Chapter 651 Probably already simulating how to bite off his neck

When Eden heard what Aimee said, he could naturally understand the meaning of what Aimee said.

However, as far as Eden was concerned, it was difficult for him not to think about something more complicated.

If he really went to investigate Minnie, then Eden could imagine what would happen after Minnie found out.

As a result, Eden actually didn't dare to do that.

However, Eden also knew that if he really didn't investigate anything, and if he didn't find out what Minnie had experienced, the relationship between him and Minnie might just go on like this.

In this regard, Eden was troubled again.

But, Eden was only troubled for a while.

He looked at Aimee and said, "Aimee, I have a request."

Aimee nodded, signaling him to just speak up.

Eden said, "Aimee, can you give her a few more days off?"

Aimee thought for a moment, then said, "Yes."

Eden got Aimee's consent, and said, "Aimee, you are such a nice person."

Aimee looked at Eden helplessly, and was dumbfounded about his compliment for her.

Eden stood up, talked to Camdyn, and was about to leave.

He drove directly to the institute.

After Aimee led him here last time, Eden was already familiar with the road.

Moreover, Aimee gave him a permission to enter and leave the research institute freely.

On the way he came, Aimee had even told the people in the institute to let him in and let him find Minnie by himself. At the same time, he sent a message to Minnie's current immediate leader to let Minnie take a vacation.

Therefore, Eden was very smooth on the road.

When Eden arrived at Minnie's laboratory, Minnie was doing experiments.

This was the first time he saw her working like this. She was extremely focused, as if nothing in this world could affect her. In her world, there was only the work in front of her.

Eden leaned against the door and looked at Minnie for a long time. After a while, Eden walked over to Minnie's side.

Minnie thought it was the tutor of the research institute, and it happened that there was a piece of data that she wanted to tell the tutor, but she didn't see who was coming, so she opened her mouth directly.

"Mr. Sun, please help me. Did I make a mistake in this data?" Minnie pointed to a spot on the computer and said.

However, Minnie did not hear a response.

Only then did she realize that something was wrong.

Minnie raised her eyes and looked at the person standing beside her.

Only then did he realize that the person standing next to her was actually Eden.

Her eyes widened in surprise, and she asked in disbelief, "Why are you here?"

"I pick you up," Eden said.

Minnie became even more puzzled, looked at Eden strangely and said, "I have no promise to go out with you."

Eden said, "Aimee has given you a vacation. Now, you just need to walk with me."

What was going on?

Minnie was a little confused.

What was this man talking about?

At this time, the tutor walked in. Seeing Eden appearing here, he didn't have any surprised expression.

He directly said to Minnie, "Minnie, you didn't tell me when you haven't recovered yet. Go back and rest for a few more days, and come back after you feel better."

Minnie looked at Eden even more suspiciously. Knowing without asking, this guy must be playing tricks.

This made Minnie's complexion extremely ugly.

She said, "Mr. Sun, my body has recovered, and there is no need to rest."

The tutor looked at Minnie, then at Eden, and said with a smile, "Oh, this is what our boss meant. I just want to convey it to you. Don't embarrass me."

Minnie never thought that her tutor would use such words, which made it impossible for her to refuse.

She really had no way to embarrass him, so she could only stare at Eden, and then said, "Then, Mr. Sun, before I go back to rest, can you take a look at this data for me first?"

The tutor heard this and could tell that if Minnie didn't understand this set of data, it would be impossible for this dedicated person to go back to rest.

So he nodded and said, "Let me show you."

The data needed to go through a rigorous algorithm. Looking at it like this, he naturally had no way to figure it out directly.

He thought for a while and said, "Minnie, how about this? I'll calculate this set of data for you, and you can go back and rest first."

When Minnie heard this, although she was a little unhappy, she still nodded.

However, when her tutor was about to take her computer away, Minnie asked, "Mr. Sun, are you sure you just let me go back to rest, and why don't you just fire me?"

He was amused by Minnie's words.

He said, "Minnie, how is this possible? Even if the boss has this intention, I will not agree."

Her tutor appreciated Minnie's ability very much and thought that Minnie was a rare talent in the research institute. Naturally, he didn't want her to leave the research institute.

Only then did Minnie feel relieved, and had no other choice but to just leave with Eden.

The two were silent all the way. Minnie's face was very cold. She didn't want to make too much trouble with Eden in the research institute, so she didn't say a word along the way.

Eden certainly sensed Minnie's displeasure.

He touched his nose, and at the moment he really didn't dare to say something to provoke Minnie.

When they reached the parking lot, Minnie finally couldn't bear it, and burst out the anger that she had been suppressing all along.

Minnie said, "Eden, why don't you explain?"

Before, Minnie always called him Mr. McCoy in order to apologize to Eden.

Today, she was completely pissed off by Eden, and she blurted out his name directly.

When Eden heard her gritted his teeth and called his name, he really felt that, in this woman's heart, he was probably about to be strangled to death by her.

Eden thought that when Minnie called his name, she was probably simulating how to bite off his neck.

Chapter 652 A bad feeling arises spontaneously

Today's matter was indeed that Eden was too impulsive and just rushed over here.

In fact, he just wanted to make an appointment with Minnie to have a good talk with her.

However, he didn't expect that Aimee would directly give Minnie a vacation in order to allow him to settle the matter properly.

Eden didn't know about this either.

However, even now that Minnie misunderstood him, Eden didn't intend to explain anything.

It was not Aimee's nature to be able to do this.

She had done so. Even if Eden didn't ask for it, he was still touched by her kindness.

However, for Minnie, this was not the case at all.

Minnie said, "I feel very regretful now. Maybe, I should not have worked in the institute at all."

She had to admit that she really liked this institute, and admired Aimee very much.

However, even in this state, Minnie was really pissed off now.

Her eyes were all red. If it wasn't for her self-esteem challenging herself, she might be crying right now.

If she really did this, Minnie felt that she would be too ashamed.

She can't afford to lose her face.

Seeing her like this, Eden felt very uncomfortable in his heart.

He was very distressed.

He was thinking very seriously that it seemed that he really did something wrong.

Eden said, "I hope you can trust me. First, I don't mean to disturb your work."

Minnie looked at Eden amusedly when she heard this, and sneered coldly, "Then what are you doing now? Eden, you are just so inconsistent with your words and deeds, and you are so reconciled to let me hate you, aren't you?"

Eden's expression changed instantly when he heard her say that.

This was the first time Minnie said so bluntly in front of him that she hated him.

This feeling was like a knife stabbing in Eden's heart.

He even looked at Minnie uncontrollably with an unbelievable look.

He said, "Are you serious about what you just said? You, hate me?"

Minnie clenched her fists violently and actually knew the answer to this question very well.

At this time, she can actually blurt out. Yes, there was nothing wrong that she just hated Eden.

However, the impulsive words, which were already on the verge of her mouth, still made Minnie stop.

She bit her lips tightly, and inside her lips became even redder.

Now, what she loathed even more was clearly herself.

She actually couldn't say such hurtful words at all.

What an irony.

Obviously, she could say hurtful words so easily, but in the end, she was the first to give up.

Minnie bit her lips to the point of bleeding.

She hated herself.

At this moment, what else did Minnie not understand? She already knew one fact very well.

Whether she admitted it or not, all her emotions towards the man in front of her had begun to change.

A look of desperation welled up in Minnie's eyes.

What she feared the most had finally happened.

Eden didn't hear her answer for a long time, and saw her expression like this again.

There was still something in his heart that he didn't understand.

Because of understanding, Eden felt more distressed for this woman.

He took a step forward, getting closer to Minnie.

Minnie subconsciously took a step back. However, there was a car behind her, and Minnie's body was directly on top of the car.

This gave Eden a great opportunity.

He put Minnie directly between himself and the car.

Eden reached up and squeezed Minnie's jaw, forcing her teeth to release her lips.

Minnie was made very uncomfortable by his action, and subconsciously wanted to hide even more.

However, Eden still didn't give her this chance.

Eden said, "How can you always say things that annoy me so much?"

Minnie stared at Eden, subconsciously wanting to refute. However, Eden was one step faster than her to cover her lips with his fingers.

Eden said, "If you don't want me to do something, I advise you it's better not to say anything. Otherwise, if I do something that makes you uncomfortable, I won't be responsible."

Minnie stared at Eden in astonishment when she heard the words. It was really hard to believe how he could say such shameless words so frankly.

Minnie was not an idiot, so she can tell what Eden was referring to.

In particular, when Eden said this, his eyes still fell on her lips.

So, what made her uncomfortable was self-evident.

Minnie was so angry that she finally couldn't hold back and kicked Eden's leg.

Eden was very helpless to her action, but he reacted quickly and directly controlled Minnie's leg.

Minnie turned into an extremely contorted posture, just being held between his chest and the car by Eden.

This feeling made Minnie so angry that she wanted to kill him.

She was wearing a skirt today, and she completely forgot it just now, and kicked Eden's leg directly.

Now, because of the strange posture between them, her skirt was held up and her thighs were exposed under Eden's palm.

Minnie twisted her body uncomfortably, trying to break free from Eden's shackles.

However, her actions brought her even more serious shackles by Eden.

He said, "You still dare to move around, because you are really not afraid of what I will do to you."

Minnie could hear how depressed he was in his voice when he said this.

Now, Minnie really didn't dare to move anymore.

She just stared at Eden like this, and said, "Why don't you just let me go first? I promise to have a good talk with you."

It was the first time Eden saw Minnie like this.

To be honest, it was very fresh.

He smiled and said, "You are very cute in this way. I think, communicating with you like this, I can hear some truths more."

Minnie just knew how could this man let her go so easily?

Minnie wanted to discuss with Eden again, but she heard him say, "Well, you answer me a question first, and if I am satisfied with your answer, I will promise you and talk to you in another place."

Minnie was dumb and a bad premonition arose spontaneously.

Chapter 653 Pretty cute

Minnie looked at Eden defensively, and the emotion in her eyes was clearly telling Eden to stop in moderation and not overreach.

However, Eden's expression was telling Minnie that he was really determined.

Eden's force to suppress her was a little bit harder.

He said, "Minnie, now, I'll give you a chance to answer seriously. Did what you said just now, that you hate me, come from your heart?"

Minnie knew he wanted to ask this.

She subconsciously wanted to turn her face away, but now she was at Eden's mercy, completely without the ability to choose.

Minnie even suspected that if she really said something that was true, she might really be dealt with by Eden on the spot.

However, she didn't want to act so cowardly in front of Eden.

Minnie said, "So what if I'm sincere? So what if I'm not? Eden, what you have done can't make me hate you?"

Eden knew she was in a fit of anger, so he didn't bother with her temper.

He said, "Minnie, I don't need to take your angry words to heart. I just want you to answer. In the end, do you want to try it with me?"

When Minnie heard this, her eyes widened.

She stared at Eden in disbelief, as if she wasn't sure what she heard.

Minnie said, "Eden, what do you mean?"

Eden was about to be pissed off by this woman.

He squeezed Minnie's wrist firmly, and said, "What do I mean? Minnie, how long are you going to play dumb with me?"

Minnie was really taken aback by Eden at this moment.

She became a little bit embarrassed, looked at Eden with uneasy eyes for a moment, and said tentatively, "Eden, I promise to have a good talk with you, but I don't want to talk to you so bluntly."

Eden was speechless from her anger.

He said, "Then tell me, what are we talking about? What are you running away from?"

As he spoke, Eden's eyes fell on Minnie's lips again.

He said, "Minnie, admit it, you not only don't hate me, you still like me."

"I didn't!" Minnie immediately denied it, staring at Eden tightly, as if trying to see through him.

Eden wasn't fooled by her rebuttal at all.

He gave a low laugh and said, "Why is there such a big reaction? Or do you think that the rebuttal is loud enough now that it's really not the case?"

Minnie was on the verge of crying.

Before, Eden had never been so polite to her.

However, she had never been forced like this before.

The current Eden made Minnie feel extremely panicked.

She didn't even know how to describe her mood.

She just felt that every nerve in her body seemed to tense up in an instant.

She didn't want to be tricked by this man.

But, she really couldn't do it if she really told any ugly lies.

Such a feeling made Minnie fall into a kind of despair that she had never experienced before.

She bit her lips tightly and said, "Eden, can you not force me like this?"

Eden at this moment really terrified Minnie.

Eden caressed Minnie's lips with his fingers, and said, "Okay, I won't force you."

His voice was so gentle that Minnie was stunned again.

She even wondered if Eden was schizophrenic.

Otherwise, how could he have been persecuting her for a second.

The next second, he was so gentle.

All of a sudden, Minnie realized that she didn't understand Eden at all.

He brought her an invisible sense of oppression, making her want to do nothing but run away quickly.

Eden said, "You haven't answered my question yet. After you answer, I will let you go."

In fact, Eden himself was a little bit on the verge of breaking down.

The distance between him and Minnie was almost only separated by each other's clothes.

However, because it was summer, the arms of the two of them were flesh to flesh.

Eden was a normal man who liked Minnie, so certainly he had some strange feelings because of this action.

If this went on like this, he would really wonder if he was going to be tortured to death by this woman.

Minnie knew what Eden had said, and answered his question.

In fact, it was the answer he wanted.

Otherwise, he still won't let go of her.

She bit her lip lightly and said, "No."

Not really, she didn't hate him.

When she said this answer, Minnie didn't know how to describe her mood.

She just felt that the current self seemed to be stepping on a ball of cotton, fluttering lightly, and her mind was dizzy.

Eden understood her answer.

The corners of his mouth curled up unconsciously.

His fingertips rubbed the corners of Minnie's mouth gently.

Minnie wanted to dodge subconsciously because of his movement.

However, she was not able to do so.

Eden pinched her chin, and his eyes fell on her pink lips.

His voice was a little more hoarse, but attractive in Minnie's ears.

Eden said, "Your mouth is pretty cute."

Chapter 654 Can't you really feel it?

The hairs all over Minnie's body were about to stand on end.

She watched Eden defensively, subconsciously wanting to get away from under his wand.

However, she was not able to do so.

Eden controlled her so firmly that there was no way she could retreat.

Minnie was terrified, really worried that Eden would really do something to her.

She opened her mouth tentatively and called out, "Eden."

However, at this moment, Minnie's voice was not as aggressive as before.

There was a slight trill in her voice, and she was cautiously worried.

Minnie didn't seem to know that at such a moment, such a voice was undoubtedly adding fuel to the fire.

When he heard her voice as thin as a gnat, Eden's eyes darkened even more.

His hands against the car body clenched into fists unconsciously.

It was really terrible that this woman was probably sent by the heavens to torture him.

Taking a deep breath, Eden said, "Let's go on a trip so that you can get to know me better. When you come back, you can decide how to define the relationship between us."

Minnie stared at Eden in shock when she heard the words, completely unaware of how things had come to this point.

She stared at Eden for a long time before saying, "But we..."

"Don't reject me. Since Aimee gave you a vacation, make good use of this time," Eden said.

His gaze fell on Minnie's face, as if he had made a big decision.

He said, "If, after you come back, you are still not tempted by me, then I won't bother you anymore."

Minnie was stunned again when she heard that.

She couldn't describe her mood.

At this moment, Minnie almost blurted it out, but it was no longer necessary.

She knew exactly what was on her mind.

However, in the end, Minnie didn't say this.

She lowered her eyes, and after a long time, she said, "Then, can you let me go now?"

Seeing her expression like this, Eden was indeed rather uncertain in his heart.

In the end, was there really no possibility between them?

Everything was really just his self-indulgence?

Eden took a deep breath, and finally being a gentleman to let go of Minnie.

Minnie's awkward posture just now made her feel bad.

She rubbed her wrist and saw a red palm print on it, feeling a little helpless.

How could this guy scare her so hard?

Minnie said, "Now, I want to go back."

Eden said, "You can go back and get your documents, and we will leave in a while."

Minnie looked at Eden even more astonished, and said incredulously, "Leave now?"

Wasn't this too exaggerated? Why was this man so impulsive?

This was exaggerated.

Eden said, "I know that you like your job very much. If I really want you to travel with me for a month or two, you will not agree. So, let's not waste time and start now."

Minnie said, "But, I haven't packed my luggage yet."

Eden said, "Just buy it after we arrive."

Minnie was dumbfounded.

This man was really and very capricious.

Eden said, "Is your ID on you, or is it at your home? If it is on you, then let's go now."

After all, it can be seen that there was no need to say anything more. This man had already decided everything, and now, as long as she obeyed his command, it will be fine.

Minnie said, resigning, "It's in my bag."

Eden was delighted when he heard it, and stretched out his hand to open the car door for Minnie, saying, "Then let's go. Don't waste time."

Minnie had no choice but to follow Eden into the car.

After Eden drove the car out of the parking lot, Minnie asked, "Then, can I know where we are going first?"

Eden said, "I don't know."

“Don’t know?” Minnie was speechless.

This guy was probably joking with her.

She said, “Isn’t there a plan for travel?”

“Just go. After arriving at the airport, I can choose whatever I want,” Eden said.

“Then there must be a destination.” Minnie really couldn’t understand. She looked at Eden, suppressed her dissatisfaction, and said, “Eden, aren’t you really lying to me?”

Eden was quite helpless by Minnie’s words.

He said, “Do I need to lie to you for this kind of thing? Minnie, do you think I can make an agreement with Aimee, design such a thing, and then take you away?”

Minnie didn’t speak, but her attitude said everything.

Indeed, she thought so.

Eden was almost mad at Minnie.

He said, “If I tell you that I didn’t know that Aimee gave you a vacation until I met your leader, would you believe it or not?”

Minnie stared at Eden in surprise, and it took her a long time to digest the information.

He was telling her that he didn’t ask Aimee to give her a vacation at all, but Aimee took the initiative to do it.

Although, as far as Minnie was concerned, she will see this matter as making no difference.

In her opinion, Eden and Aimee were comrades-in-arms. It was reasonable whether Eden made some demands on Aimee or Aimee did something to assist Eden.

However, hearing Eden say that now, Minnie still felt strange in her heart.

She didn’t speak any more, just curled her fingers and landed on her lap.

This feeling was really amazing.

Eden didn’t hear her voice and let out another long sigh.

He said, “Minnie, can you not always look at me with emotions? I do have some impulses when I do something, but I believe that you are not an idiot. There’s no way you can’t feel it.”

Minnie fell silent again.

Yes, she was not an idiot, so she can naturally feel whether this man was sincere or not.

Minnie was silent for a long time before saying, “Eden, is there no reason that you’re not convinced?”

The first time they met, she deliberately pretended to be that way to deceive him and fool him.

Minnie put herself in another way. If this kind of thing happened to her, she would definitely be so angry that she would explode.

Therefore, regarding Eden's feelings for her, Minnie will even think that this was his man's self-esteem at work.

It was precisely because of this that Minnie was more able to lobby herself that she shouldn't take it too seriously, and really didn't take it too seriously.

Otherwise, in the end, the one who will be overwhelmed was hard to recover, and it will still be her after all.

When Eden heard this, his hand holding the steering wheel paused.

He didn't find any excuses for himself, and in the end he said directly, "I have to admit, indeed, after you did those things on purpose, I was really upset. And I really wanted to tear off your mask. But, Minnie, is it because I'm upset, or because I really like you, can't you really feel it?"

Chapter 655 Is it too much trouble for Mr. Hayden?

Minnie sensed the sullenness in Eden's words.

She didn't say anything to make Eden dejected.

Eden let out a long sigh.

He could see that most of his life had fallen on this woman.

She really had great ability to torture him like this.

But, if it was just like this, it was fine.

However, he still liked this woman.

It was fucking serious.

Although Eden was not a playboy and had no emotional experience, he can clearly see through his own heart.

He wanted this woman very much.

However, if she really didn't like him, Eden knew that he will not force her, and will not do anything to hurt her.

He had even imagined that he might really just watch her find someone she liked, be with someone she liked, and watch her get married.

Just thinking about it, Eden was about to suffocate himself.

However, the damn thing was that when he thought this way, if, one day, Minnie needed him in anything, he would still be obliged to help her.

This kind of thinking was entrenched in Eden's mind and made him even wonder wasn't he really a fucking idiot?

But, he was really such an idiot.

Finally, when they arrived at the airport, Minnie said, "Eden, I promise you I will give you an answer when we get back."

Whether to be with this man, Minnie herself didn't know what the answer was.

However, she would tell herself that she shouldn't think about it so much.

Everything was left to time to test it.

The two of them let time decide where they will go.

Eden nodded and said, "Let's go and check the nearest flight."

Minnie had never been on such a trip before that she can leave as soon as she said it.

Who would have thought that Eden would actually be so crazy.

However, they had already arrived at the airport, and Minnie really felt that this behavior was quite romantic.

It was very exciting and filled her with anticipation.

Eden said, "It's been too long to go abroad. In the future, let's go together. This time, just stay at home, okay?"

Minnie had no objection and naturally preferred domestic to foreign.

However, since she wanted to relax thoroughly, Minnie said, "I want to go to an island. Is that okay?"

When Eden heard this, the corners of his mouth curled up slightly.

Minnie didn't notice it herself, but when she said this, she seemed to be acting like a baby to him.

Eden especially liked this feeling.

He said, "Of course, you have the final say."

Minnie could tell that Eden was in a happy mood.

She looked at him and saw that he was looking at her intently.

An uncontrollable throbbing instantly spread to every cell in her body.

Minnie said, "Let's see if there is any plane to South Island. I heard that the scenery there is very beautiful."

Eden said, "Wait for me."

He went to inquire about the flight information. Unfortunately, there was only one flight to South Island every day, and today's flight had already flown away.

When the news was told to Minnie, Eden saw her expression and was very disappointed.

As a man who was pursuing her, how could he let her down because of this kind of thing?

Eden directly took out his cell phone and called Patrick.

The call was connected quickly.

Eden said, "Patrick, can you arrange a route for me to South Island, today?"

On the other end of the phone, Patrick didn't ask any more questions but asked him to wait for a while before making arrangements.

Not long after, Patrick called and said, "The application for the direct flight to South Island will have to wait until tomorrow. My suggestion is that you fly to Ancegan first, then take the ferry from Ancegan to South Island. I've arranged for you to fly Ancegan, leaving in an hour."

Eden naturally had no objection to this arrangement, and after thanking Patrick, he hung up the phone.

He raised his eyebrows at Minnie and said, "It's done."

Minnie was so shocked that she couldn't say anything.

This feeling was actually fairly wonderful.

She didn't know how to describe her mood.

However, it was inevitable that she was somehow joyful.

South Island was actually the place she had always wanted to go, but she had been abroad before, and now that she came back, there was no arrangement.

Unexpectedly, doing such a crazy thing with Eden today brought her the place she always wanted to go.

She looked at Eden for a while before saying, "Thank you, Eden."

Eden curled up the corner of his mouth and said, "Just save it yourself. You know what I want to hear more."

Minnie didn't speak again.

She really didn't know how to deal with Eden's straightness.

Many times, Minnie had a feeling that she can't stand it.

She would even think about whether the emotions that germinated in her that made her panic were not from her heart, but the shock that this man brought her was so great that she couldn't help it at all. There was no way to escape.

Or, she could take this opportunity to go to South Island to let her figure out the origin of all this and what it was.

If these emotions really came from her heart, then she would not resist.

Just take it as giving her an answer.

The two went to the VIP waiting room, and soon, staff led them to board the plane.

Just now, Minnie didn't listen carefully.

At this moment, when she saw the plane in front of her, Minnie knew that it turned out that Patrick had arranged for them a private jet.

Minnie felt a little helpless in an instant.

She somewhat understood that it was not so easy to arrange the route of a private jet.

But Patrick arranged such a close flight for them, one can imagine how difficult it was.

After Minnie sat down, she still couldn't help asking, "Isn't this too troublesome for Mr. Hayden?"

Chapter 656 Minnie chooses to keep her mouth shut

Eden smiled when he heard the words and said, "We're friends, so it's not troublesome."

Minnie didn't say anything more.

Besides, she had no position to say anything more.

The plane landed in Ancegan, just in time for dinner.

Although there was food on the plane just now, neither of them was hungry, so unquestionably they didn't eat anything.

Coming out of the airport, Eden said, "I know a good restaurant. Do you want to try it?"

Minnie laughed when she heard that, and said, "I also know a good restaurant. Do you want to try it?"

Eden raised his eyebrows and said, "Then what are we waiting for? Let's go."

Minnie was dragged by him, and went straight out of the airport.

The two of them got into a taxi, and Minnie asked, "Go to the one you mentioned, or to the one I mentioned."

Eden said, "Your one."

Minnie told address to the driver, "Sir, please go to Blue Glow Tea House."

After saying so, Minnie turned around and met Eden with a playful look.

She hadn't reacted yet, but she was somewhat uncomfortable being looked at by him like this.

Minnie said, "Stop looking at me like that. It's weird."

Eden said, "You don't want to know where is the place I'm talking about?"

Originally, Minnie planned to ask Eden where the restaurant he mentioned was.

However, hearing him say that now, Minnie had a premonition.

She looked at Eden suspiciously, and asked tentatively, "Could it be, is it what I think?"

Eden curled his lips and said, "Minnie, I think, before we go back, I already have the answer."

The two of them truthfully had a certain kind of tacit understanding. Because of this, they didn't need to do so many complicated things, and they were the most suitable people for each other.

It didn't help that Minnie didn't admit it, but it was the truth.

Minnie, needless to say, understood Eden's words.

She turned her face away, pretending to look at the scenery outside.

However, she had to listen to Eden's words.

It was just that Minnie was a little bit sacred and didn't want to face her true feelings so quickly, which will make her extremely flustered.

Eden saw that she was covering herself again and unwilling to discuss this topic with him, so he didn't say anything more.

He had his own plan. No matter what Minnie's plan was, he had already understood her heart.

That being the case, it was impossible for him to give her a chance to escape.

What he thought before that he would silently guard her side and not disturb her life was all based on the premise that this woman really didn't like him, even loathed him, and didn't want to see him at all.

However, Eden now completely understood Minnie's heart.

She had him in her heart and liked him.

She just didn't want to face the fact.

It didn't matter. He won't force her, but he won't let her go either.

He will be with her, just waiting until the moment when she really saw her heart clearly.

Minnie didn't know what Eden was thinking.

Ancegan was not a big city, but every time she came over, she will be shocked by the scenery in front of her.

She liked such a cozy place, as if she didn't need to do much, and just staying here for a whole day was enough.

Eden's gaze had always been on Minnie, and Minnie can feel it directly.

She really wanted to raise her hand so that Eden wouldn't stare at her like this.

It made her very uncomfortable.

However, Minnie had a premonition that if she really told Eden this way, it would make him look at her more presumptuously.

Fortunately, the car soon pulled over at Blue Glow Tea House.

As a favorite tea house of Ancegan locals, the food here was certainly the most authentic in Ancegan.

When Minnie was very young, she came here once and tasted the food once, and it was hard to forget it.

However, what Minnie didn't expect was that she would come here again with Eden.

To be honest, this feeling was quite strange for Minnie.

Standing at the door of the teahouse at this moment, Minnie was still somewhat in a daze.

Eden saw her staring at the signboard in a daze, and asked, "What's wrong?"

Minnie shook her head and said, "I just thought that this place would be refurbished, but I didn't expect it to be the same as when I was a child."

Eden said, "People in Ancegan are nostalgic, but in fact this has been renovated."

Minnie understood what Eden meant.

She was a little surprised, looked at Eden, and asked, "You seem to be very familiar with this place?"

"I lived in Ancegan for a while when I was a child, and I came here almost every day," Eden said.

When he was a child, he was quite jumpy and lived in many places.

Of course, his favorite city was still Innisrial.

However, Ancegan had a special meaning to Eden.

Minnie didn't know what Eden had experienced, nor what Ancegan meant to Eden, so she didn't ask any more questions.

Eden looked at her like this, smiled, and said, "Let's go. Aren't you hungry? You're still basking in the sun here."

Minnie walked into the tea house with Eden.

As was anticipated, there was no table available at first, so the two took a number plate and sat down on a sofa.

Minnie said, "When I came here as a child, the business was not so brisk."

Eden said, "In recent years, Ancegan has become a popular tourist city for people all over the country. Naturally, more people come here."

Minnie didn't comment on this, but suddenly couldn't help laughing.

Eden looked at her suspiciously, wondering what she was laughing at.

Minnie said, "I think it's funny that the two of us are actually talking about this."

They were here for tourism, but it was afraid that people might think that they were from a certain company to inspect a project here.

Eden was almost pissed off by Minnie's words.

She actually had the nerve to make such a joke with him.

Eden said, "I want to talk to you about other things, but you don't want to."

Minnie was struck dumb.

Decisively, Minnie chose to keep her mouth shut.

Chapter 657 You are so easy to coax

After queuing for more than forty minutes, Eden and Minnie got a table for two.

The two sat down at the table and took the menu.

Minnie became even happier when she saw the menu.

The food on this menu was the same as when she was a child.

Minnie's eyes suddenly turned red.

Although this seemed a little sentimental, she just couldn't control herself.

It was the first time for Eden to see Minnie who was so emotional.

There was distress in his eyes, and he really wanted to reach out and rub her head to give her some comfort.

However, Eden did not do this in the end.

The relationship between them had just eased a bit, so he naturally didn't want Minnie to feel that he could do whatever he wanted to her just because they were in Ancegan now.

In fact, Eden would never allow himself to have such thoughts.

He quickly took the menu, then looked at Minnie and said, "What do you want to eat?"

Seeing that he had already checked the food he wanted to eat, Minnie reached out and took the menu.

The menu of Blue Glow Tea House was still old-fashioned. People can draw on it with a pencil and choose what they wanted to eat.

After taking it in this way, Minnie discovered that almost all of what Eden checked was what she wanted to choose.

She stared at Eden in astonishment. For a moment, she didn't know how to describe her mood.

It seemed that there was one more reason they should be together.

Seeing that Minnie didn't move, Eden looked at her strangely and asked, "What's wrong? Why are you looking at me like that?"

"Nothing." Minnie shook her head quickly, and then casually ordered two more, as if trying to cover up and ignore the tacit understanding between her and Eden.

However, Minnie didn't even notice what she had chosen.

After she handed the menu to the waiter, she noticed that Eden was looking at her with a strange look.

Minnie asked suspiciously, "What's wrong? Why are you looking at me like that?"

Eden smiled and said, "Nothing."

However, when the dishes were served, Minnie was dumbfounded.

She actually ordered a tonic food especially for men.

For a moment, Minnie really wanted to get under the table.

It was almost ashamed to see him.

No wonder Eden would look at her with such strange eyes.

This was the first time for Minnie to feel mortified so clearly.

She thought quickly, hoping that she could give him an extremely perfect reason.

However, there was no such reason.

Minnie even wanted to mess around a little bit, so she could directly blame Eden that how could he order such a thing.

However, Minnie valued her dignity in the end, and despised this way of blaming the wrong person.

Just when Minnie thought it was really screwed up, she heard Eden say, "I'm sorry I probably checked it accidentally. Will you mind it?"

Minnie looked at Eden in surprise upon hearing this.

Her feeling right now was really too complicated to describe.

She was grateful for Eden's gentleness at the moment, but it also made her feel even more ashamed.

Eden said, "Don't be dazed. Let's eat first. I'm really hungry."

As he spoke, Eden picked up a fork and picked a shrimp dumpling for Minnie.

He said, "I don't know if it's the same as before, but in Ancegan, shrimp dumplings are not bad."

Minnie nodded in agreement, and also very much recognized this point.

After taking a bite of the shrimp dumpling, Minnie instantly forgot the embarrassment.

Shrimp dumplings still tasted the same as when she was a child. In an instant, Minnie's memory flooded into her mind.

Minnie said, "Actually, I really find it hard to believe that it can do this."

Eden said, "If you like, you can come here often."

Minnie heard the words, looked at Eden, and suddenly laughed.

She said, "You know, the time I came to Ancegan when I was a child, after I went back, I really wanted to say that in the future, if possible, I would come to Ancegan to live. However, I couldn't really do it. I didn't even think that I would come here again after such a long time."

In fact, ever since she was left alone, Ancegan seemed to be the most untouchable place in her heart.

This city was like a scar soaked in salt water. As long as she thought about it, she can't help but feel pain.

Minnie had avoided many things in the past few years.

She didn't want to face it, because she didn't have the courage to face it.

Minnie herself knew very well it was wrong to feel this way.

This undoubtedly crushed her and made her trapped in the cage of the past, from which she could not get out.

However, so casually, she was brought here by Eden.

Everything seemed to have not changed.

Blue Glow Tea House was still the same and the taste of shrimp dumplings was still the same too.

Nothing had changed, but everything seemed to have changed.

Minnie looked at the man sitting next to her, and finally said sincerely, "Eden, thank you."

She was really happy about the trip.

When he heard this, Eden's gaze on Minnie softened a bit.

He suppressed what he wanted to say, and didn't want to push her too fast.

Eden said, "Okay, I see you that you're really not hungry. I can tell you that I'll not be humble, deliberately leaving the food for you. If you don't hurry up and eat, I'll eat them up. Don't regret it."

When Minnie heard Eden's words, she couldn't help but burst out laughing.

She looked at Eden and couldn't help complaining, "Eden, why are you so childish?"

They were in the teahouse now, and they can order whatever they wanted to eat at any time. He actually threatened her with such words.

Minnie didn't even know what to say.

She was really going to die laughing at this man.

Eden looked at her smiling face. It was very rare that she smiled from the bottom of her heart.

In an instant, Eden couldn't look away at all.

He just stared at Minnie for a long time before saying, "Minnie, you're so easy to coax."

Chapter 658 He is simply looking for it himself

When Minnie heard Eden say that, she still felt a little uncomfortable.

She realized more and more that she was becoming more and more reckless in front of Eden.

She no longer put up all her defenses and wrapped herself in a mass of thorns, as if she was very resistant to the outside world.

On the contrary, in front of him, she showed more and more her original appearance.

In fact, even Minnie herself felt a little strange with this.

However, now that she was shown in front of Eden without reservation, Minnie inexplicably felt that maybe, she really shouldn't be so persistent in fighting against the outside world.

Withdrawing her own thoughts, Minnie said, "You should eat quickly yourself. I will not be polite to you."

The two of them didn't know how the conversation suddenly changed like this.

Obviously, the table was full of all kinds of food, but they were fighting for it.

This kind of game of trying to snatch food from each other's fork was actually played happily by them.

After the two of them ate up all the food on the table, they looked at each other uncontrollably and laughed.

Eden said, "Child."

When Minnie heard him call herself that, she immediately became unhappy.

She raised her chin and said, "Whoever starts first is the child."

As a result, they were about to fight because of who was the child.

Finally, they couldn't stand this childish behavior anymore, and chose to keep their mouths shut obediently.

Eden called the waiter to pay the bill, and left Blue Glow Tea House with Minnie.

It was already three o'clock in the afternoon, and there was another ferry to South Island at five o'clock. If they wanted to go to the island today, it was certainly possible.

However, Eden asked Minnie's opinion to see how she would like to arrange it.

Minnie thought for a while and said, "Is it okay if we go to the island tomorrow?"

The night view of Ancegan was very beautiful.

Minnie wanted to appreciate it very much.

Eden said, "Of course."

He looked around for a while, and indicated that the hotel opposite Minnie was not bad. Why not go check in first?

Minnie didn't have any complaints about this, so she nodded and walked over with Eden on foot.

However, when they entered the hotel, Minnie felt helpless, because this guy booked a presidential suite directly.

Minnie tried to reason with Eden, so she said, "We can just book two ordinary rooms. There is no need to book this kind of room."

Eden said, "What? Are you afraid of being in the same room with me?"

Minnie just felt that there was no need to be so wasteful.

Eden said, "Are you saving me money?"

Now, Minnie couldn't say a word.

She really didn't understand how Eden could say such words so easily.

She was so speechless.

Eden said, "When I'm away from home, the quality of my sleep is the most important thing I pay attention to. The sound insulation effect of ordinary rooms is not good. I don't want to be woken up by the noise outside."

Minnie didn't care what kind of reasons Eden gave now.

Anyway, she had already seen a little bit clearly that she can only accept it, and it was impossible for him to give in.

However, after checking in, the two walked into the elevator, and Minnie couldn't help asking, "Do you want to book a room like this in South Island?"

Eden said, "What do you think? When we arrive in South Island, of course we go straight home."

Go home?

Minnie stared at Eden in astonishment, as if she wanted to make sure that what he said about going home had the same meaning as what she understood about it.

Eden saw her doubts, and said, "That's what you think. We bought a house in South Island before, right by the sea. The first-class scenery will satisfy you."

Minnie didn't say anything more.

She felt that if Eden said any strange words, she would not be more shocked.

Now, compared to those questions, Minnie thought that what she cared most about should actually be how she will share a hotel room with Eden.

Although it was a suite, if...

When the elevator reached to the floor, Eden walked out first, but it took a long time for Minnie to catch up with him.

He walked back speechlessly, and saw Minnie in a daze in distress.

All her thoughts were showed on her face, so it was really easy to see what she was thinking right now.

Eden was directly amused by Minnie's appearance.

He suddenly wanted to tease her.

So, Eden directly pulled Minnie out of the elevator.

Minnie didn't react but just ran into Eden's arms.

She widened her eyes in surprise and looked at Eden.

Minnie exclaimed, "Eden, what are you doing?"

"We're in the hotel room. What do you think I should do?" Eden said deliberately.

As he said that, he directly held Minnie's waist and carried her up.

It never occurred to Minnie that Eden would do this.

She didn't react at all, but just felt that she was moving, and this kind of movement made Minnie even feel that she was like a big piece of meat sold to Eden, just being carried by him.

Minnie was almost overwhelmed by this thought.

She shook her head quickly, trying to get this outrageous thought out of her head.

However, when Minnie came back to her senses, she found that she had been brought to the door of the room by Eden.

She heard a "ding" and Eden swiped open the door.

In the next second, Minnie felt her back hit the cold and hard wall.

She swallowed unconsciously, and kept telling herself to stay calm.

She must stay calm.

However, even though she kept giving herself psychological hints, Minnie still showed timidity uncontrollably.

Her small hands tightly grasped the clothes on Eden's shoulders, and she tentatively wanted to discuss with him.

Minnie said, "Eden... calm down. Let's... let's..."

It was impossible for her to speak a complete sentence.

Her frightened appearance made Eden feel extremely novel.

Of course, more than that, Eden only felt a tightness in his throat.

He cursed secretly in his heart. This was really too fucked up.

He was simply asking for it himself.

Chapter 659 He is very happy

Eden's eyes fell on Minnie's face.

For a moment, he really wanted to not care about it, but directly made this woman his own.

Even if he did this, Eden could imagine what kind of attitude this woman would have towards him.

She must hate him to the core, and she must find a way to kill him.

However, Eden felt absurdly, even so, he at least got her.

Just thinking about it, Eden couldn't help but cursed in his heart.

He probably was really crazy. That was why he had such exaggerated thoughts.

After all, there was nothing he could do to hurt Minnie.

He twitched the corner of his mouth slightly and said, "Are you scared? Do you really think that I'm such a bastard?"

Minnie didn't speak.

She believed that the best thing to do now was to protect herself wisely.

Now, no matter what she said, it might irritate this man.

So, to be on the safe side, Minnie thought it was better not to say anything.

However, Minnie's expression betrayed her completely.

Eden was about to laugh at her expression.

He stroked Minnie's face lightly with his fingers, gritted his teeth and said, "Minnie, you don't need to be afraid and defensive about me. You have to know that if there is anyone in this world who will not hurt you at all, that person must be me."

Not only will he not hurt her, but he will also condone her to hurt himself.

Eden didn't say this, but there was no need to say it.

The way he looked at Minnie said it all.

Minnie naturally understood the look in his eyes.

For a moment, Minnie was a little at a loss.

She actually didn't understand why Eden would do such a thing to her.

In her opinion, the two of them were people from two worlds.

She was forced to go on a blind date with him, and certainly it was someone else's conspiracy.

She didn't want to be a tool used by others, and she didn't think that she should have anything to do with this man.

This was a better choice for both of them.

However, the current situation was that Eden had a deep love for her.

Minnie was not a narcissistic person, so naturally she didn't think that there was anything special about herself that allowed Eden to do this.

However, at this moment, hearing Eden's words and facing the way he looked at her, Minnie still panicked.

She was at a loss and subconsciously wanted to escape.

However, she was trapped in Eden's arms, making it impossible for her to avoid it.

Eden said, "Minnie, I hope that you put aside all those things you estimated. Just look at me, and think about it carefully whether I can enter your heart after all."

Minnie could hear a bit of humility in Eden's voice when he said these words.

This made her feel even worse.

She didn't know how to describe such a feeling.

Obviously, Eden should be a proud son of heaven, but when facing her, he was humbled to this extent.

Minnie felt as if her heart was being constricted.

She felt a pain she had never felt before.

Minnie wanted to say something, but didn't have the chance.

Eden raised his hand and stroked Minnie's head lightly, saying, "Okay, I won't take advantage of you anymore."

After speaking, Eden let go of Minnie, allowing her feet to stand on the ground.

Only then did Minnie realize that her legs were actually a little weak.

Fortunately, she was standing against the wall. Otherwise, she might have fallen directly to the ground.

Eden had stepped back, some distance away from Minnie.

He had to.

Although he didn't really do anything to Minnie, he didn't kiss her, and he didn't do anything else, she was warm and fragrant.

Just now, the distance between him and her was so close.

Eden was a normal man, and a normal man who loved Minnie deeply. If there was no evil thought, it was impossible.

In addition, Eden didn't know if the tonic food they ate at Blue Glow Tea House took effect or it was due to his psychological effect, he just felt very dry all over.

At this moment, Eden really had regrets.

He shouldn't have just shared a room with Minnie.

Although this was a suite and they will not sleep on the same bed, Eden still felt a bit of torturing.

Minnie didn't know what Eden was thinking.

It took her a while to recover.

She raised her foot and walked in, and asked, "Which room do you sleep in?"

Eden didn't care, but said, "You pick first."

Minnie went to see the room.

She quickly made a choice, and when she came out, she saw Eden standing by the window, wondering what he was thinking.

Hearing footsteps, Eden turned his head, looked at her, and said, "We haven't brought anything. Let's go shopping in a while."

Minnie nodded, but there was nothing she could do about it.

However, she can be considered to have adapted to his behavior. Right now, what else can she do besides listening to him?

After resting in the room for a while, the two went out.

The temperature in Ancegan was about ten degrees higher than that in Innisrial, and they just returned to the room. Because there was no change of clothes, even if they wanted to take a bath to refresh themselves, they really couldn't do it.

At this moment, almost without thinking about it, he directly approached the shopping mall next to the hotel.

Eden had his favorite brands, and almost all his clothes were from those brands.

It just so happened that there were several brands in this shopping mall.

Minnie first accompanied Eden to pick out clothes.

She had noticed before that the style of Eden's clothes was quite fixed.

He rarely wore particularly formal clothes, mostly casual.

Of course, this matched his temperament very well.

It can be said that choosing clothes for Eden was very easy.

His figure was very good, his temperament was outstanding, and his appearance was already extremely good.

Basically, any clothes will look very good on Eden.

Before, Minnie had no such experience.

She had never chosen clothes for any man.

At this moment, Minnie seemed to have experienced a different kind of fun, and gave Eden all the clothes she thought looked good, and asked him to try them on.

Eden was very surprised that Minnie would do this.

This had nothing to do with her temperament.

But, he was very happy in his heart.

Therefore, even if there were some clothes that Eden owned more than one, he still followed Minnie's wish to try on them.

Chapter 660 She is really overwhelmed

After he tried more than a dozen sets in a row, Minnie couldn't help but sigh that Eden's figure was really good.

She couldn't take her eyes away.

Of course, what made her even more distressed was that in this way, it seemed that it was even more difficult to make a decision on which sets to buy.

Seeing her thinking with her chin resting, Eden said, "If you like them all, you can buy them all."

Minnie heard the words, looked at Eden, and said, "It shouldn't be you like them?"

She chose Eden's clothes here, and he will wear them all on him in the future. If they were not what he liked, they will be packed at the bottom of the box after he bought them back.

Eden said: "I like what you like, and I will wear them for you to see."

These words, of course, made her unable to continue speaking.

Uncontrollably, Minnie's face became hot.

She really didn't know how to respond these words of this man.

Minnie decided that she should leave it alone.

She said directly, "You choose yourself."

Eden laughed, knowing that her ostrich mentality had popped up again.

Without any hesitation, he said he would buy them all, and he really did so.

Seeing this, Minnie persuaded him to think about it again, and there was really no need to be like this.

However, Eden said to Minnie, "You like them, don't you?"

Forget it. If she kept talking, she was afraid the man's "help me save money" remark will come out again.

Minnie didn't want to be in a more embarrassing situation.

So Minnie said, "It's up to you."

Eden smiled, and was very satisfied with her reaction.

He asked Minnie to wait here and went out by himself.

When he came back again, I pushed a suitcase back.

Minnie was instantly dumbfounded.

They really had brought nothing with them when they came over from Innisrial.

Now everything needed to be re-purchased.

Minnie didn't even know if it was necessary to describe them as prodigals.

However, having a suitcase was naturally beneficial.

The two of them didn't need to carry large and small bags in their hands, and it was really easy to push it over like this.

Minnie couldn't help looking at Eden, only to feel that he was really careful.

After shopping around for men's clothing, the two went to the women's clothing section.

Now, their roles were reversed.

Eden began to choose clothes for Minnie directly and unceremoniously, with an attitude that seemed to evacuate the entire store.

Minnie felt helpless.

She looked at Eden dumbfounded, and said, "Not all the clothes will fit."

She looked okay, and her figure was okay. Logically speaking, she should be the same as Eden, and any kind of clothes were suitable.

However, Minnie had her own set of standards, and she was very strict about choosing clothes.

Eden said, "Trust my eyes, okay?"

Minnie didn't say anything more.

Based on the principle of reciprocity, she had chosen more than a dozen sets for Eden before, and he tried on every one that fit him so well for her to see.

Now, if it was her, naturally she should give Eden this chance.

Of course Minnie can do this.

However, Minnie soon discovered that Eden's vision was really impeccable.

She obviously thought that she was very picky about clothes.

However, every piece that Eden chose for her made her like it very much.

Minnie didn't even know when Eden started to understand her so well.

The most important thing was that he even knew the size very well.

There were some clothes that needed to be one size bigger to look better.

There were some clothes that needed to be just right to look better.

Eden grasped these principles extremely accurately.

Even, Minnie had to suspect that he was actually a tailor at all.

However, soon, another thought popped into Minnie's head.

She guessed that the reason why Eden understood so well was actually he should have had many girlfriends, and these were all the experiences accumulated from those girlfriends.

In an instant, Minnie felt as if something was blocked in her heart.

Eden keenly sensed that something was wrong with her, and asked suspiciously, "What's wrong?"

Sometimes he really didn't understand girls' thoughts.

They were happy one second, but they may be in another mood the next second.

Eden couldn't figure it out.

Minnie shook her head, casually took two pieces from the clothes she had just tried on, and said, "Just these two pieces."

Eden frowned slightly, looked at Minnie, and pulled her back in front of him.

He said, "Tell me, what's wrong?"

Minnie still shook her head and said, "It's just that I've been shopping for too long and I'm a little tired. Let's go back early."

Eden wouldn't believe Minnie's nonsense.

He held Minnie's wrist tightly, and said, "If you don't tell me, we'll just spend our time here."

When Minnie heard this, she became inexplicably angry.

She stared at Eden and said, "I'm just tired. What else do you want me to say? Eden, can you stop messing with me?"

Seeing that she really lost her temper, Eden was still reluctant to make her unhappy.

His voice softened immediately, and he said, "Okay, okay, let's go back and rest, shall we?"

Minnie bit her lip, but said nothing more.

Eden called the clerk and asked her to pack all the tried clothes and check out.

When Minnie heard this, she immediately became anxious.

“Eden, I said I want these two.” Minnie said.

Eden said, “Be good. I was so cooperative with you just now. Now, you should cooperate with me a little bit, okay?”

Minnie wanted to argue with Eden, but didn’t say anything.

She was aware that when Eden spoke to her in this tone, she really couldn’t stand it.
