

Healing 411

Chapter 411 I can't wait to cover myself

At 3 o'clock in the morning, Tilly was sleeping in the hotel when a knock on the door suddenly woke her up from her dream.

Tilly got out of the quilt and walked to the door. Through the peephole, she saw two men in black knocking on the door with a serious expression.

She became tensed instantly. These two men were very familiar to her, and they were her father's men.

Tilly turned back to the bed and picked up her phone.

She stared at the avatar on Facebook that she pinned to the top, struggled for a while, and finally made a voice call.

Tilly actually didn't have any expectations. At this time, people were already asleep normally. She called like this, which was really...

Just when Tilly was hesitating whether to hang up, she heard a hoarse voice coming from the phone.

Apparently, that person had woken up.

Tilly's hand holding the phone became tense in an instant. She opened her mouth and said, "Ben, please help me..."

Ben on the other end of the phone woke up completely in an instant.

After he was woken up, he was a little annoyed, but who would have thought that he heard such a voice after a while.

He took the phone from his ear, put it in front of his eyes, and then saw clearly who was calling him at this time.

Ben frowned tightly, and asked in a deep voice, "Where are you?"

"I'm at the Mirth Hotel," said Tilly.

Right now, she was actually a little scared. The knocking on the door became louder. She was really afraid that they would break in.

Ben was silent for a while, and just when Tilly thought he had hung up, Ben's voice came again.

He said, "Wait."

After speaking, there was a rustling sound from Ben's side, as if he was getting dressed.

Tilly was instantly soothed, and for a moment, she only felt that her eye were red as if she wanted to cry.

Ben didn't leave her alone.

She originally thought that since she transferred the money to him, they would be square.

Tilly sat down on the edge of the bed, crying and saying in a trembling voice, "Ben, I'm really scared."

Ben's voice was surprisingly gentle.

He said, "Don't be scared. I'll be there soon."

Tilly was indeed comforted in her heart, but she didn't think Ben would arrive soon. Instead, she thought that he was just trying to comfort herself.

Who would have thought that within five minutes, the outside would be quiet.

Tilly heard Ben's voice coming from the phone, saying, "Open the door."

She jumped up from the bed all of a sudden, and ran towards the door regardless.

The moment she opened the door and when she saw clearly that it was indeed Ben standing at the door, the tears couldn't be controlled anymore, and fell down all at once.

Tilly's hand was not even steady and her phone fell to the ground.

She rushed towards Ben, " Ben, how did you come here so fast?"

Tilly hugged Ben's waist tightly, with her tears wetting the front of his shirt.

Ben frowned, patted Tilly on the back, and said, "Stand up first."

"I don't want it. Ben, I'm so scared." Tilly didn't want to let go at all. Just hugging Ben so tightly, she was like a child who had been bullied badly, and finally found her parent.

Ben felt a little helpless, but didn't push her away after all.

He hugged her and said, "let's settle this matter first, okay?"

Tilly looked up from Ben's arms and looked at him tearfully.

Her poor appearance was more or less the same as the lost and dazed appearance when he encountered her before.

At least, from Ben's point of view, Tilly was downright soft.

He touched her head and said, "Don't be afraid. I'm here, and no one will hurt you."

Ben didn't know the origins of these two men yet, so he just let his men suppress them.

However, the origins of these two people were basically known by Ben now.

At this time, there was a lot of noise in the hotel, and no one in the hotel came out to stop them, so someone must have informed the hotelier earlier.

When he thought of this, Ben's eyes darkened a little.

On his territory, this person can directly do this by acting beyond his authority. This person was quite capable.

Moreover, the people who cooperated with each other inside and outside the hotel must also be paramount and powerful.

It seemed that he hadn't done the housecleaning for too long.

Stopping thinking that, Ben noticed that Tilly was only wearing a slip dress, and appeared in front of him.

His eyes were dark, and he didn't need to look to know what kind of scenery was inside the dress.

Ben's face darkened in an instant. Did this girl disregard him as an outsider?

Tilly didn't know what Ben was thinking. She just stuck her wet eyes tightly to Ben's body, as if this would give her a great sense of security.

Ben coughed lightly, looked away, and said, "Go and change your clothes first. I'll wait for you here."

Tilly looked at Ben blankly, as if she didn't understand what he said.

It wasn't until she lowered her head to see clearly what she was wearing that she blushed, turned around and ran into the room.

Tilly was about to die of embarrassment. Why she appeared in front of Ben when dressing like this?

If he thought about it a little more, would he feel that she did it on purpose to seduce him?

Just thinking about it made Tilly shame and anger.

Tilly took a dress and put it on. This was a hooded sweater dress, covering herself from head to toe.

This look was especially like that kind of old-fashioned woman, wishing to cover everything from the hair to the soles of the feet.

When she changed her clothes and came out, Ben was also surprised.

He chuckled, "Very good."

He didn't need to ask but had known that Tilly dressed like this on purpose.

After thinking about it, he knew that she was shy, so he didn't say much, but motioned her to follow him.

Tilly obediently followed Ben's side, looked at him, and then suppressed the shyness just now.

Ben took her to a room at the end of the corridor, and as soon as she entered, she saw the two people who came to knock on the door were pinned on the sofa.

Chapter 412 I will not go back

Tilly was a little taken aback by the situation in front of her.

She looked at Ben suspiciously, as if asking, "What's the matter?"

Ben pulled her and let her sit directly on the sofa opposite.

Like a superior person, he had a strong aura, just looking at the two men with a cold expression.

Those two had experienced a lot, so they were not intimidated by Ben's aura at all.

They looked at Tilly and said coldly, "Miss Hughes, please come back with us."

Tilly unconsciously moved towards Ben's side, as if this could give her an endless sense of security.

Ben turned his head to look at Tilly and asked, "They know you?"

"They're from my dad," Tilly said.

Ben frowned, waiting for her to continue to explain clearly.

Tilly lowered her eyes, and said in a very low voice, guilty, "I sneaked to Innisrial. My father didn't let me come here."

Ben thought about the positions of Denis and the Hughes Family, and understood what was going on.

This was a very understandable thing.

At a time like this, it really shouldn't be done.

However, what Ben wanted to know more than this was what kind of relationship between Tilly and April was like.

Tilly probably saw Ben's doubts, bit her lower lip and said, "April and I are friends secretly."

As for what was going on, it was really inconvenient for her to tell Ben now, so she could only tug at his clothes and look at him beggingly.

"I don't want to go back. Ben, help me," said Tilly.

Ben actually didn't want to get involved. However, facing the girl looking at him eagerly, Ben couldn't bear to refuse after all.

He moved his eyes from the girl's face to the two men on the opposite side, and said in a cold voice, "You two made a scene at the hotel at 3 o'clock in the morning. Do you want to give me an explanation?"

Those two obviously knew who Ben was, and they didn't speak when facing him.

Ben wasn't in a hurry. He just sat on the sofa with a laid-back look, unaffected at all.

Tilly was not in a hurry too. She imitated Ben, leaned back on the sofa, and even treated herself as someone who had nothing to do with this matter.

Ben saw her expression from the corner of his eye, and was almost amused by her.

Did she feel that she can be secure by his side?

Finally, one of the men couldn't stand it any longer and said, "Mr. Lee, this is our family business. We just follow the master's order and ask Miss Hughes to come home."

Ben laughed lightly, and said, "Then your master is very unruly. On other people's land, you treat it as your own home and act wildly. Aren't you afraid of embarrassing your master by doing this?"

When the two men heard the words, they didn't look good instantly.

In the capital, everyone knew what their master's status was, and no one dared to speak like this.

Unexpectedly, after they arrived at Innisrial, they heard such words, which meant that Ben looked down their master.

Tilly was listening, and felt a little speechless.

Was he so mean?

If it wasn't for the fact that the person being ridiculed was her father, Tilly would have clapped her hands for Ben.

That being said, it was so enjoyable.

Ben could feel Tilly's fiery gaze on his face. And he was a little speechless. Did she know who he was talking about? Why did she still worship him?

It just gave him a headache.

The man's voice was also somewhat impolite, "Mr. Lee, you should pay more attention to what you say. There is naturally no problem with our master's instruction."

Ben snorted coldly. To him, these words only showed that they were stubborn and didn't make any practical sense at all.

He said, "Then I would like to ask, is Mr. Hughes instructing you to come and make a scene at my hotel at 3 o'clock in the morning? Or, does the Hughes family think that my family can be bullied by you?"

As soon as he said those words, the atmosphere in the room became chilly in an instant.

Although Tilly didn't have much contact with Ben, she always knew that he was not a good-tempered person. However, this was the first time she saw him speak in such a cold tone.

She was startled. Her neck shrank unconsciously, and she hid behind Ben.

Tilly was really a little cowardly now.

She wanted to seek Ben's protection, but the people on the other side belonged to her father, and she really didn't want to make too much trouble with them.

However, she knew very well that if she didn't go back with them, this matter would be embarrassing after all.

But, Tilly finally came here from the capital, and she was quite happy at first. April's body was recovering, but no one expected that an accident happened to her again, which made her even more worried about April if she was leaving.

Thinking for while, Tilly moved out from behind Ben and said, "You guys go back and tell my dad that I'm visiting Innisrial, and let him pretend that I'm not here for April. I won't go back."

After the two men heard what Tilly said, they glanced at each other, and their expressions didn't look good.

One of them said, "Miss Hughes, this is a very sensitive period for your father. Please don't be so willful. Be sensible and take the overall situation into consideration."

When Tilly heard this, she instantly became unhappy.

She looked at the man and said, "I don't know when I have such an important position in my family.

Okay, if you must take me back, then you can knock me out."

Both men looked at Tilly in astonishment and couldn't answer this question.

Even if they were courageous, no one would dare to do such a thing to Tilly.

At this moment, the phone rang suddenly.

The man took it out of his pocket and saw that it was Martin Hughes calling.

The man answered without any hesitation.

They didn't know what the person on the other end of the phone say, but the man put the phone on the table and tapped on the speakerphone button.

In an instant, Martin's voice came from inside, but he said to Ben, "Mr. Lee, I'm sorry my people make you unhappy, but this is my family business after all. Please do me a favor."

Chapter 413 Don't call me that

Ben sneered, and said, "It seems that you're very capable and can even dispatch the people in our hotel at will. I don't know when my people did things for Hughes family."

Hearing this, Martin seemed to have fallen into a kind of embarrassment for a while.

After a long silence, he did not give any explanation for this matter, but said to Tilly, "Tilly, something happened at home. Come back."

When he said this, Martin's tone was still very gentle, and even imploring.

Ben looked down at Tilly, and saw that she actually rolled her eyes, as if she thought Martin's words were hypocritical.

Tilly didn't say a word, and it seemed that she didn't really want to pay attention to Martin at all.

Martin hadn't heard Tilly's voice for a long time, so he could only talk to Ben, "Mr. Lee, I don't know what relationship you have with Tilly. She's my daughter after all, and she's away from home now. As her father, I am very worried about her. If possible, I hope you can send Tilly back."

"I'm not going back!" said Tilly. Her voice was very anxious, and it sounded more like she was afraid that Ben would agree directly.

Then she looked at Ben nervously, worried.

Ben didn't expect her to be so agitated. He raised his brows slightly, looked at Tilly, and gave her a comforting look.

After seeing this look, Tilly was relieved.

She smiled sweetly at Ben. The light in her eyes was her dependence on him.

This look made Ben's gasp, and a strange emotion spread to his heart.

This girl, with all her emotions displayed in her eyes, was so sincere, frank, and straightforward.

This made Ben's look slightly complicated, but he didn't understand that the situation of the Hughes family was too complicated, which made Tilly show such a dependent look on someone who had only known her for a few days.

However, Ben didn't bear to disappoint Tilly. He said, "Mr. Hughes, what you said seems that I will do something that is not good for Tilly."

Tilly looked at Ben in shock. This was the first time she heard Ben call her Tilly directly.

In fact, many people called her Tilly since she was a child, but it was the first time he called her like this, which made her heart tremble, and the indescribable numbness made her out of breath.

It was also the first time that she felt that her name could sound so nice.

Tilly didn't realize that the tips of his ears turned red just because of Ben calling her first name, and her eyes became even more passionate when she looked at Ben.

And Martin seemed to be shocked by Ben's words, and didn't react for a long time.

In an instant, the room fell into silence again, and there was no sound for a long time.

When Martin spoke again, his voice became much colder, "Mr. Lee, what does this mean? Tilly should not be familiar with you. Is it that suitable to keep her in Innisrial like this?"

Tilly heard his father's words and continued to look at Ben with a pitiful look.

She was really worried that Ben would agree with what her father said, and he would really feel unfamiliar with her, so he would send her back.

However, when Ben spoke, it directly stunned Tilly.

Ben said, "Mr. Hughes, you don't seem to understand the situation very well. I really know Tilly well."

Tilly blinked and stared at Ben, making sure that he meant it.

And the next second, Tilly's hand was held by Ben, and her eyes fell on their intertwined hands. She didn't realize what was going on for a while.

Ben continued, "Mr. Hughes, I hit it off with Tilly. She hasn't had enough fun yet. You should not bother her."

Tilly pursed her lips, trying not to laugh out loud.

She felt Ben was so reliable now.

What Ben said made Martin even more unable to suppress his anger, and the sound of him throwing things could be heard on the other end of the phone.

However, the more he did that, the more mocking Ben's expression became.

Ben didn't show Martin any respect at all, and said directly, "Mr. Hughes, I will send your people back to you. As for Tilly, when she has a lot of fun and wants to go back, I will naturally let her go back."

After speaking, Ben hung up the phone.

He gestured to his subordinates and said, "Send these two gentlemen back to the capital."

The implication was that his subordinates should personally travel to the capital and send the two people back to the Hughes family.

The two men were taken out then.

For a moment, only Tilly was left in the room.

Tilly swallowed a mouthful of saliva and looked at Ben, somewhat nervous.

She said, "Aren't you afraid that I will cause trouble for you?"

Ben's eyes fell on Tilly's face. Seeing the worry in her eyes, he gave a low laugh and said, "If I'm afraid, can you not cause trouble for me?"

Tilly was speechless.

It seemed that was really the case. Since she met Ben, she didn't do anything good to him.

Tilly lowered her head, a little bewildered.

After a long silence, she said, "Benny, thank you."

Ben frowned, and said, "Why are you so impolite? Can you call me Benny?"

Especially, for Ben, this title was simply a failure in his life.

And this failure was brought to him by Walter.

He didn't know what was wrong with Walter who was the eldest brother of the Hayden family. He wasn't clam and mature at all, but even gave them nicknames.

All of them were nicknamed by Walter.

The nickname Benny had been with him almost throughout his childhood.

After they grew up, Walter knew that Ben was keen on face-saving, so he won't call him that name when they were outside.

Who would have thought that the nickname that had not been heard for so many years would actually be heard again now.

Especially, it was from the girl's mouth.

Tilly tilted her head, looked at Ben, and said, "But Benny is very cute. I think it sounds good."

She said it with a sincere and a little cute expression, so that for a moment, Ben really felt that this nickname was nice.

He gave a low laugh helplessly, and said, "Don't call me that in the future."

Chapter 414 She still knows what she should do

Hearing Ben's words, Tilly compressed her lips in depression, but her eyes were still shining. "But, I really think it sounds good, and it's very cute."

When she heard Ben being called this way that day, she really thought it was so cute. The special contrast with him made her like this name instantly.

However, it seemed that Ben really didn't like the name.

Tilly thought about it. Since Ben didn't like it now, then she will work hard to get acquainted with him, so that Ben can't refuse her calling him that.

Just thinking about it made Tilly feel better.

Ben said, "I am a man. I don't want to be cute."

Tilly tilted her head and didn't say anything else.

Anyway, she had already made up her mind in her heart, and she will leave it to the future. Now that she thought so much, she didn't know if she will be proved wrong by then.

After thinking about this, Tilly looked at Ben, as if she just thought of an important question.

Tilly asked, "Why did you come here so soon?"

It took less than five minutes after she made the voice call, and Ben appeared. At that moment, Tilly really felt that Ben was her hero.

Ben said, "I'll live upstairs from you."

Originally, he didn't live in the hotel, but today he was too busy to go home, so he slept in the room upstairs.

Who would have thought that such a thing would happen tonight.

Tilly didn't go into detail why Ben stayed in the hotel today, but her heart was full of sweet feelings that couldn't be concealed.

Although it was a coincidence, and since she came to Innisrial, the most flustered moment for her was when she met Ben.

This kind of feeling made her think a little more.

Ben didn't know what Tilly was thinking. He glanced at the time, stood up, and said, "Go back to your room and rest."

Tilly's hands moved faster than her mind.

She grabbed Ben's hand directly, with a nervous expression on her face.

Ben looked down at her. The touch of the skin on his wrist made him gasp a little bit.

"What are you doing?" Ben asked in a low voice.

Tilly said, "What if they come back after I get back to my room?"

Ben was a little speechless. Looking at Tilly, he was a little dumbfounded.

"Are you questioning my abilities?" Ben asked.

Tilly shook her head and said, "I'm just scared."

She was just a girl who was woken up like this in the middle of the night. Even though she knew these guys, she still felt scared.

It was just that everything happened so fast that she didn't even have time to think about what was going on.

However, now that she was going back to the room, and she was left alone. This feeling of fear would sweep over her, making her feel scared just thinking about it.

Ben could understand what she was thinking, but still said, "Why? Do you want to sleep with me?"

When he said this, Ben clearly wanted to smooth the atmosphere and ease her fear.

However, after saying these words, Ben clearly saw her eyes light up, as if she was looking forward to it.

Ben was even more dumbfounded in an instant. Did she know that the person in front of her was a man?

Withdrawing his hand, Ben said, "Let's go. I'll take you back, or you want to live in this room, or change to another room, as long as you have this request."

Tilly thought about it, and went to sleep in the original room.

She knew that what Ben said just now was a joke, and it was impossible for them to sleep in the same room.

Besides, she was a woman and needed to be reserved.

So, Tilly said, "Then I'm going back."

Anyway, her room was next door, so Tilly didn't cling to Ben, but went back into the room by herself.

After entering the room, Tilly jumped back on the bed, wrapped herself in the blanket, and screamed non-stop.

She thought Ben was so handsome today.

Especially the moment Tilly opened the door, she felt that Ben was the most handsome man in the world.

However, when Tilly calmed down, she fell into distress.

Based on what she knew about her father, it was impossible for him to let her go so easily, and he would definitely send someone over to take her back again.

However, Tilly really can't go back now.

She still didn't know what was going on with April, and she was even worried about whether it had anything to do with her father, which all worried Tilly.

In any case, she had to wait until she heard from April.

What was more, now that Tilly had met Ben, she felt even more that Innisrial was a very good place for her.

She added another reason for not wanting to leave here.

However, Tilly didn't do irrational things because of this, and she still knew what she should do.

Sighing, Tilly stopped thinking that way.

She was indeed very sleepy. After tidying up the quilt, she then fell into a deep sleep.

Tilly was sleeping so soundly, but Ben wasn't having a good time.

After he returned to the room, he called his assistant directly.

The people of Hughes family dared to be so presumptuous in his territory. If this person was not found out, he, the trusted head of the family, might have to change his position.

This matter was only known by Ben at the moment, and other people wasn't clear about it. Probably only the person who cooperated with the Hughes family would really feel unable to sleep and too nervous at this moment.

After arrangements, he sent someone to do another thing.

He had people to investigate Tilly closely.

Based on Tilly's attitude today, she was not close to his father.

This made Ben very puzzled. What kind of secret was hidden in Tilly?

He had to think about whether to bring her into his own world. And whether she was an enemy or a friend, it was still a matter to be verified.

Chapter 415 This is the end

The Lake House.

At 5 o'clock in the morning, the doorbell rang.

Kelvin opened the door and saw Ash coming with Walter.

Kelvin asked, "How is it? No one is following you?"

"Don't worry," Ash said, patting his chest, "Don't you trust me?"

Kelvin laughed and said, "It's really hard to say."

Ash glared at Kelvin, inexplicably feeling that this man had become so bad now that he would have doubts about his abilities.

Ash said, "Kelvin, aren't you afraid of breaking my heart when you say that?"

Stopping joking, Kelvin still paid attention to the current situation, and said, "Okay, come in first."

When Walter learned from Patrick that Aimee was going to send him over, his expression was tense all the time.

Up to now, he was still tense.

Kelvin knew how Walter was feeling now. Without any delay, he said directly to Walter, "She is on the second floor. Her condition is very stable. You can rest assured that there is no one who cannot be saved if Aimee takes action. No worries."

Walter looked towards Kelvin. Although he could understand what he said, his emotions were still uncontrollable.

He said, "May I go and see her now?"

"You can only see her from the outside. The room has been converted into a sterile room by Aimee. She needs to stay in the room for half a month." Kelvin said.

Walter felt even more distressed when he heard the words, but what followed was anger.

How ruthless it was! They actually harmed a girl who was already in poor health.

Walter took a deep breath and said, "Then take me outside first."

"Let's go." Kelvin sighed secretly. If this happened to Casey, he might be even more angry than Walter, and even, very likely, he would directly go to the prisoner's den

He might not think about the overall situation and think so much at all if that was the case.

Walter was able to forbear. For Kelvin, he had really done a very good job.

The two went to the second floor, but entered another room. Then they jumped from the balcony of that room to the balcony where April was.

There was another huge floor-to-ceiling window. They can clearly see what it looked like inside.

April's whole body was covered with tubes, and she was in a coma.

Walter clenched his hands tightly, restraining himself so that he didn't let him punch the glass.

Kelvin patted Walter on the shoulder to reassure him.

He said, "Don't worry so much. She is not in a coma actually. Aimee injected her with sleep medicine. She needs to be in sleep for the next half month."

"Will this medicine hurt her body?" Walter asked.

Kelvin said, "All medicines are naturally harmful to the body, but you can rest assured that with Aimee's ability, she will minimize this kind of harm."

What was more, as far as April's body was concerned, there was probably nothing that can hurt her more.

Although Kelvin didn't say this, Walter still understood.

He gritted his teeth and said, "Thank you for your hard work."

"Don't worry. Aimee has specifically explained that since we rescued her, we won't let her have any accidents again." Kelvin said.

Walter asked, "What can I do?"

"Actually, the reason why Aimee didn't want you to come over in the first place was also because, even if you come here, you really couldn't do anything." Kelvin said.

Now that April's physical condition needed no company. On the contrary, the fewer people in contact with her, the better.

Even in this sterile room, apart from Aimee and Kelvin, there were two nurses who were in charge of April. The others were blocked by Aimee. Even if they were willing to go through layers of disinfection to enter the room. It was also not allowed by Aimee.

This accident made Aimee's requirements even stricter, and she would never allow any more accidents to happen.

Walter knew that in this respect, and really couldn't help her with anything.

So, he said, "In other words, I really have no meaning to stay here."

Even, what he thought, at first, was that it would be good to just accompany by April's side.

Kelvin compressed his lips and said, "That's the reason. However, we won't force you to make a decision for you. Everything depends on your idea."

Walter was silent for a long time, with his gaze resting on April's face.

In fact, at this distance, he couldn't see anything clearly.

Even April's face can't be seen clearly.

However, he could still see how weak she was now.

Walter said, "Then I'll do other things. I'll leave this to you."

Kelvin nodded and said, "Don't worry. Aimee and I will make her recover, and you won't be so exhausted."

Walter gave Kelvin a grateful look before jumping back to the balcony next door.

As if to prevent himself from regretting, he left without staying for a moment.

Kelvin followed him, coming down the stairs.

Walter was ready to leave.

He couldn't stay here any longer. Otherwise, he would definitely be reluctant to leave.

Ash looked at Kelvin and asked, "Is this the end?"

Kelvin winked, telling him not to gossip so much.

He walked over and said to Walter, "I still want to tell you that don't worry. We'll take care of her."

Walter looked at Kelvin deeply. At this moment, he really regarded Kelvin as his important friend.

He said, "Thank you."

Without any further delay, Walter and Ash left quietly, as if they had never been here.

Kelvin went back to the second floor, went back to his room, and monitored April's physical indicators from the data on the computer screen.

In fact, he didn't quite tell Walter that April's body was much worse than they expected.

All of her statistics were very substandard.

In other words, her life was saved, but it was really hard to say whether there will be any sequelae in the future.

However, this was what Aimee told Kelvin that it must not be mentioned in front of Walter.

She was also working hard to develop new medicines to heal April's body.

Chapter 416 Take it easy

Mirth Hotel.

Top floor.

Ben sat on a sofa, looking at the man in front of him.

Arthur Burton, one of the directors of Mirth Hotel.

At this moment, Arthur, who had always been aloof and admired by others, was standing in front of Ben, submissive, as if his breathing was wrong.

This appearance really disgusted Ben very much.

He was too lazy to pay attention to this man anymore, so he just said in a cold voice, "Uncle Burton, you seem to be very dissatisfied with me. Otherwise, you wouldn't join forces with outsiders to make trouble in the hotel. If that's the case, you should find another job."

Arthur became anxious when he heard that Ben was really going to chase him away.

He looked at Ben and said, "Ben, you can't treat me like this. I'm the veteran of the company. How can you say that and drive me away?"

Ben compressed his lips and smiled, very bluntly, "It turns out that you still know you're the veteran of the company. I thought you didn't know anything and forgot who you're."

Arthur listened to Ben's sharp words, and immediately felt ashamed.

However, working in the Lee Group was very lucrative.

Especially for a senior figure like him, there were so many benefits that it was unimaginable.

Now, Ben actually wanted to drive him away from the company, so how could Arthur bear it?

Arthur said, "I admit that I did instruct them to ignore what happened last night. But, with the Hughes family's status in the capital, I think it's only good to please them. Ben, I'm all for the good of the company, and also for the future."

Ben was almost pissed off by hearing Arthur's shameless words.

Ben laughed lightly, and said, "I still call you Uncle Burton because you are a veteran, but I don't know when Lee Group needs to do things in the instruction of Hughes family? Aren't they exceeding their power?"

When Arthur heard Ben's arrogant words, he naturally disapproved.

He said, "Ben, don't forget that the Hughes family is the most likely to reach the top position. Do you think it is difficult for them to destroy a family?"

Ben licked inside his cheek lightly.

Arthur was like a simp when he said that.

This seemed to say that with the power of the Hughes family, it would be a piece of cake to ruin the Lee family.

Ben didn't care much about this. There had been a saying since ancient times that people don't fight with officials, and he was not a person who didn't know the way of doing things.

However, Ben was very curious about whether it was Arthur's own idea, or the one from the Hughes family inspired him.

He leaned back on the sofa in a laid-back attitude, looking at Arthur playfully.

Ben said, "If I hadn't known you for as long as I could remember and called you uncle, I would have thought you were a watchdog from the Hughes family when I heard you say that."

Arthur's face turned pale in an instant.

What Ben said was not polite at all.

And it can be said that such words were very insulting.

However, Ben did not give him a chance to defend himself. Instead, he continued to sneer and mocked, "Since you're so loyal to the Hughes family, then I'll show you respect so that you can do a good job for them. I think you would be very willing."

In the end, Ben just drove Arthur away directly.

Arthur watched Ben grow up, so he naturally knew what kind of temperament he had. Ben seemed to be too gentle, but in fact, he was very difficult to get along with. It can be said that it was almost impossible to get any benefits from Ben. And it was even more impossible to change his mind. Arthur was very angry, but he also knew that it was useless. If he continued to entangle like this, he will only be disgraced. However, Arthur didn't want to embarrass himself so much, and said fiercely to Ben, "You are just relying on your youth and arrogance. Sooner or later, you'll pay the price for your recklessness." Arthur's words had no deterrent for Ben. On the contrary, the louder Arthur was at the moment, the more he was like a clown to Ben. Too lazy to talk nonsense with Arthur, Ben had someone take him away directly, and dismissed Arthur. Arthur stood still cursing all the way. Ben licked the corner of his mouth lightly, took out his cell phone, and called Patrick. "Patrick, the Hughes family's meddling has gone too far. You should also pay attention to it." Ben said. What happened today, in Ben's opinion, was definitely not an accident, but a long-planned arrangement. This also meant that even though they had nothing to do with the Hill family, they were still drawn into this whirlpool. What was more, now because of April, the Hayden family had been dragged into it. And those of them who had a good relation with the Hayden family can't escape from it. Patrick had already heard of Ben's ruthlessness that he directly removed Arthur from the board of directors. Arthur had no relation with the Lee Group ever since. Patrick said, "I didn't expect that they would start from you first." Even though this incident can be attributed to the fact that Tilly lived in Ben's hotel, it would be naive if they thought it were really that simple. Ben said, "It's normal. It seems like I'm the weak one." These people, from childhood to adulthood, had very obvious personalities. All along, it seemed that he was the easiest to be bullied. Unlike the Hayden family's brothers, he was not straightforward and ruthless. More often than not, he was the gentlest one. Therefore, people would feel that he was the most useless one. Ben had never been troubled by this kind of evaluation, but now they wanted to do something to him, which made it unbearable for Ben. He said, "Patrick, since they want to deal with me, why not give them this chance?" Patrick was silent for a moment, then said, "Take it easy."

Chapter 417 It's actually her

After hanging up, Ben threw the phone aside. What Patrick said at the end told him to take it easy, and he naturally understood what it meant. With a low laugh, Ben walked to the window, overlooking the bustling road. He was lost in thought, partly, of Tilly. The investigation data of Tilly had been sent to him. According to it, there was no problem with her. What she had shown and said, the relationship between her and April, and the things that didn't seem to be harmonious between her and her family were all written in detail in the information. Ben had no doubts about this.

However, he was still suspicious. It was so coincidental for Tilly to appear in Innisrial and to meet him, to live in his hotel, and to have a confrontation between him and her father.

All of this seemed to be a coincidence, but when he thought about it, it was full of many unknown entanglements.

If everything had been planned and arranged long ago, then he really wanted to applaud Tilly for what she had shown.

With such a good acting skill, if she didn't become an actress, it will be a waste of her talented performance.

Ben just thought about it. All of this may be a very likely trap. As if his heart was stuffed by something, he was very upset.

Frowning, Ben walked back, picked up his phone, and tapped the Facebook app.

His eyes fell on Tilly's avatar. He was silent for a while, and finally tapped it.

Ben sent a text, "Are you awake?"

It was almost noon now, and according to Ben's schedule, he had already woken up.

However, that accident happened in the middle of the night, so it was normal for her to catch up on sleep.

So, Ben still asked this question.

To Ben's surprise, Tilly replied quickly, and, to his even more surprise, Tilly said, "I just slept for a few minutes."

Through the phone screen, Ben seemed to be able to feel Tilly's unhappiness.

"What?" Ben asked.

It had been six or seven hours. If she wanted to sleep, she can naturally fall asleep.

Tilly seemed to be even more aggrieved, and sent an emoji to Ben, saying pitifully, "I'm scared."

Ben stared at the words on the phone screen, somewhat dumbfounded.

With a low laugh, Ben said, "Since you're awake, dress up and I'll take you to dinner."

Ben didn't know what Tilly was doing, but she didn't reply to his message.

Ben thought she was going to wash up, so he didn't care and sent another message, "I'll call you in half an hour."

She still didn't reply, but Ben thought that giving Tilly half an hour should be enough.

After all, it only took ten minutes for him to wash himself up before going out.

However, Ben didn't understand how much time girls would need.

Half an hour later, Ben came out of the room and went to find Tilly.

But, when he arrived at Tilly's room, he rang the doorbell for a long time, but there was no response.

Ben's expression was not very good. If Tilly saw him like this now, she might be frightened.

However, Ben was not in a hurry. He was sure that Tilly must be in the room, so he stopped ringing the doorbell. Instead, he went back to his room and sent a message to Tilly, "Pack up and come find me."

Tilly actually felt that she was moving very fast, but when she packed up and appeared in front of Ben's room, it was an hour and a half later.

Tilly was really a little winced, not even daring to ring the doorbell.

In fact, when she returned to her room, she did fall asleep very quickly.

As a result, after less than ten minutes of sleep, Tilly woke up from the nightmare. When she closed her eyes, she seemed to see the men in black rushing in and grabbing her.

In particular, her father's face appeared in the dream. He was very angry, as if he might beat her to death at any time.

Tilly was so frightened that she jumped out of bed. She was already drenched and covered in sweat. She didn't dare to continue to sleep, but shrank herself under the quilt. Staring at the direction of the door all the time, she was afraid that what happened before would happen again. She held the phone, and the interface displayed a dialog with Ben all the time. However, Tilly was very cowardly and dared not disturb Ben anymore. Just keeping her eyes open until dawn, Tilly thought that Ben had gone back to his room to sleep, and thought that no matter what, she couldn't disturb him. Tilly was touched by her thoughtful behavior, but she didn't know that Ben hadn't fallen asleep since he was woken up by her voice call. Even, when Tilly thought she was being considerate, he even got rid of Arthur. So, when Tilly received Ben's message, she was very happy, but she didn't expect that Ben would take her to dinner. This made her roll off the bed directly. She was so excited. Because she was wrapped in a quilt and the carpet was very thick, she didn't hurt from falling. However, Tilly didn't dare to delay, but ran into the bathroom without watching her phone. However, when Tilly stood in front of the mirror, she was dumbfounded. The girl in the mirror who looked like a ghost was actually her? This made it impossible for Tilly to bear it. She will never allow herself to have any flaws in her beautiful face. So, Tilly hurriedly began to remedy the situation, using the fastest and most effective things to restore herself to a young girl full of vitality. Even the clothes she wore were very lively, but also a little bit sexy. It can be said that she was very ingenious. However, when Tilly was satisfied with everything from the strands of her hair to her feet, she had time to check her phone. Now, Tilly was completely dumbfounded. Ben actually only gave her half an hour. However, she had already spent an hour and a half. Tilly hurried out of the room and ran to Ben's room.

Chapter 418 Specially reserved

Ben waited in the room for a long time, but didn't wait for Tilly's reply. In desperation, he could only deal with his business first. Kicking Arthur out of the Mirth Hotel was just the beginning. In the future, people from Arthur's faction will surely make trouble out of nothing. Ben was not in a hurry to uproot them all, but was going to wait and see who, with unclear factions, would stand up for Arthur. This was indeed a good opportunity to do the housecleaning, and Ben naturally will not give up. However, doing so meant that the entire Lee Group will be plunged into turmoil for some time to come. Ben wasn't worried about this, but was looking forward to it. He just wanted to see how many people had been crooked over the years. After dealing with several documents, Ben suddenly heard his stomach growl. He frowned, and then glanced at the time. It was past twelve o'clock. Ben almost laughed out of anger.

What was she doing to make him wait so long?

Ben prided himself on not being a patient person, and he never treated anyone like this in the past. In his opinion, waiting was the most time-wasting thing. If it was someone who wanted to cooperate with him and made him wait for so long, he will definitely take back the opportunity of cooperation. How could he have imagined that one day, he would have such patience with a girl, and he could really wait for such a long time.

It was just that he hadn't eaten anything since he was woken up last night.

At this moment, he was really hungry and had a stomachache.

Standing up from behind the desk, Ben held his phone, ready to go straight to Tilly's room and knock on the door.

If she still didn't open the door for him this time, then he will ask someone to bring the key card and go in directly.

However, when Ben opened the door, he saw Tilly standing at the door of his room.

As if she didn't expect him to open the door suddenly, Tilly's face was filled with astonishment. She blinked and said, "Hi."

Ben was confused by her obedient and cute appearance, and he lost any impatience in an instant.

He looked Tilly up and down. She wore a bright yellow puff-sleeved shirt and a white skirt today. She looked very youthful, and in an instant, she would make people feel better.

In fact, if the bright yellow color clothes were worn by people with less fair skin, it will be a disaster.

However, the girl in front of him was so beautiful in such a dress that Ben couldn't take his eyes off her.

Ben was not a person who would show his emotions, so he closed the door behind his back and said to Tilly, "Let's go to eat."

Tilly nodded and immediately turned and walked in the direction of the elevator.

Ben discovered that the back of her shirt was actually designed with an open back. There were only some straps intertwined on the back, revealing her perfect back. The backless design was even more sexy.

After being surprised, Ben looked down and his eyes darkened.

This girl didn't know how seductive she was when she dressed like this.

Inexplicably, Ben really didn't want others to see Tilly.

However, he was only able to suppress the urge now.

He was not Tilly's boyfriend, and he had no reason or position to judge Tilly's clothes.

However, even though he understood it, Ben still felt uncomfortable.

He was very upset.

Just looking at her like this made him extremely uncomfortable.

And when they went to the restaurant on the second floor, Ben's unhappiness became more intense.

Even though he didn't show his emotions, at this moment, he still did it.

It was the time for dinner. There were many people in the restaurant, and Ben had already noticed that at least seven men's gazes were on Tilly's body, to be more precise, on her back.

Men understood men's gaze best, and what that gaze represented was self-evident.

For a moment, Ben even regretted it.

He should have told Tilly to change it.

He thought that the sweater skirt she wore last night was very good.

Tilly had no idea what Ben was thinking.

But, from the moment she entered the elevator, Tilly had sensed Ben's displeasure.

She didn't think much of it, but thought it was because she was so late that Ben was upset. So, Tilly was obedient, chose not to say anything, and just stood there. Wherever Ben led her, she went there.

On the second floor of Mirth Hotel was the Chinese restaurant.

It was also the best Chinese restaurant among all hotels in Innisrial.

Many people who were not residents also came here to eat.

However, the price of Mirth Hotel prevented people from dining here.

Although the peak meal time had passed at this moment, it was still overcrowded.

Tilly followed Ben through the lobby, and there wasn't an empty seat as far as she could see.

Just when Tilly thought they were going to wait in line, she found herself led into a private room by Ben.

Tilly was a little speechless. It can be seen that this private room had a very high standard, and it should be used to entertain the most important guests.

She looked at Ben, and finally said, "It's just the two of us. Isn't it a bit too wasteful to come to the private room?"

Ben turned his head to look at Tilly, and said, "Do you want to go to the lobby and wait for a seat?"

Tilly didn't care about these things. She also often went to places where internet influencers would go, and queued for hours. She didn't think there was anything wrong with this.

This was probably the difference in thinking between them.

Ben's only thought now was to eat.

He said, "If you want to line up, you can try it at another time. Now, sit down and have a meal."

In front of Ben, Tilly was really cowardly. Hearing what he said, she didn't say anything more, but sat obediently on the chair.

When Ben saw this, he felt helpless again, and in the end, he kindly explained, "This room is reserved for a special purpose, and it is not open to the public."

Chapter 419 I was just thinking about something

Hearing Ben's explanation, Tilly had no burden.

She was familiar with this operation.

When many wealthy families opened a store, they will leave an exclusive place for their people.

However, Tilly didn't like this kind of thing herself, and won't show her identity to enjoy these special treatment.

At this point, she was like a very ordinary girl who was interested only in pretty and popular places.

However, it didn't mean she had any dissatisfaction with it.

On the contrary, Tilly felt that Ben should be like this.

After sitting on the chair, Tilly looked at the private room again, sighing secretly in her heart. Ben must be a person who enjoyed himself very much. And that was why he got such an exclusive private room.

When she was thinking about it, Ben handed her the menu.

"What do you want to eat?" Ben said.

Although he was indeed very hungry, and now he can't wait to bring the food to him immediately, Ben acted like a gentleman and let Tilly take the order first.

Tilly was not restrained. After a quick scan of the menu, she chose what she liked.

She did not quibble or say anything, as other girls did.

In Tilly's view, this kind of girl was very unlikable for her.

At least, she can't be friends with them.

Tilly wouldn't let herself be the kind of girl she disliked.

After taking her order, Tilly handed Ben the menu and said, "Order what you want."

Ben took a cursory glance at the dishes Tilly ordered. Her taste was similar to his. When he was about to say what she ordered was enough, he heard Tilly say that.

He was a little astonished, looked up at Tilly, and after a while, he said, "You can eat a lot."

She looked thin, and her arms looked like they could be crushed by pinching. He didn't expect that she would have such a big appetite.

Tilly tilted her head and thought about what she ordered just now, but she didn't think she could eat a lot.

Looking at Ben with dissatisfaction, she said, "It's very rude of you to say that."

"Okay, okay, I'm just kidding," Ben smiled, added two more dishes and a dessert, and said, "I'm not bragging. I can tell you that the dessert here is the best in Innisrial. If you don't try it, you'll regret it."

Tilly immediately became interested, stared at Ben for a while, and said, "What if I don't think it tastes good?"

Ben gave a low laugh and said, "Then I'll promise you one request."

In an instant, Tilly's eyes lit up a little bit, and she looked at Ben with a wicked smile on her face, "That's what you said. You can't lie to me."

Ben was a little dumbfounded. Whom did she think of him?

He said, "However, you cannot tell lies against your conscience."

If it was to win, she can deliberately say that the dessert here was not delicious, which was not allowed.

Tilly snorted softly and said, "Do I look that bad?"

Ben heard her say that and wanted to tease her in an instant.

"It depends on your conscience," he said.

Tilly was speechless.

How did she feel that Ben regarded her as an ungrateful person?

Compressing her lips, Tilly said, "Don't worry. I won't be so unobjective."

Ben flattened his mouth and didn't continue to tease her.

In fact, if she got upset by teasing, he needed to coax her in the end.

Soon, the dishes were brought in.

Ben was already very hungry, but did not forget to take care of Tilly. He put a piece of chicken in a bowl for her, and said, "Try it and see if it suits your taste."

Tilly didn't expect that Ben would serve food for her, and was stunned for a while.

She stared at Ben for a long time, and came to a conclusion that in the future, the person who will become Ben's girlfriend will be very happy.

This man was a downright gentleman, which made him so special.

But, just thinking about it, Tilly felt an inexplicable sense of discomfort if he showed this kind of gentleman behavior to other girls.

One thing she had to admit was that she really liked this man.

From his amazing appearance when they first met, to last night when he appeared like a savior and an unrivaled hero, to now, although he teased her sometimes, in general, this man was a gentleman.

Tilly believed that no girl can refuse such a man.

She would be attracted to him, and this was completely normal.

However, it was precisely because of this that Tilly felt that it would be very difficult for her to have anything to do with Ben.

She bit her lower lip, and for some reason, she couldn't eat any more.

Ben didn't notice it at first. After a few mouthfuls of food, he felt a lot more comfortable in his stomach, so he looked at Tilly, saw that she was poking the chicken in the bowl with a fork. "What's wrong? It doesn't suit your appetite?"

This made Ben have to pay attention to her.

Mirth Hotel had no problems at star rating. The accommodation environment and various services were also well-known both at home and abroad.

However, catering was the most famous part of Mirth Hotel.

Ben had always been very confident in the hotel's catering, and he had never encountered anyone who had no appetite in the food of the hotel.

It was the first time Ben had seen anyone act like this.

He was very puzzled. She was fine just now, and she was obviously very excited when she was ordering, but now she looked like she didn't want to move the fork at all.

Hearing what Ben said, Tilly immediately shook her head and said, "No, I don't think it's bad. I was just thinking about something."

As she spoke, Tilly picked up the piece of chicken that was about to be smashed by her, and put it in her mouth.

Just a split second, Tilly's eyes flooded with light again.

She looked at Ben, couldn't wait to swallow the chicken in her mouth, raised her hand and gave Ben a thumbs up. "This is too delicious! This is the best I've ever eaten!"

Chapter 420 I am a beast

Seeing Tilly like this, Ben was relieved.

He smiled and said, "I thought its reputation is going to be tarnished."

Tilly immediately shook her head and said, "No, it's really delicious."

Ben was amused by her, and said, "Just eat when it's time to eat. Don't think about irrelevant things."

Tilly muttered softly, "It's not irrelevant."

What she was thinking about was a very important thing.

However, Tilly couldn't tell Ben what she thought just now.

She became depressed again in an instant.

However, at this moment, Tilly was still amazed by the food in front of her.

She was actually very picky about food.

For example, she was keen to go to those restaurants where YouTube influencers would recommend.

Some of them actually had no tasty food at all. People just went there for the environment and atmosphere. In that cases, Tilly will not be unhappy at all.

However, when she came to the kind of restaurants where people claimed that their own food was the most delicious, it was actually very difficult for Tilly to feel that it was as good as it was praised.

However, even though Tilly would return disappointed every time, she was still very keen on doing that. Moreover, she was becoming more and more intense in being picky.

It was the first time that Tilly felt that the food here was really delicious.

Tilly said, "Let me tell you. If I say something that is not delicious, it may not be really bad. It may just be that I don't like it, but others will like it. However, when I say something delicious, no one will dislike it.

Everyone will think that it is really delicious."

Ben was amused by her tongue twister-like words.

He said, "It seems that your tongue is very powerful."

Tilly stuck out her tongue. She looked cute, but what she said was extremely arrogant.

"Of course, I've got the best tongue in the country," Tilly said.

Ben looked at her smug appearance, and inexplicably felt that she was in a very good mood.

He didn't know what kind of magical power this girl possessed, but she can make him seem to be able to forget everything and continue to listen to her.

Soon, the two ate all the dishes on the table.

Ben finally realized that Tilly's appetite was really amazing.

He leaned back on the chair idly, and asked with some doubts, "How can you be so thin?"

Tilly looked down at herself, and said, "I'm not thin. I have everything I should have."

Her figure was top-notch among the rich young ladies in the capital.

There were many young girls who wanted to get close to her. Apart from the fact that she was the daughter of the Hughes family, another very important reason was that they wanted to know from her how to get such a good figure like her.

However, there were some who thought it was unnatural, and some even came over directly and asked which hospital she had the filling for.

For these women, Tilly will roll her eyes.

In fact, Tilly admitted that she ate a lot. However, she was active and very versatile in all sports. In addition, it was because of the genes. Her mother was a beautiful woman with a perfect body shape.

Of course, such a good figure was due to her mother's strict management of her since she was a child.

She must have a perfect angle and posture when sitting and standing, and she will not be given a chance to be lazy at all. Otherwise, she will be punished.

Tilly had suffered a lot in this regard.

It was only in the past few years that she can sit in any posture she liked.

When Ben heard Tilly's words, he couldn't help but look at Tilly's chest.

However, her clothes made it difficult to see if what she said was true.

Ben couldn't help thinking back to last night, when Tilly opened the door and threw herself into his arms.

The feeling of hitting his chest was indeed soft.

In an instant, Ben was short of breath, and unconsciously thought of evil things.

He looked at Tilly, but this girl actually looked at him with an extremely innocent and arrogant look. She didn't feel at all that it was wrong for her to say such things to a man.

Ben got a headache. He didn't know whether to think that Tilly was such a pure and innocent girl, or to think that she really knew how to conceal her purpose very well.

If Tilly came to Innisrial and everything was arranged, Ben really wanted to take a good look at what kind of secrets she had.

Tilly didn't hear Ben's answer, asking doubtfully, "What's wrong? Don't you believe it?"

Ben's eyes flickered slightly and he said, "If I don't believe it, how can you prove it?"

Tilly didn't expect Ben to ask such a question, and for a moment, she didn't know how to answer.

Holding her chin, she quickly thought of a way, "Why don't we go swimming together?"

Ben was extremely speechless.

Why was she so bold?

Sh actually invited a man to go swimming together in order to prove that she got a good body shape.

If she wasn't trying to seduce him, she was really stupid.

Thinking about it this way, Ben felt that his previous worries might really be superfluous. If the Hughes Family expected Tilly to come to Innisrial to create a disturbance, it was afraid that the entire Hughes family will be accountable for it.

He said, "For everyone who doubts your figure, do you invite them to go swimming together?"

Tilly frowned, looked at Ben, and said, "No, I'm not that showy. I just want to prove it to you."

What she said was so sincere that Ben was a little speechless for a moment.

He was not an idiot, so he could naturally feel Tilly's interest in him from the way Tilly looked at him.

However, Ben still felt a little troublesome for Tilly's bold words.

If he rejected her, he didn't know how disappointed the girl would be.

However, if he just agreed to her, Ben would really feel that he was a beast.
