

Healing 621

Chapter 621 What did you do wrong

As the days passed day by day, the important day finally ushered in.

It was Mikayla's college entrance examination day.

On the day before the examination, Aimee made a special trip to Homelux.

However, when she opened the door, she found that there was no trace of life there.

It looked like Mikayla hadn't been here for at least a month.

Aimee frowned unconsciously, then thought of something, and smiled helplessly.

This girl was really courageous.

Before she graduated, she moved in to live with Ash. She was really not afraid of being caught up by her?

Aimee was somewhat displeased about this.

After all, she didn't want her sister to have the same physical condition as her before entering college.

Aimee suppressed the unhappiness in her heart, took out her mobile phone and called Ash. Without any twists and turns, she asked straight to the point, "Where do you live?"

Ash naturally understood the meaning of Aimee's question, and didn't dare explain too much, so he directly told his address to Aimee.

After hanging up the phone, Aimee went directly to the place where Ash and Mikayla lived now without any pause.

Maple Street Apartment.

Mikayla just woke up, came out of the room, and saw Ash holding the phone with a serious expression on his face.

She walked over strangely and asked, "Ash, what's wrong?"

"Aimee called me just now. She's supposed to have gone to Homelux," Ash said.

Mikayla's face instantly turned pale with fright.

Although Aimee agreed to her dating with Ash, it didn't mean that Aimee would agree to their cohabitation.

In the current situation, Mikayla felt that she was really going to die.

She looked at Ash helplessly and asked, "What should I do, Ash? She'll definitely be very angry."

Ash felt the same way when he heard Aimee's tone just now.

He thought he and Mikayla might really be screwed.

However, after thinking about it carefully, Ash realized that tomorrow was the examination day, a very important moment in Mikayla's life.

No matter how angry Aimee was, she probably won't affect a candidate.

In particular, Mikayla did not do anything outrageous.

All the while, Ash said, "I think Aimee won't say anything about it. At most she'll tell you a few things to pay attention to in the exam. Don't worry."

"But," Mikayla was still worried and said, "I'm living with you. We two will definitely be criticized by her."

Ash touched Mikayla's head and said, "No, although the two of us are living together, baby, we are in the relationship, and we will be married and live together in the future. Cohabitation is a normal thing."

Mikayla agreed with Ash's words, but she still felt it very inappropriate.

Mikayla said, "Ash, I'm only a senior in high school."

Ash said, "Freshman soon."

Mikayla was struck dumb.

There was nothing to refute the statement.

However, Mikayla still thought that it was better to be careful. Otherwise, it will be really miserable if her sister really taught her a lesson.

Ash rubbed Mikayla's head and said, "And, baby, most importantly, we two are very innocent. Aimee won't be angry."

Mikayla was finally reassured by Ash's words.

She flattened her mouth and muttered softly, "If I had known, I wouldn't have come to live with you."

Now, she kind of had mental breakdown.

Ash said, "Okay, now that it's an established fact, don't think about it. In a while, let's see how Aimee feels. Don't worry. With me here, I won't let Aimee be tough with you."

Almost as soon as he finished speaking, the doorbell rang.

Mikayla had been relaxed just now, but tensed up again in an instant.

Her body froze, and she didn't dare move at all.

Ash was very anxious to go to open the door. Otherwise, it would be even more difficult to deal with in a while.

Mikayla followed Ash step by step and opened it.

Aimee was standing at the door, and as soon as the door opened, she saw the trembling bodies of two people.

She gave a low laugh helplessly. What were these two people doing? Why were they so nervous? Were they worried that she would get angry at the two of them?

Aimee said, "Why aren't you two going to let me in?"

Ash and Mikayla noticed that they had Aimee standing outside, which was unacceptable.

The two immediately obediently made way for Aimee, allowing her to come in.

As Aimee walked in, she found the very strong atmosphere of Mikayla's life in this house.

There were some things which were completely different from those Ash liked.

It can be seen from this that Ash was really good to Mikayla. At least, Ash had done a very good job of making her happy.

This made Aimee somewhat relieved.

Aimee was quite familiar with Ash's temperament. Although he dared not make too many demands in front of her, in fact, he had his own persistence in many things.

It was a rare thing to be able to indulge Mikayla to transform his house into this way.

Aimee had agreed with them to be together, so she naturally hoped that the two of them will be fine and that nothing bad will happen.

Aimee was certainly rather satisfied.

Mikayla hadn't seen Aimee for a long time. According to her previous temperament, when she saw Aimee, she must want to hug Aimee affectionately.

However, today she didn't dare to get close to Aimee at all. She only dared to stand in front of Aimee, like a kid girl who made a mistake, looking pitiful.

Seeing her like this, Aimee felt helpless again.

She said, "What's wrong? Am I so scary? You dare not even say a word to me?"

Mikayla shook her head and said, "Aimee, I was wrong. Don't be angry, okay?"

For Mikayla's sudden apology, Aimee felt it very inexplicable.

She looked at Mikayla amusedly and said, "Then tell me what did you do wrong?"

Chapter 622 Just end abruptly

As Mikayla heard Aimee's question, she immediately tensed up even more.

She grabbed the hem of her clothes, looked at Aimee more nervously and said, "Aimee, I live with Ash without telling you or asking for your permission. I really know I was wrong."

Aimee was not anxious to make a statement. Instead, she took a leisurely look at Mikayla and waited for her next words.

However, her appearance made Mikayla even more scared to death.

She bit her lip tight and said, "Aimee, I just like Ash so much and I want to be with him, but we've been good and we haven't done anything wrong. Aimee, don't get mad, okay?"

With Mikayla's words, Aimee reflected in her heart if there was something wrong. Otherwise, why did she feel that the impression she left on Mikayla was so bad.

However, she was obviously a very gentle sister.

But more than that, what Aimee wanted to know was how Ash would let Mikayla get in his way and take on this.

Aimee looked towards Ash, but saw his helpless and distressed expression.

In an instant, Aimee understood what was going on.

She thought that they must have discussed something during the time she came here. In the end, Mikayla stood in front of Ash on impulse, taking all the responsibilities on her.

Aimee was not unhappy about this.

The protection of each other between young couples was still a cute thing.

For this, Aimee had always upheld the principle of protecting such a simple and beautiful thing.

However, in the end, Mikayla was her sister. Although the two of them hadn't been close for as long as she and Ash had known each other, it didn't hinder Aimee's preference for her younger sister.

So, Aimee looked at Ash and asked, "Mikayla has already expressed her opinion. What do you say?"

Ash looked at Aimee seriously and said, "Aimee, I know, it may seem like an excuse for me to say this, but I want you to believe me. I'm also the person you watch me grow up. No one knows better than you what kind of temperament I have. Although I'm not as reliable as Kelvin, I'm dependable. Aimee, please rest assured."

"Ash ..." Mikayla's low voice sounded, and her eyes fell on Ash for a long time. She was so moved.

Aimee wondered if she would be regarded as some kind of heinous villain by these two people if she said something more.

Otherwise, how could these two people stage such a bitter scene for her?

Aimee said, "Okay, I know you two have a good relationship, and I didn't really want to blame you. You guys look so scared. Why? Are you still worried that I will break you two up?"

Ash and Mikayla didn't speak, but they both acted as if they agreed with Aimee's words.

Aimee was dumbfounded and really didn't know what they were thinking. How can they act so weird?

Aimee said, "Okay, you two said that nothing happened, so I'm relieved. Otherwise, I really want to deal with you two."

When Mikayla heard what Aimee said, she immediately relaxed and obediently approached Aimee, saying with a smile, "Aimee, are you really not angry with me?"

Aimee said, "What's the use if I'm angry? Look at the state of the house. Your little secret has been hidden for a long time."

Mikayla's face turned red in an instant. In fact, it had been almost two months.

However, she was too embarrassed to tell Aimee this.

When Aimee saw her state, she knew that things were not easy.

She was a little speechless. Fortunately, they knew what they were doing. Otherwise, she really wanted to deal with them.

Aimee took Mikayla's hand and made her sit down beside her.

She said, "As for me, I'm not very good at taking care of candidates. I haven't helped you with your examination. It may be a little late to tell you this now, but I still want to tell you that there is nothing important about the exam. You can take the exam however you want, as long as you are happy, you know?"

Mikayla nodded, holding Mikayla's arm coquettishly.

She said, "Aimee, I'm not nervous at all. Really, I also think that I can do well in the exam."

In fact, with Mikayla's grades, it was very easy for her to get recommended. When being chosen as the recommended student before, Mikayla was the first choice of many colleges and universities.

However, she firmly believed that life without taking the college entrance examination was incomplete.

So, without thinking too much about it, Mikayla directly rejected all the invitations in order to experience a complete life.

Of course, Mikayla's teachers were the happiest about it.

Because, in terms of Mikayla's grades, as long as she went to take the exam, she will be the top.

This was a very important thing for her school, and it can be said that it will directly affect the enrollment of the next year.

Mikayla took the initiative to take the examination. For the school, this was simply a great event.

Of course, apart from the teachers and leaders of the school, the happiest one was actually the student who was recommended instead of Mikayla. Since getting the qualification, that student had been overjoyed.

He wasn't haughty. Otherwise, Mikayla would probably have to deal with him severely.

Now, hearing Aimee's advice to herself, Mikayla was even more fearless.

It was just an examination, and to her, it was really just a normal exam.

Mikayla leaned on Aimee's shoulder and said, "Aimee, don't worry. I'll take it easy."

Aimee nodded, and there was no more advice.

Speaking of which, the two sisters were really weird enough.

Originally, in terms of their own abilities, both of them were excellent and capable and the college entrance examination was the least troublesome thing for them.

Therefore, Aimee didn't know how to comfort her as the candidate at all, and clearly didn't know how to be a qualified elder.

The topic of the examination stopped abruptly.

Chapter 623 Looking at him aggrievedly and stubbornly

Aimee didn't stay at Maple Street Apartment for a long time. Once she knew that Ash and Mikayla were both decent people, she naturally had nothing to worry about.

Secondly, she really didn't have any extra instructions to tell Mikayla.

After this topic was over, Aimee left Maple Street Apartment.

It was still early, so she went to the Hayden Group.

Patrick was busy at the company today, so he didn't come with her to visit Mikayla.

In this regard, Patrick was displeased.

However, Patrick couldn't do anything about it.

In the words of his two brothers who were simply not dependable, he had already reached such a sweet level with Aimee, and he should take care of his two brothers who were still on the way to win their beloved ones' hearts.

Besides, Aimee was about to give birth soon, and even if his two brothers wanted to embarrass Patrick, they had no chance.

Patrick can only show them a little bit respect, and really come to the company to deal with the business.

However, for Patrick to come to take over the power, it made everyone in the company trembling like walking on eggshells.

Even breathing was careful.

Originally, among the three brothers of the Hayden family, Patrick was the most incomprehensible one.

He didn't express his emotions straightforwardly. With his facial expressions, he won't let anyone see whether he was happy or not.

It meant that when working for him, people should not make any mistakes.

Otherwise, he will use his way to tell everyone how tragic the end will be.

Originally, people in the company had been discussing who will take over the Hayden Group among the three brothers of the Hayden family.

This was really very important to them.

Almost everyone hoped that it could be Walter who took it over.

After all, he had the gentlest attitude and always joked with them, making the working atmosphere extra relaxed.

Of course, if someone was really stupid enough to think that when faced with Walter, they can do their own work without any scruples, the end will be quite tragic.

Walter, however, was easier to deal with than Miles and Patrick, who were utterly cruel and unpredictable.

Almost everyone knew that the three brothers of the Hayden family had no interest in the family group at all.

In order to leave the company to others for management, they had done everything they can.

Everyone's fun seemed that they were very interested in their evading each other. In fact, everyone was very worried about what they would do if Patrick really took it over.

Who would have thought that Patrick was back to manage the company again even if they had been worried about it.

In fact, this was not a big problem. After all, during this period of time, Patrick worked at home most of the time, and he had no intention of coming to the company at all.

Compared with what everyone was worried about, at least they were free.

However, now that Patrick came to the company suddenly, everyone felt that it seemed to be snowing suddenly, and it was freezing cold.

Patrick presided over the meeting and listened to the directors of various departments reporting the progress of the work.

He sat on the main seat, looking indifferent, and no one could even judge whether Patrick was listening to what the directors of various departments were saying.

In fact, Patrick had been waiting for his cell phone to ring.

The ringtone specially set for Aimee had not rang until now.

This made Patrick unhappy.

Did this woman not know that he was worried about her?

The person who was reporting was the leader of the second design group. This season's new products were handed over to the second design group to complete.

The team leader bit the bullet and reported the design concept of the second design team, but he didn't hear Patrick's comments for a long time.

This made the team leader nervous, and he fell into chaos.

Beads of sweat had already fallen from his forehead. In this low-air-conditioned conference room, it was killing him.

Finally, Patrick's fingers tapped lightly on the conference table.

His eyes narrowed slightly, and he looked at the leader of the second group.

"For this design plan, you have prepared for a full week. I didn't ask you to come up with a plan that can be proposed, but, you come up with a sketch to fool me. Isn't it too much?"

The leader of the second design team trembled.

Today's meeting was indeed held so suddenly that he had no choice but to report without any preparation.

In this regard, the colleagues in the group actually complained a lot.

However, it was indeed their dereliction of duty that they did not make a complete plan.

Therefore, even if this situation had been created now, there was no reason for sophistry.

Patrick was even more annoyed when he didn't even dare look at himself.

He even wanted to ask Walter now carefully what did he think when he handed over the plan to the second design team.

Patrick didn't think this was a reasonable choice.

However, the matter had come to this point, and it was meaningless for Patrick to pursue the responsibility.

He casually pointed out a few fatal problems and said, "Forty-eight hours, if these problems can't be fixed, all of you will leave this company."

As soon as he finished speaking, the atmosphere in the entire meeting room turned gloomy.

No one dared speak, and even breathe.

However, at this moment, a clear and bright female voice suddenly sounded. In this conference room where the atmosphere had turned cold, it seemed extraordinarily presumptuous.

"Let us leave? Is this too much? We design day and night. For this project, we almost live in the company. Just because of a temporary meeting, all our efforts are denied. Isn't that too unfair?"

The voice was full of anger and grievances that could not be concealed. When it came to the end, it was even with sobbing tone, as if she was bullied and felt pitiful.

Everyone gasped, and all looked at the source of the sound.

Even Patrick looked in that direction.

Then, he saw a pair of eyes full of tears, looking at him wronged and stubborn.

Chapter 624 Alina Simmons Shouts Behind

The person who spoke was a girl who looked like she had just graduated from university.

Her name was Alina Simmons, and she was a fresh graduate who just joined Hayden Group this year.

This girl had been very likable since she came to the second design team. Not only was she very diligent, she took the initiative to do many things, and she never forgot to learn from her predecessors.

In addition, she was very beautiful, always said nice things and bought afternoon tea and small gifts from time to time, making her team members quite happy.

Of course, the more important reason why the people in the second design team treated her like a princess was she was not just an ordinary college graduate, but the niece of the HR director.

Although she entered the Hayden Group after going through layers of selection by virtue of her design talent, naturally, no one who knew her background was stupid enough to mess up with her.

It can be said that this girl had a character and ability that people can't refuse, and a background that people can't ignore.

All kinds of reasons superimposed together made the people in the whole company extremely tolerant towards her.

However, even such tolerance was not the reason why she can be so presumptuous.

Especially at this moment and on this occasion, it was simply too inappropriate for her to do so.

Patrick narrowed his eyes, leaned back on the chair, and watched the girl who was accusing him.

He said, "New here? It seems that you're very dissatisfied with Hayden Group?"

When the leader of the second group heard Patrick's words, he trembled even more.

He quickly said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Hayden. She just graduated and doesn't know anything yet, so please don't be mad."

Then, he looked at Alina and said sharply, "Alina, what are you talking about?"

Alina didn't intend to talk to the leader of the second group at all, but looked at Patrick more firmly. Her tears were already rolling in her eyes, and she clearly wanted Patrick to give her an explanation.

There was a dark glint in Patrick's eye. It was a small thing to be angry at the girl for being so offended, but it was her behavior that forced Patrick to investigate.

He said, "I would like to ask you, as an employee of Hayden Group, with the salary that is three times higher than the market price, you can't come up with a corresponding design plan. Do you think this is reasonable?"

Alina bit her lip and couldn't answer Patrick's question.

She looked at Patrick tearfully, feeling even more aggrieved.

Alina said, "However, we are already working very hard."

Patrick sneered when he heard this, and other people in the meeting room looked at Alina speechlessly.

If it wasn't for Patrick's presence, they really wanted to rush over and asked the girl to shut up.

They didn't know where her usual sweet-talking cleverness had gone, but the words she said now were infuriating Patrick.

Sure enough, Patrick's face darkened, and his tone became even colder.

Patrick said, "You work very hard? You live in the company day and night, but in the end, you took out this kind of thing, which further shows that your design of the second group is a bunch of waste."

As Patrick said, he slammed the design proposal in front of him onto the table.

His gaze passed over Alina, swept across the others, and finally landed on the face of the leader of the second group.

Patrick said, "It's still the same. If you hand me this kind of rubbish again, your entire team will all get out of here."

Everyone didn't dare breathe. Everyone was trembling and complained about Alina in their hearts.

If she hadn't been a "hero" and said things that offended Patrick, how could they have ended up like this?

No matter how good everyone's attitude towards Alina was in the past, now they didn't give her a nice look.

Alina bit her lip tightly, tears falling down.

Patrick could really be so cruel in front of such a charming girl like her.

How could he do this?

Outside the conference room, Trace stood behind Aimee, breathing even carefully.

For the first time since they got married, Patrick was so angry.

It made Trace feel bad.

However, he didn't dare to ask Aimee to go in to ease Patrick's anger.

In particular, he looked at Aimee, as if she was enjoying a play.

Trace really wanted to say, "Ma'am, if you don't go in and persuade Mr. Hayden, it will be really difficult to deal with it."

However, Trace never got a chance to say that, because Patrick had already walked out of the meeting room.

When he was in the meeting room, he didn't see Aimee, so when he went out, he was stunned for a moment when he saw Aimee.

In the next second, Patrick held Aimee's waist and asked, "When did you come? Why didn't you tell me?"

Aimee said, "I want to give you a surprise."

In fact, Aimee wanted to say that she never thought that Patrick would surprise her first.

Patrick squeezed the soft flesh on Aimee's waist and said, "It's hard work, my baby. I'm very happy."

Aimee seldom came to the company to find Patrick. Of course, this was because Patrick really rarely came to the company, and he didn't give her the opportunity to come to the company.

Even when Aimee was downstairs just now, Aimee was stopped by the security guards, and Trace was asked to go down to pick her up.

Aimee leaned into Patrick's arms and said, "You were so fierce just now. I was scared."

As Patrick heard the words, he looked down at Aimee and said, "It's my fault. I'll coax you in a while."

Aimee's mouth twitched. It was almost too cute for Patrick.

She said, "Okay, I was kidding you. How could I be so scared?"

At most, it was the first time she saw Patrick lose his temper, and it was just fresh.

Aimee asked, "So, can we go home now?"

"Of course." Patrick said.

He turned to look at Trace and said, "You take care of the rest."

Trace nodded and said, "Don't worry, Mr. Hayden."

Patrick was about to go to the elevator with his arms around Aimee, but there was that crisp voice behind him.

"Mr. Hayden, please wait a moment." Alina called from behind.

Chapter 624 Alina Simmons Shouts Behind

The person who spoke was a girl who looked like she had just graduated from university.

Her name was Alina Simmons, and she was a fresh graduate who just joined Hayden Group this year.

This girl had been very likable since she came to the second design team. Not only was she very diligent, she took the initiative to do many things, and she never forgot to learn from her predecessors.

In addition, she was very beautiful, always said nice things and bought afternoon tea and small gifts from time to time, making her team members quite happy.

Of course, the more important reason why the people in the second design team treated her like a princess was she was not just an ordinary college graduate, but the niece of the HR director.

Although she entered the Hayden Group after going through layers of selection by virtue of her design talent, naturally, no one who knew her background was stupid enough to mess up with her.

It can be said that this girl had a character and ability that people can't refuse, and a background that people can't ignore.

All kinds of reasons superimposed together made the people in the whole company extremely tolerant towards her.

However, even such tolerance was not the reason why she can be so presumptuous.

Especially at this moment and on this occasion, it was simply too inappropriate for her to do so.

Patrick narrowed his eyes, leaned back on the chair, and watched the girl who was accusing him.

He said, "New here? It seems that you're very dissatisfied with Hayden Group?"

When the leader of the second group heard Patrick's words, he trembled even more.

He quickly said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Hayden. She just graduated and doesn't know anything yet, so please don't be mad."

Then, he looked at Alina and said sharply, "Alina, what are you talking about?"

Alina didn't intend to talk to the leader of the second group at all, but looked at Patrick more firmly. Her tears were already rolling in her eyes, and she clearly wanted Patrick to give her an explanation.

There was a dark glint in Patrick's eye. It was a small thing to be angry at the girl for being so offended, but it was her behavior that forced Patrick to investigate.

He said, "I would like to ask you, as an employee of Hayden Group, with the salary that is three times higher than the market price, you can't come up with a corresponding design plan. Do you think this is reasonable?"

Alina bit her lip and couldn't answer Patrick's question.

She looked at Patrick tearfully, feeling even more aggrieved.

Alina said, "However, we are already working very hard."

Patrick sneered when he heard this, and other people in the meeting room looked at Alina speechlessly.

If it wasn't for Patrick's presence, they really wanted to rush over and asked the girl to shut up.

They didn't know where her usual sweet-talking cleverness had gone, but the words she said now were infuriating Patrick.

Sure enough, Patrick's face darkened, and his tone became even colder.

Patrick said, "You work very hard? You live in the company day and night, but in the end, you took out this kind of thing, which further shows that your design of the second group is a bunch of waste."

As Patrick said, he slammed the design proposal in front of him onto the table.

His gaze passed over Alina, swept across the others, and finally landed on the face of the leader of the second group.

Patrick said, "It's still the same. If you hand me this kind of rubbish again, your entire team will all get out of here."

Everyone didn't dare breathe. Everyone was trembling and complained about Alina in their hearts.

If she hadn't been a "hero" and said things that offended Patrick, how could they have ended up like this?

No matter how good everyone's attitude towards Alina was in the past, now they didn't give her a nice look.

Alina bit her lip tightly, tears falling down.

Patrick could really be so cruel in front of such a charming girl like her.

How could he do this?

Outside the conference room, Trace stood behind Aimee, breathing even carefully.

For the first time since they got married, Patrick was so angry.

It made Trace feel bad.

However, he didn't dare to ask Aimee to go in to ease Patrick's anger.

In particular, he looked at Aimee, as if she was enjoying a play.

Trace really wanted to say, "Ma'am, if you don't go in and persuade Mr. Hayden, it will be really difficult to deal with it."

However, Trace never got a chance to say that, because Patrick had already walked out of the meeting room.

When he was in the meeting room, he didn't see Aimee, so when he went out, he was stunned for a moment when he saw Aimee.

In the next second, Patrick held Aimee's waist and asked, "When did you come? Why didn't you tell me?"

Aimee said, "I want to give you a surprise."

In fact, Aimee wanted to say that she never thought that Patrick would surprise her first.

Patrick squeezed the soft flesh on Aimee's waist and said, "It's hard work, my baby. I'm very happy."

Aimee seldom came to the company to find Patrick. Of course, this was because Patrick really rarely came to the company, and he didn't give her the opportunity to come to the company.

Even when Aimee was downstairs just now, Aimee was stopped by the security guards, and Trace was asked to go down to pick her up.

Aimee leaned into Patrick's arms and said, "You were so fierce just now. I was scared."

As Patrick heard the words, he looked down at Aimee and said, "It's my fault. I'll coax you in a while."

Aimee's mouth twitched. It was almost too cute for Patrick.

She said, "Okay, I was kidding you. How could I be so scared?"

At most, it was the first time she saw Patrick lose his temper, and it was just fresh.

Aimee asked, "So, can we go home now?"

"Of course." Patrick said.

He turned to look at Trace and said, "You take care of the rest."

Trace nodded and said, "Don't worry, Mr. Hayden."

Patrick was about to go to the elevator with his arms around Aimee, but there was that crisp voice behind him.

"Mr. Hayden, please wait a moment." Alina called from behind.