

Heaven 201

Chapter 201

After Tatyana revealed her true self, her elegant black dress began transforming into a royal red dress.

First, Tatyana's head was adorned by a black crown with a green jewel in the middle. The crown was more like a tiara, splitting in the middle and going up like two horns, ending in three pointy edges at the base, middle, and the top of the two 'horns.'

It oozed black and green haze, sending chills to anyone looking at it, and amplified the aura around her, making all beings under Transcendence Realm want to kneel and surrender to her.

Her long black hair hung loose, moving with the air elegantly. Red light poured through the corner of her eyes, leaving a red trail and her gaze seemed to be looking down at the world.

She had a black collar that hugged her neck with another green gem encrusted in the middle of it together with other decorations.

Her torso was barely covered. The red dress only covered her perfect breasts and was adorned with armor-like dark decorations around it, similar to her tiara, with pointy but elegant edges. The red itself seemed to be made of moving thick red light, giving it a mysterious beauty.

It was sleeveless and had two black and wide red strings that stuck to her slim, naked, perfect waist and connected the top with her skirt.

Her waist was surrounded by the same armor-like parts that were on her chest area, and these armor-like decorations partially belted her belly, making an alluring image. The waist and chest area were also decorated with green gems that complimented her collar and tiara crown.

The skirt was double-layered. The outer part was long and would even slightly trail if she walked on the ground. It was somewhat stiff because it was armored, yet it moved around with her steps and was completely open in the front. Below the big armored skirt, there was a long silk skirt that reached her ankles with a darker red color.

On her hand, a beautiful but intimidating sword appeared. The sword was 1.1 meters long and somewhat wide, with the center of the sword being thicker. It had an interlocking circular pattern around the handle with three green gems encrusted on it.

After this dress covered her body, Tatyana's aura multiplied seemingly endlessly, covering thousands and thousands of kilometers around her. By the time the change was done, she had walked until she reached the same altitude as the Demon Emperor and Empress.

Tatyana looked at the Demon Empress and said, her voice sounded authoritative, giving all the people that listened to it the sensation of being pressed down. "This eminence will give you one last chance. If you tell me what you did to that portal, I will graciously not make you suffer for eternity and will comfort myself by just killing all of you."

The Demon Empress, mostly unfazed by her aura, laughed out loud and flew toward Tatyana slowly. "Hahaha, So daring of you, Tatyana. Do you think you are a god? You are just a level two Law-creator realm cultivator, or as the people call it, a level two demigoddess. Do you really think you have the qualifications to speak to me like that? I alone am enough to make you run away, defeated. Not to mention my husband, who is even stronger than me!”

The ten-meter tall Demon Emperor appeared beside the three-meter tall demon Empress and looked at Tatyana. He asked in his rumbling and deep voice, “I will also give you one last chance. Surrender, and become a breeder for my son with your daughter. Then, we will let you and your daughter live. What do you say?”

Tatyana looked at him as if looking at a walking corpse and said, her voice dripping with coldness and her red eyes gaining a murderous glow. “I’ve never had a Demon Sovereign Summon, but it seems I will get two soon.”

Then she waved her hand horizontally and commanded, “Enough hiding our main organization, move behind me, and let everyone know the truth.”

With Tatyana’s command, the Ice Phoenix, Nature Dragons, Lightning Qilins, Island Turtles, and Winged Tigers, together with the other beast clans, flashed behind Tatyana, positioning the Death Empress before an army of continent-destroying beasts.

Moreover, the position they were placed in, with Tatyana at the front, let the spectators clearly see that all the beasts treated Tatyana as their leader!

This was the real reason the Ice Phoenixes wanted to reconcile with the Academy after their unintentional blunder and also were afraid of making Tatyana their enemy. It was because Tatyana’s true organization was actually the core of the alliance between beasts!

In short, all intelligent beasts in the continent were under Tatyana’s command!

The humans looked at Tatyana, confounded, “Why are those beasts behind you, Tatyana!”

Tatyana looked at that person with indifference and answered, her tone even as if speaking about the weather. “Because they work for me. All beasts in this continent and the surroundings are my subordinates. Beasts are much more trustful than humans; why would I focus my main alliance with humans instead of them.”

One human screamed, “You betrayed humanity!”

Tatyana smiled disdainfully, “You are so old yet so stupid. Should I only be allied with one side or the other?”

As soon as she finished speaking, a third of the humans flashed behind her, adding to her army of beasts, Human Transcendence Realm cultivators. The humans that didn’t move were all from the righteous side, and the ones that moved were the ‘Neutral’ group.

However, now that Tatyana had made a clear stance, all of them moved with her. This let all creatures present know that the ‘neutral’ faction of the continent wasn’t so ‘neutral’ and instead was governed by Tatyana’s forces.

The neutral party has been able to remain neutral because neither the righteous nor demonic side managed to make it submit. Therefore, the neutral party always acted as the judge between the righteous and demonic sides.

So, what did it mean that this party wasn't a council but something governed by a single woman? This meant that this woman had been the judge of the continent for the time the neutral party existed!

One human cultivator smiled bitterly. "Played, the whole continent has been played by a single person. Like puppets dancing on her all-reaching hand."

After counting beasts and humans, there were a total of five hundred Transcendence Realm cultivators behind Tatyana. Half being beasts, and another half being humans.

The Demon Empress and Emperor looked at this with indifferent faces. They've come to kill all of them, so they were prepared to fight all the people present at the same time, not to mention the separated group that was behind Tatyana.

One of the seniors suddenly exclaimed with a trembling voice, "W-Wait, you are the one behind that power that has grown into a behemoth during these last millennia!"

"You mean that power that has become untouchable these last 20 years? It suddenly became much stronger than before."

The Demons were at the side without doing anything, waiting for someone to have a slip of tongue and reveal information they didn't know.

Tatyana looked at them, fully knowing what they were waiting for, but she didn't have any haste to enter battle. Moreover, she had been creating a killing formation silently all this time. She wouldn't fight against these two powerful opponents without previous preparations.

Tatyana continued speaking and making time. "It seems that some of you aren't that stupid."

Tatyana looked at the Demon Empress and smiled mockingly, "The reason for this last spike in power was, of course, the one you, demons, have been targeting."

The Demon Empress amusedly said, "Your daughter? It is true that we have tried killing her quite a lot of times. However, your defenses around her are tight; I think we would have it easier invading the Heavenly Sect than killing your daughter."

Tatyana smiled coldly, "Everyone that knows about her can easily guess that she is my weakness. However, now that she is inside the secret realm, I can go all out without worrying."

The Demon Empress took out her demonic sword and said, "I haven't had a fight in a while. How about we exchange some pointers?"

Tatyana ordered, making her voice echo around the enormous valley. "Tian Long, keep the demon Emperor at bay."

With this order, a roar that shook the heavens spread around the world.

*RRROOAAAAR!!!***

Everyone looked at the sky after hearing that Heaven Shaking roar. They saw that accompanying this roar, Tian Long's Titanic body descended from the sky toward the West demon army. His speed was so fast that before anyone moved, Tian Long had already blasted past the clouds, blowing all of them away with his enormous body and momentum.

Right now, although he was in his “small” 20km long body, his figure still bloated the sky. Tian Long opened his maw as he fell and released a continent-sinking attack, moving his head to cover more distance. “[Dragon King’s Abyssal Breath].”

From his maw, an enormous black ray shot with an aura that made Transcendence Realm cultivators feel suffocated. When the energy beam left his maw, it expanded outwards, creating a beam so wide that it appeared like a black pillar that connected the Heavens and the Earth. Wider than even Tian Long himself. This pillar moved horizontally across the west demon army in a single second.

Then...

*BBBOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!!!!!!*

The earth shrieked with pain, and the floor exploded with a cataclysmic explosion. The shockwave of the attack covered thousands of kilometers destroying everything in that area and leaving a true Abyss to look down upon with a depth that couldn’t be measured.

Just like that, with a single strike, Tian Long’s dragon breath attack annihilated the whole west demon army. Twenty of the 100 Demon Monarchs in the west area had died in that strike, and another thirty had become extremely badly damaged.

Tian Long stopped descending and moved his red glowing maw toward the north army, charging his next attack.

Of course, the Demon Emperor wouldn’t let it do as it liked. He first wanted to test the strength of the attack, but it seemed that they had concurred to heavy losses before they knew it.

The Ten-meter-tall Demon Emperor’s voice resonated around, “Don’t you dare make another attack! [Demon Emperor presence: Heaven Burning Armament]!”

A burst of black infernal flames surrounded his figure in a titanic fire tornado that dwarfed Tian Long. The tornado changed the surroundings, melting the landscape around.

Tian Long closed his maw and looked at the fire tornado with a serious gaze; he could feel danger from it. ‘Tatyana, I don’t think I can win this fight; stalling is all I can do.’

Tatyana transmitted, ‘Don’t worry, if you can stop him for one day, I’m confident in winning.’ Tian Long nodded.

Although a day may seem a lot, battles of their level could take even months if the strengths were on par. The amount of energy, resources, and treasures that cultivators in their realm had obtained was almost unending. It was more difficult to kill one cultivator at that level than to defeat ten.

After the tornado stopped, the Demon Emperor had grown from 10 meters to 10km in height, with a similarly big wingspan, approaching Tian Long’s size. He held an enormous 7 km sword with flames all around it. His whole figure seemed like the condensation of demonic things itself, making even the souls of the people around tremble with fear.

Then, the Demon Emperor flapped his four flaming wings once and shot to the sky to face off against the Abyssal Dragon.

Tian Long focused his aura on one of his claws, making the space tremble around it. Then he also flapped his sky-shrouding wings, and his body shot toward the Demon Emperor fearlessly, not minding that the Demon Emperor was two levels above himself.

The two giant creatures approached and finally collided.

Shortly after, the sky dimmed as Tian Long's claw and that sword clashed, followed by an enormous explosion that blew everything in thousands of kilometers around them!

Chapter 202

Tatyana and the Demon Empress protected the rest from the shockwave, and the old man protected the portal, creating a sphere around it. Tatyana looked at him and really wanted to ask why he didn't stop the Demon Empress from tampering with the portal! However, now it was not the time.

Tatyana observed the situation after Tian Long and the Demon Emperor clashed. She saw that none of the two moved after the collision; their strength was on par!

Right after the colossal clash, Tian Long and the Demon Emperor retreated their weapon and claw and looked at each other for a second. Then, they began attacking each other at tremendous speed, leaving countless afterimages of the sword, claw, tail, and wing strikes that blotted the sky, crashing with each other.

Dragon and Demon repeatedly collided, creating an apocalyptic scene. As they exchanged blows, they began flying upward, leaving the area to the other people. The worst thing was that both of them didn't seem to be trying, and even the weaker cultivators could see that they were still testing the waters as they ascended out of their sight and into space.

Tatyana and the Demon Empress looked at their fight for a moment, calculating how much their side would need to win. However, after seeing that they were equally matched in strength, Tatyana and the Demon Empress knew that the fight was going to go on for a long time.

Therefore, they stopped caring about it. Then, they both looked at each other, and their fighting wills spirits clashed. Even when Tatyana's was smaller because of her cultivation realm, the strength wasn't lower by any means. The Demon Empress internally frowned when she saw that she couldn't intimidate Tatyana.

Then, it was time for their auras to clash. Tatyana and the Demon Empress rose high up into the sky to avoid heavy casualties within their ranks. After reaching an altitude of 10 000 km, they released their auras at full strength.

Space bloated around them as their auras exploded outward, shaking the space fabric with an imposing explosion of energy and world laws.

*BOOM!***

Tatyana's greenish-black aura clashed against the Demon Empress's, constantly making the space crack and repair in the meeting point. Tatyana felt pressure from the Demon Empress, and her face became solemn. She knew this fight wouldn't be easy. 'I will have to show one of my trump cards to keep her at bay...'

Before the Demon Empress made another move, Tatyana's eyes glowed crimson as her black and green aura took the form of a ten-kilometer-tall black and green skeletal humanoid. A red aura burst forth from Tatyana, covering this gigantic skeletal humanoid with a red hooded robe.

This red aura transformed and solidified to become an equally big red scythe. The scythe was adorned with different skulls across the handle and had an edge so sharp that even the sunlight that reflected on it seemed damaging.

Now, only its glowing red eyes that radiated light outside the hood could be seen. The aura it spread was terrifying to everyone present; it was like the manifestation of the concept of Death itself had descended on the mortal world.

The demon Empress looked at it with seriousness, "[True Aura Manifestation]... As the rumors say, you truly are a monstrous genius. To be able to create your true self at your level. Your comprehension abilities are extraordinary."

The Demon Empress made a throwing motion as she compressed her aura and shot it toward Tatyana. Like a green wave that bloated the heavens, the Demon Empress's aura fell on Tatyana with the intention to consume and corrode everything in its way.

Tatyana looked at that wave indifferently and elegantly waved her hand in a vertical motion. The spectators saw her True Aura Manifestation cackle eerily as it swung its oversized scythe in a rising motion.

The True Aura Manifestation was extremely small compared with that green wave. However, when that grim reaper swung its giant scythe up, an enormous red crescent shot up. The crescent instantly grew so large that people couldn't see the end and beginning of it. Like an infinite red line, that red crescent cut the air, the aura, the space, and even the Heavens in half! The right and left sides of the cut seemed to be misplaced for a moment as The Demon Empress's aura dissipated, and the world mended itself quickly.

The Demon Empress tsked and flashed toward the distance. After that attack, she didn't have the confidence to fight Tatyana without injuring her own troops. While leaving, her voice echoed around, commanding the Demon Monarchs and other Demons around. "Charge and massacre all of them."

The Demon Monarchs Howled and roared, looking toward the beasts and humans gathered.

*RRAAAAAAHH!!!*

Tatyana followed after the Demon Empress with her True Aura Manifestation. While leaving, she also left a single word. Even if it was just one word, it carried an imperial tone that could not be defied. "Kill!"

All the beasts opened their mouths and let a heaven-shaking roar, answering the demons' battle cry.

*RROAAAAAAR!!!*

Then the more than 1500 Transcendent realm cultivators shot to the sky and began an all-out war. Space trembled, shook, expanded, and cracked as attacks were exchanged left and right in a cataclysmic battle that could only be seen once every thousand years.

After Tatyana and the Demon Empress arrived at their fighting location, they didn't exchange a single word before they instantly began exchanging sword strikes in the air.

The Demon Empress maintained Tatyana's True Aura Manifestation occupied with her own aura. Even if her aura was inferior to Tatyana's and also formless. It still was the aura of someone two levels above Tatyana, strong enough to keep the True Aura Manifestation at bay.

The Demon Empress's demonic sword was leaving countless afterimages and cracks in space as she sent attacks empowered by her corrosive law toward Tatyana.

Tatyana's sword blurred as attacks carrying the laws of Death shot toward the Demon Empress with impressive might.

*CLANG!* *CLANG!* *CLANG!***

The strength of both women made the clouds disperse, and the air explode. Even when they were high up into the air, all flora and fauna below them in thousands of kilometers were dying without a chance to resist. Even the space fabric suffered because of their strikes, leading to some black cracks appearing that were mended right after.

The Demon Empress managed to slip an attack toward Tatyana's waist. Tatyana saw it coming with her [Future Sight], but she didn't find any other option but to block it.

*BOOM!***

Tatyana felt some muscle tearing as her body flew across the sky like a shooting star, impacting through ten mountains. The Demon Empress was about to chase when those mountains exploded in debris because Tatyana was charging back to the battle through them as if they weren't there.

“[Abyssal Strikes].” Tatyana's sword blurred as countless black-green attacks filled the sky.

“[Heaven Corroding Barrage].” The Demon Empress answered with even more strikes, clashing with Tatyana's attack with superior might.

They continued attacking for some minutes, and Tatyana saw that she was getting overwhelmed little by little by the Demon Empress's skill. ‘Even if this is my most basic attack, her body strength is too high to compete like this.’

Tatyana retreated and commanded, her voice accompanied by a phantasmal whisper. “[Persih]!”

With her sword swing, an enormous death wave bloated the sky and shot toward the Demon Empress with trampling might. The Demon Empress answered with a defensive skill, “[Demonic Hellgate].”

A kilometric gate appeared before the Demon Empress, blocking that powerful attack. Then, the Demon Empress began thrusting her sword repeatedly as if it was a spear. “[Corrosive Heaven Piercer].”

Green beams shot toward Tatyana like a shooting star rain. Each beam had enough strength to injure Tatyana.

However, Tatyana looked with an indifferent face at those lethal green attacks coming her way. Then, she chanted. “[Fate Altering Dome].”

A transparent white dome adorned with countless moving green runes surrounded her, altering the fate laws in that area and making them bow to Tatyana. Then, whenever one of these attacks crossed this white dome, they made wild turns, shooting back toward the Demon Empress and leaving Tatyana unscratched.

The Demon Empress’s face became ugly, ‘I really hate fate users! They can alter reality as they like, and they are very annoying.’

The Demon Empress blocked her own attacks with proficiency and ease because the laws inside her attack were hers. Therefore, she could be mostly unscratched when facing off against them. However, this gave Tatyana enough time to gather energy.

“[Death Aura Manifestation: Soul Consuming Strike]” The giant grim reaper in the sky swung the oversized scythe with a cackle toward the Demon Empress. The Demon Empress looked at it with seriousness and hastily channeled one of the skills she couldn’t use continuously.

“[Demon Empress’s Aura: Corrosive Torment].” The green aura around her semi-transformed into a giant mouth as it shot toward the grim reaper’s scythe.

Space exploded violently as chunks of reality broke into black voids. However, the space fabric mended itself extremely quickly, returning everything to normal when their attacks consumed each other.

The Demon Empress’s attack managed to disperse Tatyana’s attack only because the Demon Empress had higher cultivation than Tatyana.

The Demon Empress understood that their battle wouldn’t be fast, so she began speaking with some skills in her voice, trying to make Tatyana lose her current facial expression. The Demon Empress was getting annoyed at her expression because it seemed as if Tatyana had everything under control. She wanted to see emotions on Tatyana’s face, especially despair. “Tatyana, do you know what will happen to your subordinates after they get defeated? Hahaha. I bet you know, right?”

However, to the Demon Empress’s dismay, Tatyana didn’t stop attacking even after hearing that, and her expression remained indifferent. The Demon Empress blocked a heavy hit that Tatyana managed to slip in because of trying to talk right now.

The Demon Empress flew at fantastic speed. However, she was mostly unharmed, and she just felt her arm slightly numb, something that healed almost instantly.

The Demon Empress went to the defensive to speak easier, “I’ve commanded all the demons to take your subordinates and make them breeding stock~. Wouldn’t it be beautiful seeing the Demon children born from them? Or seeing a Demon getting pregnant with one of your subordinate’s children. Hahaha, what a beautiful moment it will be!”

The Demon Empress blocked an attack that passed close to her throat and retreated, “But you don’t have to worry; you will probably be dead and unable to see what is about to happen to this continent. You are fighting against me, after all. The only outcome of this battle is me-”

As the Demon Empress kept saying things that she thought would provoke Tatyana, Tatyana remained calm as she attacked her continuously. Thanks to the Demon Empress being slightly distracted, Tatyana saw an opportunity. Her red eyes flashed with white light, calculating the method to deal the most damage and attacked.

The Demon Empress didn’t even realize when a sword struck her side. The hit was so heavy that even her armor cracked as she was blasted away, flying like a shooting star without control. ‘How did she hit me?’

However, she didn’t have time to think much more than that question because another sword strike landed on her back while she was flying!

The Demon Empress grunted in pain as she felt Tatyana’s sword sink into her flesh after slicing through her armor. ‘How is she behind me!?’

Tatyana had used her movement technique, and space literally cracked before her as Tatyana stepped through it to appear behind the flying Demon Empress. Then, she chanted, her voice reverberating through the world. “[Fate Altering: Endless Death Barrage.]”

*BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG***

The Demon Empress was thrown around like a rag-doll as space cracked everywhere because of Tatyana’s jumps and sword strikes. The Demon Empress was hit continuously without even a chance to retaliate and unable to dodge!

A myriad of sword strikes landed on the Demon Empress’s body, and she could barely block the most lethal ones. The world shifted around as they moved everywhere over the area, creating enormous shockwaves that flattened everything around.

Chapter 203

*BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG***

Spatial rifts appeared around, followed by an extremely loud explosion. There was a humanoid, winged creature receiving sword strikes that carried enough strength to crack space around, blasting it flying without control.

If you observed closely, the powerful sword strikes cracked her armor as cuts appeared in the unarmored parts. And even when the humanoid, winged creature was blocking some of the attacks, the attacks were increasing in power and were almost unavoidable, injuring the female Demon badly.

The attacker, Tatyana, used her powerful Death and Fate laws with her sword strikes, making it more difficult for the Demon Empress to regenerate herself. After getting thrown around like this, the seeping Death attribute made her more sluggish and worsened her injuries. However, if you looked at the Demon Empress, her face wasn’t worried but mostly annoyed.

Nonetheless, the Demon Empress was becoming a little restless as more time passed without being able to break Tatyana's combo. If she were on the same cultivation level as Tatyana, she would be almost defeated by now. 'I have to stop this! I will try to break her connection with fate for a single moment, that should be enough.'

The Demon Empress was having so much trouble with this because Tatyana's sword strikes carried Death and Fate laws, altering fate itself to make them land no matter what the Empress tried, and carrying an overwhelming death attribute, damaging the Demon Empress continuously.

Suddenly...

*SLASH!***

Blood poured everywhere as one sword slash separated one of her four wings from her body! The pain attacked the Demon Empress's brain and made her realize she was in a worse situation than she thought. The pain, even if it was extremely high, only made the Demon Empress grunt. As time went on, she felt the Death Energy killing her inside out.

However, it wouldn't be that easy.

During this time, the Demon Empress had been gathering energy, and now it was time to release it. The Demon Empress' aura swelled and exploded, "ENOUGH!"

*BOOM!***

The aura explosion hit Tatyana just as she appeared beside the Demon Empress. Moreover, just before that, Tatyana felt her connection with fate being cut for a moment. That moment was enough for the Demon Empress's aura to hit her squarely without letting her time to protect herself.

Tatyana felt like a steel wall slammed her with trampling might and was blasted away, stopping her combo attack. Tatyana flew for hundreds of kilometers until she managed to stop the momentum around her. As her red imperial dress fluttered with the wind, a small trail of blood dripped from the corner of her mouth. Tatyana used her hand to wipe it as she looked at the Demon Empress with indifferent eyes.

The Demon Empress's aura explosion was so powerful that it interrupted Tatyana's fate-altering skills for a moment, making her receive her attack head-on and without protection. So even if she seemed outwardly fine, that aura blast had turned her lungs, stomach, and other internal organs to mush.

Tatyana's expression was serious as she looked at the Demon Empress. 'Her raw strength overwhelms me... Thankfully she is quite average in strength for her cultivation level, or my chances of winning would be even slimmer. A single attack without protecting myself and my internal organs are like this...'

After receiving Tatyana's combo attack, the Demon Empress had a battered body with countless cuts on her armor, body, and even some slashes on her beautiful face.

The slashes were black-colored and pulsated, showing that the strength of Tatyana's Death-law was extremely high even for someone at her level. The Demon Empress looked at Tatyana with rage,

‘Such a blunder, this happened for underestimating her. If I didn’t have previous experience fighting against fate-attributed experts, I would have been in danger.’

The Demon Empress looked at Tatyana and said with anger in her voice, “Good, very good, Tatyana. I was going to kill you, but I changed my mind. I will make you the eternal plaything of my army. Your holes will be filled and full all day long for the rest of your life with demonic flesh!”

Tatyana smirked and said, “Even if they are filled, do you think that a disgusting demon cock can satisfy me?”

Then, as if that phrase was an important realization, Tatyana said with fake worry, “This is bad; if I fall into your hands, I may be unable to orgasm for the rest of my life....”

The Demon Empress’ veins almost popped out of anger. However, then she smiled fiercely, “I will see what you will say after your daughter also joins you. Do you know what I commanded to do to all the demons that entered the secret realm?”

Tatyana’s expression disappeared as she looked at her. The Demon Empress laughed as she said, “Children of a dragon of her bloodline level should create quite strong demons. Don’t you think, Tatyana?”

Tatyana’s aura began swelling as her voice was accompanied by a phantasmal tone that sounded like a whisper and a lament at the same time. This made her voice sound extremely ominous, “You’ve been provoking me again and again; if your objective was to make me angry, congratulations. You’ve done it.”

Tatyana’s face turned cold, and her eyes began glowing crimson, and she chanted. “[True Aura Assimilation: Eternal Energy siphon].”

Her aura manifestation exploded and sunk in her, making her aura even stronger. Then, even the hair of the Demon Empress moved toward Tatyana as a literal hurricane of energy rushed toward Tatyana, drying the surroundings of it. The Demon Empress’s face became solemn, and she used a skill to regenerate her wounds and expel the damaging Death Law inside her before charging toward Tatyana. She wanted to be in top condition before stopping whatever Tatyana was doing.

Tatyana’s red dress weaved around imposingly as she called for her other summons that were waiting for her orders. “Ying Yue, Hui Zhong, Lauren, protect me. I’m summoning him.”

The ones who appeared were the [Undead Empress], [Undead Emperor], and [Undead Grand Marshal]. They looked at the Demon Empress, who was regenerating her wounds. They had been watching the battle and didn’t interrupt to analyze her as much as they could before their Empress called for their aid.

Then, they communicated in an instant that was too short to even perceive. Ying Yue said in her ethereally beautiful voice, “Empress, we can only stall her for so much. How much do you need to summon the venerable one?”

Tatyana said, “Give me ten minutes.”

Hui Zhong frowned, “So little? Why so much haste, Empress? If you summon him so fast, it may damage you permanently.”

Tatyana took a deep breath and relaxed; she had become a little angry with the Demon Empress's previous statement and said. "Then, give me one hour. Although I will still damage myself, I should be able to heal completely in two or three years. Can you stall her for so much time? I was creating a formation before, so Ying Yue should be able to use it to let you three stall time."

Lauren, the [Undead Grand Marshal], who was clad in a full body black dragon armor, said, "We will do our best for the Empress. Just focus on the summoning!"

Tatyana nodded, and time began ticking again.

Suddenly, the Demon Empress saw with wide-open eyes as that hurricane of energy rushed toward Tatyana many times faster than before. Tatyana's aura swelled exponentially, surpassing hers in quantity, quality, and pressure. The world was literally trembling before Tatyana's presence, and even the Heavens were gathering Tribulation clouds on top of her. The thing Tatyana wanted to summon was that powerful. However, Tatyana ignored everything as she continued gathering insane amounts of energy.

Until now, the thing the Demon Empress lost compared with Tatyana was only quality of cultivation, so she wasn't too worried and was confident in defeating Tatyana. However, with this amount of aura release coming from the Death Empress, the Demon Empress realized that if she let Tatyana finish whatever she was doing, her chances of winning would become extremely slim. The Demon Empress still had some tricks in her sleeves, so she was still confident that she could put up a fight and damage Tatyana grievously, but most of the superiority complex she had before disappeared.

Even if she didn't know what she was going to do, she wouldn't let her continue. With her wing already half-recovered and most of the important injuries healed, she charged straight toward the three summons. 'I will eliminate these three and force Tatyana to stop her energy gathering, a skill of that level should take between thirty minutes to one day, so I have time.'

When they saw the powerful Demon Empress charging toward themselves, Lauren's aura exploded, and an enormous portal appeared behind him. Through it, a twenty-kilometer-long armored black dragon appeared with a roar that shook the heavens. It had ghostly green eyes and was extremely bulky. Its armor was filled with pointy and sharp edges in places it could attack with, like the claws, horns, tail, wings, and shoulders. Lauren mounted it and charged toward the Demon empress with a three-meter-long lance in hand. "[Phantom Dragon Ride]."

When he used the skill, a phantom image of himself, proportional to the dragon's size, appeared, mounting it on its back. The lance he held was kilometric, making the Demon Empress appear like an ant before an elephant. This phantom image was physical and a carbon copy of himself. Moreover, it moved with him, making it possible for the colossal dragon and undead to attack simultaneously, like a true dragon rider.

The Demon Empress saw the enormous claw and lance coming toward her with calm eyes. She waved her sword, and a phantom sword of similar size impacted with both attacks in a catastrophic explosion.

*BOOM!***

The air rumbled as the Dragon and Man were blasted away by the tyrannical strength of the Demon Empress. The Demon Empress didn't even move in that collision!

Seeing such a small creature blasting a kilometric creature like that was impactful enough to shake the hearts of even the most battle-hardened warriors.

However, to the undeads of the Death Empress, it was insignificant as their whole being was dedicated to protecting their Empress even if they had to immolate their souls to achieve it.

Ying Yue wasn't deterred and was already beside the Demon Empress the moment she finished swinging her sword and trying to take advantage of the collision to attack. Ying Yue's sword moved swiftly toward the cracked parts of the armor and with enough strength to make space tremble terribly.

The three-meter-tall Demon Empress used her leg to kick toward Ying Yue.

*BOOM!***

Both of them were repelled, showcasing that Ying Yue had a chance to fight back. Even if the distance was extremely different, Ying Yue could at least hold herself against the Demon Empress.

Ying Yue and the Demon Empress exchanged attacks, but just ten seconds later, Ying Yue began being overwhelmed. It was Hui Zhong's magnetic voice that sounded at this time, "[Emperor's Legion Summoning]."

Countless black cracks appeared in a 1 000 km radius, but nothing materialized from them. Then, Hui Zhong charged toward the Demon Empress to take Ying Yue's place.

The Demon Empress felt him and the dragon-riding undead coming toward her together. A powerful sword strike from Ying Yue made her lose balance for a slight moment, and the other two took the chance to attack. An enormous lance and powerful black sword came from her two sides.

However, the Demon Empress snorted with disdain. Her sword gained a corrosive aura as her speed increased in an instant, appearing as if she became two people instead of one.

*BANG!* *BANG!***

She repelled both attacks simultaneously. But her face didn't relax as she felt a dangerous energy wave coming from her right.

*RROOOAAAR!***

It was the armored dragon breath attack! From the dragon's maw, an enormous energy beam reached her side almost instantly, and she had no other choice but to use a defensive skill to block it. A green dome that dwarfed the dragon appeared around her in an instant. The breath attack collided and bent the dome inwards, cracking it badly.

The time the Demon Empress used to defend against the dragon breath attack left enough time for the two undead summons to recover their stance and launch more attacks, keeping the Demon Empress occupied.

While they were holding back the Demon Empress, Ying Yue had been gathering energy. Her ethereal voice echoed around like an enchanting spirit. "[Empress' Legion Summoning]."

Lauren ordered the dragon to tackle the Demon Empress, as his giant phantom also attacked.

The Demon Empress turned toward the colossal dragon and counterattacked, sending a green crescent that impacted the dragon's chest and creating a gash that corroded a big part of the creature. The dragon cried in agony, but it managed to maintain its standing place to let its rider attack with a powerful lance strike. The Demon Empress used her intact three wings to block the lance tip.

The Demon Empress couldn't take this attack as easy, and she was blasted away by Lauren. This created enough time for Ying Yue and Hui Zhong to activate their combination skill, "[Regal Death's Procession]."

The black and green portals fused, and from them, countless undead dropped like rain from the cracks, filling the sky with different skeletal creatures. As the Demon Empress regained balance in the air, she saw a green aura explode from Ying Yue and a black one from Hui Zhong, covering the whole army that was dropping like rain on autumn.

These two auras combined and strengthened the summons and gave them the ability to fly, creating an enormous dome around the Demon Empress that was filled with undead of different sizes, strengths, and forms.

Chapter 204

The Demon Empress punched the air toward a place with a dense amount of troops, and an enormous shockwave sped forward, getting exponentially bigger until it covered hundreds of kilometers.

A big chunk of the army exploded into white dust, leaving a gaping hole in the army formation. The Demon Empress looked around with a mocking smirk, "Pathetic."

Tatyana looked at the battle situation even if she was absorbing the hurricane-like energy vortex. She frowned after seeing the strength of the Demon Empress punch and thought. 'They are too weak even to buy time... I will also have to buff them.'

Because she was still at the beginning of her energy gathering, she could move around and use some skills. The process, energy patterns through her meridians and dantian were not too complex at the moment, so with her overwhelming mental processing ability, she double casted, channeling another skill without interrupting the first one.

The Demon Empress saw part of Tatyana's energy hurricane separating and rushing to the sky. She really wanted to interrupt it, but after the previous beating she received, she was much more cautious because she knew that being impatient may put her at a disadvantage faster than she could react to.

Tatyana's skill sunk the space in that area as green-black smog leaked from the space cracks, carrying an aura that would make any living being shudder with fear. Then, Tatyana's aura pierced upward, hitting the middle of the spatial depression, blowing a hole in reality. From it, a mountain-sized ominous gate appeared and fell to the earth, causing an enormous earthquake.

The gate had countless grey-colored agonizing faces across the doorframe, and the door itself was made of an obsidian-like material but filled with cracks and dull, making it appear ancient. There were various sculptures of scenes that deciphered the end of life in all kinds of ways.

The Demon Empress observed the gate without knowing what it was, making her uneasy. For someone as old as her, not knowing what something was, was extremely scary. Especially when it was something summoned by her opponent, so her wariness only increased.

Tatyana had used a skill called [Underworld Gate]. The skill summoned a mountain-sized gate behind her that literally led to the underworld, fusing the living and dead world. It was a skill that went against the Heavenly Order and shouldn't even be able to exist. However, Tatyana's comprehension level of the death and fate laws made it possible for her to deceive the Heavens themselves and summon it.

Nonetheless, the previous tribulation clouds gathering on top of Tatyana became even thicker, like a black shadow looming over Tatyana, flickering with multicolored lightning that could easily flatten mountain ranges.

Tatyana continued using a part of her energy vortex and summoned the green-black-colored skeletal hands from her true aura. Then, her voice echoed around with regal authority. "World of the dead, descend to the living. [Underworld Gate]."

Then, she manifested the hands of the aura manifestation and pushed it open.

With a creaking sound that made the earth tremble, the aura of the underworld spread in the living world with exponential speed. All beings in the surroundings that still remained alive and were nearby died with a single touch of the aura seeping through those doors, and their souls got sucked into the abyss, never to come back.

The more the [Underworld gate] opened, the easier it was to hear the countless anguished tones of the souls on the other side, like a macabre melody of death and decadence. Before the Demon Empress realized what was going on, the land in more than 100 000 km around had died and become a place filled with the energies of the underworld. The range was so wide that it consumed nearby towns, cities, and other places filled with life.

Seeing such cruelty coming from her opponent, even the Demon Empress was startled. She looked at Tatyana's glowing red eyes through the energy vortex, and a light shudder went up her spine for a moment. However, she repressed this feeling fast.

While the aura of the Underworld decimated life without caring for gender, age, or race, all the undead inside seemed to take a deep breath with delight filling their souls. This included Ying Yue, Hui Zhong, Lauren, and his dragon. Their aura literally multiplied and exploded with might, becoming much more powerful in a single second.

Ying Yue sighed with satisfaction, "I can feel my strength coming back. Fighting in the world of the living is truly arduous."

Something clicked inside the chaotic mind of the Demon Empress and looked at the gate with shock, 'How is she able to summon the Underworld here!? That should be against the Heavenly Laws! Tatyana should have been struck by heavenly lightning for defying the Heavens!!'

Hui Zhong looked at the Demon Empress's face and said. "Do not try to comprehend our Death Empress, Demon. The amount of talent she has has already gone against the heavens for a long time. Not to mention her actions."

The Demon Empress looked at him with rage, "Just a summon dares to speak to me like that!? I'm done playing! Feel despair! [Demon Empress Presence: Heaven Corroding Armament]!"

When she began chanting, unlike the Demon Empress, Ying Yue and Hui Zhong were already charging forward. However, even with the buffs, they weren't fast enough to stop the following events.

An enormous explosion of toxic and corrosive green fumes exploded from the Demon Empress with terrible might. The green explosion slammed against Ying Yue and Hui Zhong, blasting them away from The Demon Empress.

Although the Undead were highly resistant to any kind of toxicity, corrosion was still damaging. Therefore, when this aura slammed against the army, a big part of the growing army began melting. All those undead under the Transcendence realm couldn't last against the aura released from the Demon Empress.

Ying Yue and Hui Zhong reacted fast and ordered all those undead to return to the Underworld at their highest speed. Even if their armies were extremely big and they could sacrifice millions without hurting their foundation, they didn't want to lose subordinates stupidly and without reason.

After sending those under the Transcendence realm back, what was left of their army were an astounding 1000 summons. This meant that just the summons beside them were almost as much as the group fighting on the other side, showing extraordinary military strength. Better yet, this was just a small portion of their army that has been growing and strengthening itself for hundreds of thousands of years.

Ying Yue used the small timeframe where the energies around the Demon Empress were chaotic to check the Undead integrity of those left behind. 'They are resisting the aura nicely thanks to the [Underworld Gate]... Even so, we shouldn't summon anymore. I don't want to lose too many Transcendent Realm Undead. It is annoying to empower them to that level.'

When the Demon Empress finished transforming, her height had increased to 100 meters. Definitely not as big as Tiang Long or the Demon Emperor, but her aura was extremely thick and powerful, not losing to those two in the slightest.

Her previous black armor had transformed into a body-hugging green plate armor that dripped With corrosive substances. Each drop that reached the earth drilled into it so far that it was impossible to measure the depth at sight. Her sword followed the trend, being 50 meters long and surrounded by those corrosive fumes.

After transforming, her wings had regenerated completely, surrounded with those fumes like the rest of her body. Her black demon horns had also grown, becoming like a crown around her head. Just being near her would be a worrisome matter for her opponents.

The Demon Empress took a step in the air and shot extremely fast toward Ying Yue. Even after her buffs, Ying Yue could barely block the enormous sword with hers.

Ying Yue felt her arms fracturing and the skin melting as she shot backward, hurt by the sword strike. Ying Yue couldn't help but be surprised; even after all these buffs, the Demon Empress was still a fearsome foe.

The Demon Empress looked at Tatyana and ignored everything else, shooting directly toward her. Like an enormous green blur, she approached Tatyana extremely fast. Hui Zhong and Lauren, together with the 1 000 Transcendence realm summons, blocked her way with different skills.

The Demon Empress didn't even care as she rammed toward the skills, using two of her four wings as a shield. Like an unstoppable juggernaut, she destroyed, melted, or slashed the skills in her way at an extremely fast pace. At this speed, she would manage to attack Tatyana in less than a minute!

Tatyana looked at this and frowned. 'Ying Yue is the strongest, and she was sent flying so easily... I may have to use another strengthening skill. The summoning will slow down my skill, so I hope they can last until then. Sigh, I don't think she will let me do the same as I did with the [Underworld Gate].'

The Demon Empress continued blasting the things in her way as if they were rotten wood walls against a rampaging beast. However, even when she was at a disadvantage, Ying Yue attacked with Hui Zhong and Lauren at the same time with combination attacks, slowing down the Demon Empress much more.'

The Demon Empress realized that the core of this whole defensive thing was Ying Yue, so instead of aiming for Tatyana, she began focusing on Ying Yue. 'If I eliminate this vermin, everything will go my way afterward!'

The Demon Empress abruptly changed direction, shooting like a green comet toward Ying Yue. The other summons shot myriad skills at her, but the green aura around her weakened all the attacks enough that her armor could block them without major problems.

Of course, this protective aura consumed her energy. Still, taking into account her massive energy reserves, it wasn't something that would affect her unless she fought continuously for a day or two. However, even with this passive protection, she still had to dodge Hui Zhong's, Lauren's, and the armored dragon's attack as she harassed Ying Yue into an honestly miserable state.

For the next minute, Ying Yue was beaten harshly. So harshly that she lost an arm, part of her head, and a leg, and she had her skin melting like it was candle wax. The Demon Empress sadistically smiled as she beat Ying Yue more and more. Ying Yue wouldn't last for much longer!

However, at this moment, Tatyana's strengthening technique enveloped her. Time slowed down as Tatyana's voice seemed to envelop Ying Yue. "[Semi-Divine Undead]."

Ying Yue's aura burst out like a tide, making the Demon Empress come to a stop for a moment. In that small time frame, her body was enveloped by a golden light and regenerated instantly! Her white hair blew around, and her ghostly green eyes and pale skin radiated a golden light. The Demon Empress was only stunned for a moment, so she was already swinging her sword toward Ying Yue.

When the Demon Empress's sword came down to hit her again, Ying Yue slashed toward the 50m sword without fear.

A powerful shockwave spread around after the clash of weapons! The result? Ying Yue just slid backward in the air, fully controlled. The Demon Empress's black eyes almost popped out of her skull. 'How is this possible!?'

Tatyana nodded, satisfied. 'With this, they should be able to buy me enough time. However, I better be safe than sorry....'

With Ying Yue's new strength, buying another minute was no problem for the summons. After another minute, she cast a strengthening spell on Lauren. "[Semi-Abyssal Undead]."

This time, a red aura wrapped around him as his eyes under the helmet shone with a bloody red light, spilling that light through the helmet openings. That aura enveloped even the giant phantom of himself and his dragon. Their aura also grew madly as the dragon and dragon rider roared wildly together toward the heavens.

*RAAAH!!!!*

*ROOAAAR!!!!*

The Demon Empress's face became gloomy as another annoying foe appeared. Tatyana looked at the strengthening with a rueful smile, 'A shame I can't use these two skills in the same undead... It would create a real monster if I could....'

Then, Tatyana ignored the fight and put most of her focus on the summoning as she let her undead stagger the Demon Empress.

Chapter 205

The battle was intense, leaving the area around in ruins, but thanks to Ying Yue's solid defense, Lauren's powerful attacks, and Hui Zhong's support, the Demon Empress was having trouble dealing with them swiftly. Having Ying Yue in front of her whenever she wanted to attack other people and Lauren and his dragon attacking continuously with powerful attacks was frustrating.

The worst thing was that whenever she thought that she had managed to deal with those two, Hui Zhong coordinated with the 1 000 Transcendence realm undead to send myriads of skills in her way, giving enough time for Ying Yue and Lauren to begin attacking again.

The Demon Empress was becoming more annoyed and restless as time went on because Tatyana was successfully gathering enough energy for her big skill.

The Demon Empress knew that even with all these buffs on the undead summons, her superior cultivation, defense, regeneration, and strength guaranteed that she would be able to win eventually. However, the amount of energy Tatyana was gathering was giving her bad vibes and she didn't dare relax for a second. The Demon Empress remembered the Demon Emperor and thought, 'Is Burxis still fighting with that oversized lizard? How could he be held back by only one dragon!?'

What the demon Empress didn't know was that Tian Long could fight against all the summons she was currently fighting with ease. He was the indisputable number two in Tatyana's army, even above Tatyana herself when it came to destructive power.

Therefore, even if the Demon Emperor, Burxis, was stronger than the Demon Empress, he wasn't able to finish Tian Long off easily. Moreover, the [Underworld Gate] range was so vast that it affected Tian Long up there in space where they were currently fighting, boosting his strength a notch higher.

After 40 minutes had passed since the beginning of the battle, The Demon Empress became apprehensive. She hadn't reached her level out of luck; no one has. Therefore, she understood that Tatyana was stronger than they anticipated, and right now, they were gathering all the flags that had their defeat on them, one at a time. 'Even if her attacks aren't dangerous for Burxis and me, we can't deal with her fast enough. If a battle against a summoner goes on for so much time, they can easily overcome cultivation levels to fight against various enemies of the same level...'

After analyzing things for a while, she decided to retreat even if it hurt her pride. She had been observing the battlefield between the Transcendent realm cultivators, Demon Monarchs, and legendary beasts. Even if some Demon Monarchs had died during this time, there had been more deaths on the beast and human cultivator side, so she was more or less satisfied.

She communicated with Burxis through a soul link, lowering the intensity of her attacks not to get caught by surprise as she had been before. 'Burxis, if you aren't able to finish that lizard off in ten minutes and help me here, we should begin to plan a retreat.'

The Demon Emperor's rumbling voice responded in her mind. 'Why do you say that, Nimune? And forget about finishing him off, his body is just too resilient, and his skills are extremely powerful. Not to mention ten minutes, I think that to kill him completely, I would need one month at least.'

Nimune grimaced and explained. 'Swept your divine sense across our fighting zone for a second. Tatyana is gathering a ton of energy, and I have a bad hunch about it. The worst thing is that I can't interrupt her because her summons are truly too annoying.'

As if reiterating her statement, something hit her side with high strength at that moment.

Lauren's lance had landed on her side, sending her flying for tens of kilometers. She was mostly uninjured, but it was extremely annoying. 'That fucking dragon knight has become too strong after that red aura wrapped around him. Fuck all his descendants!'

She flashed toward him and used a skill to create an enormous crescent that bloated the sky. But Ying Yue intercepted it and used a skill herself to blast that crescent away. The Demon Empress roared angrily, "Annoying woman, I want to hear your screams and eat your flesh!"

She felt extremely suffocated because their perfect coordination left her unable to do anything. The Demon Empress, Nimune, transmitted to Burxis. ‘We are retreating. We both are being held back by her current summons. If she summons what she is preparing to summon, we will truly be in danger. Our subordinates have managed to kill almost 200 of the cultivators on that side, I think that is quite an accomplishment for the moment, and it will weaken some races enough to create internal struggle. We can always amplify this tempting the weakest side.’

Burxis answered, ‘We will do as you say; your instincts have always been accurate. However, if we want to do that, we will need personnel. Give me five minutes to get this lizard away from me, and I will help retreat the Demon Monarchs, maintain Tatyana and her summons occupied for that time.’

Nimune transmitted an affirmative message, and she began preparing to retreat, going full into a defensive battle.

Ying Yue noticed the change in Nimune’s attacks, so she communicated with the rest. ‘Pay attention to her and be careful; she has drastically changed her attack pattern. She may be preparing something.’

Hui Zhong said, ‘How about you activate the formation that the Empress Prepared? We should be able to damage her badly with it.’

Ying Yue rushed toward Nimune and managed to sneak a sword strike to her side.

Nimune’s giant body slid in the air, and her eyes locked onto Ying Yue with rage. She then thrust her sword forward, and an enormous beam of corrosive energy shot toward Ying Yue. Ying Yue created tens of black-green bone walls in its way, all glowing with a golden light.

*BOOM!* *BOOM!* *BOOM!* *BOOM!* *BOOM!***

The beam destroyed all of them with horrendous might and landed on Ying Yue, weakened. However, Ying Yue’s current body was extremely resilient. Therefore, the attack that should have incapacitated her for a while only blasted her away with her skin corroding. The golden aura around her regenerated her extremely fast, letting Ying Yue join the fight again almost instantly.

Ying Yue shrugged off the pain and answered Hui Zhong, ‘That formation is a killing formation; if I use it now, it will only hurt her badly, and we will lose a card to protect the Empress. Remember our objective, Zhong. It is to hold her back, not kill her.’

Hui Zhong answered instantly, ‘Understood.’

Hui Zhong prepared an attack with the thousand troops behind him while Lauren, his dragon, and Ying Yue kept her at bay.

Four minutes later, the sky was shrouded with countless enormous bone lances surrounded by a black-green aura. Then Hui Zhong waved his hand, and all the attacks sped toward Nimune like rain with terrifying energy around them. “[Unending Abyssal Bone Lance Rain].”

“SCRAM!” Nimune shouted, hitting Lauren and Ying Yue strongly and getting them off her. She looked at the bones raining on her, and her sword exploded with green fumes.

In the next instant, her sword's afterimages surrounded her, blasting the bone lances that came near her into pieces with incredible speed. She also protected herself from those she couldn't destroy with her armored wings.

After defending against that attack, she had finished charging her energy and shouted. "[DEMON SOVEREIGN CORROSIVE NOVA]."

A green sphere burst from her and consumed the surrounding area with increasing speed. Ying Yue, Lauren, Hui Zhong, and the other 1 000 summons grouped up before Tatyana and used all the defensive skills available to them. Different colored bone walls, darkness domes, green bone pillars, black skeletal hands, bone cages, and flesh walls continuously appeared between Tatyana and the corrosive nova.

The enormous corrosive nova that carried the world's laws smashed against the defensive perimeter in a catastrophic explosion. The nova melted all the domes, walls, and other defensive measures, advancing uninterruptedly. The lower-level undead defenses were obliterated, weakening the nova slightly, and it collided with the last fortifications coming from Ying Yue, Hui Zhong, and Lauren and the Dragon Breath that the dragon charged during this time.

*BOOOOOM!*

The collision made the earth tremble, the sky dim, and the world shriek with pain as the four undead creatures felt like an asteroid smashed into their barriers. However, with the combined effort of the four, they were able to block the land-changing nova and avoid it hitting Tatyana.

When they managed to block the attack, they looked toward the place where Nimune was, only to find it empty. They became extremely alert and commanded all the undead to spread around and search for her. Their divine senses swept across the land, the air, and underground, searching for the Demon Empress without going too far from Tatyana. The last thing they wanted was an ambush happening when they left their side.

They even sent 10 of the Transcendent Realm summons to scout the surroundings, not caring if they are destroyed. They just wanted to find where the Demon Empress went. However, they weren't successful in finding her, making them frown worriedly.

Tatyana opened her eyes, confused about the suddenly silent surroundings. She saw her undead looking around alertly. Ying Yue appeared beside her and said with a weird face. "Umm.... Empress, I think The Demon Empress ran away."

Tatyana didn't stop gathering energy and looked at Ying Yue with a stupefied face. "Ying Yue, it is not a good time to joke around. We are fighting someone equal to us."

Ying Yue's face became even weirder, and she said, "I'm not joking, Empress. After a powerful attack, the Demon Empress's aura disappeared; no matter how we search around, we can't find a single trace of her."

And as if wanting to confirm Ying Yue's observations, Tian Long appeared above them, casting a giant shadow on them. He had scales ripped off across his body and large burning gashes across his body. A part of his right wing was almost cut in half, and one of his two horns was cracked like a spider web after being hit by something. Moreover, his tail and claws were visibly chipped after clashing against the Demon Emperor's sword so many times.

However, even if the superficial damage looked horrendous, he was quite in good shape, and his body was regenerating at a visible speed. Tian Long had heard Ying Yue, so he said to Tatyana. "It is true, Tatyana. Even the Demon Emperor retreated with their remaining army. They managed to kill about 50 humans and 15 beasts from our side. And about 140 humans from outside our alliance."

Tatyana looked at them, still not believing them. 'A Demon Emperor and Empress retreating? Since when? Their arrogance normally goes so high that they rather die than admit they are weaker than someone!'

Tatyana slowed down her summoning and used a part of the energy to activate the skill called [Future Sight]. She normally used this skill passively to look two seconds into the future with extreme precision. However, Tatyana could also activate it consciously to look further into the future with less accuracy. After observing from 10 seconds up to one hour in the future, she didn't see the Demon Empress and Emperor appearing again and confirming her summons' words.

Tatyana's face became strange, still finding it unbelievable. Then, she looked at herself and the continental destroying energy amount around her, not knowing what to do with it. It was truly a lot of energy, black-green colored, and combined with a subtle red aura. The space was warping around her, cracking, and shattering, only to regenerate and start that cycle again.

Tatyana stopped gathering energy and controlled it, asking. "What do I do with this energy? It seems like a waste letting it disperse just like that."

Her summons got thoughtful and each proposed their options.

Chapter 206

Tatyana stopped gathering energy and controlled it, asking. "What do I do with this energy? It seems like a waste letting it disperse just like that."

Lauren proposed, already dismounted from his dragon. "Maybe the Empress shall continue gathering energy and summon the venerable one? He may help us find those Demons, and we can ask him to help us in the near future."

Tatyana found that offer attractive and gave it a good thought. 'But... If I summon teacher, I won't be able to slack... What a dilemma!'

Tian Long said, "Blast the demonic side of the continent with it. They gave a nest to these disgusting demons who dared target the little princess! They shouldn't be able to live for this offense... Just thinking about it makes me want to go there and destroy cities all around."

Tatyana looked at Tian Long and was extremely tempted. 'I can't hear anything wrong with what he said...'

Ying Yue said, "I agree with Lord Long. These fools should be massacred for targeting our little princess. Even leaving one of them alive is an insult toward our little princess!"

Tatyana nodded, 'Right, Right. How could my little treasure be stranded who knows where if it wasn't because they let the Demons settle down? Moreover, they have also sent a lot of assassins my little treasure's way; I should kill a lot of families to pay for their sins and let their souls in the Underworld stop suffering.'

Hui Zhong said the most reasonable thing, "Empress, How about you let it dissipate slowly? You don't have any haste to do anything with it since the little princess is away, right? This way, you wouldn't need to massacre countless people because of something they didn't do. Although punishing those that attack the little princess is okay, we shouldn't kill indiscriminately."

Tatyana looked at Hui Zhong with a confused gaze, as if he had grown three heads and six arms. 'Is he speaking the same language as me? I can't understand his words, and it is not to brag, but I understand more than 10 000 languages!'

Tatyana completely ignored Hui Zhong and said with a sweet smile. "I like Tian Long's idea. Let's blast them to the Underworld!"

Hui Zhong shook his head and chuckled, "Well, whatever. I also wanted to punish them; I was just trying to speak common sense into the heads of these murder gods..."

Ying Yue made a fist with her hand, "Oh yes! Give them hell! Kill them all, Empress!" Hearing that with Ying Yue's naturally gentle and ethereal voice was something strange, to be honest. The tone was very mismatched.

Hui Zhong looked at her sideways and muttered, "Brute-"

"I'm extremely lady-like; who are you calling a brute?" Said the gentle-looking woman that just sent her companion blasting through ten mountains with one slap.

Tatyana looked at them, speechless. 'Well, whatever.'

She shook her head and flew high up in the air, surrounded by the destructive and chaotic Death and Fate energy flows. She looked at the tribulation clouds that didn't fall yet and said, "Hmm... Should I blast those away with the same strike? Yeah, why not."

Thankfully, only her summons were around, or the people hearing her would have had a stroke and died on the spot. 'Why is she taking the Tribulation Clouds as if they were a bug to splat!?'

When she was high enough that she could aim toward the Demonic Side of the continent thanks to extremely complex calculations, she locked onto an area where her intelligence network exposed one of the biggest main bases the demons built these months. 'That area still shouldn't have built a protective formation, thinking they are still hidden... That should be a good spot to kill some millions.'

Worry about innocent people? Sorry, but Tatyana didn't have the conscience to do so. In Tatyana's opinion, since their race is trying to invade this continent, for extension, they are agreeing to everything their leaders are doing, so they are indirect accomplices for their actions and deserve to die.

Children don't know anything about these things? They don't, but that doesn't mean that they will be safe after their parents have provoked someone as crazy, insane, murderous, and unfeeling as Tatyana. No matter how cute she acts in front of Yaseenia or how logical she is with Yaseenia's concerns, that is where Tatyana's sanity ends. For Tatyana, a rock on the side of the road or a person before her sword is valued the same unless Yaseenia has an interest in them.

Therefore, with zero feelings of guilt, remorse, hesitation, or anything like that, Tatyana looked toward the distance as if she was looking down on the world. A red aura leaked from her eyes and grew exponentially, meshing with the accumulated aura in complex patterns.

That aura enveloped the [Underworld Gate] and lifted it to the air above the Tribulation Clouds. Since the [Underworld Gate] was literally invisible to the Heavens, they didn't react and let it hover over them with its obsidian gates wide open.

Then, she began chanting one of her strongest attacks, her eyes glowing crimson, and her voice sounded phantasmal. "For my power, I command. A terrible fate looms..."

On another place of the continent, millions of kilometers away, even if it was daytime, the sky suddenly darkened. All the creatures present looked up with curiosity, looking at the dark vortex that was appearing above them. The aura of Death around it was extremely thick, alerting some of the powerhouses present. However, none of the powerhouses were above the sixth realm, so they couldn't completely understand what was happening above them.

From that black vortex, an enormous door appeared, swung open, and showed the deepest of darkness across those doors. It was as if one's gaze would be consumed after looking through that mountain-sized door into that consuming darkness. The aura that leaked from that gate instilled an instinctual fear in every creature present; this fear was the same inborn fear all creatures had toward death.

Then, they heard a female voice across them. The voice was beautiful and elegant, yet accompanied by a terrifying phantasmal undertone that made them want to kneel in reverence toward the creature that was speaking through those terrible gates. But that doesn't matter, as the person speaking was unforgiving. "For my power, I command; a terrible fate looms. From the world, I demand; to bring these fools DOOM. [Death Empress Decree: Underworld's Condemnation]."

Then on Tatyana's side, all the energy she had gathered for the summoning condensed in a ball and exploded upward toward the [Underworld Gate] like a black-green pillar connecting the Heavens and the Earth.

The beam was impossibly wide, much wider than the [Underworld Gate]. This beam consumed everything in its way and reached before the Tribulation Clouds. With a world-shattering strength, the Underworld's Condemnation slammed against the Tribulation clouds, dispersing them in a circular shape, as if they were normal clouds against a powerful bomb.

The beam didn't even lose strength after shattering the Tribulation Clouds, rushing toward the [Underworld Gate]. Before it reached the gate, a suction strength coming from the gate absorbed the beam, like a black hole, shrinking and devouring the beam to a size that could go through it.

On the other side of the [Underworld Gate], the creatures there saw the deep darkness shine for an instant before something burst from it with trampling strength. That pillar of destructive energies shot from Tatyana burst from the door, instantly widening to its original width and covering the sky like an all-consuming darkness.

For all the demons and other creatures in that area, even those in the Demon Monarch realm, it felt like the sky was falling, like the World was ending, as if someone had sent divine judgment to all of them to pay for their sins. But this was not a divine judgment, but the condensed wrath of an angered mother toward a race that aimed to kill her daughter.

The beam inevitably fell silently and claimed what it came to take—the lives of all living beings in this area.

Those below the Unification realm died from the pressure of the attack alone. They were flattened before they could feel anything from the beam's pressure when moving all that air downward. It was as if Gravity had suddenly multiplied thousands of times, killing everything with less than Unification realm strength.

Those between the Unification realm and the peak of the Dantian Spiritualization Realm became ash instantly as the heaven pillar touched them. Painlessly, silently, they disappeared from the world.

The low-level and mid-level Demon Monarchs had time to set some barriers and protect themselves. But it was futile as the beam didn't even slow down, breaking everything in its way so easily that the Demon Monarchs didn't even know when their defenses shattered and that falling darkness consumed them. The beam melted them like a candle exposed to the hottest fires, inflicting agonizing seconds of torment before the sweet release of death.

Only those high and peak level Demon Monarch managed to resist enough not to die instantly. However, this time, it was more a curse than a blessing, as the catastrophic attack enveloped everything around them, leaving them no other option than to resist the attacks with their bodies after their defenses collapsed. The feeling of their life being eaten and stolen away was terrifying as if countless hands were dragging them to a place where their most terrible nightmares were going to be realized. They only lasted ten excruciating seconds before they joined the unavoidable fate of all living beings in that area.

Tian Long and the others looked at the abyssal chasm that Tatyana created and nodded in approval. Tian Long said, "You haven't lost your touch. You aimed to the place where most people would die. Good job. If the forces of this continent and the Demons were on par, it would have been a devastating attack that would signify their complete defeat. I don't think the Demons will attack other places in a short while."

Tatyana snorted and crossed her arms before her. "I've been training these last months. And well, this could be a warning toward that Demon Empress and Emperor. They should know that if they want to run the next time, they should be prepared to sacrifice some people."

Tatyana looked toward the secret realm portal and flashed before the soul strand of the transparent old man. The old man looked at Tatyana and asked, "Is something the matter?"

Tatyana looked at him for a moment and asked, "Why didn't senior stop the Demon Empress from tampering with the portal? I'm sure that whatever she did won't only affect the juniors that enter through this portal but also the others."

The old man rubbed his white beard and said, "What that woman did, didn't interfere with the trials inside. All the juniors will be able to enter and exit the portal without anything happening to them or damaging them directly in any way. Therefore, it wasn't my responsibility to stop her."

Tatyana said indifferently, “Wouldn’t it be a shame if the inheritor died just after leaving the portal because of what she did? Even if the harm isn’t direct, it will surely affect them. Her objective has always been weakening our continent’s strength, so I’m 90% sure that what she has done will be harmful.”

The old man looked at Tatyana and said, “Then, if the extra obstacle that the woman placed is the end of the inheritor, that would have been their destiny.”

Tatyana looked at that old man with rage, “A senior has meddled with a junior’s affair, so it is clear that they had influenced all their fates! This isn’t their original destiny, but a forcefully changed one!”

The old man said, “There isn’t a forcefully changed destiny; all things are predestined. It was the fate of the juniors that went inside this secret realm to overcome the challenges that this will generate.”

Tatyana gritted her teeth and almost punched the old man, “Everything is predestined!? IT ISN’T! My fate and my daughter’s fate will be snatched from the Heavens by our hand!”

*RUMBLE!***

Tatyana looked up at the tribulation clouds and punched toward them with her fist glowing with white energy. “GET OUT OF MY SIGHT! I DON’T HAVE TIME FOR YOUR BULLSHIT!”

*BOOOOOOOM!***

Her punch shattered the sky and destroyed the tribulation clouds with an enormous explosion. The old man was surprised for a moment, but he didn’t say anything else.

Tatyana looked at the man one last time, shook her head, turned, and left. ‘I will have to begin being more proactive to create a safe haven for my little treasure....’

Her summons, still living allies, and people that wanted to ally with her mounted the enormous battleship, and they began flying back toward the academy. Then, looking at the disappearing portal, her face became a little melancholic. ‘Will a lot of time go by until I see her in person again? Little Treasure, I hope you don’t forget about mommy waiting for you here to return home...’

Thinking about that situation was enough to make Tatyana angsty and nervous. She was about to use her fate skills to know how much time would pass before they see again in person but decided against it. ‘Be patient, Tatyana. Focus on what you must do, and then worry about my little treasure. I will have to create a searching squad to find where she is in this vast world. Moreover, she has the [Green Black Glass Heart] with her...’

Tatyana looked at her subordinates and summons. Then, she spoke, her voice carrying imperial might! “It is time to come to the surface! Our main base will be the academy, and we will expand from there! Let’s take over all that was meant to be ours!”

Countless howls, screams, and roars filled the world, making it tremble and announcing the end to Tatyana’s spectator stance. Therefore, from this day onward, Tatyana’s reign in a big part of the Sky Continent and the surroundings began, officially becoming the third power besides the Righteous and Demonic sides.

Chapter 207:

Meanwhile, inside the secret realm, a woman was looking around. She had western-like features and was looking at the forest around her fearfully. She spoke to the voice in her head, "Are you sure you aren't something evil that is trying to manipulate me? I've read enough novels to know that trusting your kind too much can lead to trouble!"

The voice she was speaking of answered her; its voice was emotionless and dry but sounded fluent nonetheless. The voice was very androgynous but very pleasant to listen to, even if, as said before, it didn't have a shred of emotion. However, this lack of emotion was what made the woman not trust that voice completely and have her reservations with it.

[Host, we've already been together for a month, and you have become an eight-level Mental Nourishing Realm Cultivator. Do you think I would strengthen you so fast if I wanted to do something evil? The most optimal path to control a person is to lead them through dangers while feigning to be their most important ally and letting that person gain dependence. Instead of doing so, I have been strengthening you more than I should have to show my sincerity.]

Chapter 208:

What waited for her outside was something that made all her brain functions stop except the ones that let her eyes roam around the seductive woman with a long dragon tail attached behind her and golden slit eyes.

The woman before her had facial features that incarnated seduction. Her slightly plum lips and charming almond dragon eyes stole hearts with a single look. The corners of her eyes were somewhat raised, and the golden-red irises and slit pupils charmed the soul of any mortal away once they peered into them.

Her skin was flawless and radiated a seductive aura. Just one look and one would be able to feel how supple, soft, and silky it would feel caressing it with their hand. The woman was sure that her hand would slightly sink as if it was jelly, making her eager to extend her arm to touch her.

When the woman's eyes went down, what greeted her was a body that made heat rise in her core. The large, jiggly, and soft-looking perfect breasts, accompanied by the revealing battle attire and the slim waist, were too much for our recently transported girl to take. The breasts looked soft enough to seem as if they were resting in the attire, giving off a mature seductiveness but perky enough to know that they would stand proud after they got free from their bindings, creating a mouthwatering landscape.

Moreover, the wide hips that looked perfect for being held and bearing children, short frontal miniskirt which almost showed the treasure land below it, and long and plump legs that invited the person to hug them complimented the voluptuous upper body in a figure that could arouse carnal feelings even in the purest of monks.

Seeing Yasenya so close started a fire inside the woman that sent almost any other thoughts she had away.

Meanwhile, Yasenya stood there, looking at the pretty but not overly beautiful woman that appeared and now was blushing so hard and looking at her so blatantly that left her slightly speechless. 'She is having the same reaction as mortals looking at me for the first time.'

Yasenia observed that the woman was short for her, at least 160cm tall, between Evelyn's and Angel's height. Her facial features were those that gave that "next-door-girl" feeling, approachable and cute. However, Yasenia was having a hard time discerning these features because of the current aroused face the woman was making in front of her. Yasenia almost laughed aloud, 'It has been quite a while since someone froze like this at my beauty~. I vented my rage by destroying those two beasts... But maybe I can play with this woman a bit to relax myself.'

Yasenia began walking toward the woman with her typical sashaying steps and swishing her tail, amplifying the charm she exuded when she just stood still. It was at this time that the beautiful triple-sectioned tail entered the woman's eyes. Seeing the extremely long tail woke her sluggish brain up enough to form some thoughts and hear something trying to call her back from her daze, 'W-what? A tail in a human!?''

Yasenia saw amusedly how the woman's eyes locked on her swishing tail like she saw something alien. Yasenia thought curiously, 'Is this the first time she sees a beast-human? Maybe she is a spoiled Noble girl that hasn't come out yet? She seems incredibly naive~.'

Yasenia found her guess quite accurate so she wanted to tease this noble girl even more. Yasenia spoke to her again, purposely making her voice more sensual, "Did the dragon eat your tongue~? Or are you scared of me~? If you keep looking at me so passionately... I may eat you up~."

The woman's face almost turned maroon with Yasenia teasing, and she began fidgeting. When they were five meters apart, the woman managed to get back to her senses thanks to the constant ringing noises inside her head.

[WAKE UP, HOST. HOST. REMEMBER WHERE YOU ARE HOST. HOST. ALERT. ALERT. MENTAL PARAMETERS UNSTABLE. AFFECTION PARAMETERS INCREASING EXPONENTIALLY. ALERT. WILL TO FIGHT HAS HIT ZERO. ALERT-]

The woman screamed in her head. 'SHUT UP. W-W-WHO IS FALLING IN LOVE WITH WHO? I'M NOT IN LOVE WITH THE DROP-DEAD GORGEOUS WOMAN BEFORE ME. I'M STRAIGHT!'

[Answering host with a sentence from your world. 'And so is spaghetti until it gets wet.']

The woman was speechless. 'Are you sure you aren't programmed to make jokes!?''

Yasenia stopped walking and looked interestingly at her reaction; you have to remember that Yasenia was extremely sharp when it came to reading feelings in other people, and her early Spiritual Breakthrough enhanced this quality. 'Why the sudden anger? And now stupefied? Is she talking with someone? Or is she bipolar? Since she likes me, I will have to use my charm to make her spill things~.'

Yasenia continued approaching until they were three meters apart and asked with the same sensual tone, "Cutie, Who are you talking to~? How about you share with big sister what you are talking about? If you do so... I may reward you~."

But, unlike what Yasenia thought, the woman felt a chill going up her spine, 'H-How did she know I'm speaking with someone!? Is she an Esper? Can she read minds?'

She tried to play the fool and spoke, "W-what are you talking about? Aren't only the two of us here?"

Yasenia raised her beautiful straight eyebrow, 'Hoh~. She is more cautious than I thought.'

Yasenia laughed charmingly, making the woman gulp. Then, when she saw that the blush was resurfacing on her face, she leaned forward slightly, creating an extremely tempting image, "Trying to lie to a dragon? You are quite gutsy, miss~."

Again, the woman's eyes opened wide, 'A D-D-Dragon!? She is a dragon!? What the hell did I meet?'

Yasenia moved her tail between them and said, "Is it so incredible? Have you never seen a dragon? Although we aren't that common, there are countless tales of dragons around the world."

The woman said instinctually, "How could I have seen a legendary creature like that!?"

[Host. Please stop speaking. The host is giving the female too many hints.]

The woman placed her hands on her mouth but knowing she was making things even worse like that, she began panicking, and tears began gathering in her eyes. 'S-System help! Will she kill me? Do we activate auxiliary mode?'

[Host. Relax, she doesn't have bad intentions. Moreover, it is impossible for her to guess you are an otherworlder with what you just said.]

Yasenia couldn't feel a shred of malice from this woman, and seeing her about to cry made her feel a little bit of empathy toward her. 'Maybe I've gone too far? She is truly a little bit naive and innocent... Sigh, let's try to relax her a bit.'

Yasenia stepped forward, hugging her into her soft embrace slowly to avoid scaring her. The woman's eyes opened wide when she felt her body pulled inside a warm, soft, and sweet-smelling embrace. 'HUH!? W-W-What is happening!?'

However, even if frozen in place, she instantly became intoxicated with the feeling of Yasenia surrounding her. Then, the slightly deep and mellow voice of the dragoness reached her ears. "I'm sorry for making you cry. Relax, I won't ask anymore, okay? Sigh, how can someone as innocent as you enter a secret realm?"

The woman felt extremely comforted and compelled by all of Yasenia's charming traits; her bottled feelings poured out. Even though nothing much had happened during this month in this unknown world, she had always been on the edge because she didn't know when will something kill her.

Moreover, she couldn't let out these feelings with the System because it wouldn't know how to console her. So receiving this soft but needed embrace, her tears escaped her eyes, and she began crying. "Waah! I'm so useless! He always tells me I'm stupid! I don't know what to do, and I don't understand anything! Everything here is so strange, and I don't know when will I die! Waah!"

Yasenia felt her cleavage getting wet and sighed. 'Maybe they've forced her into the secret realm? But we've only been some minutes here; she shouldn't be this distressed, right? That person she is talking about may be the person she spoke to before?'

Yasenia just patted her and used her Moon energy on her hands to relax her mind. Moreover, she positioned her tail across her spine, aligning it to absorb the excess energy and soothe her whole body.

After the crying outburst, the woman registered their position and flushed bright red. Her arms hugged the slim waist softly, feeling the dragoness's soft body directly, and her hands also slightly sank into the supple hips where they were currently placed. Moreover, her head was between those large breasts, and the smell there was making her dizzy with bliss. 'S-She hugged me!? W-Why is so comfortable between her arms!? W-Who is this woman, a goddess!? Wait, no, she should be a dragon goddess! She is so gentle, and beautiful, and nice, and caring, and she smells so good!'

[Host, although I can feel your positive feelings reaching record heights, I feel obligated to remind you that this woman's affection parameters are also extremely hard to decipher. We don't know her intentions, so please, be careful with her.]

The woman didn't separate from the hug and even tightened it. 'Aren't you something harem something system? You should be an expert with feelings! Why can't you decipher something like that?'

[Host, I'm the Harem Goddess System. However, as I explained before, this woman is like a blur in fate, and her soul is much stronger than yours. Moreover, it has protection from unique energy that constitutes one of the basic things of the Universe.]

Yasenia looked down at the brown-haired woman that has stopped crying but didn't seem to have the intention to separate. "Miss, although I'm sorry for making you cry and felt slightly responsible... I hope you don't take this opportunity to take advantage of me. I would like for you to release the hug."

Although Yasenia didn't mind, she didn't want to be too touchy with a recently met woman. Even if they were both women, she liked women and had wives. Therefore, intimacy with a woman was something that could be considered more indecent than doing it with a man. A little teasing, she didn't mind and also liked it, for Yasenia teasing girls was amusing.

But more private touching like they were currently doing was only reserved for people close to her. This time, she made a little exception to relax her, so she didn't mind. However, right now, she could feel the hands of the woman roaming her skin as if they wanted to feel her whole body, making her frown. 'She isn't as innocent as I thought.'

The woman was slightly ashamed, but her will wouldn't let her separate from the divine body between her arms. 'She smells so good, and it is so comfy, warm, soft, and... I feel protected between her arms... I-I don't want to leave her embrace....'

Yasenia pushed her slightly, but the woman tightened the hug. Yasenia's expression fell, and her eyes became somewhat cold and curt together with her voice tone. "Miss, please stop touching me."

Hearing the clear change of tone, the woman knew that she had stepped a bottom line, so she hastily left her embrace and stepped backward, looking at the floor with embarrassment. She unconsciously began not wanting to upset her.

Yasenia relaxed her stance slightly, 'At least she wasn't being shameless for the sake of it... Was my beauty too much for her? It wouldn't be the first time.'

Yasenia wasn't narcissistic but also wasn't ignorant of her physical appearance. If she went around saying that she wasn't that beautiful, she would look more ignorant than any other thing instead of humble. Therefore, Yasenia always used her appearance as an advantage. Be it for trading, buying, making allies, and sometimes against her enemies. Her divine beauty wasn't only something that made her dears happy, but a powerful weapon if used right.

Yasenia said, softening her tone, "Hello, miss. My name is Yasenia, a dragoness. Nice to meet you."

The woman looked at Yasenia's face and blushed again, 'She is too beautiful, aah!!!' "I-I'm S-Sarah, a human; nice to meet you."

Chapter 209:

Yasenia smiled and said, "Perfect! Now that we know each other names, this will be easier. So, Sarah, I don't want to offend you, but... Are you new to these kinds of adventures? Your movements are too rookie-like. Did your family or sect give you the entry jade?"

Sarah scratched her head, wondering how to answer, 'I can't tell her that I got a copy of the product from a shop that comes from a system, right?'

Sarah lied, "I-I found it in a secret tomb. A-Also, I'm a rogue cultivator. I don't belong to any family or sect yet..."

Yasenia's pupils thinned into vertical lines for a second and then relaxed. 'She lied... Let's test her then.'

Yasenia said with a smile, "I see. I come from the Heavenly Sect, and I got mine from them. You are quite lucky to be able to get one."

Sarah wanted to ask the system what the "Heavenly Sect" was, but she had to answer before that. Of course, she didn't react to the name and said, "T-That's nice; I wish I had someone to give me things like that, hahaha. I almost got into a big problem because of this!"

Yasenia's pupils thinned again, 'So little reaction to the Heavenly Sect? This is one of the supreme powers of the continent, and after hearing it, she seems more confused than anything... What a weird girl. Where does she come from to be this ignorant? Is she a young miss from a hidden family? Maybe she hadn't had contact with the outside until now....'

Yasenia secretly frowned, 'If that is the case, she must be either extremely talented or extremely powerful to be sent here alone... Wait, maybe she isn't alone and separated as I did with my dears. Yeah, that seems probable; after all, she was talking with someone earlier. She may have backup coming. I will have to be careful, or I may end up in deep trouble.'

Meanwhile, Sarah was receiving information from the system. [Host. The Heavenly Sect is one of this continent's top three human powers. They are closely followed by the Rising Talent Academy and the Demonic Sect. If her words are true, you could make friends with her to enter the sect and get resources to get stronger. Moreover, you could begin trying to court her with my assistance.]

Sarah blushed again, 'W-WHO WANTS TO COURT HER!? I'M STRAIGHT!'

Yasenia thought to herself, 'She is talking with someone again... Is she part of an ambush? But...'
Yasenia was a little speechless, 'She is blushing again. What the hell are they telling her? Maybe I'm better separating from her.'

Sarah didn't realize that she was taking too much time in her head and continued listening to the System while Yasenia patiently waited for her to speak again. Yasenia wanted to see a reaction that gave her bad vibes to decide with certainty if getting away from this woman was the correct move.

[Host. Her feelings have changed a lot. Although I can't sense anything drastic, I can feel that from an agreeable opinion, her feelings have become wary. But I can't decipher more... Not being able to sense someone's feelings is not something I find pleasant. Host, is this the feeling I'm feeling called frustration?]

Sarah didn't answer the system's question because her mind focused on another thing, 'W-Wary? Why would she? I haven't done something strange, right?'

Sarah looked at Yasenia, who was smiling with a natural yet seductive smile while looking at her. Sarah became a little shy, 'Why is she smiling like that? Does she find me attractive? Kyaa!! M-Maybe I can really court- Bah! I'm straight!'

However, Sarah spoke with a voice that had a slightly sweet tone. "W-What do you want to do from now on? W-We don't know the area around, so being two should be better, right? Do you want to go together?"

Yasenia was speechless, 'She is too easy to read... Like an open book. What the hell is wrong with this girl? Is she super intelligent and baiting me into something? Or is she really this gullible...'

Yasenia decided that she didn't want to do much with this girl, so she said, "I will go my way. I have to find my group fast before something bad happens to them. You should also do the same."

Sarah's face fell as if she was an abandoned puppy. "W-Why do you want to go? Am I a nuisance? I-I can help you! I'm stronger than I appear!"

Yasenia took out the communication device as Sarah spoke. However, when Yasenia took out the communication device to look for them, she felt it vibrating, meaning another device was nearby. Her heart gave a loud thump, and she almost couldn't control her smile, 'Someone is near?'

With curiosity, Sarah looked at that device and failed to see Yasenia's excited smile, 'An artifact?'

[Host, that device has been made with formations, blacksmith, and alchemy. It is handmade by that woman and another three people. It is something quite complex to have been done by young cultivators under forty years old.]

Sarah looked at Yasenia with awe, 'She can do everything~.' Of course, the 'another three' had gone in through one ear and out from the other without processing in her brain. 'S-System think a method to keep being near her; she may be our chance to look around the Secret realm with more security.'

Of course, her real intentions weren't something so complex. Sarah just wanted to be near Yasenia a little more time and was reluctant to be separated.

Meanwhile, Yasenia looked west, and a tender smile that weakened Sarah's legs appeared on her lips. 'S-So gentle looking! So gorgeous, so gorgeous!'

Sarah saw stupefied how a golden bullet zoomed toward Yasenia. She instinctively wanted to defend Yasenia, but her clumsiness made it so that she couldn't even draw her sword properly.

Yasenia felt her movements, but seeing them so amateurish, she was increasingly confused. 'So strange...' However, she had more important things to focus on, and that was her baby!

Yasenia opened her arms, and Angel jumped with strength toward her breasts head first. Yasenia expertly used her breasts as a cushion, rotating her body to kill Angel's momentum and her arms to hold her up, finishing with her tail to secure her.

Angel just felt like landing on an extremely soft mattress that stopped her momentum with a gentleness that only one person could give her. This was enough to tell Angel that the person she jumped to was truly Yasenia, and pure bliss filled her soul.

After three spins, Angel was now with her face at neck level and Yasenia's arm under her butt and around her waist. Angel hugged Yasenia with her arms and legs like a Koala and rubbed her face in the crook of her neck. "Yasenia~. Yasenia~. Yasenia~."

Yasenia's heart melted in a puddle feeling her baby so clingy, "I'm here, I'm here. Did anything go wrong? Were you in danger?"

Angel separated her face and shook her head cutely. "I just missed you... But now that you are here, I'm not afraid!"

Yasenia laughed gently, "How could you miss me if we only were away for some minutes? You are so cute, baby." Yasenia kissed her on the forehead, making Angel giggle happily.

Then, Yasenia turned toward the petrified Sarah. It was at this moment that Angel registered the surroundings. Before this moment, all her senses were too occupied, feeling Yasenia's presence in every way possible. Angel looked at Sarah with her cute face and tilted her head. 'There is already someone beside Yasenia?'

Sarah looked at Angel looking at her with her big droopy blue eyes and her beautiful, silky, shiny, and long blonde hair waving behind her softly. She almost clutched her heart, 'She is so cute!! Are all women in this world extra beautiful in their own way!? My heart won't last at this pace!'

Angel asked with her silvery voice, "Who is she, Yasenia?"

Sarah put a hand on her bleeding nose, 'Even her voice is cute; I want to hug her....'

Sarah's thoughts stopped because this cute girl had a pair of breasts that weren't very relative to her size. 'HUGE! Although Yasenia's are bigger, this cutie's breasts are enormous for her size!'

Yasenia felt her tail twitching, and she didn't know why. 'Is Evelyn also nearby? I'm confused.'

Yasenia looked at the communication jade without putting Angel down and saw that someone else was approaching. 'More dears nearby? Wow~, So lucky. I hope she is Kali or Evelyn... They are the ones that worry me the most, to be honest.'

Meanwhile, she answered Angel. "She is a person I just met. Anyway, look, baby, another person is approaching."

Angel looked at the vibrating artifact and pouted, "I wanted to have you for myself for a while...."

Yasenia laughed and rained kisses on her, "One more person won't take much of my time. Moreover, I rather meet up with all of them fast...."

Sarah froze again, seeing their actions. 'System, is affection delivered differently in this world compared to my previous one?'

[Host... The small woman's affection, love, and every positive feeling toward Yasenia are maxed out. Even her obsession is at 40%.]

Sarah gulped, 'A Yandere?'

[Host. You are wrong; she doesn't enter that parameter. Only when obsession is 100% does a person become a Yandere.]

Sarah sighed in relief, 'I'm at no risk of dying then... But...'

[Host. You can't surrender this early. You are bound to be a Harem Goddess conquering men and women alike with a single glance. Moreover, if you manage to earn her affection, it would be a big achievement.]

Sarah asked with eagerness, 'Did any mission generate?'

[Affirmative. 'Open The Celestial Dragoness's Closed Heart'.]

[Description: The dragoness, Yasenia, has closed her heart to any romance. Even if she may accept sex partners, her lover spots are closed for good. Your objective is to open her heart and make her love you.]

[Conditions: Having sex with her won't earn a complete status, you have to make her love you truly.]

[Rewards: Peak-level Dragon Bloodline. Constitution Upgrade to Unique Consitution. Control over the Sun, Star, and Moon attributes. Peer into the primordial and Unique Celestial attribute. The host will also gain the Celestial Dragoness Yasenia's undying love and protection. 1 000 000 000 points.]

[Failure: A fate worse than death after falling into her mother's hands.]

Sarah looked at the mission rewards with bewildered eyes. 'Is she the final boss or something!? The jade entry cost 1 000 points, and I thought it was expensive! One billion points!? Primordial attribute!? Undying love!? WTF!?'

Sarah's eyes gravitated toward the punishment for failing, and she was confused. 'Wait... A fate worse than death?'

Sarah asked, confused, 'How can falling into her mother's hands be a fate worse than death?'

[Host. I'm unable to answer since I don't know the answer. Her mother's fate is even fuzzier than Yasenia's. I don't think that even a God could peer into her fate.]

Sarah choked, 'Is her mother a Goddess or something!?'

Sarah looked at the mission again and asked, 'Does it have a time limit?'

[Negative. You can take as long as you want to complete this quest, host.]

Sarah was even more confused, 'This mission is too strange. How do I fail if it doesn't have a time limit? I could just accept it and let it there in case Yasenia falls in love with me, right?'

[Unable to answer, answer not known.]

Sarah sighed, 'This is... Too strange.'

She then looked at the charming Yasenia and was extremely tempted to accept. 'Wait... Why am I tempted if I'm straight!?'

[Host. You are wetter than a rain-soaked Barbet dog after just being beside her for some minutes. You were cooked like pasta just by her presence. Calling you mosquito coil in matters related to Yasenia wouldn't be an exaggeration.]

Sarah blushed bright red; right now, she really wanted to beat up the system. 'So what if I'm cooked like pasta!? Any person with eyes would be cooked if they laid eyes on her! How can someone not fall in love with Yasenia!?'

[Host. Stating facts won't do anything to change the fact that you became lesbian in twenty minutes after meeting her.]

Sarah exploded and said aloud, 'I'm not lesbian! I'm... I'm Yasexual!'

"..."

"..."

[Host. You said that aloud.]

Sarah blushed crimson and almost fainted in embarrassment. She carefully looked toward Yasenia and Angel with teary eyes and an erratically beating heart. 'I'm done for. I'm done for. I'm done for. I'm done for...'

Those were her thoughts until she saw Angel looking at her with strange praise in her eyes and a teasing smirk on Yasenia's face. Yasenia said with a mellow and charming voice, 'So you are Yasexual? Should I be flattered?'

Sarah's eyes rolled up, and she just fainted in embarrassment.

Chapter 210:

After Sarah fainted in embarrassment, the system, Yasenia, and Angel were stupefied. Yasenia asked, bewildered, 'Did she just faint in front of complete strangers because of embarrassment? Are her survival instincts those of a rock? If we wanted to do something bad to her, she would be in a really bad situation right now.'

Angel looked at Yasenia with sparkling blue eyes, 'You are that perfect, Yasenia! You made her heart have only you inside of it in the little time we have been here. Also, I like that term a lot; I will also call myself Yasexual!'

Yasenia's eyebrow twitched in annoyance. 'I hope this strange word doesn't spread....'

Our poor dragoness didn't know... That it would become a real word in the future, mainly spread by a certain group with a cute name that had a strange abbreviation.

Sarah woke up, and her nose twitched because she could smell that sweet fragrance surrounding her. 'What happened?'

[Host. You are being carried by the Dragon woman, another person seems to be approaching, and they are walking toward them while speaking. It appears that the dragoness has a harem herself.]

Sarah looked at Yasenia, who was carrying her, and blushed again. 'She is so beautiful... I'm not surprised she has a harem in a world without laws about it... Moreover...' Sarah felt around with her hands sneakily, and all she felt was very soft, silky, and pleasant to the touch. Sarah's body which was resting on Yasenia's, was in heaven feeling the person carrying her. However, she suddenly felt weightless and fell to the ground. "Ouch."

Yasenia had felt her awakening, and she wouldn't let herself be taken advantage of. She turned and looked at Sarah with a serious gaze. "Listen here, Sarah. I don't know if you are a spoiled princess from somewhere or if you have been spoiled rotten by your seniors, and you have become ignorant."

Yasenia said, crossing her arms under her bountiful chest, "We are inside a secret realm, an extremely dangerous place where death can greet you in every corner. A place where cultivators massacre each other to steal the treasures found here. And you are behaving like you are on a trip of some sort, unaware of your surroundings."

Yasenia continued, "You are honestly lucky I'm not someone that wants to take advantage of you. Else, you would be dead or worse. I don't mind you accompanying us, but you better not hold us back. Moreover, I will need some transparency when I ask you about some things. I understand that everyone has their secrets, but I will not tolerate you holding back information that may put me or the people I care about in danger."

Sarah looked at Yasenia's eyes which carried no emotions, and shuddered slightly. The pressure Yasenia's gaze could give when she was serious was no joke; for Sarah, it felt as if something was pressing on her head, making her want to lower it. Sarah nodded rapidly and said with a stutter, "I-I will listen to you, Yasenia. But please don't leave me behind. I-I'm alone, and I don't know where to go..."

Yasenia frowned, 'Why can't I feel that she is lying? Wasn't she talking with someone before? Or did she activate a skill to evade emotion-reading? I've heard about those skills, but they are honestly very rare. Am I overthinking something? Or did an important detail escape me?'

Yasenia didn't think about it much longer because she finally felt her other dear approaching. She saw approaching a veiled woman with a pair of big chestnut-colored fox ears and a long, fluffy green fox tail that seemed extremely well groomed.

This woman was tall at 173 cm and had a slim body with bigger than normal breasts and a round and supple butt. Her body figure approached perfection, and the aura around her made her extremely pleasant to look at, like a fox spirit walking in the mist. Moreover, the veil gave her this mysteriousness that tempted the viewer to uncover her secrets.

The flawless skin of her hands and her figure caught the gaze of the people that laid eyes on her. Everyone that looked at this woman would have that desire to see the face below the veil, being sure that a face that could charm men and women alike was hiding there.

Her dress was mainly green with some golden and pink accents. It was long enough to cover the entirety of her body, not showing anything but her hands to the world, and even these could be hidden under the long and wide sleeves.

Behind her, a three-meter-tall voluptuous lady with a long floral dress and a staff followed her. Her facial features were extremely gentle looking and even if she had a body of sin, it gave a motherly and protective feeling that everyone would want to get closer to. She truly looked gentle, like mother nature.

When Kali saw Yasenia, a big smile spread on her face under her veil, and she ran toward her with clear excitement. "Yasenia!"

Yasenia laughed, seeing Kali's enthusiasm, and opened her arms as she did with Angel. Kali didn't hold back and dove straight inside the dragoness's inviting embrace with a wagging tail and happily twitching ears. Her shyness toward Yasenia had almost disappeared after their last breakthrough in their relationship, and what was left was a deep love toward the dragoness that had taken care of her so well during these months.

After sinking in that soft, sweet-smelling, and protective embrace, Kali's smile widened, and she rubbed her face on Yasenia. Kali heard Yasenia's slightly deep and mellow voice beside her fox ears, making them twitch because she felt them pleasantly tingling. "I'm glad I met you early, honey. I was worried about you since you are the most vulnerable between us. Nothing happened, right?"

Kali's tail involuntarily curled around Yasenia as Yasenia spoke to her. Kali blushed slightly, 'I still can't control my tail... It becomes disobedient when Yasenia is around...'

Yasenia smiled and curled her own tail around the fluffy fox tail and kissed her forehead. Kali blushed a little more, but since the veil covered her face, she didn't mind and said, "I gained a lot of lost species of lost plants! Let me plant them in your ring; although I can grow them faster, I may mess it up without a perfect growing space like your ring. We will be able to make a lot of new pills, poisons, and medicine with them!"

Yasenia said, "Let's speak about this later, honey. Let me present to you our temporary companion. Sarah."

Kali's ears straightened, and she became alert, looking sideways through the veil toward Sarah. 'Yasenia met with another woman already? Will she become Yasenia's lover? Hmmm, she is pretty....'

Kali tightened her hug and presented herself, sounding a little passive-aggressive, and no one missed her tone. This was a result of her recently gained beast traits, which made her instincts a little wild. Similar to what happened to Cecile. "Hello, I'm Yasenia's wife, Kali. My dream is to become the most talented alchemist by her side."

Sarah became stiff, 'W-Wife? Isn't Angel her girlfriend? A-Also, a fox woman! She looks so fluffy!'

[Host. Are you ignoring me, or is your memory extremely short-term? She has a harem. You even answered previously.]

Sarah answered, 'R-Right. Yasenia telling me those things made me forget about it, sorry.'

Sarah curiously looked at Angel and saw her looking at Kali with a gentle gaze. [Host, it seems that the dragoness is able to maintain a harmonious harem. Angel feels very high friendliness and little empathy for the new woman; I'm unable to sense anything negative toward her besides a little bit of healthy jealousy. Probably because they are hugging.]

Sarah answered that she understood and said to Kali with a smile. "Hello. I'm Sarah, and I hope I get to know all of you better."

Kali nodded and turned toward Angel, "Hello, Angel. We were quite lucky finding Yasenia so soon."

Angel chuckled and approached them, diving between their arms. "Yup~. Did you find something interesting in the way, Kali?"

Kali chuckled and gently squished Angel between herself and Yasenia. Then, Angel and Kali began speaking. Yasenia separated from them and walked ahead, looking around for threats. "Honey, I found a giant scorpion. Well, it is over there. Do you want to take its poison sack? I didn't take it because I didn't want to kill it for nothing, but if you need it, we can go back and take it from it."

Kali asked Yasenia about its body characteristics to know if she needed it.

Meanwhile, Sarah remembered the enormous scorpion and asked the system, 'What are my chances against that beast? Or the giant Lizard?'

[Host. Your chance of defeating that scorpion is 81.2756% without taking into account external interference. Your chances against the Lizard are 93.3421%. The chances against the Lizard are higher because the scorpion's poison can become lethal in a surprise attack. Your lack of experience when fighting against creatures with complex patterns would result in lower chances of winning.]

Sarah was surprised, 'I'm quite strong then... Right? Even if I'm inexperienced, I have quite a high chance of defeating powerful creatures.'

[Host. Your potential is limitless. You could be much more stronger than you are right now, but it is true that experience with weapons is not acquired easily. However, I would like to remind you that there are weapon experience books in the shop. I recommend buying them whenever you can.]

Sarah nodded. 'I will, but the {10-year sword fighting experience} is quite expensive, even if it is the cheapest one. I don't even want to look at the price of the [1 000 years sword fighting experience].'

[Host, if you complete Yasenia's mission, you will be able to buy even the most expensive, {Mastery perfection in all weapons} book.]

Sarah frowned, 'Let me give it more thought; I feel that there is something wrong with that mission.'

Angel suddenly said, bringing Sarah out of her thoughts. "Right! Yasenia, I saw a town or something similar eastward from here. Should we look around?"

Yasenia said, "Wait a moment, baby; I think our communication devices are going to become functional shortly."

As Yasenia expected, one minute later, the communication devices glowed with green and blue energy and became functional. "Perfect~. Let's communicate with Evelyn first... Evelyn, Evelyn, do you hear me?"

On the Arctic Thunder mountain, Evelyn was waving her spear around as five cultivators of her level attacked her. The fight was intense as Evelyn seemed to be struggling to fight against them. However, her spear was extremely fast and blocked their swords continuously with very high accuracy. If the five people attacking her had paid more attention, they would have realized that even if she appeared to be struggling, Evelyn didn't have a single wound.

At the side, the Wolf Queen was overlooking the battle, Evelyn had told her not to interfere, so she was just looking. The Wolf Queen was slightly confused at this, but she had to obey her current master.

Suddenly, Yasenia's voice was heard from the communication device. Evelyn wasn't distracted by it and continued fighting, 'Oh! The device is finally functional. It is time to stop playing around with these fellas. They have served their purpose already.'

Evelyn had been just testing her strength against people who wanted to kill her, and she had realized that she was stronger than she initially thought, especially in this kind of environment. Now, it was time to finish the battle.
