Chapter 982 Anything is Appropriate

Beata announced on her social feed that she was in a relationship, and it had caused quite a stir.

Not to mention those who already had a crush on Beata, even the gambling game that Eden did before had been completely messed up.

Eden said, "Damn it, can it work? The little sister is angry because we didn't play with her? She found such a boyfriend on purpose?"

River said, "Can't you use your brain normally?"

Eden said, "How am I abnormal? This is the most normal way of thinking, okay? You have such a big heart. How old is your sister and she's already dating, and you're not even keeping an eye on her?"

River said, "Just because she's young doesn't mean she's incapable of loving someone. Does she still suppress her feelings for me even though she likes someone?"

Eden was speechless. He didn't know if it was because of the progress of the times and the liberation of thoughts, or because he was getting old and couldn't keep up with the pace of young people. How come all parents nowadays were so easy to talk to?

He just didn't believe that if Beata really had a child, River could still be so generous.

However, River didn't care and no one else can either.

After much discussion among everyone, it was ultimately decided to add Beata.

Maybe she was young now, but in two or three years, she might actually have a baby earlier than others.

When Beata saw that the gambling game had been improved, she had already finished eating birthday cake with Yael. However, she didn't want to go home and begged Yael to watch a movie with her.

When Yael was preparing the movie, Beata took out her phone and looked at it for a while.

This was ridiculous and speechless.

Although she was very active in dating, when it came to getting married and having children, she was not as enthusiastic.

She believed that Yael wouldn't be so inhuman.

Beata handed her phone to Yael and complained, "Do I really look like someone who is always causing trouble?"

Although she was young, she also knew what she can and cannot do.

Was it a bit too much to think about having a baby right now?

Yael said, "They may not trust me."

Upon hearing this, Beata stared at Yael for a while and then burst out laughing.

She put her phone aside and said, "Yeah, just because I'm not in a hurry doesn't mean you're not in a hurry."

After all, Yael was twelve years older than her, so she cannot just think from her own perspective.

Beata looked at Yael and said, "Yael, do you really like children?"

"Just okay." Yael said.

He himself had not experienced a good childhood, nor did he think that he can take good care of a child, and he may feel very helpless when encountering a child.

But if it was a child between him and Beata...

Yael had not thought about this question before, but when Beata asked it, he took a moment to consider it.

Something strange slipped through his heart, but Yael still couldn't tell whether his strangeness came from the child who would be his and Beata's, or from the fact that he just wanted to get a kind of possessiveness from Beata.

Yael said, "I'm not in a hurry. When the time is right, these things will happen naturally. There's no need to think about them now."

Beata smiled and said, "That's true. There's no way you can consider having a child right now. I can't give birth for you yet."

Yael chuckled and picked up Beata, placing her on his lap.

He said, "Do you think I am too inhuman?"

Beata shook her head and said, "I like you."

Therefore, anything was appropriate.

He could do whatever he wanted to do.

Yael put his lips on Beata's ear and said, "Beata, don't seduce me until you're twenty. I'm really not a good person."
