

Heaven 231

Chapter 231:

After the first tail lash, Yasenia hit the Monolith one more time. However, she had placed too much strength on the first hit, and the results of her four next attacks were lower than her previous 502. Even so, the banging sound of the tail hitting the Monolith made the spectators' hearts jump each time.

After seeing no more results, Yasenia muttered, "Let's start getting serious, shall we?"

The gazes the people were throwing at Yasenia made them look like fish out of the water. They thought that her tail attack was her serious mode, but now they heard that she was just beginning!

"What is wrong with this woman?"

"Isn't she just in the sixth level? How is it possible to be this strong?"

"She must have trained her body to the limits."

Angel and Kali were smiling proudly, happier than if their words were directed at them. They really wanted to brag aloud about her, but they held it in since Yasenia was about to attack the Monolith again.

Yasenia used [Celestial coat]. Her body was covered by the golden-silvery light, creating white firefly-like lights around her, complementing the white balls that orbited around her body in a beautiful picture. She was like a living constellation.

Then, she punched with half her strength.

BANG!

496!

Yasenia now had a good gauge of her strength with just the [Celestial Coat] activated and began rampaging on the Monolith again. 521! 532!

The numbers kept going up until the number 575 showed up. Yasenia raised an eyebrow; increasing the number was getting harder and harder. For the spectators, each punch was extremely fast and hard to perceive. Yasenia punched two more times, but only 571 and 574 appeared.

Then, Yasenia used her legs and slammed them onto the Monolith without mercy. The first hit was a proving one, so the number that appeared was just 560. Yasenia nodded and slammed her legs four more times, 590! 598! 604! 624! Finally, she tried to control her tail-lash strength and managed to hit it two different times, creating the numbers 643 and 656!

The people around were already numb, looking at the dragoness beating the Monolith and making it brightly shine as if it was a light show. The explosive sounds didn't fail to make their heart jump, but it was something they were getting used to.

When they saw Yasenia take a step back, they all sighed in relief. 'Finally, this monster is going to stop attacking that thing.'

Lui Yi was sweating buckets, 'As expected, she almost reached 700 points. At least I should be able to survive.'

But to everyone's dismay, they saw Yaseenia's aura inflating again and exploding outward with a wild dragon roar! The dragoness aura washed over all the people present, feeling like a water tide had just hit them.

Yaseenia had activated [Dragon Strength]!

The feeling Yaseenia currently gave was extremely tyrannical and imposing. It was as if her presence had become tens of times bigger before their very eyes, and some people almost kneeled because of the pressure Yaseenia currently released.

Yaseenia then repeated the process, surmounting her score eight more times. Yaseenia finished it with the extra tail lash.

BAANG!

The Monolith's light started to become blinding as Yaseenia's hit made it light up strongly. The light rushed upward in a small whirlwind, creating a big and bright 789!

Yaseenia thought, 'It is really hard to increase the numbers. I only raised my score by 133 points. How high will I be able to increase it when I use [Celestial Dress]? I will deactivate [Dragon Strength] and use it later to reach a higher number.'

Seeing Yaseenia deactivating all her auras, their heart relaxed again. That oppressive pressure also dissipated, letting people breathe normally again. Most of the thoughts were similar, 'Now it truly ended! I was scared that the Monolith would break or something.'

But, it seemed they were in for an emotional roller coaster as energy started gathering toward Yaseenia again.

Some people were literally crying, wondering when the dragoness would finish shattering their pride. Most of the people here had some level of confidence in their strength since they were able to enter the secret realm, but it was being stomped by the powerful dragon in front of them!

However, all these thoughts stopped when they saw Yaseenia's transformation.

When Yaseenia gathered the energy to use the [Celestial Dress], the aura coming toward her broke into silver, golden, and white threads, interlocking around Yaseenia's voluptuous body seamlessly. The energy threads transformed and created a gorgeous body-fitting white dress with a long, wavy, and silky skirt. The skirt was short in the front, showing off her beautiful and plump long legs, and it had images of the sun and moon on each side, giving it a mysterious empyreal beauty. The dragoness's long sleeves were adorned with two, one golden and one silver, eastern dragons.

Her demeanor became more majestic with the [Celestial dress] on her, and her highlighted body curves increased her seductiveness and beauty to the next level. Her long black hair and tail moved softly, and her golden-red slit eyes looked calm and profound. Adding the small white stars orbiting around her, she looked like a Celestial goddess, charming all the cultivators and townsfolk that looked at her.

Then, they saw Yaseenia taking a step forward and punching the Monolith. The air compressed and exploded before Yaseenia's dainty fist as it shot forward like a shooting star, carrying tremendous strength.

BOOM!

The ground trembled slightly as the Monolith lit up strongly. The light around rushed on top of the Monolith, creating a big 850. Then Yaseenia's arm blurred as she punched ten times in less than a second.

BOOM!* BOOM! *BOOM!

The Monolith was glowing like a second sun, and the light that spilled created one number after another. However, Yaseenia wasn't done yet. Her leg moved and kicked six times in another series of explosions, finishing her barrage with three extremely fast tail lashes.

BOOM!* BOOM! BOOM! *BOOM!

The trembles of the ground seemed like a small earthquake as the stone slabs cracked under Yaseenia's feet. The spectators saw the numbers constantly increasing until the final tail lash landed on the Monolith.

BOOOM!

The shockwave pushed people back as the number on top changed from white to red as if Yaseenia had crossed a threshold of some sort. The light red number that formed was 1003!

The people wanted to catch their breath. However, Yaseenia's last barrage had only just begun.

[Dragon Strength] activated!

Yaseenia's aura became so oppressive that even the half-steps were having trouble staying near Yaseenia! The hearts of the people were completely terrified at the dragoness strength.

Another sixteen attacks landed on the Monolith, a combination of punches, kicks, and tail attacks, creating bigger and redder numbers until a red 1241 appeared. The [Dragon Strength] gave multiplicative power, so it was more effective the stronger Yaseenia was.

Yaseenia had three attacks left in her mind. She crouched slightly, and her hand made a claw shape. Then she activated [Moon Dragon Claw], creating a phantom ten-meter-long silver-scaled dragon claw and swept toward the Monolith.

BOOM!

A silver explosion combined with the red light of the Monolith lit up the surroundings like a bloody Moon. This attack created the number 1421 on top of the abused Monolith. Yaseenia observed the Monolith for a little bit and saw that it was pristine. 'Thankfully, I'm not able to damage it. It would be bad if Angel and Kali can't gain points after I break it.'

After that, Yaseenia took back her hand in the claw form and slashed again, activating [Sun Dragon Claw]. A ten-meter-long golden-scaled dragon claw smashed toward Monolith with powerful momentum.

BOOM!

The bigger and stronger golden explosion impacted the Monolith, making it exude rivers of red light, creating the bright red 1571 number.

Finally, Yaseenia looked around her and saw that [Starry Sky] had reached the maximum 360 stars. Yaseenia said, her voice leaving no room for arguments, "Spread out. The next attack will be too powerful for you to be so close."

The people moved back without fusing about it. They had almost been frozen and burnt because of the [Moon Dragon Claw] and [Sun Dragon Claw]. They really didn't want to be near an attack that the powerful dragon before them considered too strong.

Yasenia saw that no townsfolk remained in the nearby area, so she used her unarmed most powerful skill, [Star Dragon Claw]. The stars around her ballooned and rushed toward each other. They fused without exploding and created a white scaled thirty-meter-long dragon claw. The scales were sleek and beautiful, giving the claw a majestic appearance.

Yasenia then took a step forward, and her hand cut through the air as if it was a viscous liquid. The white dragon claw followed Yasenia's movements and smashed toward the relatively small four-meter-tall Monolith.

BOOOOOMM!!!!

A white explosion consumed everything 200 meters around the dragoness, blinding everyone. The air shockwave pushed some cultivators backward. When the light subsided, they looked up, and their breath got caught in their throat. An enormous blood-red 2000 was floating there as proof that everything they saw wasn't a bad dream or an illusion. The number 2000 then dissolved and rushed toward Yasenia's dantian.

Yasenia nodded, satisfied. She could activate [Day and Night], but that was overkill. It wasn't worth showing her full strength to all these people. The strength she showed was enough to make most people scared of her, and unless someone managed to beat her record in this Monolith, they would have to think twice before attacking her. Moreover, this would deter the lecherous people from annoying her for a while.

The cultivators and townsfolk looked at the tall and charming Yasenia and realized that she wasn't even out of breath. A collective gulp was heard from the people around. It was so absurd that it felt surreal.

Yasenia turned toward Lui Yi and slowly walked toward him with sashaying hips. Her steps were calm, and her face had her typical seductive smirk, but the aura around her made people only feel reverence for her. They didn't dare become lustful for a woman of this caliber!

The man fell to his knees and shouted. "Spare me, senior sister, please! I won't dare cross your path again, and I will even be your lackey or slave! Please let me live! I was blind and didn't see your greatness!"

Yasenia kept walking toward him and asked, her voice calm as if she was talking about the weather. "Would you have spared me if I lost? Would you not have forced yourself on me if I was weaker than you?"

Yasenia's smirk widened, "Or would you laugh as I shouted under you, begging for you to stop?"

Lui Yi was about to answer, but Yasenia cut him. "You wouldn't have spared me. No matter which words you say through your mouth, you know the true answer to my question in your heart. Even now, when you are about to receive my attack, you still look at me with desire in your eyes. There is mostly fear, but your lustful nature still is aroused at my sight."

Yasenia reached before him and said, "I'm not a cruel woman. If nobody comes in my or my lovers' way, I won't even care about what people say about us. I may become angry, but I'm not so unreasonable that I wouldn't let people discuss us."

Yasenia slowly clenched her fist, and her aura rushed toward it. "However, you touched my reverse scale by doing that kind of bet. And no dragon likes their reverse-scale being touched. This is a fate you brought upon yourself."

The man knew asking for mercy was useless, so he stood up and began preparing his defenses. He couldn't retaliate nor escape because of the Heavenly oath, so he could only try to strengthen his body as much as possible. But to his and everyone else's surprise. Yasenia didn't wait for him to prepare. As soon as she finished speaking, she disappeared and appeared before the man, her punch shooting toward his dantian mercilessly.

Her fist blurred and landed three inches below the navel, on top of the dantian, with trampling strength.

The spectators saw Yasenia's fist sinking in his stomach as if it was made of water, and right after, Yasenia transferred all the momentum into his body.

The strength from the fully buffed dragoness punch literally exploded his waist area in a bloody mist, making the top and bottom parts of the body fly in different directions.

However, not a single drop of blood landed on Yasenia's body, as her natural aura pushed the filth away.

Chapter 232: Kali's surprise.

Everyone sucked a cold breath after Yasenia's attack.

Witnessing Lui Yi's violent death was something that could carve fear in a person's bones. Moreover, when they saw Yasenia standing in place with her fist outstretched, her face unchanging, the chill from the fear they felt was amplified.

Yasenia, however, was standing still because she was somewhat dazed for a moment. Right when her fist landed on the dantian of Liu Yi and burst it, the Trial Points he had were transferred toward her own dantian, adding 513 Trial Points. Yasenia was confused, 'Why did the Points transfer? I didn't get the points from those five I killed earlier. I need to ask the shopkeeper because if this is a thing, the danger of assassination will increase.'

Yasenia was really surprised and worried in her heart, but she didn't show it. She just calmly turned and walked back to Angel's, Kali's, and Sarah's side. Her face was calm, and her steps were as confident and relaxed as before. Yasenia stopped her skills with each step until she returned to her "base" form. She was still mulling about the recent kill. 'If points can be stolen, besides assassination, we could be targeted by other cultivators since we have much more points than the others. Although people treasure their lives, greed is a powerful pushing factor. Still, I hope my show of strength helps us deter most people, or it will become annoying once it becomes publicly known.'

In total, Yasenia currently had 3 213 Trial Points thanks to the attack flurry she slammed onto the Monolith. In truth, her points should be lower, but the red numbers gave more than the base 20 Trial Points, allowing Yasenia to reach this amount of Trial Points. That meant that, after deducing her previous 50 Trial Points and the recently stolen 513, Yasenia gained a total of 2 650 Points on the strength trial.

Quite a hefty sum, but it was still low compared with the prices of the recipes and some of the pills. She could only buy three of the most expensive pills! Yasenia gained a basic understanding of how difficult it was to earn points if you challenged low-level Monoliths. 'I should look for the strongest Monoliths around to gain Points faster. This town is basically a treasure land filled with ancient and lost recipes for most professions, so I have to milk it as much as Evelyn milks me!'

Yasenia's strange thoughts were interrupted when a golden bullet zoomed toward her. Yasenia chuckled and opened her arms to receive her little girl.

The golden bullet landed face first on her two melons. Yasenia expertly killed Angel's momentum spinning three times with extreme ease, already used to these tackles from her dear baby. Angel was jumping in her embrace and rubbing her face on Yasenia's softness to express her excitement. Were not because they were inside the secret realm, or she would probably have dragged Yasenia to a bedroom to have a nice roll on the sheets. Yasenia also became happy, and her tail wagged, "Did you like it so much, baby?"

"Yes, yes, yes! You were so gorgeous! Kyaa!! I love you the most!"

Kali approached and shyly hugged Yasenia's arm into her bosom, and although Yasenia couldn't see her face, Kali's wagging tail, twitching fox ears, and scent gave away how excited she was. "Even dear Kali is excited~."

Yasenia curled her long tail around Kali's and felt her wagging through her own tail. The dragoness was becoming aroused since both her dears were rubbing themselves on her too much. Yasenia's aura began changing slightly, becoming more alluring and seductive by the second.

The people who looked at her were left dazed as the dragoness's current demeanor seemed to be able to awaken the beasts in their hearts. Still, no one dared to move and averted their eyes. 'After they complete this Monolith, let's find a safe place~. Fufufu, I'm going to make them show their excitement in another way~.'

Sarah was beside them, a little awkward, but her heart still pounded strongly, making her cheeks blush. She thought the man from the [White Tiger Sect] was strong, but the following events blew her mind away.

[Host. This is why I told you to be careful with individuals with a fate like hers. Their strength is always extremely abnormal]

This sentence woke Sarah from her stupor and asked the system with a stutter, 'Are you telling me that there are more people with a strength similar to Yasenia?'

[Host. Not only similar but even superior.]

Sarah was stunned. She couldn't imagine someone stronger than Yasenia. Her thoughts were interrupted when she heard Yasenia speak. "Now it is your turn. You've seen how I did it, right? Start slow and keep going up to gain as many points as possible."

Angel separated her face from Yasenia's breasts and nodded with a blush still covering her cheeks. Yasenia couldn't resist diving down to bite and taste the delicious-looking cheeks, making Angel laugh sweetly.

Kali decided to go first. Her physical strength had advanced a lot after transforming into a [Life's Origin Nine-Tailed Fox], and it will continue growing as Kali unlocks more tails and her human blood dissolves.

Nonetheless, Kali didn't know how physically strong she currently was, so she began slowly. She reached before the Monolith and punched lightly. 'I hope I reach the low one hundreds.'

Bam.

After her punch landed, the Monolith lit somewhat brightly and formed the number 189. The people around disdained it because they had forgotten themselves after seeing Yaseenia's performance.

"So weak."

"Did she truly go through the Heaven Gate?"

"Who is she anyway? Why are you comparing her with the Heavenly Dragoness?"

Even if the people around disdained it, Kali was completely stunned. She had barely used strength in that punch, and she had just used it to measure her next strikes. Still, it almost reached the Heaven Gate requirement.

She was excited at her immense improvement, but looking around at the people's disdainful gazes, she became slightly uncomfortable. This situation made her remember some bad memories from the first months after her tragic event. Her heart felt somewhat stuffed.

However, at that moment, Kali heard Yaseenia's mellow and slightly deep voice penetrating through all the bad comments like a sunray on a cloudy day. "Good job, honey! Now go up little by little~!"

Kali felt all the negative feelings pop like a bubble. Her lips unconsciously arched in a happy smile as her eyes locked onto the proudly smiling dragoness. 'So what if people disdain me? I have Yaseenia cheering on me, and her voice alone rings louder than a thousand!'

Kali relaxed her body, and her focus peaked. Her right fist went forward and impacted the Monolith again

Bam.

201!

"Huh? Wasn't she punching with all her strength? How did she increase twelve points?"

"It must have been luck!"

However, Kali was there to shut everyone up as her left and right fist came one after another. Each time, there would be a slight increase in strength, giving Kali plenty of points. The numbers began going up 209! 215! 221! 227! 233! 240! 245! 255! 266! 271!

With each punch, the people around shut up more and more while Yaseenia's smirk widened. Then, Kali took a step back and used her whole body to punch. Her fist exploded the air before it as it hit the Monolith strongly

BANG!

289!

The harsh training during these last months had increased her strength tremendously. Kali almost reached the [White tiger Sect] 's Liu Yi score! This meant that her body strength was practically as high as a body cultivator's! The proof that Kali needed to acknowledge her own improvement was clearly displayed in front of her, making her ecstatic.

Our little fox, of course, realized it and couldn't help but turn to look at Yasenia with a pounding heart. Yasenia, like always, was looking at her with a gentle and encouraging smile, that smile Kali had seen so many times that she would be able to paint it with extreme detail, that smile that had pushed her out of her dark world into a colorful and beautiful one.

Kali didn't say anything; words of thanks had already been exchanged between them. What Kali had left to do to thank Yasenia was create results! She turned toward the Monolith and activated her elemental coat. Roots covered her body as her aura became as gentle and refreshing as Nature.

Then, she punched again seven more times, each time with increased strength, reaching the number 367. The people that had mocked her had their tongues tied, unable to utter another word.

Then, she used roots to lash the Monolith until she couldn't do more damage. She could use eight root strikes, reaching an impressive 456! The number was higher than Lui Yi.

However, Kali looked at that number, unsatisfied. She thought for a moment and then remembered that Yasenia told them they could probably use their summons. 'The treants and Valeria hit stronger than me, let's summon them.'

The surrounding people were speechless. They thought that Lui Yi was strong, but then Yasenia and the people with her came and destroyed their precognition of strength. Even now, they saw that the fox-woman before the Monolith still had some more hidden cards and was about to play them. Else, she would have turned and left.

Kali summoned a single five-meter-tall treant and made it punch the Monolith with half of its strength. The people around were frozen for a second and then began cursing, "Fuck, you can also use summons!?"

"Right! The plate says not to use external strength. Everything else must be allowed!"

"I'm so stupid. I could have gained more Trial Points."

"Thankfully, I haven't done it yet!"

BANG!

The big fist of the Treant landed on the Monolith, and after the Monolith lighted up, a 424 appeared. Kali then made it punch with slightly more strength each time. However, the Treant wasn't too bright, and its control was small. It only managing to punch three times, elevating the number to 512. Kali frowned, realizing her mistake too late. 'I should have summoned Valeria since the beginning. She would have been able to give me much more points... '

Kali shook her head and didn't let it affect her. She began gathering energy and Wood, Nature, and Life energy thickened and gathered in front of Kali. Kali's dress, hair, and tail fluttered with the energy stream as the summoning began. A single green root shot up from the ground and transformed into a humanoid form. Kali didn't have haste, so she did the summoning slowly.

As the form of the three-meter-tall voluptuous lady got clearer, the people around had their mouths watering. Valeria's body proportions followed Yaseenia's, but she was double Yaseenia's height, doubling everything else. The long floral dress complimented the green lady perfectly, and her greenish but smooth skin was beautiful in its own way. Not to mention her gentle facial features, green eyes with golden slit pupils, and long emerald green hair increased her charm to a dangerously attractive level.

Kali saw the looks the people gave Valeria and scrunched her nose. Valeria was a precious person to her, and she didn't appreciate people looking at her that way. However, she ignored it since she couldn't ask people not to look at the giant lady. It was an irrational demand to do. "Valeria, hit the Monolith slowly until the number above is 512."

The Golden Crown understood what Kali wanted perfectly. Valeria's wooden staff wasn't external strength since she created it herself, so she could attack with it just fine. After Valeria reached the number 514, Kali began commanding her to hit the Monolith with a little more strength each time. Valeria obeyed and hit it eight more times, reaching an impressive 594, almost tripling the Heaven Gate requirements.

Kali smiled proudly. She felt that Valeria had become very strong. Then, Kali buffed the [Golden Crown] two times, once with [Nature's blessing], and then with [Overgrowth], managing to get another fourteen hits and reaching an astounding 734. The number of attacks Kali did were 53, earning a total of 1060 Trial Points. Kali could certainly go higher, but she didn't want to show all her cards publicly. It wasn't worth it to lay all her tricks in front of unknown people to only gain one or two hundred extra Trial Points.

Kali was now satisfied and turned toward Yaseenia, walking with Valeria in tow. Before she could speak, the dragoness caught her in her clutches and began scratching her behind the fox ear and across her tail, praising her with a pampering tone. This sent any other thought out of her head as she literally melted between Yaseenia's arms. Kali plastered herself on the dragoness's soft body and involuntarily began making cute noises.

Chapter 233: The power of formations. Angel's miscalculation.

While Yaseenia was pampering Kali, Angel decided to approach the Monolith. She thought about how to take on the trial and decided to begin with her physical strength. The little girl was curious about how much physical power she had. She punched the Monolith softly first and then increased her strength little by little. The cute and sweet girl with disproportionate breasts managed to score an impressive 264.

Even though she was far from Kali's 289 or Lui Yi's 299, she showed high strength for someone at the eighth level of the Mental Nourishing realm.

Angel had a high-level bloodline called [Light Molding Glass Sallow], but it was not comparable to Kali's [Life's Origin Nine-Tailed Fox]. Still, once she reached the half-step, she would absolutely be able to crush Lui Yi strength-wise.

Next, Angel hit the Monolith with different combinations of formations, golems, and exploding golems. Her score constantly increased, showing extreme control over her abilities. Her current score was 813! However, Angel wanted to try and reach the 1 000. She thought a bit and concluded that using her typical formations would be hard.

Angel's formations didn't just have to be strong, but also not too complex, or they would be completely useless in battle. This time, however, Angel could take all the time she wanted.

The people around were a little disgruntled at her pause since they wanted to hit the Monolith. However, whenever someone was about to speak and complain, they could feel a pair of Golden Dragon eyes locking onto them. Therefore, under Yassenia's care, Angel could calculate all she wanted.

Tatyana and Yassenia had similar likes and dislikes, so the Death Empress had taken a liking toward the sweet and cute Angel since the beginning. Tatyana could see that Angel's soul was extremely pure, devoid of the malice people normally had, making Tatyana fond of her. Moreover, she was very talented in the formation aspect, which Tatyana was a master for.

Therefore, Tatyana had been teaching Angel personally. The first thing she did was help her learn how to do calculations without the use of tools. This would be extremely helpful for Angel, whether with her formation mastery or battle strength.

Angel's trained and extremely intelligent mind spun and formulated countless formations in her head. She calculated different energy patterns, observed the plaza's geological condition, and measured the air's energy amount, purity, and how many layers of her formations she could superimpose. The little girls did all measurements like a precise machine, with negligible margin of error. After one minute, Angel's eyes flashed and a happy and sweet smile formed on her face. She moved around the Monolith, planting [Glass Nodes] and using some other formation components.

Formation components were composed of flags, rocks, pillars, lines painted by the formation pen, and the "ink" used for this pen. This ink could be made with the combination of countless different materials, and depending on the ingredients, it would add different effects to the formation. Formation masters had to be careful not to mix elements that could react with each other wrongly, or it could even lead to a backlash.

The materials Angel was using were mostly energy-gathering materials, with some light channeling and absorption rocks. There was a flag in each of the four directions and another four pillars in the middle of the diagonal connecting these flags. The [Glass nodes] created three concentric circles, connected by the Angel-painted yellow colored "ink." There were some more intricate shapes inside these three circles.

The formation masters around almost had their eyes popping out of their skulls. The precision, speed, material knowledge, and movements that Angel was showing were well above the level of a Mental Nourishing formation master.

"She is a genius!"

"Impressive. I think I would need at least 20 years more of training to reach her level."

"20 years? I think you missed a zero there!"

"However, why is she building an energy-gathering formation?"

"Hmm, there are places I can't understand, but it is true that the general form is similar to a [Energy Gathering array]."

"She isn't planning on sitting here and cultivating, right? I want to hit the Monolith!"

"If she does that, I will fight her!"

"Are you sure? That dragoness is looking at you quite intensely right now."

The man who declared that didn't speak again because he was petrified after Yasenias glared at him. They couldn't do anything but wait until Angel finished the formation. Fifteen minutes later, Angel cheered, "Nice~. It is done! Now, I have to change all the 'External' Objects with glass that has similar qualities."

Angel had purposely chosen materials that her glass could replicate, so she had no problem. Little Angel needed to see how the materials reacted with each other first. If she had done everything with her glass from the beginning, she wouldn't be able to modify it with enough precision.

Angel took another thirty minutes rearranging everything with her glass element. Angel had molded the glass to her will very easily. It was mesmerizing to look at as Angel basically danced around with colorful glass surrounding her, substituting the things that formed the formation.

The cultivators weren't even mad because it was very pleasant to look at, so they just shut up and continued looking. Those that wanted to protest were a minority, and seeing that the restless people had calmed down and were looking at Angel with interest, they didn't dare interrupt. Moreover, there was still a very dangerous and powerful dragoness looking at everyone like a predator looking at its prey.

After those thirty minutes went by, the formation Angel created was done. It was quite beautiful to look at since the glass didn't only have its natural transparent color. Different forms, colors, and grades of transparency naturally appeared as Angel changed the properties of her glass, resulting in a beautiful concentric circular formation.

Yasenias also knew a lot about formations since Tatyana had taught her since she was little. Yasenias just wasn't able to use them yet because the formation pens she used didn't function correctly. The lines she painted randomly crooked themselves because of things Yasenias didn't understand. But her knowledge was as vast if not deeper than Angel's herself. Having a Formation Master Demigoddess as a mother was a big plus, after all.

Therefore, the dragoness completely understood the formation, and her smile widened with pure and unadulterated delight and pride; even her tail was wagging. 'My baby is so clever! She might be able to reach and overcome my record!'

Angel looked at Yasenias and saw her current expression, making her also smile sweetly. She loved when Yasenias showed that joyous expression for them. Every time they did something impressive, their dragoness was the first to praise and pamper them to the heavens as a reward. She always was happier about their achievements than hers.

Angel refocused and began gathering light energy in front of her. The beautiful glass formation began lighting up, giving the surroundings a rainbow-like hue. Then, Angel spoke the name of her recently created formation, "Activate, [Magnifying Laser Wheel Formation]!"

The clump of light energy in front of Angel shot toward one of the two-meter-tall sapphire blue Glass Pillars, the one in the northeast location. Then, the whole formation lit up, and the energy in the surroundings rushed toward it.

The pillar absorbed the light bolt and concentrated it for a moment. In that instant, the circles on the ground channeled energy toward the pillar, fusing that energy with the light-beam Angel shot. The empowered shot burst out from the side of the pillar toward the flag at the north. Then, the ruby-like flag deflected a tiny portion of the laser toward the Monolith, letting the rest rebound toward the next pillar.

The laser that hit the Monolith lit it up and created a 318.

"Forty-five minutes for this?"

"Was it all for nothing?"

"What a waste of my time."

However, before they could comment further, the second pillar shot the laser toward the flag in the west, creating the same diverging effect. The next laser slammed onto the pillar and was absorbed, lighting it up. The number that appeared this time was 334.

The people sneered again, "Indeed, just a waste of time."

However, the third pillar had been gathering energy that the light beam absorbed when it reached it. Then, it shot toward the south flag. The flag created the same effect again, and the laser that slammed the Monolith formed the number 355.

The cultivators started frowning, "What is happening? Why is the number going up?"

Yasenia smirked disdainfully and thought, 'Ignorant people truly like to speak nonsense.'

Angel didn't mind the comments and surveyed everything. Seeing it work as intended, she smiled, satisfied, and turned, jogging toward Yasenia. Like a little bird returning to her nest, she slammed head first between those heavenly mounds. Yasenia chuckled gently and asked, "How much time can you keep up this formation, baby?"

That question made a lot of people realize the potential. 'Wait, this is going to continue indefinitely?'

The people's eyes opened wide and looked toward the Monolith again.

BAM!

The laser slammed powerfully and created a 380, higher than the previous number. Now, they knew where this was going. The question was, as Yasenia asked, how much time Angel could maintain it. But her answer made a lot of them almost collapse. Angel looked up at Yasenia, genuinely confused, and asked, "Huh? Didn't you see the Eight Elemental gathering sub-formation?"

Yasenia tilted her head and looked at the formation again. There was an eight-pointed star that was only visible after looking at the formation as a whole. Each end of the star touched a flag or a pillar. 'Indeed, there it is. My little girl managed to create the sub-formation naturally utilizing the shape of the main formation... What can I say? My baby is a super genius that even fooled me!'

As Yasenia deduced, the sub-formation was naturally formed when Angel combined the other formations, so Yasenia didn't realize it at first. Yasenia laughed out loud, knowing the function of this sub-formation. "So it can run forever as long as there is energy around."

That's right. This sub-formation was used to feed the formation's main core. It needed abundant energy in the surroundings, but it could work perfectly in this town where energy was extremely rich in the air. Moreover, it didn't disrupt the balance since the whole formation was based on absorbing and releasing energy.

The people that had managed to get up after collapsing fell again. This time, they were almost kneeling to Angel's might! They almost shouted aloud, "Miss, we are sorry for doubting your capabilities!"

And so, the cultivators could only look as the numbers increased. 400...600... 800... The lasers right now were very terrifying, even more so when the laser that attacked the Monolith was only the small portion the flags deviated from the main laser that was making rounds.

Angel began gaining points crazily as the numbers overcame the 1 000! However, a single detail went over Angel's mind. The durability of her own glass. Sadly, Angel wasn't looking at the formation since she was too occupied hugging Yasenia. Yasenia, however, was keeping an eye. She didn't want something going wrong. If that laser killed one of the mortals running around, Angel would die for it.

Yasenia's gaze turned serious as she saw the formation began to tremble, "Angel dear, did you put a mechanism to stop the formation?"

Angel looked at Yasenia's serious face and nodded, "Yes. This formation can grow infinitely, so it needs a release valve."

Yasenia laughed and caressed her long blonde hair, "You always focus too much on the theory. Look at your formation, my love."

Angel looked at it and instantly frowned. "It is going to break."

Another enormous laser slammed the Monolith.

BAAANG!

Yasenia looked at the massive red 1 340 that just appeared and advised, "At this pace, it won't be able to endure the 1500s. Stop it before it is too late."

Angel sighed sadly and approached the dangerously overloading formation, "I thought I could win a ton of points."

The laser was currently gaining strength in the northwest pillar.

Angel shot a thin laser beam toward one of the biggest [Glass Nodes] near the middle. That node was placed in the southwest position. When the overcharged laser shot toward the west flag, it rebounded on the flag, with the standard diverting effect, toward the Monolith and the southwest pillar.

However, that pillar had changed forms when the laser reached it. The pillar was now similar to a cannon, pointing at the Monolith in the middle. All the energy inside the formation rushed toward the cannon, lighting it up brightly. The oceanic color painted the surroundings beautifully because of its sapphire-like composition. Then, the blue cannon shot the overcharged ten-meter-wide laser beam toward the fourth meter tall Monolith.

Yasenia's eyes suddenly thinned, and her heart sank. 'It is too powerful!'

Chapter 234: Relieving her stress. (R-18)

'It is too powerful!'

However, Yaseenia wasn't still as that thought crossed her mind. Her body reacted before her own mind, rushing behind the Monolith at her max speed. Not only that, as she moved, she activated all her buffing skills. She even activated [Day and Night] to multiply her strength exponentially!

Her aura created an enormous shockwave that pushed people back as if it was a water wave, and her body got covered by the [Celestial Dress], empowered by her [Dragon Strength], and the [Moon Assimilation] kicked in.

As soon as she reached behind the Monolith, Yaseenia stabbed her sword on the ground without holding back and roared. "[FULL MOON]."

Angel, at first, was curious about the strength of the laser that had been charging for a while but didn't consider the width of the laser after shooting from the cannon. The laser was so strong that it widened to an almost ten-meter wide laser when it discharged toward the Monolith!

Angel instantly turned pale, and her heart dropped; if that laser hit a town inhabitant, it would sentence instant death not only for them but for Angel too! The worst thing was that Angel couldn't do anything to dissipate the attack. 'I'm going to die!'

When Angel's heart dropped at the bottom of the abyss, a powerful aura wave washed everything as a bright silver dome appeared behind the Monolith. The dome was like the Moonlight appearing on a cloudy night, illuminating the surroundings with her protective embrace.

The powerful laser beam smashed onto the Monolith, but most of it spilled from the sides, rushing toward Yaseenia's defense.

As the people were still being pushed by Yaseenia's aura explosion, the laser and the [Full Moon] collided.

BOOOM!

The laser was so powerful that the silver dome bent inwardly, cracking badly. Yaseenia felt like an asteroid smashed [Full Moon]. The impact was so bad that she coughed up blood. However, Yaseenia didn't stop pouring her energy and the energy she absorbed with [Moon Assimilation] into the silver dome. Yaseenia roared with all her might as she fought against the powerful attack! "ROAR!"

With the mighty and deep roar, Yaseenia poured energy crazily toward [Full Moon], stopping the spreading cracks and deflecting the powerful beam toward the sky. She wouldn't let this attack even scratch a person unless it killed her!

The powerful beam lasted just five seconds, but it felt extremely long for Yaseenia. There was more than one time when she thought that [Full Moon] couldn't hold on. Still, when the enormous pressure on the shield disappeared, Yaseenia dropped to her knees, breathing roughly. She couldn't help but curse as she dissipated all her skills. 'Fuck, that was close.' Her aura wave had injured some mortal people as they tumbled on the ground because of it, but it wasn't anything serious.

Angel was so scared that her legs had lost strength, and her face was completely drained of blood. Kali had moved not long after Yaseenia. Her objective was to protect Angel in case someone decided to take advantage of the situation. Yaseenia stood up and hastily moved beside Angel, "Are you okay? Do you feel bad in any place?"

Angel instantly rushed into Yasenia's arms and hugged her strongly. She didn't cry, but she was close to; that was the closest Angel had ever been to dying, so the relief of still being alive made tears accumulate in her eyes. She thanked Yasenia as she hugged her with all her strength as if she wanted to assimilate herself inside the dragoness. "Thank you. Thank you. Thank you."

Yasenia consoled Angel kissing and coaxing her. She looked to the side and saw the hard-to-miss giant bloody number. The number 5 000 was floating there imposingly, letting everyone know the absolute barbaric strength of that attack. Everyone was speechless looking at it, and even Yasenia had her mouth slightly opened. 'Thank the heavens I activated [Day and Night], or I wouldn't have been able to withstand it. I even have some internal organs hurt because of the impact between [Full Moon] and the laser.'

Yasenia saw that Angel wasn't about to separate from her body, so she told Sarah. "Sarah, I'm going to relax Angel in a nearby resting place. Take the Monolith, and then come find us over there."

Without waiting for her answer, Yasenia left with Angel between her arms and Kali in tow. Sarah blinked twice, 'Did I get abandoned?'

Sarah saw the countless gazed around looking at her, so she approached the Monolith fast, completing it half-heartedly. Even so, she managed to reach the number 612 after hitting it 31 times, gaining a total of 620 Points. Then, Sarah walked toward the inn Yasenia pointed with quick steps. She was ignoring the voices around and looking down.

Angel had won 3950 Points after the absolute barrage she did to that Monolith. In total, Sarah had 920 Trial Points. Kali reached 1 360 Points, Yasenia 3 213, and Angel 4250 after adding her 300 Points earned previously.

When Yasenia entered the room, she created a sound concealing and an alarm formation. These two were simple enough to deploy with a single thought. Angel had been kissing and sniffing her cleavage, and although there had been a scare, Yasenia was still somewhat horny because of the previous rubbing the two of them did. Yasenia began groping Angel's little butt and whispered, "Baby, you are arousing me~."

Angel answered with a needy voice, "I want it, Yasenia. I want to feel you inside~."

Kali blushed at the side and left the room to wait for them outside. Yasenia didn't tell her to stay since she wanted to focus on Angel. But she will still go to do some things with Kali later. As soon as Kali left the room, Yasenia threw Angel onto the bed and took off her clothes.

Angel observed the voluptuous body and that powerful rod pointing at the sky, and her nether regions were already drooling. Yasenia didn't say anything as she took off Angel's white skirt and her panties in the same motion. Then, she dove face first toward Angel's golden treasure land. Yasenia's lips met with the soft labia of Angel, and her tongue spread open those puffy lips. Angel's body arched as she released a moan.

The clitoris on top was already swelling, and Yasenia attacked it with her long and flexible tongue. Her soft and slimy tongue investigated the flavor of every corner, including her insides, in a dance that sent Angel on a moaning spree. "Oh yes! So good! More! I want more!"

The way Yasenia ate her pussy was on another level, and her nerves were lighting up constantly. Yasenia moved Angel until she was sitting with her back on the headboard. This way, they could look into each other's eyes as Yasenia kissed, bit, licked, and sucked on Angel's privates.

As Angel moaned, she saw Yassenia's eyes turn golden-pink, and her mouth descended, exploring the other hole. Angel shouted, "No! Don't lick there!"

However, Yassenia knew this place was very clean, so she didn't have any reservations. Her tongue made a round on the pink and beautiful anus and then penetrated it. Her hand moved simultaneously, and two fingers entered Angel's vagina. Angel moaned loudly, "Nooo!"

But even if she said that her hands pushed Yassenia's head deeper, wanting to feel more. The slimy feeling in that forbidden hole and the two fingers squelching on her vagina sent her over the edge in no time. More so when Yassenia suddenly used the complete length of her long tongue to penetrate her backdoor as deep as possible. Her eyes rolled as she shouted, "I'm cumming!"

Yassenia had her face sprayed by Angel's fluids as the muscles on the backdoor clenched and spasmed on her inserted tongue. She continued stimulating. Her tail was wagging as Angel sprayed her fluids, and her penis was leaking with precum.

Angel came back and saw the absolute delight on Yassenia's face as she continued her exploration, making her blush. Then, a quite arousing scene followed. Yassenia separated slightly and slowly retracted her long and wide tongue from the butthole while looking up at Angel. The feeling of the deeply inserted tongue leaving her hole and seeing it slowly retracting inside Yassenia's mouth was so arousing that Angel almost came again.

After taking the tongue inside her mouth again, she made a seductive smile and commented with a husky tone, "You are delicious~."

Angel thought her heart would explode because of Yassenia's current seductive index. Yassenia then went up her body like a snake coiling around her prey. She took off Angel's top, leaving both of them completely naked. She reached Angel's face after rubbing her breasts with her face and invaded her mouth with that pleasurable tongue. Angel instantly melted and savored Yassenia's tongue.

Yassenia didn't wait anymore as Angel was more than prepared for any kind of action. She deeply kissed Angel from above and grabbed her butt, positioning her dick on her entrance. Then, without saying anything, she thrust inside.

Angel's tight vagina tightly welcomed the dick of the dragon. Her insides quivered with delight, and both of them moaned because of stimulation.

"Mmmph~."

"Mm~."

Then, Yassenia began moving her waist in perfect and seductive movements. Her wide penis head massaged Angel's vaginal walls completely, pushing against all her buttons and sending continuous hot waves of pleasure through Angel's body. The thrusts were long and smooth, almost going out of her and penetrating back inside until she crushed the womb.

Angel felt like a boat in a storm, completely at Yassenia's mercy.

Yassenia wasn't done yet as her tail slithered between her legs and touched the lubricated asshole. Angel's arms and legs around Yassenia tightened, placing their bodies together and showing anticipation. She loved having her three holes ravaged at the same time by Yassenia. Her mouth would be full with Yassenia's delicious tongue, her vagina would feel as if it didn't have any more space to welcome a wider girth, and her asshole was penetrated more deeply than any other masculine member could by that slightly bumpy and thick, soft tail.

Yasenia delivered and alternated the dick and tail. When her dick thrust inside, the tail went outside. When the tail thrust inside, the dick would almost leave the tight and spasming vagina. She even thrust inside Angel's throat with her long tongue. Angel's eyes rolled upward, and her brain exploded with euphoria. "MMMPH!!"

Yasenia felt the contractions and also reached orgasm. Her dick and tail inflated and spurted her cum in the deepest parts of Angel. Angel's legs straightened as her nails dug into Yasenia's back. "OOOHHH!!"

Her whole body was sent on an orgasm spree as she felt the hot semen invading her uterus and rectum. The powerful Yang energy rushed through her meridians like electricity, making her whole body tremble with delight.

Yasenia sighed through her nose with pure joy as she came buckets inside Angel. How she loved feeling their insides being saturated by her release and spilling outside. Their twitching and pleasure-driven appearance was always a delight to look at as she felt accomplished. She whispered with a low tone that would make any woman weak in her legs. "My baby's insides are now almost filled by my seed~. Only your belly is left~."

Yasenia moved and took out her deeply inserted rods, letting the white liquid spill, and sat on the bed, open-legged and grabbing the beautiful and glistening penis. "Take your daily milk, my love~."

The arousing scene of Yasenia opening her legs and showing all her vulnerable spots was something no one could resist. Angel didn't even hesitate as she crawled toward the penis and opened her mouth as wide as she could. Else, that girth wouldn't be able to fit her mouth.

Then, she glomped down the long penis in a single thrust, filling her own throat with it. Angel was so accustomed to giving deep blowjobs that she didn't flinch and enjoyed it. Yasenia moaned and moved her tail, slithering it down Angel's spine. Yasenia saw the Angel placing only the tip on her mouth and using her big breasts to surround her hardness. Then, as Angel moved her tits up and down, she slurped on the dick with absolute delight. Yasenia threw her head back and moaned after that softness enveloped her length. "So good! You are so good at this!"

Yasenia's tail completely slithered down her spine and began slowly entering Angel's lower mouth. The sensation was strange as it felt like a creature was slithering inside her vagina. Still, the feeling of Yasenia's thick tail wiggling inside and stimulating every single pleasure point made Angel moan, wanting more of the tail inside. Yasenia, of course, penetrated as deep as she could before she began thrusting her tail while receiving the blowjob and titjob simultaneously.

They didn't last much, and both came again. Angel had her mouth filled with Yasenia's semen the moment it shot the first rope and gulped it down with eagerness. Her tongue was rolling around the head, asking for more of that delicious nectar from her dragoness. Yasenia delivered, and her penis and tail repeatedly twitched, shooting thick, warm, and delightful cum inside Angel's pussy and mouth.

Their session continued until Angel completely forgot about the reason they began this session, achieving Yasenia's objective of relaxing Angel.

Chapter 235: Angel's jealousy. Feeding Kali~. (R-18)

Angel was currently lying on top of Yasenia, her insides full of Yasenia's semen, and her face and body so relaxed that she seemed more a blob than a human. Yasenia caressed her damp back with tenderness and kissed the top of Angel's head, which was resting on top of the milk-stained breasts. Which milk, you ask? Well, both.

Yasenia was comfortably growling as her penis was still inside Angel, even though they weren't moving. Angel could feel her deep purring since her head was resting on top of her chest. The vibrations contributed to softening the current Angel blob. Angel mewled with utter tenderness and love, "I feel so good~. I love you~."

Yasenia smiled, and her tail wagged. Thankfully, it wasn't inserted anywhere, so it didn't stimulate the tired Angel.

Yasenia took out a High-level Earth-ranked [Yin replenishing pill] and gave it to Angel. "Open your mouth~."

Angel opened and licked Yasenia's fingers and the pill as an extra. Angel rubbed her face on the big breast and asked, "Why did you give me a [Yin Replenishing Pill]?" She had taken this pill so many times that she already knew which one it was because of the refreshing flavor.

Yasenia said softly, "Remember where we are, baby. I can't have you tired and energyless, right?"

Angel nodded, but didn't move, and even her arms tightened around Yasenia. Yasenia sighed and sat up with Angel between her arms. Angel whined and even her vagina clenched on the escaping member. "I don't want to move~."

Yasenia almost lost control and went one more round, but she also wanted to have some action with Kali. Moreover, she didn't want to completely tire Angel. "I'm sorry, baby. If we were in the Academy, I wouldn't mind being like this as much as you want, but we can't. We have to continue gaining points."

Angel whined a little more, acting completely spoiled, and Yasenia's heart was seriously swaying. How could our dragoness resist her dearest little girl's soft whines? However, with a will stronger than when she fought against Isla, she managed to separate Angel from her. Angel pouted as Yasenia bathed her.

Yasenia laughed and kissed her pouty lips, "Don't be angry, baby. We can do it more some days later, okay? Even if we can't do it daily, we can have some intimacy as long as we have spare time."

Angel asked, "What about Sarah?"

Yasenia asked back, confused, "What about her?"

Angel said, "Won't she feel ignored?"

Yasenia blinked twice and asked again, "Does that matter in any way with my previous statement?"

Angel explained, "Won't that stop you from having intimacy with us?"

Yasenia was surprised for a moment and then laughed aloud, sending her naked melons in a jiggling motion. Angel appreciated their bounces very much. Yasenia smirked, "Do you think that Sarah can come between us in any way or form? Hahaha. If she dares, that would be the moment we each go our way!"

Angel relaxed, "You are treating her so well, so I was scared."

Yasenia smiled softly, "Are you feeling jealous, baby?"

Angel nodded honestly. She was always one hundred percent honest in front of Yasenia. There wasn't anything that the little girl would hide from Yasenia, no matter how ugly or low that feeling might be.

Yasenia sighed and entered the bathtub with Angel, hugging her closely, "Don't worry, I'm like that because she is too strange. So I want to be on her good side. Most of the gestures I do to her are just an act."

Angel asked with a smile, "Really?"

Yasenia nodded, "Of course! Did you forget my promise already?"

Angel shook her head and hugged Yasenia tightly with a happy and sweet smile. "I love you!"

"I love you too, Angel."

Forty minutes had gone by when Yasenia and Angel came out of the room. It wasn't a long or short time. Yasenia looked at Sarah and asked, "What score did you reach, Sarah? I'm sorry I couldn't see and cheer on you."

Sarah smiled and said, "I managed to reach 612 points!"

Yasenia internally frowned and thought, 'So little?' Yasenia probed the waters, "So you held back! I was sure that you could overcome the 1 000 easily."

Sarah shook her head and hands, "How could that be possible! I'm not that strong!"

Yasenia laughed and said, "Don't be so humble. Your show of strength in the Heaven Gate scared even me! You were very powerful back then."

Sarah's face was strange, 'System, how do I cover up for that?'

[Host. You can tell her that it is a skill with limited time.]

Sarah said to Yasenia, "Ah... That was just a skill that let me draw out my potential. I can't use it often, but after seeing the Heaven Gate strength, I wasn't confident without using it."

Yasenia smiled and didn't comment anymore. 'Did the soul possessing her order to say that? Maybe she is just trying to reduce her suspicious increase in strength. This means that she can't enter that battle mode often. That's good news, I'm not confident about defeating a senior even if it is possessing a body with lower strength than mine.'

Yasenia imagined Tatyana controlling Sarah as she fought with her to the death, and a chill went up her spine. 'I bet mom can kill me with Body Modification realm strength. A senior's combat sense is on a completely different level.'

Yasenia said, "Before we move out, I want to speak with Kali about something. We will come out in forty minutes at most. Angel, Sarah, wait here."

They nodded and watched as Kali and Yasenia reentered the room. Sarah asked, "Are you okay? I saw that you were very scared back then."

Angel had her belly still warm from Yasenia's release, she felt so comfortable with the Yang energy around her that she couldn't feel any bad feelings at the moment. Therefore, Angel looked at Sarah and nodded with a sweet smile, "Yes, after Yasenia pampered me, I'm perfectly fine!"

Sarah wanted to pinch her cheeks! 'She looks so cute!'

However, she held back while feeling somewhat sour, 'I also want to be pampered.'

A dialogue option appeared before Sarah,

[Option 1: That's good. Can you convince Yasenia also to pamper me?] (Reward: -10 affinity with Angel. A Transcendent Grade Sword.)

[Option 2: Are you bragging? I wasn't that interested anyway.] (Reward: -5 affinity with Angel. A Transcendent rank pill recipe.)

[Option 3: I'm happy you recovered. I hope Yasenia finishes her business quickly.] (Reward: +1 affinity with Angel. +1 strength.)

Sarah directly chose the third option. Even if the rewards were higher for the other options, Sarah had been warned that the higher the reward, the stronger the challenge she would need to overcome in the future. "I'm happy you recovered. I hope Yasenia finishes her business quickly."

Angel nodded and lay on the sofa lazily. She was still tired after Yasenia pounded her to oblivion.

Meanwhile, when Kali and Yasenia entered the room, Yasenia instantly attacked Kali.

Kali was covered by the soft body of the dragoness and slammed against the door. Then, her scarred lips got assaulted by Yasenia's soft and moist ones. Kali answered with the same passion as Yasenia and interlocked her limbs with her.

Yasenia carried Kali toward the bed and laid her there. Kali's back hit the soft mattress, and then the dragoness pinned her down. "You are mm~ so eager, my love."

Yasenia looked into Kali's verdant green eyes with her slowly transforming golden-pink eyes and smiled, "Did you think that a single meal is enough for me~? I will have both of you satisfy me in the near future, so be prepared, honey. You are in for a long tour around Pleasure Realm."

Kali felt her body reacting, and juices started dampening her lower garments. Yasenia sneaked a hand inside her robes and felt her wet labia. Yasenia chuckled huskily, "It seems that I'm not the only eager one~."

Kali blushed, "Who wouldn't react with you on top?"

Yasenia kissed her neck tenderly, making Kali sigh with contentment, and asked, "Do you find me that attractive~?"

Kali answered while letting a small moan from a love bite on her ear, "You are the most attractive in my eyes."

Yasenia laughed with a seductive tone beside her fox ear, and Kali's body softened between Yasenia's arms. Yasenia kissed Kali's fox ear as her tail coiled around the fluffy fox tail. "Kali, I want to feel your mouth~."

Kali's blush deepened because she felt her mouth salivating just from a single sentence from Yasenia. It was as if her mouth was already trained to please the love of her life. Yasenia leaned on the headboard and stored all her clothes, leaving free her raging erection. Kali looked at it, and she gulped the accumulating saliva. She could almost already taste it.

Kali didn't lose time, got naked, and went on all fours between Yasenia's legs, lowering her head to glomp Yasenia's hardness. Yasenia sighed with satisfaction as she felt her dick enter a moist and slimy mouth. Better yet, Kali didn't stop penetrating her throat and literally kissed Yasenia's pelvis, hiding the whole length inside her throat.

Yasenia felt it entering the tight passage, and her waist jumped. "Your mouth feels so good, Kali. Continue, my love."

Kali had become more and more of an expert in blowjobs, and after hearing Yasenia's praise, the fox went to action as her hand rubbed her own pussy. Kali's green eyes hazed with delight as she felt the delicious hardness fucking her throat. Yasenia's divine moans and caresses on her tail and ears also made Kali feel pleasure and bliss.

Surprisingly, the pleasure from being throat fucked brought Kali to orgasm first. Kali's throat vibrated as she moaned and her pussy squirted. Electric currents exploded like pleasure fireworks across her body. Yasenia was close, so she took Kali's two long fox ears and used them as a handle to move her waist.

Kali's eyes rolled up with delight as her nose hit Yasenia's soft pelvis repeatedly and the slight pain from her ears transformed into pleasure. Yasenia grunted, "I'm cumming!"

Then, she hilted and directly poured her semen into Kali's stomach. Kali's vagina literally sprayed like a broken faucet feeling the semen fill her stomach. The feeling was something that caused her brain to go on a loop around the Pleasure Realm. Yasenia took out her penis and let the last rope of cum in Kali's mouth because she knew how much Kali liked her flavor. Then, she took it out with a pop as Kali was suctioning quite strongly.

She gathered Kali between her arms and hugged her, laying her on top of her and waiting for her to return from her orgasm. She saw Kali's mouth rolling her semen to savor it, and her dick twitched with the desire to directly penetrate her fox's vagina and ravage her until her semen overflowed. But Yasenia easily reigned her beast-like desires. The most important part for her was making them happy.

Kali savored the sweet, delicious, thick nectar in her mouth and finally gulped it down, sending another pleasure wave to her brain. The mellow voice of the dragoness caressed her hearing sense, "Did you like that, my love? I made sure to give you plenty of the delicious milk you love so much~."

Kali buried her face in Yasenia's neck and made cute sounds from her throat, clearly delighted. Her fox tail wagged as she rubbed her body on Yasenia's. "I love it~."

Yasenia laughed softly and placed her cheek on Kali's, moving her tail in front of Kali's mouth. Kali's nose twitched and instantly recognized the sweet musky scent. Her mouth moved and glomped the tail, still hugging Yasenia and with her face on the crook of her neck. Yasenia slithered one hand toward Kali's treasure land and began stimulating her.

Kali lifted her butt to leave Yasenia's hand better access to her sensitive parts. Yasenia was delighted by this small detail. The difference between the first time they did something and the current relationship was extremely clear, making Yasenia's heart extremely satisfied.

Yasenia used her tail to mesh Kali's mouth and her hand to do the same down there. She delivered Kali to her climax and also reached hers. Kali felt the penis pressing on her abdomen and the tail heating up and spurting that delicious semen. Their bodies were extremely close, so Yasenia's dick smeared their torso with cum, and her tail fed Kali another round of her discharge. The dragoness could feel the fluids spray on her hand, but that didn't stop her from massaging her privates, making Kali moan with delight.

Then, to relax Kali a bit so that their session lasted more. Yasenia cradled Kali after cleaning the semen swiftly with a towel, placing her nipple in her mouth. Kali began sucking with delight and drank Yasenia's breastmilk, looking up at Yasenia with adoring eyes. Yasenia looked back at her with gentle golden-pink eyes, and her hand softly massaged her labia.

Kali opened her legs as she received a lovely massage in her nether region and sucked the dragoness big breast. She completely ignored her body scars and let Yasenia pamper her as she wanted.

Yasenia looked at those scars with fondness, they were part of Kali, and even if they looked a little bit scary, she found all of them as beautiful as anything else in Kali. You could call our dragoness blinded with love, but she would tell you that if that were the case, she would like to be blind for the rest of her life!

Their session continued, and Yasenia even delivered Kali to orgasm with cunnilingus once. She could do it when Kali was completely drowned in pleasure and love.

Kali even shouted that she wanted more of Yasenia's tongue.

By the time they ended, the forty minutes had gone by, and Kali was almost bursting with the two types of milk filling her stomach, but she had a smile that couldn't leave her mouth and a wagging tail that, no matter what she commanded, kept wagging. Yasenia's tail wasn't any better as she also wagged it.

After a bath and some sweet and lovable interchange, they went out to continue their adventure.

Chapter 236: The Altar in the middle of the Desert.

Let's go back in time a bit.

After Cecile spoke with Yasenia through the communication device, she focused on the ruins in front of her. They were circular with an open ceiling, similar to an altar. Of the six circular pillars, one of them was toppled down. There were also geometrical lines on the floor, creating some kind of pattern. Even so, Cecile couldn't understand them because her knowledge of formation was very shallow.

Nonetheless, Cecile wasn't worried. After killing the five demons and showing off her strength, no one dared to bother her, so she had plenty of time to look around. Every time someone crossed gazes with her, they would flinch and look the other way, whether they were beasts, humans, beast humans, or even demons.

Cecile ignored them and moved toward the ruins with steady steps, looking for the entrance. A ruin in the middle of a desert with this kind of shape was bound to be filled with treasures. Either that or it was a mortal trap that would bury most people who dared to enter them.

However, after looking around for ten minutes, she didn't find an entrance anywhere. 'It is not only me. Everyone here is still looking for something. I've been keeping an eye on the number of cultivators, and it hasn't changed since the beginning besides those that left or arrived.'

Cecile decided to fly up and scout from the sky. Maybe she could see something different from high up in the air. Her big silver wings spread and flapped, shooting her up into the air. Cecile stopped at her limit altitude of 150 meters, or else the heat would cook her.

After looking from above, Cecile's immutable expression changed a little. To her surprise, the whole circular ruins appeared to make a pattern on the ground. It was extremely clear even to someone as ignorant as herself. The six pillars were the cornerstones of it.

However, that column on the right side had fallen down, unlike its counterpart on the left. Cecile thought about it and concluded. 'Maybe something will happen if I reposition it. However, it is quite big and heavy. Hmm...'

Cecile looked at it for one more minute and decided to try. She swooped down and landed beside that column. Her movements weren't flashy, but many people had their eyes on her, be it to admire her ethereal beauty, keep her in check, or follow her whenever she did something special.

Cecile walked to the top part of that pillar and grabbed the column by the edge. Her wings began flapping as her tails absorbed the energy around her, increasing her body strength. People saw Cecile's action and were speechless. That column was at least 40m long with a radius of 3 meters. That meant that it was six meters in height right now, fallen over.

However, Cecile's flapping made them shut up because the air her big silver wings moved was creating visual air shockwaves. Each flap was loud and sonorous as the strength she was currently exerting exploded the air her wings were pushing.

Cecile felt that the column was extremely heavy. Even when she used her whole body strength, it didn't even flinch. However, Cecile was a woman that took the bull by its horns to beat him up. Therefore, instead of asking other cultivators to help her, she gritted her teeth and enhanced herself with her buffs.

BOOM!

Her aura swelled and made the surrounding temperature drop sharply. Silver crystals condensed in the air because of her aura alone. Then, after crouching, she straightened her legs and put all her muscles behind that action.

People's mouths opened wide as sand began falling from the column, and she really started lifting it. Cecile's brute strength was lifting the enormous column!

'It's very heavy!'

When Cecile lifted it to waist height, which still was very little in comparison with the huge structure, she made a quick movement and crouched under it, changing her form. Now Cecile was under the heavy column, supporting it above her head with her hands while crouched.

You could take an egg and choose a random person looking at Cecile. The egg would be able to enter the chosen persons mouth for sure! Cecile felt like the column would crush her, but her eyes remained stubborn.

"Haap!"

With a low shout, her legs began straightening as her big silver wings continued flapping. Someone in the surroundings suddenly realized what Cecile's intention was. "Don't tell me that she wants to straighten that thing."

"I think you are correct." Someone stuttered.

"Impossible! That thing isn't something juniors like us can lift alone!" A man screamed.

Cecile's wings speed up as if trying to prove wrong that last man. The gales from her wings were too much, and the cultivators around had to take steps back. Then, the stupid scene of Cecile's feet leaving the ground greeted them as she lifted the enormous pillar above her head.

Cecile's wings were glowing silver as the aura around her became thicker. Each flap sent a small wave of silver dust flying, and those that touched it got frostbite. It was extremely cold!

Cecile felt all her back muscles straining as the weight was truly too much. There was some muscle tear that sent painful electric currents to her brain, but the natural regeneration of her body quickly mended her wounds.

Then, with a small shout to motivate herself, she managed to place the column vertically again. The pillar didn't wobble as it became unnaturally straight after Cecile pushed it, as if there wasn't enough momentum to make it fall toward the other side. It was the same phenomenon that happened when something clicked into place and wouldn't move anymore.

Cecile landed on top of the column, breathing roughly. Her back hurt from trying so hard. 'Not even a spar against Yasenias is this tiring. That was heavier than I thought. I hope it was worth it.'

But Cecile didn't have a lot of relaxing time because the whole ruins began to tremble as if an earthquake was starting.

Cecile forced her tired wings to fly up and avoid any uncontrollable mishaps from happening. She just hovered above the ruins as she observed the next events.

The ruins lit up! The formation lines glowed from the top of the columns downward. It was as if a dense golden liquid was filling them.

This liquid didn't spill and followed the formation lines perfectly, reaching the bottom of the forty-meter tall pillars. Shortly after, the golden liquid reached the middle of the ruins, and the whole place was filled with light. A pillar of light shot to the sky, blinding everyone.

Cecile reacted fast and flapped to the side, trying to avoid the pillar, but she was unable to. Thankfully, it didn't do anything, as it was just a signal announcing that the ruins had activated.

Right after the pillar of light, on the right of the ruins, a ramp opened, showing a passage downward. All the sand that was above it and even some cultivators directly fell into it because they were standing in that area. Nonetheless, the entrance wasn't a vertical hole but a step ramp.

Cecile saw it and didn't wait. She swept down and directly flew through the entrance at high speed. Unlike the cautious nature of most of Yasenias' lovers, Cecile was direct in everything she did. From time to time, especially if they were to involve Yasenias in one way or another, she pondered and thought about her actions deeply. But if that wasn't the case, she was mostly a straightforward woman.

The rest of the cultivators saw Cecile entering and followed right after. No matter if they were scared of her or not, they wouldn't let Cecile get all the treasures.

The passage was seven meters tall and five meters wide, just enough for Cecile to be able to fly with her five meters of wingspan. After training, her control was superb, and she could even fly in places with less width than her wingspan.

Her speed was extremely fast as she left a silver trail behind her. She continued flying forward, and after twenty minutes, she reached a big room. The floor was made of brownstone, and the walls were yellow and smooth.

On each wall in front of Cecile, there was a big door. Each door was five meters tall, reaching half the height of the room she was in.

The three doors were identical at first sight. Cecile flapped toward them and looked at them. Even though it was a fast glance that didn't take more than thirty seconds for each gate, Cecile's eyesight was extremely sharp. However, she didn't see anything different.

Therefore, Cecile looked around for something while flapping her wings mid-air. This room was even taller than the passage, so she had more than enough space to maneuver.

After looking around, she spotted a stone stele and a spring, respectively, on the room's far right and left corners. She flashed toward the stele first but saw a foreign language on it that she couldn't understand.

Cecile frowned and looked toward the spring on the left corner. After she flew to the shore, she looked at it curiously. 'What effect does this have, and why is it here? A senior made this secret realm, so they wouldn't randomly place things around, right?'

Cecile didn't want to drink a random thing without knowing its effects, so she was in quite a hurdle.

By this time, other cultivators began arriving. They looked around and saw Cecile in front of the spring.

Cecile looked at them, and then an idea flashed through her mind. She crouched down and made the motion of scooping water and lifting it toward her mouth. She covered her hands with an air bubble not to touch the water. Then, she walked slowly toward the stele. 'Become my test subjects, random people.'

The people observed Cecile for a moment, and after seeing her in front of the stele, they went toward the spring and drank the water. Cecile smirked coldly and looked at them, 'Thank you for being so cooperative.'

Then they went toward the stele, and Cecile saw their eyes smoothly moving across the lines of unknown text. After confirming her guess, she ran fast toward the water under the stunned eyes of those people and drank a mouthful of that spring.

When she returned, she could read the stele. She felt the disgruntled gazes from the people beside her, but she just sent a cold look toward them. They couldn't win in a staring contest with the Phoenix, so they lowered their heads indignantly and continued reading.

What right do they have to blame her when they are weaker?

Cecile snorted and read what was written on the rock surface. "Those that are worthy will walk forward no matter the difficulties. Those that want to be heroes will always take the right path. Those that go left will have to choose again."

Chapter 237: Cecile's pure heart.

After reading the stele, Cecile frowned. 'I can understand the first and second sentences. But what does the third mean?'

Cecile saw that most people went right, and the rest went forward. No one was going to the left door. 'Do I want to be someone worthy? Who is someone worthy? It is a person that has the qualifications to be recognized, a person that can accept any and all kind of power and use it. They are able to challenge trials and remain victorious. That is someone worthy.'

Cecile shook her head, 'I'm not someone like that, nor do I want to be one.'

The Phoenix's blue eyes moved toward the right door. 'Do I want to be a Hero? What is a Hero anyway? They are a person that sacrifices themselves for the greater good. A person that pushes forward against all kinds of difficulties and remains victorious. They are someone that sees the world's essence and fights for justice, maintaining the highest grade of morality possible. A heart of gold, a pure soul. Admired by the masses, feared by their enemies. That is the essence of a hero.'

Cecile shook her head again, 'I do not want to be a hero.'

Cecile looked toward the left gate. Then, she pondered to herself, 'What do I want to be...?' After that thought, Yasenya's charming, smiling face crossed her mind. That pair of beautiful and seductive golden-red slit eyes looked at her lovingly, making her whole body feel happiness.

Cecile's facial features softened, and a smile hung on her lips.

'I'm someone that wants to protect her lover.'

'I'm someone that seeks strength to help their dearest.'

'I'm someone that gathers knowledge for her wife's research.'

'I'm someone that gave their whole heart to a dragoness.'

'I'm someone that challenged fate to be reborn so I could walk side by side with my soulmate.'

Therefore, Cecile decided to trust her intuition and chose the left door.

Unlike the previous times, because people had seen Cecile's trick in the spring, not many people followed her. They thought that Cecile was trying to fool them again.

The ones that followed were two people from the academy, a man and a woman.

Cecile didn't even turn and continued walking toward the left door. When she was about to open it, the man called her, "Yo, Cecile! Why did you choose this one?"

Cecile turned and answered calmly. However, her natural tone of voice was cold and indifferent, giving an apathetic aura. "Because I'm neither a hero nor someone worthy."

The two people blinked and thought about it. Were they like that? Did they want to be like that? It was a difficult path, and most likely, there will be many difficult challenges after crossing those two doors.

However, the temptation of becoming one of the two was high for the woman. Even if they weren't any of those now, who said that they couldn't become one if they overcame whatever these ruins threw at them? Therefore, the woman said, "I see. Thanks for telling us, Cecile. Still, I'm going to take the right door. Good luck!"

Cecile just nodded. She wouldn't bother to convince anyone other than Yassenia or those precious to her.

The man looked at the woman and frowned for a while. The two of them were a couple, so he didn't want to leave her behind. He sighed and said, "Thanks for your advice, Cecile. I know you are not a woman of many words. So the fact that you spoke and tried to tell us about it is enough. Do not die!"

Then, he turned and ran after the woman. Cecile looked at their back for a second and then turned. Each person will choose the path they think is most suitable, and she won't waste words to reason with them.

Moreover, she still wasn't sure if this door was the correct one or even if there was a correct door. Maybe all three doors are similar, and unless Cecile meets with that couple again, she wouldn't be able to know.

Cecile pushed the door and walked to the other side.

After she went through the door, another room of similar size greeted her. 'Huh? Why is there an identical room here?'

But when she looked around, she realized that only the shape was similar. The number and position of doors had changed. There were only two doors, side by side, on the opposite wall. The stele was in the middle of the room, and there wasn't a spring of any sort. Cecile read the stele, "Heroes always take the right path. Even if they doubt their worth, they will always end up choosing the right path. Those that go left will have to choose again."

Cecile was mildly surprised, "Is it trying to test my conviction?"

Cecile decisively chose the left door again. When she entered through the door, another similar room greeted her. The door behind her closed with a bang and disappeared. This somewhat startled her, 'Did I enter a trap room?'

Cecile looked around and didn't see a single door in the whole room, which made her frown. Her mind spun, trying to find an escape route.

However, before she did that, the wall in front of her suddenly lit up, and golden characters appeared on it as if a knife was engraving them. Cecile's alertness was at an all-time high during the process.

Cecile waited until it was completely carved and read it. "You are neither someone worthy nor a hero. Then what are you?"

Cecile thought for a moment and answered. "I'm a cultivator in search of strength."

The wall characters changed and asked again. "For what reason must you challenge the heavens? For what reason do you search strength?"

Cecile didn't even hesitate and answered, her voice full of conviction. "I want strength to protect my loved one and to live with her for eternity. To be able to keep her safe between my wings and give her a resting place in my embrace, or to help her push forward toward her goals and carry part of her burden."

Cecile took a deep breath and said, extending her silver wings and unfurling her aura!

"I want to become her wings so that she can fly freely in this dangerous world!"

Cecile's words echoed around the room, and then everything became silent.

After a while, the room trembled, and two passages opened before her. Above the right one, it read. "You want strength? Overcome this trial, and you shall obtain it."

Above the left one, it read the same, "You want strength? Overcome this trial, and you shall obtain it."

Cecile looked at the two identical passways and thought about which one to choose. She didn't rush because this was important if she wanted to get what she wanted.

She looked around but didn't see anything useful. Then, she remembered what the previous two doors advised and muttered, "Heroes always take the right path. Since I'm not trying to become a hero, then..."

Cecile looked at the left path and decided to enter through there.

After she passed, the passage behind her closed with a bang! But Cecile didn't even turn. She was already determined to face this trial no matter what it threw at her. The corridor wasn't too long, and after just five minutes of walking, she could see the end of it.

Cecile crossed it, and a blinding light impeded her sight for a moment. When she opened her eyes, the desert welcomed her again. 'Hmm? Did those ruins expel me?'

The open area before her was way too similar to the desert outside, but when she looked closer, she could see the difference. On the sand, there were ruins with similar architecture to the structure above.

The heat was also higher than on the outside, and Cecile was sure that she wouldn't be able to fly more than seventy meters in height. There were gales that lifted sand and made the vision somewhat blurry, but it wasn't a problem for Cecile since her mastery of the wind element was high.

Then, on the air, those golden words appeared again.

"Survive for a week."

Cecile took out her bow and entered combat stance right after reading that. She flapped her wings and flew high up, carefully taking into account at what altitude the heat would bother her. Then, the soil trembled, and explosions of sand followed.

From those explosions, Cecile saw arachnid-shaped brown and gold-colored constructs appearing. Even if they followed the general arachnid shape, they were of different forms, sizes, and strengths. They had green glowing lines across their bodies, and their eyes also glowed green. They were like an army rising from the ground. The numbers weren't more than fifty, but Cecile knew that this was just the beginning.

Cecile was using her [Moon Phoenix Flame Dress] and [Crystal Ice Bow]. Her hands had the [Passing Cloud Gloves] Yaseña gave her. Her power and defense were high, and her attack speed ridiculous. When Cecile saw them, she didn't wait for them to escape the soil and began attacking right away. "[Explosive Moon Gale Arrow]"

*Swish! * Swish! Swish! Swish!

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

Like bombs falling from the sky, the arrows created silver-green spheres of destruction on touch, damaging even the sturdy defenses of the constructs. The smallest construct was three meters tall, with the biggest being almost twenty meters tall. The arrows that landed on the smaller ones blew them up without resistance. However, those that landed on the constructs with a height of ten meters or above didn't die in one arrow.

Still, the arrow explosions left craters on them, damaging them badly. The arrow barrage continued and destroyed fifteen of the almost fifty constructs and greatly damaged some of them.

Cecile's sharp Phoenix eyes spotted a hidden core below the rocky surface of one of the constructs. It wasn't that big in comparison, thirty centimeters in diameter at most. However, even after killing so few of them, Cecile realized that the cores of the ones she killed were in the same place.

She decisively changed arrow types to piercing arrows and fired another barrage after they completely got out. The arrows tore through the air with high speed and pierced the constructs from side to side. This attack made 20 of them stop moving.

Cecile was satisfied with this outcome and continued with this arrow type. A rain of arrows fell from the sky as Cecile's hand blurred and shot the projectiles continuously.

A minute later, all constructs lay dead on the ground. There were some that were harder and needed more than one arrow, which made her take more time with them. Still, Cecile didn't even use one percent of her energy dealing with them.

Five minutes later, another wave began. Cecile's hand moved again, mercilessly attacking them. She saw that they were slightly stronger and had an extra construct. Her face became solemn.

Even if the strength and numbers were insignificant, Cecile would be in deep trouble if this effect kept piling up wave after wave for a week. 'Hopefully, there is a limit.'

Cecile took a deep breath and thought. 'I will have to get used to the weaknesses of the constructs. Later they may even appear with reinforced carapace on the core area.'

She didn't annihilate the wave this time and let them attack her. The attacks were fast lasers from their eyes, manipulating the sand around them, and could also throw different projectiles toward her. Their physical strength was high, and their dexterity was impressive. Of course, compared to Cecile, they were currently utterly lacking. However, Cecile knew they would become a threat sooner or later, so she had to be careful.

The skills she was currently using were her old elemental coat and the basic but evolved elemental arrows, so she didn't tire herself. Although she could regenerate constantly, regeneration also had a limit. So she was going to use the least strength she could to kill each wave.

Chapter 238: Sierra and her plea. Evelyn's decision.

While Cecile began her trial, Evelyn was climbing the snowy mountain surrounded by the lightning storm. The snow somewhat hindered Evelyn's vision, and the cold temperature was affecting even her. Still, she was able to resist using her energy like a protective membrane.

The four-meter-tall Wolf Queen walked beside her. Her white fur was impermeable as the snowflakes that landed on her slipped through it without melting. The effect was quite mesmerizing to look at. Moreover, the Wolf Queen's mastery over the Ice and Lightning elements made her completely immune to the weather.

As they walked, Evelyn looked at her with interest, "Say, Wolf Queen. Would you like a name?"

The giant wolf moved her blue eyes and asked, her voice slightly indifferent. "A name? What is that?"

Evelyn explained, "It is a way to differentiate individuals. I told you, right? My name is Evelyn."

The Wolf Queen asked with interest, "Why do you want to give me a name?"

Evelyn shrugged, "It is too bothersome to call you Wolf Queen. It sounds too impersonal. Now that we are connected with a blood contract, we should at least try to get along with each other. I know how unfair this contract is to you, so at least I want to make you feel more comfortable with it."

The Wolf Queen was somewhat surprised. It was true that the feeling of making a [Blood Contract] out of necessity was somewhat stifling. Right now, Evelyn could order the Wolf Queen as she liked, she couldn't tell her directly to die, but there were very few limitations in Evelyn's ability to make orders.

After hearing what Evelyn said, a small smile hung on the Wolf Queen's lips. She still didn't know if Evelyn was sincere, but she decided to trust this small female a little more. Therefore, she answered, "Sure, go ahead, give me a name."

Evelyn thought about it for a while; she didn't want to give her a random name. After some minutes of silence, she asked, "How about Luna? Does it sound good?"

The Wolf Queen frowned, "I don't like it. It sounds too soft. I'm a Queen. How could I be named after such a soft-sounding name?"

Evelyn chuckled, "You want one that sounds powerful? How about Ragash?" Evelyn emphasized the "R" by rolling her tongue when pronouncing it.

The beast thought about it, but it sounded too powerful this time. "Do you know any in the middle? Not too powerful sounding but not too soft either."

Evelyn complained jokingly, "You are so demanding! Let me think..."

The Wolf Queen was tickled off and playfully snorted as a complaint. "It's not my fault you are so bad at giving names."

Evelyn rolled her violet eyes. Then, she exclaimed, "Ah! I know! How about Sierra?"

The Wolf Queen found its ring pleasant, "Sierra... Mm, I like it."

Evelyn smiled, "Then, I hope we have a pleasant cooperation, Sierra."

Sierra's eyes lost a little bit of her indifference and said, her tone slightly softer. "I hope I didn't choose my master wrongly, do not disappoint me, Evelyn."

Evelyn nodded seriously and focused on the surroundings again. She had previously asked Cecile through the communication device to know which race Sierra was. Although Evelyn could have asked the Wolf Queen to tell her directly, the names may differ from what was known in the Sky Continent.

However, Cecile told her that physical characteristics weren't all when deciding the race of a beast, the aura, the energies they used, and even the way they moved could make a difference. Therefore, she couldn't be sure unless she saw her in person, especially because wolf breeds are hard to differentiate at simple sight.

Evelyn accepted her explanation and decided not to ask about it. She wanted to deepen their connection a little more before asking more personal questions.

Evelyn had been climbing for some hours already, and the falling lightning was becoming too much even for her. No matter how powerful her [Lightning Devouring Body] was, everything had its limits. Evelyn spoke to the Wolf Queen. "Let's find a place to rest. I have to absorb all the lightning within me to continue advancing without risks."

Sierra nodded and agreed with her demand. Evelyn hasn't forced her to become her mount, nor has she asked her to fight in the front lines whenever beasts or cultivators appeared, so she was quite satisfied with her new master for the moment.

Even better, Evelyn had actually done the opposite during the few hours they were together. So trust began growing between them.

When fighting against cultivators or beasts, Evelyn always told her to support her from a distance. She could feel that she wasn't looking down on her but trying to forge herself with battles.

When they traversed through difficult paths, instead of asking for help, Evelyn advanced slowly on her own and didn't ask Sierra to carry her.

It was to the point that Sierra was actually itching to have Evelyn order her to do something. Still, she knew that this urge was a mild side-effect of their contract and didn't take it seriously.

One must know that when a beast makes a blood contract with a human, the beast gives up its right to be free. There are very few times when the beasts get the upper hand.

Most of the time, they will have to obey every command, and at the same time, they will grow alongside their master. The contract was a master-servant contract, after all.

Of course, there were benefits for the beast. Firstly, they would grow many times faster. Beasts could only grow naturally, absorbing the world's energy passively and eating beast cores. However, after they enter a contract with a human or beast-human, they can advance as fast as their owner. There were limitations, mainly bloodline level, potential, and soul strength, but the strength advancement speed would always become faster for the beast.

Moreover, the chances to break their limits were increased manifold. For example, imagine a [Fire Wolf] contracts with a human. Even if their prior probability of evolving and becoming a [Magma Wolf] was less than ten percent, it may shoot up to a fifty-fifty chance after contracting with a human with high potential. The increase was that high.

Nevertheless, these advantages were stronger the more talented the human contractor was, so beasts were sometimes very picky or extremely adamant about forming contracts. Some even chose death before falling under a contract.

The fact that they also lost most of their rights was also a big factor; making a contract with a human they didn't trust was a recipe for disaster.

These points were the main difference between [Soulmates] and a [Blood Contract]. One was meant to become lovers, strengthening each other through a bond of trust and closeness devoid of any rules or limitations. The other was meant to create a master-servant hierarchy, using each other's potential to increase their own strength.

Evelyn had always known about this because she had studied a lot about beasts after getting together with Yasenya. Therefore, the question filling her thoughts right now was, 'Why would a Wolf Queen, a beast with a high-level bloodline and high potential, surrender to me?'

After thinking about it for a while, Evelyn decided to ask Sierra. To Evelyn's surprise, Sierra was honest and frank, telling her directly what she wanted to hear.

Evelyn was so used to interacting with humans that she had forgotten beasts were extremely straightforward, and only a few schemed to get what they wanted.

The Wolf Queen's voice was at first indifferent. But as she saw Evelyn's intention in getting along together. Her voice softened and became gentler. It sounded like a mature, gentle woman inside Evelyn's head. "Evelyn, I had to make the contract because if I didn't, I would die. There is a Wolf Clan that managed to create a curse that would kill me unless I made a contract, be it a [Soulmate] or [Blood Contract] bond."

Sierra sighed, creating mist before her snout. "They thought that I would either die or surrender to their patriarch. He has been very eager to make me his mate, but I refused since his conditions were for me to step down and steal my position as the Alpha."

Sierra looked at Evelyn and said, "Humans haven't appeared in a long time, so they were sure that I would surrender to him, forcing me to become his [Soulmate]."

Evelyn asked, startled, "Aren't [Soulmates] chosen instinctually? It isn't something that can be forced, right?"

Sierra nodded, "You are right, but that is only true in normal conditions. This curse seemed to have the effect of triggering my desire for the first male I mated with strongly. This reaction would cause my instincts to become confused and mark him as my [Soulmate], something I didn't want."

The giant wolf sighed again through her snout. "I didn't want to become under anybody because my pride wouldn't let me, especially not below someone weaker than me. If he had defeated me in battle fair and square, I wouldn't have minded, but his methods disgusted me to the point I almost killed myself."

Evelyn asked, "What about mating with another male you found worthy?"

Sierra shook her head, "I'm the strongest wolf right now; something like that doesn't exist. Even so, I had my eyes on someone since his potential was great."

Evelyn nodded, "I see. I now know why you were walking alone. But I still don't know why you decided to become my contracted beast."

The Wolf Queen chuckled and looked at Evelyn. "I can sense an extremely powerful Yang energy inside your meridians. The male that injected it into you must have a very powerful bloodline. Moreover, I can feel its wild nature, so I know that it comes from a beast."

"Knowing that you have an intimate relationship with a beast of that level made me think that I could ask for his help if I were your contracted beast. I don't mind becoming a slave if I can save my pack from being under their rule."

Sierra's eyes became cold as she said, "Their values are crooked. Instead of looking at every beast's strength, they look at their gender. I don't know who taught him that kind of ideology."

"They use female wolves as breeders and force male wolves to become fighters or sacrifices and die for the pack. The only reason the wolves under them hadn't split is that their shady methods prevent most of them from leaving."

Evelyn sighed, 'I knew that I was getting into something, but this goes further than I expected. A whole pack of wolves that can overwhelm Sierra? I can't go against something like that. I still don't even know if I can beat this Wolf Queen, much less a pack of wolves that can go against her. Moreover, I can't ask for Yasenias help since I don't really know how far we are, and I don't want to disturb whatever she is doing.'

Evelyn thought of something and said with a smirk, "By the way, it is not a he, but a she."

Sierra looked at her confused, and Evelyn explained with a perverted smirk, "The one that poured that delicious, thick, and hot Yang energy inside me is female."

The Wolf Queen was so surprised that she didn't register the pervertedness of Evelyn's sentence. "How can a female release such a potent Yang energy? If a woman has so much Yang energy, they should look rather masculine, right?"

Evelyn burst into laughter. "Yasenias masculine? The ridiculousness of that statement is enough to become the joke of the century, hahaha!"

Chapter 239: Sierra's delight. Andrea vs Demonic Cultivators.

"How can a female release such a potent Yang energy? If a woman has so much Yang energy, they should look rather masculine, right?"

Evelyn burst into laughter. "Yasenias masculine? The ridiculousness of that statement is enough to become the joke of the century, hahaha! My Yasenia is the most beautiful woman I know."

Her smile changed into a perverted one again. "Not only is she beautiful, but her peerless heavenly tits are also perfection! Do you find that redundant? I don't! They are very big, soft, squishy, and elastic! They smell heavenly and taste even better! Better, even if they are big, they are perky as if they defy the world's law of gravity and create the most delicious milk I've ever tasted. Slurping her dry must be one of the most pleasurable things that exist! Moreover, every time I have the weight of those two soft watermelons on my face as she pounds me is..."

Sierra looked at Evelyn like she had grown three heads and six arms. Her gaze carried so much bewilderment that even Evelyn, who was talking about her kinks openly, noticed that there was something wrong. That is quite an achievement since our perverted little girl's mind would go out into outer space when she began rambling about Yaseenia's breasts.

Therefore, Evelyn who was about to give a long lecture about the magnificence of Yaseenia's breasts, stopped her rambling and looked at Sierra with confusion. "What's wrong?"

The Wolf Queen didn't know how to answer. 'What's wrong? More like what's right!?'

Nonetheless, no matter how perturbed, Sierra was still able to ask. "What are you talking about? No, why are you so passionate about that!?"

Evelyn answered with the most serious expression Sierra had ever seen on Evelyn, "Because I live for her perfect tits."

If a wolf could make a speechless face, Sierra's current expression would be the perfect example. 'Did I really choose my master correctly?'

Evelyn said with a sage-like tone, "Don't mind it too much, Sierra. You haven't seen them, hence, I can forgive you for your ignorant nature. You aren't like those lost girls that search for the ultimate knowledge about Yaseenia's mountains!"

Sierra's doubts increased, 'Is my master some kind of cult leader?'

Evelyn looked at the giant wolf's face and laughed aloud, diffusing the strange atmosphere around them. "Don't do that face, Sierra. I swear I'm not someone shady. You can trust me."

Sierra shook her head and sighed with a smile. Then, she said playfully, "I don't know if to trust you. You went on a tangent I didn't expect there. Doesn't your mate find that perturbing?"

Evelyn shrugged, "Well, that's who I am. Moreover, it is Yaseenia who told me not to mind my nature and not to restrain myself. Although I receive her tail slaps, they aren't even painful. She has used them so often that they have even become a form of art."

Sierra laughed, feeling her mood lightening. 'Well, besides her excessive liking for her mate's breasts, she didn't say anything too strange. She is quite an interesting master.'

Evelyn smiled inwardly, 'I hope her nerves relax. She is too tense all the time.'

They both fell into a comfortable silence and continued walking. This pause made Evelyn think, 'Hmm, I think I can ask about her bloodline, right? I know she is quite a straightforward woman, so there shouldn't be any problem.'

Evelyn asked, "Umm, I don't want to be rude or anything, but could you tell me the name of your bloodline? I'm somewhat curious about what type of beast I contracted."

The Wolf Queen nodded and easily answered, "I'm a [Tundra Lightning Wolf Queen]. A mutation from my original [Lightning Tempered Wolf]."

Evelyn whistled, "A natural evolution? You are impressive, Sierra."

This cleared some doubts Evelyn previously had. Evelyn was sure that Sierra was stronger than herself. The only reason she had been so lucky to enter a contract with her was that, as Sierra explained, her own strength was not that bad, and Yaseenia's Yang energy was very attractive to the Wolf Queen.

A naturally evolved beast, especially one that evolved because of natural treasures, was incomparable to her peers. Their strength, potential, and intelligence multiplied respectively to the quality of this natural treasure. Of course, if the natural treasure was too strong, and the initial potential of the beast was too low, the beast would explode as their energy circuit wouldn't be able to restrain the amount of energy.

Sierra seemed to have remembered something and said, "Right, I almost forgot. This was another thing that I wanted to tell you and your mate. I've hidden the thing that let me evolve in a safe area. It is extremely beneficial for lightning creatures. Moreover, there is something at the top of the mountain that should be attractive for human cultivators."

Evelyn asked with interest, "What is it?"

Sierra was doubtful as she spoke, "A lightning-attributed cultivation technique. Or at least that is what I heard some humans that passed through here some hundreds of years ago."

Evelyn exclaimed, "Oh wow! You are quite old. No wonder your wisdom is so developed."

The wolf queen muttered, "I would rather you call me experienced."

Evelyn raised her eyebrow, amused. 'Even wolves are sensitive to their age? Hahaha.'

Then, she asked, "How far are the wolves you want to topple?"

The Wolf Queen tilted her head and looked at Evelyn, "Won't we wait for your mate? It is not for being rude, but your strength is not enough to help me kill all of them."

Evelyn shook her head, "I don't even know how far we are from each other, and I'm sure that she is doing other things. If you think that I'm too weak, you can guide me to a place with a lot of lightning. In a week or so, I should be able to advance in cultivation. If the lightning is nutritious enough, I may even be able to enter the half-step."

The Wolf Queen sighed and said, "Well, your help is better than nothing. Follow me. I know the perfect place for you to cultivate."

Evelyn asked, "Is that place with the lightning treasure?"

Sierra shook her head, "Even though I've begun to trust you, I don't want to give that to you right now. Those are rewards for when we manage to free my pack."

Evelyn accepted her explanation and didn't insist. Then, she asked. "By the way, how come you haven't ranked up? You should have enough talent and strength to become a fourth-ranked beast, right?"

The Wolf Queen snorted, "It is because of this hateful place. This secret realm, as you humans call it, doesn't let me advance in strength. Each time I tried to advance, I felt chills through my spine, and my fur stood up. I'm sure that I would die if I tried."

Evelyn looked at her and asked, "How about you try now?"

The Wolf Queen sighed and said, "What difference is there? I'm still stuck here."

Evelyn smirked, "But now you aren't linked to the secret realm, but to me."

Sierra froze with one paw high up in an extremely funny position. Evelyn chuckled and looked at her. With eagerness, the Wolf Queen moved her mouth and softly bit Evelyn's neck, throwing her onto her wide back.

Evelyn let herself be carried because she knew the Wolf Queen couldn't harm her, and she also clearly felt the Wolf Queen's happiness in her heart through their connection.

Then, Sierra's figure blurred in the snow landscape and carried Evelyn to a place where they could strengthen themselves quietly. Evelyn had to grab her white fur strongly, or she would fall off her back. 'My Heavens, she is so fast!' Evelyn thanked her dear Yaseenia's semen- Cough. Yang energy, for attracting this powerful creature as her contracted beast.

Meanwhile, in an environment opposite to where Evelyn was, Andrea had been collecting quite a large number of ores thanks to her recently gained crab friend and the four demonic cultivators she had enslav-befriended.

Andrea thought while extracting another Heaven-ranked material, 'My slav- friends are doing a great job.'

However, there was a small problem. Andrea had been feeling some strange effects in her mind. As if something very weak was trying to breach her mental defenses. At first, even her subconscious ignored it, but it was so persistent that Andrea had taken notice of it. 'It must be the illusion guy... Well, it seems that their utility has run out so fast.'

Andrea managed to get some information from them, but when she spoke about Yaseenia, the four of them wore clueless faces. It was clear that these four weren't involved in the plan to kill Yaseenia in any way; they didn't even know her name. Andrea even tried to describe Yaseenia to them, but the confusion in their eyes remained.

As they walked, Andrea suddenly ordered, "Stop for a moment."

The four of them stopped and looked toward Andrea with dissatisfaction. They hadn't gained anything besides the few beast cores of the beasts they killed.

Andrea's greedy nature had swallowed everything else. The worst thing was that they couldn't protest or leave since Andrea was out of their league strength-wise. Now that she had stopped them, they were alerted and took combat stances. They didn't know when Andrea would turn around and kill them for their treasures.

Andrea looked at their wary eyes and combat-ready stance and smirked under her helmet. 'Well, this is the normal reaction. If I had a party leader as tyrannical as I had been, I would react the same way.'

"You've done well, so I thought of rewarding you with some of the ores we've collected. I know I've been gathering everything for myself, but well, I didn't trust any of you. Now that two days have passed, I can start sharing the rewards with all of you."

The four people were greatly surprised. One of them, the woman, asked, "For real?"

Andrea nodded and took out one ore. It was three meters in height and released a strong aura. The four of them were surprised because it was a high-level Heaven-ranked ore. Not only was it extremely precious, they hadn't collected one of this quality even after searching for two days straight. Andrea saw their greedy eyes and said, "This is an ore that I managed to find before I met all of you. It is a high-level Heaven-ranked material. I think that if I divide this big between all of you could be a good beginning to our real cooperation, right?"

The four of them nodded and approached, thinking. 'Even if the ores we got for Andrea until now were good, they were all low-level or middle-level heaven ranked. With a quarter of this big thing, I can create a Heaven-ranked weapon if I meet with a skilled enough smith.'

The illusion man was somewhat doubtful and asked, "Why are you suddenly so good to us? To say that you abused us during these two days is not an exaggeration."

The other three stopped approaching and looked at Andrea. Andrea sighed, "Didn't I just explain it?"

The man wasn't convinced, "What did we do to gain your trust suddenly?"

Although they couldn't see Andrea's expression, her eyes radiated an apparent disdain that made them flinch. Andrea's deep voice was scornful as she said, "Do you think I'm a switch or something? My opinion hasn't suddenly changed but transformed during this two-day time. You know what? Forget it. I thought of giving you this to compensate, but you doubting me like this is like a slap to my face."

They got nervous and apologized, "Sorry, sorry! We didn't mean to look down on you. It is just it was quite sudden, that's all."

Andrea, who was about to store the material, sighed. "Last chance, do you want it or not?"

The four of them nodded and approached the mineral. Andrea walked away and let them close on the material.

When the four of them were beside the ore, finding ways to cut it into four parts, Andrea's smirk widened until it became a wild smile. "Detonate."

Before they could even react, the ore burst into an enormous explosion of molten metal, covering the four of them in that superheated substance. Their agonized cries filled the area. But Andrea didn't stop and continued her attack. "[Solar Domain], [Solar pillar]."

Her golden domain unfurled, and a 10m wide pillar of superheated magma shot up from the ground covering the four of them.

"AAARGH!!!"

"WAAA!!!"

"GAAAH!!!"

"AHH!!!"

Andrea didn't even let them recover from the shock and pain, running straight to their side. Her halberd moved extremely fast, blurring the weapon. "[Solar Halberd Barrage]."

The attacks immediately chopped the four people into meat chunks that soon melted with the metal, becoming a single fluid. The crab that saw the whole process was trembling badly at the side.

Andrea didn't realize and smirked, satisfied with her sneak attack. "I bet they didn't expect a false exploding ore~. I hope they liked this weapon my love and I developed together."

Thinking of when she was fabricating this with Yasenia made Andrea smile gently under the helmet. She remembered asking Yasenia. "Yasenia, how could we create a weapon that is stealthy but tempting at the same time?"

Yasenia thought, tapping her tail on the ground, and asked back, "What is the most tempting thing for a cultivator?"

Andrea pondered for a moment and answered, "A high-level treasure?"

Yasenia smirked and said, "How about creating a false treasure that can damage them when getting close?"

Andrea's eyes opened, and she laughed, "Such a good idea, my love!" She even picked Yasenia up, spinning with her in her arms,

Yasenia also laughed happily and used her limbs to latch onto Andrea. With their bodies so close, two things got hard and a heated session began.

Chapter 240: A very passionate flashback. The Crab's peculiarities.(R-18)

Andrea looked at Yasenia's moist and tender lips, and a fiery desire ignited inside her. Andrea's voice was hoarse as her hands roamed Yasenia's seductive body. "My love, we should have an in-depth talk before we begin creating the item, don't you think so?"

Yasenia felt Andrea's hands, and everywhere they passed, they left a fiery trail, making her cheeks gain an alluring rosy color, and her body softened even more. She sprawled herself over Andrea as she answered with a lovely growl, "I think it is a very good idea~. My darling is very good at talking in depth after all~."

Andrea gulped after seeing Yasenia's seductiveness dripping from every gesture, the way her eyes moved, her body slithered around herself, and her tail slowly curled around. Andrea felt that she was about to be devoured.

Everything the dragoness did, Andrea found hard to resist. Her penis was already up and ready for action. As usual, Andrea's voice, even if gentle, carried a hint of dominance that made Yasenia's instincts surrender to her demands. "Take off your clothes, my love."

Yasenia followed the order, and her clothes disappeared inside her ring. Andrea saw the large expanse of tempting flesh revealing, and her breathing became rough. Her fair skin was tender and soft. Her fingers sank into Yasenia's curves as she caressed her body up and down. The big breasts pushed on her body, showcasing their impressive size and form, and below, the big hot hardness that had grown to dominate women with a single thrust made her female instincts run wild.

At first, Yasenia was naturally seductive, but as time went on, she slowly increased that seductiveness to the next level. Not only her body but everything she did seemed to be meant to tempt her. The way she moved when being intimate, the way her hands roamed on your skin, her little kisses on places like the neck, collarbone, and even the shoulders, and how her golden slit eyes looked at you, almost sucking your soul away.

Every gesture pushed Andrea's desire to ravage the dragoness and make her moan her throat out as she pistoned inside the pleasure garden. Andrea's voice was deep and husky, tingling Yasenia's hearing sense. "Good girl, you are so beautiful I almost can't control myself." Yasenia purred on her neck and licked it with slow and tender movements.

Andrea found those gestures irresistible and took off her own robes, pressing their naked bodies together. Softness with softness, hardness with hardness. Their intimate parts touched as their mouths met in a moist dance. Andrea and Yasenia moaned. Andrea because of the long tongue filling her mouth, and Yasenia because of the big and deft hand going up and down her hardness.

Andrea slowly pushed Yasenia against a wall, trapping her in her embrace as they kissed, and she pushed each and every button on Yasenia's dragon with her hand. Yasenia could swear that her penis was melting with pleasure under Andrea's ministrations. It was twitching and leaking abundant precum, which Andrea took advantage of to lubricate her own hand. Yasenia separated her mouth and murmured, "Mmm~ Oh~ I love it, darling~. Ahn~ right, there felt so good!"

The tall Andrea looked into the pink-golden eyes from above and smirked. That smile made Yasenia's uterus tremble. "Does my little dragoness like it~? Then, beg for more."

Yasenia looked into her light green eyes and moaned, "Yes, darling! More! I want more! Your hand is so good!"

Andrea used the other hand to caress her long black hair without stopping the one below. "Such a good girl. Do you want a reward?"

Yasenia buried her face in Andrea's neck and licked her tan skin with delight. Andrea understood and said, "Lower your waist." Yasenia did as told.

Then, Yasenia suddenly felt her penis enter a tight and moist entrance. It was as if an electric shock stimulated her penis. This sudden stimulus took her over the edge, and she shouted, "I'm cumming!" Yasenia hugged Andrea's torso as her waist twitched with each rope she sent inside Andrea.

Andrea, who had eaten the dragoness rod with her lower mouth, felt the hot, thick, and pleasurable semen right after penetration, making her feel delighted.

Andrea almost reached orgasm after feeling the hot and electrifying semen invading her insides so overwhelmingly, but she held on to it and spoke to Yasenia with tenderness, "Good girl~. You came so much inside of me. Do my insides feel that good~? Answer me, my love."

Yasenia thought that she was about to go crazy. This gentle dominance was extremely pleasant. "Yes, I like it! Darling's insides are so good!"

However, Andrea took out Yasenia's penis from her own warm and moist cave, leaving Yasenia wanting more. "I-I want more, darling. Let me penetrate you, please~."

Andrea lifted Yasenia above eye level, holding her up with her arms and legs. She had to hold in her own desire to get ravaged to oblivion by the dragoness as she said, "You can't yet. That was a reward for being a good girl. Let's see if you continue to be one."

Yasenia humped her waist, rubbing her penis on Andrea's defined abs, and her tail coiled around the tall and tanned woman's body. "I'm a good girl. Tell me what to do, darling. I want to feel your insides again."

Andrea smirked and said, "Then, milk me dry." And right after, she thrust in like she wanted to pierce into Yasenia's womb with that thrust.

PAH!

Yasenia felt Andrea's penis invading her pussy, and their waist smashing together. Her throat couldn't contain the ecstasy, and she voiced it with a loud moan. "OHH, YES!" Then, Andrea began pistoning.

PAH! PAH! PAH! PAH!

The toned woman's strong penis repeatedly attacked Yasenia's last entrance, sending electric pleasure waves across Yasenia's whole body. The sound of flesh against flesh echoed in the room, together with the sound of Andrea's balls slapping on Yasenia's soft buttocks. This, coupled with the squelching sound of Yasenia's overflowing fluids and her loud moans, created a sinful and euphoric melody.

The sight was as stimulating as Yasenia's legs were in the air, bouncing at Andrea's pounding rhythm. Moreover, Andrea repeatedly pounded Yasenia without mercy, making the dragoness's body jiggle.

Her breasts bounced up and down, her dick made slapping sounds, and her eyes rolled each time she pierced her.

The dragoness seductive index when Andrea fucked her to oblivion sent the heroic woman over the edge fast. Added that she still had the dragoness semen inside her vagina, and with the pleasurable spasming walls around her dick, she couldn't hold it anymore. Andrea pushed Yasenia's buttons further, "I'm going to fill your womb with my seed, dear."

Yasenia's arms and bouncing legs tightened around Andrea, and her womb lowered to greet the dominating member meshing her insides. Andrea felt it, and she finally pierced through that last entrance.

The feeling of penetrating the cervix was the trigger for her first orgasm. "Get filled!"

Andrea's penis shot her Yin attributed semen inside Yasenia's uterus, which morphed Yasenia's face with pure ecstasy. "OHH, YES!!!" Yasenia reached another orgasm as her vagina literally spasmed to milk Andrea as much as it could. Andrea moaned because of the suction force and spasms. It felt like Yasenia was sucking her sperm directly from her balls.

Both continued their orgasm until Andrea stopped cumming. Yasenia instantly dove down and devoured Andrea's mouth with passion. Andrea felt the tongue occupying most of her mouth and sighed through her nose with pure delight.

She loved the happiness Yasenia showed each time she released her seed inside her uterus. Her limbs and insides would tighten around her as her uterus secreted life-energy-filled liquids. Andrea knew that Yasenia only did this at the beginning of their session to ease the unique carving all of them knew she had.

The sensation of Yasenia's trying to impregnate herself with her semen was a fantastic feeling Andrea loved. Andrea pushed softly with her tongue against Yasenia's dominating tongue inside her mouth. Yasenia understood and took it out of her mouth slowly, savoring Andrea's teeth and mouth as it left it.

Andrea looked at Yasenia's love-filled face, and her heart swelled with tenderness. She pressed their bodies together as if she wanted to fuse them and said, "I love you, my love."

Yasenia's smile curved her eyes into beautiful crescents as she approached Andrea's face and licked her cheek, her throat making deep, growling sounds. They didn't move from that position for a while, exchanging sweet words and caresses. Then, they continued their action until Andrea was empty and filled at the same time if you know what I mean~.

Andrea's mind, which had gone on a tangent, woke up because she could feel the tightness in her armor and the damp feeling of her sexes creating fluids. 'I really lost myself there for a minute. Well, I had already killed these four, so there wasn't any danger around me... Right, the crab.'

She turned her gaze toward it and saw that it was frozen in one place, trembling in fear. At first, Andrea was unsure as to why it would react that way. But then she remembered that she basically killed those four just because in front of the crab's eyes. 'It must be scared I would suddenly turn and kill it.'

Andrea approached the crab after storing her halberd inside the spatial ring. Its trembling was even more apparent as Andrea closed the distance between them.

Andrea reached its side and said, patting the ore the crab was using as a house. "Don't worry, little one. I won't kill you; I had taken a liking to you."

The crab timidly looked at Andrea with its vertical black eyes. It could hear the soothing tone in Andrea's voice. Andrea slowly approached her armored hand and softly caressed the crab between its eyes. The crab let Andrea caress itself, and shortly after, the trembling subsided.

Andrea smiled under the helmet and thought for a moment. Then, she said, "Here, this metal ore is better than the one you had when we met. How about you use it as your house?"

Andrea took out a one-meter-tall golden ore. This ore was actually a middle-level Heaven-ranked material, a higher level than the previous Low-level Heaven-ranked house of the crab.

Even then, Andrea had plenty of this specific material. That was because it could be used as a foundation to create plenty of different alloys. Moreover, it gave a small chance of increasing the rank of the product. Because of its properties and colors, it was called [Fusing Goldsteel]. After she created her halberd and armor, Elder Irina gave her literal tons of this material as a reward.

This didn't mean that it was common. On the contrary, it was quite rare. But having a master with nicknames like "Transcendent Forge Hand" or "Saint Blacksmith" had its perks.

The crab's black vertical eyes spun, looking at the ore, and circled it two times with clear joy in its steps. Andrea was somewhat curious because this crab didn't walk sideways. Even high-level crabs walked sideways, but this little one was walking back and forth normally. 'I'm really curious about its race. Once I meet with Cecile, I should ask her.'

After inspecting it for a while, it looked at Andrea warily for a second. Andrea didn't know the meaning of this gaze, but understood shortly after. The crab hastily took its gelatinous body out of the magic grade material and began creating a space inside the [Fusing Goldsteel]. Its movements were quick and rushed.

Andrea chuckled after seeing its eagerness. However, Andrea's surprise grew the longer she watched.

The crab dug itself inside the ore as if it was made of mud instead of super-hard metal. Since the material Andrea gave it before was magic-ranked, she didn't realize that the little one had quite dangerous substances and a powerful body.

"You can be quite dangerous, little one." Said Andrea with interest.

While it did that, Andrea walked toward the solidified molten metal where the four people had died. Then, she searched for the spatial rings. 'I hope at least one survived. Spatial rings become quite fragile when they lose their masters since the ring's dimension destabilizes after losing its spiritual mark. A big shock would instantly destroy the accessory, not to mention my high-temperature flames.'

Andrea thought, 'Maybe I should get a spatial pouch to store the important things. Although the space inside is smaller than an accessory, their stability and resistance to hits are much higher.'