Chapter 701 Listen to me

Mariam sat opposite the two. Watching them, she was very relieved.

Of course, she knew her son very well.

If he didn't really love her, how can he express these easily?

However, there was indeed a problem caused by Attwell.

Mariam picked up the teacup and took a sip, wondering whether to leave this matter to her son and her future daughter-in-law, or just to her.

After all, she was the one who asked Eden to go to the blind date in the first place, and she was the one who gave Attwell a loophole.

Eden hadn't looked at his phone before, so naturally he didn't know what those guys did.

After Patrick transferred money to Eden, although other people complained about Patrick, they still transferred money to Eden too.

But what did it mean to transfer 2.5 dollars?

Minnie sat beside Eden, feeling that his mood was getting worse, so she asked, "What's wrong?"

Eden said, "A bunch of bad friends."

Minnie was puzzled, but saw that Eden put the phone away directly, and didn't intend to tell her.

Minnie looked at Eden suspiciously, but didn't think much about it.

She was not a woman who will feel that her boyfriend had something to hide from her just because he didn't show his mobile phone. The reason why she asked Eden what happened just now was she can see that Eden was not in a good mood.

However, hearing his tone, she probably knew that he was embarrassed by his friends again.

Minnie thought that Eden was so cute as hell.

Eden noticed Minnie's smile, turned his head to look at her, reached out and pinched her ear, saying, "Why are you so happy?"

Minnie shook her head and said, "I just feel happy."

For no reason, she was happy.

Eden was amused by her silly look, which was completely different from her usual look.

However, it really captivated his heart, making him want to do nothing but just be with her and stay together in a clingy way.

However, Eden still couldn't help complaining about those "villains" in his heart. Although they didn't say anything, the meaning was self-evident.

He wanted to save his face, so naturally he can't tell Minnie that those guys transferred him 2.5 dollars (It means Eden is stupid).

Otherwise, he might lose his reputation in Minnie's heart.

Just thinking about it gave Eden a headache.

The dinner Mariam was still prepared was according to the standard to celebrate that Eden and Minnie had gotten their marriage certificates, but there was no change because of this incident.

This was also the first time Minnie met Eden's father.

He was completely different from Eden, a very taciturn but very coercive person.

When Minnie first met Eden's father, she was very nervous.

She couldn't tell how much this middle-aged man accepted her.

It was Mariam who nudged Robin McCoy, and warned him to be gentle with her eyes, not to scare their future daughter-in-law, so Robin made a smile.

However, his smile was really ugly.

Minnie felt that it was even more terrifying.

As a high-ranking person, Robin had always been cold. It can be said that he was cold to his bones.

In addition, he himself was a very serious person no matter when he was young or now, which certainly made him look even more terrifying.

Eden whispered in Minnie's ear, "Don't be scared. My dad's face can bluff people."

Minnie smiled, thinking that his face alone was scary enough.

However, Minnie soon found out that Robin was a hen-pecked husband. As long as Mariam gave him a look, Robin will obey immediately.

Of course, this didn't mean that Robin was afraid of Mariam.

From the way he looked at Mariam, it was not difficult to know that he really loved Mariam very much, and the reason why he obeyed Mariam's orders so much was of course he doted on her.

Gradually, Minnie became less afraid of Robin.

However, she really couldn't understand why someone like Robin would have a son with such a temperament as Eden.

It was just unbelievable.

Minnie's eyes fell on Eden's face. Of course, in terms of facial features, he was indeed similar with Robin. It was just that his brows and eyes were a little softer, and Robin's had a more icy feeling as a superior all the year round.

However, it was also because, between Eden's brows and eyes, there was a lot of softness from Mariam.

Eden felt a little helpless after being stared at by her, so he raised his hand to pinch her face, saying, "My parents are still here. I'm quite shy from being stared at by you like that."

Minnie silently turned her head away, and decided to ignore this man for the time being.

What was he talking about? It seemed she was going to do something to him.

Eden just liked to see Minnie after being teased by him.

He smiled and said, "Just kidding. I'm yours. You can stare at me however you want."

At this moment, Minnie really wanted to raise her hand and cover Eden's mouth, so that he can close his mouth quickly.

She didn't mean to stare at him, not at all.

Eden laughed unceremoniously, but received disapproving eyes from his parents.

He touched his nose, and restrained himself a little after all.

His parents didn't think there was anything wrong with their son being so funny to her, but Minnie's face was flushed and she looked ashamed and angry.

How can their son make her like this? Their son was too unreliable.

But, of course, his parents were happy in their hearts.

This also showed that the relationship between the two of them was really very good.

The meal was peaceful and harmonious. After eating, Eden thought about it and decided to take Minnie away.

After all, they hadn't received their certificates now. Even so, it didn't matter how they slept together. In his own home, he can sleep in the same room as Minnie. Although he didn't think there was anything wrong with it and his parents will not be so rigid about it, Minnie was so thin-skinned, and would probably be too shy.

He didn't want his baby to feel any discomfort at all.

So, without thinking too much about it, Eden took Minnie away from home directly. After Minnie left with Eden, she still felt a little dreamy. Her relationship with Eden seemed to be on a rocket from the very beginning. From the moment the relationship was established, they had progressed by leaps and bounds. Minnie held Eden's hand, still feeling a little unbelievable. From time to time, she looked up at Eden, at his profile, at his Adam's apple. Everything about him seemed to be based on her aesthetic. Minnie liked it very much. She never knew before that when she let go, she would gain such a relationship. She felt it very incredible. Eden looked down at Minnie and asked, "Am I so pretty? Why do you keep staring at me?" Minnie smiled and said, "Eden, I found out that I really like you." What she said was very sincere. Without any restraint, she directly expressed what she wanted to express most. In fact, it was very rare for Minnie to express her emotions to Eden. Most of the time, she will be more shy, and most of the time, she will do more than talk. However, this once in a while, expressing her feelings straightforwardly gave Eden more shock. Eden looked at Minnie, and his eyes gradually deepened. There seemed to be a flame gradually burning in his eyes, trying to engulf the woman in front of him. Minnie noticed Eden's gaze, and subconsciously wanted to look away. They were originally in the car, and when they were about to get home, they wanted to take a walk on a whim, so they got out of the car to feel the joy of walking together. And, the house where Eden lived was in the urban area. Even though it was already night, it was still very lively with people coming and going. After all, Minnie was not an outgoing person. She was really shy about kissing Eden on the street. Eden sensed her intention, and held her into his arms backhand. He said, "Either give me a kiss now, or go back later and listen to me."

Chapter 702 Their family is crazy

After hearing what Eden said, Minnie was a little dumbfounded. What was wrong with this man? Was he taking the opportunity to trick her? Minnie was well aware of Eden's trick. If she agreed to him and listened to him, when she went back, she may be "miserable". Eden naturally knew how excessive the choice he made was, but when he saw that Minnie was really struggling, he laughed instead. He said, "It seems that you have made a choice." No, she hadn't, she hadn't at all. Eden said, "Okay, let's go. Let's go home. I can't wait." He intentionally spoke very ambiguously and anxiously. Obviously he was embarrassing Minnie who can't speak now. Minnie was really struggling. Should she hug Eden's neck directly, and then kiss him hard on the lips? It was too late to do it now. Eden had not given her a chance.

He directly held Minnie's hand and started to run. It can be seen that he was rather anxious. Minnie was dragged by him, and she became speechless. Why was this man so enthusiastic about sex? Facts had proved that when Eden was outside, he had genuinely restrained himself. When they got home, Minnie was carried up by Eden directly. Before he even had time to enter the room, he had already started to kiss her. Even though Minnie was still very speechless at this time, she still had no strength to resist. She was hugged by Eden, and she had no ability to resist at all. Fortunately, Eden was still very gentle. Although he wanted to "bully" her hard, in the end, he didn't go too far. Of course, his action was gentle, but it was more "tormenting" in terms of time. Minnie felt that her whole body was going to be worn out by him. She didn't know what time it was before Minnie fell into a deep sleep. At that moment, Minnie really felt a little relieved. Finally, she was let go by this man.

Maple Street Apartment.

Mikayla was very anxious today.

She hadn't figured out what major she wanted to study.

Although the scores hadn't come out yet, Mikayla certainly didn't have to worry about it. She can go to any university she wanted to in the whole country, as long as she filled out the application form.

She had just finished the exam a few days ago, and she was having too much fun, completely forgetting about it.

Now, the scores were coming soon, and the major will be decided right after. However, Mikayla hadn't figured it out yet.

Ash came over and saw that her anxious appearance, so he said, "No matter where you go to study, I will accompany you there. As long as you choose and you're happy, it's okay."

Mikayla said, "However, if I go to study abroad, I'll not see my sister's baby born, and I'll be very sad."

Ash felt a little helpless. Who would have thought that this girl was struggling with such a thing.

He said, "You really don't have to worry about this at all. Aimee's due date is on vacation. When the time comes, we can come back together."

"Then what if it's early? What if I miss it?" Mikayla looked at Ash pitifully and said, "Besides, I'm so far away that the baby and I will be a stranger to the baby."

Ash thought Mikayla's words were simply too childish.

He raised his hand and rubbed Mikayla's head, saying, "If you want to study in Innisrial, you can just make a decision."

Mikayla laughed immediately and said, "Really? Can I really do it?"

Ash said, "Of course, you just do what you like."

And he would handle the rest.

Mikayla hugged Ash's neck, kissed him, and said, "I've decided. I'll study life engineering at Innisrial University."

Ash had no opinion. After all, when it came to this, Ash only thought that as long as Mikayla was happy, everything was okay.

Anyway, with Mikayla's intelligence, she didn't need to use her undergraduate school to select a job when applying for a job like other students.

So, as long as she was happy, nothing else was important.

After Mikayla made this choice, she felt relaxed and free from entanglement at all.

However, when she handed over her application to her teacher, she was asked to talk with various teachers.

Although the teachers in her high school were very happy that Mikayla did not choose to be recommended directly, but took the college entrance examination, so that their school can secure the best grades from her.

Now, with such a good grade, she did not go to the best institution in the country, but only choose the local university in Innisrial.

Although the school was ranked among the top ten in the country, when it came to real competition, it still lagged behind the top universities.

The teachers naturally couldn't agree with Mikayla's choice.

Even, for them, Mikayla's choice was simply a waste of her intelligence.

Mikayla insisted on her choice without any hesitation, and happily handed in her application.

The teachers had no choice but to call Mikayla's guardian.

Now Mikayla's guardian was Aimee.

When Aimee received the call from the school, she was stunned for a moment.

She really never received a call from the school. The main reason was that Mikayla performed really well in school, with excellent grades and a lovable temperament. Even if she was not so enthusiastic, she never had caused any troubles.

Therefore, Aimee really couldn't figure out what would happen to Mikayla.

However, when Aimee heard the teacher's earnest words, she was a little bit dumbfounded.

She squeezed the space between her eyebrows, but she never expected that Mikayla would choose to stay in Innisrial after struggling for so long.

Aimee certainly had no opinion on this.

All she asked of Mikayla was to do what she wanted to do.

Anyway, her family didn't need Mikayla to earn money to support the whole family. And she didn't have any pressure and can do whatever she wanted.

The second point was Mikayla's own ability. If she didn't want to grow up at a normal pace step by step, she could go directly to Aimee's research institute now.

Therefore, it didn't matter which university she would go to study at.

After listening to the teacher's words, Aimee felt that the teacher's thoughts were indeed a little unfounded, but from the perspective of a teacher, Aimee could understand.

She still appreciated the teacher's attention to Mikayla, but she didn't make any compromises.

Aimee said, "I respect any decision she makes. As long as it's a careful consideration, I will not interfere."

The teacher never expected that Aimee's attitude would be like this.

In the end, there was no other way but to just hang up the phone.

Aimee can probably feel it, maybe, after hanging up the phone, Mikayla's teacher thought that their family was crazy.

Chapter 703 But scream out in horror

Aimee didn't completely ignore Mikayla.

After hanging up, she made a phone call to Mikayla, telling her about the teacher's calling

Mikayla thought that Aimee was going to persuade her, and was about to speak for herself, when she heard Aimee say, "If you have figured it out, just be happy. If it's just a momentary impulse, then think about it."

When Mikayla heard what Aimee said, she immediately said, "Aimee, I've already made up my mind. I just want to stay in Innisrial."

Aimee didn't say anything more.

After all, in the final analysis, it still had to be figured out by Mikayla herself.

After Aimee hung up the phone, Patrick asked, "About Mikayla?"

"Yeah," Aimee nodded and said, "Her teacher probably thinks we're all crazy."

Patrick said, "It's very good. She has her own choice and there is no blind obedience. This is very good."

Aimee said, "That's what I mean too. It's good."

At this time, a servant knocked on the door and came to Patrick, saying that someone was coming to visit.

Aimee looked at Patrick suspiciously, wondering who would come to him.

Generally speaking, people who came to see Patrick would be his friends, and servants would not use the word "visit".

And with the servant's tone, it seemed that she was still very embarrassed. Obviously, the identity of the visitor was very problematic.

Patrick also felt it very strange. For a while, he really couldn't think of who could come to the house.

He put his arm around Aimee's shoulder, kissed her forehead, and said, "I'll go and see."

Aimee nodded.

Patrick went out of the room, and when he went downstairs, he saw a man and woman sitting on the sofa.

He was indeed not very familiar with the man, but he can get his name right. The woman was no stranger, and he just met her yesterday.

It was Alina.

Patrick's face darkened instantly.

Seeing this, the servant even breathed nervously.

She really didn't know what the identities of these two people were, but let them in. If Patrick asked them to be held accountable, she really couldn't afford it.

Patrick didn't take his anger out on the servant, but walked over with an unhappy expression, and sat down on the opposite sofa.

The moment Alina saw Patrick, her eyes were glued to his face, and the admiration revealed in those eyes. Compared to when she was in the company, she couldn't hide it at all.

Patrick frowned in disgust, and instead of giving Alina a look, he looked at Maddox Simmons sitting beside her.

"Mr. Simmons, what's wrong?" Patrick's voice was cold to the bone, and the moment he opened his mouth, the atmosphere in the living room became colder again in an instant.

Maddox said, "Mr. Hayden, I heard from my daughter that she made you unhappy in the company, so I brought her here to apologize to you."

Patrick sneered when he heard the words, and said, "That's not necessary. The company has its system, and everything is done according to the system."

Maddox understood when he heard Patrick say that. Patrick didn't want to show him respect at all.

Of course, he also seemed to have forgotten that he had no face at all in front of Patrick.

Patrick didn't know what he was thinking, but he just didn't want to have another word with them. He said directly to the servant, "Seeing off the guests."

Alina immediately became anxious and quickly said, "Mr. Hayden, I came here to beg you to give me another chance. I really like this job. Please give me another chance to stay."

Patrick still didn't give her a look, and just didn't bother to pay attention to her.

The expression on his face had become very impatient. It can be seen how bad his mood was at the moment.

Maddox helped Alina and said, "Mr. Hayden, she's still young and a child, and children make mistakes. With a company as big as Hayden Group, can't you give her another chance?"

Patrick finally had a little reaction, but it was an infinite mockery to Maddox.

He said, "Don't flaunt yourself as a child when you come out to work. Our company has no interest in employing child labor. Besides, since you're so kind-hearted, you can give the child a chance yourself. The size of your Simmons Group is not small. If you want to train your daughter, it is better for her to work in your own company."

Alina didn't care what Patrick said.

She just wanted to stay in the Hayden Group.

If she left, how could she pursue Patrick?

Alina said, "Mr. Hayden, I really like you ... r ... company. Please give me another chance, please."

Patrick really hated the tone of her voice when she said that, which made him feel sick.

In particular, when she said this, she deliberately paused for a while, and the reason for it was needless to ask.

Patrick finally looked towards Alina and said, "It's absolutely impossible."

After finishing speaking, Patrick stood up and said to the servant, "From now on, don't let anyone in and disturb Aimee's rest. Otherwise, I will hold you accountable."

The servant immediately nodded in response, hurried over and asked them to leave.

How could Alina be willing to go?

She liked Patrick.

Now, finally she got into Hayden's Mansion, so close to him.

How could she leave so easily?

Alina didn't even think too much about it, but rushed towards Patrick, wanting to hug him without hesitation.

However, before she got close to Patrick, she felt a gust of cold wind blowing in front of her.

In the next second, a Swiss army knife was stuck on the floor in front of her.

Alina didn't react for a long time, but when she came back to her senses, she cried out in horror.

Chapter 704 It is really screwed

"Ah!"

Alina's ear-piercing screams resounded through the mansion.

Patrick didn't look back at Alina, but looked up at the stairs, where Aimee was coming down.

He walked over quickly, stretched out his hand to hold Aimee's hand, and said, "Why did you get down?"

Aimee said, "If I don't come down and take a look, I don't know that someone is so brave that she would hug my husband at home."

Patrick curled the corner of his mouth, kissed on Aimee's cheek, and said, "Are you jealous?"

Aimee raised her eyebrows and looked at Patrick. So angry, she wanted to come here to act like a domineering wife, but in the end, this man ruined her work with just one sentence.

She threatened Patrick with her eyes, telling him not to cut the ground from under her feet.

Patrick's mouth curled up, and the smile in his eyes couldn't be hidden at all.

With Patrick's support, Aimee walked up to Alina while carefully protecting her stomach.

She looked Alina up and down, showing her contempt from top to bottom.

Alina didn't take Aimee seriously before.

She inquired for a long time, and all she knew was that Aimee was abandoned by the Read family. She had no status in her family, not to mention how difficult her life was.

However, after marrying Patrick, this woman shamelessly turned into an ungrateful person and ruined the Read family.

If there was without Patrick's help, how was it possible?

In Alina's view, Aimee was a slut who took advantage of Patrick.

She totally looked down on this woman.

She didn't think that this woman was Patrick's true love, and she must have used some shady means to conceive Patrick's child.

Therefore, she must defeat this woman, drive her away, and keep her away from Patrick.

In her opinion, only herself was Patrick's true love.

The last time she saw Aimee at the company, Alina didn't take her seriously at all.

Although she was still jealous of Aimee's physical appearance, even when she was pregnant, she only had a big belly, which didn't make her limbs and cheeks fatter at all.

This made Alina even more annoyed.

She was still thinking about using her beauty advantage to defeat this woman.

However, now it seemed that there was no such opportunity.

At this moment, Alina felt a feeling of fear.

It never occurred to her that Aimee would throw a Swiss army knife at her.

If she had moved a little faster just now, the knife would not have hit the ground at all, but her head directly.

Finally recovering from the panic, Alina glared at Aimee and cursed angrily, "You're fucking crazy!"

Alina wanted to beat this woman to death. How dared she!

Although there was still a faint smile on Aimee's face, her eyes were very cool.

She said, "Miss Simmons, do you know what my principle is?"

How did Alina know this?

She only wanted to kill this woman now.

Who wanted to answer her inexplicable question?

Aimee didn't mind if she didn't answer her question.

She continued, "My principle is, don't touch mine."

Aimee reached out, held Alina's chin, and lifted it slightly.

Before Alina could react, Aimee pinched her chin tightly.

Her movement was fast and powerful, to the point of crushing Alina's jaw.

Aimee narrowed her eyes and said, "You look really good, but if you reach out to my husband, your little face is too much of an eyesore."

Alina was now dazed by the pain.

She didn't respond at all, but only tears kept falling down.

This was a completely physiological reaction, and it was simply beyond her control.

Aimee said, "Miss Simmons, I will not pursue what you did in the company. I have unconditional trust in my husband, and I also believe that his eyes are very good, but now you come to my house to act wildly. Tell me, what punishment should I give you?"

Alina had now adapted to the strength of Aimee's hand, so she also reacted.

She yelled directly at Aimee, "You crazy woman! Let me go!"

Aimee frowned, very unhappy that Alina dared to insult herself.

She pretended to think for a while, and then said, "I think it's probably because your family is in good condition, so you have developed such an arrogant and domineering temperament, coveting things that don't belong to you. If that's the case, then..."

Aimee paused for a moment then said, "How about you being in a poor family?"

As soon as these words came out, Alina didn't realize what Aimee meant for a long time, but Maddox became anxious.

He rushed over immediately and said to Aimee, "Mrs. Hayden, I'm really sorry. She is not sensible. I apologize to you on her behalf. Please don't make things difficult to my family."

Aimee heard the words, but looked at Maddox amusedly.

She said, "Mr. Simmons, you was silent just now. So, I thought that you have acquiesced to your daughter's behavior."

After Aimee finished speaking, she thought for a while and said, "That's not accurate. It should be said that you agree with your daughter's behavior. Otherwise, you wouldn't take your daughter here."

What Maddox thought was exposed, and there was inevitably unnatural expression on his face.

However, at this moment, he was unable to admit all of these.

He had to settle this. Otherwise the Simmons family would really be screwed.

Chapter 705 Can you let us go

No wonder Maddox was so nervous. How the Read family was destroyed? Although he didn't know the inside story, it was certain that Aimee did that.

Even if she was helped by the Hayden family behind this, with the current situation, as long as Aimee asked, Patrick will do anything for her.

It was too easy for her to destroy a family.

Maddox had devoted all his life to his family. If it was really ruined because of his little ambition, he really can't live.

So, no matter what, he couldn't let Aimee take her anger out on his family.

After quickly weighing the pros and cons in his mind, Maddox knelt down in front of Aimee.

He said, "Please, Mrs. Hayden, we're just a small family, and we really can't bear the trouble."

Aimee laughed. Her voice became a little cooler, and she said, "Trouble? Do you think I'm so free? Will I spend time joking with you?"

As soon as she said so, Maddox shuddered even more.

He pulled Alina over and dragged her to the ground, making her kneel in front of Aimee too.

Alina was almost going crazy with anger.

She struggled to get up, but was held down hard by Maddox.

Alina yelled at Maddox like crazy, "Dad! Are you crazy!? How could you do this to me! I'm your daughter. How can you make me kneel to this bitch!?"

Snap-

A loud slap sounded, and Alina's cheek quickly turned red and swollen.

Maddox scolded angrily, "I can't fucking wish you were strangled when you were born! Hurry up and apologize to Mrs. Hayden. If our family is ruined because of you, I will definitely not let you go!"

Alina looked at her father in disbelief. Her father who had always loved her since she was born actually slapped her in the face.

And it was because of that bitch Aimee Read.

Alina became even more angry and shouted loudly, "I won't apologize! Why should I apologize!? She should apologize to me! She stole my man! I love Mr. Hayden so much. Why should he be snatched away by her?"

As she spoke, Alina looked towards Patrick. With her tears streaming down, she said, "I love you so much. I must love you more than her. How can you not love me?!"

Patrick frowned in disgust, and really didn't want to pay attention to this crazy woman.

Aimee's eyes became even colder.

She looked at this woman who kept telling her love to her husband, and she was really in a bad mood. In the past, she only knew that she was not a generous woman, but because she was very aware of the relationship between herself and Patrick, even if any voice came to her ears, she would not react.

Patrick deliberately teased her once, saying that she wouldn't even be jealous, because she didn't love him as much as he did.

Now, after Aimee met such a crazy woman, although she didn't feel that she was jealous, she had to admit that she was very uncomfortable now.

She had absolutely no patience with this woman.

She was too lazy to say anything more, so she just turned her head and said to Patrick, "I'm tired, honey. I want to go back to the room to rest."

Patrick looked at Aimee, and his gaze was full of tenderness again.

However, just as they turned around, Alina suddenly shouted, "Bitch! I'll kill you!"

Just now, the knife was thrown in front of Alina. She noticed it out of the corner of her eye, picked it up, and rushed towards Aimee.

However, Alina was not able to get close to Aimee at all, but only felt a sharp pain from her wrist, followed by the sound of the knife falling to the ground again.

Patrick held Aimee in his arms, lifted his foot up, and kicked Alina's arm.

Patrick's face darkened.

He directly said to the servant, "Call the police."

Alina was now curled up on the ground in pain, and the room was full of her crying.

Maddox was still kneeling on the ground. After hearing Patrick's words, he collapsed on the ground, and his face was ashen.

Patrick clearly intended to put Alina in prison.

Maddox thought quickly.

If he can't keep his daughter, then, he can at least keep his company.

Maddox looked at Patrick and said pleadingly, "Mr. Hayden, all these things are my daughter's fault, and have nothing to do with my family. Can you let my family go?"

Chapter 706 Simply stupid

When Patrick heard this, he looked at Maddox coldly as if he had heard a big joke.

He said, "Without your permission, your daughter might not dare come here. It is too late to draw a line with your daughter now.”

When Maddox heard Patrick’s words, his face turned pale instantly.

Patrick’s words had been very clear.

He was bound to pursue this matter to the end.

It was over. His whole family was screwed up.

Soon, the police came.

Patrick said directly to the police, “Alina Simmons’s attempt to murder Mrs. Hayden. She makes my wife terrified. I believe that the law will severely punish her.”

After finishing speaking, Patrick carried up Aimee without saying another word, and went upstairs together.

Alina was brought into the police car by the police. She was still screaming and struggling, but she was only forced into the car.

Inside the house, Aimee leaned into Patrick’s arms and said, “I was planning to act like a bully, but I didn’t expect that you are more bullying than me.”

Patrick touched Aimee’s head helplessly and said, “You’re scaring me to death.”

He couldn’t imagine how crazy he would be if anything happened to Aimee.

Aimee burst out laughing when she heard that.

She looked at Patrick and said, “Patrick, has it been too long since I competed with you? Have you forgotten how good I am?”

When they fought, it was uncertain who would win.

Patrick heard this, but became even more helpless.

He held Aimee’s cheeks and said, “Honey, please remember, you are a pregnant woman now.”

Even when she was walking, he was worried that she would fall, but she still wanted to fight.

He was afraid this woman wanted to piss him off.

Aimee was even more overjoyed.

She was suddenly on a whim and teased Patrick.

Aimee said, “I really want to fight with you now. What should I do? Are you going to fight me or not?”

Patrick was speechless.

Although, sometimes Aimee indeed said something that made him have a headache on purpose, it was like today, which was rare to see.

How could Patrick not know that Aimee was deliberately messing with him now?

He lightly licked inside his cheek and said, “It’s okay to fight.”

Aimee immediately understood that the fight this guy was referring to was not the same as she was referring to.

Aimee was struck dumb.

She raised her hand, covered her mouth, and let out a big yawn.

Aimee said, “I’m going to sleep for a while. Ah, pregnant women are lethargic.”

With that said, Aimee had already stood up and walked towards the bed.

Patrick didn’t move, but just watched Aimee walk to the bed and take the cover over her.

Aimee lay on the bed for a while, feeling it very strange.

Logically speaking, Patrick should have rushed over at this time. Why was he so obedient today? She said she was going to sleep, and he really let her go to sleep?

Aimee really thought it was too weird.

She quietly pulled down the cover and glanced at Patrick, only to see that he was still sitting on the sofa, not moving at all.

Something was wrong. Something was really wrong.

Could it be that she had no charm?

Aimee became unhappy in an instant, tore off the cover completely, and looked at Patrick unhappily.

Patrick laughed at her angry look.

He stood up, walked over, and stood by the bed.

With his condescending position, Aimee inexplicably felt lustful.

But she immediately became timid.

However, Patrick had already raised his hand and started to unbutton his shirt.

Well, it proved that she was still very attractive.

Aimee smiled at Patrick and said, "I'm really sleepy. I'm gonna fall asleep."

After speaking, Aimee closed her eyes, looking like a good baby.

However, her eyeballs, which were still rolling, had already betrayed her.

Patrick couldn't help but laugh.

He leaned down, kissed Aimee's eyelid, and said, "I'm sleepy too, so I'll sleep with you."

After speaking, Patrick had already lay down beside Aimee, carefully protecting her stomach and holding her in his arms.

Patrick was just teasing Aimee, not really doing anything to her.

After Aimee discovered this, she became presumptuous.

She pinched Patrick's fingers directly and played with them in the palm of her hand.

Aimee said, "What are you going to do with the Simmons family?"

"Since their ambitions are so big, let them pay the price." Patrick said.

Aimee had the same idea, but when she heard that Patrick think so, she still couldn't help laughing.

She said, "The two of us, in this way, really look like bullies."

Patrick said, "They covet things that don't belong to them, so certainly they have to pay the price."

Aimee looked at Patrick, and her eyes fell on his face, lingering back and forth.

After a while, Aimee said, "How many girls have you cheated with your face?"

Patrick was speechless, lowered his head, and took a hard bite on Aimee's mouth.

Her mouth was obviously so cute and sweet, but the words that came from it were so irritating.

Aimee was in pain, looked at Patrick with dissatisfaction, and said, "You're going too far. I didn't say anything wrong."

"What girls? Don't wrong me." Patrick said.

From beginning to end, he had only Aimee.

Aimee said, "Just because you can't see, it doesn't mean they don't exist."

As long as they were walking on the road, Patrick was so eye-catching, and it was no exaggeration that all the girls would turn their heads to look at him.

Patrick himself never paid attention to these things, so he didn't know how attractive he was to girls.

Patrick almost laughed at Aimee.

He squeezed Aimee's face gently and said, "There is no essential difference between the two of us, so don't complain."

Aimee was not far behind in the matter of attracting attention.

So, if they got jealous over this, they really didn't know who was more jealous than the other.

Aimee laughed outright when she heard this.

Wasn't it a little too much for this man to settle this with her?

The two chatted and really fell asleep.

Maddox and Alina of the Simmons family came to make a big fuss, but they didn't affect Aimee and Patrick. Instead, they sent themselves to the police station, which was extremely stupid.

Chapter 707 I'm going to feel bad

The next day.

Aimee was going for a maternity checkup.

Right at the Innisrial General Hospital.

What Aimee meant was that she just went to work and had a prenatal check-up, which was very convenient.

Moreover, she was a doctor herself, so she was very clear about her own physical condition, and the prenatal examination was just to have an accurate data, so that she can feel more at ease.

However, Patrick insisted on going with Aimee and said he would be upset if Aimee didn't let him go with her.

Aimee couldn't bear Patrick's serious acting like a baby.

What can she do? She can only let Patrick follow her to the hospital.

On the way to the hospital, Aimee looked at Patrick from time to time.

Then, she finally couldn't hold back and said, "Patrick, you are so childish."

She had never seen a more childish person than him.

Patrick heard the words but said, "You all lied to me before, and everyone lied to me. In order to prevent this kind of thing from happening, I must follow you all the time."

Well, after Patrick brought this up, Aimee had nothing to say.

Although that prank was not brought up by her, the victim was indeed Patrick.

Even though, with his ingenuity, he had already discovered the secret and even dealt with those guys severely, Aimee still felt that, as Patrick's wife, she was not on the same side as Patrick, and it was really her fault for this.

Aimee looked like she had done something wrong and stopped talking, so Patrick said, "What's wrong? Are you guilty? Do you think you should make it up to me?"

Although Aimee felt that there was nothing wrong with what Patrick said, she still said, "But, I'm still a pregnant woman. Is it really okay for you to bully a pregnant woman like this?"

Patrick laughed out loud.

He took Aimee's hand, put it on his lips and kissed it, saying, "At this moment, you remember that you are a pregnant woman."

No matter how he told her that she was a pregnant woman in the past, she didn't care at all.

Aimee immediately showed weakness to Patrick and said, "I know I was wrong. Don't be angry, okay?"

Patrick took Aimee's fingertips, put them to his lips and took a bite.

He said, "You just slander me. When have I ever been angry with you?"

Aimee tilted her head and thought about it, but also laughed.

This was really not the case.

However, she relied on him to pamper herself, so she became so confident no matter what she said.

They quickly arrived at the hospital.

Aimee went in directly for a prenatal checkup.

As she herself judged, the babies were very healthy, and all indicators were perfect.

She herself did not have any abnormalities, such as high blood pressure and high blood sugar, nothing at all.

This made Aimee quite happy.

She had eaten too many sweets before, so to speak, there was no limit to her presumptuousness.

Now, having confirmed that her body was so healthy, Aimee became even more presumptuous.

She said directly to Patrick, "Go back. I'm going to work."

Patrick was at a loss for words.

In fact, Aimee didn't have to work in the hospital now.

In the beginning, Patrick was too nervous about the pregnancy, so he asked the hospital to give Aimee a holiday.

Aimee protested a bit at first, but finally compromised.

It was just that, now, she hadn't come to work in the hospital for a long time, and she missed the atmosphere of going to work a little bit.

However, Patrick said, "Actually, the leave I asked for you is to one month after childbirth."

She looked at Patrick speechlessly and said, "Don't just rely on yourself as Mr. Hayden to do whatever you want."

Patrick said, "What to do? I have already done whatever I want."

Now, in the hospital, she was simply a walking national treasure.

Everyone who saw her was telling her to take a good rest, pay more attention to rest, and not to get tired.

It was not that Aimee had never worked in a hospital before, but as a result, she couldn't even get in touch with patients, which really gave her a headache.

Patrick said, "Let me take you somewhere first, okay?"

What else can Aimee do? There was no way not to agree.

The two came out of the Innisrial General Hospital. Patrick drove the car and said, "Aimee, I just don't want you to work too hard. If you want to work, you don't have to listen to my arrangement."

Hearing this, Aimee turned her head to look at Patrick and said, "Are you worried that I will be angry?"

"I don't want you to think I'm manipulating you," Patrick said.

Aimee shook her head, smiled, and said, "No, I know you didn't mean that. You also want me to relax. In my own subconscious, I must also hope that I can be lazy, and don't think about so many things.

Otherwise, from the very beginning, I wouldn't have listened to you."

She was not the kind of pregnant woman who needed to prevent miscarriages and cannot work at all. There was no problem in her normal life and work.

The reason why she listened to Patrick's arrangement was she subconsciously wanted to do so.

Otherwise, with her temperament, even Patrick couldn't help her decide these things.

Patrick said, "It's best if you think so."

The car drove southward.

Aimee looked suspiciously out of the window and asked, "Where are we going?"

Patrick said, "You'll know when we get there."

Aimee became even more curious, and asked suspiciously, "Did you do something strange?"

Patrick gave a low laugh and said, "Even if it's something, I wouldn't be so hasty. Today, I brought you out because I didn't want you to stay in the hospital."

Aimee pursed her mouth when she heard the words, and after she thought about it, this was really the case.

Fortunately, she still had some expectations just now, but in the end, it was nothing.

Patrick noticed Aimee's unhappiness and smiled helplessly.

Why was she a little emotional?

He stretched out his hand, rubbed Aimee's head, and said, "We will be there soon. Don't be so lost. I'm going to feel bad."

Chapter 708 Only then does he take her out of the car

The car quickly pulled over in front of a building.

The moment Aimee looked over, she was completely stunned.

Patrick said, "I've said before that I will give you a hospital. The various procedures are very complicated and time-consuming, so I haven't told you about it. However, it is almost completed now."

Aimee had actually forgotten this.

Because Patrick didn't mention it later, Aimee didn't ask.

She was indeed very unhappy at the Innisrial General Hospital before, but after so long, and she was pregnant, she was actually separated from the hospital.

Now, this brand new hospital that Patrick was going to give her just appeared in front of her.

Aimee had to say she was very pleasantly surprised.

Patrick said, "I didn't want to bring you here so soon. If I show you in advance, there will be no surprise at that time. Moreover, there is a lot of dust and noise here. I don't want it to affect your body."

Hearing this, Aimee looked at Patrick with a smile, and immediately asked, "Patrick, you are making me happy now, aren't you?"

Patrick said, "Yes."

In order to make Aimee happy, he did not hesitate to expose this gift in advance.

Aimee laughed and said, "Then, Patrick, you have lost cause I've seen this in advance. Then, there will really be no surprise."

Patrick said, "So, I don't intend to let you get out of the car. Just take a look here."

Aimee didn't know there was such a way and felt speechless.

But she didn't believe she couldn't see what it was like inside the new hospital.

Aimee's expression collapsed. With a hint of displeasure, she said deliberately, "Patrick, I'm very unhappy now. I can only be happy when I see the inside."

Patrick almost laughed at Aimee's words.

Where did this woman learn these to act shamelessly?

But it was enough to deal with him.

Patrick said, "The environment inside is really bad now. Listen to me. Let's go in later, okay?"

Aimee pursed her lips deliberately and said, "But, aren't you trying to make me happy? I'm very unhappy right now."

Although she said so, the amusement in Aimee's tone could no longer be hidden.

Patrick reached out, pinched Aimee's cheek gently, and said, "From now on, don't learn from Casey."

Patrick didn't know April, Tilly, Matilda, Minnie, and even Mikayla well, let alone what they were like when they were in love, but he knew Casey too well.

Therefore, Patrick had decided that it must be Casey who can make Aimee use these tricks.

It just gave him a headache

Aimee burst into laughter when she heard the words and said for Casey, "Does Casey know what you say about her? You are her brother, but you actually despise her so much."

Patrick said, "Sometimes, I really admire Kelvin. How he can stand Casey?"

Aimee said, "This is called a perfect match."

Patrick laughed lowly and said, "Fortune favours fools."

It was really hard for him to imagine, if Casey had a terrible choice of husband, how much headache the three brothers would have every day.

To their sister, they were reluctant to scold her, and even more reluctant to let her be sad.

Then, the only thing that can be done was to have a good talk with that man.

If they met someone who was not bad, then maybe they can use a peaceful way to get rid of the person who was not suitable for Casey.

If they encountered a rogue, they will use some means without mercy.

Although these didn't happen, when Casey was growing up, the three of them really thought about it seriously.

They even thought that stupid Casey might really get angry with them. Then, how could they coax their sister well?

Fortunately, Casey wasn't that smart and wasn't that stupid either.

She was a single-minded person, before meeting the man she liked, she completely turned a blind eye to the man who pursued her.

Still, Patrick had to admit that Casey had a nice choice.

Although he still had a lot of dislikes with this guy Kelvin, he had to admit Kelvin was not bad.

It would be even better if he wasn't a guy who made him misunderstand that he had a special relationship with Aimee.

Patrick said, "There is fortune for a simple person. She didn't take a roundabout course, so we are all very pleased."

As Casey's older brother, Patrick's biggest worry was that she was going the wrong way.

Although people from the Hayden family can have more opportunities for trial and error, which meant they can be more wanton, as far as Casey's character was concerned, any wrong step will probably lead to a catastrophe.

He felt terrified just by thinking about it.

Aimee took Patrick's hand and said, "That's fine now, isn't it?"

Patrick said, "Yes, very good."

Aimee said with a smile, "So, since it's so good, would you like to take me in to see what the hospital that belongs to me looks like?"

Patrick was struck dumb.

He had no choice and was very helpless.

He thought that he could fool Aimee.

In the end, it was just that he was thinking too much.

Patrick said, "Do you have to see it today?"

Aimee said, "I'm already here. Why not?"

If he didn't allow her to have a look, she will definitely be extremely curious to death.

Patrick laughed, and finally, he compromised.

There was no way because she was his dearest wife. Besides spoiling her, was there any other better way?

Patrick said, "Wait for me here. I will be back soon."

After speaking, Patrick opened the door and got out of the car.

Aimee looked at Patrick's back, saw him go to a pharmacy, and soon he came out.

Patrick bought some masks and put one on for Aimee.
There were also medical gloves, and he put one on Aimee's hands.
Although she was a doctor, she was not so meticulous.
With Patrick's behavior now, she was almost put into a protective suit.
Finally, Patrick was satisfied with "packing up" Aimee, and then took her out of the car.

Chapter 709 Just So Happy

Aimee was led into the hospital by Patrick.
From the gate, it was actually no different from an ordinary hospital. As soon as they entered, the parking lot was on the left, and the emergency building was directly opposite.
However, after passing through the emergency building, it looked different.
When Aimee saw it at first glance, she was really surprised.
When she heard Patrick mentioned that he would give her a hospital, she had actually imagined that the hospital that Patrick gave her must not be an ordinary one.
However, after actually entering here, Aimee just felt that it was really shocking.
Patrick had completely built this place into a noble private hospital.
No matter from the exterior decoration, to the interior decoration, from the layout of the entire hospital, there was a sense of majesty that cannot be ignored.
Although the hospital was still empty now, and was no equipment in every department and consulting room, Aimee seemed to have seen what kind of equipment Patrick will put in it.
In her head, she had already completely sketched out the future grand plan of this hospital, and what it would look like.
Aimee had to admit that she was really shocked.
After walking around the hospital with Patrick, Aimee couldn't help but said to Patrick, "Thank you, darling."
Aimee can imagine how much effort Patrick had put into such a hospital, whether it started from the documents approved by the authorities, to the design of the sketch of the hospital, and now it was about to be completed.
And all of this was for her.
Aimee reached out, hugged Patrick's waist, and pressed her cheek against his waist. She said, "I really like this place. I really like it."
It was not about money, but about the hard work Patrick had put in. All of these sacrifices for her made Aimee unable not to be moved.
She was really moved, and her eyes turned red.
Patrick put his arms around Aimee's waist and said, "I just hope that you are happy, which is more important than anything else."
"I'm really happy, very happy," Aimee said.
Patrick showed Aimee around again. Now that Aimee was here, he had to let Aimee take a look and see if there was anything else that needed to be added.
Moreover, since it was given to Aimee, it must be done according to her preferences.
Aimee had no requirements for the exterior decoration or the layout of the entire hospital.
What she cared most about was certainly the various instruments placed in this hospital.
Aimee knew that Patrick must have already made arrangements.
She couldn't wait to see them.

Aimee stared at Patrick with bright eyes and said, "Where did you put them? Do you mind taking me to see them in advance?"

Patrick laughed, raised his hand and rubbed Aimee's hair, saying, "Do you want to go see them today? I want to save it when I want to make you happy next time."

Aimee tilted her head and thought for a moment, then said, "I think, if I see them now, I will always be happy, and there is no need to coax me anymore."

Patrick was so amused by her. He didn't need to ask, but had known what she said was learned from Casey again.

What can Patrick do? Can he not spoil his dearest wife?

So, Patrick said, "Let's go. Everything is up to you."

Aimee nodded, and immediately strode happily towards Patrick's car.

With her brisk walk, she didn't look like a pregnant woman who was about to give birth in less than four months.

Patrick had no choice but to catch up quickly to protect Aimee.

However, as if Aimee didn't want to be protected by Patrick, her speed became faster and faster.

Patrick was dumbfounded. Was this woman afraid that if she walked too slowly, he would regret it?

Back in the car, Aimee took off the mask and so on.

In such a hot day, in a place without air conditioning, it was really going to suffocate her to death with these stuffs.

Patrick said, "You've worked hard, baby."

Aimee was amused by his words, leaned up to Patrick, and said, "I would like to have more of such hard work."

Wasn't it just wearing a mask? She had always been wearing a mask before.

However, in the hospital where she worked, the air conditioner was fully turned on, so it won't be so stuffy.

In addition, she was used to wearing a mask long ago, so she didn't feel much.

This was the first time she felt like this today.

Patrick started the car and drove towards another location.

It was not far from the hospital. It was a warehouse.

Patrick hired a lot of security guards here.

Ultimately, these instruments were top-notch in the world.

It took him a lot of trouble to get them here.

Moreover, there were only one or two instruments in the whole world. It can be said that he used a lot of means to snatch them from other people's hands.

For this reason, in order to prevent some people from thinking that these instruments will be destroyed if they didn't get them, Patrick hired a group of elite securities to guard here.

When the warehouse was opened and Aimee saw the equipment inside, her eyes lit up.

Patrick was almost not pissed off by Aimee.

When she saw the equipment, her eyes were brighter than when she looked at him.

Patrick simply felt that he was really crazy, and he was probably abnormal to be jealous of a bunch of instruments.

However, Aimee looked at them like they were rare treasures, which really made Patrick dumbfounded.

Aimee stroked them gently.

There were some that she hadn't gotten yet.

She used to think about how happy she would be to have such an instrument.

Now, such a happy thing was right in front of her.

After Aimee looked over one by one, finally, unable to bear the excitement, she rushed towards Patrick.

She hung her hands on Patrick's neck, and her voice was sweet and soft.

"Hubby, you are awesome." Aimee said excitedly.

Patrick protected Aimee's belly while pulling her into his arms.

He pressed his forehead against Aimee's and said helplessly, "Are you that so happy?"

Chapter 710 Will He Beat You Up?

Aimee nodded vigorously and said, "I'm very happy, very happy, quite literally happy."

She suddenly thought that when she first entered Hayden's Mansion, it was because she was interested in the instruments in Patrick's room. However, she was working at the Innisrial General Hospital at the time, and it was really inconvenient to use those instruments in her daily work.

So, Camdyn gave her such a chance, and she grabbed it without hesitation.

Even though, at that time, Patrick's attitude towards her was really very bad.

However, Aimee didn't care one bit.

She certainly didn't expect that she would fall in love with Patrick so much now.

This feeling was still very strange.

However, Aimee was rather happy.

Now, this hospital will soon belong to her, a hospital that Patrick gave her as a gift. She will soon have the world's most top-notch instruments, and she will use them in her daily work every day.

Just thinking about it made Aimee very delighted.

But, for Aimee, compared with this incident, what made her happier was that these were all gifts from Patrick.

Aimee's eyes were bright, and when she looked at Patrick, her eyes were full of love.

Patrick said, "Honey, I'm so happy to make you so happy."

If he had known earlier that letting Aimee see this would have made her happy like this, Patrick wouldn't surprise her but send all of them directly to her.

Aimee said, "Now, I can't wait to start working."

Patrick was struck dumb.

He knew that after letting her see these things, she would not be able to hold back her impulse.

Patrick said, "But they can't be used yet."

The hospital had not yet completely been built, and it was a long process before it was officially operated.

Aimee still needed to wait.

Aimee sighed softly and said, "It's okay. It seems this is the only way to go."

She could wait until she had completely given birth.

Patrick was very surprised that Aimee would be so cooperative.

She compromised herself.

Squeezing Aimee's face softly, Patrick said, "Honey, you're so good."

Aimee rubbed Patrick's palm and said, "You make me so happy, so of course I have to make you happy too."

Otherwise, how incompetent she was as a wife.

Patrick lowered his head, kissed Aimee's lips, and said, "I'm very happy."

Aimee smiled even brighter when she heard Patrick say that.
It was nice that they were both happy because of each other.
This was a very important thing and something Aimee cared about very much.
Aimee burrowed into Patrick's arms again, and said, "Darling, thank you so much."
The two of them returned to Hayden's Mansion in the evening.
Camdyn watched the two people come in holding hands. Seeing that there was something good going on, he asked, "You two are in a good mood. Can you tell me what it is?"
Aimee walked over, sat down beside Camdyn, took out a report, and handed it to him, saying, "Grandpa, the babies are all healthy."
Camdyn took the report and read it. Now, he could clearly see that there were two babies.
He was very happy and said repeatedly, "I'm going to be a great-grandpa soon. I don't know these two little guys are naughty or not. If they bully me, I won't be soft-hearted. I'm going to beat them both up, and then, you two, don't lose your temper with me."
Patrick was speechless when he heard Camdyn say that.
The so-called skipped generation affection had already been fulfilled in their four siblings.
Now, after two generations, Camdyn probably loved his great-grandchildren even more.
It was afraid this old man wanted to pamper those two little guys.
If Patrick and Aimee said something fierce casually, they will be severely reprimanded by Camdyn.
Just as Casey came down from the stairs, she heard Camdyn's words.
She immediately laughed out loud and said, "Grandpa, don't lie to them. Are you willing to beat them up? I think it's not bad if they don't beat you up."
When Camdyn heard Casey's words, he glared at her angrily.
What nonsense was she talking about?
He had to have a bit of majesty as a great-grandfather. Otherwise, wouldn't he lose his face?
Aimee was also dumbfounded.
She said, "Grandpa, I think Walter, Miles and Casey are going to have their babies soon. If you really want to beat them all up, it's a lot of physical work."
When Camdyn heard this, he became even more excited.
He called Riley directly and said, "Riley, stew a bone soup for me tonight. I want to nourish my body well, eat a little more, and store up my energy, so I can't let these little brats make things difficult to me."
Riley looked dazed, completely unaware of who the brats Camdyn was talking about.
However, he understood that Camdyn wanted to be tonic.
That was no problem for him.
Riley immediately agreed and said, "Mr. Hayden, I'll get it ready."
Aimee stood up and said, "Riley, I'll help you."
Patrick was speechless.
Forget it. Aimee was so happy today, so he just let her do whatever she wanted.
Casey picked up an apple and gnawed it. Seeing this, she asked suspiciously, "Patrick, you're weird. Don't you care about Aimee? That's the kitchen."
As soon as Aimee entered the kitchen, Patrick was nervous.
What happened today? He didn't stop her.
Patrick heard this, looked up at Casey, and said, "I know."
"Then how did you let Aimee in?" Casey asked curiously like a baby.

Patrick was dumbstricken.

Was his sister trying to anger him on purpose?

Yes?

It must be, right?

Patrick said, "Just eat the apple. It can't prevent you from speaking."

Casey stuck out her tongue and continued to eat the apple.

Patrick was worried when Aimee was in the kitchen, so he still didn't sit still, but got up and walked towards the kitchen.

Behind him, there was Casey's unceremonious laughter, "Hahahaha... hahahaha..."

So, why was she home today?

Where was her husband?

Why didn't he take her back?

Camdyn said, "If you piss him off, he will beat you up."
