Chapter 241: One Woman and One Crab. Petting Kali.

Andrea didn't have to search for the rings for a long time since she was using her spiritual sense. Sadly, only two out of the four survived the high temperatures. Andrea picked them up and swept them with her consciousness. After looking inside, she almost spat in disdain. "Demonic cultivators are either extremely poor or extremely wealthy. These were filthy poor."

Andrea sighed, "I guess their wealth depends on how many people they've hunted. Since I caught them before they could rob other people, they didn't have much inside their rings. They are worse than beasts."

Although Andrea didn't generalize, it was a fact that most of the demonic cultivators were scum when talking about moral values. Even if a cultivator wouldn't refrain from using their strength to get the things they want, they would at least have a small restraint. On the other side, demonic cultivators did all kinds of inhuman things because of simple whims.

Andrea gained some middle-level earth-ranked weapons and robes of the same level. Besides that, they had some currently useless crystal coins, beast cores, and other miscellaneous things. There were also Demonic Cultivation methods and skills, which she couldn't learn. There were also some tools to torture people and shady medicines.

The thing she found useful were the pills. But Andrea was somewhat ignorant, so she didn't dare touch them without checking what they were. Therefore, Andrea called Kali.

Kali picked up a minute later.

Andrea didn't beat around the bush and described the pills to her. Miss doctor easily differentiated each type of pill, and Andrea wrote it on a white sheet to avoid forgetting.

There were some low-level earth-ranked pills of different effects, nothing she didn't have. Aphrodisiacs, poisons, and their antidotes weren't as abundant, but there were some nonetheless. The toxins in one of the pills were quite powerful, and Kali warned Andrea not to use them lightly. Andrea nodded since she could clearly feel the strong poison in them.

"By the way, Andrea. Those two black, purple, and green pills are mass-produced [Black Suicide Pills]. They are extremely toxic, but you can rest assured because to make something so toxic and low-level, they had sacrificed its spreading strength. Therefore, these pills won't work to kill people like they work for suicide. The trick is that you must consciously move the poison around the body to have an extremely swift death."

Andrea said, "In short, they are useless to me."

Kali answered, "Yes, but keep them since they can come in handy in the future. Of course, not to kill ourselves but other people."

Andrea laughed, "Don't worry, Kali. I do not plan to kill myself. I will also keep them in my ring until we meet."

Kali said, "The last two pills you described to me are pills to get stronger for a short amount of time at the cost of crippling your cultivation. They forcefully upgrade your cultivation to gain that strength, hence, the backlash."

Kali repeatedly warned her not to use them because they were extremely harmful. Andrea said with a smile in her voice. "Thanks, Kali. I will keep it in mind."

"Darling! You better not use them, or I will have sex with you when you have no cultivation! I'm curious as to what would happen~."

Andrea heard Yasenias voice through Kali's call and said softly, "I won't. However, if you do that, you will kill me, dearest."

Yasenias charming laugh tickled Andrea's ears. Then, she said. "By the way, are you still with those four guys?"

Andrea said, "Nah, they are dead. I killed them after they lost value and began being a little bit dangerous."

Andrea heard Yasenias sigh in relief, "Good job, darling~. I will reward you plenty when we meet!"

Andrea chuckled gently and answered, "I will be waiting for it. I already miss you, my love. Anyway, thanks, Kali. I now know how to use these things."

"No problem, telling you this much is granted."

They kept speaking for a bit, and then Andrea cut the communication. She looked at the crab that was looking at her with glittering black eyes and patted its 'shell.' "Let's keep looting this place."

The crab clacked its pincers happily and pointed in a direction. Andrea lifted an eyebrow, "Hmm? That is the opposite direction we've been walking until now."

The crab shrank itself, filled with guilt. Andrea smirked under the helmet, amused at its antics. Still, she crouched in front of it and asked suspiciously, "Did you hide something from me, little one?"

The crab even hid its pincers inside the ore and the black eyes slightly shrunk. Andrea thought, speechless, 'Does this crab have a turtle complex?'

Andrea sighed and said, "I won't punish you, but you have to tell me things without hiding anything in the future, alright?"

Andrea repeated the sentence three times for the crab to fully understand. The crab danced around her, trying to flatter her. She couldn't help but laugh aloud, "You are a very cute little thing. Let's go. I'm curious what good things are in that direction."

Without delay, they began moving in the direction the crab pointed. After some hours of traveling, Andrea felt the temperature rising sharply and became curious. Suddenly in the distance, she could see an enormous volcano. The clouds and ash in the surroundings had blurred it before, but now Andrea could see it clearly. She asked curiously, "Are the good treasures over there?"

The crab nodded, or well, it moved its pincers up and down. Andrea asked, "Wouldn't it be too dangerous for you, little one? You are just in the initial level, right?"

The crab looked toward the volcano, then at Andrea. This kept repeating three times. Then, Andrea saw the crab pointing at her, and then it moved toward her back as if hiding behind her. The heroic woman smiled, "You want me to protect you?"

The crab made a little dance again. Andrea sighed and nodded, "Sure, let's go. However, don't blame me if you die."

The crab spat bubbles at Andrea. 'Don't say so many ominous things!'

Andrea snorted with laughter and said, "Let's go! We should take three to four days to reach the volcano." And so, the journey of one strange crab and one woman resumed.

As Andrea and the crab began their travel, Yasenia, Kali, and Angel were completing more monoliths inside the town. They've decided to look for Monoliths similar to the [Strength Monolith], to gain a small burst of points in a short amount of time.

The ones they completed during this time tested endurance, agility, potential, intelligence, energy purity, and one that pushed the mind. All of them passed these tests gaining between 800~1500 Trial Points.

Now, after going through seven monoliths of this kind, Yasenia had almost 10 300 Trial points, Angel had nearly 11 600 Trial Points, Kali had 7 950 Trial Points, and Sarah had 7 100 Trial Points. The reason Angel had more points was because of the big advantage she gained in the Strength Monolith and, surprisingly, the high score in the last Monolith that pushed the mind.

However, there was an exception. Unlike the other three, the Monolith that pushed the mind was too dangerous for Kali, so Yasenia prohibited her from doing it. No matter how big of an improvement they had made in that aspect, it was still too early to call victory.

Yasenia wouldn't like all their efforts to go down the drain because of external factors.

Nevertheless, since the challenger wouldn't be transported to another place, Kali pleaded to Yasenia to let her try it and snap her out of it if she saw something bad happening. Yasenia had been reluctant, but after a round of persuasion, she agreed.

After she challenged it, Kali didn't last more than ten seconds before the black aura began showing on the outside. Yasenia reacted quickly and snapped Kali out of the Trial. However, Kali was already trembling.

Because of this, the four of them had decided to rest a little while in a plaza full of beautiful flowers and other vegetation. The natural feeling of this place gave Kali a nice and refreshing feeling and adding Yasenia's presence, it was enough for Kali to begin relaxing. Of course, Yasenia wouldn't stop at just calming her, so she was currently pampering her to the high heavens.

They were seated on a bench, and Yasenia was hugging Kali closely, caressing her ears and tail tenderly. "Don't be upset, honey. I'm here. It was just a test. I won't ever leave you.."

The Monolith had shown her various situation where Yasenia left her, used her, or worse things. Even if it was just ten seconds, the heart demons took the chance and flooded her mind with countless bad scenarios.

She kept her heart strong through most of that because she didn't believe for a second that Yasenia could do things like that to her. However, she lost it when she saw Yasenia sacrificing herself for her in various ways, be it physically, sexually, or receiving different tortures. Those situations almost made Kali go on a rampage.

Thankfully, real Yasenia was nearby and brought her out of the illusion before it got out of control. Kali did what she always did when dealing with heart demons. She poured her worries to Yasenia without hiding anything.

This has been her way of overcoming most of her struggles, be honest with Yaseña and do not hide your fears, discomfort, or any other negative emotions. She knew Yaseña would console her and wash her worries away with love.

Kali fully trusted that Yaseña wouldn't judge and that she would guide her through these moments. And that was what was happening right now.

Kali was between Yaseña's arms, her tail being caressed by Yaseña's soft tail and her ears being gently massaged. Yaseña's mellow and slightly deep voice filled her soul through her hearing sense, reassuring her repeatedly. "I will never do anything that may hurt you, honey. We will always fight together against our enemies, okay? I love you so much. How could I make something that will make you feel so anguished?"

Kali had half-closed eyes and subconsciously rubbed her body on Yaseña's, letting cute noises escape her throat. She was feeling heavenly right now. Yaseña heard them and smiled tenderly, "You are such a cute fox~."

Angel was sitting beside them, looking at their interaction with blushing cheeks. She found them adorable. "Kali, can I pet you?"

Kali made an affirmative sound, and Angel began petting Kali.

Sarah was seated in front of them, feeling slightly awkward. 'Seeing the person you like being so affectionate with other people is... Hard.'

[Host. Don't surrender. You just have to imagine being in the same position that the fox-woman currently is.]

'Even if you are trying to cheer me up, with your emotionless voice is truly hard to feel a positive feeling.'

[Host. You can't complain about how others are made. I didn't choose this setting.]

'Who did?'

[Host. This is just naturally how we, systems, are built. Having emotions would make us deviate from our purpose. The only thing I had before awakening inside of you was preinstalled knowledge about the world given to me from the world itself. My independent thinking process was booted when I was within Host.]

'Interesting.'

Sarah's wandering thoughts stopped when she heard Yaseña speaking. Of course, Yaseña didn't stop her caresses, which had now spread to even Angel, as she asked, "Do you girls want to go shopping? We've already been two days here."

Kali's fox ears straightened as she looked up from Yaseña's embrace. "Let's go buy the pill recipes!"

Angel also grabbed Yaseña's arm and said, "I want to buy formation books!"

Yaseña patted her two dears and nodded, "Let's go then. If you need points, just ask me. Sarah, are you coming?"

Sarah looked at Yasenia strangely and said, "If I don't go with you, where should I go? Am I a bother?"

Yasenia stood up, separating from her two clingy cuties, and approached Sarah. Under her surprised eyes, Yasenia gave Sarah a surprise kiss on the forehead. Then, she said to the stunned woman, "You aren't. I just wanted to confirm. This secret realm is so big that you may have wanted to explore it on your own. Let's go."

Sarah touched her warm forehead, and a deep blush spread on her cheeks, 'J-Just a kiss on my forehead, and I'm already like this....'

Yasenia was thinking, 'I hope these small acts of affection make her less feel awkward. Although I do not trust her, I don't want her to become an enemy. Moreover, little shows of affection like this won't hurt me in any way. But I have to find a chance to separate on good terms with her. Leaving her naivety to the side, she has a good personality, and we could even become friends. But as long as she keeps lying to me about important matters, like the thing inside of her, I will never be able to trust her.' Thanks to the new P.a.t.r.e.o.n, Evan Keleti!

Chapter 242: Spending Trial Points in Alchemy.

After walking for some minutes, they reached the alchemy store they first visited. Yasenia spotted a group of cultivators at the counter, speaking with the shopkeeper. First and foremost, the dragoness measured their strength. She didn't want to offend someone stronger than herself. However, after looking for a while, she classified them as "not bad," nothing that could threaten her.

The chubby shopkeeper saw Yasenia and her group approaching and smiled. Even if they hadn't seen for two days, the extremely beautiful dragoness had left a deep impression on him. He could still remember the fragrant moment when Yasenia tap kissed him on the cheek.

He stopped speaking with the other group and welcomed them. "I hope you had a good harvest these days, beautiful Immortal. I've been waiting for your return eagerly!"

Yasenia smiled and answered, "Let's speak later. You can finish your business with them first; we aren't in a hurry."

The group was about to protest but closed their mouths when they heard her. They thought that Yasenia would be unreasonable and go before them, but to their surprise, she didn't take their turn.

One man and five women turned and looked at Yasenia to thank her, only to have their breath stolen by the dragoness. Yasenia looked at their expressions and smirked, amused. 'I hope they are reasonable.'

Angel and Kali had learned to take these reactions with humor while thinking. 'As expected, another group that falls to Yasenia's charm.'

The leader, a handsome young man, presented himself with a charming smile to Yasenia. "Hello. I'm Lin Yuan, from the [Azure Dragon Sect]. It is a pleasure to meet you!"

Yasenia's long tail lazily swished as she answered with a smile on her own. Her voice deep and mellow, tingling their senses. "Good afternoon. My name is Katherine, from the Moon Empire."

Lin Yuan nodded and asked, "Are the four ladies alone? I wouldn't mind adding the four of you to our group. I see that the strongest in your group is on the eight-level, so you might have problems with strong cultivators."

Yasenia saw that all six of them were in the Half-step, so she asked, acting weak. "Um... All of you are in the half-step. Wouldn't we be too much of a bother? Moreover, we won't be able to win too many Trial Points if we challenge the same things as you...."

The man thought that she had a point, so he sighed. "What a shame; I really wanted to have you on our team. Even if your cultivation is low, I can feel that you are somewhat strong."

Yasenia acted flattered, "How could it be? All I am is a pretty face; I'm not as good as the other women in your group."

The women that were getting annoyed because they liked this man felt their anger dissipate and looked at Yasenia more warmly. 'At least she knows her place.' Were the collective thoughts of the women.

Yasenia knew that she had to act that way if she didn't want to begin another scene, so she just accepted their gazes with a smile. That smile made some of them have rosy cheeks. 'W-Well, I can admit that she is indeed beautiful.'

Lin Yuan turned toward the shopkeeper and finished his business in another ten minutes. He tried to convince Yasenia again, but Yasenia kept refusing with a humble attitude. At the end of the conversation, even the women sighed with regret. They thought that they could become good friends with someone like Yasenia.

Then, they bid farewell to Yasenia's group and the left.

When they were far away, the shopkeeper laughed, "What a smooth mouth you have. You fooled them easily. How could beautiful Immortal be as weak as she portrays?"

Yasenia smiled, "I'm used to dealing with people like them. Although being beautiful is good, being too beautiful is just a source of problems, especially in our world where people take things they covet by force."

The shopkeeper nodded, "Well, you are right. Anyway, let's go directly to the point. Are you here to ask more questions or buy things?"

Yasenia said, "Both."

The shopkeeper motioned her to go ahead. Yasenia asked, "So this happened...."

Yasenia explained her strange happening with Liu Yi and how she absorbed his Trial Points and asked about it. The shopkeeper became thoughtful, "I haven't heard of anything like that. If you want to hear the answer about battling and similar things, you should go to the Guard Captain. I recommend going to the armory and asking about the captain there, they should know his location, and if you have luck, he may be inside the armory."

Yasenia nodded and dragged Kali to her side with her tail, "Well, show my dear your recipes for sale. We are buying the ones she wants."

The shopkeeper didn't delay and put the catalog in front of Kali. After looking for five minutes, Kali said, "I want these recipes, [Purple Heart Poison Pill], [Vital Blood Parasite pill], [Yin gathering pill], [Yang gathering pill], [Core refining pill], and [Soul Refining pill]. Of course, I want the materials for each recipe and the method of growing them."

The shopkeeper looked at her stupefied and asked, "It is not that I look down on you, but... Do you have enough Trial Points?"

Kali asked, "What rank are they? Only the effects are written here."

"They are all heaven-ranked recipes besides the [Purple Heart Poison Pill] that is Earth-ranked. Without the materials and growing method, it will be 21 000 points. If we add the materials for one set of pills and their growing technique, it will increase to 24 500 Trial Points. Of course, since you have the thirty percent discount, it will lower to a total of 17 150 Trial Points. But it is still quite a fortune."

Kali sighed, relieved. "I have 7 950 Points, and Yasenia has 10 300. So, in total, we have just enough."

The shopkeeper's eyes bulged and asked incredulously but quietly, not to gain attention. "How did you gain so many points!?"

Yasenia didn't mind telling him, so she told him a summary of what they did. The shopkeeper patted his bulging belly and laughed dumbfounded, "Impressive! I will give you an extra ten percent discount for being such a talented bunch! On top of the natural thirty percent discount for passing the Heaven Gate, it will total a forty percent discount. So, in total, it will be 14 700 Trial Points."

Yasenia wouldn't be stupid and not accept the deal, so she agreed without reservations. "Thanks a lot! We will come to this shop whenever we want alchemy ingredients, equipment, or pills."

The man nodded happily, "I hope you spend lots of Trial Points here to compensate for my offer, hahaha."

Yasenia and Kali paid. This left Kali without points and Yasenia with 3 550 points. After getting everything, they departed after saying thanks one more time. Yasenia even rewarded the man with a tight hug. Looking at his happy and smiling chubby face, Angel and Kali wouldn't be surprised if the discount were bigger the next time they returned.

They went to a resting spot and organized the materials. Yasenia said, "Leave me the parasitic worms and plants together with the poisonous plants. My ring has various enchantments to make them harmless while raising them. I will also study their diet, so don't worry about me not taking care of them."

Kali didn't even doubt giving Yasenia those. Kali said, "I will keep the others because my new ring, [Paradise Spatial Ring], can hold life. I will be able to plant them and raise them easily. If I need anything, I will ask it from you, Yasenia."

Yasenia pecked her cheek and said, "Sure. My everything is yours, so ask whatever you want."

Yasenia turned toward her eager baby and smiled, "Now it is time for my little girl to buy her formation stuff."

Angel smiled sweetly and jumped on Yasenia. Yasenia picked her up, and they moved forward like that.

They received strange gazes since Angel was clearly a grown woman, even if she was short and cute. Therefore, being carried like that looked weird. Yaseenia didn't care as long as Angel was happy. On the other side, Angel was too happy being held by her dear dragoness even to realize the gazes they were receiving. Well, even if she realized, she wouldn't care.

They walked for a while and reached a four-story-tall building. It had a sign over the entrance that read, "Formation Research Association."

Yaseenia asked Angel, "Do we enter this one? It seems to be the biggest one around."

Angel nodded and pointed forward, "Let's go! Move forward, Yaseenia!"

Yaseenia laughed and smooched Angel, "Your orders are mine to follow, captain!"

Angel giggled as Yaseenia jogged forward.

Sarah felt she was getting a toothache; their relationship was truly too sweet. Yaseenia slowed down when she reached the entry doors and walked in formally, with Angel still between her arms, but formally nonetheless.

A woman came forward to welcome them. She had an elegant dress and a pair of red-framed glasses. Angel, Kali, and Yaseenia looked at the glasses with interest. It was the first time they saw accessories for the eyes. Because cultivators had extremely healthy bodies, the only situations were either being blind or not having eye problems at all. Therefore, glasses were a thing that was uncommon to see in the cultivation world.

The woman bowed slightly and said, "Welcome, honorable guests. What can I help you with?"

Yaseenia looked at Angel and said, "Ask away, baby. If we have the Points, we will buy anything you want."

Angel rubbed her chin and asked, "Do you have deep lining formations?"

The woman nodded, "We have; they are on the top floor. Do you want me to guide you?"

Angel shook her head and continued asking questions. The woman tried to answer but was getting a little overwhelmed because the concepts Angel spoke about weren't something she could understand. This woman considered herself very knowledgeable in formation concepts, but it was clear that she was an amateur compared with Angel.

However, since Angel seemed so young, her pride was somewhat hurt, and she didn't call for a superior, trying to answer everything herself. Angel began frowning because she couldn't communicate properly.

Yaseenia was about to enter the conversation, but another woman's voice came from the side. "Dear guests, how about I guide you? I can see that this cute girl is a formation expert, and our regular staff may be unable to help you."

The woman with glasses looked at that woman respectfully and with a mix of gratefulness and annoyance. Then, she bowed and excused herself.

When she relaxed, she sighed with frustration, 'I thought they were amateurs, so I looked down on them somewhat. But it felt like speaking with the association headmistress when speaking with that woman. To be so knowledgeable at such a young age... Truly terrifying.'

Angel looked at the new arrival and saw that she had black-rimmed glasses. Our baby couldn't help but ask, "Do all the people here use that thing for the eyes?"

The woman put a hand on her mouth and laughed, "Why do you ask, miss?"

Angel looked around and said, "Well, I haven't seen a mortal without those yet, so I'm curious."

The woman nodded, "We use the color of the glasses as identification of our ranks in the workplace. Blue is for beginners, green is for senior employees, and red is for veteran employees."

Yasenia looked at the black-rimmed glasses of the woman and asked, "So this lady here is the owner of this place?"

The woman raised one of her willowy eyebrows and smiled, "You are quite sharp, miss."

Angel smiled proudly as if the compliment was toward herself. After a small talk, Angel realized that this woman could understand her, so she began asking questions again.

The woman answered with ease as she guided them to the fourth floor. Angel praised sincerely, "The town's residents know a lot about professions even though you are just mortals."

Yasenia patted Angel's butt and said, "Be a little more respectful, baby."

The woman said, confusing things slightly because of their current position and pet names. "Don't worry, miss. It is normal for your daughter to have these kinds of thoughts. To answer little miss, we are knowledgeable about professions thanks to the energy around here. Although we can't cultivate, we can advance in profession mastery as if we were cultivating."

Angel blushed being called Yasenia's daughter but didn't correct it. She found it strangely appealing to be called Yasenia's daughter. Yasenia chuckled and also didn't correct her mistake. Yasenia even teased Angel, "You've been asking a lot of questions already. How about you tell mama dragon what you want to buy, baby?"

Angel's blush deepened, the red even spreading to her neck. But she answered with a stutter, "I-I want to buy formation books that have t-these lines on them, M-m-m-mommy."

Yasenia laughed happily, being called that way, and bathed Angel in kisses. "How can my baby be so cute!"

Angel "protested" with a sweet voice between kisses, "Yasenia~ Kiss Stop~ Kiss hahaha, don't tickle me~."

The woman's face became strange, seeing that the kisses were lip-lip, but who was her to judge other families? She just waited patiently with a professional smile and waited for Angel's questions.

Chapter 243: Expensive Formation Books.

After leaving a shy but sweet feeling Angel between her arms with her kissing attack, Yasenia cleared the misunderstanding, "We are actually wife and wife, not mother and daughter, hahaha."

The woman became somewhat embarrassed because of the mistake. She coughed once to regain her bearing and apologized, "Sorry for the misunderstanding, miss immortal."

Yasenia waved one hand and smiled, "It doesn't matter. Can you help us with Angel's request?"

Angel took out one of the long white sheets and showed it to the woman. The woman's face became serious, and she started analyzing the formation lines.

The connotations were extremely helpful and let the woman understand what Angel wanted. She praised sincerely, "These notes are very well done, miss. I can't imagine how much time you had to take to make them."

Angel tilted her head, confused, "But I only took five minutes."

The woman froze for a second, her eyes looking at the thirty-meter-long sheet with so many characters crammed into it that it would be enough to fill an extremely thick book. 'H-How? I don't understand...'

She coughed again and guided them to another room. She just wanted to be over with these clients before her heart took a serious hit. "Follow me. I have two books about this formation school."

After going through a closed door, they entered another room. There weren't as many items in this room as in the other rooms. However, the quality was much higher, and each item was inside a transparent box, preserved carefully. Yasenias and the others followed her until they reached a stand with two books inside a crystal cabinet. The woman said, "These are the ones. Those formation lines belong to a formation method from before the Heavenly Cataclysm. It was one of the most powerful but, at the same time, one of the hardest to learn. These two books are the first two parts of a Five-Volume set. They are extremely precious, so if you want to buy them... I can't let you buy it for less than 75 000 Trial points each.

Sarah choked, Kali looked at the woman with a skeptical gaze, Angel made a stupid expression, and even Yasenias looked seriously at the woman. Yasenias looked at her extremely attentively and asked, "Are you sure that is the price? I don't want to learn later that we are being scammed. 75 000 Trial points are something only Heaven Gate Cultivators would be able to gather."

The woman looked into the golden slit eyes and felt like an ancient predator had set its eyes on her. Her body tensed, her heart accelerated, and she even started sweating. However, she answered truthfully, "I-I r-really can't lower the price anymore. H-However, the 75 000 are without the 30% discount. So, in truth, you can buy them for 52 500 each."

Yasenias observed her expression for thirty seconds straight. The woman felt that her legs would fail at any moment under so much pressure. Yasenias focused, and besides the growing fear, she didn't feel that the woman was lying.

Yasenias relaxed her aura and returned to her seductive self. She smiled and said, "I'm sorry for doubting you. The price was so exaggerated that I even doubted my ears. Reserve them for us. If any other person comes to get them, communicate with me with these."

Yasenias took out a pair of communication devices, one receiver and one sender, and gave it to the woman. After explaining how they worked, Yasenias warned, "You better not lose them and inform us if someone else wants them. Do you understand?"

The woman nodded hastily, "I will, I will. Don't worry, miss immortal. I won't even speak about them to other customers."

Yasenias nodded and said, "Perfect. Then, we will leave to gather the Trial Points. Thank you for guiding us."

The woman bowed and said, "Thank you for everything, dear guests."

After Yasenia and the rest left, the woman fell to the ground, her legs giving in. 'Her g-gaze was so scary, my heavens! I thought she was going to eat me.'

While walking outside, Yasenia realized Angel's struggling face, so she asked. "What's wrong, baby? Are you upset that you couldn't buy them? Don't worry. We just have to save a little more."

Angel said to Yasenia, "A-aren't they too expensive? I think it is best not to buy them..." "

Slap!

"Hyan!" Angel yelped after Yasenia slapped her little butt. Yasenia spoke as Angel looked at Yasenia with blushing cheeks. "So what if they are expensive? My baby wants them, so she will get them! I already lost your shield. I don't want to fail to give you something you want again."

Angel hugged Yasenia's neck tighter and looked at her with tender eyes. Then, she nodded sweetly. "I love you, Yasenia."

Yasenia smiled and wagged her tail, happy with Angel's sudden but heartfelt confession.

Yasenia looked at Sarah and asked, "Do you want to go somewhere?"

Sarah shook her head. She didn't know what to buy yet. Moreover, the system has told her about a secret item that needs 300 000 trial points.

Yasenia said, "Then, let's go to get-"

But Angel and Kali interrupted, "Get something you want!"

Yasenia looked at them and chuckled, "All right, all right. Don't look at me with such an intense gaze. I will buy something for myself."

They used the next three hours to pass through a black-smithing, archery, and tailor shop, buying things that "Yasenia" wanted.

Angel and Kali pouted, knowing full well how hard it would be making Yasenia spend her points for herself and not them. 'She pampers us too much!'

But how could they tell her to stop when there was a constant happy wag on her tail and a happy smile on Yasenia's face as she muttered what would Andrea, Evelyn, or Cecile want? They didn't have the heart to stop the pampering dragoness!

Yasenia was only satisfied when she spent all of her remaining 3000 points on tools and materials for Evelyn, Cecile, and Andrea. Yasenia said, "Perfect! Let's go to the armory and speak with the captain."

She looked at Angel only to see her with a pout large enough to hang a kettle on her lips. Yasenia asked, "What's wrong, baby?"

Angel pointed at Yasenia's nose and reprimanded her dear dragoness. "Why didn't you buy things for yourself? Even if you don't spend all your points on things you want, you could at least spend some!"

Yasenia repeatedly blinked, unable to register the current situation. 'Is my baby angry with me!?'

Yasenia asked for forgiveness, hugging her closely and showering her with kisses. "Sorry, sorry, I will buy things for myself next time, okay? Don't get angry, baby."

Angel tried to harrumph coldly, but with the dragoness showering her with kisses and her cute face, her convincing points were near zero. She looked extremely cute in the other people's eyes. Yasenia almost had hearts in her eyes looking at her. 'So cute~.'

Angel reiterated, "You better understand, or I will punish you!"

Yasenia flattered her and repeatedly nodded, patting her head. "Okay, okay, I understand. What my baby says goes."

Angel nodded, satisfied with herself. 'I bet Yasenia is reflecting.'

'Ahn~ I want to see my baby like that again~ Will she punish me in bed? Being punished by my baby must feel good~. En, the next time I want to have the Evelyn experience~.'

Well, even if Yasenia's love-addled brain wasn't reflecting, Angel managed to convince Yasenia to buy things for herself anyway, so we could count that as a win for our baby... Right?

Anyway, after walking for thirty minutes, they reached the armory. It wasn't a tall building, but it was big and wide. They could see that it had two floors, and the land behind it was reserved for training and weapon testing. 'This is more like the barracks than an armory. Maybe they have all built-in together?'

Yasenia observed the soldiers walking in formations and her eyebrows lifted with surprise. 'They are also mortals? I thought the army would at least have some cultivators. It seems that what the shopkeeper said about being unable to cultivate applies to everyone.'

She was curious why an isolated town would need an army, especially one filled with mortal people, but she didn't delve deep into it.

Before the armory doors, there were two tall soldiers, as tall as Yasenia, in full body armor. Their helmets were on, so Yasenia couldn't decipher their facial features.

Yasenia had already placed Angel down and was walking with the girls side by side. The soldiers saw the dragoness approaching with her sashaying steps, and their bodies tensed. Even with their armors on, Yasenia could feel their mood change quite accurately.

Yasenia's eyes flashed mischievously, and she smiled. "Good night, gentlemen. We are here to take a look at the armory and, if possible, meet with the Guard Captain."

Her mellow and slightly deep voice snapped the two soldiers out of their fantasies. One of them coughed and answered, straightening himself. His voice sounded stern as he spoke, "Immortal, our Captain Guard is sleeping. Come back in the morning."

Yasenia's slit eyes thinned for a second as she perceived a small twitch, 'Are they lying? Hmm, it is hard to tell with that heavy armor on.'

She looked at them with a smile for a second and approached with sensual steps. Their brain froze for a second because of Yasenia's alluring aura, and before the guard on the right knew what was happening, Yasenia was all over his armor with her face extremely close to him.

Her sweet scent assaulted him and seeped between the armor cracks, making him dizzy and his crotch area extremely tight. Yaseenia whispered with a bone-softening voice, "Mister guard~ Can I see him? I really want to meet with him."

The other guard was a little more awake since Yaseenia wasn't focusing on him, but seeing Yaseenia's voluptuous body squish because the armor was starting a fire inside him. The mere sight of this was seductive enough to send his thoughts flying and forgetting about his college.

The guard answered with a trembling voice, "H-He is sleeping and c-can't see you, immortal."

Yaseenia smiled and used her tail to move the armored arms of the guard around her waist, positioning both of them in an intimate position. Even if he wore his full armor, he could clearly feel Yaseenia's soft body as his arms sank into Yaseenia's soft and slim waist. 'Why did I have to have my armor on!? I can't clearly feel this seductive goddess' body!'

"I just want to see him for a moment~ Can you let me in, please~?" Yaseenia said with a begging and sensual tone. Her voice was as stimulating as a moan would be in the middle of 'battle.'

Which mortal would be able to resist this? Not even the guard that was spectating from the sides!

The other guard gulped hard and moved toward the gate, opening it. "He is currently speaking with another person, so it would be wise to wait outside."

The moment they opened the door, Yaseenia instantly slipped out of the guard's embrace, picked up the three stunned girls with her arms and tail, and slipped inside, closing the door with her tail.

Bang!

She had moved so fast that no one could react before the doors closed.

Yaseenia could already imagine their stupid faces and chuckled aloud. "We are in~. I wanted to confirm if the Guard Captain was truly asleep, and as I thought, he was still awake. Hahaha, their reactions were very cute~."

Then, she began walking toward the Guard Captain's office, following the directions that were on the counter.

Meanwhile, the two guards outside were stunned for a moment and then smiled wryly. They didn't follow because they knew they wouldn't be able to make her leave. And also because Yaseenia's sweet floral scent still lingered outside and inside their armors.

'M-Maybe I won't ever wash this armor again...'

'Lucky bastard, why didn't that seductive goddess choose me!'

Yaseenia saw that the three of them weren't walking, and instead, they stood there, looking at her strangely. She tilted her head and asked, "What's wrong?"

Kali approached her side and asked with a little laugh, "Is it fun teasing people like that?"

Yaseenia laughed and said, "Extremely so~."

Kali nodded and grabbed her hand, "That's all that matters. Don't do things like that if you have to force yourself. However, if you have fun doing it, then do as you like."

Yasenia thought and understood what Kali meant. "Don't worry, honey. I really don't force myself. Not only does it come naturally to me, but I also enjoy teasing people until their souls leave their bodies ~."

Kali snorted with laughter, "Seductress."

Yasenia slithered beside her, biting her fox ear softly, "Wrong~. I'm your seductress~." Kali's face under the veil went completely red, and even if she tried acting calm, her rapidly wagging fox tail couldn't lie about her current true feelings.

Angel hugged Yasenia's arm between her breasts and said, "Let's go see the Guard Captain, Yasenia!" Yasenia grabbed Kali's hand, and the three moved together, Sarah following after them.

Chapter 244: The Guard Captain clarifying some doubts.

The directions toward the main office were somewhat confusing. Therefore, Yasenia asked some of the soldiers standing in the corridors. Even if they were somewhat reluctant initially, their determination quickly crumbled before Yasenia's pleas.

Yasenia's slightly raised eye corners, the small mole under her right eye, her thick eyelashes, and beautiful straight eyebrows were enough to hook a mortal's soul away. The golden slit eyes seemed to pierce their deepest part, making them vulnerable to her demands. She didn't even have to touch them, and just some seductive glances were enough to make them eager to answer her questions.

They were in front of the Guard Captain's room five minutes later. Yasenia took out a sofa and placed it in the hallway. She could hear noises inside, so she decided to wait until the person inside came out.

Of course, it wasn't that she didn't want to interrupt their talk. The sounds Yasenia heard were something she could identify, and she knew that entering now wouldn't be a wise idea.

Angel and Kali sat at Yasenia's sides, and Sarah sat beside Angel. They took this chance to relax. There was a window in the hallway, and the light from the moon seeped inside, mixing with the dim light from the candles, giving the place a peaceful atmosphere.

After twenty minutes, a woman with rosy cheeks and slightly messed up clothes walked out of the room. Even if she had cleaned herself, Yasenia could practically feel the coquettish aura around the woman and satisfied smirk.

Yasenia raised an eyebrow, 'This is why I didn't knock on the door. I might have incurred his anger even before presenting myself if I had interrupted.'

When this woman walked outside, she saw four women sitting on a beige couch that she didn't remember being there. However, that wasn't what surprised the woman. It was the beauty of the smallest woman and the tallest one. Especially when she laid eyes on Yasenia, danger bells sounded in her head. 'Is she his new lover? I can't let a woman that beautiful get close to him, or I will lose his favor!'

She glared at Yasenia and asked, her tone hostile. "Who are you? The Guard Captain is not available right now; the guards outside must have told you. Leave before you get into trouble."

Yasenia saw her defensive stance and teased her. She leaned forward, emphasizing the deep cleavage, and said, "Do you really think he wouldn't be available for me~? I bet I can walk inside, and he would welcome me with open arms~."

The woman's face became ugly and was about to berate Yasenia when Yasenia laughed, "I'm sorry, tonight I'm slightly cheeky. I'm a cultivator that came from the outside. I have zero interest in mortals, so you can relax, miss lover."

The woman was surprised for a second. She had focused so much on their appearance that she had missed the natural aura all townspeople could detect from cultivators. 'She is a Heaven Immortal!? I nearly made a big a big mistake.'

She bowed and apologized. "I'm sorry, respected immortal. Your beauty was so high I didn't realize who you were."

Yasenia smiled, "Don't worry about it. I can understand why you reacted that way."

The woman's heart relaxed, and she also smiled, "I see. I will inform him and tell you when he is ready. I'm his wife, by the way. Nice to meet you."

Yasenia's eyes thinned slightly, but she smiled nonetheless. "Nice to meet you."

'Do these mortals really think they can fool a dragon? It seems that miss secret lover doesn't want to be found out.' Yasenia thought with amusement.

After waiting for four more minutes, the same woman came out, now more proper, and smiled, "You can go in, respected immortals."

Yasenia and the others stood up from the couch and stored it. Then, they walked inside with the woman following closely behind. After all of them entered, she closed the door and went to a desk on the side. Sarah thought, 'Is she something like a secretary?'

The office was made of wood with different armors and weapons hung on the walls. There were also two bookshelves on the side, filled with various documents. It was neatly ordered, and it was clear that the person responsible for it was very proficient in their work. Near the end of the office, facing the door and with a window behind, there was a big desk and a middle-aged man with brown hair seated behind it.

He had a stern face with thick eyebrows and an angled jaw. His bearing was military-like, and his eyes were piercing, like a general looking at his soldiers. His skin was somewhat rough, and he had big hands. Looking at them, one could tell they had held the sword for many years.

However, Yasenia couldn't take him seriously because the moment the man laid his eyes on him, a lustful fire immediately ignited. Moreover, even if they had ventilated the room, for Yasenia's, Kali's, and even Angel's sharp senses, the room still reeked of sex.

Yasenia saw Angel's little face scrunching, so she used her aura to blow away the air around her and used her own scent to surround the girls.

Their faces instantly eased up, and their noses twitched as they took Yasenia's scent in with smiles. Yasenia's lips also raised in a gentle smile, seeing their expressions change.

Then, Yaseenia moved the chairs and tables meant for guests to the side with her aura. After that, she placed the previous couch there and sat with Angel to her right, Kali to her left, and Sarah to Kali's side. Even if this took a lot to explain, it just happened in five to ten seconds.

Yaseenia looked at the man and said, her voice calm with a naturally seductive undertone. "I'm sorry for coming here so late, Guard Captain. I have some doubts, and I hope you can enlighten me."

The man's baritone voice sounded authoritative, "Good. However, I think I told the guards at the entrance not to let anyone in."

Yaseenia chuckled, crossed her legs, almost showing her underwear, and leaned forward, emphasizing her pair of big breasts. "Just small matters, right, captain?"

The man almost couldn't control his lecherous smile but managed to remain stern. "Small matters, small matters. What are you here for, beautiful lady?"

Yaseenia smiled and said, "I want to ask some things about the Trial Points. We are new to this place, so I wanted you to clarify my doubts."

After the Captain motioned her to go ahead, Yaseenia asked, "So this happened...."

Yaseenia explained in detail how he made a bet with a man that wanted to take advantage of her, then spoke about the strength of that man, and finally how she made the man literally explode in a blood mist with one punch, shattering his dantian with the same strike. She also mentioned that she gained the Trial Points that the man gained because of the brutal death.

Although Yaseenia had a smile, the vivid description and Yaseenia's eyes looking at the Captain's abdomen from time to time made the Captain feel chills, his body filled with cold sweat. 'I almost made a very big mistake.'

Yaseenia saw with satisfaction how the Captain sat more properly, and his eyes cleared up from the lustful thoughts. Therefore, Yaseenia also sat normally and asked, her tone now more normal. "Why did that happen? When I killed other cultivators before, that didn't happen. Was it because they didn't have Trial Points? Or maybe another thing caused it?"

The Captain thought for a second seriously, "I think I read about that somewhere. Give me a second, respected Immortal."

He stood up and took some books from the bookshelf on the right. He sat again and began skimming through them. Yaseenia and the others waited patiently.

After five minutes, he said. "Hmm... It should be because of this. Your punch shattered his dantian, and that made the energy leak out. The energy for Trial Points is very easy to absorb, so instead of dissipating, it must have entered through the meridians in your hand straight to your dantian. Even if you didn't overcome any trial, the number that appears on your dantian is just the representation of the amount of that kind of energy, hence, the increase on your Trial Points."

Yaseenia nodded, 'I thought that that explanation would be too obvious, but it seemed like it is really because of that... If this gets known, it could be dangerous.'

Yaseenia asked, "What is the fastest way to gain Trial Points for someone that has passed the Heaven Gate, like us?"

The Captain pondered and said, "If you disregard risk. Then challenging the tallest monoliths should be the way."

"If you don't want to have such a high risk of dying. The arena South to the city or killing the beasts that attack outside and exchanging beast cores for Trial Points should be the best method."

Kali asked, intrigued, "What is the arena like?"

The Captain answered, "You can register like a participant. Then, you will fight randomly against other participants. Winning will give you up to 100 of their Trial Points plus an extra ten that the arena gives. This is the only way to win Trial Points for people that have run out of monolith challenges. However, if you lose, you lose 150 Trial Points, so it is quite hard to win points if you aren't strong enough. You have to be confident of at least winning two out of three matches if you want to accumulate Points. Not to mention, if you participate in a deathmatch, the winner takes it all."

Angel took out some beast cores that ranged between second-ranked and third-rank and asked, "How many trial points are these valued for?"

The Captain looked at them and said, "Beast cores of the second level can be sold between 1 to 3 Trial Points."

The Captain said, "Low-level third-rank cores between 10 and 15, a middle-level core between 25 and 35, high-level between 50 and 85, and top-level between 100 and 200. The value changes depending on the quality, attributes, energy amount, beast-core integrity, and the age of the beast that had the core."

Yasenia raised an eyebrow, "So many factors to decide the price? How about fourth-ranked beasts? How much for a core from them?"

The Captain shook his head. "Their prices range widely because the beasts in this rank are very scarce and rare. Beasts can only advance when a cultivator advances inside our world."

Yasenia's curiosity was picked, "How does that work?"

The Guard Captain continued answering, "I've read that when a cultivator advances to the Fourth Realm, they open a path to the heavens through the tribulations, allowing beast kings to be born."

Yasenia nodded, "With Beast kings, you must refer to fourth-ranked beasts."

The Captain said, "Yeah, we call them mortal beasts, earth beasts, heaven beasts, and Beast Kings."

Yasenia stood up and said, "Thank you for everything."

The rest followed, and Yasenia kept the sofa in her ring. Then, she moved everything with her aura placing them in their original positions.

The Captain also stood up and nodded, "If you have any other questions, don't fear coming here and asking me, miss immortal. It has been a pleasure speaking with you."

Yasenia nodded nonchalantly, turned, and left with the others.

After the door closed, the Guard Captain sat on his chair, exhausted. The woman approached and asked, "What's wrong?"

He answered with an exhausted voice, "I felt like a mountain was pressing down on me. Her gaze is extremely penetrating. Even if she seemed relaxed, I felt like a predator was watching me when speaking with her."

The woman massaged his stiff shoulders, and feeling the hard muscles under her hand, she whispered seductively. "How about another round to let off that tension~?"

The man felt a rush of excitement, turned, and pounced on the woman. Both of them fell on the guest couch and began their round. Their session was more intense than normal since, even if he had felt mainly fear, he was also extremely aroused at Yasenias seductive beauty.

The delightful cries of a woman and grunts of a man spread in the office for a big part of the night.

Chapter 245: Checking Favorability Through the System.

Yasenia and the others walked around the armory. After asking the guards, they learned that they could even buy swords and other weapons inside the building. Therefore, they stayed for one more hour, searching for good weapons. However, after observing them, neither of them found a suitable piece of equipment, so they quickly lost interest.

After leaving the building, Yasenia asked, looking at the Waning Moon in the sky, "Do you girls want to continue? We've been going from challenge to challenge these last two days, and we've already entered the third day. Even though we had a small rest, maybe relaxing for a while would be nice."

Sarah said, "I would like to sleep, to be honest. After fighting a lot during these days, I've become tired."

"I don't care. Although I'm surprised, I still feel energetic enough to continue." Said Kali.

Angel grabbed Yasenia's hand and said with a happy smile, "I will do whatever Yasenia does! I'm not tired, but I also wouldn't mind sleeping with you~."

Yasenia patted her and thought for a moment about what to do. "We aren't in a hurry, to be honest. However, since Kali and Angel are still energetic, we can move around."

Sarah said nervously, "I can still go on!"

Yasenia laughed and said, "Let me finish what I was about to say. First, let's find a place to sleep. We will leave you resting there. Meanwhile, the three of us can look around and plan a route to follow. After we know the total amount of Monoliths and their challenges, we can each find the most suitable one for each of us. That way, we can gain Trial Points faster."

Sarah asked to make sure, "Will you come back to get me after I rest?"

Yasenia nodded, "Don't worry, I'm not going to disappear suddenly."

After Sarah accepted Yasenia's arrangements, they went to an inn and bought a room for Sarah to stay in. It was very cheap since the room had just a bed and a table.

Yasenia asked Angel to create a protection formation in Sarah's room to avoid problems. Sarah was touched by Yasenia's thoughtfulness and looked at her with a tender gaze. Yasenia looked back at her as if she didn't realize it and smiled. After getting to an agreement on where to meet, Yasenia left with Angel and Kali.

When Yasenia left with the others, Sarah let her body fall on the bed and sighed. She felt tension she hadn't been aware of leaving her body. Sarah muttered while looking at the wooden ceiling, "This was more exhausting than I thought. Too much has happened during these days..."

After doing nothing for ten minutes and relaxing, she asked the system, her voice somewhat lazy. "I think we are making progress in our relationship. What do you think, system?"

[Host. I can't read Yasenia's feelings, but I can feel that the other two have a better opinion of you after these two days. You have won some Shop Points thanks to this.]

Sarah realized, "Right! How had their favorability changed? I remember I can only check once per week. This should be a good time to check it."

[Host. The changes are as follows.]

[Ding! Angel's favorability has increased a single point! 10 Shop Points.]

[Ding! Angel's favorability has increased a single point! 10 Shop Points.]

After that message popped up eight times, the system told her the current total favourability.

[Congratulations! Angel favorability is now at -42]

Sarah was completely stunned, "Isn't the points out of 100? How can it be negative!? This is my first time hearing that it can go negative!"

[Host. Your starting favorability was -50, so it is quite a big improvement.]

Sarah asked, "Does she hate me?"

[Host. Her current feelings aren't those of hate.]

"Then why are the points negative?"

[Host. It should be because she felt your intentions toward Yasenia. Although Angel seems like a sweet, cute, naive, and happy-go-lucky woman, she is very intelligent.]

Sarah nodded, a little dazed. "What about Kali?"

[Ding! Kali's favorability has increased a single point! 250 Shop Points.]

Sarah was speechless, "That's it!? Why are her points so valuable!?"

[Host. Kali's current favorability is at -74. Work hard!]

"Even if you cheer me with that monotonous tone, I won't feel better!"

Sarah asked again, "So? Why are her points much more valuable than Angel's?"

[Host. Kali's heart is extremely adverse to strangers. I'm unable to comprehend how Yasenia was able to charm her. If I had to calculate your chances of beginning a romance with the current her, ignoring her feelings for Yasenia, they would have been only 17.199% with my assistance.]

Sarah asked, "Just for curiosity. What about taking into account Yasenia?"

[0.167%]

Sarah was speechless. After five minutes, she asked again. "What about my chances of seducing Angel?"

[Without the interference of Yasenia and not considering Angel's feelings toward Yasenia, the chances would have been 71.654%. Including Angel's current feelings, the chances are 3.981%. Finally, with Yasenia's interference, the chances are unknown, but I can assume that they would be infinitely close to zero.]

Sarah was surprised at the initial 70% value. "It was that high?"

[Host. Considering you have my, the "Harem Goddess System's" assistance. They are honestly somewhat low.]

Sarah nodded. Then, she asked, a little apprehensive. "What about Yasenia's favorability?"

[Ding! Ya?e?ia'? f?vora?ili?y has ?e???ed a s?n??? p???nt!]

...

[Ya?e?ia'? current f?vora?ili?y is ????]

"AHH!!" Sarah held her head and released a painful scream. Accompanied by the messages, she heard unbearable screeching noises as if there was someone clawing the blackboard right inside her brain.

Her head felt like it was about to burst, and she couldn't understand a single word nor letter from the messages. There was even some blood flowing down her nose. While crying in pain, Sarah shouted, "Stop! SYSTEM, I SAID STOP!"

However, as if the system couldn't hear her, the messages repeated seventy-one times until they stopped. The pain was so bad that her body was limp on the bed, soaked in cold sweat. Sarah laid there limp for ten minutes. Then, she slowly stood up in silence and staggered toward the bath.

After summering herself in the water, her body seemed to wake up and recover. Sarah's voice was monotonous as she asked, "Why didn't you stop? I thought I was about to die."

[Host. I told you I couldn't read her favorability. Remember that I'm programmed to follow your every order. Please don't make me do that again. I felt my very existence flickering in and out of existence. Even if I wanted to stop after hearing your command, I couldn't.]

Sarah didn't answer and remained in the bath in silence for another hour. Then, she dried herself and fell limp on the bed, falling asleep right after.

Meanwhile, Yasenia, Angel, and Kali were walking around the city, hand in hand. They spoke about random topics and commented on the wide streets and buildings, comparing their architecture to the one at home.

Kali suddenly asked, "Yasenia, do we have to have Sarah with us? I can feel her intentions toward you clearly, and she is very suspicious. I honestly don't like her presence. It doesn't feel natural."

Yasenia asked, intrigued, "She doesn't feel natural? What do you mean?"

Kali frowned and said, "Thanks to my bloodline awakening and constitution, my connection with the life attribute has greatly deepened. Therefore, I can tell how much a creature has lived if their strength is near my own. However, when I look at Sarah, it feels like she had been alive for just a little more than one month."

Yasenia was surprised, "That's not possible. No matter how talented, genius, or even if a senior reincarnated. It is impossible for someone to reach maturity, both in mind and body plus advancing to the eighth level of the Mental Nourishing realm, in just a month."

Kali sighed, "That's why I'm asking you if we have to continue being with her. She is too strange. The words she uses, her thought pattern, and her moral values. After speaking with her for two days, everything feels extremely foreign."

Yasenia thought for a moment and said, "I also feel the same. The questions she asks occasionally make her appear as if she had just recently interacted with the cultivation world. However, although her intentions are certainly not pure, she also has quite a pure heart. I don't want to leave her because she has some problems. I feel like I am leaving a defenseless child on the roadside because they showed a strange phenomenon."

Yasenia said, scratching her cheek, "I will let her be with us for a while longer. I want to teach her a bit of the cultivation world before we separate and each goes our way."

Yasenia then reassured her, "However, the moment she shows signs of being dangerous for us, we will leave her right away. What do you think, honey?"

Kali looked at Yasenia through her veil and sighed with a smile, "Sure, let's keep her beside us for a while more. I should have known that you would answer something like that. If you weren't like that, how would I have been able to become your wife?"

Angel said with a little whine, "But we won't be able to be intimate with her around...."

Yasenia smiled seductively and whispered to Angel. "Did my baby already forget what happened two nights ago~?" Angel's cheeks gained a rosy color.

Then, Yasenia's eyes flashed with pink light as her voice tingled Angel's hearing sense a little more. "Wouldn't you love being heard by her while I pound you silly~? Your moans spilling from the walls as she hears you scream my name. The sound of our flesh hitting together becoming strong enough for her to hear." Angel's face was becoming redder by the second.

Yasenia finished her by biting her ear softly. "Do you think I don't feel how tight you become when I have sex with you in front of the others? Your little fetish, I've known for a long time~."

Angel blushed crimson and almost fainted in embarrassment and arousal. The current Yasenia's seductiveness was so high that even the passerby that could not hear them felt aroused.

Kali, who was listening from the side, blushed almost as deeply as Angel. Yasenia looked at both of them and chuckled like a seductive spirit. "Come with me~."

Yasenia dragged them toward another inn, different from the one Sarah was currently resting in, and asked for an isolated room. After paying for it, Yasenia dragged the two fidgeting women toward it.

Chapter 246: Kali, Angel, and Yasenia. (1) (R-18)

They entered the room, and Yasenia placed down a sound-canceling and protective formation. She wanted to make sure that even if they were attacked in the middle of it, she would be able to react.

Angel saw that it wasn't the same inn as Sarah's, so she relaxed slightly. Even if she found it very arousing to go through what Yasenia described before, she wanted to prepare her heart somewhat.

However, this calm only lasted for a short moment as Yasenia's words made her heart go wild again.

Yasenia looked at Kali and smiled seductively, "Kali, my love. I know we still can't take the final step, but... Would you like to see Angel and me do it? If we can take this step, I'm sure we will be able to cross the last line soon~."

Both of them flushed--Angel from a mixture of excitement and embarrassment and Kali from pure embarrassment.

Kali felt her heart beating too fast, so she wanted to say no, but her disobedient fox tail was wagging too fast to be believable. Yasenia saw this, and her smile deepened.

Kali hid her face between her hands in embarrassment as her tail continued to wag.

Angel was also blushing, her thighs were rubbing each other, and her eyes told Yasenia that even if shyness was the main feeling, they had some kind of expectation within them. 'Good, both of them are positive about this. Let's start then~.'

After Yasenia was sure they were okay with it, she walked toward Angel. "Kali, if you feel even slight discomfort. Don't fear stopping us even if we are about to reach orgasm, okay? We are doing this for you."

Kali looked at Yasenia's serious golden-slit eyes that left no room for arguing, and she nodded, still feeling shy.

Yasenia smiled, satisfied, and turned toward the fidgeting Angel. Yasenia's tone deepened and weakened Angel's legs. "I'm going to make you scream in front of Kali until you are hoarse, Angel~."

Angel almost lost her leg strength because her heart was beating too fast.

Then, Yasenia picked up Angel, and they closed the distance between their mouths. Angel was too excited and ravenously devoured Yasenia's soft lips and tongue. "Mmm~, Yasenia~."

Yasenia could feel Angel's eagerness through their kiss, so she moved toward the middle of the room, where the bed was placed. It was somewhat small, so Yasenia stored it inside her ring without stopping her action with Angel.

Kali looked at their kiss attentively. She was shocked by Angel's eagerness. She thought that she would be calmer because of her soft personality, but Angel was kissing Yasenia as if she wanted to slurp everything inside the dragoness's mouth.

Then, the dragoness took out a bed big enough to let Kali sit and themselves do their thing. She gently placed Angel on the bed as they kissed, covering her with her tall and voluptuous body.

Even if Yasenia had some lust accumulated that she would love to vent inside Angel, Yasenia didn't plan to do it rough. She wanted to have their usual gentle session. This way, it would be harder to trigger Kali in any way, and she knew that Angel preferred gentle sessions over any other kind of kink.

Therefore, Yasenia began undressing Angel while whispering in a breathy and seductive voice. "My baby is such a good girl~. Tonight I will pamper you however you want~."

Her hands caressed Angel's body gently but using enough strength to let Angel feel her caresses. The hands were like the touch of a gentle goddess, yet as arousing as those from a seductive demoness.

Yasenia's voice and caresses made Angel limp and her core wet. Angel mewled while receiving this treatment. "I love you~."

Yasenia looked into Angel's watery blue eyes and smiled softly, filling Angel's vision with the gentle face of the dragoness. She kissed her one more time and finally took off both their garments.

Kali was seated on the edge of the bed, observing the tenderness in Yasenia's every movement, and remembering that she was also like this with her. She gulped in anticipation because of what was about to happen.

As Angel's clothes disappeared one by one, she could feel her body softening and muscles relaxing, leaving her whole body and soul at the mercy of her skillful lover.

After leaving Angel in her birthday suit, Yasenia took off her top, which was barely holding her pair of mountains, and let them fall on top of Angel's. The gravity made Yasenia's big breasts lay on top of Angel's, squishing them together in an arousing scenery. Yasenia continued praising and talking with Angel in soft whispers between their tender kisses, transforming Angel into a blob more than a human.

Then, her hand went down and reached Angel's vulva. She moved her long and slim fingers, caressing all those spots sensually that she knew far too well.

Angel began moaning through their kisses. "Ahn~ so good! Kiss mmm~ ah! Oh yes!"

Kali could see how Yasenia's fingers moved around in that area, how she moved her torso so that their breasts rubbed together, and how tenderly her other hand and kiss were. It was as if Angel was Yasenia's most precious and delicate treasure. The love Yasenia emanated while doing this made Kali want to change positions with Angel.

'Good, it is going as planned~.' Yasenia had never lost track of Kali, even when expertly melting Angel. She could clearly feel Kali's small change, and she welcomed it.

Under Yasenia's tender and pleasurable assault, Angel reached her first of many orgasms to come.

"Ah! I'm cumming!"

She loved saying it aloud because Yasenia would always hug her tightly as she came and stimulate her slightly further, extending the orgasm.

Kali saw how Yasenia was practically molding Angel to her whims with just her hand and gulped with a fire burning in her core. 'She is just too good at dealing with women's desires. Once in her hands, I don't think a single woman would be able to escape her pleasurable grasp.'

Moreover, Yasenia's scent was becoming thick and sweet smelling, arousing both of them further. Kali's new beast instincts were trying to take control of her body, telling her to jump on Yasenia and let the dragoness ravage her as she wanted. She wanted to become Yasenia's prey and be "eaten" by her.

Yasenia looked sideways at Kali, looking into each other eyes, and smiled. That seductive smile was so lethal that Kali almost couldn't resist giving herself to the dragoness.

Yasenia turned her attention toward blob-Angel and said, "Let's begin, baby. I will position you so that Kali can perfectly see, okay?"

Angel was so comfortable after her orgasm that she would agree to anything right now. Still, knowing what was about to happen, she could feel her uterus twitching with anticipation and her entrance opening and closing, wanting something to fill the void she felt down there.

Yasenia got completely naked, freeing her big dragon from its restrictions, causing Kali's eyes to gravitate toward that woman subduing weapon. Then, she placed Angel sideways, looking toward Kali, and lay behind her. Kali now had Angel's naked body before her, and Yasenia's taller one behind Angel's.

Even so, their size difference became clear when they lay side by side this way. Although Yasenia and Angel had their waist at the same level, Angel's head was at Yasenia's breast level.

If Yasenia embraced Angel right now, she would be able to bury Angel's head between her breasts as she pounded her from behind.

Kali then saw how Yasenia used one arm to lift the smaller woman's leg, opening her completely in front of Kali. Kali could see Angel's beautiful vagina firsthand. She had soft blonde hair on top, and her lower lips were plump and juicy.

Because Angel's legs were opened like that, she could see the pink insides dripping with fluids and the eager opening and closing entrance, clearly ready to welcome Yasenia.

Yasenia looked at Kali and saw that there were no problems. On the contrary, the tail-wagging fox eagerly looked at their private area without blinking, wanting to see what was about to happen. Yasenia fulfilled the desire of both her dears next.

Kali saw Yasenia move her waist and position her big penis just below Angel's entrance. She could now compare the girth and size more clearly. The circumference of the penis was big enough to cover Angel's vagina, making her wonder if that pleasurable and delicious-looking thing could enter a woman. However, she didn't have to wait long to know the answer.

Yasenia hugged Angel from behind, pinching her hard nipples softly, and used her tail to maintain her leg up. Then, she whispered to Angel to make her even more aroused. "Look how Kali is looking at us. Her eyes are locked onto your dripping pussy. She is eating you with her eyes."

Angel blushed, and her heart thumped strongly. Her body shivered with pleasure because of Yasenia's gentle pinch, and Kali saw Angel spurting a little bit of liquid and smearing Yasenia's rod with her glistening juice.

Kali licked her lips and gulped to moisten her dry throat.

Then, the fox saw and Angel felt Yasenia's penis opening her little hole with its wide head. The sight of the vaginal entrance slowly opening and going around the glans only aroused Kali more, as if her previous experiences were a lie. She wanted her own pussy to welcome that dragon rod.

Kali could even feel and hear Angel's hole eagerness as it clamped on Yasenia's penis strongly as Angel moaned with delight. "Yes! It is in!"

It wasn't only the entrance, the labia also spread with Yasenia's girth, making the little pink bell swell and poke out with arousal.

Kali gulped with a thumping heart, and a hot body as Yasenia's perfect penis disappeared inside Angel slowly. Then, when a quarter of the penis was left, Kali's heart almost jumped out of her chest after hearing Angel's loud moan. "Aah!"

She saw Yasenia stop, and her smile widened as Angel's pleasure-filled voice tickled Kali's ears. "Yasenia~ you are poking my entrance!"

Kali opened her eyes, surprised. "There is still a quarter left, and she is already on the cervix!?"

Kali looked into Yasenia's golden-pink eyes and saw her smile with a predatory glint that made her feel like prey but extremely aroused.

Yasenia spoke, looking at Kali and placing her mouth beside Angel's ear. It was as if she was talking to both of them simultaneously, "I'm going to begin, my love."

Then before any of the two could answer, Yasenia moved her waist back, her lower head caressing every fold of Angel's insides delightfully until her penis head almost poked out.

Then, under Kali's gaze and Angel's eager eyes, Yasenia moved her waist in a deep and fast thrust, crushing Angel's cervix. Angel's voice leaked, "Mmm~."

The dragoness took it out slowly again, letting Angel savor every inch of her penis, and penetrated with a deep and fast thrust one more time. "Ahn~."

Yasenia repeated these movements, sending Angel to the Pleasure realm with each thrust.

Angel moaned while looking at Kali with a face lost in pleasure. "Oh! Yasenia, ah! My heavens, so good! Oh! Yes!"

Kali subconsciously slipped a hand between her legs and began rubbing her core as Yasenia previously did. She was so aroused that the electric current she felt when she touched her little bell made her lean forward. "Ah~."

However, the current Kali didn't mind. She also began moaning as she looked at Yasenia fuck Angel with tenderness yet pleurably.

Yasenia massaged Angel's body and lowered her head to lick Angel's ear sensually, never losing eye contact with Kali.

Kali masturbated looking at them, imagining herself in Angel's position.

Not even five minutes later, Kali saw Angel's blue eyes roll up with pleasure as she shouted, "I'm cumming!"

Angel squirted, and Yasenia used her hand to rub Angel's clitoris, extending her orgasm and splashing fluids on their waist area. As she climaxed, Angel's insides spasmed, trying to milk the dragoness's rod.

The sensation was so pleasurable that Yasenia couldn't hold back her moan, filling their ears with her bone-softening voice. "Ahn~, baby, you are milking me!"

Kali saw Angel's toes curling and her hand grabbing the sheets as if she was trying not to fly away because of pleasure. Her vagina squirted, almost reaching Kali.

The visual stimulation was so high that Kali reached her orgasm and came, wetting her robes with her fluids.

Yasenia was almost there, but she held in her urges to pound Angel silly and stopped moving, letting her two dears come down from their orgasms.

Chapter 247: Kali, Angel, and Yasenia. (2) (R-18)

While waiting for them to return from their trip to Pleasure Heaven, she took the time to observe the twitching Kali, who still had her hand under her robes. A smile naturally formed on Yasenia's lips when she saw Kali's closed eyes as if savoring the moment. 'I'm glad she liked it. It seems that the only thing we have now to overcome is the retaliation of the Heart Demons when she feels me penetrating her. I'm sure she will have an adverse reaction no matter how much I prepare her, but I can lower that reaction if I go slowly.'

And even though Yasenia could think somewhat calmly, she was almost at her limits. Angel's insides were trembling and tightening on her penis and squeezing it as if they wanted to milk everything she could deliver. The feeling was honestly divine, and Yasenia was on the verge of cumming.

Still, Yasenia kept hugging Angel close from behind and resting her mouth besides her ear, licking it tenderly.

Angel felt surrounded by Yasenia because her tail, legs, and hands were hugging her close. Yasenia's soft body was covering her in ways she adored.

How much would Angel love to live inside her arms as she was right then? She felt her dear dragoness's soft body all around and had that thick, hot, pleasant, and twitching hardness filling her void.

After having sex so many times with Yasenia, Angel knew that right now, Yasenia wanted to ravage her. Her constricting nature, soft growls, and eager member told her so.

However, she also knew Yasenia was holding back. She knew how Yasenia always prioritizes them when making love. Angel would bet that right now, Yasenia was letting her and Kali come down from their orgasms so they could enjoy their lovemaking together.

These small details were what made Angel crazy with love for Yasenia. She always pampered them no matter the situation. Yasenia always tried to give them the best she could, no matter what they did together.

Angel turned her head and kissed Yasenia lovingly. Then, she said as she looked into the golden-pink slit eyes. "Move again, Yasenia. I'm ready."

Yasenia kissed her softly and smiled tenderly, "Wait a little bit more, Angel."

Yasenia looked at Kali and said with a voice that dripped with tenderness, "Come to my side, my love."

Kali was still blushing but moved near her nonetheless.

Yasenia changed positions as Kali approached. She lay on her back and let Angel rest on top of her. Like this, Angel lay on top of Yasenia with her big breasts as a pillow while Yasenia's penis penetrated her. Angel felt one of Yasenia's arms around her waist, securing her.

Meanwhile, Kali lay beside Yasenia, and the dragoness used her other arm to hug her close. Yasenia moved her tail in front of Kali's mouth and kissed her forehead. "I've already confirmed what I wanted. Let's now also have our own fun. I don't want to let you on the sides any longer. What do you say, honey?"

Kali answered, opening her mouth and putting the thick tail inside her mouth, looking at Yasenia shyly but with a gaze filled with love.

With Angel's weight on top of her, the vagina walls squeezing her penis pleasantly, and Kali's tongue licking her sensitive tail tip, Yasenia sighed in satisfaction and said softly, "I don't think I will be able to last long, so prepare for my release, okay, dears?"

Angel rubbed her nape on Yasenia's squishy breasts, and Kali rubbed her face on Yasenia's soft, sweet-smelling side breast.

Kali was still wearing robes, but Yasenia didn't mind and kissed her forehead one more time softly. Then, she moved her waist up and her tail in and out of Kali's mouth.

With this position, Yasenia's waist slapped Angel's little butt, and her hand holding Kali grabbed the base of her fox tail and squeezed tightly.

Even if it wasn't a sexual organ, Kali's tail base was sensitive because of the high number of nerves in that area. Yasenia used her knowledge and stimulated that area with her massage skills.

Both girls began moaning as Yasenia sent the two of them to heaven.

Yasenia herself was also feeling heavenly, and thanks to the previous round with Angel, she was close to orgasm. Just two minutes later, Yasenia began moving more aggressively, increasing the pleasure the three were feeling. Yasenia moaned as she felt her dam breaking and the liquid escaping through her sexual organs, "I'm cumming!"

Both girls' eyes became eager as they felt the members inflate and become hot. Then, the members twitched and spurted Yasenia's semen inside Angel's uterus and Kali's mouth.

Angel and Kali felt their nerves flooding with pleasure waves as electrifying currents assaulted their brain without pause.

""AAHHH!""

Both vaginas spasmed as they squirted like a broken faucet.

Yasenia's semen filled their meridians with her hot Yang energy and burned their body with pleasure, making their eyes roll up, their bodies straighten, and their hands and feet curl with extreme pleasure.

Yasenia felt extremely good whenever she filled her dears with her semen and moaned aloud as she came enough to fill Angel's uterus and Kali's belly with her abundant release.

Rope after rope filled Angel and Kali as Kali gulped deliriously and Angel blabbered with delight.

Yasenia stopped cumming after one minute, sighing with comfort. "Are you there, dears?"

But Kali nor Angel answered as they were still moaning, feeling the dragoness's precious hot fluids inside their bodies.

Yasenia chuckled slightly and took her long tail out of Kali's mouth to wrap them with it, absorbing that excess energy and allowing them to come down from the climax faster. She also kissed Kali to let her know that she was with her and massaged Angel's belly as if there was something Yasenia dearly wanted there.

Angel came back first and felt the tail and hand caressing her lovingly. The fingers were making circles tenderly on top of her uterus, and Angel felt a slight tightness in her throat, knowing why Yasenia was caressing that part. Angel placed her little hand on top of Yasenia's beautiful hand as she thought emotionally. 'I also want to give you a child, Yasenia. I really do.'

Yasenia felt Angel's thoughts through her actions and growled lovingly, transmitting those vibrations to Angel, who was on top of her. Angel closed her cervix and tightened her inner walls, preventing Yasenia's cum from escaping.

She wanted to feel the dragoness's warmth in her special place a little longer and keep her lower entrance filled with Yasenia's rod inside.

Kali also came back from her orgasm and felt Yasenia kissing her while lovingly growling, which melted her heart and body into a puddle. She could also feel her tail caressing her body and her hand fondling her butt.

Yasenia stopped kissing Kali and said, "Do my dears want to continue like this?"

Angel turned around, leaving Yasenia's member free, and sat on Yasenia's thighs with the penis resting on her belly. Kali looked at how Yasenia's erect and glistening weapon passed Angel's navel in length, looking extremely imposing. Angel said with shyness in her voice and glancing from time to time at Kali, "I-I want to d-do it like this."

Yasenia smirked and asked Kali, "Do you want to continue, honey?"

Kali also blushed but nodded nonetheless, she had felt heavenly until now, and she could go on without problems.

Therefore, Kali saw Angel lifting her waist until Yasenia's penis was below her dripping and beautiful vagina. Then, when Angel began lowering her waist, Yasenia's penis stretched Angel's entrance wide again, creating visual and physical pleasure for both present girls.

Angel let out a shaky breath and continued going down, placing her hands on Yasenia's soft yet somewhat firm belly until Yasenia pushed against her cervix.

Yasenia wound her tail around Angel's waist to help her not fall and said with a sensual tone, "Baby~ I want to enter your baby room~."

Angel's legs buckled with Yasenia's tone and demand, but thankfully the tail held her, avoiding forceful penetration. Kali looked at Yasenia with a beet-red face but gathered her courage and asked, "W-Wouldn't it be too painful? Y-you are too big to enter there, Yasenia."

Yasenia chuckled and looked at Kali, "How about you look at Angel's face and see what she thinks about it."

Kali looked over and saw Angel flushed with clear excitement but too shy to nod. Yasenia loved this part of Angel, 'Even after being together for so long, my baby still is shy when asking for more pleasure when we aren't in the middle of it.'

Looking at her face, Yasenia had her answer, so she used her arm to hug Kali closer and said, "Kali, Angel will feel too much pleasure now, so you will see a little wilder sex than what we did until now, okay? Don't get scared."

Kali looked at Yasenia, then at Angel, and nodded with anticipation. Yasenia looked at Angel and said, "Prepare yourself~."

Angel took a deep breath, and when she was about to nod, Yasenia untangled her tail and let her fall, simultaneously piercing upward with her waist. Angel felt the penis pushing against her cervix and opening it wide, stretching her insides. Pleasure currents went up from her uterus to her brain, and Angel shouted with pleasure. "Ahh!!"

Kali saw Angel glomp Yasenia's length completely until her expanded lower lips were kissing Yasenia's pelvis. Moreover, Angel's shout of pure pleasure made even her soul tremble with feelings of arousal for what was about to come.

Yasenia didn't let Angel rest as she moved Angel up and down with her tail, helping herself with precise and deep upward waist movements. Her penis moved inside the deepest part, sending Angel to Heaven.

Kali saw Angel's big breasts jumping lewdly as her face was completely loosened with even her tongue out. The look of pure ecstasy as the dragoness fucked her was deeply imprinted in Kali's brain.

At this moment, when Yasenia thrust up, Yasenia's penis head penetrated the cervix, and when she went down, Yasenia's wide penis head went back, almost dragging the cervix with it. When it popped out of the cervix, Yasenia thrust up again, piercing it again.

The feeling of having the cervix fucked was such that her pleasure nerves were overcharging, and her whole body was convulsing with pleasure. "AH! AH! AH! I'M GOING CRAZY!! OHHH!! YES!!!"

Angel was moaning without care for anything as Yasenia ravaged her insides, sending pure euphoria to her brain. Not even a minute in, Angel was already spraying on top of Yasenia.

Kali was looking at the pleasure-lost woman and wondering how it would feel to have sex this way. 'S-She looks as if she is going... W-Wow, she came again....'

Suddenly, Kali felt Yasenia's hand slip around her waist, below her robes, and onto her vagina, sending an electric shock to her head, "Ahn~!"

She then felt Yasenia's fingertip entering her tight vaginal entrance, going in and out, and the thumb caressing her clitoris. The movements of those fingers were precise, fast, and pleasurable.

Kali moaned loudly while looking at Angel bouncing up and down as Yasenia sent her two dears to heaven again and again and again.

Their session continued without incidents, with Yasenia cumming five more times inside Angel and two more times inside Kali's mouth, one of those times with her penis.

Chapter 248: Lovely bath and Dual Cultivators. (R-18)

Angel and Kali were now twitching on the bed, still conscious. Nevertheless, their mind was still savoring the delightful aftertaste of their session. Yasenia's yang energy flooded their meridians and made them feel like they were receiving a full body massage. Her flavor was still in their mouth, and her scent filled the room, creating an enticing atmosphere.

Yasenia looked at both of them tenderly and happy, gladdened that nothing went wrong and that she could accustom Kali even more to herself. 'We've beat our record of letting her ingest my semen three times~, and I can feel that if we force it a little, honey would be able to drink one more release.'

Yasenia caressed Kali's head and played with her ears softly. 'But I'm satisfied with our current progress, no reason to force things. Seeing her happy face is enough.'

Then, the dragoness picked both of them up in a double princess hug, using her tail so that they wouldn't lose balance, and carried them to the private bathroom area. They both were groggy with pleasure but aware, so Yasenia asked Kali tenderly. "Honey, can I take off your robes to bathe you together with Angel? Or do you want me to bathe you after her?"

Even if this session made her closer to Angel, she still was averse to people other than Yasenia seeing her body. Therefore, she said with a slightly hoarse voice from moaning. "I prefer to do it after if it isn't too much of a bother."

Yasenia kissed her forehead and said, "Of course not. Wait for me until I bathe Angel, and I will bathe you, okay?"

Kali nodded with a smile as Yasenia placed her back onto the bed.

After making sure Kali was comfortable, Yasenia entered the bath together with the clingy Angel and bathed her with soap and love, melting her little baby with her care. Angel felt like floating on a cloud with all of Yasenia's love and mewled happily, "So comfy~."

Yasenia was currently cleaning her legs and smiled, kissing Angel on her thigh, "If you want anything more, tell me." Angel nodded while looking at Yasenia's face with her cute and watery big blue eyes.

After bathing Angel for 15 minutes, she dressed Angel up and returned to the room. She laid her on the bed and turned to pick up her little fox.

However, Kali stood up with wobbly legs, trying to move on her own. She was somewhat speechless as she thought, 'My heavens, I can't feel my legs!' The fox has orgasmed so many times that her lower part felt weak.

Yasenia laughed at her current state, receiving a side eye from Kali. "Is it that hard to walk, my love?"

Kali rolled her green eyes and answered, "What do you think?"

Yasenia chuckled again and approached her, sweeping Kali off her feet and carrying her in a princess hug toward the bath.

Yasenia was still naked, but Kali just smiled and hugged Yasenia's neck, looking at Yasenia's divine face and attractive golden slit eyes. "You are so beautiful, Yasenia. Every time we are intimate, it feels like a dream. Something like, "How could a woman like her be fancy of me?" Of course, I know it isn't, but it really feels surreal."

Yasenia placed Kali on a chair that was in the bathroom and disrobed her slowly. "I'm happy that you feel that way, Kali. That only means that you are very happy, and that's more than enough for me."

Kali listened to her and didn't complain as Yasenia took off everything she wore.

After getting her naked, Yasenia stood up and observed Kali's body, sighing a little sadly. "I hope we can heal you soon, honey. I'm sure you will feel much better that way."

Kali stood up and moved forward gently, falling between Yasenia's arms. Their naked bodies pressed together as Kali rested her head on Yasenia's shoulder, pressing their naked bodies together.

Yasenia looked down at Kali with a tender smile and hugged her back, closing their distance to zero, letting Kali feel her everything.

Kali closed her eyes and sensed Yasenia's penis pressing against her belly and Yasenia's big breasts on her shoulders. She only felt bliss. The initial instinctual rejection was gone, completely. Kali opened her green eyes and looked up into those golden slit eyes. "Let's take it slow, Yasenia. I'm honestly not in a hurry... Lately, I've come to realize that if you keep looking at me and loving me, I won't care about my scars that much. Moreover, I rather create the pill myself. Since you do not dislike my body, and I'm caring less and less about it, I want to get rid of these scars with my own strength."

Yasenia felt delighted and showed it by lifting Kali by the butt and spinning around. Kali shouted with surprise as she was raised and looked down.

Now Yasenia was at her breast level, looking up at her with a smile and spinning around the bath area. Kali laughed and kissed Yasenia's forehead.

She didn't mind the rod that was touching her vagina. If there was no penetration, she was sure the demons wouldn't be able to sway her heart even in the slightest.

Her legs went around Yasenia's slim waist and let Yasenia carry her as she wanted, a smile never leaving her scarred lips.

Yasenia carried both of them inside the water-filled bath. Then, she leaned on the edge letting Kali rest on top of her. However, Yasenia was still at breast level, licking Kali's nipple lightly while growling comfortably. Moreover, she felt her penis head touching Kali's soft lower lips, and her tail was coiling around Kali's fox tail.

Kali also felt all this and sighed with comfort, moving her waist to caress Yasenia's hardness with her lower lips. It was their first time doing something like this. It was much more intimate than anything they did until now, yet it came to them naturally. Their breathing became ragged, their eyes locked passionately, and their bodies moved in sync.

Even if the stimulation was light compared to actual penetration, it was enough to carry both of them up to the orgasm. Yasenia let the sensations build up while she sucked on Kali's breasts. Kali caressed Yasenia's head as she moved her waist while panting and moaning.

After 10 minutes of this light stimulation, Yasenia managed to get over the edge and cum. To Yasenia's surprise, Kali lowered herself fast and glomped the member underwater.

Yasenia's eyes rolled as she felt Kali's throat welcoming her rod and came tons.

Thanks to Yasenia's release and the rubbing on her vagina, Kali also reached the climax, and the pleasurable electric currents assaulted her body.

Yasenia lifted Kali after she stopped cumming and began licking her all over her face with golden-pink eyes and a lovely growling.

Kali subconsciously answered with her own licks and nibbles, making cute sounds with her throat.

It was a strange exchange of affection but filled both of them with deep love and comfort to a soul level.

Yasenia then began washing Kali, hugging her from behind without stopping her now slow licks on her nape and head.

Kali left her body in the dragoness's care and received Yasenia's affection. Her heart felt as if it was dipped in a honey jar.

After their lovely bath, Kali and Yasenia cleaned their robes and went out neatly.

Angel was still lying on the bed, fully relaxed and wearing her robes.

After she saw the two of them come out hand in hand, their bodies hitting together from time to time, Angel smiled and stood up, running toward them. Yasenia hugged her, buried her face between her breasts, and said, "How are you feeling, baby?"

Angel smiled and said, "Perfect~. My Yasenium is recharged to the max!"

Kali and Yasenia laughed, and Kali said, "Angel is right. You've recharged our Yasenium to the max~."

Angel looked at Kali and felt that something was different, as if... She was a little more free-spirited. Of course, our baby was happy that the people her dear dragoness loved were happy and asked, "Kali, did this session help you?"

Kali hugged Angel with gratitude; she couldn't imagine herself helping another person like Angel did. Therefore, she said, "Yes, a lot. Thank you, little Angel."

Angel smelled an extremely relaxing fragrance from Kali and said with shyness, "Don't worry! I-I actually like these kinds of sessions. Y-You know... B-being watched and things like that."

Kali didn't mind; even if Angel liked them, it was still something Angel was willing to do to help her, so Kali's gratefulness remained the same. A helping hand was a helping hand whether the helper liked helping or not.

Yasenia looked at their interaction with soft eyes. Then, she said, changing her tone to her usual charming one, "Let's go to beat some monoliths~, shall we?"

They nodded, and each grabbed one of Yasenia's arms between their breasts, making Yasenia lift her straight, beautiful eyebrow. However, she didn't say anything, and the three of them went out, completely refreshed.

When they were walking on the street, a group of people approached. Yasenia observed them and groaned with annoyance, "Dual Cultivators...."

Yasenia sniffed the air and understood how they were spotted so quickly. 'Sigh, Kali and Angel haven't digested my Yang energy yet... They must have felt it with their heightened senses.'

Angel and Kali understood why Yasenia was acting that way. Every time they went outside the Academy, dual cultivators that came their way in the middle of the street always tried to hit on Yasenia.

Kali asked with a cold tone, "Are they bothering you too much, Yasenia? We can always send them going with a little bit of intimidation. Even if they are not doing something wrong, you don't have to act nicely each time they bother you."

Angel nodded, "Right, right. Can't they stop asking for my Yasenia? I'm starting to hate dual cultivators! Always so persistent and bothersome!"

Yasenia laughed and patted them with her long tail, "Don't be that aggressive, dears. It is always better to make an ally than an enemy if we don't have strong backing. Do not attack unless they attack us or are a lethal threat to us, understood?"

They both looked at Yasenia and nodded, ""Understood!""

Meanwhile, the woman at the helm was looking with stars in her eyes between Angel's and Kali's bellies.

She was extremely beautiful, but the slight greed she was exuding made Yasenia ignore that beauty as if it didn't even exist.

Yasenia always looked at the heart first and then at appearances. Although appearances were important, Yasenia could easily ignore them if the person was not worth it or see past them if the person was a hidden gem covered by an ugly exterior.

The beautiful woman recovered her gaze from Angel and Kali. Then, she looked at Yasenia with a charming smile and asked, trying to entice Yasenia. "Good morning to the three of you. Could you please answer me a small question~?"

Yasenia's face remained calm with a natural yet seductive smile, but her eyes weren't smiling at all. Even if she didn't mind taking some minutes to shoo them, the dragoness didn't take it well when they tried to use charm skill on her.

However, even if she had already guessed how this could end, she decided to give the woman a try. "Go ahead, beautiful senior sister. What do you want to ask me?"

The woman found Yasenia's voice extremely pleasant to the ears as if someone was caressing her hearing sense with a mellow melody. Her excitement grew slightly, 'If I could have this person, I would become extremely happy! She is like a walking treasure.'

She asked Yasenia, using seductive body language amplified by some of her skills. "Are you the person who injected such pure Yang energy into them? I would love to have a taste of it~."

Angel and Kali almost laughed aloud in ridicule.

After looking at Yasenia daily, these "Charming" gestures were extremely unnatural and forced in their eyes. "Trying to act seductive before Yasenia? Fool! I haven't seen someone as eager to embarrass themselves as you!"

Yasenia's eyes didn't even register these gestures as she answered with a smile, "Senior sister, I've already been scouted by the most powerful Dual Cultivation sects, but I rejected them all. I'm from the Rising Talent Academy, one of the major powers, and I don't plan to leave it anytime soon. Can we each go our way?"

Even if Yasenia was polite, the woman was slightly offended at Yasenia's direct refusal. 'Doesn't she see that I'm trying to flirt with her? I'm the most beautiful woman in my sect! How could someone ignore me?'

Chapter 249: A Cultivator's Inflated Ego. Avoiding Trouble.

The woman looked at Yasenia with doubt. 'Does she have no urges? It should be impossible since she can release such a powerful Yang energy.'

When she was about to try seducing Yasenia again, one in her group recognized the dragoness. He had participated in the tournament and was even disqualified by her. Therefore, his impression of Yasenia was quite strong. Thankfully, he had some connections within his sect and managed to get an entry jade.

After recognizing her, he shouted, pointing at Yasenia. "You are the Heavenly Dragoness!"

The woman was annoyed at his interruption, 'What does it matter who she is? Can't you see that I'm trying to charm this girl? If you interrupt me, the effects of my charming skills will decrease!'

Yasenia saw the man pointing at her face with his finger and frowned. She didn't like his attitude. Furthermore, she wasn't used to this exaggerated title yet, making her feel even more uncomfortable. Nonetheless, Yasenia hid everything under a calm and naturally seductive smile. "That is how they call me recently, yes. Nice to meet you. I'm Yasenia."

"Wow! I didn't expect to meet you here. You've become very popular among Dual Cultivation members."

Yasenia laughed calmly, "Well, your beautiful senior sister doesn't recognize me."

"That's because Sister Qin is always-"

Bang!

A beautiful fan slapped the man flying. The gesture carried elegance and charm at the same level, making people breathless. "Why are you slandering me? Are you trying to make me look bad before Yasenia?"

Internally, she was thinking. 'This dog! He almost painted me as a slut.'

Sister Qin didn't understand why her companion sounded so respectful and was even willing to paint her in a bad light. He had always been like an obedient dog, following her around and wagging his tail whenever she asked.

He had a good physique and Yang energy quality, so she didn't mind letting him follow her.

Nonetheless, he was now acting so humble before this new woman! 'He can forget bedding me in the future, asshole!'

This Sister Qin wasn't from the Sky Continent but the northern Black Tortoise Continent, so the news they received from the Central Continent were close to none. Between the five continents, there was a clear hierarchy. The continents in the north, west, south, and east not only had lesser quality cultivators, but their energy and treasure quality was also lower than the Sky Continent's.

Moreover, crossing the sea between continents was hard for those under the Transcendence Realm, making them even more isolated.

Not to mention that being the most beautiful woman in a Dual Cultivation sect increased her ego. Until now, not many had rejected her advances, and those that did were because of sect rules. Sister Qin could confidently say that she had never been rejected.

When walking, she spotted Yaseenia since she was quite hard to miss. Her tall stature made her stand out, and her voluptuous body made her even harder to overlook. The divine facial features and the seductive aura she carried with her just by walking were enough to make people bump into each other wherever she walked.

It was the first time Sister Qin became dazed looking at another woman's beauty. She didn't think that she was inferior to any woman in her age bracket, but she was proven wrong by this beast-human woman.

Then, by pure luck, she felt the potent Yang energy radiating from Kali's and Angel's bodies. The purity of it made even her heart skip a beat. She could easily deduce that Yaseenia was the one that inserted it.

And for the first time, she wanted someone. Sister Qin wouldn't even mind leaving her current partners and devoting herself to Yaseenia. However, her innate pride wouldn't allow sharing this walking treasure. That's why right now, she was trying to charm Yaseenia.

When she turned and was about to speak with the woman that made her feel interested for the first time, the man stood up, not minding the hit from her Fan, and said. "Sister Qin, let's go. You won't be able to catch her. She already has a harem and, as seniors say, her talent is the best in the last 100 000 thousand years. Even before that, people question if someone at her level had existed."

The woman was first angered at his continuous interruptions, but the longer she listened, the wider her beautiful apricot eyes opened. 'How could it be this exaggerated? That must be something they made up!'

Sister Qin wasn't convinced, 'How could a younger woman overcome me by so much? Even if I admit that her beauty is superior. How could her talent also be higher than mine? I refuse to believe it!'

The woman looked at Yaseenia and smiled, activating a skill. Her smile and charm were enhanced so much that it made the color around her fade, only leaving her countenance in the spectator's eyes. Her voice followed as if someone was caressing them, "Impressive. I would love to exchange pointers with the 'Heavenly Dragoness.' Moreover, we could bathe together after sparring and have some alone time~. What do you say, Yaseenia?"

Yaseenia looked at her for a moment and then looked at Kali and Angel. She saw that they were completely normal, unaffected by the powerful skill.

"Are both of you okay? Do you feel attracted to her?" Yaseenia's voice was soft as she asked Angel and Kali, but it had some dangerous undertones that no one could catch.

Angel mocked her and said, "If that is a skill that makes her more attractive, then your presence alone is more powerful than that."

Kali said shortly, "Useless tricks."

Sister Qin was internally surprised at the blatant disregard, but she didn't stop her skill and patiently waited for Yaseia's answer. The longer she kept this skill going, the more it would affect her objective, even if that person wasn't looking at her.

Yaseia's hidden burst was pacified after listening to her dears' answers. Since she was losing her patience, Yaseia looked back at Sister Qin and said, "Senior sister, I don't want to become your enemy. How about we each go our ways? You are an experienced, beautiful, and talented woman. I'm sure you can let go without escalating things until there is no turning point."

The woman smiled but internally was sneering, 'See? She is afraid of me. How can it be real? If she was as strong as she is portrayed to be, she would have been more forward in her approach.'

But even if Yaseia did that, Sister Qin would have found another reason to convince herself of her lies. Therefore, no matter how Yaseia tackled the problem, it would have ended the same.

Yaseia saw that the woman's gaze had changed to disdain from her previous lustful and greedy one and sighed. "Senior sister, let's have the spar and get done with it. Let's go to the coliseum that is nearby."

Yaseia hadn't gone there yet, so she was curious. She could also deal with this annoying woman there. The woman said, maintaining her appearance, "Oh? You've changed your mind that fast? I thought you wanted each of us to go our ways?"

Yaseia smiled and said, her tone light as if speaking of the weather. "No matter what I do, say, or act, I will end up offending you. So I better make you disappear for good, right?"

Although Yaseia's smile hadn't changed much, the feeling was extremely cold, making people shiver. The man hastily grabbed the woman's arm and said with extreme seriousness, "Senior Sister Qin, let's go. You aren't her opponent! I know you are extremely talented, but that is compared with other normal cultivators. Yaseia is a monster, even among the gifted people."

The woman saw the man's seriousness and began doubting her own thoughts. 'Is she really that overwhelming? I can't believe it! Moreover...' The woman said with a slightly cold voice, "She just threatened to kill me. Do you think I would run away from such blatant provocation?"

Yaseia mockingly laughed before anyone answered, "You were already not believing a word from your companion and wanting to challenge me to prove your inflated ego. Do you really think I did this because I like to? Think carefully. Which level-six cultivator would challenge a half-step? They must either be extremely confident or extremely stupid. Now, which one do you think I'm?"

The woman was about to answer, but Yaseia lifted her hand, stopping her. "You know what? I didn't want to trample your ego, but let's do it like this. If you can resist a punch from me without being blasted flying more than 100 meters, you win, and I will do whatever you want. I don't even want to lose my time going to the coliseum with you."

The woman started becoming scared, 'How can she be so confident!?'

Although her brain was filled with ego, she wasn't stupid. Therefore, she said, "No need, junior sister, each will go their way and get done with it."

The woman thought, 'I will first investigate and come back for her when I'm sure I can win. If I find out I can win, I will just get her by force and make her my little pet~.'

Yasenia was surprised when the woman decided to back down and said, "Good. I hope you don't come back with bad intentions in the future."

The woman looked at Yasenia one last time and left with her group.

After Yasenia saw them leaving, she sighed. "I hope she doesn't come back. I really don't want to deal with everything that can come with it."

Angel asked Yasenia innocently, "Why didn't you kill her? Didn't she say the same things as that Lui Yi?"

Yasenia said, "She did, but she didn't use forceful methods and didn't accept my battle offer or the bet to receive my punch. If she had accepted, I would have certainly killed her or let her injured enough that she doesn't bother us for the rest of our three months here."

Angel frowned, "But I didn't like her gaze when she left."

Yasenia kissed Angel's forehead slowly to relieve her anxiousness. "Don't worry. I've also sensed her nasty gaze. But she isn't someone stupid. Once she understands my strength, she will give up. We aren't going to see her again."

Kali snorted and protested jokingly, "Yasenia, why are you so fragrant, ah? So many bees and butterflies fly around you. It is starting to become annoying."

"Are you already regretting falling in my hands~? It is too late to escape, honey~." Yasenia laughed and guided them to investigate the monoliths.

They spoke about random things until the time to wake Sarah up came. They went toward her room and opened it.

Yasenia entered after knocking on the door and saw that Sarah was still asleep. The system didn't alert Sarah, wanting to see what will they speak about or what will they do. It wanted to gather information to help Sarah with the contest.

However, Yasenia, who thought that there was an entity possessing Sarah, was careful and didn't do anything strange. She sat on the bed and whispered gently, "Sarah dear, wake up."

With zero care or awareness of her surroundings, Sarah mumbled, "Five more minutes~."

Yasenia sighed and leaned over her, placing her mouth beside her ear. Her body naturally rested on Sarah's as her hot breath tickled her ear. "Sarah~ If you don't wake up, I'm going to do bad things to you~."

Sarah instantly woke up when Yasenia leaned over. She was startled that someone had come so close to her, but after smelling that sweet floral fragrance, she realized that the intruder was Yasenia. Her heart thumped, and after hearing her sentence, it beat even faster. 'S-Should I keep laying down? I-I want to receive Yasenia's punishment ahh~!"

Yasenia saw her face blushing and instantly knew what Sara was thinking. She chuckled lowly and said, "Since it is like that...."

Yasenia tickled Sarah expertly. Sarah burst into laughter. "Stop! Stop! Hahaha, I will get up! I will get up! Stop! Hahaha. Mercyyy~!"

Yasenia stopped and smirked, "Let's go; we've already decided the route."

Chapter 250: Protect The King and the Queen!

After waking up Sarah, they all went toward one of the biggest monoliths. It was almost twenty meters tall with a width of eight meters. Its color was similar to the others, being grey. The formation lines across its length were complex and glowing with a yellowish light.

Sarah asked, "Is this the first Monolith you chose? The aura it gives is incomparable to the others."

Yasenia nodded, "Yes, we've already created a path we want to try."

Then, she reread the challenge for Sarah, "Pay attention, Sarah. The King and Queen are returning from their diplomacy talk; protect them until you reach the Empire. If they are completely untouched during the whole escorting mission, you will be able to choose an artifact from the Grand Treasury. Time will be slower inside. The ratio is two hours to one minute. Completion rewards are: 1500 Trial Points for the Heaven Gate, 1000 Trial Points for the Earth Gate, 400 Trial Points for the Mortal Gate, and 150 Trial Points for the Waste Gate."

Sarah exclaimed, "So many points! Why is it so different from the first Monolith?"

Yasenia looked at her and said, "Probably this one is much harder. The first Monolith was about killing a lot of low-level cultivators; it was not very hard, to be honest. Most cultivators would be able to overcome it. It tested the challenger's endurance and ability to kill armies."

Yasenia turned to look at the Monolith and explained. "In this one, we are protecting someone, so the Queen and King are probably very weak. Moreover, there must be a lot of instances where the King and Queen die before you can even react. My advice is not to lose focus and be careful even with your allies."

Sarah and the others nodded, and they entered the Monolith.

Yasenia felt her body being sucked and landing on something soft. Then, she opened her eyes inside a carriage.

In front of her, a middle-aged man and woman sat. Their faces were stern, and their facial features attractive. Their hair was dark, the same as their eyes.

Yasenia was about to look outside the window when her left ear twitched. Her tail moved extremely fast beside the Queen's head, Cling! Only for an arrow to hit it right in the next moment.

Yasenia approached them and said aloud, "My King, my Queen, please do not move."

Her tone was calm and shooting, but she was internally cursing. 'It doesn't even give you time to look around. That arrow would have cost me the artifact....'

Yasenia waited for ten seconds and didn't see anything more coming her way. So she approached one window and looked around. Looking around, she saw five guards, a carriage driver, and two archers on top of the carriage. "Have any of you spotted something?"

One of the guards answered, "Nothing strange, Guard Captain."

Yasenia thought for a moment and then shouted angrily. "Nothing strange!? There was an arrow that flew inside the carriage to hurt our Queen and King! All of you, stop being lazy fucks, or I will kill you myself!"

Yasenia observed their reaction. She saw they became nervous because of her scolding, but nothing more than that. She went outside and looked at the two archers' faces. Then, she asked curtly, "Did you see anything?"

One of the archers stuttered, "W-We haven't. We promise to be more aware from now on, Guard Captain."

"Useless!" Yasenia scolded again.

They were all thinking, 'Our Guard Captain is such a beauty, but when she is angry, she is too scary.'

Yasenia saw that the archer that didn't answer was somewhat indifferent. But Yasenia didn't say anything more. She just snorted and returned to the Queens and Kings side. 'Now I will have to see how skilled these assassins are... I wonder how they compare with those my maids dealt with in the past.'

Five minutes later, one guard exclaimed, "I see movement to the right!"

Yasenia shouted, "All of you move to the right and protect our Monarchs!"

The Queen and King looked at Yasenia with praise, and the King said with a generous tone, "You are doing an excellent job, Guard Captain. We will reward you handsomely when we return!"

Yasenia nodded but didn't say anything more. While the guards dealt with the danger on the right, she kept an eye on the left. Of course, she didn't ignore the ongoing battle.

The guards fought against black-clothed people with daggers. Their strength was quite similar, but the number of assassins doubled the guards.

Yasenia used [Shooting Star] to help them from a distance, managing to kill all of them easily. She observed the injuries on the guards and was relieved to see that there wasn't anything too serious. 'They aren't weaklings compared to our enemies. That's good. But, this only means that there will be much more assassins than guards. Moreover, extremely strong assassins that can overwhelm the guards will also appear. This is a challenge, after all. '

Yasenia saw a fork in front of them with lush vegetation in the middle. It was a prime position to hide an ambush. Therefore, Yasenia gathered Sun energy and made a claw with her hand. "[Sun Dragon Claw]."

A phantom golden dragon claw appeared behind her as she slashed in that direction. With Yasenia's motion, the giant dragon claw slammed onto the vegetation, consuming everything with golden flames. Yasenia didn't see corpses, and she thought. 'Strange, there aren't any ambushers in that area. I could swear that I felt something in that direction. Maybe there is a better place to hide?'

Well, our dear Yasenia was wrong this time since she had completely incinerated a group of five strong assassins. This five were stronger than the guards, so the challenger would have had to get out of the carriage to help them. Then, one of the five would wait as the other four gathered attention to sneak around and attack the Queen and King.

Yasenia asked the driver, "Do you have a map of the route? I want to see our route."

The driver asked back, "Why do you want to know, Guard Captain? I'm the one driving the carriage, hahaha."

Yasenia looked at the driver emotionlessly and said, her tone becoming menacing. "In case you die, someone should guide the carriage to our Empire. Give me the map when I ask for it, driver."

The driver laughed, "Don't worry, Guard Captain, I'm not that weak to die by a stray arrow! I'm at the beginning of the Mental Nourishing realm, after all."

Yasenia observed the guy, and to her surprise, the driver was in the half-step of the Mental Nourishing realm, not the beginning.

Yasenia was confused, 'Huh? Why did he just lie so blatantly?'

What Yasenia didn't know was that the carriage driver was using a high-level concealing skill, but Yasenia's eyes had completely seen through it. To Yasenia, it appeared as if it didn't even exist, so she was confused.

Yasenia observed the driver for five more seconds and returned to the carriage. Then, she approached the Queen's and King's sides.

She got close enough to put her head between them, whispering in their ear. "My Queen, where did you hire that carriage driver?"

Their stern faces dissipated with the wind as the attractive dragoness leaned near them.

The Queen and King were only in the Dantian and Meridian Opening realm, so they became very flustered with Yasenia so close.

The Queen's heart rate accelerated, and her cheeks also blushed. 'My heavens, the Guard Captain's voice is so attractive.'

The King wasn't much better as his pants were getting tight.

The Queen answered, stuttering, "U-Unlike you, W-We hired him before going toward the enemy kingdom. So he has been accompanying us since the beginning of our travel."

Yasenia saw their state, so she deepened her tone to tickle the Queen's hearing sense, even more. "Which cultivation level did he say he had, my Queen~?"

The Queen gulped and answered without hesitation, "H-He said he was at the beginning of the Mental Nourishing Realm."

Yasenia leaned back again and flashed a charming smile toward the Queen, "Thank you for answering, my Queen."

The Queen completely blushed, and the King was too enchanted by Yasenia to react to his wife becoming a mosquito coil.

The King said, "Guard Captain, I see that you have a lot of potential. After returning to the Empire, you should come to my study room to speak about the military arrangements."

The Queen frowned, "This bastard wants to steal my Guard Captain!"

Yasenia saw the Queen's frowning, but she didn't care what would happen after reaching the Empire. Therefore, she answered, "The orders from the monarch are not for someone like me to go against. I will appear whenever and wherever the King summons me."

The King nodded, satisfied, but the Queen frowned even further. Her tone was cold as she ordered, "I also have something to speak to you, Guard Captain; come to my chambers before speaking with him as I will take less time."

Yasenia looked into the Queen's eyes and smiled charmingly, "Your orders are for me to follow, my Queen. I must revise our route, so please excuse me."

Then, without letting them speak anymore, Yasenia went outside the carriage again and sat beside the carriage driver. The driver looked at Yasenia questioningly.

Yasenia smirked and said, "I've gotten permission from the Queen and King to get the route map. Give it to me."

The man shrugged and took out a sheet, giving it to Yasenia. Yasenia saw that it was empty and frowned, 'What is going on? Is something wrong with this Monolith? I mean, I know this man is a spy but isn't he too incompetent?'

Poor Yasenia was almost immune to illusory magic because of her Spiritual Breakthrough and mental strength. Therefore, the Illusion map made to deceive the challenger didn't even work on her!

Yasenia looked at the carriage driver with a strange face. 'What should I do with this defective spy?'

She was about to say something when the guards revealed another ambush. Yasenia instantly moved inside the carriage and used her sword to cover the Queen and King, using it as a giant shield. Right after that, a barrage of arrows hit [Draconic Heart]. "Stay close to me until they are out of arrows."

The Queen and King took advantage of the situation and got so close that the only thing left for them to do was to place their arms around Yasenia's waist! Yasenia's eyebrow twitched but didn't say anything. 'Well, it was me who provoked them; I'm not going to complain about self-caused harm....'

Like in the previous battle, she used [Shooting Star] again to support the guards easily and efficiently. The white stars repeatedly shot from the carriage, creating explosions at the right moment and hitting some assassins squarely on their chests.

The assassins were in the early to mid-level of the Mental Nourishing realm, the same as the guards, so her attacks instantly killed them whenever they landed. Yasenia felt something speeding from the other side and lashed her tail toward it.

Clang!

Her tail hit a dagger coated with a purplish substance; Yasenia observed it with her sharp gaze as it flew away because of her tail ñash. 'Poison. Hmm, Angel and Kali should have it quite easy in this challenge as long as they see the trap named 'Carriage Driver.' Now, what should I do with him? I have to find the real map first.'

After getting rid of the last assassin, Yasenia looked again at the pair of monarchs that were discreetly pushing each other to be closer to her and asked, "My Queen, My King, do you have the map of the surrounding area and our Empire?"

The Queen hastily answered, trying to be faster than the King. "We do! Do you need it, my brave and beautiful Guard Captain?"

Yasenia sweated a little at her title, 'If I were the real Guard Captain, I think I could have planted a grassland on top of the King's head.'

However, Yasenia smiled tenderly and said, "Yes, my Queen. It would be useful."

The Queen blushed and was about to take it out when she saw the King already giving it to Yasenia. "Here you go. Serve us well, Guard Captain, and I will surely reward you."

The Queen gritted her teeth, 'This old bastard!'

The King gave her a side eye, 'Hmph, trying to compete with us in wooing females? You are too incompetent, my wife!'

Yasenia took it and said with another smile, "Thank you, my King."

Then, she went on top of the carriage and spread the map while looking around.

Yasenia knew how to read maps since it was a basic survival skill that her mother, Tatyana, had taught her.

As she expected, they were actually slowly going further and further away from the Empire. Yasenia turned toward the unaware carriage driver and sighed, 'What a cheeky asshole. Gaining trust when going to their Kingdom, getting rid of the enemy Monarch when coming back from it. But before I kill this one, let's try to find other snakes among the soldiers here.'

Yasenia shouted, "Stop the carriage!"
