dumbfounded for a moment, "When did you see the house?"

They had been abroad before and had no intention of returning home.

Although it was said that Aimee had always been in the country, their plan had always been that Aimee handled domestic affairs well and also went abroad to join them.

Now, Aimee married Patrick directly, so she definitely won't go abroad.

Their return had become a foregone conclusion.

However, Matilda was used to living in Aimee's house.

Anyway, wherever she went, there was Aimee's house where she can live.

Who would have thought that Kelvin, an unreliable person, would choose a house without saying a word, which made her mad.

Kelvin said, "When I realized that I was tempted, I had already made such a plan."

Matilda felt that Kelvin was really a bastard.

Matilda gave Kelvin a thumbs up and said, "Okay, I really should admire you the most."

Kelvin chuckled and accepted Matilda's compliment without any guilt.

He said, "If you need my advice, you can tell me."

Matilda now only wanted to kill him, and didn't want his advice at all.

She waved her hand and said, "Okay, okay, I know your love is sweet, so don't get in my way. Give Ash some advice later. After you all move away, I will enjoy this place myself."

Kelvin chuckled, and as he walked upstairs, he said, "I think Ash thinks the same way."

Matilda shook her fist at Kelvin's back.

She suddenly regretted it. Why did she read the script in the villa? Wouldn't it be good to go out for a stroll?

She just looked for trouble yourself by staying here.

After Kelvin returned to his bedroom, he simply packed some commonly used things, and left from the villa.

Chapter 372 Eat well and sleep well

Innisrial General Hospital.

April woke up from a coma. The pain in her body made her tears fall down uncontrollably.

Aimee walked in, and this was the first time she formally looked at the girl.

Frankly speaking, if people looked at this girl's appearance this way, she really didn't seem like the type that Walter would like.

Aimee always thought that Walter would like the kind of woman who was mature and exuded a seductive temperament all over her body.

However, April looked too pure.

At a glance, she was a well-protected girl, pure and clear, which made people want to protect her well.

Aimee leaned over and asked, "How do you feel?"

"It hurts..." The long coma made April's voice hoarse.

Coupled with the fact that her tears were falling straight from the pain at the moment, her voice was trembling, which made her sound pitiful.

Aimee said, "Please persevere. The operation will be arranged for you in three days. After the operation, you will be fine."

April looked directly at Aimee and wanted to say something, but she couldn't.

Now, even her breathing hurt like hell.

Aimee was also a little unbearable.

However, the painkiller she developed can be used for Casey's body that was healthy and only suffered trauma, so there was no problem.

April's physical condition was really poor, and painkillers will not have much effect on her. At the same time, it will also cause pressure on her organs, which was not conducive to subsequent treatment.

Therefore, Aimee did not intend to give April painkillers.

She said, "In three days, you need to be stronger. Can you stick to it?"

Aimee's voice was very gentle, and her tone of voice was also very soothing.

April didn't know if it was a psychological effect, but she felt less painful.

She nodded towards Aimee with difficulty, and her voice was dry and hoarse, "Okay."

Aimee smiled and said, "I'll give you some sleep aid injections. Work hard and sleep more, okay?"

April responded with a very strong look.

Aimee walked out of the ICU after injecting her with sleep aid drugs.

Denis greeted her as soon as he saw her.

He had been staying at the hospital for many days. These days, he hardly ate, drank or slept. At this moment, his body seemed to be exhausted, and he can't stop swaying when he walked.

Seeing this, Aimee said, "Mr. Hill, my suggestion is that you should hurry up and rest more. You can't help April with anything in three days. After three days, after the operation is over, it's time for you to start battling. If you don't take a good rest now, you won't have the energy to take care of April after her operation. And the loss will outweigh the gain."

Denis nodded, but said, "Dr. Read, I understand it, but I'm really worried."

April had been in poor health since she was born. Before she was ten years old, a critical illness notice was issued almost every week.

He went around looking for a famous doctor and was able to recover April's body a little.

In the past ten years, although her body was still much worse than others, she was already much better than before.

It was the worst time that April's body had been in the decade.

This made him, a father, worry too much.

Aimee felt a little helpless, but she still patiently said to Denis, "Mr. Hill, I hope you will listen carefully to what I said before. I am not talking nonsense. I promise that I can cure her. So, I hope you can cooperate with me. When I need your help, I don't want that you can't do it."

Denis nodded. At the moment he didn't have any majesty of a superior.

He said, "Dr. Read, I'll listen to you. I'll go back and rest right now."

Aimee smiled with satisfaction and said, "Come back in three days. Eat well and sleep well in these three days."

Denis bowed towards Aimee, expressing his gratitude from the bottom of his heart.

Macro also bowed deeply to Aimee, and said, "Dr. Read, you have a way to let my boss go to rest."

To be honest, as Denis' secretary, he had been working for Denis for ten years, and he will do everything for him.

For the first time, Macro felt that he was about to lose his strength.

After all these days, how Denis endured and that was how he endured with Denis.

Now, Denis can be persuaded by Aimee to go back to rest, and Macro was really grateful to Aimee.

Aimee said, "Okay, don't say polite words. Go back and rest now, and come back at eight in the morning three days later."

After Denis and Macro left, Aimee went directly to operating room No. 7.

At this moment, the operating room had been emptied of all the instruments in accordance with Aimee's request.

However, Aimee was not satisfied with it.

In this operating room, there were still a lot of messy bits and pieces, and the wiring was still laid to serve the original equipment, which was very inapplicable to the new equipment she wanted to bring here.

Aimee found it troublesome, and now she was starting to transform the wiring, and the amount of work was huge.

However, she had no other choice, and she needed to solve this quickly without delay.

Aimee directly made a phone call to Kelvin and said, "Kelvin, can you bring a group of people over? The wiring needs to be re-laid. Hurry up."

After Kelvin hung up the phone, he brought people over without delay.

But what made he really speechless that Aimee actually wanted to do this.

As Aimee was waiting for them to come, she had already quickly drawn the circuit diagram, accurate to the micron, without any deviation.

The movement here was not small, which naturally attracted the attention of a lot of doctors and nurses. Some doctors who were dissatisfied with Aimee's direct use of No. 7 operating room went directly to the president's office and complained sadly about Aimee being overbearing.

"Mr. Miller, operating room No. 7 is already the most sophisticated room in our hospital, but now Dr. Read has made such a move. How will we work in the future?"

"That's right, Mr. Miller. Dr. Read's medical skills are shown in Casey Hayden's surgery. But we don't really know what her medical skills are. How can you indulge her like this? What if she just bragged at all? The hospital will suffer a lot because of her.”

Chapter 373 You have to think about your own safety

The president looked at the doctors who were appealing in front of him, and got a headache.

In fact, he was more disturbed and worried than them.

He was the least sure about Aimee’s ability. Especially, Aimee boasted and told Denis that she could cure April.

The impact this incident will have on him was completely unimaginable.

No one knew if Aimee will succeed.

If she succeeded, then the hospital’s status in the country will rise.

And he, as the president of the Innisrial General Hospital, would have a bright future.

However, once Aimee failed and she spoke wild words, the impact will be that the hospital will be doomed with her.

Both success and failure were caused by Aimee.

In the Innisrial General Hospital, the president was the most disturbed.

However, even if he thought so, it still couldn’t change another fact.

That was, if he wanted Aimee to play a role, everything must follow her requests.

The president said, “I believe there is a reason for her to do this. Don’t say anything more. Three days later, Dr. Read will perform surgery on April Hill. At that time, everyone can take a look at the result.”

When the doctors heard this, although they were still very angry, they also understood that the president had unconditionally chosen to stand on Aimee’s side.

No matter how much they said, it was all nonsense.

Thinking about it this way, even if they couldn’t get angry anymore, they didn’t dare to say anything more.

However, they didn’t let go of their dissatisfaction with Aimee. Instead, they changed into a gesture of watching a show, waiting to see Aimee make a fool of herself.

The hospital’s state-of-the-art No. 7 operating room was destroyed by Aimee, and they wanted to see what tricks Aimee could do.

Aimee had heard these voices of dissatisfaction for a long time.

However, she didn’t care about it at all.

She had only one requirement for herself, that was, to be responsible for April’s operation. She can only succeed.

Of course, Aimee can’t fail at all.

Kelvin spent an afternoon modifying the wiring according to Aimee’s request.

After getting Aimee’s satisfaction, Kelvin said, “Aimee, have you paid too much for this hospital?”

He had already heard that Patrick was going to open a new hospital for Aimee, and all the requirements were done according to Aimee’s requirements.

One can imagine how advanced the new hospital will be after it was completed.

And the instruments that Aimee wanted to move over were the advanced ones.

When Aimee gave it to the Innisrial General Hospital for nothing, Kelvin thought it was unworthy.

Aimee said, “Everything is for April Hill’s body.”

Now, she only wanted to heal April’s body. This was the girl who may become Walter’s wife in the future, so Aimee will naturally pay more attention.

Kelvin didn't know the connection, and couldn't help but sigh, "Aimee, you have become caring. Is it because you are pregnant?"

Aimee glanced at Kelvin and said, "What about you? Is it because of the relationship that you became gossipy?"

What she said made Kelvin shut up directly.

Aimee became interested in an instant, stared at Kelvin closely, and said, "It seems that it is really true. Kelvin, you can do great things in silence. Should I praise you for doing a good job?"

It was rare for Kelvin to feel a little uncomfortable.

When facing Matilda, he will refute her.

However, when facing Aimee, Kelvin really felt that he can't do anything.

Kelvin touched his nose and asked, "Aimee, is it possible that I'm really unreliable?"

"It's okay," Aimee said, "as long as you don't made her pregnant for the time being."

Kelvin laughed. At this point, Aimee and Matilda fit so well.

However, he really wanted to know if he really knocked Casey up, how would Aimee react?

Kelvin said, "Casey is past the legal marriage age."

Aimee inexplicably felt a bad feeling. She squinted her eyes, looked at Kelvin defensively, and said, "You are such a beast."

She suddenly felt that this guy was really dangerous.

Even Aimee was hesitating whether to tell Patrick, lest Patrick couldn't accept it and beat Kelvin up directly.

After all, in Aimee's heart, Kelvin was still a very capable partner.

She didn't want to lose this partner at all.

Kelvin didn't know what Aimee was thinking. If he knew at this moment, he would be so angry that he couldn't speak.

Aimee thought for a while, and said to Kelvin, "Kelvin, as Casey's sister-in-law, I think I need to remind you to buy insurance."

Kelvin didn't know whether to laugh or cry, and changed the subject.

"Actually, I think, maybe you also need to buy insurance." Kelvin said.

Aimee looked at Kelvin suspiciously, ready to hear his reason.

Kelvin chuckled and said, "April Hill's background is so complicated. You have to think about your own safety."

Aimee was almost laughed out loud by Kelvin.

She crossed her arms, looked at Kelvin with dissatisfaction, and said, "So, are you questioning my medical skills?"

Aimee felt that Kelvin wanted to get back on her simply because he was dissatisfied with the suggestion she had just given him.

However, no matter what was wrong, Kelvin actually questioned her medical skills.

Aimee even wanted to open Kelvin's stomach, reorganize his internal organs, and let him feel how amazing her medical skills were.

This bastard deliberately wanted to anger her.

Seeing that Aimee was really annoyed, Kelvin said, "However, you really don't need us to cooperate with you this time?"

Aimee was also thinking about this issue. Naturally, her own team was the most reliable for such a major operation. They can instantly understand her instructions with every look and movement, and cooperate precisely without wasting any time.

However, if she did, it would surely cause a greater commotion at the hospital.

In particular, the president had clearly hinted that he hoped that she will bring a few doctors with her during this operation, so that they can learn from her most intuitively.

Kelvin also understood Aimee's current situation, but still said, "Aimee, at least let me partner with you."

Aimee thought for a moment, then smiled at Kelvin, "You are still reliable."

Chapter 373 You have to think about your own safety

The president looked at the doctors who were appealing in front of him, and got a headache.

In fact, he was more disturbed and worried than them.

He was the least sure about Aimee's ability. Especially, Aimee boasted and told Denis that she could cure April.

The impact this incident will have on him was completely unimaginable.

No one knew if Aimee will succeed.

If she succeeded, then the hospital's status in the country will rise.

And he, as the president of the Innisrial General Hospital, would have a bright future.

However, once Aimee failed and she spoke wild words, the impact will be that the hospital will be doomed with her.

Both success and failure were caused by Aimee.

In the Innisrial General Hospital, the president was the most disturbed.

However, even if he thought so, it still couldn't change another fact.

That was, if he wanted Aimee to play a role, everything must follow her requests.

The president said, "I believe there is a reason for her to do this. Don't say anything more. Three days later, Dr. Read will perform surgery on April Hill. At that time, everyone can take a look at the result."

When the doctors heard this, although they were still very angry, they also understood that the president had unconditionally chosen to stand on Aimee's side.

No matter how much they said, it was all nonsense.

Thinking about it this way, even if they couldn't get angry anymore, they didn't dare to say anything more.

However, they didn't let go of their dissatisfaction with Aimee. Instead, they changed into a gesture of watching a show, waiting to see Aimee make a fool of herself.

The hospital's state-of-the-art No. 7 operating room was destroyed by Aimee, and they wanted to see what tricks Aimee could do.

Aimee had heard these voices of dissatisfaction for a long time.

However, she didn't care about it at all.

She had only one requirement for herself, that was, to be responsible for April's operation. She can only succeed.

Of course, Aimee can't fail at all.

Kelvin spent an afternoon modifying the wiring according to Aimee's request.

After getting Aimee's satisfaction, Kelvin said, "Aimee, have you paid too much for this hospital?"

He had already heard that Patrick was going to open a new hospital for Aimee, and all the requirements were done according to Aimee's requirements.

One can imagine how advanced the new hospital will be after it was completed.

And the instruments that Aimee wanted to move over were the advanced ones. When Aimee gave it to the Innisrial General Hospital for nothing, Kelvin thought it was unworthy. Aimee said, "Everything is for April Hill's body." Now, she only wanted to heal April's body. This was the girl who may become Walter's wife in the future, so Aimee will naturally pay more attention. Kelvin didn't know the connection, and couldn't help but sigh, "Aimee, you have become caring. Is it because you are pregnant?" Aimee glanced at Kelvin and said, "What about you? Is it because of the relationship that you became gossipy?" What she said made Kelvin shut up directly. Aimee became interested in an instant, stared at Kelvin closely, and said, "It seems that it is really true. Kelvin, you can do great things in silence. Should I praise you for doing a good job?" It was rare for Kelvin to feel a little uncomfortable. When facing Matilda, he will refute her. However, when facing Aimee, Kelvin really felt that he can't do anything. Kelvin touched his nose and asked, "Aimee, is it possible that I'm really unreliable?" "It's okay," Aimee said, "as long as you don't made her pregnant for the time being." Kelvin laughed. At this point, Aimee and Matilda fit so well. However, he really wanted to know if he really knocked Casey up, how would Aimee react? Kelvin said, "Casey is past the legal marriage age." Aimee inexplicably felt a bad feeling. She squinted her eyes, looked at Kelvin defensively, and said, "You are such a beast." She suddenly felt that this guy was really dangerous. Even Aimee was hesitating whether to tell Patrick, lest Patrick couldn't accept it and beat Kelvin up directly. After all, in Aimee's heart, Kelvin was still a very capable partner. She didn't want to lose this partner at all. Kelvin didn't know what Aimee was thinking. If he knew at this moment, he would be so angry that he couldn't speak. Aimee thought for a while, and said to Kelvin, "Kelvin, as Casey's sister-in-law, I think I need to remind you to buy insurance." Kelvin didn't know whether to laugh or cry, and changed the subject. "Actually, I think, maybe you also need to buy insurance." Kelvin said. Aimee looked at Kelvin suspiciously, ready to hear his reason. Kelvin chuckled and said, "April Hill's background is so complicated. You have to think about your own safety." Aimee was almost laughed out loud by Kelvin. She crossed her arms, looked at Kelvin with dissatisfaction, and said, "So, are you questioning my medical skills?" Aimee felt that Kelvin wanted to get back on her simply because he was dissatisfied with the suggestion she had just given him. However, no matter what was wrong, Kelvin actually questioned her medical skills. Aimee even wanted to open Kelvin's stomach, reorganize his internal organs, and let him feel how amazing her medical skills were.

This bastard deliberately wanted to anger her.

Seeing that Aimee was really annoyed, Kelvin said, "However, you really don't need us to cooperate with you this time?"

Aimee was also thinking about this issue. Naturally, her own team was the most reliable for such a major operation. They can instantly understand her instructions with every look and movement, and cooperate precisely without wasting any time.

However, if she did, it would surely cause a greater commotion at the hospital.

In particular, the president had clearly hinted that he hoped that she will bring a few doctors with her during this operation, so that they can learn from her most intuitively.

Kelvin also understood Aimee's current situation, but still said, "Aimee, at least let me partner with you."

Aimee thought for a moment, then smiled at Kelvin, "You are still reliable."

Chapter 375 He may have to go to the capital

Eight o'clock in the morning on Wednesday.

After Aimee checked the situation in the operating room, she was ready to operate on April.

In the end, she still asked her team to come over to assist her operation.

Although this made the doctors who thought they would follow Aimee into the operating room very dissatisfied, it didn't affect Aimee at all.

As Aimee's deputy, Kelvin had already studied April's condition.

It had to be said that even though he had partnered with Aimee to treat more difficult patients, facing April's situation, Kelvin had to show 100% concentration.

Denis came over early. Within these few days, he accepted Aimee's advice. He ate and slept well, and recovered the energy he had consumed before.

Aimee was very satisfied with his mental state, and said with a smile, "Don't worry. Everything is under control."

Denis bowed deeply to Aimee, "Dr. Read, please."

Aimee didn't say anything more to Denis but directly entered the operating room.

Because of the importance of this operation, even Patrick came here.

Of course, he was worried about Aimee.

According to Aimee's prediction, this operation will take 13 hours.

Patrick was really worried that Aimee's body would be overwhelmed.

But what made Patrick even worse was the guy sitting next to him.

Patrick looked at Walter with a sullen look, and said, "Aren't you afraid to appear here? What are you doing?"

Walter raised his eyebrows, still looking careless and casual, but his eyes were full of worry.

He said, "I'm idle so I just come and see. Patrick, do you want to despise me so much?"

Patrick snorted coldly. It was an eyesore to see him.

He moved to the side, to distance himself from Walter.

The two of them were located very far away outside the operating room, so they didn't attract Denis' attention.

On the contrary, Walter stared at Denis from a distance for a long time, then unconsciously moved to Patrick's side, and said, "Patrick, is it strange to say that since April was admitted to the hospital, no one else has been here except Denis and his secretary? Denis didn't even care about his own job. He just threw himself on April. If this continues, his future will come to an end.”

Patrick moved to another position in disgust, and distanced himself from Walter.

However, he didn't snub Walter, but said, “What's going on with the Hill family? Haven't you checked it out? Not to mention Denis Hill's enemies in his future, even within the Hill family, there are quite a few people who want April dead.”

Walter clicked his tongue softly, and said playfully, “So, Aimee cures April like this, which is tantamount to making an open enemy of the Hill family.”

“More than that,” Patrick's face turned cold, “The few companies in the capital have probably gotten information of it.”

This was also what worried Patrick the most.

His wife did what a doctor should do, that was, saving lives.

However, the price paid for this was unimaginable.

And the main reason for this was because of Walter, his elder brother.

Patrick narrowed his eyes, looked at Walter, and said, “Walter, Aimee has really paid a lot for you.”

Walter laughed softly upon hearing this.

He said, “Patrick, how do I feel that you are taking the opportunity to blackmail me?”

Patrick finally showed a smiling face to Walter.

He said, “So, Walter, should you pay a little for the new hospital opened for Aimee?”

Walter didn't say a word.

Although he had known that Patrick was scheming since childhood, among the four siblings, Patrick was undoubtedly the most evil one.

Although he was the elder brother and loved to bully his younger siblings, in fact, every time he bullied Patrick, he revenged in the end.

However, this time, he was partly responsible for the incident, and if any disaster happened because of this, he could hardly absolve himself of the blame.

Therefore, it was impossible for Walter to refuse Patrick's blackmail.

He said, “Patrick, we're brothers. Let's not deal with those hypocritical things. I'll pay for the construction of the new hospital.”

Patrick laughed softly, quite touched by Walter's generosity.

He said, “Okay, if there is a chance in the future. But the new hospital is the gift I gave to Aimee, so I will be responsible for everything. Don't meddle in it.”

Walter was speechless.

He stood up from his chair. Now it wasn't Patrick who despised him, but him.

He didn't want to stay with his brother for a moment. This guy, after talking for a long time, seemed to be teasing him.

Especially, out of nowhere, he was forced to see him displaying their affection.

Walter really wanted to complain but he can't.

How could his brother be so annoying?

Walter said, “I'm going to smoke a cigarette.”

When he was with his younger brother, he couldn't help but beat him up.

Patrick gave him a disgusted look, and that look clearly meant: “You'd better leave.”

After Walter left, Patrick fell into deep thought.

Walter's words reminded him that after the operation was successful, Aimee would become April's savior, and based on Denis' state, he must treat Aimee as a benefactor.

In this way, whether Aimee liked it or not, she was associated with Denis.
As for the few companies in the capital, it was hard not to do anything.
Thinking of this, Patrick's face became even colder.
In order to protect Aimee's safety, he must make preparations in advance.
Thinking of this, Patrick took out his mobile phone and made a call to Trace, "Check for me the movements of Hughes family, Davis family, and Williams family in the capital. All matters, big and small."
If necessary, he may make a trip to the capital.
It was just that he had to wait until April's surgery was over before making arrangements.
He had to make sure that Aimee's body was not affected in any way.

Chapter 376 Is it her moment of happiness?

Trace quickly reported the result, "Mr. Hayden, the Hughes family's Tilly Hughes is currently in Innisrial."
This news made Patrick's face even grimmer.
The people from Hughes family had actually come to Innisrial, which showed that the people in the capital had indeed taken action.
However, the Hughes family sent a young girl who was still in school, which was very confusing.
Patrick thought for a moment, then said to Trace, "Go and check this person's ability."
He wouldn't despise Tilly just because she was a girl, and he wouldn't think she was incompetent just because she was young.
Seldom children of wealthy families were idiots.
What was more, her family was in that circles, so she had been exposed to it since she was a child.
Compared with the children of merchants, she was much shrewder.
When Patrick was investigating Tilly's details and after Tilly landed in Innisrial, he was dumbfounded.
She just came here with a schoolbag on her back. She was originally traveling lightly.
As a result, when she was going to take the subway to save the time it would take to wait in line for a taxi, she completely forgot that she had a terrible sense of direction, and it was simply impossible for her to travel by the subway.
When going to the subway station, Tilly kept reminding herself to carefully check the lines and directions, and she should never take the wrong line or the wrong direction.
Even before entering the station, Tilly checked repeatedly.
But, when Tilly got on the subway for half an hour, she was really dumbfounded.
Now the subway was no longer underground, but on land.
Tilly just saw the scenery outside through the window of the subway. It was a barren and undeveloped place.
Finally, after Tilly heard clearly the place's name played on the broadcast, she directly hit a pole with her head in grief.
How stupid was she? After repeated confirmations, she still took the wrong direction and the wrong line.
Tilly felt like a huge idiot.
Out of the subway, Tilly decided not to take the subway anymore, and she was going to go out and take a taxi.
Otherwise, with Innisrial's subway line, by the time she reached her destination, it will probably be dark.
Tilly got out of the subway.

However, soon, Tilly was even more desperate to find out that it was the place in the middle of nowhere.

She didn't even have to think about reaching out her hand to hail a taxi, and even if she called for a reserved car online, no one will answer.

Tilly held the phone in one hand, raised the other to block the sunshine, and walked forward without knowing the direction.

Although Tilly was terrible with directions, she was firm in an extremely optimistic principle, that was: all roads lead to Rome. As long as it was where she wanted to go, and if she walked in one direction, she will always reach the destination.

The earth is round.

With this belief, every time Tilly encountered such a thing, she always implemented this principle.

She didn't know if fortune favoured fools. Every time, she succeeded by accident.

But this time, Tilly felt that there was a deep malice to her.

It was like Innisrial was not a place where she was welcome.

She walked like this for more than half an hour. No online reservation responded to her, and she didn't see a car on the road.

The only thing she could see was the roaring subway on the road.

Tilly was so angry that she wanted to cry at this moment.

There was only one thought in her mind now, and that was: when she saw April, she must severely beat her up, so that she can also experience the deep malice.

However, even though Tilly thought so, she really felt unprecedented despair.

If it went on like this, she doubted whether she will be able to see April alive.

In particular, there was no person, no car, and even ghost, let alone a bottle of water.

Tilly was literally dying of thirst.

Before coming here, Tilly had checked the weather forecast, and it was clear that it was cloudy. Why did the sun seem to always be above her head? Not only did she not see a cloud, but she also found that the sun seemed to be following her.

Finally, Tilly moved her ears sensitively and stopped walking.

She seemed to have heard the sound of a car.

Tilly turned around and poked her head like a small animal waiting to be fed. She stretched her neck, wanting to see if her moment of happiness had arrived.

Finally, a black Mercedes-Benz G-class appeared in Tilly's vision. Without thinking too much, Tilly ran to the middle of the road, opened her arms, and tried to stop the car.

After walking for so long, she saw a car and would never let it go.

But her behavior shocked the people in the car.

Ben stepped on the brake and threw himself straight at the steering wheel.

His brows were tightly furrowed, as if he was going to kill someone in the next second.

He came here today to have a look at their newly developed real estate. After confirming that there was no problem, he knew construction will start in the second half of the year.

Who would have thought that on the way back, he would bump into such a desperate person.

After seeing clearly the appearance of the desperate guy in the middle of the road, Ben was even more angry.

She looked smart but the thing she did was stupid.

He unbuckled his seat belt, opened the door and got out of the car, walking in front of Tilly with a serious face.

“What do you want to do? If you want to die, you can do it in another way. Do you want me to die with you?” Ben said.

After all, he suppressed his anger and didn't yell at Tilly.

For one thing, his upbringing didn't allow it.

Secondly, she was a girl after all, and Ben always treated girls as a gentleman.

However, Ben's cold and serious face was still very scary. Coupled with his tone at the moment, and his venomous words, he completely frightened Tilly.

Chapter 377 This man is richer than her

Tilly blinked, inexplicably feeling aggrieved.

Of course, her grievance was not because Ben yelled at her, but because her clumsiness forced her to face such anger.

Tilly bit her lower lip and, almost immediately, bowed to Ben, saying loudly, “I'm sorry.”

Tilly said these three words with full sincerity.

Ben's eyes narrowed suddenly, and he was really confused by Tilly.

He took a deep breath and looked at Tilly who was still bowing to him. For no reason, at this moment, all his anger dissipated.

Ben said, “Okay, stand up straight and let's talk properly.”

Tilly didn't do it right away, but raised her head a little to glance at Ben.

Seeing that he was not as fierce as before, she straightened up slowly.

Tilly spurned herself in her heart. When did she ever have such a cowardly moment? How could she be cowardly to the man in front of her without even thinking twice?

However, Tilly's slander for her was only for a moment.

When she got a good look at Ben's face, she opened her eyes wide.

He was so good-looking, right?

Tilly can say without exaggeration that the man in front of her was the most good-looking man she had ever seen.

Although when he became fierce, he would scare her to death, with such a face, Tilly felt that he could be fierce and continue. No matter how fierce he was, she would not be afraid at all.

Ben didn't know what Tilly was thinking, but saw that her expression was ever-changing, and, unconsciously, revealed a little happiness.

This was the first time for Ben to meet such a girl, and he didn't know how to describe it. She was a little crazy, but she wasn't annoying. On the contrary, she was kind of cute.

Ben was going to feel like he was fascinated. What the hell was he thinking?

This girl almost died under his car.

Ben didn't forget to have a discussion with the girl in front of her about her blocking the car.

He said, “Explain. What exactly do you want to stop the car?”

After a few minutes, it became clear to Ben that the girl wasn't trying to kill herself.

His anger eased a little, and his attitude towards Tilly also improved a little.

Tilly didn't dare to talk nonsense in front of Ben, so she could only honestly tell Ben how she lost her way and how she came to this place in the middle of nowhere.

She bit her lower lip. It can be said that she looked pitiful to the fullest.

Ben was very astonished. He thought about all kinds of possibilities, but the only thing he didn't think of was that this girl didn't come here by herself.

For a moment, Ben didn't know what to say.

He was a little dumbfounded, and then a little helpless.

Ben said, "So, how many cars have you stopped?"

Tilly was a little dazed and didn't understand what Ben meant.

She obediently replied, "You're the first one."

Ben actually relaxed a lot after hearing Tilly's answer.

He said, "You are very courageous. Do you know that if you stop a driver with malicious intentions, what will happen to you?"

Tilly hadn't thought about this question at all.

After hearing Ben's words, she was silent for a while, and then said, "I believe that there is love in the world."

Ben was speechless.

No need to ask any more questions, Ben already understood that Tilly was simply a young lady who didn't know the dangers in the world.

He looked at Tilly speechlessly. In the end, he didn't hurt her who had the innocent idea.

Ben said, "Get in the car. Where are you going? I will take you there."

In the past, Ben would never have done this.

He was not the one to meddle in other people's business.

Even his friends sometimes teased that he was the most ruthless person.

However, today he did this incredible thing.

Until Ben started the car, he was very confused whether he was bewitched.

Tilly fastened her seat belt, and suddenly thought of a problem.

She turned her head, looked at Ben, and asked, "What if you have evil intentions?"

Ben's hands on the steering wheel nearly lost control.

He glanced at Tilly speechlessly, and his eyes were full of disgust.

Was this girl really stupid, or was she just too naive?

Ben asked, "How do you think I should answer this question for you?"

Tilly also realized how stupid she was for asking that question.

She closed her mouth obediently, looked away, and stopped looking at Ben.

However, Tilly secretly thought in her heart how bad can a man be, who drove a Mercedes-Benz G-class?

Robbery?

Obviously, this man was much richer than her.

Rape?

Tilly dismissed the idea without thinking too much.

She had seen the look in the eyes of a man with a lustful intention, the kind that wanted to strip her naked just by using his eyes.

However, there was no such look in this man's eyes.

Otherwise, Tilly wouldn't have gotten into his car so easily.

Seeing that Tilly didn't answer, Ben thought she was getting scared now.

The corners of his mouth were slightly curved because this was effect he wanted.

At least, he can make this girl who was ignorant learn a lesson from it.

However, Ben didn't know at all that he was simply thinking too much.

Tilly was so obedient because she really treated him as a good person.
As the car was driving on the road, Ben was a little curious.
He asked, "From your accent, you don't look like from Innisrial. You travel here?"
Tilly replied honestly, "I came to see my friend. She's very ill and she kept it from me. I came here to deal with her."
As Tilly said it, she gnashed.
From her tone, Ben knew she wasn't really angry.
On the contrary, after her gnashing of teeth, she was full of concern for her friend.
She was a duplicitous girl.
Ben smiled heartily, and felt sincerely that she was very cute.
They soon arrived at the Innisrial General Hospital. Tilly took out her mobile phone, opened her Facebook, and handed it to Ben, "Add my contact."

Chapter 378 I have already gotten used to it

It was not the first time Ben had been asked for it by a girl.
When he was walking on the road, some girls would rush over shyly and ask him blushing if they could have his contact.
Ben would always say no to things like this.
However, at this moment, looking at the fair hand which stretched out in front of him, and the huge rabbit ears on the phone case, Ben didn't even want to refuse.
He pursed his lower lips, touched his phone, clicked on Facebook, and added that account.
A rabbit head appeared on the screen of the phone, which looked soft and cute.
The rabbit was very much like the girl sitting in the passenger seat at the moment.
Ben chuckled silently. She knew herself quite clearly that she was like a soft rabbit.
And she was so cute.
Tilly passed Ben's friend request, waved to him and said, "Thank you for saving me, hero. I will see you again."
Ben was about to speak when he heard someone knocking on the car window.
He turned his head, and saw an incredible person appearing beside his car.
With his usual laid-back look, Walter raised his eyebrows at Ben, and said, "You don't get out of the car when you see me. Do you want to be beaten?"
Ben felt helpless.
Who can tell him when he was back?
With the window down, Ben called out, "Bro."
This frightened Tilly who hadn't had time to get out of the car.
From the moment Tilly stopped Ben's car, the aura that Ben gave her was very strong.
Although it won't be terrifying, Tilly can feel that he must be a specially privileged person.
But now, such a man actually called the man who tapped the car window "bro" in such a humble way.
That was right. At this moment, Ben gave Tilly the feeling of being humble.
This strong contrast almost scared Tilly.
She really couldn't understand why.
Especially, after Tilly took a few sneaky glances at the man outside the car, she was sure of one thing.
This man was definitely not a righteous person.
For a moment, Tilly was embarrassed.

She didn't know whether she should get out of the car or wait inside.

However, Walter was the first to notice her.

Walter raised his brows lightly, and said, "Okay, Ben, it's been a while since I was away, and you already have a girlfriend. But you don't introduce her to me."

Both Ben and Tilly were speechless.

Ben was used to Walter's unrestrained speech, and anything sounded real from his mouth.

However, Tilly was genuinely frightened by what Walter said.

Her face flushed instantly, and she glanced at Ben awkwardly and quickly. Seeing that there was nothing wrong with his expression, she was secretly relieved.

Now, Tilly didn't have a good impression of the man next to the car at all.

She really didn't like to see such a person who said things in an impractical manner. Especially, he was a man.

Ben didn't follow Walter's words, because he knew very well that if he did, there would be no end to it.

He asked, "Walter, when did you come back?"

"Just came back a few days ago." Walter said.

Ben breathed a sigh of relief, and said to Walter, "When are you free? I will throw a welcoming party for you."

"Okay, I heard that your new clubhouse is pretty good. Let's go there." Walter said.

"Sure, then Walter, tell me the time." Ben said.

Walter looked at Ben amusedly, and was really speechless about his ability to change the subject.

He said, "What's going on, Benny? What are you doing here?"

Ben really wanted to know how the Hayden family cultivated Walter who was an outlier insisting on getting to the bottom of the matter.

Unable to change the subject, Ben could only say, "Drive her here."

The interest in Walter's eyes grew stronger.

But he knew that Ben wasn't the one who would do good things.

This girl must have a special relationship with Ben.

As for what, Walter did not know.

However, Walter's desire to gossip was raging, and he wouldn't allow himself to just let Ben go.

He said, "Since you're here, park your car and go in together. It happens that Patrick is here."

Ben was speechless again.

He really can do nothing to Walter, so he could only say, "Okay, I'll park the car first."

After speaking, Ben started the car and drove to the parking lot.

Tilly was clearly in the dark about how things were going.

When Ben quickly found a parking space, Tilly finally found her voice and said apologetically, "I'm sorry I got you in trouble."

If she hadn't lost her way, she wouldn't have stopped the car.

If she hadn't stopped the car, he wouldn't have sent her to the hospital.

If she had not been sent to the hospital, this situation would not have happened.

All in all, all of this was because of her.

Ben laughed lowly, and said, "You're young but you can take responsibility yourself."

"I'm really sorry," Tilly said.

"Okay, it's none of your business. He's just like that. I'm already used to it," Ben said.

Tilly understood now that the relationship between these two people must be particularly good.

Based on this, Tilly no longer felt guilty.

After parking the car, the two walked back to Walter.

Tilly noticed that Walter was looking her up and down.

She felt a little uncomfortable. Before approaching, she whispered to Ben, "Benny, I'm leaving first. I'll contact you on Facebook."

After speaking, Tilly ran away quickly.

Looking at Tilly's back running away like a rabbit, Ben was stunned for a moment before gritted his teeth and laughed.

She actually learned from Walter and called him Benny.

However, now was not the time for Ben to worry about that.

Walter had already walked towards him, put his hand around his neck, and said playfully, "Isn't she your girlfriend? Did I misunderstand?"

Ben almost rolled his eyes at Walter.

He still had the nerve to say such a thing, which was vert infuriating.

Chapter 379 Which Hughes family do you think

Walter hooked Ben's neck, walked inside with him, and asked several times without giving up, "Isn't she your girlfriend?"

Ben answered while getting a headache, "Walter, please let me go. I don't look like I have a girlfriend."

When Walter heard the words, he clicked his tongue twice, and then mercilessly said, "Good for nothing."

Ben was speechless and suddenly felt a little regretful. He should have ignored him just now, stepped on the gas pedal, and didn't care whether Walter was happy or not.

However, he had no way to deal with Walter. Even if he escaped it this time, Walter will use even more outrageous means to retaliate against him.

From childhood to adulthood, Ben had suffered a lot from Walter, which was countless.

If he hadn't been abroad a few years ago, Ben can guarantee that he would have been bullied by this guy.

Faced with Walter's inquisition, Ben had no choice but to say truthfully, "The girl I picked up on the road got lost."

Walter held Ben's arm even harder.

He said, "Ben, you are not such a kind person. Tell me honestly, are you interested in her?"

Ben was really overwhelmed.

And he was really speechless towards Walter.

Ben was silent for a while, but he couldn't hold back, and fought back, "Walter, what do you mean? Do you like that pretty girl?"

The implication was that he was the one who was attracted to the girl.

Walter didn't know what to say.

He squeezed Ben's neck directly under his armpit with force, and said, "Ben, I haven't seen you for a few years. You dare to talk to me like that. Do you want to be beaten?"

Ben was almost suffocated, but he still said fearlessly, "Walter, you are so excited. Does it mean that I have gotten it right?"

Walter used even more force, as if he was about to really beat Ben up.

As the two quarreled, they went to the vicinity of No. 7 operating room.

Coincidentally, Patrick raised his head from the phone screen and looked at Walter and Ben with astonishment.

On the screen of Patrick's mobile phone was the situation reported by Trace.

"Mr. Hayden, Tilly Hughes got on the subway from the airport, but took the wrong line and went to western suburb."

"Mr. Hayden, she met Mr. Lee on the road and got into his car."

"Mr. Hayden, Mr. Lee sent her to the Innisrial General Hospital, and met Walter at the door."

"Mr. Hayden, Walter scared Tilly Hughes away, and she is now lost in the hospital."

Patrick couldn't describe how he felt at the moment.

He thought that the Hughes family just sent an undercover who only made a gesture of attacking, but she was too outrageous.

If Trace hadn't worked with him for so many years, and he knew Trace's ability very well, he would have doubted whether Trace's information was wrong.

At this moment, seeing Walter frame Ben, Patrick was speechless.

Ben still didn't understand what happened, and how Walter and Patrick were all gathered at the Innisrial General Hospital.

Patrick didn't wait for Ben to ask, but directly asked first, "I heard that you picked up a girl on the road."

Ben was speechless.

He wondered if he and the Hayden family were incompatible today. Otherwise, why did the two of them ask the same question?

Ben said, "Patrick, is it impossible for you to send someone to follow me?"

Patrick's mouth twitched, and he said, "Am I so free? Where is that girl?"

As soon as this question was asked, Ben became even more confused.

Not to mention Ben was confused, even Walter became the same.

What was happening here?

Patrick was actually interested in other girl?

What an outrageous thing this was.

Everyone knew how much Patrick loved Aimee. In his eyes, even Casey, his own sister, can't match her.

Now, Patrick would be interested in a strange girl, which was simply too unbelievable.

Walter said, "Patrick, don't take advantage of Aimee's pregnancy and do inhuman things."

Patrick was speechless and didn't even have the urge to roll his eyes at Walter. This guy was probably out of his mind. Otherwise, he wouldn't have said such speechless words.

On the contrary, Ben's expression turned serious, and he asked suspiciously, "Patrick, do you know that girl?"

Patrick asked, "Do you know her last name?"

"Hughes," Ben replied, "Her first name seems to be Tilly."

"She's Tilly Hughes from the Hughes family in the capital. What a coincidence," Patrick said.

Walter said, "No way, Patrick. Are you serious? Is that the Hughes family we were talking about earlier?"

"Do you think there is another Hughes family?" Patrick was speechless, thinking that his brother, when he should be smart, was really stupid as hell.

Walter said, "But is there a girl name Tilly in the Hughes family?"

Walter had already figured out the members in the Hughes Family. Although he can't say that he even knew the family tree, he was very familiar with the main members.

Patrick said, "You just came back, so you don't understand. At the beginning of the year, the Hughes family did bring back a girl. It was claimed to be for protection, but she has never been exposed. It's actually more complicated."

Ben frowned unconsciously when he heard Patrick's words.

He thought of the journey with Tilly, and he really thought that Tilly was a well-protected girl.

If she was indeed as Patrick said, and her identity was very complicated, then all the things she showed in front of him can only show that she was extremely shrewd.

Inexplicably, Ben's heart surged with anger.

He tightened his brows, and even had the impulse for a moment to grab that girl and tear off her delicate mask, so as to see what was hidden inside her.

Just when Ben was thinking this way, that figure appeared in his peripheral vision.

Ben's gaze was firmly fixed on Tilly, who was looking around. Finally, when her gaze was fixed on one spot, a relieved expression appeared on her face.

Chapter 380 Is that who I am?

Tilly strode towards this side, but didn't seem to see Ben and the others. She just passed them, and strode towards the middle-aged man who was anxiously waiting on the bench.

"Uncle Denies." Tilly's voice was crisp, and it was especially pleasant in such a oppressive place outside the operating room.

Denis raised his eyes upon hearing the sound, and saw that Tilly had already walked in front of him.

He was stunned for a moment, and then said hoarsely, "Tilly, why did you come to Innisrial?"

Tilly frowned when she heard Denis' question.

"You and April are too mean. I'm April's best friend. You didn't tell me that something happened to her. Aren't you afraid that I will be angry?" Tilly said, looking like she was very angry.

Denis said, "It happened suddenly, and I was caught off guard. April has been in a coma, so I didn't tell you."

Tilly pursed her lips, wondering if she would accept Denis' explanation.

She said, "If I hadn't heard the conversation between my father and brother, I wouldn't even know what happened to April. Uncle Denis, you can't do this in the future. No matter what happens in the future, you must tell me as soon as possible."

Denis said in a very good temper, "Okay, okay, from now on, no matter what happens to April, I will notify you as soon as possible."

Their conversation was quite loud, and here, only Denis and Macro were waiting, so it was extraordinarily quiet.

The conversation naturally reached Patrick's ears.

The three of them looked at one another a few times, and their expressions became complicated.

Denis' biggest competitor in the future can be the Hughes family.

However, Tilly seemed to know Denis very well.

In front of Denis, she was like his daughter.

Such a weird atmosphere caused them to fall into deep thought for a long time.

Finally, it was Ben who broke the silence and asked suspiciously, "The Hughes and Hill families should be political enemies, right?"

However, what was going on in the current situation?

This was so weird.

"Let's see first," Patrick said.

Right now, they hadn't figured out exactly why Tilly came here.
Was it simply because she was April's friend? And she came here to care about her friend, or was there some other purpose?
When everything was still unknown, Patrick believed that they should not act rashly.
Ben finally figured out what was going on at this moment.
He looked at Patrick and asked, "Patrick, Aimee is operating on Denis' daughter?"
Patrick nodded, and his expression was very serious.
The operation had been going on for six hours, and it was only halfway through, but he was now very worried about Aimee's physical condition.
Ben said, "Wouldn't Aimee be in danger after that?"
As for the position Denis might take, although the biggest competitor right now was the Hughes family, they were not the only ones craving for that position.
Among Hughes and Hill families, the one who had a better chance of winning was actually Denis.
As they all knew, Denis actually had no weaknesses in his official career.
He never gave anyone a chance to know his vulnerability.
However, even a man who was so strong had a fatal weakness, that was April, his daughter.
April's illness should have been the best chance to attack Denis.
This was a huge impact that can completely tear Denis apart.
However, Aimee was repairing this with her own hands.
This was equivalent to the fact that the enemy had stabbed the bayonet at Denis' chest, but at the moment when Denis was about to given a fatal blow, Aimee turned the bayonet directly to the enemy.
If it was not stopped in time, the bayonet may be pierced into the enemy's chest.
In this way, the massacre that was supposed to be a sure win turned into a reverse strangulation because of Aimee's participation.
One can imagine how bloody the scene would be.
After analyzing the powerful relation among them, Ben was even more puzzled.
How could Patrick not understand something that he could figure out immediately?
So, why did Patrick let Aimee do this when he knew it was a dangerous treatment?
Asking the question in his heart, Ben saw that Patrick looked at Walter directly with a half-smile .
He was stunned for a moment, and then tentatively asked, "Does it have something to do with Walter?"
As soon as he asked it, Ben saw Walter touch his nose, and said to him immediately, "Ben, you have been smart since you were a child. When will you change it? You are embarrassing me."
Ben was really shocked beyond words.
No matter how he thought about it, he never imagined that this matter can be related to Walter.
Ben said, "Walter, you have been abroad for several years. Why did you get involved in the domestic struggle?"
Walter glared at him and said, "Don't talk nonsense. Is that who I am?"
Ben wanted to say "isn't it"?
Facing Ben's taunting eyes, Walter said that he was really innocent.
However, Ben was really curious what did this matter have to do with Walter?
Especially, Patrick indulged.
However, no matter how smart Ben was, he would never have imagined that this incident was caused by Walter's interest in a girl.
So, when Ben knew the truth, he was really dumbfounded.

He even felt that what was happening at this moment was simply unreal.

All of this was just an absurd dream.

Patrick didn't really care about that much at the moment.

What he cared more about now was when the operation will end smoothly, and he wanted to take Aimee back to rest.

In particular, Aimee was now pregnant and already very lethargic. Patrick was really worried that Aimee's mental pressure will be too great for such a long-time and high-intensity operation.

Over there, Tilly and Denis chatted for a while, then she sat quietly on the bench, waiting for April to come out of surgery.

It was only at this time that she took out her phone and tapped on Facebook.

Below the many unread messages, there was a message from a newly added friend.

That was Ben's message.