

Heaven 221

Chapter 221:

When the blue lightning sped toward Angel, a colorful transparent dome appeared around her. It was the [Laser Prison Formation]. Unlike other times, it was smaller and more compact, adding sturdiness to it. She had also let the eight remaining golems outside of it.

Then, as a catalyst, Angel used the relatively small [Laser Prison Formation] to shoot a single laser toward each of the eight golems. "[Golem Explosion]!"

Thanks to Angel's precise control, the lightning and eight lasers simultaneously reached the position of the Golems. The eight [Glass Golems] shone with prismatic light as they burst outward with extreme might in a big yet controlled explosion.

The attack and the incoming lightning bolt smashed and competed with each other for a second. The thick blue lightning bolt was weakened after the terrible explosion, losing a lot of strength and size. However, it wasn't enough to stop it. Its current power was stronger than the second lightning bolt and carried terrifying momentum. Then, it reached the defensive dome.

BOOM!

Even after being weakened by the giant explosion, the lightning bolt's strength bent the dome as if it was a bubble, creating cracks around it. Angel coughed blood as she felt the strength behind the lightning bolt. 'So heavy!'

Nonetheless, Angel was determined to overcome this trial. The energy circulated Angel's meridians as Angel poured energy into the formation. Even if it was basically breaking, the dome barred the lightning's path toward Angel for some more seconds. However, it wasn't enough to stop the powerful attack. The bolt cracked the dome and shattered it after three seconds of struggle.

Then, the bolt accelerated toward Angel with slightly less strength than the original second lightning. But if Angel didn't do something, this strength was enough to kill Angel or, best case scenario, injure her gravely.

Angel's face didn't change, and her heart remained steady as she prepared her defenses and used another skill she had learned, [Glass Shield Reversal]. This skill would use extreme finesse and Glass attribute control to deviate an attack and, if done correctly enough, bounce it toward the original caster.

Angel received the lightning bolt with her shield while using this skill together with the [Glass Reinforcement] skill. Angel's movements as she deviated most of the lightning were elegant and light, like a butterfly dancing in the wind.

Our little girl managed to mitigate most of the lightning with that mastery in shield control. However, the strength of the Heaven Gate Lightning bolt was extremely high and still impacted Angel with extreme might.

Angel grunted in pain, feeling similar to being rammed by a carriage. Still, Angel's blue eyes kept their determination. She lowered her waist to avoid being blasted away, and her feet slid on the ground. Angel left the boundaries of the Heaven Gate as her legs and arms were crying with pain because of the extreme might of the lightning bolt. Despite that, Angel shouted with fighting spirit. "My Yaseenia hits harder than you! Scram!"

She made a short shout and pushed against it. "HA!"

BANG!

The lightning collapsed and disappeared, signaling the end of the trial for Angel. Her legs buckled, and her body fell to the ground, but Angel wasn't worried since she was sure that her body wouldn't touch the soil. And she was correct as an extremely soft body with a sweet floral fragrance engulfed her in her embrace strongly. Angel closed her eyes as she thought, 'En, between Yaseenia's arms, is the comfiest~.'

Moments earlier, Kali used her remaining treants and wood walls to slow down the extremely powerful bolt. She had previously used [Nature's blessing] on the treants to make them sturdier. However, the lightning was extremely powerful! It smashed against the eight treants and pierced through them one by one. Even when they were strengthened by the [Golden Crown] and Kali's [Overgrowth] and [Nature's Blessing], the treants could only slow down the bolt for some seconds.

Kali saw with a solemn expression as her treants were blasted into pieces one by one. Kali knew that challenging this Gate was playing with her life, but she didn't have intentions of losing her current happiness with the person that sunk her hand without hesitation in her muddy and corrupted heart and pulled her body out so she could breathe.

Yaseenia's naked pale skin, black pulsating veins because of corruption and fragile appearance after helping her fight her demons were engraved even deeper than the remaining Heart Demons. Therefore, her eyes now carried dignity and resolve as she saw the lightning destroying her summons with seemingly unmatched strength.

The lightning destroyed the eight Treants and approached Kali's six [Root Walls]. Our fox knew they wouldn't be able to slow down the lightning enough to make it bearable for her, but she wasn't worried because she had been preparing since the lightning began zooming toward her.

The lightning smashed through the walls as bullets pierced through the fragile glass. Even if it lost momentum after striking the eight treants down, its strength was still extremely high. One after another, the walls fell before Kali's tranquil green eyes.

When the lightning impacted against the last wall, it was somewhat weakened, but not enough for Kali to survive. As the bolt pierced through the wall, Kali chanted again and moved her hand upward, using a skill she learned from Anna and Eve. "[Nature's Embrace]."

This powerful skill summoned ten thick roots that grew as the cultivator's strength increased. Although they were incomparable to Anna's Titanic roots that dwarfed mountains, the ten fifty meter tall and five meter thick roots were imposing.

Then Kali commanded, her voice carrying hints of majesty in it. "Fall."

Following the Origin Fox's command, the ten roots smashed toward the approaching Lightning bolt. Still, the Heaven Gate's lightning bolt wasn't something to scoff at, and it clashed with the tall roots one after another.

Kali saw as one root after another was blasted into charcoal with serenity in her eyes. As she expected, the lightning came victorious from the clash. So, during the time the lightning was piercing through the roots, she had already positioned the five dryads in front of it. Although they weren't strong physically, they would slow it down enough for the [Golden Crown] to prepare. The Lightning bolt destroyed the five dryads and approached the three-meter-tall, voluptuous woman.

The spectators watched in awe as the [Golden crown] swung her coiling staff, commanding all nearby vegetation to stop it. The plants moved in the way and weakened the Lightning bolt even more. But even if the things Kali did were more than Angel's, the strength wasn't as high, so she needed even more. The lightning bolt managed to reach her last defensive measure, the [Golden Crown] herself.

Nonetheless, Kali's efforts hadn't been in vain. It was already extremely weakened by the time it reached the [Golden Crown]. Kali commanded calmly, "Destroy it, [Overgrowth]."

The big and sensual green lady's aura burst like a gentle tide, enveloping everything in her nature-like presence. Then, she made a simple thrusting motion with her coiling staff. The effects weren't as simple; the air around the staff twisted as the momentum it carried terrified many of the spectators. It was as if mother nature itself was punishing the lightning bolt that wanted to attack its master.

BANG!

The [Golden Crown] burst the remaining Lightning bolt into light specks, creating a beautiful picture. Kali instantly deactivated [Overgrowth], avoiding the [Golden Crown]'s death.

Kali didn't even have to move through the whole ordeal!

Another wave of comments burst in the surrounding.

"Terrible! Terrible! They are too strong!"

"That veiled fox-lady didn't even move! Truly abnormal! Didn't that lightning kill that powerful demon!?"

"Maybe the Heaven gate isn't that difficult. I refuse to believe that the first two to enter it are only in the eighth level!"

"Then how about you try it! Your mouth is very big, but is your courage as big!?"

"Do you want to fight? Not only my mouth but my other thing is big!"

"Right! Your belly!"

"I'M GOING TO KILL YOU"

"BRING IT ON!"

Kali turned around hastily. She had seen from her periphery Angel being blasted away, so she was worried. Kali really liked the cute little girl and didn't want anything bad to happen to her. However, when she saw Angel preciously cradled between Yasenia's arms, she was relaxed. The fox locked eyes with the dragoness, and Kali saw the prideful light in Yasenia's eyes. Seeing those golden eyes looking at her that way was all Kali needed in life. She blushed under the veil with happiness, and her tail wagged.

Angel had already received plenty of praise and kisses from the dragoness, so she was as happy as Kali. Being able to impress their dragoness was all they could ask for in this life. Angel left Yasenia's arms with reluctance and walked beside Kali toward the end of the Heaven Gate, but they didn't cross it. They looked back and waited for Yasenia.

The people that were still discussing Angel and Kali saw another person approaching the Heaven Gate. When their eyes locked on Yasenia's sensual and sashaying steps as she walked toward it calmly, their hearts pounded for multiple reasons.

Someone exclaimed. "Isn't that the Heavenly Dragoness!?"

"Ahhh! she is so beautiful!"

"Yasenia, look here!"

"I want your babies!"

"I want a dozen of them!"

Yasenia didn't refrain from these shouts. She looked over with a sexy yet natural smile and winked at them, making some people directly faint from excitement.

Someone suddenly said, "Wait, isn't she walking toward the Heaven Gate?"

The fainted fans came back to life out of worry. "No! Yasenia, don't go!"

"Whose S.L.U.Ts will we be if something happens to you!"

"Celestial Angelic Divine Firmament Peerless Dragon Goddess of the beginning, please don't go in!"

The people around spluttered upon hearing those comments. 'What the hell are they talking about? And what the hell is that title!?'

Yasenia looked surprised at them, 'How did my fan club enter the secret realm? Weren't they from the outer sect?'

Yasenia didn't know that her fan club had spread into the inner sect, recruiting more people into their cult- COUGH! to their completely normal and not suspicious Fanclub.

Yasenia was very fond of these girls, so she spoke to them gently. "Don't worry, I'm stronger than Angel and Kali, so I will be able to pass it."

The Fanclub girls looked wide-eyed at Yasenia, realizing that she had just spoken to them. And then they exploded with cheers, "Ahhhhh! The Goddess spoke to me!!"

"So gentle, so gentle, my heart is going to melt!"

"I want your babies!"

"I Love you!"

Yasenia chuckled and walked toward the Heaven Gate.

When she stepped through it, the pressure descended on her, making her stop. 'Strong, but if I go all out... I think I could move.'

But Yasenia didn't try it. She didn't want more than the necessary attention toward herself.

The first lightning bolt shot toward her.

The spectators focused and didn't see any defense being risen and were extremely worried.

"Goddess, be careful!"

"NO!"

However, when the lightning bolt was at mele range, they barely saw Yasenia's tail blur as it struck toward the lightning bolt enveloped in a golden light. "[Sunrise]."

BANG!

The lightning burst into light specks, and her tail absorbed the remaining energy. Yasenia still had the same charming smile on her lips and was completely unharmed!

The people's eyes almost popped out of their sockets.

"What is this strength!?"

"What did she do? I didn't see it!"

"KYA! I want your babies!"

RUMBLE!

The second bolt's sound stopped their cheers as they saw the Heaven Gate shoot the second lightning, flashing with increased momentum.

Yasenia just used [Sunrise] with her tail and coated the [Celestial Coat] around it. A golden flash followed by glittering white light specks lashed toward the approaching lightning bolt.

BANG!

The lightning burst into light specks again, and Yasenia's feet slid slightly backward, almost imperceptibly, leaving everyone speechless. They were so shocked that some had hiccuped, and before they regained their bearings, the third lightning bolt began rumbling at the end of the passway.

Yasenia looked at it with interest. 'Strong. But I can deal with it.'

Then the third bolt shot toward her.

RUUMBLE!

Yasenia activated her [Celestial Coat] and used [Wanning Moon] on her tail, giving it the chilling Moon attribute. Then, she consecutively used [Crescent Moon] twice, horizontally slashing her sword-tail left and right in an instant.

The two enormous silver crescents, enhanced by [Celestial Coat] and [Wanning Moon], superimposed and zoomed toward the Lightning bolt with tremendous momentum. The blue lightning and the silver crescents smashed each other

BANG!* *BANG!

The Lightning bolt won! But it was extremely weakened. Instead of attacking again, Yasenia took a step forward and punched toward it.

Her fist struck the bolt, coated with the [Celestial Coat]. The Lightning bolt didn't stand a chance as Yasenia's fist shattered it with dragon-like strength.

BOOM!

A shockwave spread around, blowing Yasenia's long black hair charmingly. Her golden eyes were looking forward as a small smile hung on her seductive lips. Countless hearts were stolen away at this moment.

Chapter 222:

After Yasenia overcame the trial, she stepped forward and sashayed her mouthwatering hips toward Angel and Kali. Both of them were blushing with an infatuated expression after Yasenia's powerful display. Even if beauty were very inviting, strength would always be an extremely attractive quality in the cultivation world. You could be ugly, but if your strength were high enough, the opposite sex and even sometimes the same sex would flock to you like moths to fire.

Yasenia had both divine beauty that transcended genders and trampling strength that transcended cultivation realms, making her the perfect partner in the eyes of those that witnessed her trial. This led to the crowd discussing with passion.

"What the hell!? She just smashed the bolts!"

"Kya!! SO HANDSOME I'M GOING TO DIE!"

"So beautiful that I'm drooling everywhere!"

"Can you be less graphic?"

"Oy, what are you looking at with that stupid gaze in front of your fiance!"

"I want your babies!"

"I want a dozen of them!"

One man beside that woman and her friend looked at them speechless, "Do you not know how to say anything else? You have been saying that you want her babies all the time."

Those two women almost had hearts in their eyes as they looked at Yasenia, and one answered, "But I want her babies."

The other said with a creepy laughing tone, "I want her to put her seed in me and bloat my stomach to a breaking point! Huhuhu, To give birth until my lower part is so loose that the babies would slip easily. Huhuhu."

The first one nodded and also laughed strangely, "That right. huekhuekhuek, to give birth to as many babies as needed to create a new race."

The man felt chills going up his spine and decided not to speak to those two crazy women again. Their eyes right now were very scary. 'Dangerous, Dangerous. There are some crazy people in this group.' Even if he wanted to refute that as a woman, Yasenia couldn't put any seed inside them. He didn't dare to speak to those two fanatics.

Thankfully, those two weren't the norm inside the S.L.U.T group, as the cult leaders- Ouch! Okay, okay, I understand. The "fan leaders" promoted responsible obsession toward Yasenia. Especially the secret and unknown leader of the Fanclub, who promoted an unknown term called 'Healthy Yandere' that every single one of them embraced with their arms wide open.

Meanwhile, Sarah was looking at the Heaven Gate with reservation. 'Can I pass through it?'

[Host. If you let me control your body, you would be able to pass through it. But remember that you have been in this World very little, and I can't take control many times, or I would destabilize your soul and body connection. So think if it is worth it.]

Sarah looked at Yasenia's back and her long and beautiful swishing tail. Her head told her to reserve this skill from the system for a dangerous moment, but Sarah's heart wanted to remain beside Yasenia. Even if they had been together for nothing more than a few hours, Yasenia's importance and presence in her heart had grown steadily. She took a deep breath and said, 'Okay, let's do it. Take control.'

[Order confirmed]

Sarah's expression turned extremely cold and emotionless, and she zoomed toward the Heaven Gate. Sarah was looking from the outside as if she was looking at a videogame in the third person as her body moved with surgical precision, not wasting any extra energy in any movement. It was as perfect as it could get.

Yasenia reached Angel's and Kali's side and felt an aura approaching from behind. When she turned back, she saw that Sarah was advancing toward the Heaven Gate. Yasenia frowned. Even if she was cautious of this naive girl, she didn't desire her death. 'Does she want to die?'

Yasenia shouted, "Sarah, stop! You can go through the Earth Gate just fine."

However, Yasenia stopped speaking, and her pupils constricted when she looked at her face. Yasenia's body tensed, 'Who is she? She is not Sarah. I didn't feel danger coming from Sarah at any moment. The current her is a completely different being.'

Yasenia not only felt danger but mortal danger coming from her. She observed Sarah's movements closely, and even if it was just a normal run, the feeling it gave Yasenia was that of perfect actions. Our dragoness thought that she wouldn't be able to move like that even if she put conscience in each and every movement of her muscles, at least not yet.

The people stopped discussing and looked at this new arrival with curiosity. "Sarah" arrived under the Heaven Gate and stopped moving after the spiritual pressure locked onto her, taking out a sleek and beautiful rapier.

The first lightning bolt shot toward "Sarah." Her aura flared, and all the basic elements rushed in front of her. Earth, water, fire, metal, and wood combined in front of her. Then, "Sarah's" voice sounded emotionless and cold as she chanted, "[Basic Elemental Defense]."

Then, the five attributed energy separated with extreme finesse impossible for someone at their level, creating five shields, each of one element. The water shield was translucent blue with round borders, looking like a shell. The fire shield was slightly demonic with pointy edges. The earth shield was a tower shield, big and sturdy. The metal shield looked elegant and solid, like a shield from a knight. The wood shield looked like a net delicately woven by roots.

The people around opened their eyes wide, "A quintuple attributed constitution!? Who is she!?"

"I didn't even know that it was possible!"

"This is something that hasn't appeared since the memorials of the continent."

"Why are there so many monstrous cultivators appearing!?"

What amazed them more was that when the lightning collided, it destroyed the five shields and disappeared. They didn't think that it was a coincidence as "Sarah" didn't even flinch or move. They had a chill going up their spines, 'She had perfectly calculated how much strength she needed to block it.'

Yasenia's expression was solemn as she looked at that display. 'Perfect body control, perfect skill control. Is she really Sarah? Or is there something more inside of her?'

The second bolt accelerated toward her, and "Sarah" waved her sword five times, her voice cold and emotionless. "[Five Elements basic Slash]."

The first slash sent a fire crescent, its temperature rivaling an average Sun cultivator's flame. The second slash sent a water wave with so much pressure that it would be able even to cut metal. The third, it lifted the earth before her and shot it toward the lightning bolt like a powerful landslide. The fourth summoned metal swords gleaming with sharpness and flew quickly toward the bolt. The final and fifth slash summoned roots comparable to [Nature's embrace] and whipped toward the lightning bolt.

The combination attack slammed against the lightning bolt and defused it perfectly, not letting it touch Sarah's body. The masterful control of the five elements left everyone speechless. They hadn't seen that mastery in their lives, not even when faced with their seniors.

Yasenia focused on "Sarah's" face; she didn't care how strong she was, but about her personality. The current Sarah only gave her the "Stay away from her or kill her." feeling.

The third lightning bolt rumbled and sped toward "Sarah," carrying that terrible momentum everyone feared. The system didn't even flinch as she used another skill, "[Juvenile Elemental Spirit Barrage]."

She waved her hand, and another five phantom Sarah appeared around her. Each of them had a different colored robe, hair, and eye color. The colors were red, blue, yellow, grey, and green. The system commanded, "Destroy."

Then, each of them slashed continuously with a different element, sending continuous projectiles toward the lightning bolt. The overwhelming amount of attacks rushed toward the lightning bolt and smashed it repeatedly, overpowering it. Even before it disappeared completely, the system waved her hand and dissipated the skill. The remnant attacks that were still mid-air impacted the lightning bolt until the last one exploded together with it. Then, the system returned the body control to Sarah.

[Host. It is done.]

Sarah spoke with a stutter, 'T-Thank you. But where did those skills come from? I-I don't know any of them.'

[Host. Those skills are skills that need extreme control in energy, only available to beings that are born from the World like me. I can't teach them to you yet. You have to unlock the perk [World's child] for ten million points.]

Sarah nodded internally, convinced. 'Those skills are extremely powerful, no wonder they cost so much.'

Then, she regained her original bearing and walked toward Yasenia with an embarrassed smile, 'How do I explain myself? I haven't shown such skill during the time I was with her.'

Sarah felt strange being looked at by Yasenia, her eyes were different from normal, but Sarah didn't understand why. 'Why do I feel a little bit of fear? Yasenia won't hurt me. Maybe she is speechless at my performance?' Then, thinking of the rewards Yasenia gave Kali and Angel, Sarah stated with a shy tone, "I managed to pass too!" Sarah was eager to receive praise from Yasenia too.

Yasenia was currently scrutinizing Sarah with all her senses, and all her body muscles were tense. If Sarah made any suspicious move, her head would fly. Thankfully, Sarah didn't decide to throw herself on Yasenia, or she would have truly died. The system felt Yasenia's hostility but didn't say anything for fear that its advice would doom Sarah. After using Sarah's body, it couldn't take over again at the moment since it would cause Sarah's soul a high amount of strain.

After Yasenia observed Sarah and saw that she was back to normal, her tension slowly dissipated. When Sarah looked at her with her normally infatuated expression and shyness and spoke those words, her guard lowered even more. Suspicions appeared on Yasenia's head. 'Is she possessed? Maybe a soul of a senior is inside her body? No matter how monstrously genius, it is impossible for cultivators of our level to control energy as efficiently as Sarah did. That is something in the realm of Mom and her peers.'

Yasenia confirmed her own thoughts with this thought, 'If she really is possessed, it would answer why she seems to speak to nobody and is reluctant to speak out about it. It would explain everything strange about her until now, but I can't be sure. I will have to be careful and not let the senior suspect that I know, or I may be in danger.'

Yasenia struggled a little bit as this woman before herself appeared shrouded in a veil of mystery she couldn't pierce through, a first time for our perceptive dragoness. Until now, Yasenia could see through even seniors at first glance, but the woman Sarah was something she couldn't grasp. Yasenia was frustrated as she thought, 'Is it the right choice to remain by her side? Keeping a variable this big beside me could lead to a terrible outcome.'

However, these thoughts just flashed through Yasenia's head for a total of five seconds. Yasenia smiled at Sarah gently and answered, "You are extremely strong. I didn't know that someone could have a quintuple attributed body. Your family has hidden you quite well, hahaha. It is reassuring having a strong fighter like you beside me."

Sarah blushed and spoke nonsense, "Y-Yeah, my family didn't want to trouble me, so I couldn't go out for a while. This is my first time outside."

Yasenia ignored her blatant lies and nodded, patting her head softly. Sarah squinted happily as she heard Yasenia's mellow and slightly deep voice. "Sarah, Angel, Kali, you've done a very good work. Let's enter the town."

Yasenia decided to keep her beside her for a while and take an opportunity in the future to get rid of Sarah. Not kill her, mind you. Yasenia wasn't sure what tricks that thing possessing her could have. Yasenia just wanted to separate and for each to go their way. 'I can't let the thing inside her know that I know about it. Seniors like that would want absolute secrecy about their condition, so I would only become a target if I reveal that I know about it.'

At the same time, as misunderstandings piled up for Sarah, they all nodded and walked inside the Town, side by side.

Chapter 223:

When Yasenia, Kali, Sarah, and Angel crossed the Heaven gate, an aura surrounded them, which attracted the surrounding dense energy toward them. Yasenia felt extremely comfortable with this, and the [Celestial Pear] in her dantian spun slowly, absorbing the aura passively.

The others also felt extremely good, as if their pores were breathing and their lungs could hold more air. The energy gathered in them, and they could feel that they had advanced toward the next level by a big chunk. Yasenia also realized that the Pearl in her dantian gained a little of its previous majesty.

After her vision, the beautiful tricolored swirling Pearl had become somewhat dull, and no matter what Yasenia did the last week, it didn't even move. The golden, silver, and white that composed the Pearl also stopped moving. However, this event 'resurrected' the golden color, restarting its movement in the Pearl. Yasenia smiled gleefully. She was confident in grasping the basics of the Celestial attribute with her next contact with it.

Yasenia and the other's vision flashed white for a second, and then they appeared inside the town. They looked around and were shocked. What greeted them wasn't an abandoned town or a ruined place. It was quite the opposite.

There were a lot of buildings in perfect condition in front of them and a street that divided in two about a hundred meters in the distance. The roads were made of rock slabs and were wide at least two-hundred meters.

However, the thing that made Yasenia and the rest open their eyes with shock was the mortal people walking on the streets. There weren't a small number of people. It was bustling with all kinds of commerce, entertainment, and things you would see anywhere else.

Moreover, the cultivators that entered through the other gates were also present right beside them. Yasenia laughed at the absurdity, 'Did we have no benefit besides the cultivation boost? I can't complain since it let me increase almost a quarter of what I needed in total, but...'

Leaving the disappointment that she felt about the rewards apart. There was one thing that Yasenia didn't know.

Yasenia lifted her beautiful straight eyebrow and said with wonder, "This is quite unexpected. I didn't know that people could live inside a secret realm."

Angel said, "look, the aura around the cultivators is visible, and depending on it, the residents treat them differently."

Sarah asked, confused, "But it is disappearing, right? Look at us; the purple aura around us is getting thinner by the second."

Yasenia tapped the floor with her tail, "It may be the energy we couldn't absorb after crossing the Heaven Gate or the others. Look at that person; after crawling through the Waste gate, she doesn't have anything around her. Those from the Mortal Gate have a thin layer of green energy. And the ones that passed through the Earth Gate have a thick layer of blue."

Angel chuckled, "We are like lanterns with this amount of purple around us, hahaha."

Kali frowned, "I hope there are more rewards than being treated well by people for crossing the Heaven Gate. I almost had to sacrifice my [Golden Crown]. I really don't like when she dies."

Yasenia looked at Kali awkwardly, "Sorry for blasting her into pieces in our first spar, honey. I will try to control myself in the future." Yasenia even looked at the three-meter-tall green voluptuous woman that was basically a copy of herself and bowed, "Sorry for destroying you."

There was a flash in the [Golden Crown] 's gentle green eyes that no one realized, but she didn't answer Yasenia's apology. Kali was somewhat sad that she didn't react, but then she smiled under the veil, caressing the elegant and beautiful big green hand, "Little by little. I'm thinking of a name for you. I hope it will give you more intelligence when you hear it."

Yasenia looked at both of them gently. She didn't mind the appearance of the [Golden Crown]. Yasenia took it as Kali's growing feelings for her materializing in the most precious summon, filling her with sweet feelings for her little fox. Yasenia hugged Kali, entangling their tails, and kissed her over the veil. Then, she said, making them refocus. "We can only discover what our rewards from crossing the Gate are by speaking with the residents. They should know something even if they are mortals. Let's go."

Kali and Yasenia separated, and they all walked out from the Heaven Gate. The mortal people's eyes changed toward them. The eyes were filled with reverence and worship as if they were gods walking on the earth. Kali was somewhat nervous, but it instantly disappeared as she was flanked by Yasenia and the [Golden crown]. Angel was grabbing Yasenia's other hand and skipping happily, and Sarah followed from behind, looking curiously at the middle-aged-like Chinese architecture. 'A cultivation world indeed. I haven't seen civilization in a month.'

Yasenia naturally didn't mind the different gazes she received and continued sashaying toward a store on the roadside. From a distance, Yasenia could see that it was a pill store. She was curious about the quality of pills and other things in this town. 'They are mortals, so I shouldn't expect anything interesting.'

When they arrived in front of the pill store, another cultivator was speaking with the person in charge, so Yasenia intended to wait. But to their surprise, the seller instantly looked toward them and spoke enthusiastically. "Great Immortals, thank you for coming to our store! What can I help you with?"

The man speaking with the shopkeeper was first surprised, then angry. He raised his tone and berated the shopkeeper. "You filthy mortal! We haven't finished the deal yet, so why are you speaking with them?"

The shopkeeper sneered and said, "Who are you in front of the distinguished immortals? Wait at the side or go away before the respected immortals become angry!"

The man's face became red because of anger, and he took out his sword. Yasenia at first wanted to intervene, but after seeing him take out his sword, she shut up and looked with interest. The man said, "Even if you are a mortal, I was giving you face since the pills here are good, and I didn't want trouble right after entering this town. But who can bear this humiliation!? So, no more bargaining. Give me every single pill in your house or face death!"

The shopkeeper didn't even flinch at the cultivator's aura as if something was protecting him. Yasehia realized and was even more interested than the man blinded by rage. However, she asked out of courtesy, "Do you need help, mister?"

The shopkeeper shook his head and said, crossing his arms above his fat belly. "Do not worry, respected immortal." Then, he turned toward the man and said, "I wouldn't make trouble if I were you. Put down your sword."

The man laughed arrogantly and said. "Trouble? A mere mortal is threatening me!? Ha! You are the one in trouble! Since you are so eager to die, take this!"

The man slashed toward the shopkeeper with the intent of beheading him. Yasehia stepped forward and blocked his sword with her tail. Even if the shopkeeper was safe from the aura, she couldn't guarantee it would be the same for a sword strike. Moreover, a mortal couldn't react to such a fast sword no matter what defensive treasures they had.

Clang~

A melodious sound of metal colliding together echoed around, and the man's sword bounced. The shopkeeper didn't know what happened until Yasehia spoke with the surprised man in her slightly deep and charming voice, "Let's not make trouble in this town. We don't know what dangers lurk around yet. How about I speak with the shopkeeper to let you go first? I don't mind waiting for my turn."

The man looked at Yasehia up and down, and a lustful light flashed in his eyes. He had entered the town before Yasehia. Accordingly, he didn't witness Yasehia's trial.

However, he wasn't blinded by lust. Even if Yasehia's seductive beauty tempted even the purest of people to commit sinful crimes, she had just blocked his sword rather easily, so she shouldn't be a weak woman. Therefore, he answered calmly, his eyes still roaming around Yasehia's mouthwatering curves. "At least junior sister is sensible! How about we go together and investigate the town together?"

Even if Kali wanted to gouge his lecherous eyes out, Yasehia ignored his gaze and answered with a smile that made his heart quicken, "I would pass the offer, senior brother. I hope we can each go our way without problems."

He didn't insist for the moment and turned toward the shopkeeper, ordering. "You heard her! Keep showing me your merchandise. I want to take a look."

The shopkeeper smiled, making his small eyes on his plump face almost disappear, and answered curtly. "I refuse. You just tried to kill me. Who will sell you anything? Go away from my shop and let the respected immortal way."

Anger rushed back toward the man even stronger than before, and he shouted with a cold voice, "Then die!"

Yasehia didn't intervene this time. She tried to give everyone a peaceful option once; she won't bother the second time. She isn't their mother, after all. Yasehia jumped backward, and the other three followed.

The sword flashed like lightning toward the neck of the unaware and still smiling shopkeeper, but before the blade touched his skin, a bolt of tyrannical green lightning struck from the sky, hitting the man instantaneously.

BANG!

Nobody could even react before the lightning carbonized the man, stopping the sword just before the shopkeeper's neck. The shopkeeper's small eyes were calm as he sighed and said, "I did try to warn you. You shouldn't make trouble."

Yasenia and the rest were truly frightened. This lightning wasn't something Yasenia could go against even if she went all out, not to mention the others. They couldn't even see when it struck the man. The strength behind it was in another dimension compared to the lightning they fought against in the Heaven Gate. It was less than an instant, and the man changed from healthy to charcoal.

Yasenia was still sweating as she said extremely seriously, "Be extremely careful with your actions-"

BANG!* BANG! *BANG!

Another three green lightning bolts repeatedly smashed on different parts of the town, announcing the death of three cultivators. Yasenia looked warily at the shopkeeper and asked, "How is the lightning triggered?"

The shopkeeper was extremely respectful and answered honestly. "Your excellency, the divine lightning is triggered if you try to harm a citizen lethally or irreversibly; this includes torture or any kind of intentional malicious harm. Trying to abuse someone sexually or harass people in the city would also trigger divine lightning. Finally, cheating when challenging the trials in the city will also trigger the divine lightning."

Yasenia's eyes locked with the merchant's, giving him a sensation of pressure. Even if he had protection Yasenia's gaze was extremely penetrating. After confirming that everything he said is true, she asked one final question. "Did you leave anything out?"

The shopkeeper gulped and said, "No, I haven't respected immortal."

Yasenia and the shopkeeper kept looking at each other for five seconds until Yasenia's thinned reptilian pupils returned to their normal state, and her body relaxed. She was fairly confident that the man wasn't lying. Yasenia approached with a smile, making the shopkeeper release the breath he didn't know he was holding. Yasenia chuckled and said, "Sorry for scaring you. I can't let anything happen to my dears because of an oversight, can I?" By the way, you spoke something about trials right now. What is that about?"

The shopkeeper laughed and explained, "I can understand your position since the lightning is truly terrifying. This town has various spots where you can challenge yourself. We call them the divine monoliths! The trials will be stronger and more lethal depending on the door you entered. However, the rewards will be higher if you complete them."

Yasenia continued to ask. The other three had naturally left the leader role to Yasenia, so they were listening from the side with attention. "Do those divine monoliths disappear once someone completes them?"

The shopkeeper shook his head, "The trial doesn't disappear, but the rewards may run out, and even passing a higher level trial may reward you with lower tier objects."

Yasenia smiled, and her eyes flashed with a cheeky light and asked, "Can the opposite happen? The low-level rewards run out, and they earn higher-level rewards as a result?"

Kali and Angel were confused. Yasenia spoke that sentence in at least five different languages.

The shopkeeper shook his head, "They can't. If there aren't any rewards of their level or below, they will just receive a small boost in cultivation. But these respected immortals shouldn't worry since there hasn't been a shortage of treasures since the beginning of the history of our town. Therefore, there is always something to gain. Right, not all trials give rewards, so read them carefully."

Yasenia asked with interest, "How could you understand me? I spoke different languages in that sentence that shouldn't be common in your town."

The shopkeeper was surprised and then laughed, "You are an intelligent immortal. We are given special spring water at birth that allows us to understand and be understood no matter the language we speak. There are very few exceptions, but it works most of the time."

Yasenia was surprised, "Such a Heavenly Treasure exists? How could I get some?"

The man shook his head, "It doesn't work on immortals. At least not the one found here."

Yasenia nodded; she trusted this man. Then, our dragoness asked some of the key questions...

Chapter 224:

After hearing that the special spring water didn't work, Yasenia didn't insist. She trusted this shopkeeper. Then, our dragoness asked some of the key questions, "What influence do I have for passing through the Heaven Gate? I've seen the priority treatment, but what other advantages do I have? Also, can cultivators kill each other, or will the lightning strike us down? Finally, the purple aura around us is almost gone; how will people identify us as Heaven Gate level cultivators?"

The shopkeeper was patient and answered everything truthfully, "First, your question about fighting with other cultivators. Cultivators can kill each other and steal the treasures gained as they do outside. The divine lightning won't attack or meddle with those actions. However, I would recommend being careful with the bystanders. Your excellencies, accidental deaths may trigger the lightning."

The shopkeeper continued, "Also, we can recognize from which Gate each cultivator went through like an instinct, so don't worry about it."

Yasenia nodded with thanks. The shopkeeper continued speaking, "The benefits of crossing the Heaven Gate are the following."

"First, you have priority when buying things. Even if someone is just about to buy something or make a contract, you can snatch it merely by speaking with the seller. Of course, it only affects trade between cultivators and townspeople."

"Besides that, everything you buy will cost thirty percent less. Us townspeople don't want to sell our goods to unworthy cultivators. Therefore, you can see merchandise other cultivators won't be aware of."

"You can challenge any number of trials without limit, unlike the people that went through the other Gates. In my opinion, this one is the most important. "

"Finally, you have some leniency against the Divine Lighting. For example, accidentally killing residents during a fight won't trigger the lighting for you unless the damage is great, or you did it with malicious intentions."

Yasenia and the others were stupefied, 'So many advantages!?'

Yasenia wanted to confirm something about the last point, "What if I make someone kill townspeople with the intention of the Divine Lightning striking them?"

The shopkeeper looked at Yasenia with raised eyebrows, "That is quite a dangerous question."

Yasenia nodded and said with a sincere smile, leaning on the counter and resting her big and soft breasts there. The man's gaze couldn't help but slip from time to time there. Yasenia said with a pitiful tone that softened the bones of the people that heard it. "I'm worried about falling into the trap of other cultivators. I have a lot of enemies."

The shopkeeper was a mortal man, so he was very weak to Yasenia's seduction. He struggled a bit, but after seeing the pitiful look on Yasenia's gorgeous face, he was swayed and said in a low voice, leaning forward. "You won't be struck if you do it that way. But please, don't tell anybody I told you about it."

Yasenia smiled like a flower, stealing the man's breath away, and she tap-kissed the shopkeeper's chubby cheek as if it were the tap from a dragonfly, petrifying him on the spot. "Thank you for telling me, mister. I will remember this favor."

The chubby man blushed and scratched his cheek with his finger. No matter how old, young, naive, or experienced, man or woman, receiving some affection from our dragoness was deadly to any mortal person. The feeling of her plump and soft lips was something unforgettable.

Sarah was again uncomfortable at Yasenia's flirty nature. Still, after not seeing a single fluctuation in Angel's expression or Kali's body language, she didn't say anything and kept that feeling inside. Angel and Kali had done some business with Yasenia during these months for their shop in the Rita Academy. They had witnessed their dragoness use her charm in many ways to get them good deals.

Needless to say, our dragoness never went over the edge of intimacy and had a good sense of self. Yasenia only did things that even strangers would do, be it seductive gestures and glances, slight skin exposure as a "mistake," some hugs, or like this time, some surprise tap and quick kisses on common places like cheeks, forehead, or hands. This would normally make the person speaking a deal with you frown or get angry. However, if used timely and when Yasenia did it, these gestures made the person receiving it eager to taste that fluttering intimacy again, making them more enthusiastic to please the dragoness and receive these rewards.

The people that received this treatment were those much weaker than Yasenia. Yasenia knew she could charm them easily, so she didn't mind doing little tricks to gain favorability. However, she used her high intellect and business talent to cope with similar cultivators or people stronger than herself.

Yasenia's lovers have never minded. On the contrary, they thought highly of Yasenia for thinking of ways to use everything at her disposal as a powerful tool and get them extremely good deals. They also knew Yasenia would never do something truly intimate, so they had their hearts at ease.

The reason for this confidence was first that they knew that Yasenia would never do something that would hurt them. Moreover, once there was a person who tried to take advantage of her, and well, let's leave it as it didn't end well for that fellow.

Kali approached and asked curiously, taking advantage of the fact that the shopkeeper was receptive to their demands. "What are the benefits for cultivators crossing the Earth Gate?"

The shopkeeper looked at Yasenia's beautiful golden slit eyes, looking at him with "hidden" eagerness, and he was encouraged. He patted his big belly and said with scorn. "Compared to the beautiful immortals, they are just trash. Those that went through the Earth Gate will have priority in buying but only with the lower level gate cultivators. Everything will have a pitiful ten percent discount. They can also try each trial a total of seven times at most, not to mention their rewards are much lower."

The four of them took a deep breath; the difference was gigantic. Yasenia said jokingly, "The difference is truly like the distance between Heaven and Earth."

The man laughed, "Of course, who can compare with talented immortals like your esteemed self?"

Angel and Kali chuckled, and Sarah was just silent, cursing the man for being a pervert in her mind. Yasenia asked with a chuckle, "Well, since we are at it, could you tell us about the other two gates?"

The shopkeeper nodded with a smile, "Of course! You can ask as much as you want. The Mortal Gate benefits are to be able to try each trial three times. And the Waste Gate doesn't have any benefits and will also have to pay as much as we ask for anything they buy... Well, we, residents, quite despise them, so they also have a hard time buying anything."

The last sentence dripped with contempt and disgust. Yasenia suddenly realized something important. 'Wait, isn't this the first time this secret realm opens on our continent? Why is the shopkeeper speaking as if cultivators passing by is very common.'

Yasenia thought for a moment and then made a thoughtful expression as if she doubted if to ask something or not. The shopkeeper was very keen and saw Yasenia struggling to ask something, so he advised. "You can ask anything you want, beautiful immortal. Even if you wanted to have my wife, I wouldn't mind giving her to you!"

All of them but Yasenia entered a coughing fit. 'What did he just say!?'

Yasenia didn't react because she heard the joking tone, but she also couldn't laugh because it had happened in the past. You can imagine Yasenia's surprise when she saw a naked woman in the reception area looking at her with eager and passionate eyes. 'I then heard she almost beat her husband to a pulp because I refused her offer to do it. I think she beat him because she thought I rejected her because the deal he gave me was not good enough or something similar.' Yasenia coughed and refocused.

The shopkeeper laughed aloud and said, "It was a joke! However, the first part of the sentence is not. Your excellency can ask whatever you want, and nothing shall happen to you, I swear it to the heavens!"

They were speechless for a moment, and Yaseenia secretly smirked. 'He was already quite honest, and now he will practically tell us anything if I ask smart enough.'

Then, she put on a cautious expression and asked. "Do cultivator waves pass this town often? You speak as if this wasn't the first time that cultivators visited this town."

Kali, Angel, and Sarah didn't understand Yaseenia's question for a moment until something clicked for Angel and Kali. 'Right! We've just entered the secret realm; it is impossible for someone to come here before us.'

Thankfully, Sarah had the system to solve her doubts. After hearing the system's explanation, Sarah nodded and paid attention. The shopkeeper answered, "It can't be said to be often, but at least once every 100 years. Sometimes more, sometimes less. But in general, every century, there is a batch of cultivators that passes through the gates. This is my second time seeing cultivators, hahaha."

Sarah blurted without consideration, "How old are you?"

Yaseenia's face didn't change, but she internally frowned, looking at her speechless, 'Don't you have manners? Asking someone's age is extremely rude.'

Asking the age of someone in the cultivation world was quite private since you could more or less guess talent, strength, and knowledge with it. For example, you would be more respectful to someone at the beginning of the Unification realm when they are 40 years old than to someone that is 200 years old and on the same level. The first is a young talent, and people would look up to them, and the second is a failure that got stuck in that realm, and people would look down on them.

However, because he was a mortal, the man wasn't angered and answered truthfully, "I have 214 years of age, young miss. I will probably retire before some cultivators appear here again."

Sarah was surprised, 'He looks so young! Isn't he a normal human without cultivation? How can he live for so long?'

The man answered the unasked question. "Even if we can't cultivate, the rich energy inside the town gives us enough vitality to live between 350 and 400 years. Nothing is perfect, though. I heard that our fertility is lower than the humans on the outside. Still, we are all happy."

Now that everything was clear, Yaseenia said with a smile and a more respectful tone, straightening herself from the counter. "We've spoken so much together we should buy something to compensate senior! Could you show us what you are selling?"

The shopkeeper became enthusiastic and began speaking in length about his products. "We have all kinds of pills! Strengthening, energy gathering, aura concealing, beautifying, healing, blood replenishing, attack pills, and many more."

Yaseenia's thoughts focused on one of them and asked eagerly, "Beautifying pills? Which one do you have? Do you have any to remove scars? Maybe you have the [Beauty Pill] in reserve?"

The man saw how eager he was and said, "Pills that remove scars on a cultivator are difficult to create. But we had some that make the skin softer, the pores smaller without affecting body functions, the hair sleeker and fluffier, and other small improvements."

Yaseenia wasn't discouraged and asked, "Are the changes permanent?"

The man looked at Yasenias as if she had just said something barbaric. "They aren't. Pills that give permanent enhancement to appearance are extremely precious, rare, and difficult to make. They are different from healing pills as the healing is restoring the body, the enhancing is modifying the body and genes of the person."

Yasenias shoulders slumped sadly. Kali hugged her arm and said lovingly, with her tail wagging happily. "Don't worry, Yasenias. After that day, I'm caring less and less about it. Moreover, thanks to your Yang energy and my transformation, the scars aren't as scary as before. It is more than enough if I have you by my side."

Yasenias looked at Kali with a gentle smile, and Kali said with a shy tone, "Also... I like when you lick my scars. It is very comfortable."

Yasenias hugged her and laughed softly. Then, she lifted her veil to kiss her scarred lips once lovingly. "I'll find a [Beauty pill] sooner or later. My honey has to be perfect and happy."

Kali hugged Yasenias tighter and subconsciously let cute sounds escape her throat, rubbing her face on Yasenias's shoulder.

The shopkeeper smiled apologetically, "Sorry for not being able to fulfill your expectations, but from the glimpse I got of her scars, I don't have anything that can help you."

Yasenias nodded in understanding. She had heard from Avalonia that Kali needed a very high-rank pill, similar in rarity and strength to the [Beauty Pill], to heal her. Then, she continued looking at the different pills and asking the price.

Chapter 225:

Yasenias walked into the shop and looked at the cabinets full of pill jars with different tags. A magic-level pill ranged between one and ten Trail points. An earth-level one sold between 20 and 50 trial points. Finally, heaven-ranked pills ranged between 100 to 1000 trial points.

Yasenias doubted her eyes. How could a single pill cost so much? Although she didn't know how many points could be gained from the trials, these numbers seemed exaggerated. Thankfully, they had a thirty percent discount on everything they bought.

Yasenias observed the three most costly pills. The first one was a [Fire Lightning Burst Pill], an attack pill that exploded with powerful fire and lightning. The tag below the decorated pill jars had their names on it. The description said that even Nascent Soul realm cultivators would be damaged if they were not careful. Yasenias remembered that the Nascent soul was the ancient way of calling the Unification realm, so her face was solemn. 'What if someone buys it and uses it against me? I will have to be on guard.'

Attack pills were a concept very obsolete in the Sky Continent since talismans were better in every way possible. Fabrication cost and speed, strength, casting speed, effects, and the materials needed to create them, no matter which area you compared them, talismans were better than their pill counterpart. Therefore, the practice and recipes to make attack pills were mostly lost with the passage of time. Nowadays, only a handful of unknown and low-level alchemy families taught their descendants this kind of knowledge.

The other two 1000 Trial point pills were named [Soul bewitching pill], an extremely potent aphrodisiac that could make the person affected by it unable to live without the person that relieved them from it. Even after the pill's effects disappeared, and the victim received more pleasure from other people, an unbearable itch would still remain in their soul, and only the Yang or Yin energy the victim tasted when this pill was in effect would be able to calm it. Yaseenia's face was ugly reading the description. 'This pill is too dangerous. I don't know to what extent this description is accurate, but if there exist similar pills...'

Yaseenia said to the others, "We won't eat anything in this town unless we make 100% sure that it is safe to eat it." They were confused, but after reading the pill description, they all nodded seriously.

The other was simple but very powerful. Its name was [Nascent Soul Advancement Pill], a pill that aided energy gathering for the breakthrough into the Unification realm.

Yaseenia continued looking around and was very impressed. The quality of the pills ranged between eighty and eighty-five percent. Yaseenia wanted to ask who made these pills since the town residents were mortals, but she held the question for the moment. She wanted to see if the other shops in the city had this quality of pills or if they had been lucky enough to find the best alchemy shop in town.

Yaseenia didn't find anything she needed urgently or lacked after looking around for a while. The variety and amount of pills she received on her birthday were enough to last for a long time. Still, there were a lot of rare pills she had never seen before. The effects varied from what she had, but they weren't much better than what she knew. Therefore, she asked. "We aren't in need of pills for the moment, but we are interested in pill recipes. Can we buy any?"

Yaseenia thought that, even if the effects were similar, maybe the production methods, ingredients, or time needed to create them were better from what she knew. Moreover, Yaseenia was sure that senior alchemists could become stronger after seeing how the pills were made in ancient times. Yaseenia smiled expectantly. 'I hope they can help mom when I return with them.'

The shopkeeper laughed, "You are a sharp girl. That is the extra merchandise only for Heaven Gate cultivators! You can buy any recipe as long as you have the resources."

Yaseenia told Kali to take a look with her. Kali came to her side eagerly and began consulting with the man. Kali became more impressed the longer they spoke and turned around happily. "Yaseenia! He has a lot of lost recipes! If we take these back to the academy, it will make our lead in alchemy soar!"

Yaseenia was happy that Kali thought the same as her. She looked at the man and asked, "How much for each recipe?"

The shopkeeper said generously, "I can see that you are good seedlings. Hence I will ask for 400 Trial Points for Magic Ranked recipes, 1000 trial points for Earth Ranked recipes, and 5000 Trial Points for each Heaven Ranked recipe, no matter the rarity."

Yaseenia didn't argue with that price, she would go to other alchemy stores first, and then, when she had a general idea of the prices in the city, her bargaining would begin.

Yaseenia and the rest asked for directions to the nearest monolith. The shopkeeper told them where to go. They bowed and said, "We will be back! Thanks for everything, senior." The man laughed happily and waved, looking at them leave.

Yasenia's group walked around the streets in the direction of the monolith. After those initial four lightning strikes, there were another five, but they weren't worried. They now understood its nature, and how many advantages they had for crossing the Heaven Gate, so they were rather relaxed.

They observed the different shops, people, and buildings as they walked. There were only humans in the streets beside the beast-human cultivators walking around. Yasenia observed that the number of cultivators had exponentially grown after they entered. They had been almost an hour in the shop, so they were rather impressed at the increased number of cultivators.

After walking for five minutes, they arrived at the place with the monolith. This monolith was not too tall at five meters tall and was engraved with complex formations. Yasenia thought it was not too tall because she could see monoliths that went over the buildings in the distance. Compared with them, this one was small.

Before the monolith, there was a queue. Cultivators lined up to challenge it. Yasenia monitored closely for ten minutes and saw that the rate at this monolith accepted challengers was five at a time. The challenge lasted from three to five minutes. Sometimes, from the five people that entered, only three returned with severe wounds. Thankfully, the monolith healed the cultivators when they reappeared in front of it quite swiftly. But that wouldn't take back the companions some people lost.

Sarah said with trepidation, "Yasenia, isn't it too dangerous? Some people didn't return. Doesn't that mean..."

Yasenia said bluntly, "They most likely died or didn't complete something and will be trapped there for longer."

Sarah flinched slightly. Death was a concept that was alien and uncommon for her. However, here, when people died, it was as if that person was insignificant. Nonetheless, what chilled her heart the most was that there wasn't a sense of empathy or pity in the other people's eyes. What Sarah mostly saw was disdain or contempt, as if saying, "How could that person die at something so stupid?"

Yasenia saw Sarah's nervous appearance and sighed. 'So naive and pure. If she didn't have that thing possessing her, I would be able to be more gentle with her, but I have to keep watch for any mishaps.'

Yasenia just patted Sarah's head softly and said. "Don't worry about it. You are very strong, so you will be able to survive."

Sarah felt Yasenia's hand stroking her hair gently and couldn't help but feel her freezing heart warming up as if a gentle fire burned beside it. Sarah looked at Yasenia's beautiful golden eyes and blushed, "En."

Yasenia then used her privilege and directly walked toward the monolith with the other three behind. She didn't want to wait for hours to challenge a single monolith.

While walking toward the monolith, one man tried to stop them, "Where do you think you are going? Get in the line like the rest of us!"

Yasenia ignored him and continued walking. The man was so angry that he directly got in their way and said, "Take one more step, and I will break your legs! Can't you see that we are all waiting in line obediently? Who do you think you are to walk ahead!?"

Yasenia was half a head taller than the man. She looked down at him with an indifferent gaze. Her voice carried actual weight, and her reptilian eyes felt like they could pierce his soul. "I have passed through the Heaven Gate. Thus, I can skip the queue. Make way."

The man was at first scared. Yasenia's voice was devoid of her usual seductiveness and only carried an authority that was hard to go against. Still, looking at the number of cultivators at the side and his own group, he got encouraged. He straightened himself and used his aura to escape from Yasenia's influence. His tone was derisive and provocative. "I don't care if you have passed through Heaven or the Immortal gate! Go to the queue like all the people!"

Yasenia looked at him for two seconds, and then she continued walking, ignoring his demands. She was slowly walking around him, as if he was just a rock in the way. The man was so surprised at this level of disregard that he didn't react instantly. Still, when Yasenia was about to move around him, the man's eyes flashed evilly, 'How does she dare to look down on me so much!?"

Enraged beyond his senses, he wrapped himself in a blue energy coat and screamed, "Since you insist, don't blame me for being ruthless!"

His aura exploded, making people know that he was on the ninth level, and he swept his legs toward Yasenia's legs without holding back. He had the intention of breaking them. Kali's and Angel's expressions darkened after feeling his intention to damage Yasenia. Their eyes emitted thick, killing intent and disdain. Does such a weak person think he can challenge their dearest? Not before their guard.

Before the leg smashed onto Yasenia, thick vines shot from the ground, wrapping around the man's whole body. The vines were as durable as steel, and his movements came to an instant stop. The counter momentum hurt him, making him grunt. However, he was still more angered than confused and shouted, "What do you think you are doing-?"

Before he finished complaining, an emerald green shield smashed on his head, exploding it into fleshy bits. Everyone shut up and looked with wide-open eyes at the petite and cute girl holding the big oval shield.

Angel looked around with icy blue eyes and said, "Any more people who want to stop her?"

Even if her silvery voice was cute, her current tone, actions, and face made people have chills going up their spines. Sarah was pale and asked, terrified. 'System, are you sure they aren't a Yandere?'

[Host. I'm 100% sure]

Angel saw that no one was speaking, so she returned to Yasenia's side and smiled sweetly, the ambient around her changing like a coin flip. "Let's go!"

Yasenia grabbed her little hand and nodded gently. "En."

Kali's vines dragged the cultivator's body underground and delivered his spatial ring to Kali. Kali said, "Nothing interesting. He was quite poor and even his most powerful treasure is in the earth rank."

Yasenia was about to nod and save everything in her ring to sell later, but five people flashed behind them and attacked with everything they had. "Bastards! How dare you kill our senior brother!"

"Do you think that you own this place!?"

"Die!"

Chapter 226:

"Bastards! How dare you kill our senior brother!"

"Do you think that you own this place!?"

"Die!"

Angel, Kali, and Sarah were surprised and tried to react to their attacks. They turned around and tried to summon their defensive methods. Still, before they could do anything, a golden light shone above them, carrying a scorching heat and tremendous strength.

Yasenia had already perceived their killing intent and was waiting for them to move. The moment they moved to attack them, Yasenia had already turned and was looking at them with indifferent eyes. She took a step forward toward the approaching attacker, her hand resembling the shape of a claw. Then, she swept it toward the group of cultivators. Her hand seemed to slash through a viscous liquid instead of air because of the strength as she chanted. "[Sun Dragon Claw]."

A ten-meter life-like golden Dragon claw manifested above Yasenia's head. It followed Yasenia's movement as it descended on the five attackers with tyrannical strength. The heat it released made the attackers sweat even before it reached them, filling their faces with despair. The air ripped apart and burned, and the claw finally slammed the five of them. The five cultivators with cultivations between the seventh and ninth levels didn't even have a chance to resist as the claw exploded in front of them.

BOOOM!

Â golden fire explosion consumed everything before Yasenia, turning those five into ashes. The attack left fifty meters of scorched pavement before Yasenia. Yasenia said, reminding Kali and Angel, "Here, we can't act as brazen as we do in the Sky Continent, my loves. People aren't afraid of attacking us in retaliation. The only reason we could act without thinking a lot about the consequences was that mom always covered us."

Angel and Kali were a little surprised because of the attack. However, after hearing Yasenia's words, they looked at Yasenia, filled with guilt. Angel said, "Sorry, I shouldn't have killed him..."

Yasenia smiled tenderly and gathered both of them in her soft embrace. They sank into Yasenia's body comfortably as her mellow voice caressed their hearing sense. "Remember, baby, honey. When you deal with someone, you must take into account who is behind them. The only reason I acted rampant outside the secret realm is that I know Mom will deal with the things I'm not able to."

Kali and Angel snuggled closer to Yasenia and sniffed her scent. "We will be careful."

Yasenia kissed the top of their heads with a soft kiss and released them. Then, she ruffled their hair lovingly. "I know you will, you both are clever girls."

Sarah was still in shock. Thankfully, the attack didn't leave evidence of the bodies of the cultivators, so it was easier to take than the brutal deaths she had seen before. Yasenia looked at her and patted her head once, "Let's go."

Yasenia looked at the cultivators' resentful looks and said, her voice spread around and carried [Dragon Strength]. "I know it sucks, but this benefit is something I gained challenging the Heaven

Gate and putting my life on the line. I don't mind betting my life again to gain the rewards I'm entitled to receive. If you think you are strong enough to stop me, I'm willing to fight with you in a spar, and not a life and death battle."

Yasenia's pupils thinned, and she spread her aura, exploding like a dragon roar!

ROAAR!

As the phantom dragon behind her appeared, Yasenia challenged everyone present. "Let's see who dares stop me!"

Her aura together with the [Dragon Strength] suppressing nature made most of the cultivators present break in a cold sweat. Although they were disgruntled, no one wanted to lose their lives to benefit others. The previous person stepped in the way because he didn't know Yasenia's strength. After they saw Yasenia's strength, they just shut up and accepted that people from the Heaven Gate were above themselves. Thankfully, there weren't many Heaven Gate cultivators.

Yasenia saw the outcome and was satisfied. Her initial plan was to ignore the man, go around him, and when he kicked her leg, receive the attack as if he wasn't there. Yasenia was extremely confident in the strength and durability of her body and was sure that if the kick landed, the man would have broken his leg. This would lead to people fearing her, and no one would bother them.

What our dragoness didn't expect was for Angel and Kali to react that way, so she was a step too slow to stop them. Nonetheless, she welcomed the outcome, her dears had learned an important lesson that could have been fatal in a different situation. Yasenia was also blaming herself for not informing her dears beforehand.

Without any more interruptions, they arrived before the monolith and looked at the tablet at the side. The language was the same that was on the Gates, so Angel and Kali couldn't read it.

Yasenia knew it and read it aloud, "Kill the wave attacking the fortress before it reaches the town. Completion reward. Heaven gate 300 Trial points, Earth gate 200 Trial points, Mortal gate 100 trial points, waste gate 50 Trial points."

Angel looked at Yasenia with starry eyes. She really loved how intelligent and knowledgeable Yasenia was, our dragoness was really perfect in our baby's eyes.

Yasenia felt Angel's gaze and looked at her. Angel's lovestruck expression was truly cute, and the dragoness almost couldn't hold herself back from kissing that mouth until it was breathless. Yasenia coughed and said, "The recipes are very expensive if we take into account the rewards. For a Heaven Ranked recipe, we have to complete this trial seventeen times. Moreover, this Gate doesn't give any treasures."

Kali said, "Maybe it is one of the easiest. We've seen the prices of another alchemy shop on our way here, and they were quite similar to the other place."

Yasenia nodded and said, "Let's try... How do we enter though?"

Yasenia placed her hand on the monolith, and a male and aged voice said, "Only five challengers can do the monolith at the same time. Wait until the ones currently doing it complete it or die inside."

Yasenia took back her hand and used her tail to carry Angel to her embrace. Since they had to wait, she had time to pamper her dear baby for a little bit. Kali and Sarah were beside Yasenia as they saw Angel's head being squished between those soft and big white mountains, receiving caresses on her back. They could even hear Angel purring in comfort.

Five minutes later, the monolith flashed, and four people appeared out of nowhere. They were heavily injured, but all of them had a smile on their faces. Happy to have overcome the trial. However, that smile froze when they didn't see the fifth participant. A woman asked nervously, "Where is junior brother Zan?"

One of the other men sighed and said, "If he isn't here... Then he must have died inside the trial."

The woman teared up and shook her head, "No, it can't be! How can Junior Brother die!? He is the strongest of us!"

The man had a painful face as she patted her shoulder and said, "We challenged the Mortal-level difficulty, and he challenged the Earth-level difficulty. Look how injured we are, even if he was talented, I don't think it is a big surprise he died there."

Yasenia waited for them to relax slightly, and spoke. "I'm sorry for your loss, senior sisters and brothers. But could you tell me about the challenge inside? I'm willing to give a magic-level healing pill to each of you."

The man looked at Yasenia and frowned slightly, "If you want to know, go inside!"

Then, they turned and left, not paying more attention to Yasenia. Sarah frowned and complained, "So rude! You were even willing to give them a healing pill."

Yasenia said, "Leave it, they've just lost someone important. You've seen how injured and tired they were. Even if the monolith is healing them, the mental tiredness still remains."

Yasenia looked at the three women and said, "Do not relax or hold back when fighting. If you have to use treasures to survive, use them. Remember that a treasure, no matter its rarity, is never as valuable as life."

The four of them nodded and pressed their palm on the tall monolith. All the lines from the monolith lit up, and a white and blue sphere surrounded the four of them. Angel's eyes looked with wonder at the complex formation patterns. 'So similar to those outside.'

However, before Angel could look more closely, they disappeared from their spot with a flash of light.

When Yasenia came back to herself, she was standing in a rocky canyon. The canyon was at least two kilometers wide and impossibly tall. Behind her, an enormous wall, at least 200 meters tall, was blocking the wide passage. A shadow was cast on the whole canyon because the sun couldn't shine through unless it were the hours around noon.

Yasenia observed the fortress. Artillery and other siege weapons were above it, each operated by five humans. Suddenly, she heard a man's gruff voice, it carried a commanding tone worthy of a General, and his aura was like a mountain, firm and unmovable. "Today, many of us will die! Today, our blood will flow like a river! However, today, we are here to protect our country! Today, we are here to ascend to immortality through our merits, making our country prosper eternally with our blood and sweat!"

Following this speech, countless battle cries echoed in the canyon. Even Yasenia felt a rush of motivation. Then, she heard the general shout, "The enemy is strong. However, before us, there is a hero! She will hold on against the cruel beasts trying to rob our country of the peace we've fought for centuries! Our job is to help the hero kill, kill, and kill again until they don't dare take a step through here!"

Yasenia nodded, understanding the setting. 'I'm the country's hero and about to defend against a powerful wave of beasts. Now... Should I follow the general's orders or use them as meat shields to be able to last more? I don't know how the monolith considers the trial completed. '

She didn't have to think about it much longer since she heard a voice in her head, the same aged male voice as before. 'The number of people in the fortress is 500. To pass the test, 100 people shall survive, and the wall shall not fall. If you survive but fail any conditions after killing all the enemies, you will not gain any Trial Points. Finishing with more than 450 People and eighty percent structure integrity will give bonus rewards.'

Yasenia sighed, 'And there goes my plan... Crumbling down even before I could think about it deeply.'

Yasenia then felt the floor trembling and looked across the canyon. There, at least 1 000 foot soldiers ran in coordinated steps. The frontline had shields and spears, and the others had a sword. They had a line of 80 archers in the back. One human rode a horse with full body armor between those troops and carried big momentum.

Yasenia analyzed their strength and frowned. 'The weakest of them is at the initial levels of the Body Modification Realm, and the strongest, the horse riding man, is in the first level of the Mental Nourishing realm.'

Yasenia made a plan extremely quickly. 'Break the frontline with brute force, kill the commander, and, if I had problems reaching the commander, move to the backline using the canyon walls and eliminate the archers. Then, slaughter the rest coordinating with the weapons in and above the wall.'

Yasenia unfurled her aura and shouted. "Let the war begin! For our country, for our families, for ourselves!"

Then, she gathered energy in her throat and roared with all her might!

ROAR!

The soldiers on the wall followed her.

"RHAAA!!!!"

Chapter 227:

As Yasenia roared, her aura swelled, and the air around her exploded, creating a whirlwind around her. The people from the fortress shouted, answering her deep and resounding dragon roar.

"UOOO!!!"

The powerful aura explosion intimidated the approaching army, but the voice of their Commander maintained everything in order. "Remember what we are fighting for! We are the first wave, bound to die for the future of our country!"

The fearful soldiers steeled their will and shouted, "For our country!"

"I will come back alive and confess to the woman I like!"

"I will marry my husband when I go back!"

Yasenia looked at them indifferently. For Yasenia, these people weren't real. Even so, were they real, Yasenia would also not feel anything but little empathy for them.

They were on a battlefield, and Yasenia had experienced firsthand how brutal a battlefield could be. War wasn't a place for mercy, only killing until one side surrenders or is completely annihilated. And even then, you must keep up your guard, fearing an ambush or something similar after you drop your guard.

The dragoness took out [Draconic Heart], used [Starry Sky], [Celestial Coat], and [Moonless Night]. Her silvery domain spread in the surroundings, lowering the temperature enough to make the weakest of them shiver. Then, she leaned forward and pushed against the ground with the tip of her feet. The hard rock under her feet exploded backward as her body accelerated toward the 1 000 men and women army.

The Commander of the enemy army shouted, "Prepare the shields! Aim the Spears!"

The shield bearers activated a battle formation, and their defense soared. Thanks to this, they would be able to defend against attacks much stronger than they normally would by themselves. Moreover, the spears that protruded from the side of the shields glowed, becoming extremely sharp. Not even the tough hide of a beast would be able to resist.

But Yasenia wasn't your typical beast. She was a Dragon!

Yasenia and the shield line came extremely close. The sharp spears just before Yasenia. However, our dragoness continued advancing as if they weren't there. The spears broke when they entered in contact with her skin, leaving nothing but small scratches on it. The soldiers behind the shields opened their eyes wide with despair as they saw the spears break. Then, Yasenia and the shields collided.

BOOM!

Before the tyrannical dragoness, the shields were no different than paper. The soldiers flew away with their armor badly sunk, internal organs turned to mush, and generally dead.

It was as if a bomb had blasted the shield line!

Yasenia didn't stop. She continued charging forward through the army with her golden slit eyes locked onto the Commander as if he was her prey. Like a rampaging beast between mortals, they were blown away every time a soldier came into contact with her.

Everyone at the scene opened their eyes wide, cursing at the heavens for placing such a creature against them. The Commander knew who Yasenia was aiming for, so he shouted anxiously, "Stop her!"

However, how could they stop the dragoness? It was not possible.

Yasenia pointed at the Commander with [Draconic Heart] and chanted. "[Moon Charge]."

A chilling breath wrapped around the length of the sword, and Yasenia's aura turned Silver. Then, when Yasenia stomped on the ground, the nearby area around Yasenia froze as she shot forward, shattering the recently created Ice surface!

The Commander didn't even know what happened when a silver meteor smashed on him with overwhelming might, annihilating him and the horse, together with every single soldier aligned with the dragoness charge.

Yasenia directly pierced the 1 000 men army and appeared on their back. She had left a canal in the army formation, dividing it into two with brute force alone.

Yasenia wasn't done yet; she used her powerful legs, tail, and energy to make a 180 turn, leaving a deep trench in the ground. Her muscles cried in protest at the strain, but they didn't tear like they would've before, showing immense physical improvements. Then, she charged back into the army without stopping the [Moon Charge].

When the silver meteor did this turn, everyone present could see a white whirlwind spinning around it and its aura multiplying. Then, Yasenia's voice echoed in the canyon as if her voice carried judgment to her enemies. "[Moon Reaching Star Charge]."

The combination charge exploded with might as Yasenia's body became a destructive silver meteor surrounded by a white whirlwind of destruction. The violent zone of the skill widened from five to twenty-five meters.

Yasenia stomped the ground and zoomed across the army. Her charge minced everything in her way, creating a red blood mist in her wake. Cries of agony and fear came from the troops as Yasenia decimated them.

Yasenia stopped her skills and stopped herself from crashing back into the fortress, leaving another trench in the ground. Her body stopped perfectly before the 200-meter tall wall.

Yasenia turned around, and seeing the amount of destruction, she nodded, satisfied. "400 dead, 600 to go."

Her tranquil statement made every enemy almost piss their pants in fear, and there were even some allies that thought her strength was just too much. What followed was not a battle but a one-sided massacre. One versus One thousand? It wasn't a problem for the Celestial dragoness!

Ten minutes later, all the 1 000 soldiers had died. The people in the fortress didn't even have the chance to participate!

The general saw that the people had started fearing Yasenia, so he shouted, "Praise the hero! The first wave of attackers was exterminated singlehandedly by her!"

Yasenia tried to elevate the morale by raising her sword and shouting, "This war will be our absolute victory!"

"UOO!!!" The previous nervous soldiers felt a rush of motivation and shouted to answer Yasenia.

Meanwhile, Yasenia was thinking. 'I've used 10% of my energy, but with my energy regeneration. I shouldn't have a problem with later waves. The problem is... How many waves are there?'

Meanwhile, in another identical place, the canyon was filled with vegetation, and different plants were overwhelming the 1 000 men army. Behind all of the plants, a single fox woman was looking at everything calmly with a three-meter-tall voluptuous lady wearing a floral dress beside her. Kali's tail swished as she looked at the plants multiplying as they ate the humans.

The cries for mercy didn't even move her heart, and her verdant green eyes were as serene as a lake. She waved her hand and buffed her summons further. Then, she spoke to the [Golden Crown].

"Although I have used 30% of my energy, the maintenance cost will lower a lot now that everything is summoned. Moreover, with the plants' natural regeneration, they will easily heal without a need for my energy unless a powerful enemy appears. I think we will have enough energy if we use our resources right. Don't you think so? Valeria?"

Valeria was the name Kali gave to the [Golden Crown]. Valeria looked at Kali and didn't do anything more. She was still developing intelligence and couldn't understand what Kali was saying; the only things she could understand were battle commands. But she still knew that Kali, her dear mistress, was speaking to her, so she smiled gently as an answer. Kali looked at her smile and also smiled under her veil. "I hope you become smarter soon, Valeria. I want to thank you for your company in my harsher times. Without you and Yasenya, I wouldn't be here today."

On another canyon, Angel was hopping around the place, placing different [Glass nodes] in different positions. The 1 000 people army was being mauled by 50 [Glass Golems] and lasers that shot from time to time from other formations Angel placed.

The 200-meter tall wall was covered by a layer of extremely durable glass, adding to the defenses. Moreover, this glass could reflect the sun that shone onto it, transforming it into deadly lasers. It was an extremely beautiful land of glass in the middle of a terrible massacre.

She had used almost forty percent of her energy to summon all of this, but now her consumption was so small that she was regenerating energy. Angel looked at the dwindling army with a happy smile. "My golems are so resistant that they can't even damage them~. Oops, that guy's spear broke. Oh... Now he is a meat patty! Go, golems, go! Kill all the baddies!"

Angel was a complete nightmare in wide-ranged battles. Her enemies wanted to cry, and her allies didn't know whether to laugh or cry! 'She is so strong that it is unfair!'

On the other hand, Sarah was extremely pale and surrounded by corpses. She had used the Earth attribute to fight since the location was practically done for that attribute. However, smashing so many people with rocks and other projectiles made her stomach sick.

[Host. You are doing okay. You will get used to killing shortly, don't worry.]

Sarah saw another person exploding because of a rock that fell on them, and her face turned green. She kept in the rising bile and continued fighting. 'Getting used to this? I don't know if I want to get used to this....'

The second wave arrived at the same time for all of them.

Yasenya observed them. '1 000 people again. This time. they are stronger and have people that appear like cultivators between the ranks. However, there are only 5 in the Mental nourishing realm, four in the first level, and the Commander in the second level.'

Yasenya decided to use ranged attacks this time. She pointed at the army, and her voice echoed around, "[Starfall]."

The 360+ small stars around her ballooned to a one-meter-wide star, creating a terrifying sight. Then, the stars zoomed forward and fell in the army like rain.

BOOM!* BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! *BOOM!

Each star took at least three lives, killing almost 800 people in the army and injuring others. Then, she slashed her sword in a horizontal motion. "[Crescent Moon Barrage]."

A 100 meters wide silver crescent shot forward, and Yasenia let herself spin with the help of the sword's weight. Then, her tail flashed, releasing another silver crescent, and the cycle repeated. With just five rotations, a total of ten [Crescent Moon] attacks shot forward.

Her attacks cut through the army ranks like a heated knife cutting butter. Each crescent killed at least 30 people. After a while, no one remained alive. Yasenia stopped and pierced the sword into the ground beside her, waiting for the next wave. She didn't even move!

"Clean and easy."

The people on the wall didn't know why they were there anymore. They hadn't fired a single round of their artillery weapons yet!

The other three also didn't have any problems with this wave, and their energies were similarly at seventy percent. Yasenia was still at ninety percent, thanks to her regeneration.

The third wave appeared, the strong enemies increasing to 10, with the strongest at the third level. This round continued being unbothersome, and the four of them could overcome it easily.

Then, the fourth wave arrived, with 15 strong enemies, with the strongest at the fourth level and the others in the second and third levels of the Mental Nourishing Realm. This wave was slightly more difficult, but all of them managed to kill everyone without letting them approach the wall.

The fifth wave and sixth waves were where problems began arising. In Angel's case, the strong cultivators could finally start damaging her golems, so she had to control the formations around to focus on them, making her spend more energy.

Kali was generally fine since she joined the battle herself together with Valeria. The number of strong cultivators was slightly bothersome, but to the voluptuous but gentle-looking [Golden Crown], they only lasted three to five staff swings.

Sarah was beginning to have problems since the people didn't die as easily, making her half-assed mentality become worse. The main reason was that killing someone directly or seeing someone struggling for their life was very different. The furious eyes, grief-filled eyes, and maddened eyes all left a shadow in Sarah's heart.

Chapter 228:

Yasenia frowned and asked the general, "Sir, How many waves are left?"

Even if she wasn't scared or tired, she was beginning to worry about her dears. Although Yasenia knew they were strong, this didn't mean our pampering dragoness would relax. Her heart will always flutter with worry toward her precious darlings. Yasenia would be happy if she could keep them in her pocket and protect them, but she knew that they wouldn't want that. She perfectly knew how much effort they put into cultivation in order to not be left behind by her.

Yasenia was extremely grateful to Tatyana for giving her the [Celestial Maiden Ascends To The Heavens] dual cultivation technique. Without it, it would have been impossible for her dears to keep up with her nonsensical growth.

The general was extremely relaxed as Yasenia was like an overwhelming force of nature. She eliminated everything without flinching! "Lady Hero! Two more waves, and this will end!"

Yasenia frowned even more. "The last wave will have 35 strong people, with the strongest enemy at the eighth level of the Mental Nourishing Realm?"

A flash of worry flashed through her golden slit eyes, "That isn't a small force. Will they be okay?"

Yasenia looked on to the approaching 1 000 people. As she expected, in this seventh wave, there were 30 strong people—the strongest in the Seventh level.

Moreover, the rest of the army was in the seventh level of the Body Modification realm, much stronger than their initial first level during the first wave.

Yasenia calculated the amount of energy consumption and nodded. "I can use [Celestial Dress] for the rest of the battle."

Even if the [Celestial Dress] was powerful, it consumed a lot of energy. So she was reluctant to use it at the beginning of this prolonged battle.

But now that only two waves were left, Yasenia was full of confidence. Yasenia closed her eyes and chanted, her voice as imposing as the midday Sun!

"[Celestial Dress]."

Yasenia became the center of a silver, golden, and white energy vortex. Her aura swelled, and a tight-fitting white dress covered her body with golden and silver decorations. The dress had a very long trail, and each side of the skirt was adorned with the image of a crescent moon and Sun. Her long and wide sleeves were decorated with an extremely intricate golden and silver eastern dragon.

The white dress glittered like the stars in the night sky, giving her an empyreal beauty that stole everyone's breath away. Even her enemies looked at her stupidly.

Yasenia opened her golden eyes and looked at the army with indifference. Then, she stomped the ground, and she disappeared from the eyesight of every single person.

BANG!

People didn't know when Yasenia collided with the army, blasting the front line flying as if they were rag dolls in front of an unstoppable force. The 30 powerful cultivators reacted instantly and ran toward her, and Yasenia prepared her giant sword.

The first one arrived, slashing toward Yasenia. Yasenia gently swung her giant sword toward the sixth-level cultivator.

Weapons collided, and the cultivator saw with wide eyes as Yasenia's sword shattered his sword and smashed into his body. The raw energy in the slash made his body burst into a bloody mist.

Right after, another cultivator approached from Yasenia's back, taking advantage of her current position to slash her back. But he was so focused on the giant sword that he forgot about the long and beautiful tail behind her. Yasenia didn't even look at him as her tail lashed like a whip toward his chest in the blunt form.

BANG!

The cultivator's chest sunk in, and his back burst open because of the dragoness's tyrannical strength, spilling all his organs through his back. His companions that were about to do follow-ups to his attack became horrified as their companion was literally splattered all over them.

Then, Yasenia flashed around and destroyed every single one with a single sword or tail swing. Not even the eighth-level cultivator could resist a single attack from her.

After two minutes of killing, Yasenia appeared in the middle of the surviving army and pointed her sword to the sky and channeling [Starfall] around her. All the white balls ballooned to a horrifying two meters in width and exploded in the surroundings.

Shouts of pain and death filled the canyon as the stars exploded around one after another in a deadly cacophony led by Yasenia's will.

Angel had some of her golems destroyed in this round, and she had to join the battle herself. However, she received no injury and was able to pass the round, with the fortress receiving minimal damage. Angel was confident in overcoming the last round if she used her resources cleverly.

Kali didn't have any problems since prolonged battles were her specialty. The whole canyon was covered with man-eating plants, dryads, and treats. Her poisonous thorns were falling into the army like nets, infecting everyone with deadly substances. To fight the strong cultivators, she sent a single treant filled with poisonous spores, and then using [Overgrowth], she exploded it in a deadly combo. In the caste that someone survived, Valeria would take care of them. For Kali, this trial was like a walk in the park.

Sarah didn't have many problems because she followed the system's advice. The only problem she had was that she was feeling numb all over her body after killing so many people. However, the system came to the rescue, explaining to her that this was just like virtual reality and all these people were like NPCs. This helped Sarah's psyche a lot, and she gathered her courage to keep going on. Sarah didn't even doubt the system's words for the sake of her sanity.

Then, the last round began.

Yasenia and Kali passed it without any trouble. Sarah became somewhat injured after receiving the strikes from the 35-strong cultivators. She also took her time beating them, and the rest of the army managed to destroy a big part of the fortress, killing more than 200 allies.

Angel had to tackle the last wave carefully. The cultivators were able to damage her golems greatly, so she had to fight in the front line, fighting against the most powerful cultivators. However, Angel had become extremely deft in melee combat. Her shield skills were high, and she was able to face off against them with expertise, all thanks to Selena's teaching. Angel couldn't help but smile gratefully, thinking about her beautiful, red lamia maid.

With clever use of her shield and lasers, she eventually beat them. She also used her [Golem Explosion] and [Glass Mine Field] skills to take some of them by surprise and blast them into pieces. Thanks to the extra protection she gave the fortress, it was basically intact, with only 20 dead people by the end of the final round. However, her energy was almost depleted. Angel calculated that she could have only held on for one more wave.

Yasenia and the rest heard the old man's voice in their heads. 'Congratulations, you beat the twenty-sixth monolith.'

A strange energy surged from the surroundings and lodged into their dantian. They didn't like this forceful implementation because the dantian was an extremely delicate area for the cultivator. Without a heart or a brain, the cultivator had a chance of survival. But if the dantian was damaged, it spelled certain doom.

Still, they couldn't do anything as that energy bypassed their defenses and rested inside their dantian. The white energy ball transformed and became a number, in their case, a three hundred. It was clear that this strange energy was the Trial Points.

Suddenly, Yasenia saw the [Celestial Pear] rotating, and that three hundred began being sucked toward it. Yasenia was startled and commanded it to stop hastily. 'You can't eat that! I don't mind you absorbing the surrounding energy, but that one is special, and I need it to buy things.'

The [Celestial Pearl] was a treasure naturally born from Heaven and Earth. Hence it could understand Yasenia's words. It obediently stopped moving and became inactive again. Yasenia sighed with relief.

Then, Yasenia, Kali, and Angel got the extra rewards. It was a low-level earth-grade attack talisman that could summon a lightning strike. It was neither good nor bad. Its attack strength was similar to the first lightning strike of the Heaven Gate, so it was honestly quite useless for them.

Then, their bodies flashed, and they appeared outside. Yasenia hastily looked at them and saw Kali and Angel alive and well; her anxious heart relaxed. She observed and saw only some light wounds on Angel, but the Monolith healed her so fast that she almost couldn't see them. 'Even if I know that they've gotten much more stronger, I can't help but worry.'

Angel was weary since she spent most of her energy, so she walked like a zombie into Yasenia's embrace and buried her face in her breast. "I'm tired~."

Yasenia didn't delay and picked her up, kissing her cheek. "You've done well, baby. I'm really proud of you."

"Yay~! Yasenia praised me~." Angel smiled sweetly and hugged Yasenia tighter, burying her little face in Yasenia's neck. She loved hugging her like this because their breasts squished together, and she felt safe in this position.

Yasenia then interlocked her tail with Kali's soft and big fox tail and smiled at her, "You have surprised me, honey. You are not only not tired but also uninjured."

Kali hugged her arm, and her tail wagged, moving Yasenia's tail with it. Yasenia laughed, feeling her tail movements. 'So cute~!' It was at this moment that Yasenia learned about the wonders of the wagging tail.

Then she turned toward the injured Sarah and said, "Good job surviving. Let's go to another place, even if this one is not that hard. It takes too much time to complete. We need to gather points if we want to buy the pill recipes and other things."

Sarah couldn't help but feel bitter; the difference in treatment was too different. Still, she didn't say anything, as Kali and Angel were Yasenia's lovers, and she was basically a stranger.

They went toward a restaurant and rested there for a little while. After confirming that it was safe, Yasenia tasted the food there. Her golden eyes widened with wonder as she found the food delicious, so she asked about the ingredients.

The waitress was completely charmed by the dragoness, so she even invited her into the kitchen. The cooks were about to scold her for bringing someone, but their voices got stuck in their throats as the seductive dragoness sashayed her way in. Yasenias smiled at them and put forth her demands. One of the cooks left his post and guided Yasenias through each ingredient.

It seemed that they could also buy things from the restaurant, so Yasenias began bargaining with them. A little bit of temptation and slight skinship made the man cave in and sell items almost at market price. He was barely making any profit selling things to Yasenias. Still, the happy smile on Yasenias's face seemed to make it worth it.

Yasenias's eyes sparkled, and she began a buying spree. She bought different seeds to grow these spices and vegetables in her ring, spending 250 Trial Points. If any other cultivator saw the amount she paid for the seeds, they would have directly coughed blood and lost consciousness. How could someone spend so much on something so useless!?

However, our dragoness left with a happy smile. What better thing exists out there for our dear dragoness than making her dears happy and satisfied? Nothing! "When I'm able to use spirit cooking tools, I will make the most delicious food for my dears! Fufufu, I'm going to conquer their stomachs, hearts, and bodies with my delicious food~."

If they heard what she said, they would have answered that Yasenias didn't have to worry too much because all those things were conquered and marked with her name written on them!

Sarah asked curiously, "Do you cook, Yasenias?"

It was Angel who answered with enthusiasm, "The food she makes is the best in the world! After trying it once, you can taste anything else!"

Kali nodded, "Even the food of spirit chefs is slightly worse than hers."

Was there bias in their words? Of course, there was! Objectively speaking, the flavor and nutritional value of Yasenias's normal foods, meaning without using her breast milk, were worse than spirit chefs. Still, the use of dragon milk made Kali's and Angel's words true as it gave her dishes an extremely nutritious and delicious value.

That lasagna she did previously had become one of their favorite dishes. The deliciously cooked meat with the bechamel made from breast milk was something that couldn't leave their mind. Eating it while thinking from where it came from also was somewhat stimulating, making it even more delicious when they ate it.

Chapter 229:

They continued speaking about Yasenias's cooking skills until they reached another location with a Trial. It was in the middle of a plaza. This one was smaller than the other, at 4 meters in height. The formations on it were less complex; this could be discerned with the naked eye.

As they did with the previous Monolith, Yasenias and the others walked toward it, not caring about the queue. This time, no one stopped them. Even though some people gave them a stink eye, there wasn't anyone who cared enough to stop them. Moreover, Yasenias was releasing a passive aura, letting people know that she wasn't a pushover.

When they came close, they saw people attacking the Monolith. It seemed to be for measuring strength. Each time someone hit it, a number made of energy would appear on top of the Monolith.

If you went over a certain number, it would become an energy stream and go inside the cultivator, giving them Trial Points.

Yasenia read the rules aloud. "The Physical Trial. Only attacks that aren't enhanced by external sources are allowed. For the Waste Gate Cultivators, 40 Strength Points are needed to pass and gain 2 Trial Points. Mortal Gate cultivators need 80 Strength Points to gain 5 Trial Points. Earth Gate cultivators need 140 Strength Points to gain 10 Trial Points. Heaven Gate cultivators need 200 Strength Points to gain 20 Trial Points."

Yasenia raised her eyebrow, "Do you think we can abuse this monolith to win points?"

Kali frowned and said, "It shouldn't be this easy to abuse something created by a powerful senior, right? There must be a catch."

Angel offered, "Yasenia, how about we watch for a while first? We can challenge it whenever we want anyway."

Yasenia nodded, "Sure, we will do as you say."

And so, they decided to watch other people challenge it before trying it themselves.

The first person that approached it stood before the Monolith, full of confidence. He wasn't very tall or muscular, but like most cultivators, he had compact muscles after constantly training. He took it slow and gathered energy. His fist roared with blue energy as he punched forward.

Bam!

The fist landed on the Monolith, creating an air shockwave. Then the Monolith's formations lit up with a weak light. That light spilled from the formation lines and gathered atop the Monolith. Then, it changed forms and transformed into the number 126.

This number flickered and dissolved midair, becoming an energy stream and rushing toward the man's dantian. The man had entered through the Mortal Gate, so this counted as passing it with flying colors. He was satisfied with his performance. "Nice! Five Trial Points!"

Then, he gathered energy one more time and punched out. This time, he didn't put in as much effort, knowing that he had more than enough strength to overcome it.

Bam!

The light that spilled from the formation rushed upward and transformed into the 105 number, but to the cultivator's surprise, it exploded in light and didn't go toward his dantian. The man was surprised and then enraged. "Huh? What happened? Isn't the value to pass 80? This shit is broken!"

Yasenia also frowned for a second and then understood. "Could it be that you won't gain points if you hit it with less strength than your previous blow?"

The others agreed with Yasenia's approach. They continued watching him without intervening. Someone that went through the Mortal Gate had three attempts for each Monolith, so he still had one blow left.

This time, the man didn't hold back and used his whole strength, coupled with his strengthening skills, to create a powerful hit. The blue aura was much more imposing than before. Then, his fist burst forward and landed with more power than the first one!

BAM!

The light around the Monolith lit up with a relatively brighter tone and formed the number 131, five points higher than the first punch. As Yasenia expected, that light dissolved and transformed into a stream, flowing straight into the man's dantian.

Angel's eyes glittered adoringly, "Wow~ Yasenia, you are so smart~."

Yasenia chuckled and hugged her from behind with a wagging tail. She loved being praised by her lovers. Yasenia commented, "It seems that the higher the number, the harder it is to elevate it. If the strength gauging was linear, the third punch should have formed the number 150 or higher."

Kali became upset, "I'm not a physically strong cultivator. I will not be able to gain too many points with this Monolith."

Yasenia comforted her, "The Stone Steele says that you can't use external strength, so skills are valid. You should be able to use summons to attack the Monolith. The [Golden Crown] should be able to make a good show. Moreover, don't underestimate yourself. After your transformation, you should have gained plenty of physical strength."

Kali nodded, gaining confidence again. Then, she chuckled and said, "One sentence, and you make me relax. You are really magical, Yasenia."

Yasenia laughed softly and used her tail to drag Kali close. Kali didn't shy away and hugged the dragoness's side with a smile under her veil, pleasantly feeling Yasenia's soft body between her arms.

In that manner, they continued observing people for ten more minutes. The highest number they had seen was from a half-step that went through the Earth Gate and achieved an impressive 321. Yasenia felt that he could have definitely overcome the Heaven Gate with that strength.

Nevertheless, what Yasenia didn't know was that people had become somewhat fearful of the Heaven Gate after witnessing consecutive deaths under the might of the third lightning bolt. Therefore, besides Yasenia's group, no other cultivator had crossed through Heaven Gate successfully at that moment, not because they lacked strength but because they were fearful of the lightning.

Yasenia thought that they didn't need to observe anymore. Our dragoness had learned that as long as she kept her [Dragoness Combat Gloves] inside her ring, she could attack the Monolith as she wanted. Moreover, there wasn't any punishment for using weapons. It would just not react if a weapon hit it. The dragoness was somewhat doubtful if she could use her tail, hence, after knowing that nothing could happen to her, her worries dissipated. "Let's go. I will go first if you don't mind."

They all nodded. They were eager to see how big of a number Yasenia would create when she hit it with full strength. (A/N: Any guesses?)

However, when they were about to go forward themselves, they saw a muscular and tall man approaching with a confident gait. His top robes were untied, revealing an extremely bulky physique with attractive bronze skin. His height was also high, similar to Yasenia's, and his aura fierce like a tiger's.

He shouted, "I'm Lei Yi, from the [White Tiger Sect]! I have crossed the Earth Gate, and now I shall make a record no one can beat in this Trial!"

Sarah frowned, "isn't he too arrogant? Wouldn't anyone that passed the Heaven Gate be able to beat him?"

Yasenia shook her head, "Not necessarily. For example, Angel and Kali have passed the Heaven Gate with the help of their summons. Hence, their strength is not physical, so if this Lei Yi has a lot of physical strength, he may be able to do as he says. Also, the previous man that punched 341 had also crossed the Earth Gate."

Angel snorted, "You will be able to blast his record away, Yasenia. He is too cocky!"

The man heard everything. He was dissatisfied with Sarah, but Yasenia's comments made him smile. Still, Angel's sentence was a big hit to his pride, so he turned toward them to see who was speaking like that.

His eyes scanned Sarah, Kali, and Angel with interest; each of them was attractive in their own way. Despite that, when his eyes landed on the seductive dragoness, he was stunned for a second and then felt a fire rushing toward his privates. A flash of greed and lust flashed in his eyes.

Yasenia sighed, 'Not again. Even though only one or two out of thousands is like this. They truly distinguish themselves by always rushing toward death head-first and being annoying.'

Lei Yi spoke to Angel instead of Yasenia. "You truly have a big mouth! Do you really think she can beat me with those scrawny arms? I think they would break the moment she punches the Monolith, hahaha."

Angel got tickled in the wrong way and refuted, "What scrawny arms!? She can punch you to the moon and back with the same strike!"

The man laughed and said, "Then do you dare bet with me?"

Angel folded her arms under her breasts, emphasizing them, and lifted her chin. "Say the bet first! Do not think I will accept something at random!" Yasenia thought that she looked extremely cute and almost couldn't hold herself back from glomping her in a hug.

The man said with a taunting tone. "It is not much; I will compete with that dragon girl over there. The one you said that could beat me. If I lose, I will give you 400 trial points! However, I want to have a night alone with that dragon girl if you lose!"

Angel was first stunned and then became enraged, "You what!? I'm going to kill you, bastard! Do you think you are worthy to even touch the edge of my Yasenia's skirt!? You are not even worthy of being her broom slave! Worse, 400 Points!? Not even 400 000 000 Points would be enough for me to accept that bet!"

The man's face turned black for a moment; he hadn't been insulted like that in a long time. Nevertheless, he regained his confident face almost instantly, 'If she is so worked up, she mustn't have too much confidence in her. I bet she said those things previously to cater up to the seductive goddess.'

Thinking that way, he continued taunting, "So much for 'she can beat me easily.' Hahaha, you don't even dare to accept a bet!"

Angel was about to retort that it wasn't that she didn't dare but that the bet was too insulting. Regardless, before she could speak, Yasenia stopped her, placing her hand on her head softly. Like a deflated balloon, all of Angel's anger dissipated with the wind, and she squinted comfortably as Yaseenia's soft hand caressed her long blonde hair. Yaseenia looked at the man with a smirk and said, "I will accept the bet for her, but let's change the betting stakes. What do you say?"

The man sneered, "I won't move my stake! If you want to bet, you will have to become mine for a night!"

Yaseenia nodded calmly, "Don't worry, the thing I want to change is what I win if you lose."

The man was surprised. 'How can she remain so calm and accept the bet?'

However, he motioned Yaseenia to speak, curious about what she would want from him. 'Maybe she is interested in me, and that's why she stopped her companion? Hahaha, not only does she have the body of a vixen, she is a slut herself.'

Lei Yi saw Yaseenia speak with a seductive smile. What he couldn't see was the danger that Yaseenia's smile carried underneath. "If I win, I don't want Trial Points. I just want to punch you once with all my strength. What do you say?"

The people who knew who Yaseenia was felt extreme pity for the man. 'A female dragon with a bloodline level unheard of in the Sky Continent. Daughter of one of the strongest cultivators in the Continent. With enough talent to reach the Mental Nourishing realm at just 21 years old. If the man accepts, he is doomed!'

The man was surprised for a second, 'So she really is interested in me! How could she put forth such a small punishment otherwise? I'm going to have a fun night!'

Lei Yi laughed aloud and said, "Hahaha, sure, sure! Swear it to the heavens!"

Yaseenia moved some locks of her black hair behind her ear in a charming movement and smiled. "Let's swear at the same time. I don't like people playing tricks with me."

That gesture was too charming, and the man couldn't wait to agree, oblivious of the impending doom! After seeing Yaseenia's body and face, he felt his blood rush toward his lower part, depriving his brain of thinking capabilities. His brain was full of imagining himself pressing her down as she cried under him.

Then, both spoke aloud and swore at the same time, completing the bet. Yaseenia's smile widened, 'I wonder what his ring has? More treasures for me~.' That was the main reason Yaseenia accepted. She wanted his treasures.

Chapter 230:

Both swore at the same time, and Yaseenia said. "Go first, each of us will punch three times, and we will decide the winner with the total amount of points."

The man boasted, "I have limited chances, so I will begin soft to win extra Trial Points. Then, when I have only three tries remaining, I will punch with all my strength! However, I didn't know that you were a masochist! Letting me go first, do you want to feel despair so badly? Hahaha."

Yaseenia just smiled. Nevertheless, that smile carried hints of the complete opposite of masochism. 'The higher you climb, the harder you will fall. I'm actually eager to see your groveling face as you beg for your life.'

The man approached the Monolith and stood before it. He didn't use any skills and punched confidently. His big fist carried very high strength, clear that he was a body cultivator.

A big BANG! was heard when his fist landed on the Monolith. An air shockwave spread around because of the pressure from his normal punch. The light on the Monolith lit up relatively strongly, and that light rushed upward. Then, it transformed into the number 239.

The people around were impressed. "That's just his body strength!"

Another person nodded with praise, "As expected of a disciple from the [White Tiger Sect], their bodies are extremely durable and strong!"

A woman looked with flushed cheeks, "So manly! I wish my Dao Companion would be someone like him!"

A man at the side nodded, "He is very charming indeed."

The man smiled proudly and looked at Yasenia with a provocative gaze. However, when he met with Yasenia's charming golden slit eyes, they were as placid as a lake, and her mouth had a relaxed but naturally seductive smile. The man couldn't help but gulp, 'She is too damn beautiful!'

His eyes then scanned the reaction of her companions. He couldn't guess anything from the veiled fox woman, but the other two had wildly different responses. The brown-haired one looked at him with seriousness and slight fear, but the blonde girl's big blue eyes looked at him with naked contempt. Leaving at the side how cute the blonde girl looked, Lui Yi was confused, 'Why are their reactions so different?'

He stopped looking and refocused on the Monolith. Then, he put more strength into each punch, wanting to receive the maximum amount of Points. Since Earth Gate challengers only had seven chances, he punched three more times.

Bam!

251.

Bam!

282.

Then, he put the whole strength of his body, without using any skills, behind the third punch.

Bang!

299!

His normal punches at full strength were almost as strong as the full strength of the other cultivator that reached 321. It was really terrifying for the cultivators looking at the spectacle. Normally, defense and strength came side by side, which meant that the man's body was probably extremely durable. It was clear that he was someone that could fight above his cultivation realm.

After he used four out of the seven chances, he looked again toward Yasenia and asked, "Regretting it already?"

Yasenia kept looking at him with her typical smirk and asked, "Do you feel good while bragging?"

The man mocked, "Of course! Showcasing my superiority to stupid people like you or the blonde girl never fails to give me a rush of excitement!"

"Oh." Yasenia answered.

The man frowned, "What's with that half-assed reaction?"

If Yasenia were to answer, she would have said something like, "I don't really care about a dead man walking."

Nonetheless, Yasenia just motioned to him with her chin, "Don't worry about it. Can you please begin? There are more people in wait to use the Monolith."

Lui Yi looked around and saw some impatient eyes looking at him, so he shrugged and began preparing. The man stepped before the Monolith and put himself in the horse stance. Then, his aura erupted with a tiger roar!

His short black hair moved with the wind, giving him a fierce aura. The shockwave of his aura eruption was so strong that some people almost took a step back. His level became clear to everyone at that moment.

One spectator exclaimed, "He is in the Half-step! Moreover, he is extremely close to the Unification Realm! He shouldn't need more than a month to step into it."

One nearby woman said with pity, "His aura is very fierce! The woman is done for! I can't imagine what she will go through. He doesn't seem to be a gentleman in bed."

Another man shook his head, "What a pity, a divine woman like that will be ruined because of a stupid bet."

A nearby man chuckled lecherously, "I hope brother Lui Yi lets other people have their turn after he uses her."

A woman supported his claim, "I can't wait to taste that body. I don't care if I have to wait in a queue for it!"

Yasenia heard everything but ignored it. Will they dare think about her like that after her turn arrives? Angel and Kali were fuming, but Yasenia's caresses relaxed them.

Lui Yi then gathered all his aura in his fist and punched forward, leaving a white trail. "[White Tiger Three Hits]!"

His fist collided with the strong monument and an extremely loud sound.

BANG!

The Monolith lit up like a lamp, and that light rushed upward. Then, a number that made people gasp appeared above, 321!

"What a monster!"

"I bet he didn't challenge the Heaven Gate out of security! It isn't worth losing one's life in that Trial."

"He already reached the previous record!"

"By the way, I don't even know which gate that woman went through."

A man that knew Yaseniasaid with a smirk, "She entered through the Heaven Gate."

Everyone sucked in a cold breath. "The Heaven Gate!?"

"Hahaha, then this competition is still interesting!"

However, as the people spoke, the man didn't stop punching! The skill was a three-punch attack, each stronger than the previous one! His waist rotated, letting his body accumulate momentum and his fist shot two more times toward the Monolith.

BANG!

371!

BAAANG!

421!

"He doubled the Heaven Gate Requirements!"

"Impressive!"

"I don't think that the woman has a chance even if she passed through the Heaven Gate!"

"It is much harder to advance a single point the higher it goes, so he didn't just double the strength requirements!"

"Right, he is a monster."

The man looked toward Yaseniasaid arrogantly, "You turn! I hope you take a bath and wait for me with enthusiasm, hahaha!"

Yaseniasaid walked forward with her typical sashaying movements. Every gesture she made was so charming that the people around stopped speaking to appreciate her beauty. Yaseniasaid's slightly deep and mellow voice entered their ears, sending a pleasant tingling through their body. "Since I've entered through the Heaven Gate. I will go up little by little. I'm sorry if I take a while. I want to take advantage of this Monolith."

The man provoked Yaseniasaid further, "Don't worry. It is a matter of course to let my own woman gain as many points as she wants."

Yaseniasaid wasn't even fazed by his provocations and stepped in front of the Monolith. First, she activated [Starry sky] to begin charging stars for her final attack. No one cared about the increasing number of small white balls floating around her. Everyone focused on Yaseniasaid's hand and held their breath as they saw Yaseniasaid's dainty and beautiful hand clench into a fist and fly toward the Monolith.

Yaseniasaid's posture was relaxed, and the fist seemed light. However, the strength behind it was not.

Bam.

203!

The people around nodded with praise, impressed. "Worthy of passing the Heaven Gate, her body is also extremely strong!"

"Her attack was casual, and she overcame the Heaven Gate requirement. How lucky!"

"Lucky? I think it was deliberate."

"Bah! How could she have such good strength control? We aren't seniors in the Unification realm!"

But this was just the beginning. When they stopped speaking, Yassenia began punching repeatedly.

Bam.

212!

Bam.

223!

Bam.

237!

Bam!

245!

The people's eyes became wider and wider with each consecutive punch. "W-Wait, isn't she still using just her body?"

Bam!

254!

"She isn't using any energy-"

Bam!

261!

"O-Oy, when is she going to-."

BAM!

273!

BAM!

281!

BAM!

285!

"Crazy, crazy! When is she going to stop!?"

Then, They saw Yassenia take a step back and use her whole body. Like a well-oiled machine, first, her ankle turned, followed by her leg, waist, chest, and shoulder, and then her right punch landed on the Monolith.

Bang!

300!

"W-What is wrong with-"

But that person was interrupted by Yasenia's body turning toward the other direction, punching with her left hand. The sound it made cut his sentence in the middle.

Bang!

305!

Then, Yasenia alternated right and left three more times.

Bang!

312!

Bang!

324!

BANG!

342!

Then Yasenia took a step back again and punched seriously. The people had the illusion of seeing as if her right arm turned into a shooting star and landed on the Monolith.

BANG!

383!

The Monolith lit brightly as an enormous shockwave spread around, blowing Yasenia's long black hair and back skirt with it, creating an extremely charming and equally inspiring picture.

Seeing Yasenia stop, everyone exploded!

"What the hell was that!?"

"My Heavens, what a monster!"

"Wait, isn't she just using her body strength? She did a bigger number than Lui Yi's second fist technique!

"KYAA!! SHE IS SO CHARMING!"

"I want her babies!"

However, people saw Yasenia getting into stance again without using any energy. A person asked with a trembling voice, "D-Don't tell me that she can hit harder."

Yasenia placed her body sideways, and then her long and charming right leg shot like a bullet toward the Monolith.

BANG!

392!

She took back her leg and swept it toward the Monolith again.

BANG!

412!

And another time.

BANG!!

424!

And one final time. The people saw a blur as her long and charming leg flashed toward the Monolith.

BANG!!

455!

Some people at the right angle were blushing because Yasenia's attacks left her quite vulnerable. Her small miniskirt lifted enough to show her sexy black underwear, and they could almost see the treasure land below them! But they could only catch a glimpse as Yasenia lowered her leg fast enough not to let them see it close.

Angel and Kali were impressed. They didn't know that Yasenia's leg strength was so high since she almost never used them in combat. However, her legs had to be strong as the dragoness had to carry the weight of her long tail through her life.

She didn't use them in combat because her sword was extremely heavy, leaving her with no option but to use her leg strength to make all the crazy and agile combat movements while carrying that heavy sword and using her tail simultaneously. Were Yasenia to have weak legs, and she wouldn't be able to fight!

At that moment, Lui Yi was slightly trembling at the side, filled with regret. 'I would rather give her Trial points than receive a punch from her!'

He had yet to see her full strength, but Lui Yi guessed that she would be able to create a number close to 700. Now Lui Yi could only pray that Yasenia was merciful with him.

Yasenia still didn't use her skills since she felt her tail could do more damage, so she positioned herself again. The people around gulped because they didn't feel any energy!

Then the dragoness moved her hips, sending that momentum through the tail and interlocking the tail muscles perfectly to increase that strength. Then, like a powerful whip, Yasenia's tail tip lashed the Monolith in its blunt state.

BAAANG!!

Like a bomb exploding, the tail impacted the Monolith with an explosive sound. The people looked at the number and took a deep breath, trying to calm their wildly beating hearts.

512!

That was the number floating above the Monolith. Just imagining receiving that tail lash sent shivers up their spines.