

Healing 681

Chapter 681 Why wouldn't she be happy?

Ivy closed her mouth, limp, and didn't speak for a long time.

Seeing her like this, Damion sighed that he had stimulated her.

He said, "You don't need to think about anything based on my ideas. There is nothing wrong with your own ideas. It has something to do with your growth experience. They have made you."

Hearing this, Ivy looked at Damion and asked, "Do you think I'm very childish?"

Damion didn't speak, but the look on his face told Ivy that he thought so.

Ivy became even more sad and disappointed.

Seeing this, Damion was a little dumbfounded.

This girl really had all her emotions showed on her face.

He said, "I think what you think is beautiful and innocent, but cute."

Hearing this, Ivy looked up at Damion with uncontrollable joy.

Damion curled the corner of his mouth. She was too coaxable.

Lucy bought breakfast, and even brought Damion's.

It was from the same restaurant as yesterday. Apart from breakfast, there was a box of indigestion tablets.

When Ivy saw this, her face turned red unconsciously.

How could it be so embarrassing?

Seeing her expression, Damion smiled and said, "In this way, you can let go and eat."

Ivy wanted to beg him not to mention this matter again, because she really had shame.

However, she had already lost her face, and it was too late to explain something now.

Ivy stopped thinking about so many things. Anyway, when Damion found out that she lied to him, she would be even more ashamed.

Ivy didn't think about those things that would only happen in the future.

What she was more concerned about now was what she would have for breakfast.

She was not really hungry, but didn't know if eating breakfast will make her have bad digestion again.

Ivy rubbed her belly, hesitating whether to eat or not.

Seeing her like this, Damion smiled and said, "Lucy has bought the indigestion tablets. Eat whatever you want. Don't treat yourself badly."

Ivy's face turned red unconsciously that Damion teased her.

Damion didn't know why he did so, but he just thought that teasing her was very fun. He didn't want to do anything, but just wanted to see her being made various expressions.

He laughed out loud unceremoniously.

Ivy took a deep breath and said, "That's fine, then I'll take a tablet first, and then start enjoying my breakfast."

As she said that, she really reached out to get the box of tablets.

Damion just wanted to tease her, not really wanting her to take medicine.

No one really liked having this kind of thing.

He stretched out his hand, took the tablet back from Ivy's hand, and said, "Do you have to eat so much? Don't you know how to control it?"

Suddenly, she didn't know what she should do.

Why did this man suddenly change?

Lucy said, "I bought some porridge and some things that are easy to digest. You don't have to worry. Just eat it boldly, and you won't feel as uncomfortable as last night."

Ivy didn't say anything else, but waited obediently for Lucy to help her set up the breakfast.

This was a millet chicken porridge. In fact, Ivy didn't like porridge.

Eating porridge was not enough. Every time she had porridge, she would starve to death in a short time.

However, now she didn't need to work or do coolies, so naturally she didn't have any physical exertion, and it didn't matter if she had porridge.

Damion's breakfast was preserved egg and lean pork porridge.

He had some wine last night, and now he was indeed hungry.

So, without being polite, he started to have his breakfast.

Ivy found that Damion was eating breakfast in a very gentle way, without making any noise at all.

Ivy had always seen some kind of rude men. In order to hurry, although some was really hungry, most of them were unmannerly.

It was the first time for Ivy to see Damion like this.

She unconsciously took a few more glances, and even the way she ate breakfast became more delicate.

She unconsciously imitated Damion's movements, as if, in this way, the gap between her and him would not be that big.

However, this kind of thing can't be imitated overnight. Damion's self-cultivation had been engraved in his bones since he was a child.

Ivy studied for a long time, but didn't even learn a little bit, and almost knocked over the bowl.

She suddenly thought that she just made a poor imitation.

Her mouth flattened unconsciously, and Ivy suddenly lost her appetite.

She only had half a bowl of porridge, then put down the spoon, and lay down quietly back on the bed.

Damion and Lucy looked at her together, and Lucy became anxious, thinking it was her mistake, and quickly asked, "What's wrong? Why are you eating so little? Isn't it not to your appetite?"

Ivy said quickly after hearing the words, "No, I'm not hungry yet. I can't eat a little bit."

She tried to make her voice sound normal, but Damion noticed something.

Damion frowned, stood up, walked over, and said, "Is your stomach upset? Do you want me to call the doctor?"

Ivy immediately shook her head and said, "No, no, I'll be hungry at noon, and I'm really not hungry now. Besides, although I ate a little less, I have eaten breakfast, which is good for my stomach. Fine, don't worry about it."

Hearing what she said, Damion didn't say anything more.

He was about to go to the company, so he said to Lucy, "Buy something she likes for lunch, and if you need anything, call me."

Lucy nodded and agreed.

After Damion left, Ivy was totally downcast.

She stared straight at the ceiling, and kept moaning in her heart.

What was she thinking?

Why feeling lost?

They were essentially from two worlds, so why was she unhappy?

Chapter 682 How can you make me meet other people like this?

South Island.

It can be said that Eden and his group had fun in South Island.

Eden asked Aimee to give Minnie a few days off, and even used the reason of honeymoon.

Aimee was very helpless about this. What kind of person was she in Eden's heart? She actually let him use such a reason to ask her for leave.

This was simply too much.

Patrick played tricks on the side and asked Aimee to tell Eden that since he thought so badly of her, she would not give Minnie a vacation and let her come back to work immediately.

Regarding this, Aimee can only describe her husband as a childish person.

Of course, even though Patrick said that, it was only a joke.

All he cared about was always his wife.

As for those guys, he will only wait for them to come back, and then deal with them.

Eden and the others didn't know what Patrick was planning. According to Casey's words, whatever happened to them when they got back, living the day was all that mattered.

All eight of them directly lived in Eden's villa. There were enough rooms, and it would be more convenient to take actions together.

Everyone enjoyed themselves late last night, and it was already afternoon when they woke up today.

The first one to wake up was Tilly.

She had fun with Casey last night, and fell asleep without eating anything.

Right now she woke up hungry.

She was lying in Ben's arms, muttering. And her voice was pitiful.

Tilly pushed Ben and said, "Ben, I'm hungry. Can you take me to eat?"

Ben was still sleeping. When he heard Tilly's voice, he reached out and pulled her into his arms.

He said, "Hungry? Didn't you have enough last night?"

Tilly was in a daze, so she didn't think about what Ben meant by that, but responded directly, "no".

As she spoke, she kicked Ben with her foot and said, "I'm really hungry. Hurry up and take me to eat."

However, in the next second, Ben turned over and pinned Tilly down.

Tilly exclaimed, but didn't react for a long time.

What was happening?

Why did he suddenly fall on her?

Ben said, "Okay, I'll feed you."

After Tilly came to her senses, it was no longer possible to refuse Ben.

She just lay on the bed wanting to cry. Her whole body was made to have no strength at all.

This man, who was a beast at all, actually made her like this.

Ben was very happy physically and mentally. He hugged Tilly, kissed and coaxed her, and he finally woke up. He knew that when Tilly said she was hungry, she was really hungry.

Ben rubbed his nose and said, "I'm going to get you something to eat."

All Tilly wanted now was to gnaw at Ben's bones and swallow his flesh.

Thinking of this, Tilly really grabbed Ben's arm, brought it to her mouth, and took a bite.

She bit so hard that Ben let out a soft cry unconsciously.

In the next second, Ben said, "It seems that you still have a lot of strength."

As soon as Tilly heard Ben say that, she became even more cowardly.

She immediately shook her head and said, "I don't. I'm very tired. Ben, don't do that."

She was really scared.

Being "bullied" by Ben like this really made her very sad.

Ben really scared Tilly.

She never knew that Ben could be so bad. Although it was not so early in the morning, it was because it was already afternoon that it seemed that Ben was really going too far.

Ben said, "Okay, I don't 'bully' you anymore. Tell me what you want to eat, and I'll get it for you."

Tilly said, "Anything, anything."

As long as she can eat something that can be put into her mouth immediately, she can do anything.

Ben nodded and said, "Wait for me obediently."

Ben went out of the room and went to the kitchen. He happened to see Minnie cooking, so he asked Minnie to help prepare Tilly's food.

Minnie looked at Ben suspiciously and asked, "Is Tilly not awake?"

Ben felt a little embarrassed, and said embarrassingly, "She hasn't woken up yet. Staying in bed."

Minnie didn't ask any questions, but started to help cook two more servings.

What she cooked was noodles, and it was really because they were too "busy" last night, and now they hadn't eaten for a long time. So it was better to eat something that was easy to digest.

Ben wasn't picky about these, and when Minnie was done cooking, he brought them into the room.

When he got back to the room, Ben saw that Tilly had fallen asleep on her back.

This sleeping position of hers really gave him a headache.

Especially, after going through such an intimate thing just now, Tilly was naked, and there were still those marks, which naturally let Ben see clearly.

Such a scene was simply a huge shock to Ben.

Feeling a little helpless, he walked towards Tilly, stretched out his hand and pulled the quilt to wrap Tilly around.

It wasn't until those marks were gone that Ben let out a long sigh of relief.

It was really terrible. If he continued like this and saw those scenes again, he was afraid that he will really never be a gentleman again.

Ben didn't want to be such a beast after all.

After wrapping Tilly up, he said, "Honey, get up and eat, and go to sleep after eating."

Although Tilly had fallen asleep, she was really hungry.

As soon as she heard that it was time to eat, her eyes opened immediately, and she was surprised when she looked at Ben.

She asked, "What's delicious?"

"Miss Thomas made noodles. Get up and eat." Ben said.

As soon as Tilly heard that Minnie made the noodles, she looked at Ben suspiciously and asked, "Is there any mistake? How did I remember she can't cook?"

During the time when they were in South Island, they didn't eat out every meal, but sometimes they cooked at home.

Minnie didn't know how to cook, which was certified by Eden.

Now, he actually told her that Minnie cooked the noodles herself, which made Tilly very surprised.

Ben said, "It looks pretty good. Try it. If you don't like it, I'll get you something else."

Tilly nodded, obediently got up from the bed, and it was only at this time that she realized that she was still naked.

She unceremoniously kicked Ben's body and said, "Look at what you did?! how do you let me meet them like this?"

Chapter 683 Make her feel extraordinarily high

It was painful for Ben to be kicked by Tilly.

He clutched his leg and said, "Tilly, I'm your dear boyfriend. Are you really not afraid to kick me to death?"

Tilly said, "Stop bluffing me. I didn't kick in strange places."

She still knew what she was doing. After all, she loved him very much, so she was not willing to really hurt him.

Ben said, "You're just infuriating. And I haven't given you a long memory, so you dare attack me like this."

As soon as Tilly heard Ben's words, she became even more angry that this bad guy really dared speak.

Did he know how much he had gone too far?

Tilly snorted softly, climbed out of the bed, went to find a nightgown and put it on herself.

When she was full, she will deal with this man. Otherwise, he wouldn't really know that bullying her truly made her unhappy.

Tilly picked up a fork and began to eat with big mouthfuls.

After leaving it for a while, the temperature was just right. After eating, she felt comfortable.

Tilly found that Eden might be lying to them, because Minnie's noodles were very good.

Ben came over and said, "How is it? Is it delicious?"

"Yes." Tilly's cheeks were bulging, and she was very satisfied after eating.

Ben saw her expression and instantly felt relieved.

His girl had a quick temper, but she was also very easy to coax. As long as she was allowed to eat delicious food, she will not lose her temper at all.

Ben said, "Then eat more."

Tilly swallowed the noodles in her mouth, looked at Ben, and said, "Are you trying to say that when I'm full, you can bully me again?"

Ben really wasn't thinking about it this time, but he didn't mind if Tilly needed it.

Seeing that Ben didn't speak, Tilly said angrily, "Ben, it's wrong for you to do this. I'm your baby. You can't just think about bullying me."

Ben laughed at her words.

He stretched out his hand, pinched Tilly's cheek, and said, "Okay, my baby, I'll listen to you, and I'll do whatever you say."

Tilly laughed immediately, and said very happily, "Not bad. I just like you treating me like this."

Tilly was quite delighted, and didn't care about Ben being such a jerk before.

After finishing the whole bowl of noodles, Tilly rubbed her belly. She drank all the soup and nothing was wasted.

However, her stomach was still very empty and she was rather dissatisfied.

Tilly pursed her lips and said, "Ben, I still want to eat. Is there anything else I can eat?"

Ben knew that Tilly could eat a lot, so seeing that she still wanted to eat, he said, "Why don't you change your clothes and I'll take you out to eat?"

As soon as Tilly heard it, she thought it would be more convenient to go out to eat.

The main reason was that other people didn't know if they were up or not.

Minnie cooked the noodles, probably for her and Eden.

She and Ben sponged food from them like this, and she was always embarrassed to ask Minnie to cook two more bowls of noodles for them, that would be too much.

If the two of them went out to eat, they can bring food back for others.

The more Tilly thought about it, the more she felt that this was unquestionably good.

So, she immediately ran into the bathroom, took a quick shower, and rushed out without even putting on makeup.

Based on the various traces left on her body by Ben's previous "riots", Tilly had no other choice. In the South Island, she can only wrap herself in a long beach dress.

Ben didn't bruise her arms, so she was able to show her arms.

As for the neck and collarbone, it was Ben who was sane and not that crazy to leave any marks.

However, even so, Tilly couldn't understand how this man could do such bad things to her legs.

In the past few days, it had been impossible for her to show her thighs.

It was simply too much.

After changing her clothes, Tilly said to Ben with a smile, "I want to eat bean jelly first. It's delicious."

After coming to South Island, she had to eat several bowls of bean jelly every day, which was her favorite food in the whole island.

Ben was very helpless about this. He didn't have any problems with the jelly, but every time Tilly ate it, she added a lot of smoothies, which made Ben quite a headache.

Especially, when she was in her menstrual period, she would be in so much pain that she dared "torment" herself like this. Ben really couldn't do anything about it.

However, the purpose of coming to South Island was to relax, and he also hoped that she can have fun. so even if he gave Tilly a little advice, telling her not to eat so much jelly, Ben wouldn't control her so much so that she can let herself do whatever she wanted to.

At most, after going back, he would make it up to her properly.

Ben pinched Tilly's face and said, "Babe, eat whatever you want."

Tilly immediately became happy, hugged Ben and kissed from the left to the right. She was so obedient.

Ben was turned on again by her. He directly held Tilly's waist and said, "If you do this again, I might not take you out."

As soon as Tilly heard this, she jumped out of Ben's arms and said, "Let's go. Let's go. Don't waste time. Don't you hear the jelly is beckoning to me and letting me hurry up!? Let me eat it. I can't let it down."

Ben shook his head helplessly, feeling Tilly was so adorable.

His baby, every moment, seemed to be able to make him feel that she was cute.

Tilly and Ben walked out of the villa and went straight to the jelly shop.

The place where they lived was actually very far from the market.

Tilly felt that if she drove in South Island, she would not feel the vibe, so even though the weather was very hot, she asked Ben to drive her to the market together in a small electric bike.

South Island was neither big nor small.

It took fifteen minutes to ride a small electric bike from the villa to the market.

The sea breeze blew Tilly's skirt, making her feel extraordinarily high.

Tilly hugged Ben's waist, put her face on his back, and suddenly felt that if she lived in South Island all the time, it would be good.

Chapter 684 Really amazing

The owner of the jelly shop had long remembered Tilly because of her daily visits, and several times a day.

When she saw Tilly passing by, she didn't even need Tilly to ask, and started to make it according to Tilly's taste.

At the beginning, Tilly tasted all the flavors, and in the end, she felt that the one she had decided on was the best, so she ordered the same one almost every time.

Occasionally when Casey came together, she will provide some new ideas.

However, Tilly felt that it might be a matter of ingredients, so she didn't like the ingredients Casey added to her.

A large bowl of jelly was brought to the table, and Tilly picked up a small spoon and began to eat in small bites.

Her face was full of satisfaction, like a cat that had stolen a fish.

Ben's eyes fell on Tilly's face. Seeing her expression at this moment, he really wanted to cherish it for the rest of his life.

This was wonderful.

Ben's Adam's apple rolled involuntarily.

He said, "Tilly, when are you going to marry me?"

Tilly was eating two servings of herbal jelly in it. Although, among all the ingredients, this was the thing she disliked the most, based on her experience, it will not taste good without the herbal jelly. So, even if she didn't like it, she will still add it, but she ate it first.

Her fingers holding the spoon stiffened unconsciously, then she looked up at Ben and asked, "Why are you so anxious about this all of a sudden?"

Ben said, "Eden is going to pass me. Tell me, can I not be anxious?"

Tilly tilted her head and thought for a moment, then said, "But, we are already preparing to meet our parents, so it'll be soon. You shouldn't be in such a hurry because you're competing with him."

Before she met his parents, she went shopping with April.

However, before she could meet his parents, she was brought to South Island by Ben.

So, he can't blame her for this.

Ben said, "I just suddenly felt that it would be better to marry you first, and then arrange the meeting with my parents later."

Tilly frowned a little, and really couldn't understand why Ben was in such a hurry.

Tilly said, "But, it's only within days. Do you want to be that hurried?"

Ben was silent for a while, and finally said, "I think, with Eden's shamelessness, after returning to Innisrial, he'll immediately drag Miss Thomas to get the certificate."

Tilly said, "Isn't this good? He seems to have been chasing Minnie for a long time, and it's time to marry her."

Ben was almost pissed off by the girl's way of thinking.

She was applauding for others.

Ben said, "Then you know, he's so shameless. He'll definitely show off to me. He just came to South Island, and he succeeded. I have been with you for so long, but he's going to overtake. Do you have the heart to let me be bullied by him like this?"

Tilly finally understood what Ben meant, and looked at him in surprise, but she still felt that this was incredible.

Tilly said, "Ben, why didn't I realize that before, you're so childish?"

Ben accepted that description.

He said, "So, baby, do you really have the heart to let me be made fun of by that guy in the future?"

Although Tilly felt that Ben might really be thinking too much, she still couldn't bear to see Ben care about this so much.

Tilly took another bite of the jelly and said, "In that case, let's go back to Innisrial now."

Anyway, she was going to marry Ben, and for her, it didn't make any difference whether it was sooner or later.

However, since Ben cared so much, she naturally wanted to spoil him too.

She was his girlfriend, his future wife, and the mother of his future child. Naturally, no matter what happened, she hoped that Ben can be happy.

Ben was shocked when he heard Tilly say that.

He actually wanted to say that when they returned to Innisrial together, the two of them would go directly to the registry and not give Eden a chance to overtake.

However, now that Tilly actually said that, Ben became excited.

He stood up straight away, held Tilly's hand, and said, "The ferry to Ancegan should still be available. Let's go directly there now."

Wasn't he too anxious? Why didn't they go back and pack their things first?

However, Tilly suddenly became very excited and impatient.

She looked at Ben's face, nodded vigorously, and said, "Let's go."

Fortunately, when she went out, she carried a backpack with her ID card in it. As for other things, in Ben's words, she shouldn't worry about them. After the two of them got the marriage certificates, if they wanted to come back, they can go directly. If they didn't, they can let Casey and the others help them pack up.

Anyway, they were just some clothes, chargers, etc. It didn't matter if they put them here.

Although Tilly usually had some crazy moments, it was the first time for her to meet someone crazier than her.

She thought that the most impulsive thing was to go on a trip at any time.

However, now it seemed that she really knew too little.

It should be very rare for people like the two of them to go straight to get the certificate without thinking too much about it.

Until boarding the plane back to Innisrial from Ancegan, Tilly still felt very unreal.

She squeezed her arm, and then squeezed Ben's arm, and it was still hard to believe that the two of them had really boarded the plane.

Tilly turned her head to look at Ben and said, "You should rejoice. Now, the residence permit is in my own hands. Otherwise, you're so impulsive, and you have to go back to the capital with me first."

Ben took Tilly's hand, put it on his lips and kissed it, saying, "Thank you baby."

He looked at Tilly with tenderness in his eyes.

Tilly felt a little embarrassed when he saw her face.

After the plane landed, they will become a newlywed.

This was really amazing to her.

Chapter 685 Go back to Innisrial to get marriage certificates

The plane from Ancegan to Innisrial seemed to be coordinating with Ben and Tilly today. It was not delayed, and even landed ten minutes earlier.

Tilly felt it even more incredible.

She came out holding Ben's hand, subconsciously sighing, "Is today a good day? How could it be so smooth?"

Ben said, "Today will become the wedding anniversary of the two of us. From now on, every day will be so smooth."

Tilly was dumbfounded by Ben's words, but soon, she agreed.

Maybe it was, and maybe even God thought that when they got married, it was the best day.

Tilly said, "It's amazing. It's like a day chosen by God, like a destiny."

Ben curled his lips, took Tilly's hand and kissed it again.

He said, "I have already asked someone to take my residence permit to the registry, so we can just go there."

Tilly nodded and said, "Okay."

The two took a taxi directly to the registry. When they arrived, it was just right that they hadn't gotten off work yet.

Of course, Tilly's clothes today were not suitable for taking pictures. Fortunately, Ben had already arranged everything. Even the make-up artist had come over, quickly did a make-up and hair for Tilly, and brought a white shirt over.

The two quickly went through the process, and when they got off work, the freshly made marriage certificates were in their hands.

Until this moment, Tilly felt that she was still in such a trance.

This was simply unbelievable.

She looked at Ben, then at the marriage certificate in her hand, and said, "Ben, are we really married? Am I dreaming?"

Ben said, "Yeah, we're really married, so now, shouldn't you call me hubby?"

Tilly originally felt that it was so erratic and so unreal. But when she heard Ben's words, it directly set her whole body on fire.

The word "hubby" was actually not difficult to say.

Groupies will call their idols hubby, and sometimes girls will also call their boyfriends hubby.

But, now, the man in front of her was her true, legal, and only husband.

Tilly opened her mouth, but didn't make a sound for a long time.

Ben didn't force her, but just looked at her softly.

Tilly felt like she was drowning in Ben's sight.

She unconsciously swallowed a mouthful of saliva and said, "Hu... hubby..."

After she said this title, Tilly's feeling was completely different.

She couldn't describe her mood at the moment, as if something filled her heart completely, making her feel a sense of reality that she had never felt before.

Her eye sockets suddenly turned red.

Tilly threw herself into Ben's arms, put her hands around his neck, and called out loudly, "Hubby, hubby, hubby..."

Ben held Tilly in his arms, clasped her tightly, and pressed her tightly into his arms.

His mood was equally indescribably excited.

His girl became his wife.

It was so sudden, and so just right, that she became his lifelong wife.

Ben's arms held Tilly tight.

Tilly was still wallowing in that feeling.

But, soon, Tilly couldn't stand it anymore.

She coughed lightly, and said with some discomfort, "Ben, can you let me go first? I'm about to be strangled to death by you."

She really felt like her waist was going to break.

Ben just let go a little bit, but not completely. He was still holding Tilly so tightly.

Although Tilly felt that her waist might be broken, she still liked the feeling very much.

So, she just let Ben hug her like this.

However, Tilly soon asked, "Where are we going now?"

She hadn't met his parents yet, and she hadn't gotten the approval of Ben's family, so she married their excellent son. Tilly felt that she might be very embarrassed in the future.

Ben said, "Go home first. You always have to meet your in-laws."

Tilly immediately became cowardly and said, "Is this really okay? I've already married you..."

Ben laughed, raised his hand and rubbed Tilly's head, saying, "Don't worry. They'll like you very much."

Otherwise, who did she think send the residence permit over?

And who arranged for the makeup artist?

Tilly was still a little nervous, and looked at Ben in a panic, hoping to get some comfort from him.

Ben was amused by her.

He said, "Babe, I'm here for anything. No one will make things difficult for you."

Tilly nodded, then looked away.

Things had already happened, and it seemed a little too much for her to be so unreasonable.

And it was too late.

Therefore, the best way was to hurry up and be lovable.

The two got into the car, and Tilly was free to watch her phone.

Seeing her phone, she was simply taken aback.

There were thousands of unread messages in the chat group, which almost made her phone explode.

Tilly scrolled up and located the top one, only to realize that it was Ben who sent a photo in the group the moment they got their marriage certificates.

This time, the whole group immediately got excited.

Especially those who were still in South Island. They sent countless messages, condemning Ben for being unreliable and shameless.

At first, they probably thought that Tilly and Ben were just going out for a stroll, and they were thinking about arranging activities for the evening after the two of them returned.

Who would have thought that these two guys returned to Innisrial without telling them in advance.

The thing that drove everyone crazy was that they actually went back to Innisrial to get their marriage certificates!

Chapter 686 No sense of propriety

The chat group had heated discussion in an instant.

Eden was the most angry one.

He kept sending messages in the group. First there were many emojis, and later, he bombarded with various words.

Ben naturally ignores all of this.

He directly mentioned Eden in the group and said, "Don't envy me."

Eden, who had finally calmed down, was once again provoked by Ben.

They were friends who grew up together, so how could Eden not know what Ben was thinking?

Wasn't he just afraid that he will overtake and then go to show off in front of him?

Now, this guy was completely unreasonable, and actually used such shameless means to win him.

Eden sent countless stickers of beating Ben in the group.

Ben looked at those little people dancing in the stickers, and was not angry at all, but very happy.

Tilly felt that the two men were extremely childish.

She raised her face, looked at Ben, and said, "It looks like he really wants to surpass you."

Ben rubbed Tilly's head and said, "How can I not understand?"

Tilly said with a smile, "Mr. Lee, how do you feel after winning your friend?"

Ben pretended to think for a while, and then said, "I think it's perfect. I won the whole world."

Tilly was amused by his childish appearance.

She said, "Ben, have you been hiding your true nature from me before? Are you afraid that if I know you should be so childish, I will dislike you and not be with you?"

Hearing this, Ben raised his eyebrows lightly, and his fingers landed on Tilly's neck.

With a slight force on his fingers, he said, "Tilly, are you trying to mess things up?"

Hearing the threat in his tone, Tilly immediately backed down.

She shrank her neck and said quickly, "I just think it's good for you to do this. Anyway, I like it very much."

The topic of conversation changed quickly. Ben smiled helplessly, his eyes full of doting.

Tilly took a look at Ben's expression and found that he wasn't really upset, so she became bolder again.

She came up to Ben and said, "Ben, if I don't like you, what are you going to do?"

Ben lowered his eyes to look at Tilly who had unconstrained imagination.

Her thoughts were always ever-changing. One second she had this idea, and the next second, it became another.

However, regarding this question, Ben thought about it for a while, and then said to Tilly, "Honey, have you forgotten that you're the one who fell in love with me first?"

Tilly was struck dumb.

Although it was true, the more Tilly thought about it, the more she felt that she just admitted her feelings for him first, but it wasn't her who fell for him at the beginning.

Obviously, Ben remembered the time when the two of them met so clearly, and deliberately transferred her money, which was enough to explain it.

Tilly thought that she must have a good reasoning with Ben about this.

She straightened her back and said to Ben, "Ben, don't you dare say that you didn't fall in love with me at first sight?"

Her chin was lifted up, as if she wanted to harass him with unreasonable demands.

Tilly said, "Ben, tell me quickly. Did you fall in love with me at first sight?"

Ben had no choice but to raise his hand and touch her nose, saying, "If I didn't, how could it be so easy for you to take me down?"

Tilly was satisfied immediately, and said with a smile, "So, the two of us are obviously the same. Don't take advantage of the other."

Ben laughed and thought she just wanted to tell him that he wooed her first.

Even if Tilly made such a request, Ben would agree without hesitation.

His girl was naturally to be pampered by him.

The car had already been driven to the Lee family's residence.

Tilly was able to chat with Ben just now, but when she saw the direction they were heading to, she immediately became nervous.

God! She really came to Ben's house just like that.

Moreover, it was not to meet his parents now, but they had become her parents-in-law.

Tilly even had trouble breathing,

She was not feeling well now because she was extremely nervous.

Ben took Tilly's hand and said, "Don't be scared, baby. Mom and Dad like you very much."

Hearing that Ben was still coaxing herself, Tilly became even more uneasy.

She just married their son without telling them in advance.

She was really worried about whether she would face severe reproach.

After the car pulled over, Tilly got out of the car with Ben.

Tilly took several deep breaths, but couldn't calm herself down.

She looked at Ben pitifully and said, "Ben, give me a few more minutes to make myself prepared, please, please."

Helplessly, Ben raised his hand to touch Tilly's head, saying, "Okay, I'll wait for you as long as you want."

Inside the house, both Albert Lee and Piper Scott had heard the voice and walked to the door.

They were planning to welcome Tilly and Ben, but didn't expect to see this.

The two looked at each other and smiled, but after all they didn't say much. They turned around and went back to the sofa to sit down, pretending they didn't even know they had arrived.

Piper said, "It's the first time I've seen Ben be so gentle."

"It's pretty good at loving his wife, just like me." Albert said.

When Piper heard this, she gave Albert a speechless look.

This guy, even when he praised his son, he didn't forget to praise himself. It was really too much.

Piper said, "Our daughter-in-law will come in after a while, so don't talk like that again. It will scare her and I'll deal with you."

Albert heard this and said, "I know, I have a sense of propriety."

Piper really wanted to say to him: "You have no sense of propriety."

This guy, since he was young, had talked about his sense of propriety, but what this guy said and did didn't match the word "propriety" at all of.

In her life, Piper felt that the last word she wanted to hear was "propriety."

Chapter 687 I can't stop laughing

Ben calmed Tilly down and led her in.

Although Tilly was nervous and apprehensive, she was from a wealthy family and went through many things that needed her to socialize, so naturally she wouldn't be so cowardly right now.

After Ben introduced her to Albert and Piper, she said, "Mr. Lee, Mrs. Less, I'm Tilly."

Her voice was obedient and cute, her smile was sweet and beautiful, and she was completely pleasing.

However, Piper frowned when she heard Tilly addressing her and Albert, and said, "Tilly, you have already married Ben. Why are you still calling us like that? It's so strange."

Tilly was taken aback, and didn't expect Piper to be so enthusiastic.

She was momentarily at a loss.

Originally, calling them that way was because she wanted to take it step by step, instead of just calling them by their name when she came here the first time.

What was more, Tilly still didn't know whether Ben's parents had accepted her.

However, hearing Piper say that now, Tilly regretted it.

She thought it was a proper way, but it caused Piper to be so unhappy.

Tilly became even more tense.

Ben looked at his mother and said helplessly, "Mom, you just scared Tilly."

Piper said, "It must be you who say bad things about me, making Tilly mistakenly think that I'm a very fierce mother-in-law. Obviously I'm such a gentle mother-in-law."

It made Ben have a headache that his mother started again.

He leaned close to Tilly's ear and whispered, "Mom can be more dramatic sometimes. You'll get used to it."

Tilly looked at Ben in astonishment, and it was hard to believe that such words came out of Ben's mouth.

Was it really okay to complain about his mother like this?

Tilly frowned, and whispered to Ben, "Aren't you a little too much?"

Although the voices of the two people talking were very low, Piper still heard it.

Piper immediately said, "Son, you heard it. Your wife has already said that you're just too much. You always complain about me."

Ben was at a loss for words.

What can he do? One was his mother, and the other was his wife.

When the two of them complained about him together, all Ben can do was recognize it.

Ben raised his hand to touch Tilly's head, saying, "Babe, just call them by their name."

Tilly's face instantly colored, and even her breathing became hot.

However, she believed that since Piper was dissatisfied with calling her Mrs. Lee, she should accept and like her as her daughter-in-law.

So, she boldly called out, "Albert, Piper."

Piper immediately cheered up, stretched out her hand and pulled Tilly over, saying, "Hey, that sounds good."

Ever since Piper knew that Patrick married, she seemed to be possessed, and every day she hoped that Ben could marry as soon as possible.

In this regard, Ben was really helpless.

He can only be thankful that his mother, although extremely looking forward to his marriage and childbirth as soon as possible, did not directly take photos to let him choose like Eden's mother did.

However, Ben was still very clear about how much his mother expected to be a mother-in-law.

So, now that his mother was so happy, although Ben may feel a little exaggerated, he didn't dislike the feeling.

Ben looked at Tilly tenderly and said, "Talk to Mom. I'll make a phone call."

Tilly followed Ben subconsciously, but she also knew that Ben was giving her a chance to be alone with his parents so that she could integrate into their family as soon as possible.

Tilly understood Ben's good intention.

Therefore, although she was a little nervous, she could still accept it.

Ben walked into the yard, but there was really no phone call to make.

After thinking about it, he still called Eden.

On the other side, Eden was originally "fighting" with him the chat group, but in the end, this guy seemed to have disappeared, and he didn't reply to his messages at all.

There was no point in sending messages to him, so he took a rest.

Who would have thought that this guy would dare call him?

Eden didn't answer the call right away, but picked up when Ben called the second time and the ring rang until he was about to hang up.

He said, "What are you doing? What are you calling me for? Show off? Ben, why didn't I realize that you're so unreasonable?"

Ben laughed and said to Eden, "I guess you won't be able to reason, so I'll act first. How about it? I won this round."

Eden was about to rage from Ben's smug voice.

He gritted his teeth and said, "Ben, you're simply outrageous. Do you know that once you get the certificate, my mom goes crazy again?"

Not long after the official announcement that Ben had obtained a marriage certificate, Mariam called Eden and scolded him.

If Eden hadn't told Mariam that he was already with Minnie, and that it was only a matter of time before they got married, Mariam might have rushed to South Island to find a new blind date for him there. Just thinking about it gave Eden a terrible headache.

And all of this was thanks to this unreliable guy.

Eden said, "Ben, you're wicked."

Ben didn't care about Eden's complaints about himself but said, "You already have Miss Thomas, so what are you worried about?"

Eden was so pissed off by Ben, and felt that if he continued to chat with Ben like this, he would definitely die from anger.

So, Eden decided to ignore this guy.

Eden hung up the phone directly, extremely arrogant.

Ben looked at the phone screen speechlessly. This guy probably won't grow up in this life. How could he be so childish?

However, he came out and made a call to Eden, and presumably, the atmosphere inside should already be very good.

Ben turned and walked in, only to see his mother holding Tilly's hand and couldn't stop laughing.

Chapter 688 Return Tilly to me first

Ben walked over, sat down on the sofa opposite, and asked, "What are you talking about? You guys look so happy."

Piper said, "How can I tell you the little secret we chatted between girls? Don't be so curious. Otherwise, it will end badly."

Tilly nodded vigorously in approval and said, "That's right. Don't be so curious."

Clearly, in just a few minutes, Tilly and Piper were on the same side.

Ben was a little bit dumbfounded.

Sure enough, he knew that as soon as these two women met, his status would plummet.

Ben looked at Tilly and said, "You just got bought by Mom."

Tilly blinked and said, "No, Piper and I are in the same camp."

Ben stood up, looked in the direction of the kitchen, and said, "Is my dad cooking?"

Piper nodded and said, "You should learn how to cook too, and cook more delicious food for Tilly in the future. Look, you made Tilly hungry. She's so thin."

Tilly looked at Ben with a smile, full of pride.

She was fairly happy.

Her own family was very complicated and messy.

She didn't even know that getting along with the elders would be such a pleasant feeling.

She liked Ben's mother very much.

At this moment, Tilly was even regretful, why didn't Ben take herself home earlier?

That way, she'd meet Piper sooner.

Ben was very helpless and can only go to the kitchen to see what his father was doing.

When Albert saw him coming in, he said, "You came just in time. Your mother asked me to make soup for your wife. You should also take a look. You should cook it for your wife when you get back."

Ben said, "Dad, you've betrayed me too, completely forgot that I'm your son."

Albert said, "It's not that I don't know but I always listen to your mother."

It was really unnecessary for Ben to say such a thing, because it was clearly making him to see them displaying their affection.

Seeing him like this, Albert knew that he was speechless about the sweetness between himself and his wife.

Albert said, "Although you despise me and your mother now, there is nothing you can do about it. We're so loving. These are our natural expressions. Even if you see that we're old, you have to watch it."

Ben really wanted to take Tilly to leave with him.

So that his parents can be more affectionate.

Albert said, "I can give you a suggestion to let you change your current mood."

Ben looked up at Albert with a very bad feeling.

He felt that his father was tripping him.

Sure enough, in the next second, Ben heard Albert say, "The solution to this problem is very simple. You and your wife have a baby, and then, show affection to your child every day. Then you can understand me and your Mommy's sweetness."

Ben was at a loss for words.

After a while, Ben laughed softly.

He looked at Albert amusedly and said, "Dad, whom did you learn from to urge me having a child?"

You're not too naive."

Albert said, "Don't say that. It's not urging. I'm just stating a fact to you."

Ben couldn't be happier, but Albert's words made him extremely helpless.

Albert said, "But, of course, if you and Tilly can give me and your mother a grandchild sooner, we'll be more happy."

Ben said, "Dad, Tilly and I just got married, and she's still young. I haven't planned to have a baby with her so early."

Albert said, "You need to make up your own mind on this point, but you have to discuss it with Tilly. She's the one who carries babies. Whether she wants to have or not is up to her to decide. Both your mother and I won't say much, but there is one thing that you must discuss with Tilly. If you plan to have a child, it's best to do it as soon as possible. After a few years, Tilly will be older, and the risk of having a child will be greater. Your mother and I, like all parents, will definitely want to have grandchildren, but Tilly's choice is still the most important thing, and the most important thing is her health."

Ben nodded and said, "I know, I will discuss this matter with Tilly. I'm just afraid that she hasn't figured it out yet, and decides to have a baby on a whim. But when the baby is born, she's still a child herself, and I can't bear her to work so hard."

Albert heard this, laughed, and said, "You should often hear a saying that women are weak by nature, but mothers are strong. Don't underestimate any girls. At the moment they decide to become mothers, their strength can be overwhelming. It's not something that us men can match."

Ben didn't say anything more.

He was very grateful to his parents. Although they had a traditional side, they also had a more open side.

They thought things through in great detail and gave good advice.

But, for Ben, Tilly was really a child in his heart.

A child who still needed to be taken care and coaxed by him had to bear so much before she grew up.

He couldn't bear it.

When he came out of the kitchen, it happened that Piper was also walking towards the kitchen, holding Tilly's hand.

Piper said, "I take Tilly to see your father cook. You can learn to cook well. The man in our family has an absolute advantage in the kitchen. You don't want to lose it when you come to your place."

Ben was helpless because he really didn't study cooking much before.

However, he believed that since he had his father's genes, it would not be difficult at all to cook good dishes.

Looking at Ben, Tilly suddenly felt that she didn't really understand Ben.

He may still have many sides, which she had not discovered.

Just now, Piper told her a lot about Ben, and she was very happy to hear it and was also full of curiosity in her heart.

That was the Ben she had never imagined.

It turned out that he would do so many outrageous things.

It turned out that he also had such a bad side.

However, this man, no matter what he looked like, was firmly attracted to her.

Tilly looked at Ben. Her eyes were full of affection.

Ben curled his lips and said to Piper, "Mom, I'll learn from Dad later, and Tilly will be returned to me first."

With that said, Ben pulled Tilly's hand away from Piper's.

Tilly blinked her eyes, looked at Ben suspiciously, and wanted to say something, but was dragged away by him.

Piper looked at the backs of Ben and Tilly helplessly, only shook her head, and murmured, "This kid..."

Chapter 689 There's even a greenhouse

Albert came out of the kitchen with a spatula in hand. Seeing that Piper was the only one, he asked suspiciously, "Where are the two of them?"

Piper looked at Albert and said, "What do you think? Your son misses your daughter-in-law, and takes her away."

Albert said, "Clingy, just like me."

Piper took a look at Albert and said, "I used to worry about whether our son had grown tired of seeing the two of us showing affection, and had no interest in relationships. Look at his indifferent look. I was really worried that he would end up alone, but I didn't expect that he does this now. But that's cute."

Albert took Piper by the shoulders and led her into the kitchen.

He said, "He has the genes of both of us, and he grew up watching us showing affection. He had not been tempted yet in the past. Once he is, he'll be more clingy than anyone else."

Hearing what Albert said, Piper gave a low laugh and said, "Look at you. You seem to understand him so well."

Albert said, "He's my son. Of course I know him well. It would be strange if he doesn't have the same temperament as me."

Piper laughed and said, "You'd better show me first how is your soup doing?"

"Don't worry about it and it's not necessary." Albert said.

Piper nodded. Since they knew each other, she ate the dishes made by Albert.

It can be said that the reason why Piper had such a deep affection for Albert was due to his good cooking skills.

It was said that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

However, for Piper, maybe, it was Albert who got the way to her heart.

She liked the dishes cooked by Albert very much, and what was more, no matter how busy Albert was, he cooked three meals a day for her by himself.

She was a woman who was doted on by her husband and a daughter-in-law who was treated kindly by her parents-in-law.

So, naturally, Piper wanted to be nice to her daughter-in-law.

Upstairs.

Tilly was taken into his room by Ben.

She frowned, looked at Ben, and asked, "Ben, what are you doing? They're cooking, but you bring me up."

Hearing this, Ben smiled, raised his hand and squeezed Tilly's chin softly, saying, "Then I'll leave you downstairs to make trouble?"

She didn't like to hear that. Did he mean she would make trouble downstairs?

She was obviously going to learn from them.

Tilly opened her mouth a little, and was about to refute Ben's words, when she saw a black shadow pressing down.

Ben was already sucking on Tilly's lips.

Tilly's eyes widened, but she didn't realize what was going on with Ben.

She raised her hand and pushed Ben's chest. However, she couldn't move at all. Instead her hand was grabbed by Ben and controlled by him.

Tilly couldn't resist, and in the end, she didn't resist.

She was just wondering what happened to Ben.

However, Tilly soon stopped thinking about so many things, but began to respond to Ben's kisses, obediently and very cutely.

Ben really liked the way she looked.

He hugged Tilly directly, and began to suck and kiss Tilly's lips more passionately and forcefully.

It took an unknown amount of time before Ben let go of Tilly.

Tilly's face was flushed with suffocation.

She looked at Ben coquettishly, and said dissatisfiedly, "Ben, you're trying to suffocate me."

She can't even breathe.

Ben felt that she was so cute again, lowered his head and kissed Tilly again.

He said, "Baby, I may really fall on you."

He never knew before that once he fell in love with someone, he would be in such a crazy state.

This feeling, to Ben, was very fresh.

However, he did not reject it.

He was very happy and found that he loved Tilly more and more day by day.

Hearing this, Tilly snorted arrogantly, then hugged Ben's neck and said, "You're not the only one. I fell on you too."

In this life, she will only be with him wholeheartedly.

Ben curled the corner of his mouth, touched Tilly's face, and said, "Baby, you know, I really love you."

Tilly nodded, and then said, "But, I think, I love you more."

Ben laughed. Where did she have such a desire to win? She even had to compete with him about it.

However, his baby, of course was right in everything.

Ben said, "Okay, you love me more."

Tilly heard Ben responding so happily, and wanted to tease him.

However, she didn't do that.

Today was a good day for the two of them to get their certificates, so she won't run into an endless argument with Ben about who really loved whom more.

Anyway, the most important thing was that they loved each other.

Was there anything more pleasant than this?

Tilly hung around Ben's neck, still feeling a little embarrassed after all.

She said, "Ben, is it really okay for us two hiding upstairs? They're busy."

Ben said, "It's useless for the two of us to go down now. We can't help anything, and, they may want to be alone more and don't want to be disturbed."

Hearing this, Tilly blinked her eyes and said, "They have such a good relationship."

She didn't know before that the elders would show their love so openly.

When she met Ben's parents today, she realized that no matter what age they were at, they can express their feelings for each other warmly and straightforwardly.

Tilly held Ben's neck and said, "Ben, I hope that when we get old, we can be like them. That'll be great."
"Of course," Ben said.

He never thought that he and Tilly would love each other less than his parents.

Staying upstairs for a while, Ben and Tilly went downstairs anyway.

However, the two of them did not go to the kitchen.

Ben took Tilly to the backyard.

The backyard was full of vegetables and fruits planted by Albert himself.

Tomatoes, eggplants, cucumbers, beans, potatoes, pumpkins, lettuce, peppers, corn, grapes...

All the vegetables and fruits that were commonly eaten at home were available in the backyard.

As if entering a new world, Tilly's eyes widened in disbelief.

This backyard covered a very large area, and it was built directly against the mountain. The entire mountain was the private domain of the Lee family.

Albert directly turned the mountain into a vegetable and fruit garden, and even built a greenhouse.

Chapter 690 I want to come back every week to pick tomatoes

Tilly was beyond excited.

She used to only go to places like farmhouses to experience the magic of such places.

However, it was the first time Tilly saw it in Ben's home.

Tilly was like an excited little butterfly flying in the vegetable and fruit garden.

Ben watched her fumble around and look around. The corners of his mouth curled up unconsciously, and his eyes were full of doting.

Tilly walked and squatted in a tomato field, looking at the bright red tomatoes which were very attractive.

When Ben came over, Tilly couldn't wait to ask, "Ben, can I pick one?"

"Yes," Ben said.

Although the vegetables were all picked only when they would be consumed, since Tilly liked it, of course she can do whatever she wanted.

However, the premise was that Tilly will not make trouble and pull all of them up.

His father had a good temper and a gentle attitude towards everything.

Only for his vegetable and fruit garden, he was quite harsh.

Before, there were naughty children who came to the house and went to the vegetable and fruit garden to make a fuss. They couldn't distinguish between ripe fruits and immature ones, so they directly ruined many vegetable seedlings.

The most exaggerated thing was that a two or three-year-old child got all the brute force to uproot all the plants.

When Albert found out, he was so angry that he almost had a myocardial infarction.

In Piper's words, she and Albert had been married for more than 20 years, and this was the first time she had seen Albert get angry like that.

If Tilly really destroyed this plant seedling like that child, then she might be shocked by her father-in-law.

After getting Ben's permission, Tilly stared at several tomatoes for a long time before finally picking out the reddest and the biggest one, which was the prettiest among all the tomatoes.

She picked it carefully.

Then, in the next second, she took a bite.

Ben was dumbfounded by Tilly's action.

He stared at Tilly in disbelief.

Tilly took a big bite of the tomato, and the juice was so full that it overflowed from the corner of her mouth.

However, Tilly couldn't care less about that right now.

She munched on the tomato with a satisfied look on her face.

Ben came over, touched Tilly's head, and said, "You don't even wash it but just eat it. Aren't you afraid of getting sick?"

Tilly said confidently, "People always say that a couple of germs won't do you any harm. Moreover, I've heard that the vegetables and fruits grown in home are very clean, and there are no pesticides. They can be picked and eaten directly."

Helpless, Ben squatted down, pinched Tilly's face, and said, "That was in the past, and in the current environment, even if pesticides are not applied, there may be anything on it."

Tilly shook her head and said, "I don't buy it."

She didn't want to hear Ben go into those details.

Anyway, she had always wanted to do this.

Now that there was such an opportunity unexpectedly, she wouldn't care so much about it.

Seeing this, Ben stopped saying anything that would offend Tilly.

He asked, "What else do you want to pick?"

Tilly thought about it. If possible, she would naturally want to pick everything.

It was just that although she thought so, she couldn't do it.

She could imagine that the vegetables and fruits were picked and it was enough for them.

Tilly said, "Not for now, let me finish this tomato first."

Ben curled the corner of his mouth and said, "Okay."

Tilly started to eat the tomato attentively, with a satisfied expression on her face.

Ben's gaze fell gently on her face the whole time.

It was his fault. If he knew that bringing her here would make her so happy, then he should have brought her here earlier.

Seeing Ben staring at her, Tilly asked, "Why are you staring at me? You want to eat too?"

Ben said, "I don't want to. Seeing you eat it is great to me."

Tilly said with a smile, "If you want to eat it, I won't give it to you. This is the first fruit I picked by myself, and no one can snatch it from me."

What Tilly said was justified and somewhat deceptive.

Ben laughed, always being entertained by her.

He rubbed Tilly's head and said, "I want to ask you, in the future, do you want to live here or live out?"

Tilly hadn't thought about it yet.

She knew that Ben had always lived outside.

Ever since she met him, he had been living in the hotel.

After they got together, she had followed him and moved to his place.

Now, when Ben asked her this question, Tilly really couldn't answer.

She really liked the vegetable and fruit garden.

However, Ben had been living outside, and he had his reasons.

Tilly didn't want him to change anything for her own sake, which would make her feel bad.

So, Tilly thought for a while and said, "I'll listen to you, or we can live outside before I get pregnant, and come back after I get pregnant."

According to Tilly's understanding, generally, after pregnancy, the mother-in-law will hope to be by her side.

The corner of Ben's mouth curved. He certainly understood that she had thought about it for him.

He said, "Okay, listen to you."

Tilly said, "Well, I have a request."

"Say it," Ben said.

"I'm going to come back every week to pick tomatoes," Tilly said.

Ben nodded and said, "Of course, as long as you're happy."
