

HEAVEN, EARTH, ME

Chapter 4

After all the events disappeared from the sky, silence returned to the backyard. Every single person attending couldn't help but cry with happiness! On the other side, Yasenia was still looking at the sky in a trance.

"Waah sob our little miss is incredible!" Said one maid crying emotionally.

"The little miss is incredible as expected, having so many things happening in her awakening! Incredible, as expected of the daughter of Lady Tatyana," Said one serious guard nodding to himself.

"Thankfully, Lady Tatyana was insightful and created this formation to protect from prying eyes." Said one maid patting her chest with a relieved expression

"Hmph! Let's see who dares touch our little miss. This maid will make them taste hell while they are alive!" Said a maid that was near the previous one with a vicious expression.

Hearing the voices behind her, Yasenia awoke from her trance and turned around. When she found Tatyana, she smiled, showing her canines and doing a little V with her fingers, "Mommy, Yassy didn't let you down!"

Tatyana almost melted into a puddle from cuteness overload. She went to her side and picked her up. Yasenia, tired from the ceremony, fell asleep in her embrace with a cute smile on her face and with her tail curled around her mother's waist.

When the people saw that the little miss had fallen asleep, they calmed down and showed a serious expression. Then Tatyana said, "I don't think this is necessary, but you all are forbidden from speaking about this. If possible, never speak again about this to avoid accidental leaks. If someone outside is too curious for their own good, you can act first and then inform me. Do not let someone escape because you didn't know whether I would permit something or not. Remember that you are my trusted people here. I want clarity before anything else."

They softly answered, not to wake up their little miss, "As the Lady says."

"Start trying to find the cultivation method named [Convergence of stars]."

Then she thought to herself, 'With the two cultivation methods that I found in the ancient text named [Convergence of the Sun] and [Convergence of the Moon], I will be able to create a special cultivation technique for my little darling. There is one problem, though.'

She looked at Yassenia sleeping cutely in her arms, and a headache appeared. Her constitution only has one drawback: her lust and sexual stamina will be too high for having single partners.

She looked gloomily at her daughter and then sighed... Then she mumbled, "Well, it won't be my first time being a part of a harem. But I really wanted to have her for myself."

She couldn't help biting her lips. "The only thing that I can do is make the biggest space inside her heart for myself... Well, she is still extremely little. I have more than 15 years until these effects show and affect her thought process."

She thought of at least limiting her future wives. "I should also find her a good dual cultivation technique too. With it, she will be able to strengthen her harem with her and bring them to places with higher cultivation realms in the future....”

She then started walking towards the house slowly. Then she stopped and asked, “What if she likes males?”

Tatyana exclaimed in her heart, ‘Absolutely not! I can barely accept other females; I won’t let her have male members in her harem! ‘

Then she looked at the setting sun and sighed again. “Well, let’s see how she develops. As I said, she is still very little. I really want to see the fully-grown Yassenia fufufu~.”

Four years later

A charming little girl that looked 9-year-old, but was only five years old, could be seen running around an obstacle course. If they were normal humans, they wouldn’t be able to make the moves necessary for crossing this circuit. However, although with great difficulty, the little girl was advancing at a rather good speed.

A layer of sweat could be seen on her forehead, making her young face look healthy. The little girl’s golden-red slit eyes looked around for possible ways to advance in the obstacle course.

With a jump, she passed over a falling trap. On the other side, one could see pointed wood spikes appearing. When the little girl was about to fall into the spikes, she rotated her waist and slapped the space between them with her tail. This made her bounce, propelling herself into the air and dodging that pesky trap.

She continued running and saw a very low passage in front of her. However, she had to pass fast because it would fall on her otherwise. This didn’t stop the little girl! She leaned forwards, almost touching the ground while running, and maintained her balance, straightening her long tail. With this position, she created a counterweight and managed not to fall.

After she managed to easily overcome that obstacle, she looked around and despaired. The little girl could see automatic shooting bows with rounded tipped arrows surrounding the only passage to safety! Although she wouldn't get injured, it still hurt a lot!

The bows started shooting, and she tried to evade the arrows while advancing. When she didn't have an escape route, she tensed the muscles on the tail, hardening it to be comparable to a sword, and used it to defend herself against the arrows!

But for the little girl's misfortune, she wasn't able to evade some surprise arrows from the side and was hit squarely on the side of her face and the waist. The hits made her lose balance and unable to dodge the next arrows!

A beautiful back with full raven black hair appeared before the barrage of arrows made her a living punching bag. The woman waved her hand and blocked all the arrows easily with an energy wave. She then turned and looked at the little girl with a smile.

The little girl, Yaseenia, couldn't help but pout. "Mom, this level of the obstacle course is impossible! I always get beaten here!"

Her mother, Tatyana, looked at her with a raised eyebrow and asked, "Giving up so fast? You have only failed 42 times."

Little Yaseenia's face changed, and her tail slapped the ground, "Give up! Who will give up? That person is not me! Hmph, the next time, I will pass it and get the book about massage that you promised me!"

Tatyana looked at her daughter and asked with doubt on her face, "Why do you want those massage books so bad?"

Yasenia answered straight face, "Of course is to give Mom massages! I heard from some maids that they go to this... what did they say?"

She scratched her head and then, hitting her fist in her palm, said with a proud face, "They said that the red-light district has very good service, and they even know how to massage the body's insides, making them very comfortable! I also want mom to become comfortable!"

Tatyana's face turned black for a second but quickly returned to normal. While she asked with the same smile, her eyes weren't smiling! "Which maids were speaking about this in front of you."

Yasenia answered truthfully with a little doubt, "The ones that clean the baths after dinner? I heard them speak when I returned to pick up something I forgot... I think?"

Tatyana remembered, and then she sent an order to Richard, the head butler of the house. "Well, Yasenia, what do you want to do now? Do you want to go to take a bath?"

Yasenia sniffed herself and had a strange face. "Mom... Why does my sweat smell a little sweet? I have been training with the uncle and auntie guards, and they smell pretty bad when they sweat!"

Tatyana answered with a proud smile, "That is because of your constitution. However, you must bathe even if you don't smell bad to get rid of the stickiness. Aren't you uncomfortable?"

Inside she was thinking, 'In truth, your body has already started to develop the charming element that will have in the future. If you don't bathe, I think that all the maids will want to hug you and don't let go. Thankfully it won't have sexually attracting qualities until she gets older. Right now, the effect limits itself to improve favorability very slightly. Anyone that wants not to get affected won't, but the maids are all head over heels for her, so they don't block the effects! They normally take turns to brush her hair, dress her up, or even to help bathe her!’

Yasenia answered, “Okay, I will bathe and then go to the study to find you!”

Then she ran off to get the maids and help her bath. Tatyana looked at her fading back and went to the study.