Chapter 511 I have someone send it over

Martha couldn't resist Douglas. After a long silence, she said, "I'm going to take a long vacation."

He won't let her resign, then he should give her a long vacation.

"Okay." Douglas answered without thinking twice.

Martha was thinking, if she didn't take a day off, he probably wouldn't force herself to come back to work.

However, before she could start to feel complacent, she heard Douglas say, "There is one condition."

"What?" Martha tensed up instantly, and the hairs on her whole body stood on end.

She was so nervous that she even forgot to breathe, feeling like the world was about to collapse. Douglas's condition must be difficult for her to fulfill.

Sure enough, the next second, Martha heard Douglas say, "You live here."

"What?" Martha's eyes widened. She was unable to believe what she had heard.

Douglas stood up and said, "You heard me right. I can let you not to go to work in the company, but you have to live here."

"What do you mean?" Martha jumped up from the sofa, looked at Douglas in astonishment, and said, "Are you trying to imprison me?"

"No need to say that. I don't have to do this," Douglas said.

"But what do you mean by doing this? Aren't you just doing this!?" Martha became agitated. Her voice was trembling, and her eyes were full of anger and grievance when she looked at Douglas.

What did it mean? Why was he trying to do?

Why did he want to do this? Martha found that she seemed to be unable to understand Douglas' thoughts.

Douglas at the moment was like a lunatic.

Martha's eyes turned red. She originally had a pair of attractive eyes, but at this moment, they looked extraordinarily pitiful.

Douglas softened for a moment, but only for a moment.

He said, "Otherwise, just go to the company with me."

"I don't agree!" Martha said, "Douglas, you are breaking the law. I can sue you!"

Martha yelled, so angry.

It was the first time she had called Douglas by his first name like that, and yelled at him.

Douglas narrowed his eyes and said, "Sue me? That's fine. Then let's settle the score from the beginning and let me know what kind of purpose you have to approach me for the past seven years."

With what he said, Martha completely became listless.

She literally wanted to kill Douglas.

She never knew that he could be so vile.

He directly limited her freedom.

However, if she was asked to dig out bits and pieces of the past and show him, she really couldn't do it.

Martha finally couldn't hold back, and tears fell down.

She bit her lip tightly to keep herself from crying.

The reason why she felt so wronged was she knew that she had no way to resist.

Those past embarrassments were the last thing she wanted Douglas to know.

She didn't have the courage to show them, or show them to Douglas.

That was the past she couldn't bear to look back on, and it was also the scar she couldn't touch the most.

Martha's tears fell down, but there was still no sound.

This appearance of her was totally different from Douglas' impression on her.

In the past seven years, Martha had always been capable, proud and strong.

She never was like this for a moment.

However, at this moment, she made Douglas suddenly regret it.

Did he do something wrong? Did he really hurt her?

Douglas opened his mouth and wanted to say something, but saw that Martha had already sat down on the sofa.

She didn't speak or look at him, just sat on the sofa.

She looked like she was extremely aggrieved, but she didn't say anything but was like at his mercy.

Douglas became softhearted, but still didn't let go.

He couldn't leave her alone until he figured something out.

Moreover, Douglas had a premonition that Martha was determined not to work for him anymore. The reason why she asked for leave now was she wanted to procrastinate. She thought he could do nothing about her if she kept putting it off.

With this kind of thinking, Douglas didn't know whether to say she was innocent or naive.

He said, "I can go back with you to get the things you need. If you don't have anything you need, then I'll ask someone to prepare new ones for you."

Martha had given up resisting, and now she was a pitiful girl at the mercy of Douglas.

Douglas just assumed that she had made a decision, "I'll ask someone to send them over."

Martha bit her lip and said, "I'll go back and get them myself."

After all, she still had some rationality, and she hadn't completely given up.

Douglas's other secretaries and assistants were all men.

She didn't want a man to do that. Besides, there would be something private stuff.

Moreover, in these years, Douglas had not had a woman by his side, so it was difficult not to misunderstand the sudden appearance of a woman living in his house.

Martha had a little sense. No matter what, she can't have any misunderstandings with her.

Otherwise, she will not be able to explain it clearly even if she wanted it in the future.

Chapter 512 She is wronged too

Douglas observed Martha's expression, and in an instant, he understood what she was thinking.

At the moment when he knew her mind clear, Douglas was so angry and dumbfounded at the same time.

What the hell was this woman thinking? If he wanted to be misunderstood, did she really think she can guard against it?

Martha raised her face, looked at Douglas, and asked, "Can I go back now?"

Even if it was just to go back to get things, Martha wanted to do it as soon as possible.

Douglas said, "Okay, let's go."

Martha bit her lip, trying to suppress the urge to say that she could go back and get things by herself.

Without any delay, the two returned to Martha's residence.

At this moment, it was already morning, and the neighborhood was bustling with activity.

Most of the residents in this community were elderly people, and they were all out to bask in the sun now.

Douglas' car was clearly out of place here.

However, the elderly had already went through a lot. Even if they were attracted by the sudden appearance of luxury car and the young people, they would not think too much or gossip.

At their age, they were too lazy to gossip about other people's affair.

Martha got out of the car and searched the vicinity, wanting to see if her slipper was still there, but, sure enough, to her disappointment, the slipper was gone.

Martha said, "Wait for me for a while. I will come down soon."

She wouldn't be thinking about playing tricks with Douglas right now.

It was really not necessary anymore.

Douglas had already got out of the car, walked over, and said, "I'll go up with you."

Martha wanted to refuse subconsciously, but when she saw Douglas' eyes, she knew very well that she had no way to refuse.

Helpless, Martha could only nod and let Douglas go upstairs with her.

Martha lived on the third floor. The stairs were narrow. The handrails were loose, and there was even a lot of dust on them.

She was very overcautious that Douglas probably had never been to such a place before.

She was really worried about whether Douglas would have any physical discomfort.

Martha was secretly observing Douglas' expression, and was relieved to see that it was as usual. He didn't feel uncomfortable at all.

Douglas even seemed to be a little finicky in many things.

So, in a place like this, it was a complete surprise to Martha that he hadn't lost his temper.

Martha opened the door, still feeling a little uneasy. She didn't really want to let Douglas in, and was still trying to struggle.

She turned around and said, "Mr. Torres..."

"I've already come up, so you want to drive me down?" Douglas raised his eyebrows. His appearance clearly meant to say: "If you dare to think so, I'll strangle you to death."

Martha did think so, but dared not say it.

Douglas said, "You should be glad that we're on the third floor. If it's thirteenth, you can see if I will push you down."

Martha turned away immediately, and opened the door to let Douglas in.

Douglas snorted in satisfaction.

He walked inside. The layout could be seen clearly. It can be said that it surprised Douglas very much.

He didn't even know how Martha would allow herself to live in such a place.

For him, this was not a place for people to live at all.

As soon as he walked in, he felt a sense of depression.

That was Martha's home. The orientation of it was quite good. The sunlight can shine in, making her home quite bright.

But the roof was so low that Douglas felt that something was pressing on top of his head.

Martha said, "Sit down. I'll go and tidy things up."

Douglas' eyes fell on a small sofa. To be honest, with his long legs, sitting on such a sofa would really make him feel uncomfortable.

However, Douglas still sat down on the sofa, which was considered to be the respect for Martha.

Martha breathed a sigh of relief again, went to fetch a bottle of mineral water for Douglas, and then went back to the room to sort things out.

In fact, she had nothing to tidy up.

She wasn't planning on staying with Douglas permanently either. If she got the chance, she'd want to leave.

So, in just fifteen minutes, Martha got them sorted.

Douglas knew what she was thinking when he saw that she was only carrying a small travel bag, which wasn't even full.

He licked inside his cheek lightly, but didn't say much.

He had offered her the opportunity. Since she was so ungrateful, she shouldn't blame him.

"Done?" Douglas stood up from the sofa. His voice was emotionless.

Martha nodded and said, "It's done. Let's go."

Douglas nodded and said, "Let's go. I've been spending so much time with you. I'm hungry. Go eat first."

Martha really wanted to talk back that she didn't make him to this. She was wronged if he blamed her so much.

But, what can be done? He was such a person.

The two came down from upstairs and returned to the car, but Martha didn't say another word.

Anyway, from now on, what she was about to face was a life in prison. Her current mood can be described as a life devoid of meaning.

Chapter 513 Make her so tempted

Douglas drove Martha directly to the Mirth Hotel.

As soon as they got out of the car, they saw Ben walking out with a young woman.

Douglas froze for a moment, and his eyes fell on the woman, a little astonished.

He hadn't heard that there was a woman beside Ben, and she looked so young.

However, the woman looked familiar, so Douglas unconsciously took a second look.

Likewise, Ben was eyeing Martha.

On the contrary, the two ladies, who had never heard of each other, smiled at each other, and there was an inexplicable feeling of congeniality.

Ben spoke first and said, "Mr. Torres, long time no see."

Douglas smiled, and said, "I heard you're very busy recently. Let's have a dinner when you have time."

"Okay," Ben smiled, and said, "Mr. Torres, are you here for dinner? I'll ask someone to arrange it for you."

"No, I'm just here to eat something casually. If you're busy, I can help myself." Douglas said.

Ben still called the manager over to make arrangements for Douglas, then exchanged pleasantries with him, and led Tilly away.

As soon as the two got into the car, Tilly couldn't help but said, "That girl is so beautiful."

Ben looked over at her and said, "Really? I didn't notice."

Tilly tilted her head, then laughed, and said, "Ben, don't panic. It's okay. I won't be unhappy with you. It's human nature to look at beautiful women."

Ben said, "I did pay attention to her, but not because of her appearance, but because this is the first woman other than his secretary who was brought by him not for business."

"Is it so miraculous? After you say that, it's easy for me to think wrong." Tilly said.

Ben raised his eyebrows, and it was easy to imagine how crooked Tilly's thoughts were.

He laughed unkindly, and said, "What's inside your little head?"

Tilly blinked, and was happy that Ben was able to get what she thought. Then, she giggled again and said, "Don't blame me. I didn't think about messy things."

Those things were all on Ben's own mind.

Anyway, if she didn't admit it, it was not what she thought.

Ben was really teased by her. He raised his hand and rubbed her head, saying, "From now on, it's fine to talk about this kind of thing in front of me, but don't do it in front of others."

Tilly giggled, blinked her innocent eyes, and said, "Ben, are you afraid that I will be taught a lesson?"

Ben nodded and said, "Yes, a little bit."

Tilly said, "Don't worry. I won't let people have the chance."

She believed that Ben would protect her.

Just thinking about it made Tilly feel sweet and happy.

Ben was helpless that she was really a headache.

However, it also made him like her very much.

“Okay, don’t talk about others. Go to the company with me today. Be good, understand?” Ben said.

Although he was almost in charge of the Mirth Hotel now, he also had to manage the Lee Group.

He had been living in the Mirth Hotel for a while now, and completely regard it as his office. He had to go to the group today. Otherwise, those guys who were eyeing him might take this opportunity to drive him out of office.

Tilly nodded obediently and said, “I’ll just stay in your lounge, and I won’t run around.”

Ben said, “It doesn’t matter if you run around. No one dares to make such a big deal and bully you.”

Tilly smiled, looked at Ben, and said, “Because I’m your baby?”

Her eyes were shining, and she looked cute.

Ben said, “Yeah, so, no one dares to be ignorant.”

Tilly tilted her head, very pleased.

In fact, she was not so clingy that she will follow wherever Ben went.

In fact, it was Ben who was more clingy and wanted to take her to the company, leaving her with nothing to do.

Thinking of this, Tilly couldn’t help laughing.

She said, “Ben, don’t you like me so much?”

He didn’t want to be separated from her for a moment.

Ben could see what she was thinking as soon as he glanced at her.

Taking advantage of the red light ahead, Ben turned his head, looked at Tilly, and said, “How about marrying you to prove it?”

Tilly didn’t expect Ben to say that at all, and was instantly stunned.

She couldn’t believe what she heard at all.

So, this was...

Was Ben proposing to her?

Yes?

Tilly’s face turned red in an instant, and she blinked her innocent eyes, looking straight at Ben, but didn’t know how to answer this question for a long time.

In fact, Ben’s question made Tilly feel very flustered, because she had never thought about this question.

Ben originally just wanted to tease her. In his opinion, Tilly would have said to him directly when she heard him say this: "Okay, okay, then let's go get the certificate now."

However, Ben didn't hear her answer, which made him feel a little flustered.

She was not a scumbag, right? Was it possible that she was going to play with him, enjoy the moment and just be happy?

Would she dump him after messing around with him?

Just thinking about it made Ben feel angry. He wanted to grab the back of her neck and take her to get a marriage certificate.

Inexplicably, Ben had a feeling that if he didn't make her his own earlier, something may happen sooner or later.

Ben said, "Haven't thought about it, or, don't you want to marry me?"

Tilly's face was hot, and her breathing was hot too.

She swallowed a mouthful of saliva, and after a while, she said, "Ben, are you serious?"

She was a little uncertain, wondering if she was going to get excited.

In fact, her heart was already turbulent, and if she hadn't had a little reason telling her not to be impulsive, she would have rushed over and dragged Ben to get the certificate.

Ben was even more furious. He gritted his teeth and said, "So, you think I'm playing with you when I fall in love with you? I never thought about the future for us?"

Tilly was taken aback when she heard the words, because she wanted to say that she really thought so.

When Ben saw her expression, he was very angry.

This girl really dared admit it.

Ben said, "Tilly, I'm not a teenage boy who has such a casual attitude towards relationships. Even if I were that age, I wouldn't have that attitude. Tilly, from the time I decided to be with you, I don't plan to separate with you, so if you are playing around, you'd better tell me now. If you just haven't thought about it, then, from now on, think about it."

Tilly was taken aback by Ben's sudden serious attitude.

She could feel Ben's seriousness, which made her a little scared.

However, after that, it was even more difficult for Tilly to suppress the agitation in her heart.

Finally, she couldn't hold back, and rushed towards Ben, holding his face and kissing him hard several times.

Tilly said, "Ben, you're so good at love words. I love to hear you saying those."

She never knew that when Ben said such serious words, it would make her so tempted.

Tilly said, "Ben, I really like you, really."

Ben's anger was subsided by her.

However, next, Tilly's words still gave him a headache.

Tilly said, "But, Ben, what if you find out that you don't like my type in the process of dating me? What if we fight every day in the future?"

Chapter 514 Not yet now

Ben was taken aback by Tilly's concerns.

He really didn't think about this kind of problems.

In his opinion, even if there must be conflicts between them, there was no problem at all.

He was not an impulsive man who would think they would break up because of some quarrels.

From the moment he made this choice to be with Tilly, Ben never thought about this possibility, nor would he allow such a thing to happen.

He thought about things as a mature man. Except for the unforgivable problems, such as cheating, other problems were not a big deal for Ben.

As for things in character, they can all be adjusted, and there was no need to worry about such things.

In Ben's opinion, it can be said that all, or most of breakups, which were based on personality differences, was because of cheating.

For other people, it was because there was a person with a similar personality that they would think she or he was not compatible with their current partner.

It might seem arbitrary to think so, but that was what Ben thought.

Ben said, "It's because I didn't do enough to make you think so. It's because I didn't give you an absolute sense of security that makes you think so."

Tilly immediately shook her head and said, "No, that's not the case. You've done enough. It's me who thinks about it myself. I'm too naive."

Ben touched her head and said, "You can think so, but you need to understand that I'm not a person who doesn't take relationships seriously. For you, I want to spend the rest of my life together with you. If you have any thoughts, you can tell me straight, understand?"

Tilly nodded, feeling like crying all of a sudden.

She had such a wonderful boyfriend.

What he said was almost like stabbing firmly in her heart, leaving her nowhere to escape.

There was the sound of the horn honking from behind. Tilly looked back, then looked at the green light in front of them, and immediately sat back in her seat obediently.

Ben started the car and continued to drive towards the company.

Tilly was quiet, but, every now and then, sniffed, which made Ben feel pitiful for her.

Ben looked at her and said helplessly, "You look like I bullied you."

Tilly turned her head, looked at Ben, and said, "But you indeed bullied me."

He made her want to cry, which can be regarded as a kind of bullying.

It was a sweet bully, though, and she loved it.

Ben laughed lowly. She was such a cute girl and he could only pamper her.

He stopped the car, held Tilly on the back of her head, let her approach him, and said, "Tilly, I like you very much, you know?"

Tilly nodded. Her eyes were clear and bright, and she looked terribly well-behaved.

Ben said, "So, if you take this as me bullying you, then I may bully you for the rest of your life. Will you?"

Tilly nodded again, and at the end, smiled sweetly, and said in a soft voice, "Ben, you can bully me as much as you want."

Ben curled his mouth, and suddenly said evilly, "When I really bully you, don't cry."

Tilly was stunned directly.

Her face turned red in an instant, and she instantly understood what Ben meant.

Tilly bit her lip. Her voice faltered, but she pretended to be calm and said, "I... no, I won't."

Ben couldn't stop laughing even more. After all, she was still a young girl. He just teased her like this, and she...

She made him really not want to be a gentleman.

Raising his hand and rubbing Tilly's head, Ben said, "Okay, be good. We're going to be late."

Today, they were going to hold a general meeting of shareholders. Even if he didn't have any worries, he will still be present, and will not let anyone else get hold of him.

Tilly immediately calmed down and sat down obediently.

However, before Ben restarted the car, she couldn't help but mutter under her breath, "I thought you pulled me over to kiss me."

That voice was very disappointed and pitiful, as if she had been wronged.

Ben's hand holding the steering wheel paused, and he was dumbfounded.

Letting go of the steering wheel, Ben leaned over, grabbed the back of Tilly's head, and kissed her hard.

However, he didn't deepen the kiss. Otherwise, anyone else would get hold of him.

However, just such a quick kiss made Tilly flattered.

She turned her head to look at Ben. Her eyes were full of love that couldn't be concealed, as if they were going to stick to his face.

Ben calmed himself down, not to be influenced by her.

Otherwise, he really couldn't help it, turned the car around and took her back to the hotel.

Finally, the two reached the Lee Group.

Tilly thought for a while, then said, "Ben, I still won't go up with you. I'll wait for you in the car."

She knew what the shareholders' meeting meant, and didn't want Ben to be targeted at by others. He hadn't come to the company for so long, but he came to the shareholders' meeting with his girlfriend.

Just thinking about it was very embarrassing.

Tilly didn't want Ben to be described as a person who indulged in her beauty.

Ben could probably guess what she was thinking, but since he brought her here, he naturally thought of this question.

Moreover, the reason why Tilly was brought here was because he had other purposes.

Ben said, "But, Tilly, I need your help."

Tilly looked at Ben blankly, not understanding what he meant.

Ben said, "Let's go. You'll find out when we go up."

Tilly didn't hesitate anymore, and obediently followed Ben's side into the exclusive elevator together.

While the elevator was going up, Tilly still couldn't help thinking about what she could help.

After much deliberation, Tilly thought of a possibility.

She turned around, stood in front of Ben, and said, "Ben, are you going to use me as a shield from other other woman?"

She frowned, and her expression became serious. If he didn't make it clear, she would have to continue asking.

Ben smiled and said, "You're really smart."

Tilly was speechless.

Suddenly, she felt their relationship was not sweet at all.

Looking at Ben angrily, she said, "I want to see what kind of woman she is."

She dared to rob her man? Maybe she wanted to be beaten.

Ben chuckled and thought she was so cute.

He raised his hand and pinched Tilly's cheek gently, and said, "She might be an old woman, but it's not certain."

Tilly was confused.

Did she hear correctly?

Old woman?

Was that what she thought?

Tilly's brow furrowed even deeper.

She took a step back suddenly, and her back almost touched the elevator's door.

Ben quickly grabbed her. It was dangerous. If Tilly bumped into the door, in case something happened, which wouldn't even give him a chance to react.

Tilly's eyes wandered back and forth on Ben's body, and after a while, she lowered her head.

That was right, for a man like Ben, let alone an old woman, even men were possible.

Tilly suddenly became depressed. Her boyfriend was too good and always liked by others. What should she do?

Ben knew what she was thinking.

Twitching the corner of his mouth helplessly, Ben said, "Okay, don't think about those messes. I'm yours, right?"

As Tilly heard it, her eyes lit up instantly, only for a moment, but then went dim again.

Looking at Ben pitifully, she felt aggrieved, "But, it's not now yet."

Chapter 515 Impossible for Ben to control himself

With Tilly's words, the atmosphere immediately changed.

Originally, she meant that they hadn't obtained the certificate yet, so they were two independent individuals.

Even if the two of them had been married and obtained the certificate, they were still independent individuals, and there was no definition of who was who's.

However, inexplicably, mentioning this now will make him think in a wrong way uncontrollably.

Ben's eyes fell on Tilly's face. Seeing her face turn red instantly, he thought even more wrongly.

He said, "I heard what you said. You are blaming me."

How can she answer this?

She didn't have that meaning in the first place. Even if she had, she couldn't say it out.

This made her seem like a strange person, full of strange things in her mind.

Tilly felt aggrieved instantly. This villain was bullying her again?

Immediately thinking of their previous conversation, Tilly felt that this could not go on like this, and it seemed that she was lame.

Ben flicked her forehead and said, "Tell me when you want it. Don't be shy."

What should she do? Hitting her boyfriend now shouldn't be considered domestic violence, right?

Shouldn't she be held legally responsible?

Fortunately, the elevator had reached the floor, ending their terrible conversation.

However, before Tilly could breathe a sigh of relief, she tensed up by the scene in front of her.

Outside the elevator, a middle-aged man stood there, seemingly waiting for Ben for a long time.

Tilly subconsciously thought that this middle-aged man was Ben's father, but if she looked closely at him, he didn't look like Ben.

When she didn't figure out the identity of this person, Tilly would just let herself stand obediently beside Ben, trying to make her look as if she didn't exist at all.

However, even though Tilly had kept herself low-key enough, being treated like an enemy by that middle-aged man made her feel very uncomfortable.

Tilly frowned indistinctly, and was really speechless at the man's gaze.

Ben took her hand and shook it gently, as if to comfort her.

Tilly was instantly reassured.

Forget it. Presumably, what Ben wanted to ask her to help with was related to this middle-aged man.

So, she wanted to see what was going on with this man.

"Mr. Parker, the conference room is not on this floor. What are you doing here?" Ben said.

His voice was very cold, a high pressure that made people chill.

Cillian Parker, as if didn't understand Ben's tone, said to him, "Ben, what have you been up to these days? I heard from Lyla that she can't even contact you."

Cillian's words made Tilly's tense instantly. She quickly sorted out the situation. Judging from the tone of this middle-aged man, it was actually not difficult to figure out what this man's identity was.

As for the Lyla, huh, she was probably the old woman in Ben's mouth.

It seemed that the old woman didn't show up today, but her father did.

Tilly sneered in her heart, and had never seen such a bold person.

Robbing her man... Can she bear this?

As Ben heard his words, he was also very rude, and said directly, "I don't have that much time to deal with unimportant people."

As soon as he said this, it almost made Tilly laugh out loud, but also, it almost made Cillian furious.

Tilly scratched Ben's palm, and thought to herself that why Ben was so bad that he made that man enraged.

Ben squeezed Tilly's hand tightly to keep her still.

However, Tilly's hand seemed to have a mind of its own, and the more she was kept from moving, the more joyful she would be.

Ben had no choice but to raise Tilly's hand, put it on his lips and kissed it, saying in a low voice, "Be good."

What he said not only made Tilly stunned for a moment, but also made the face of Cillian on the opposite side dark.

However, he still didn't give up, and said to Ben, "Ben, what do you mean?"

When Ben heard him calling his name directly, his eyes turned cold instantly.

"It seems that you have forgotten who you're. You actually call me by my first name in the company. Mr. Parker, do you want to step on my head?" Ben looked at Cillian playfully. The expression on his face was full of mockery.

Cillian was quite irritated by his words, and said directly, "I am an elder. Logically speaking, you should call me uncle."

Ben, however, seemed to have heard a joke, laughed mockingly and said, "Then take care of your position as an uncle. Don't think about what you shouldn't have."

After speaking, Ben led Tilly to the office.

Cillian was left where he was, and Ben's secretary stood in front of him, preventing him from rushing into Ben's office.

This move irritated Cillian even more.

He got into his fist angrily, and it really looked like he was going to rush to beat Ben at any time.

However, he can't be so impulsive now. Otherwise, all his plans will be lost.

He would never allow such an accident to happen to him.

Now, what made Cillian more concerned was that Ben actually brought a girl to the company, and, with their intimate behavior, it was clear that their relationship was not simple.

He would never allow other girls to appear around Ben.

After staring angrily at the closed door for a while, Cillian left.

Once in the elevator, he pulled out his cell phone and called his daughter, Lyla Parker.

On the other end of the phone, Lyla didn't seem to wake up yet. After receiving the call from Cillian, she became impatient, "Dad, why do you call me so early? My skin will be bad if I don't get enough sleep. What's the matter with you?"

Cillian usually knew what his daughter was used to, and at this time, he will definitely not call her.

However, now it was necessary to make this phone call.

Cillian said, "If you still sleep, your future husband will be snatched away by others. I have told you to get along with Ben more, but you only take care of your face every day. No matter how beautiful you're, it's useless. If you don't take the initiative, he will be snatched away."

Originally, Lyla was still lying on the bed in a daze, but now after understanding what her father said, she immediately jumped up from the bed.

Her hand holding the phone was trembling, and her face was ashen.

"What did you say? By whom? Who wants to snatch him from me!" Lyla yelled angrily, and lost her temper at Cillian, "Dad, when did you decide on our marriage? You don't want to help me?"

Lyla yelled, pulling her hair vigorously.

She was shaking with anger, and became hysterical.

Cillian said a few words of comfort, and quickly said, "Okay, don't worry. I'll keep an eye on him. Get up quickly, and come to the company."

Lyla had calmed down now, and cheered up immediately.

That was right. She can't go crazy at home. She has to go to the company to see which bitch actually dared to rob her of the man.

After thinking about this, Lyla went straight into the bathroom without any hesitation.

After she came out of the shower, she went to the fitting room to choose the clothes she wanted to wear.

She was running out of patience, but she had to prepare well, so that Ben would completely surrender to her.

She didn't believe that after having sex with Ben, he could still refuse her?

Thinking of this, Lyla walked to the place where she put her underwear.

Usually, she was already very bold in what she wore. Today, in order to achieve her goal, she wanted to dress more boldly.

Lyla took a set of underclothes of less fabric from the closet and put them on. She was admiring what she thought was a perfect figure in front of the mirror, and her expression showed an uncontrollable enjoyment, as if Ben had been obsessed with her, and was unable to extricate himself.

In any case, she must take Ben down today, and she also believed that with her charm, it was absolutely impossible for Ben to control himself.

Chapter 516 Make her feel even more satisfied

After Tilly and Ben entered the office, Tilly shook off Ben's hand.

She went straight to the sofa and sat down. With her legs up and one hand on her knee, she had her chin popped, and looked at Ben angrily.

"Ben, won't you explain it to me?" Tilly said.

Although Ben's attitude made Tilly very comfortable, she was still very upset.

It was just the beginning of dating and it had only been a few days. Why did such an annoying guy come out to interrupt them?

And, with the man's posture, he looked like he was going to have Ben in the pocket, which was really annoying.

Ben walked over, sat down beside Tilly, and raised his hand to pinch her face softly, saying, "Are you angry?"

"What do you think?" Tilly slapped his hand off, and said depressedly, "You still haven't told me honestly who is he?"

"Just an idiot," Ben said.

Tilly almost laughed out loud.

However, she still remembered that she was angry, so she couldn't let herself fail.

Tilly said, "I don't think he's an idiot. He has a good eye."

Choosing Ben as his son-in-law, with such a vision, how can he be an idiot?

Ben laughed and said, "What are you thinking about? You think I'm so stupid so I'll be manipulated by him?"

Tilly snorted softly, and said, "Who knows? It's called the advantage of being in a favored position. But I don't live in this city. If I didn't come here, I won't meet you."

Originally, she just wanted to joke with Ben, but as she spoke, Tilly felt bad.

Wasn't it the case? If she hadn't been over here from Capital, got lost at such a coincidence, and met Ben at such a coincidence, they would never have developed into this way.

Tilly felt so depressed and wronged instantly, and her eyes turned red.

Ben panicked instantly.

"What's wrong? Why are you crying?" Ben hurriedly raised his hand to wipe Tilly's eyes, "Don't cry. What are you worrying about? We should be together. No one will can't change it."

Although Ben would also think that it sounded a little outrageous to say that fate was destined, in his relationship with Tilly, it was indeed like this.

Tilly sniffed and said, "If I never came to Innisrial, wouldn't you really fall in love with others?"

Just the thought of someone eyeing her boyfriend made Tilly depressed.

She really wanted to ignore it, just ask Ben to get the marriage certificate with her and make him her husband.

Ben said, "Before you showed up, was I single all the time?"

"How would I know?" Tilly pursed her lips.

She never asked about Ben's love history. How could she know it so clearly?

But now that Ben had mentioned it himself, she couldn't help but wonder.

"Ben, have you really never had a girlfriend before?" Tilly blinked and asked curiously.

Ben said, "No."

"But there must be many people who want to be with you." Tilly said.

Just thinking about it made her angry.

Ben said, "It's okay cause I don't like them."

Tilly laughed at his words.

She sniffed and said, "That's not up to you."

Ben said, "Okay, stop thinking about it. Is it silly to cry for those unimportant people?"

Tilly thought about it and it really was such a truth.

She was so stupid.

However, Tilly couldn't help but said, "Ben, let me tell you, you are mine now. No matter how those women, young or old, try to tempt you, you can't be tempted, you know??"

Ben laughed lowly and pinched Tilly's ear gently. A look of misery welled up in his eyes, and he said, "Then why don't you give it a try and really make me yours?"

Tilly immediately blushed when she met Ben's meaningful gaze.

She coughed lightly to hide her shyness, and changed the subject bluntly, "Didn't you say you came to the company for a meeting? Why don't you go now?"

"Are you shy?" Ben could see what she was thinking.

He smiled and said, "It's true that it's time to go, but do you want to give me some comfort? In fact, I don't really want to go to the meeting."

Tilly looked at Ben in astonishment.

It was inexplicable. Why there was a feeling that he was the kind of man whom she was obsessed with because of his appearance?

What he said sounded a bit like a nonsense.

Tilly said, "No, you should hurry up and go to the meeting."

Ben didn't speak any more, but directly held the back of Tilly's head, bowed his head and kissed her.

Ben kissed her so passionately, which made Tilly dizzy.

If it wasn't for a little bit of reason, Tilly would have wondered if Ben would just do her the next second...

Fortunately, Ben just kissed her lips twice more, and then stood up.

Ben said, "I'll go to the meeting. Stay here for a while. I'll be back soon."

Tilly nodded. With a well-behaved appearance, she looked particularly easy to be bullied.

Ben leaned over and kissed her on the lips again before leaving.

Tilly was the only one left in the office. She was a little bored, so she took out her mobile phone to play games to pass the time.

However, as soon as the screen was turned on, Tilly saw the missed call on it.

Olivier Hughes called her more than 30 times and he didn't stop until she answered the phone.

Tilly frowned, not wanting to pay attention to it.

However, Olivier's call had come in again.

Tilly hesitated, but finally answered.

As soon as she answered the phone, she heard Olivier on the other end of the phone yelling at her sharply, "Tilly! Do you still see me as your dad?"

Tilly wanted to say that she never had done it.

However, she was not going to offend Olivier now.

Tilly patiently listened to Olivier's angry words, and then said, "Are you done losing your temper? I gotta go."

Olivier seemed to be pissed off by her again, and after scolding her fiercely, he said, "Let me ask you, how far have you and the kid from the Lee family progressed?"

Tilly's eyes flickered, and she said directly: "We have slept and we're going to get married."

Olivier didn't seem to expect to get this answer, and after a long pause, he said, "I don't agree."

Tilly snorted lightly and said, "Do I need your consent? Do you think I'm begging you now?"

Olivier's breathing on the other side became heavier in an instant. As soon as she heard it, she knew that he was very angry.

There was a happy feeling in Tilly's heart.

In an instant, she felt that this phone call was not so annoying anymore.

So, Tilly kicked off her shoes, put her legs on the sofa, found a comfortable position, and felt much better.

Tilly said, "As for me, there are some things that I should tell you clearly. I know that I have what you want in me, and it is easy for you to get it. However, if you let me feel bad, I don't guarantee that I will give that thing to your enemies."

There was no sound from Olivier.

Tilly knew he was restraining himself.

The last time he sent someone to arrest her, he didn't get any benefit. During this time, it was very peaceful, and he didn't come to disturb her so unwisely.

Tilly was very satisfied with this state, especially now that she was in a relationship with Ben, and the sweet days made her feel even more satisfied.

So, she must not let Olivier break her peaceful life.

Chapter 517 You are not allowed to look at others

After Tilly hung up the phone, she began to think about whether to go and get the marriage certificate with Ben. Although the progress was a bit faster, Tilly really thought there was nothing wrong about it.

She believed that Ben would think the same too.

Tilly felt as if she had already imagined what their wedding would look like, and what their future baby would look like.

Tilly wanted two babies. It would be nice if they were twins. She was very afraid of pain. Although there were painless options for giving birth to babies now, Tilly was still very scared.

However, even if she was afraid, she was still willing to have babies with Ben.

It would be even better if they could be fraternal twins.

Tilly felt very happy.

However, she heard loud noises from outside.

Tilly was familiar with one of the noises. That was Ben's secretary's.

However, Tilly didn't recognize the other one.

She was tense, because the other voice was from a female, very arrogant and domineering.

Tilly instantly thought of something.

Her face darkened, but she didn't act immediately. She was ready to stand still and see what this woman wanted to do.

Outside the office, the secretary blocked the door with a businesslike attitude, "Miss Parker, I'm sorry, Mr. Torres is not here, so you can't go in."

"You are so brave and even dare stop me. Don't you want your job?!" Lyla stepped on high heels, wearing a hip skirt, a tube top style, and the hem only barely reached the thigh.

It was really inappropriate to dress like this in everyday life, especially in a place like the company.

The secretary was also having a hard time, trying to keep his eyes from her. Otherwise, with this woman's domineering temper, she will definitely charge him with sexual harassment.

He still maintained the politeness that a secretary should have, and said, "Miss Parker, he has explained that no one is allowed to enter his office without his permission. Please control yourself, Miss Parker."

Lyla came here with anger, and now that she heard the secretary say that, she was even more furious.

She raised her finger to the secretary, and shouted, "Okay, you just bully me under his protection. Let me tell you that I am his future wife. You are so ignorant. I think you don't want to do the job!"

When she married Ben, she must punish this man severely.

She wanted to give him a hard time in the whole industry, so that he wouldn't dare to be so arrogant in front of her.

Hearing this, the secretary remained polite, but couldn't help but feel a surge of anger in his heart.

After working with Ben for so long, this was the first time he had been humiliated like this.

In particular, this woman's ignorant remarks really made him feel ridiculous even when he was angry.

He didn't know how much self-confidence this woman had that she actually thought that she can make Ben care about her.

Not to mention whether Ben can take a liking to her, her father's domineering and infuriating behavior was enough for people to see the situation clearly.

He had not been expelled from the company now, but it was just not yet time.

Maybe this stupid father and daughter thought that they could become the hosts of the Lee Group.

As Lyla's patience was exhausted, she was going crazy with anger that anyone dared to insult her.

She thought he was just an ordinary secretary who dared to embarrass her and not take her seriously.

Lyla couldn't bear this kind of treatment, so she suddenly yelled, and the voice was sharp and harsh.

In the next second, she rushed towards the secretary and scratched his face.

The secretary had never met such a person before, and a bloodstain was scratched on his face just in the blink of an eye.

However, what made him more helpless was that it was impossible for him to fight back against this woman. Otherwise, it could cause misunderstanding.

However, he can't be beaten passively, so he can only dodge non-stop.

At this moment, Lyla seemed to be insane. Her whole body was frantic, and she rushed towards the secretary hysterically.

In the office, Tilly had already stood up from the sofa.

She originally thought that she would wait until that woman rushed in, then she would put on the posture of a real girlfriend and scare that woman away.

Who would have thought that the woman was so weak and didn't even come in that she was bored of waiting.

Tilly was very depressed. At first, she thought that she could meet an opponent, but in the end, she just thought too much.

However, the sound from outside startled Tilly.

She frowned suspiciously before standing up from the sofa.

After hesitating for a moment, Tilly went out anyway.

When she opened the door of the office, she was even more frightened.

Tilly didn't expect that the situation outside would be so tragic.

However, after seeing the scratches on the secretary's face clearly, Tilly really couldn't hold back and laughed outright.

Forgive her for being unkind! But the scratches were too funny.

When the secretary heard Tilly's laughter, he looked at her with helplessness in his eyes.

God, who can come and save him?

Mr. Torres' future wife, can you be a little more supportive? Didn't you see that he was already in such a miserable state?

Just go help and call someone, can't you?

Soon, however, the secretary began to worry.

He began to signal with his eyes, telling Tilly to hurry back to the office.

Otherwise, Lyla, a woman who went crazy, would be extremely frustrating.

If she beat Tilly, the place where he was scratched was not only his face.

Most likely, he would directly be mutilated by Ben.

Tilly noticed the secretary's gaze, but seemed to understand nothing. She blinked at him, as if saying, "Young man, thank you for your hard work. It's pitiful."

The secretary was speechless.

He can see that she was really an nuisance.

Although only a few seconds had passed since Tilly opened the office door, the secretary felt that these few seconds seemed to be as long as half a century.

He was almost dying of worry.

And at this time, Lyla finally saw Tilly.

She froze for a moment, then thought of what her father said, and instantly became angry, rushing towards Tilly.

“It’s you, bitch! How dare you shamelessly seduce Ben? I will kill you!” Lyla roared, and rushed towards Tilly.

The secretary didn’t care about whether he should beat a woman or not, and subconsciously reached out to grab Lyla. However, when the woman went crazy, there was really nothing he can do.

Lyla’s strength was very strong, and her speed was also very fast. She was like a wild horse that had run away, and she can’t be held at all.

However, what worried the secretary did not happen.

As Lyla rushed over, Tilly raised her foot and kicked Lyla’s stomach.

She was practiced. Although she hadn’t practiced martial arts for many years, her basic skills were still maintained. When she kicked, the strength was very heavy.

Lyla didn’t have any skills at all. That was why she was so arrogant when the secretary didn’t fight with her.

In fact, she didn’t know how to fight at all.

With Tilly’s kick, Lyla flew several meters away and fell to the ground, unable to get up for a long time.

And it was also because of Tilly’s kick that directly made Lyla’s already extremely short skirt shrunk, and her skin was exposed.

The secretary hastily looked away.

As for Tilly, when she saw clearly what Lyla was wearing, she became fairly enraged.

She walked over directly and stepped one of her feet on Lyla’s stomach.

“You really opened my eyes. Dressing like this to seduce who! Is Ben the man you can seduce? Don’t be so shameless!”

Tilly put more force with her foot, and that directly made Lyla scream in pain, and her entire face twisted.

Lyla was in so much pain that she couldn’t speak. She was able to yell at first, but then she lost her voice at all.

Tilly looked at the secretary and said, "If you haven't gone to find her father, is it possible that you want to help her?"

With this woman's current state, was it possible that they would still be nice to take care of her?

She wasn't in that mood.

The secretary naturally had the same idea as Tilly, and hurried to find her father.

Tilly withdrew her foot, stood with her arms crossed, and actually began to look at her seriously.

Then, Tilly got pissed off.

She may have some serious illness. Otherwise, how could she think that she could seduce Ben by dressing like this?

They were all women, and Tilly quickly understood what Lyla was thinking.

This woman wanted to have sex with Ben in the company directly.

Tilly laughed angrily at the thought.

What an idiot this woman was to have such an idea.

However, on second thought, Tilly became depressed.

After all, men were really not so absolute about sex.

If she was like Lyla and dressed like this, and there was no reaction...

Tilly frowned, and for some reason she didn't dare to think about it.

Soon, the secretary asked some people here

Besides Lyla's father, Ben was also back.

After hearing the situation described by the secretary, Ben was nervous.

He knew what type of woman Lyla was, and when she went crazy, it was really hard to resist.

In his eyes, Tilly was a weak girl who was easy to be bullied. If she met a lunatic, she might not be able to bear.

Unexpectedly, when he stepped out of the elevator and saw such a scene, he was stunned.

They didn't know if Lyla passed out. There was blood on the corner of her mouth, and she didn't have any vitality.

Ben knew his secretary who would never do anything with Lyla.

Well, the only one who can beat her like this was Tilly.

Ben was about to look towards Tilly. When he felt a figure rushing towards him, Tilly raised her hand to cover his eyes, "Don't look. You aren't allowed to look at others."

Tilly's angry voice rang in his ears, and the tone seemed to be very angry.

Ben took her hand, and pulled her hand down, carefully inspecting her body for any injuries. After he made sure Tilly was not injured, he was relieved.

Chapter 518 She dares slap him directly

"Why did you do it? Show me. It's really not hurt?" Ben pulled Tilly aside and said.

Although, from what he could see, there was nothing wrong with Tilly, Ben was still worried that there might be other invisible scars on her body.

How crazy that woman Lyla was. Ben knew very well.

Tilly immediately laughed and said, "Ben, I'm really not hurt. Don't worry."

Ben was relieved to hear that her voice was brisk.

He said, "So, you really did it, didn't you?"

Tilly tilted her head and blinked at Ben, saying, "I just kicked her once."

At most, it was like stepping on her with her foot, but who would have thought that this woman was so weak and turned into this.

Ben raised his hand and tapped Tilly's forehead, saying, "You are so powerful. Why didn't you tell me before?"

Tilly said, "I'm just a jack of all trades. I haven't done it for a long time. I have long forgotten that I have this skill."

As she said that, Tilly thought about what happened before. She hurriedly stared at Ben, and said, "Ben, don't you think I did it on purpose last time?"

Ben curled his lips and said, "Whether it was on purpose or not, I don't know, but I'm glad you found me."

When Tilly heard him say that, she laughed, and the worries in her heart were completely gone.

She hugged Ben's arm and said, "With my skills, I can deal with her, but I really can't beat that kind of professionally trained guys."

So, strictly speaking, she didn't cheat Ben.

Ben chuckled and said, "Okay, I know you can't, and I won't settle this with you, so why panic?"

Tilly raised her chin and said intentionally, "How do I know? If I beat someone like this and cause you trouble, will you let me go?"

Ben was so annoyed by her that he put his hand on her waist and pinched her.

She was not thinking straight before she said those words.

The two were chatting and laughing, but Lyla's side was another scene.

Cillian was also taken aback when he came over just now.

He never expected that his daughter would come here dressed like this.

However, Cillian didn't immediately take off his suit to cover Lyla's body at first, but wanted to let Ben see it, so that he had a reason to force Ben to take responsibility.

Unexpectedly, Ben didn't give him this chance at all. He just talked to that girl who came out of nowhere.

Cillian had no choice but to wrap Lyla in clothes.

After covering her body, Cillian straightened up angrily.

Unexpectedly, he saw Ben flirting with that girl, and he was so angry.

Cillian took a deep breath and shouted at Ben, "Ben, this isn't over. You must give me an explanation."

Ben turned his eyes away from Tilly's face and looked at Cillian.

He said, "Just right, I also want to settle accounts with you."

Cillian was so angry right now, and didn't hear the coldness in Ben's voice at all, so he didn't know that the danger was approaching.

Looking at Ben angrily, Cillian was about to ask for an explanation, and by the way, let Ben take responsibility directly.

Unexpectedly, he heard Ben say, "Do you regard the company as your home? Could it be that your dog can enter the Lee Group casually? You are so courageous and even prepared a company pass for your daughter. Are you planning to change the name of the group in the next step?"

Cillian felt a little guilty when he heard the words.

Indeed, Lee Group had expressly stipulated that no one else can have a work permit except those inside the company.

And he secretly got a work permit for his daughter so that she can come to the company to get close to Ben. If Ben pursued this matter strictly, he really had nothing to refute.

Cillian said, "This is another matter. Now it is this girl who beat my daughter like this. I must make her pay the price."

As Tilly heard this, she became angry instantly.

She would not respect the old and cherish the young. In her philosophy, scumbags can be young and old, men and women.

The father and daughter offended her, so, even if she beat her, she was justified.

Ben's eyes became even colder.

He said, "I think you really don't understand the situation. Your daughter beat my future wife. I want to see how you are going to bear the consequences."

As soon as he said this, Cillian's face became even more ugly.

Future wife?!

How can this be!

No, he didn't allow it to happen!

Ben's wife can only be his daughter!

Cillian's gaze fell fiercely on Tilly's face, as if he could kill her anytime.

Tilly frowned. Looking at Cillian, she wanted to hear what he was about to say.

As long as he dared to say something harsh, she would dare to slap him directly.

Chapter 519 She is not so easy to fool

Cillian did not disappoint Tilly, and opened his mouth to curse, "You little slut! You seduce men at such a young age! You are robbing him from my daughter! You..."

Snap—

A clear slap interrupted his cursing.

Tilly shook her wrist. How can he be so thick-skinned? After she slapped him in the face, her hand hurt.

And no one expected that Tilly would actually slap a middle-aged man in such a simple and rude way.

The secretary was dumbfounded. He always thought that the CEO's future wife was a delicate and soft woman.

He was deeply tormented by their affection.

The secretary even suspected that if he continued to be so swayed, he would be so disappointed if he didn't find such a delicate girlfriend who could act like a baby when he looked for a girlfriend in the future.

However, at this moment, the secretary was beyond shocked.

He didn't even know how to describe his mood.

There was an inexplicable feeling that he may suffer schizophrenia.

She was such a soft and cute girl, but when she fought with others, she would be so fierce.

Reminiscent of the previous kick that made Lyla lay on the ground, the secretary really felt that he could feel the pain.

While Ben was shocked, he couldn't help but chuckled.

Look how much his baby surprised him!

So cute.

Even when she slapped him, she still looked so cute.

If it weren't for the current situation, Ben really wanted to pull her into his arms and kiss her hard.

Cillian was so beaten that he became dizzy, and he didn't react for a long time.

Tilly's slap directly made he have tinnitus.

Looking at Tilly in disbelief, he opened his mouth, but didn't make a sound for a long time.

Tilly said, "I have opened my eyes today. I thought that no matter how shameless I am, I will be educated if I am over fifty. You have worked for half your life, and I thought you know at least the truth of being a human being. Now I understand that I was wrong. You're bad from the bottom of your heart, and you will not change in any way until you die."

Her words, if to a person with a little bit of shame, would people feel ashamed.

Well, Cillian had no shame.

Being rebuked by Tilly, he became even more angry.

Coupled with the burning feeling on his face, it made him even more irritable.

Cillian raised his hand and was about to hit Tilly, but Tilly was not only not afraid, but raised her chin and looked at him provocatively.

"Hit me if you can!" Tilly said.

Ben calm down at this moment. She might be impulsive and wanted to provoke him on purpose.

He pulled Tilly behind him with a stern look and said, "Mr. Parker, if you want to do it, I don't mind practicing with you."

Cillian's face turned pale in an instant.

Not only because of Ben's look and tone, but more because, with Ben's appearance, it was obvious that he wanted to get serious with him.

Everyone in the company knew that Ben was a world-class Sanda champion. If he really fought with him, he might lose his life.

Cillian didn't dare risk his own life.

Facing Ben, he was cowardly.

And he looked like this, which made Ben feel more scornful.

Cillian was a waste at all, and only dared to stomp her foot like a shrew, but in fact, he was nothing.

He had already become cowardly, but still couldn't help yelling at Ben and Tilly.

"Okay, you two teamed up to bully us! Ben, you are so ignorant. You will be punished!" Cillian cursed.

Ben was so irritated by his noise that he didn't bother to pay any attention to him anymore, so he directly said to the secretary, "Get rid of him and let him understand what regret really is."

The secretary was shrewd and went to do it immediately.

Ben led Tilly back to the office, leaving the two obtrusive guys outside.

Once inside the office, Ben took Tilly's hand and examined it carefully.

"Don't do this kind of thing in the future. Don't you feel pain in your hand?" Ben said.

Tilly blinked her eyes and said, "It's okay. His skin is too thick, and it can rebound."

In fact, it hurt a little, mainly because it'd been too long since she had done such a thing, and Tilly couldn't react for a while.

Ben said, "What should I say? You still have to tell such lies in front of me."

Tilly pouted and said, "I don't want you to worry about me."

Ben said, "How can I not worry? I can't wait to hang you on my body now."

As Tilly heard his words, she immediately became happy and quickly said, "Why? Are you ready to love me so much?"

Ben thought inexplicably in the wrong direction.

The word "love" had become ambiguous now.

Seeing that Ben didn't speak, Tilly frowned and said unhappily, "What's wrong? Am I wrong? Or is it that you don't think so?"

"Don't you know?" Ben was helpless. How could this girl be so "annoying"?

Tilly chuckled, leaned closer to Ben, and kissed his chin.

She said, "What should I do? I have beaten them. It's useless for you to blame me now, but you have to think about what to do next."

She could tell that they were not easy to deal with.

So, she was afraid Ben will be entangled.

Ben said, "Don't worry about it. It just gave me an opportunity."

Tilly instantly understood that Ben had already prepared for it.

That was why she was brought here to get rid of Cillian.

Thinking of this, Tilly didn't worry about anything.

Anyway, when Ben was doing things, she didn't need to worry so much.

Tilly said, "This is over, then, let's talk about something else."

She looked at Ben and said, "Did you just see her clothes?"

"What?" Ben looked at Tilly blankly, as if he didn't understand what she was saying.

Tilly stared at Ben's face, but didn't see that he was acting.

This made Tilly happy.

However, she was not so easy to fool.

Tilly said, "Don't you think she's dressed sexy?"

Chapter 520 You wrong me so much

Ben thought about it carefully, but he really didn't pay attention to the clothes.

He said, "When I got out of the elevator, the first thing I saw was her face. I saw the blood around her mouth, and then I looked at you."

Ben didn't lie, and didn't need to.

Seeing the blood on the corner of Lyla's mouth, he became nervous instantly.

He was afraid that when he looked at Tilly, he would also see the blood.

If it was like that, he didn't know how distressed he would be.

Tilly thought about it, and it seemed that it was exactly as Ben said at that time. He only kept his gaze on Lyla's face for less than a second, and then met her gaze.

So, there was nothing to disbelieve.

However, Tilly still couldn't help but want to joke with Ben.

She snorted softly and said, "But, I'm still very disappointed, Ben. When you got out of the elevator, the first person you saw is not me."

As he said that, Tilly felt aggrieved and lowered her eyes, not to mention how pitiful she was.

Ben was somewhat dumbfounded.

This girl, so to speak, was clearly asking for trouble.

At that time, Lyla was directly at the elevator entrance.

If he really couldn't see her, then it meant he would step on Lyla's face.

Ben said, "Do you want to do this to me?"

Tilly giggled when he said that.

She came up to Ben again, kissed him on the chin, and said, "Ben, do you think I'm being vexatious now?"

Ben raised his hand and touched Tilly's head, saying, "Why are you so childish? Even be jealous because of it? Wouldn't you be mad at yourself?"

Tilly snorted softly, but admitted frankly, "What should I do? I'm just jealous. What do you think should I do?"

As she spoke, Tilly felt aggrieved.

She said, "You don't know how sexy she is wearing. Men can't control it. If you see it, maybe you will be tempted."

When Ben heard this, he was really annoyed by her nonsense.

This girl was full of messy things in her head.

He said, "In your heart, I am that kind of person?"

Tilly tilted her head and said, "That's not what I meant, but I meant that men are like that."

She didn't believe that there really was a man with such good self-control.

What was more, what Lyla wore was too much.

Ben said, "Tar with the same brush? Tilly, you will cause public outrage."

Tilly said, "I don't know if it will cause public outrage. Anyway, I am very unhappy."

She admitted that she was a little narrow-minded, and she was making trouble for no reason.

But she just wasn't feeling well.

Was there any woman who can feel comfortable seeing her man being tempted in such a way?

That was to say, Ben didn't notice what Lyla was wearing, but whenever he saw it, Tilly could really ask for trouble.

Ben said, "Well, you'll be more comfortable if you tell me what I need to do."

Tilly tilted her head and said, "Kiss me, and I'll feel better."

She was very easy to coax. Because she cared too much about Ben, she haggled over it.

If she didn't care about him so much, she wouldn't be so jealous.

As Ben heard this, his heart seemed to be caught by something.

It seemed that the sense of security he gave the girl was not enough.

Ben raised his hand and landed it on the back of Tilly's head, pulling her closer to him.

He said, "Girl, don't you know how much I love you?"

His heart already belonged only to her.

As Ben said so, he kissed her heavily.

This time, Ben was not gentle at all. As if he wanted to swallow Tilly into his belly, he carried out a plunder.

Tilly, on the other hand, liked this kind of kiss very much.

She responded enthusiastically to Ben, as if trying to compete with him.

Soon, however, Tilly was defeated.

In this matter, men had an inherent advantage.

This was something women can't compare to.

Tilly fell softly into Ben's arms. Her face was flushed, and her breath was warm.

She hung on Ben's body, and when he finally let go of her kindly, she said coquettishly, "Ben, my legs are weak."

Ben laughed out loud, and hugged her horizontally.

He said viciously on purpose, "I haven't made a real move yet, but you are like this. If I do, will you faint?"

Tilly thought about the situation, and immediately shrank her neck.

Originally, she wanted to make Ben her own, but now, Tilly inexplicably faltered.

And neither of them thought that this matter would become real within a few days.

Ben hit the nail on the head and guessed the ending right away.

Of course, Tilly was terrified, and after that, for a long time, she refused to let Ben do anything to her again.

It never occurred to her that she didn't experience the beautiful feeling described in the novel, and she passed out directly.

Ben carried Tilly to the sofa and let her sit on his laps. Looking at her blushing face, he couldn't hold back, and kissed her again.

Tilly nestled in his arms, and after recovering, she still couldn't hold back and asked, "Ben, how long has that woman pestered you?"

That woman can freely enter and exit the company, and that she can even go up to this floor, which showed that they were well prepared.

Tilly felt very uncomfortable.

Ben said, "It hasn't been that long. She wasn't that bold before."

In fact, Ben knew about Cillian's ambitions a long time ago.

It was just that he can't do anything to him directly without an absolute evidence.

Today, he brought Tilly here to stimulate him.

In the past when he didn't have a girlfriend, Cillian wasn't as crazy as he was today.

At most, they thought that he didn't want a woman now, so he didn't take any action.

Today, because of Tilly's appearance, they were really stimulated.

This made them crazy.

However, this opportunity can also be used to get rid of Cillian.

Tilly said, "If I never showed up and you were single, wouldn't you have to put up with them all the time?"

Just thinking about it made Tilly feel very depressed.

Ben said, "That's not true. His ambition is more than that. He has done a lot of things over the years. I am prepared."

Tilly nodded, reassuring.

She squeezed Ben's fingers and said sincerely, "Ben, you are so amazing."

Ben curled his mouth and said, "Does it make you like me very much?"

"I like you so much." Tilly chuckled, leaned up to Ben, and kissed him on the cheek.

Ben was dissatisfied with her being so perfunctory, so he hugged her back, faced her face to face, and kissed her again.

This time, Ben was very gentle, but he was already not satisfied with this, and wanted even more.

Tilly was made very strange by him. She couldn't tell whether it was comfortable or not, but even breathing was very difficult.

Still she really couldn't bear it anymore, but pushed Ben's chest and said, "Ben, I'm going to lose my breath."

Ben didn't really want to scare her like that, and didn't want to make her his own on such an occasion, which was not a form of respect for her.

So, even though he was already a little bit out of control, Ben stopped.

He put Tilly on the couch, then stood up and walked inside.

Tilly was curious what happened to him.

Tilly didn't react until the sound of running water came from the bathroom.

Her little face became even hotter in an instant. Tilly touched her cheek, and immediately smiled softly.

What did this mean? It didn't matter whether she was sexy or not, but whether he liked her or not was the most important thing.

Ben liked her, and that was why he reacted to her like this.

If it were someone else, Ben wouldn't have such a reaction.

Tilly felt elated in an instant.

After Tilly finished laughing, she became a little mean-spirited.

She got up from the sofa, walked to the door of the bathroom, and said to Ben inside, "Ben, are you okay? Did I do something to make you uncomfortable?"

She couldn't see what was going on inside, so naturally she didn't know what was going on with Ben.

Tilly imagined that scene from her experience of reading novels, and continued to shout into it, "Ben, if you have any discomfort, please tell me. I can help you."

She was chattering all the time.

However, it took a long time for Tilly to hear the sound of the water stopping.

Then, it was Ben who opened the bathroom door and walked out.

However, his face was dark and gloomy, as if he had been bullied.

Tilly blinked her innocent eyes, just looked at Ben and said, "Ben, are you okay?"

Ben took a deep breath, raised his hand and pressed hard on Tilly's head.

He said, "I don't think you want to help me. You just want my life."

Tilly became even more innocent, and said with blank and innocent eyes, "Ben, is it really okay for you to wrong me so much?"

Ben had no choice. It was impossible for him to explain to Tilly what was going on.

He really can only suffer like this.

However, Ben will not be unhappy. Anyway, sooner or later, he will get it back from Tilly.

Tilly didn't know what she was going to face in the future, and she was still talking endlessly.

Ben was helpless, but what can he do? He can do nothing but pamper her by himself.
