Chapter 491: Andrea's doubts. The Beginning of the Blacksmithing Competition.

Meanwhile, the other people looked with interest at Angel. They didn't expect this human woman to be so talented in formations that she almost won the competition.

Even the judge found it worth speaking with her and getting close to her. It was strange in this world where most of the population looked down on humans.

Yet, looking at how snugly the little human fit between Yasenia's arms, they could more or less understand. Angel's low stature and soft body must be extremely delightful to hug.

Your arms would go over her shoulders comfortably, and her arms would circle your waist while she buried her face in your chest. It was a really cozy and snug experience.

Elder Song at the side commented. "Lady Yasenia's humans are different. They are all so talented and good-looking. Moreover, how to say it... They feel different."

Yasenia proudly smiled and answered. "My little dears are the best. It's a matter of course that you would think like that."

"I can see that, haha."

Jorey looked at Andrea and Tatyana and pondered a few things. 'Are these two as skilled as the other two humans? I wouldn't be surprised, to be honest.'

She decided to ask instead of thinking about it. "Are you two as skilled as Evelyn and Angel? I wouldn't be shocked if you answered yes, but I'm curious."

Tatyana humbly smiled and spoke calmly. "You are overestimating me, Lady Jorey. I'm just good with words. My proficiency is far below they, who were trained as Spirit Profession masters."

Yasenia and the others had to hold back from rolling their eyes. 'A tiger in sheep's clothing is not enough to measure the level of deceit she is pulling off. The level is almost literally that of a goddess in mortal clothing!'

"Good with words? What do you mean by that?"

Tatyana explained. "I excel at managerial skills. All my talents are focused on creating plans, sorting out information, and, in general, helping the Matriarch lighten her workload."

"Ho? So you are something similar to Lady Yasenia's right-hand woman?"

"Far from it, Lady Jorey. There are people like that that are not present today already. I'm a little extra helper." Tatyana answered smoothly and calmly, her bearing making a few take a second look.

Although Tatyana was trying to act like a lower-class person, her innate elegance and authority couldn't be ignored.

"What about you, Andrea? Are you as good as your other two slave sisters?"

Andrea felt funny when she heard that term. 'Slave sisters? Quite a unique way of grouping us up.'

Our tall woman pondered and then answered. "I'm a bit more experienced than them. My age is greater, after all. Regardless, I shouldn't be as good as little Angel."

Angel instantly denied it. "Andrea, you are very strong! I'm probably not as good as you!"

Andrea chuckled, and Yasenias couldn't help but frown for a second. 'Sigh, is my darling beginning to lose confidence? Well, she has always been someone who self-criticizes a lot. My darling always looks at herself strictly and objectively, so she should be taking into account Angel's saint inheritance before making the evaluation.'

Yasenias sighed again. 'Yet, she currently should be better than Angel profession-wise. Andrea has a decade more than Angel of experience. Even if my baby is a genius, isn't Andrea also a blacksmithing genius? She even impressed one of Mom's direct subordinates, Auntie Irina, which says a lot. If I didn't come by, darling would've probably developed to work for Mom in the future.'

A junior woman, a short bunny girl, asked. "Are you better than the blue-haired human?"

Andrea looked at Evelyn and patted her head. "I am. She is still the most inexperienced among us, after all."

Evelyn pouted, but she didn't answer because Andrea's head pats were very comfortable.

Yasenias snorted and walked toward Andrea. She forced her to sit and then planted her soft butt on her lap.

Andrea didn't know what to do with the gorgeous person that was suddenly sitting on her lap.

"Don't be humble, darling. You must brag if you are good. Who has time for shame? You are a very talented blacksmith, so brag about it! Also, why are your arms still down? Hug me!"

Andrea laughed helplessly with a doting gaze. She gathered Yasenias between her arms, feeling the dragoness's soft body squishing against her delightfully, and then spoke softly. "Then, I'll say that I'm confident in entering the top five. Is that enough, Matriarch?"

"That's much better."

Yasenias was still a little dissatisfied, but she answered like so.

She felt that Andrea had the strength to get first place.

However, she didn't force her darling to speak up since looking at the competition with wariness and always looking out for exceptions was an excellent way of doing things. That way, you would always give your all and never leave a window to relax and be lazy.

Of course, tackling every problem with this mentality was not something a person should do, but doing so in essential events was a perfect way of motivating oneself to self-improve.

One of Elder Yu's disciples, the blacksmith elder, snorted and crossed his arms. "Human woman, this time you are facing a Nine Sect disciples. I wouldn't be that confident."

Andrea lifted her eyebrow and smiled. "I'll be rude when answering, so forgive me. Since the Matriarch has told me to be confident and say my abilities without filter, I feel that there is no one among the people present besides Elder Yu who is above my skill level."

Elder Yu and the others were surprised. Elder Yu laughed aloud. "Hahaha, bold words. I like it! Let's see if your bragging speech can hold up to your skill."

Andrea nodded and bowed her head to kiss Yasenias's face and continue hugging her. Y

Yasenia felt Andrea's body heat and couldn't help but lean closer and snuggle on her. She really liked sitting on Andrea since she was the only one bigger than her who could hold her like this.

It gave her a feeling of wanting to get cozy between her arms and wanting to get pampered while listening to her deep and attractive voice whispering loving words.

Elder Hao asked. "By the way, what was the reward? I've heard the top three rewards are excellent for all competition."

Angel commented lightly. "Nothing much, a low-level Heaven-grade Formation Ink Bowl. The first was a formation pen."

Their lips twitched wildly. 'Nothing much!?' That's a heaven-grade item!'

Elder Song asked curiously. "What rank is your bowl, Angel? You should have something better if you say that's nothing much."

Angel blinked twice and looked at Yasenia.

Yasenia lifted her head from Andrea's shoulder and nodded for others to see, but mentally she asked her to lower the rank from high to low level.

Angel therefore answered. "It is also a low-level Heaven-grade bowl, but mine is more compatible with my working method. Therefore, the other one is useless to me. I'll give it to the Matriarch so that she sells it and makes more money!"

Yasenia smiled and patted her head with her long tail. "Good girl."

Angel gave Yasenia the bowl, and the dragoness stored it, adding another Heaven-grade item to her collection.

After that, the morning went by, and the afternoon arrived.

Yasenia had been walking around the stages with her dears to observe the ongoing competitions and scout the humans.

She spotted no one.

The combats they saw were intriguing.

Body Cultivators beat each other up quite more heavily because their bodies could take much more punishment, making the fight exciting.

The blacksmithing competition began in ten minutes, so Yasenia and her girls moved toward the arena where it would be held.

Elder Yu saw them coming and smiled. "Did you find something interesting, Lady Yasenia?"

Yasenia nodded. "The fights are entertaining."

"Hahaha, are you a battle maniac? Elder Huo would be a good person to exchange pointers with if you are itching for a fight."

Yasenia chuckled. "I rather not fight. I'm not that big of a battle maniac."

Yasenia turned toward Andrea and smiled. "Well, darling. Now it is your time to steal their breath away."

Andrea chuckled. "I'll do my best."

Elder Yu patted his disciples' backs and grinned broadly. "Good luck, juniors. Don't let Lady Yasenias human take all the glory!"

"Yes, Master!"

"We will make her eat her words!"

"Andrea, be careful, or we will smash you!"

Andrea lifted an eyebrow charmingly and smiled. "Bring it on. I'm all about a challenge."

Elder Yu's disciples laughed.

Yasenias grabbed Andrea's chin and lowered her head to her eye level. "Win for me, darling."

"As you order it, My Lady."

Yasenias smiled and kissed her lips, making many people gasp.

Andrea was also surprised, and by the time she wanted to answer, Yasenias separated and smiled softly at her. "Go and win for me, darling."

Andrea felt her heart skip a beat and nodded, determined. "I will."

Then, she turned around and jumped off of the stands with a confident gait, landing softly on the ground.

Elder Yu's disciples followed behind and landed beside her.

This time, although a few wanted to protest about Andrea as she was a human, Elder Yu's disciples were walking beside her.

Their blue cultivation robes with the emblem of a burning oven were more than enough to make many people take a step aside and let them walk.

A "Nine" titled sect's influence was as such.

"Andrea, lets have a fair fight!" A rather petite bunny woman approached and spoke. She was from a different clan from the one who attacked Evelyn.

Andrea wanted to pat her and caress those soft white bunny ears, but she resisted the impulse and smiled. "I'll be eagerly waiting to see what kind of treasures you will do, Miss."

The bunny woman couldn't help but feel her little heart jump around a bit. 'Woah, this human is very attractive~.'

A taller-than-Andrea bear man spoke solemnly. "Andrea, you are fortunate to have picked the interest of Lady Yasenias. She is the first person I've seen treat humans so nicely."

Andrea laughed. "It really is. The Lady choosing me is a blessing of ten lifetimes, and I don't want to disappoint her." Andrea looked at them and smirked. "Hence, senior brothers and sisters, do your best. I'm not holding back."

"Oh? Now you've said it!"

"Right, right! The fight is on!"

"Andrea, you better be as good at forging as you are speaking."

A man from a reptilian race suddenly asked curiously. "Say, Andrea. How does it feel to kiss Lady Yasenia? It must be delightful."

Andrea said solemnly. "Mister, I recommend not asking those kinds of questions. The Lady doesn't like us talking much about it unless she is the one speaking or she is near us."

"I see. Sorry for asking." Unknown to him, he had apologized to a human, something he might have never done in the past.

Andrea nodded, and they all focused on the judge walking toward the stands.

The judge was a tall man with a bird head and wings on his back. He was completely naked, and his lower part was only covered with a loincloth.

Andrea thought. 'A Garuda, the other side of the coin if we compare them to harpies. I heard from a few of the harpies that they are quite a fitting match for harpies, and if they can, they would choose one as a mate. I guess they'll be happy if I tell them I met one.'

Andrea was thinking about the harpies working under her, who had already surrendered to our imposing girl.

Andrea had an innate aura of leadership and dominance in her, making others feel respect for her.

Moreover, her delicious body was like an eye candy for the horny harpies, especially when Andrea worked hard and was drenched in sweat, her toned and athletic muscles and tanned skin shining with the glow of the forge.

At those moments, a few harpies wished they were one of those sweat droplets exploring Andrea's body.

Moreover, Andrea's curves weren't small at all. She was plump in the areas she should be. You wouldn't be able to hold her breast with one hand.

The Garuda spoke in a clear and loud voice. "I'll be the blacksmithing judge. The rounds will follow these steps. First round, you need to create a peak-level Magic Item in less than an hour to pass. Then, we'll focus on skill. We will prepare materials and give you a final product to copy. The ones that do best will pass to the finals."

"At the finals, you'll have a customer each and will have to create a weapon that suits them. The one with the highest compatibility, quality, and cost efficiency will win. We don't ask to create the most powerful weapon or armor with the most expensive materials. We ask for something that can be sold for profit without losing the needed quality."

Andrea looked at the tools they prepared and checked them one by one as she listened to the judge.

She saw the blueprint for the first item: a beautiful green dagger with an eagle head as the pommel.

The Garuda explained the basic rules and time limit and wasted no time.

"Begin forging!"

Chapter 492: Blacksmithing Competition. A petty man.

After the voice of the judge fell, everyone began to work. They separated the materials, and the arena's temperature increased with the sound of ovens starting.

A formation that covered the ground activated and cooled down the air. The temperature would make the arena an extra big oven if there weren't a formation with that function.

Andrea wore a white dress that Yasenia asked her to wear. She didn't know why, but her love loved making her wear in a feminine manner. Andrea would always chuckle when she wore something with a short skirt, and Yasenia's eyes would shine while looking at her up and down.

However, the dress was not appropriate to forge. First, her forging clothes had a few augments that helped her with her chores. Then, Andrea was reluctant to damage this dress Yasenia created for her with Evelyn's help.

Therefore, she changed into her working clothes.

The process was easy and practically instant. She first searched for the clothes in her ring, then thought of putting them below her dress.

The clothes materialized perfectly, and then Andrea stored her dress inside the spatial ring.

Andrea wore a tight-fitting cropped tank top with a low cut. It clung to her curves, and the waist area she showed revealed the marked muscles and lines. Her pants were also tight and covered her until mid-tight, revealing her muscular thighs, marked calves, and long legs while lifting her plump ass.

Her perfectly toned arms and tall body looked delightful.

Andrea gathered her curly hair into a ponytail and breathed deeply. 'Okay, let's do this.'

Meanwhile, many women and men in the stands were already drooling. Yasenia looked around, and her tail slapped the ground continuously because of her bad mood.

Tatyana and the other girls looked at her and almost burst into laughter. They didn't know exactly why, but Yasenia was very possessive of Andrea.

There were times in the past when someone would approach Andrea with clear intentions, and Yasenia would come and lean into Andrea's embrace while looking at those people.

'I have to punish Darling later. She can't be showing off like that in the future!' The double standards were on full throttle here. If anyone would have to complain, weren't Yasenia's dears the ones who had to do it?

Either way, feelings were most of the time irrational, and trying to look at everything logically was not a healthy thing.

Andrea seemed to feel her little dragoness's gaze and turned to the side. She spotted the jealousy right away and laughed. 'She is so cute. I must pamper her when we return.'

Andrea's smiling face was similar to a barrage of arrows that pierced many hearts.

A few younger females screamed excitedly, and many young boys couldn't help but shift uncomfortably in their seats.

Jorey was stunned when she heard the people scream. However, the other thing that surprised her the most was Andrea's attractiveness to the female population.

"She always wears armor or that loose white dress, so I never realized there was such a stunner below it. My heavens, Andrea is built like a War Goddess. She is like a female fatale but for other females."

Yasenia's tail slapped the ground vigorously, creating a loud bang sound. "She is mine, so don't get strange ideas. Tsk, I shouldn't have allowed her to participate."

Jorey and many others were startled by the tail slap, but after seeing Yasenia's sour face, a few couldn't help but laugh.

"I wouldn't dare steal the dragon's girl, so don't worry." Laughed Jorey

"Lady Yasenia being jealous is a surprisingly cute image." Elder Song chuckled.

"Well, Andrea is certainly built differently. I can understand Lady Yasenia's fears." Commented one of Elder Song's female juniors, looking over almost without blinking.

Meanwhile, Andrea had already begun the metalwork.

Her forge blasted the fires at high temperatures as she heated the metals and transformed a few into liquids.

Then, using extra items like [Alloy Enhancer] and similar, Andrea mixed a few metals into a more sturdy and pure alienation.

Spiritual Minerals had impurities created across the millennia of their formation. The rank of a mineral was usually determined by the number of pureness and ability to continue to absorb energy.

A standard metal could evolve slowly into a Transcendent grade metal in the right environment.

Andrea didn't work with her own technique but used the one her Harpy blacksmith companions showed her.

Andrea's comprehension of blacksmithing was extraordinary, so adapting to new methods would only affect her if she wanted to create high-level items. However, the arms and armor she needed before the final challenge of the tournament were all Earth rank and below, something Andrea already considered low-level.

Distancia's continent method was different in the sense that instead of creating Spirit Veins for the item to make it accumulate and develop, the blacksmithing here would be more brutish.

The method was increasing the material's strength and quality while forging and giving it a "Body" instead of a "Spirit Vein." The hammering would realign the internal structure and make it better, sturdier, and more resilient.

It changed the metal's properties without changing the metal and its main qualities.

There were drawbacks to both methods, but Andrea thought the Sky Continent method was much more flexible and also would not need many requirements to be a blacksmith.

One had to have adequate strength to realign and change the material's properties with Distancia's method.

Therefore, while Andrea could potentially practice with Transcendence Realm items before reaching the Transcendence Realm, blacksmiths in Distancia would need to reach those levels to work with such high-quality materials.

Andrea's thoughts swirled with these ideas while constantly working. 'It's interesting. Then, in Lost Town, the method is different once again. Instead of giving it a body or veins, because of their lack of strength, they managed to create a method that manipulated energy and poured it inside the metal to give it properties.'

Andrea kept hammering, heating, streamlining, and working as she thought about these three methods.

Her mind began making comparisons, her body moving fluidly and beautifully, and her work being observed by many.

Elder Yu said with clear surprise. "It has been a while since I saw such a clean and proper hammering technique."

Jorey nodded. "It looks really aesthetic. I wouldn't say I like the loud and noisy forges, but I could watch Andrea forge for hours. Even someone like me who knows little can appreciate her skill."

Andrea's work speed was constant, and instead of rough workmanship and hammering as if she wanted to smash the metal to a pulp, it felt like Andrea was shaping it like an artwork.

Andrea lifted her arm, her back straight and her elbow bent. Then, she used her body to lower the hammer and collide it with the heated metal piece. The melodious clang resonated above other sounds as the metal slowly formed into the intended shape.

With each clang, a few hearts skipped a beat.

Yasenia bit her lip and was about to smack a hole in the ground with her tail. 'Ugh, why is my darling so charming while working!? I want to eat her and also punish her!'

The time went by slowly, and Andrea finished after forty minutes went by. Twenty minutes before the hour mark, the judge asked for.

The dagger gleamed beautifully as if it were carved out of gemstones. The eagle-shaped pommel was beautifully carved.

Andrea took the dagger and made a short dagger dance. Her streamlined body moved swiftly and elegantly as she slashed around her. Her feet moved lightly, and her body twisted with excellent flexibility.

Andrea stopped and thought. 'Perfect. After the last touches, it is balanced and can cut through the air easily. It feels as if I'm holding nothing but....'

Andrea took a Magic-level metal plate and slashed it.

As if it were a heated knife slashing through butter, the metal separated in two, and half of the plate fell onto the ground.

"Perfect. This should be more than enough to overcome the first test."

The judge heard her words, and his eagle eye twitched. 'With that dagger, you can almost win the whole tournament, human.'

One of Elder Yu's disciples also created a middle-level Earth-rank dagger and looked at Andrea impressed. His work, however, was clearly inferior, even if the quality should be the same.

If someone asked him to test the two daggers, he would honestly place his vote on Andrea's blade.

Moreover, he had sneaked a glance or two and couldn't feel Andrea struggling for a second.

With such strength, the elimination rounds weren't a challenge.

During the forging, there was a slight change only the highest-level blacksmiths realized while looking at Andrea.

Many realized that her movement changed slightly as Andrea forged, becoming more efficient and fluid by the second.

It was a gradual but noticeable change that became more prominent as time passed.

Tatyana, Mirror, Valeria, and Yaseenia felt their eyebrows jumping. 'No way, now?'

Yaseenia stood up, and feeling her urgency, the other girls followed. Yaseenia felt helpless as a smile appeared on her lips. 'Darling, you are so problematic. Here? You will do that here?'

However, her eyes didn't have a speck of blame. They were shining with eagerness and expectation.

Elder Song asked. "What's wrong?"

Yaseenia was not in the mood to answer as she had to intervene the second it happened.

Cecile answered for Yaseenia. "Lady Jorey, we ask for a moment of silence. Lady Yaseenia is trying to do something. From now on, we ask that no matter what we do, you will not freak out or stop us. We know what we are doing."

They all were surprised at that answer, and many wanted to ask what was happening.

Cecile's freezing aura surrounded them, giving them a short chill. They decided not to interrupt and observe what would happen next.

"Now, the final challenge. This will decide the position of the last ten blacksmiths. Let the customers enter."

Of the ten, four of them were Elder Yu's juniors. The others were from other top powers. They wanted to approach Andrea and speak to her, but there was a passive aura around Andrea.

The aura felt profound, and they could feel Andrea's focus.

Andrea didn't move and waited, her focus unflinching.

The customer arrived before Andrea and frowned. "A human? I didn't pay for this to have a shitty human as my blacksmith!"

Yaseenia felt an uncontrollable wrath rising inside her as a menacing growl left her throat, startling everyone around her. 'If my darling loses focus because of your bullshit, I swear in my Dragon race I will torture you and your soul for eternity!'

However, Yaseenia didn't move since she knew her presence would be much more distracting than random bullshit for an unknown person. She wanted to minimize the risk, and sadly, she couldn't intervene yet because Andrea was still not there.

She was on the verge of enlightenment.

Tatyana had to grab Yaseenia's hand because the people around Yaseenia were starting to feel out of breath because of the passive aura around the dragoness.

Because of her anger, a silver of her bloodline pressure was escaping her body, and her eyes were golden-red.

Meanwhile, Andrea didn't answer and waited for the judge to intervene, completely ignoring the man.

The judge looked over and sneered, his beak arching in a disdainful arc. "Is your brain malfunctioning? Do you think it is easier or harder for a human to reach the finals of a competition with supreme powers within it!? You should feel lucky you got the human! If you don't want the human, change with one of the other nine customers. I can promise a few of them would like to!"

"Is that the way of treating a customer!?"

"As if I care about your status. Begin to ask or scram!"

The man was humiliated and looked at Andrea. Seeing that she was not even looking at him, with her eyes closed as she muttered a few things, he snapped.

"Since she is so good, I won't hold back with the demands. Oy, human, open your eyes and listen!"

Bang!

The man looked toward the sound and saw a dragoness with her long black hair flowing around and her tail moving behind her.

Fear invaded his body because this imposing, murderous-looking woman was staring at him with clear killing intent.

The sound had come from the floor cracking and railings blowing apart because of the aura.

He didn't scream in fright because Yasenias's aura had strangled even his scream.

The judge sneered. "That's her master. You decide if you want to continue to be an asshole or you become dragon food."

Andrea's deep voice was heard next. "I don't care. Please tell me the requirements you want. I'll deliver my best work to you."

The tone was calm with an ethereal echo in it.

Only now did he realize that the human before him looked extraordinary, to say the least. He had focused too much on the human aura before looking over.

Even then, he was a petty man, so swallowing the fear and nervousness inflicted by the two of them, he began making outrageous demands.

Chapter 493: Yasenias takes action.

Even after Andrea's and Yasenias's intervention, he was a petty man, so swallowing the fear and nervousness inflicted by the two of them, he began making outrageous demands.

"I want a full body plate armor that can change shapes to a robe. The armor must be black and golden colored. I want the logo on my robe to be imprinted on the back. Also, I want it to be able to change sizes in case I want to give it to my descendants."

Andrea's face didn't change, her light green eyes looking at him attentively. The passive pressure her gaze had made the man slow down his speech to swallow for a second.

His voice was much smaller, but he didn't stop talking. "It must boost every physical attribute and also help with soul defense. Moreover, it must be suitable for one of the rarest attributes."

Andrea asked flatly. "Which one?"

"Death... No. I want, I want...."

The other blacksmiths were listening, and they couldn't help but frown and look at him disdainfully. 'I have to tell Master to blacklist this person if we can. Such an annoying asshole. I rather eat shit than forge him something.'

The judge at the side became annoyed at his outrageous demands and looked at Andrea. "I remember your previous companion made a Sun and Moon formation, right? Make it with one of those two attributes you chose."

Then, the man began speaking of the design, not being less demanding.

Andrea didn't stop him for a second, as her mind constantly changed the blueprint for it. She didn't know why, but she felt her thoughts clearer than ever.

"Anything more?"

The man was stunned on the spot, not knowing how to react. 'More? Is she asking for more? What more can I even add? I'm starting to feel my mouth drying up!'

"N-Nothing more."

Andrea turned around without wasting a single second and took out a large A2 paper.

Without a single moment of hesitation, Andrea began painting. Her hand moved quickly, slowly outlining the armor's two shapes.

As Andrea wrote, her concentration increased so much that everything around her seemed to disappear gradually. The noise, the stadium, the customer, everything got filtered away by Andrea.

Andrea's light green eyes shone beautifully as the final stroke was done.

During this time, everyone else stopped working and looked at Andrea. They had never seen someone with such ease and speed in creating a design for something as painful as what the man asked.

Yasenia smiled. 'She is almost there.'

Andrea used a printer and copied the blueprint, throwing it at the man without looking.

She was so confident the man wouldn't be able to find faults that she ignored him and got to work right away.

The man wanted to create trouble, but when the judge saw the design, he shut up the man with a stare that could kill him.

Andrea had already ignored everything else and began creating the alloy, helping materials, energy conductors, fuel to reach high temperatures, and everything she needed.

Andrea chose Sun as the attribute since it was her attribute, and she was the most familiar with it.

The concentration kept increasing, making Andrea feel as if she could breathe freer as if the temperature didn't bother her anymore.

Every skill and idea she had learned slowly knitted in her mind in a net of knowledge.

Andrea poured the liquid alloy into a mold and started the process again. To create this full body armor perfectly, she wanted to do everything step by step.

This wasn't about the competition anymore. It was about creating this armor to the maximum perfection she could.

Andrea didn't care about the place she was in. She didn't care about anything, only the armor in front of her.

Yasenia's excitement grew by the second as she felt everything. 'Just a small push, darling. You are almost there. A small step more, and you'll have the first enlightenment!'

Andrea moved toward the solidifying plate and used tongs to pick it up and move it to an anvil. Then, she summoned her hammer and lifted it.

This movement mesmerized every blacksmith. Her posture looked perfect, fluid, charming, and imposing. They felt this was the only way to hammer things, and they had always done it wrong.

The forging hammer fell in a perfect curve and impacted the metal with a clang that echoed around the arena.

Then, in that instant when the hammer and the metal touched, that instant so short and small to perceive, Andrea felt the energy around her, inside the hammer, and across the plate as if everything was one.

Something clicked in Andrea's mind.

Her mind felt utter and absolute clarity. Every idea, theory, and method combined like puzzle pieces to create a more magnificent and complex picture.

Yasenia, Tatyana, Angel, Cecile, and Kali flashed beside Andrea at their top speed.

The five of them moved so suddenly and quickly that no one realized until they were beside Andrea.

Before anyone knew what was happening, Yasenia took out the present she received back then at her birthday and poured every last energy bit she could into it. She even added a small Celestial Energy strand from the Star in the middle of her dantian.

The instant formation core glowed ethereally as Yasenia planted it on the ground before it could bother Andrea.

A dome that covered Andrea's working area manifested instantly, hiding Andrea's working place from every single person.

The formation Angel created was a powerful life-saving treasure. However, Yasenia knew that although it had five uses, her Celestial Energy usage would destroy it as soon as she withdrew it .

However, Yasenia didn't mind one bit. She was willing to give up an arm for her darling, not to mention one life-saving treasure.

The Celestial Dome not only made everyone outside unable to see the inside but also exponentially increased the purity of the energy inside.

If Andrea was during a powerful enlightenment before, now that was multiplied manifold.

Andrea felt as if the cosmos surrounded her while creating this armor, giving her strength.

Tatyana looked at the dome and was impressed. 'Woah, can I even break this? The Celestial Energy seems to have erased any weakness and enhanced it. With my current body, I would probably need a few hours to break through.'

Tatyana sighed. 'Such a shame that it would one hundred percent be destroyed. I would love to analyze the changes that happened to it.'

Meanwhile, Yasenia summoned [Draconic Heart] and pierced it into the ground before her. "Sorry for the abrupt interruption. We'll retire from the competition. However, give us this spot for some time. We'll compensate the tournament management accordingly."

So many things happened that nobody knew how to react for a short moment. The tiger kin descended into the arena and asked. "Is there something wrong?"

Yasenia answered respectfully but with neither a humble nor servile attitude. "Nothing serious. Just ignore us and continue the competition."

The man who made trouble for Andrea protested. "What about my item!? I've paid a fortune to be here, you know? You allow a disgusting human to participate, and now you pull out when you please? Do you think you own the place?"

Yasenia looked at him and asked. "Who are you?" The tone was cold and murderous.

The man was stunned by her stare's intensity. "I-I'm the Patriarch of the [Rocky Muscle Ape] Clan!"

Yasenia remembered the list of the thirty-three clans, and this one wasn't on the list. Yasenia remembered that there was an Ape Senior here.

She asked. "Is he related to you?"

The ape-man knew Yasenia was speaking to him. He decided to answer. "Just a small clan with a luckily earned fortune. The idea of creating the armor here was good, but the attitude truly shows why they are such a lowly clan."

The man couldn't talk since the [Devil Smashing Ape] clan was the third strongest beast clan in the Thirty-Three Clans group.

Yasenia nodded. The Patriarch blinked, and the next time he opened his eyes, there was a blue-scaled dragon tail right before his face.

Bang!

He was smashed flying by Yasenia's tail slap. The slap was so proficient and quick that even the Epoch Core Realm cultivators had trouble following it.

Tatyana's lips twitched. 'To think she used her proficiency in slapping Evelyn in this attack, that's something I didn't expect.'

Yasenia commented. "Don't worry. He is not dead or injured. However, I really wanted to release a bit, or I would've killed him."

Someone on the stands suddenly shouted. "Why did you stop us from looking at the human, Lady? I was learning a lot from her!"

Yasenia turned and saw an old-looking blacksmith looking at her angrily. Yasenia's facial expression softened a bit. Someone appreciating her darling's skill was something that made Yasenia happy.

"Sorry, respected elder. My junior has entered a critical phase in her development, and any interruptions can be determinantal. I can't gamble with the future of my juniors, whether they are human or not."

The elder thought Yasenia would be a bit more difficult to speak but was surprised. His tone also got calmer as he asked. "Can I watch her forge elsewhere?"

Yasenia got thoughtful. "There isn't any place like that. We are located in Koran City, and our shop sells her items. If you want to come and buy them, you are welcome to do so. Either way, I'll ask her later if she wants to open a monthly exhibit. If she agrees, we'll post the notice in our shop."

The elder sat and nodded. "I see. It's good seeing youngsters being reasonable."

Yasenia chuckled. "Haven't I just slapped that man flying?"

The elder spat. "Bah, he deserved it. I wanted to go down and smash him myself."

Yasenia and a few others also chuckled.

The tiger kin man communicated with someone and asked. "Lady Yasenia, I know this is important. However, we need a deeper reason for you to occupy this post. You are not bothering our other juniors, but you can't do as you please in our tournament."

Yasenia smiled. "That's understandable. This tournament is prestigious, and our clan has no intention of smearing its status. I'll return the formation bowl Angel won and the alchemy prize if we win it."

The tiger kin listened to the communication device and frowned for a second. He answered something back. His face showed that his demand was not successful.

"Lady Yasenia, that's not enough."

Yasenia was surprised. "Are two heaven-ranked items not enough to rent this place for a few hours?"

The tiger kin shrugged. "I do not make the decisions. They say it is not clear whether you will win or not the alchemy competition."

Yasenia sighed. "Even then, one Heaven-ranked item should be enough."

The tiger kin nodded. "I agree with you."

Yasenia shook her head and smiled. "Well, it was my fault for interrupting the tournament. How about I allow you to choose one item from our Astral Sky Shop? I'll give it to you for free. There are up to middle-level Heaven-ranked items for sale."

The tiger kin asked again, and both waited patiently.

The people in the stands had already turned their attention to the other nine juniors, observing their work.

There was no sound for one minute. Then, the tiger kin smiled. "Deal. Continue the competition and disqualify competitor Andrea."

The judge nodded and disqualified Andrea.

Yasenia didn't mind and sat cross-legged in front of the dome, expanding her spiritual sense to the limits and maintaining her guard in case anything happened. The other girls stood beside her and also looked around with her.

Meanwhile, the inside of the dome was like a different world.

Chapter 494: Andrea's Enlightenment and Intent.

Meanwhile, inside the dome, it looked like a different World.

Andrea was going through the labor-intensive motions of forging while slowly making the armor come to life.

Her mind was in place, and everything she wanted to do was connected in her head.

Her muscles moved in sync and coordinated as she hammered the metal plates and gave them shape.

However, Andrea's enlightenment was much more different than Yasenia's previous enlightenment about Blacksmithing. Her deep knowledge and experience in the craft allowed her to utilize this enlightenment much more profoundly.

The aura around her was also deep and ethereal.

If someone tried to feel it, they would realize that a presence encompassing many things was present. It was profound and mysterious as if it were the essence of the craft itself.

It was intent.

Andrea was developing her first intent. The understood was the [Alloy Weaver Intent].

An intent that encompassed metallurgy, metalwork, and everything related.

As her intent flowed around her, her grasp of every metal and process became flawless.

With such concentration and auras surrounding her, she began working at a speed that would scare even herself.

The first step when blacksmithing a Spirit Armor was to create every component.

The process was much more complex than when making a weapon since it consisted of intricate and expert metalwork.

Moreover, as she was in the middle of her Enlightenment, this would be her first work to be the foundation for her future blacksmithing.

It was Andrea's first step in branching into her path and ascending to a promising and boundless future.

Andrea's thoughts revolved around the idea of mixing the three blacksmithing methods.

Sky Continent's method was like creating the internal structure of the treasure. As explained before, it consisted in creating the "Spirt Veins" across the entirety of the item, inside and outside.

Distancia Continent's method focused more on the body of the item. A blacksmith would use different hammering ways to modify and enhance the metal, glass, or any other material they were working with.

Lost Town's method was much more ethereal. Since working with strength was impossible for the mortals in Lost Town, for them to create Heaven-ranked items, they needed to transform their materials with energy.

The mortals in Lost Town came up with hammers, anvils, ovens, and other utensils that helped give the treasures something like an aura, which enhanced the works and increased their quality.

They could do so because their secret realm was often visited by Cultivators around the Universe, and they learned their own methods for everything.

Moreover, the manuals left behind by the creator of the secret realm were intricate and polished to such a degree that Mortals could use them with enough talent and proper tools.

Skill-wise, a top Blacksmith from Lost Town would rival one from Distancia.

Ultimately, they were mortals, so reaching the skill level of top blacksmiths of Sky Continent, where Transcendent Realm blacksmiths lived, was impossible.

Andrea's hammer hit the metal in constant motion. While heating up things, her bright red [Star Born Searing Flame], the Natural Treasure, blended with her work to modify the material, energy, and aura around the treasure.

Her [Allow Weaver Intent] helped her move everything to her will as her green eyes looked around and calculated many steps ahead.

Moreover, manipulating the flame to create perfect temperatures was much easier with a semi-sentient Heaven-born fire connected to her at a soul level.

Ebirah looked at everything from inside Andrea's soul and felt the changes firsthand. She didn't speak or make any movement, just observing. She felt that, at this moment, her dear friend Andrea was stepping into her own path.

Our lobster friend knew that Andrea had been recently struggling. Andrea didn't hide it from Ebirah and spoke to her. Ebirah was used to listening and giving her thoughts.

Although, Andrea would often laugh at her advice and pat her head softly. Ebirah was young, so her way of seeing the world was simple. Naturally, her education was deep, but Andrea's troubles were out of what the young princess had learned.

Either way, after Andrea created every single part of the armor, Andrea began purifying the item and attaching everything together via welding and other skills like riveting.

She used a mix that would leave no imperfect edges and no visible or unaesthetic spots.

Andrea had forgotten that this armor was supposed to be for someone, so she created it with the shape and form she was most familiar with to increase her success chances. It was naturally an armor for herself.

'The shape is good. The material is perfectly purified. I need to give it the Spirit Veins without tampering with the "Body" modifications I've hammered into it. However, adding Lost Town's energy aura method will be complicated.'

Even in her current form, fusing arts was not a simple task.

It would usually take hundreds of years, even for someone as talented as Andrea. Therefore, managing to fuse two of the three was an achievement created only because of the combination of her Intent and her current enlightened state.

Enlightenment for a cultivator made each minute worth a year of continuous practice. That's why every cultivator searched for it.

However, this state was a mentality that the more you thought and searched for it, the further you would be from achieving it.

After creating the black armor with a golden Sun and Moon held by a dragon claw on the chest, she began her next and most crucial step, carving the spirit veins.

The image was Astral Sky's symbol, something Yasenia created with her help. Andrea was in charge of creating the accessories, after all.

Andrea suddenly frowned. 'Hm? I'm starting to get distracted.'

The effect of her Enlightenment had already lasted for fifty-five minutes, a monstrous amount.

'I have five minutes at most. I need to focus and squeeze the most of it I can.'

After a deep breath, the dimming light in her eyes gained a final burst of brilliance.

Andrea took out a carving knife as thin as a cicada wing.

The armor was held up with a model she took out of her ring, and then Andrea got to work.

Her hand, which could use a mighty hammer and change the shape of metal, worked delicately and slowly.

Her fingers were agile and meticulous, moving the thing blade and working on the lines and runes of the armor.

Her energy also seeped inside and helped with the inner spirit veins.

Five minutes went by quickly, and it wasn't enough to finish everything. Not even close.

Andrea sighed, but she knew that the most complicated things were done. The only thing left was meticulous work that needed time and patience.

However, her speed slowed down to a crawl compared to before.

'I hope I can finish in four hours.'

The time Andrea began working was about five in the afternoon.

She also intended to merge Lost Continent's forging method, but after the enlightened state disappeared, Andrea felt that it would be impossible.

'Nevermind, Andrea. Take things one step at a time, as you have always done it. I have never been a genius. Most of what I have is pure and unadulterated hard work. That's what keeps me from lagging behind my love. That's what pushed me forward.'

Ebirah cheered from inside the soul. 'You can do it, Andrea! I bet Yasenia will be delighted when she learns about your progress.'

Andrea chuckled, and after another deep breath, she continued moving the carving knife while using her [Star Born Searing Flame] with it to increase her affinity.

She slowly moved around the full-body armor while her hand agilely stroked the armor like a feather touching the water.

Even before finishing, energy began gathering toward the item powerfully.

Andrea's extreme focus was slightly bothered by it. The gust of energy made her eyes move to the side for a millisecond.

However, that slight distraction made a small part of a branch of the Spirit Vein slightly crooked. It was such a minor imperfection that no one would notice.

Still, it was enough for the item to notice.

Andrea felt the energy rushing toward the armor lower to a tenth of what it was before, making Andrea regretful.

'And here I thought I would be able to create my first Transcendent Item. Such a shame.'

However, she didn't linger on the slight mistake and continued.

Outside, the sky had already darkened, and the lights of the coliseum were the only thing that illuminated the dome in the middle of a vacated arena.

Yasenia had not moved a single inch since she sat down.

Elder Yu, his disciples, Elder Song, Jorey, and the tiger kin in the Epoch Core Body realm were the only people still waiting beside our girls.

In total, it took Andrea six hours to finish the armor, even after the help of a one-hour Enlightenment boost.

It was almost midnight by the time she finished. Luna was only a mortal, so she had fallen asleep long ago because of the tiredness.

Usually, sleeping was a luxury, but today she just felt like she would be able to close her eyes calmly.

Evelyn was supporting her while looking around.

Our dragoness twitched, something people noticed because of the stillness of her previous position.

Yasenia opened her eyes slowly, revealing her beautiful golden orbs. In the deep night, they looked otherworldly.

"She is done."

Yasenia's words were like a switch, making them all stand up and look at the dome.

With a wave of her hand, the formation's core flew out of the dome and landed on her hand. However, as soon as it landed, it shone brightly and rapidly heated up.

Yasenia threw it into the air.

With a sonic boom, the formation core flew high above into the sky and passed the clouds in just a few seconds.

They all saw the sky brighten briefly before the luminosity faded.

"A single-use core formation?" Asked the Tiger kin, Patriarch.

"No. A core formation I fed with all my energy and exploded because it couldn't resist it." Answered Yasenia.

Many of them had their lips twitching.

Yasenia turned and saw the badly tired Andrea, breathing heavily and wholly drenched from head to toe.

She was so weak that her body was swaying and about to fall.

Andrea smiled and said with a sigh. "I'm sorry. I made trouble for you."

Yasenia approached and hugged Andrea, not caring about her drenched body. "Nothing like that. Did everything go okay?"

Andrea looked around, but too tired to stand up, she obediently leaned on Yasenia and sighed comfortably. "I couldn't complete it perfectly, but the idea is in my mind. My blacksmithing should be able to increase to the next level soon."

The tiger kin spoke. "How about showing us what you made, human?"

Andrea didn't answer and turned to look at Yasenia, convincingly acting like a servile person.

'Is it troublesome to show, darling?'

'Nothing like that. However, the quality should be the highest of the things you've shown until now.'

'Hmm. Show it. Either way, it doesn't matter too much. We are already out, and we can attribute this to a fluke.'

'It is the truth either way. I'm not confident in creating something of this quality soon. I need to internalize all the things I've learned.'

Yasenia nodded. "Go ahead. I'm also curious to know if what you made is worth the price I had to pay."

"As expected, I caused the Matriarch much trouble. I'm so sorry. I entered a strange state and forgot everything around me. The armor I created was also made with my measurements in mind instead of the customer."

"Speaking of which, where is he?"

Jorey chuckled. "Probably in a hospital or something similar."

"Huh? Why?"

"Your Matriarch slapped him unconscious. Miraculously, he has no injuries but wouldn't wake up no matter what we did." Laughed the Tiger kin.

"He should be awake by now." Commented Yasenias indifferently.

Andrea was speechless. "You slapped him?"

Yasenias snorted. "He should know who he was talking to before acting like a complete asshole. I wanted to kill him, so giving him a small concussion should be a light punishment."

Andrea smiled wryly. "Well, whatever. Here is the armor."

Andrea waved her hand and summoned a full-body, gorgeous black armor with smooth curves and golden details.

Like the armor of a black knight, it shone with a powerful gleam. The prominent symbol in the middle of the chest was enough to make them understand what kind of mood Andrea was when she made it.

'Her loyalty is truly exceptional.'

However, their thoughts stopped when they felt the aura around the armor.

The air around it changed, becoming heavier as the powerful treasure glowed with a dark yellow light in the night.

Elder Yu was so surprised his thoughts were vocalized. "A masterpiece."

Chapter 495: The Armor's Real Quality. Spoiled Yasenias returns one more time!

When the armor appeared, the air around it changed, becoming heavier as the powerful treasure glowed with a dark yellow light in the darkness of the night.

The armor's black body and golden accents were exceptionally impacting and beautiful.

Elder Yu was so surprised his thoughts were vocalized. "Such a masterpiece."

His words were a like a switch, making everyone else wake up from their daze.

The tiger kin Patriarch asked. "Is this for sale?"

Yasenias touched her chin and shook her head. "This is probably the best Item she will create. Selling it would be a shame. I'm not short of money or resources either way."

Elder Yu's first disciple, the short bunny woman, had been examining the armor.

When she realized the rank, she exclaimed incredulously. "A peak-level Heaven-ranked armor!?" The bunny woman hopped and jumped up and down in front of Andrea, excitedly looking at her. "Wow! Andrea, you are so awesome! You weren't lying when you bragged earlier about your skill. It's so good! Can you teach me?"

Evelyn and the rest blinked. 'Angel 2.0?'

Elder Yu smacked her on the head when she hopped, making her squeak a cute sound of pain.

"Your master is still here. Aren't you ashamed of asking so blatantly!?"

The bunny woman jumped into Andrea's embrace and snorted. "But Master, can you create an armor like this in six hours? Can you? Can you? No, can you even create armor on this level?"

Elder Yu scratched his bear ear and sighed. "You spoiled brat, can you leave a bit of face for your master? But it is true that I really can't do it. Even the top five from my sect would need to be lucky to create something like this in such a short time...."

Elder Yu frowned. "No... Creating something like this in six hours is honestly insane. Can the Patriarch even make something like this in six hours?"

Andrea commented. "Elder Yu. Even if I tried to create this armor again, I would need months, even years, to complete it. As I told you before, I entered a strange state that allowed me to work incredibly fast."

Andrea wasn't completely lying. Maybe saying years was exaggerating, but taking months to do it was not a stretch by any means.

Elder Mu contemplated. "Maybe Andrea had an enlightenment?"

The other seniors realized and looked deeply at Andrea. Jorey tsked. "So lucky. I thought it was a legend, but it looks like it is possible."

Andrea looked down at the short bunny woman hugging her and blinked twice. The bunny woman got lost in Andrea's body and directly buried her face in Andrea's breasts. 'Oh, my~, such a firm waist. Her skin is also super smooth. Sniff, sniff... Wow, she smells so good~.'

Andrea's lips twitched. "Miss, can you separate?"

The bunny woman found Andrea's firm waistline and soft breasts quite comfortable, so she was reluctant. 'This human has such a tempting body. My heavens, so comfortable.'

With a blushing face, she asked cutely. "Can I hug you a little more?"

Andrea smiled wryly. "I don't mind, but there are others that mind. Miss, look behind you."

They all looked at where Andrea pointed and saw Yasenias eyes pinned on the bunny woman like a predator about to jump and tear apart the tiny herbivore touching her food.

Elder Yu flashed and snatched his disciple away before the wild dragoness ate her.

The bunny woman was scared silly and hugged the tall bear man, Elder Yu, without any delay. 'Mommy, she is going to eat me!'

Andrea approached, and Yasenias directly latched on her. "Mine."

"Yes, yes. I'm yours, Master."

Yasenias smelled the bunny woman's scent and frowned. Her body emitted her particular fragrance and covered Andrea from head to toe.

Andrea caught a whiff and warned. "Seniors, separate if you don't want your juniors to fall in love with Lady Yasenias."

They didn't know why Andrea would say so, but they listened to her.

The tiger kin stayed close, and his nose twitched. His pupils dilated for a second, but he regained calm quickly. "Listen to Andrea. Yasenias is marking Andrea with her scent."

Jorey was far away since she was weak cultivation-wise. "Is it that strong?"

The Patriarch didn't hide it and explained. "I lost control of my heartbeat for a second."

Everyone sucked in a cold breath.

Yasenia looked at the others and squinted. "I don't want anybody to touch my girls again. They are mine."

Everybody nodded quickly. If her scent could affect an Epoch Core Realm cultivator, they would most probably pounce on her.

Yasenia had a sense of self, though. If they didn't back away after Andrea's warning, she would've used a simple, instant scent-containing formation.

Not to mention, all her dears were watching and would probably intervene even before herself.

The bunny woman changed the subject back to the armor. "Either way, if you presented something like that, we would've had no chance at winning."

Nobody denied it. The highest-level weapon in the finals was a peak-level Earth-ranked sword.

Elder Yu suddenly blinked and said. "Wait, it isn't a peak-level Heaven-ranked armor."

Yasenia's eyes flashed. "They realized? I thought they wouldn't notice because Transcendent Level items are so scarce. Elder Yu exceeded my expectations. Well, whatever, it's not that big of a deal."

Elder Song had been surprised many times already, but she asked either way. "What do you mean, Old Yu?"

Elder Yu said slowly. "It's not a peak-level armor. The strength of this armor surpasses that."

The tiger kin asked incredulously. "Don't tell me, a legendary armor that only your Patriarch can make once every one thousand years!? Impossible! How could a human cub create something like this."

Elder Yu said. "Relax, senior. It isn't in the realm above Heaven ranked. It is a failed treasure of that rank. It seems that Andrea made a mistake during the creation, and the strength of the armor was reduced greatly."

Jorey slapped her thigh. "Such a shame! It would be the first armor in the Continent that surpasses heaven ranked!"

Elder Yu nodded. "It is probably because Andrea's level is too low, and her strength was not enough to create something of that level. It's truly a shame. If Andrea were a beast human instead of a human, she would've probably created it."

Yasenia didn't stop the conversation. She was a bit too occupied hugging Andrea and receiving her pats and scratches.

The others ignored this female-human-loving person. They were already getting used to her antics.

Well, at least they knew she was listening because she looked at them even as she squinted in happiness.

Andrea smiled and answered after kissing Yasenia's forehead softly. "Elder Yu is right. I was not skilled enough. I felt a talent limit at that time. This will probably be the best work I will create in my whole life. However, reaching this level, I'm satisfied."

Yasenia tiptoed and kissed her cheek with a smile. "Don't worry, darling. I'll still give you many rewards if you keep creating strong items like this one."

Andrea laughed. "Give me a break, Matriarch. I don't know if I'll ever be able to create another one at this level."

Yasenia looked thoughtful and spoke. "Ah! I know what reward to give you!"

Everyone listened closely.

Yasenia asked. "Your armor is getting a bit behind, right?"

They all caught up in an instant, and their eyes widened. The tiger kin asked incredulously. "Don't tell me you'll give her this armor?"

Yasenia blinked twice and asked. "Why not? It's not like I lack powerful treasures. Moreover, using these treasures ourselves is better than letting them go. I already have strong armor, and since Andrea created this with her own measurements in mind, I'll give it to her."

Everyone's lips twitched wildly. 'This dragoness pampers her humans too much!'

The tiger kin laughed aloud. "I now understand why you felt annoyed when that snake woman tried to trip you with other humans."

Yasenia snorted. "I like humans, but not any human. They must be at least talented, beautiful, and with a strong mind. Showing me trash at the low levels. I won't turn my head unless an exception happens."

Their eyes turned to Luna, who was already awake. The woman shrank a bit as their stares were too obvious. Evelyn patted her head. "Don't worry. They are just looking."

Luna's tense body relaxed, and she leaned on Evelyn.

Evelyn felt Luna's huge breasts squishing against her and smiled. 'Big-breasted women are indeed the best. The softness is unrivaled!'

Yasenia felt her tail twitch and looked at Evelyn. 'Hm, I don't know why, but I feel the need to spank her.'

Elder Yu asked. "What is the reason you only accept females? I feel we asked, but your answer was a bit vague then."

Yasenia nodded. "Do you want the honest answer? It is actually quite simple. Males are not as soft and are not as fragrant. Then, I like females because I'm the one in control."

Yasenia's face showed disgust as she said. "I don't want a human man to enter me. That would be too much."

One innocent and young beast human asked softly. "What does she mean with entering her?"

Yasenia heard, so she looked over and explained. "Do you know how babies are made, dear?"

The little boy blushed and nodded. Yasenia answered. "Then, explaining it is easy. I don't like human males to put their genitals inside me because I don't want to even think of the possibility of accidentally getting pregnant with one."

The boy's imagination ran wild, and everyone saw his face becoming almost maroon.

Yasenia laughed. "So cute~."

The other older sisters present nodded. 'I want to squeeze the cat boy's red cheeks.'

This was the last thing that made them convinced of Yasenia's persona.

Yasenia's attitude and efforts made her look more like a compulsive collector than anything else.

After two days of acting and mixing truths and lies, Yasenia finally achieved her objective.

The tiger kin's guard also disappeared completely.

He joked. "If there is a human revolution in the future, as a collector, you'll be quite targeted."

Yasenia sneered. "A human revolution? Let them come. I'll spare no one."

Kali chuckled, swishing her two fox tails playfully. "You may spare the cute girls you find."

Cecile snorted, and her wings flapped with annoyance. "Can you not put forth such a plausible scenario? I have enough already, all right?"

Yasenia turned, leaving Andrea's embrace, and hugged them with a coaxing smile, smooching them loudly. "How can they compare to my honey and sweetheart? You two are my true lovers and wives~."

Kali lifted her head cutely, and Cecile's aura softened a lot.

"Coaxing expert, I see." Jorey laughed.

Andrea added with a laugh. "You wait. There is more."

Yasenia leaned down and lifted their veils, one by one, kissing them deeply.

"I see. Is this common, Andrea?"

Evelyn was the one who answered. "Every time she is intimate with us, she will spend double the time with them, hahaha. It is quite funny, to be honest."

The others also laughed.

The day ended with a bit of banter, and everyone returned home.

After reaching the inn, they activated every formation they'd set up, gaining privacy.

Once inside, Yasenia deflated and threw herself into Tatyana's embrace. "Acting is so tiring. Mom, pamper me!"

Tatyana chuckled and scratched Yasenia's chin and the middle section of her tail.

Tatyana had changed while Yasenia jumped on her, and she wore a thin and revealing black nightdress.

"Who is my good girl?"

Yasenia purred, and her tail wagged.

"Oh dear, you are so cute. Give me a kiss."

Yasenia turned her head and kissed Tatyana's lips. Her arms went around her neck, and Tatyana made her straddle her.

Then, Tatyana's hands went to the base of Yasenia's tail and sunk her fingers into the tense muscles of the tail, sending a wave of energy to relax the tight muscles.

Yasenia lifted her head and moaned in comfort. She felt like her bones and muscles had lost their strength, and her soft body entirely fell on top of Tatyana.

The other's girls appreciated the dragoness's body's ability to soften as she clung to Tatyana.

Evelyn gulped. "That body feels like cheating."

Angel nodded. "When she is on top of you and leans completely above, the feeling is divine."

Andrea daydreamed. "Hugging her from behind as her body ripples is a sight to see."

Kali blushed. "You girls are too vocal."

Valeria intervened. "As if you don't like sinking your hands in Yasenia's breasts or butt when she hugs you closely."

"Valeria!"

Cecile chuckled. "I think the best sensation is how her breasts squish against mine. The feeling is divine."

"Hmm, I agree. Since my tits are so small, her melons basically swallow my tits." Said Evelyn.

The others looked at Evelyn's flat chest.

"It is completely possible." Nodded Andrea.

Evelyn somehow felt that she lost something valuable with that comment.

Meanwhile, Luna was blinking on the side, utterly confused.

The two S.L.U.T members added.

"As expected of Peerless Dragoness Yasenia! She acts so convincingly that I almost began considering myself her slave, not that I would mind. Also, her cuteness is as unrivaled as her beauty!" Said S.L.U.T number one.

"Don't worry, Cosmos Divine Dragoness Yasenia. I'm soft and fragrant. You can hug me to sleep, no problem. Also, acting as a mattress is no problem!" Followed S.L.U.T number two.

Our girls looked at them and laughed.

Meanwhile, Yasenia was too far gone by Tatyana's expert caresses, purring without control and licking Tatyana's face with squinted eyes.

The tongue was dry, and she didn't leave saliva all over her face. A dragon's tongue could be like a cat's, which was very comfortable when getting licked.

It could also be like a normal tongue, which Yasenia used when kissing and such.

Since dragon cubs had a bit of trouble getting cleaned when they were young, a dragon developed a tongue that can lick them clean while also being good at scooping up dirt from between the soft juvenile scales of a dragon.

Usually, since dragons have already gained intelligence, they would just bathe their cubs. But it was an evolutionary trait that existed.

Time passed, and it was one in the morning before they knew it.

Chapter 496: Lovely and Tender moments. The Fox's situation. (R-18)

Yasenia stood up and looked at Luna. She was grabbing Evelyn's dress and sleeping while leaning on her.

"Evelyn dear, carry her to your bed. You'll sleep with me either way."

Evelyn blinked and asked cutely. "Where will we do it then?"

The dragoness was surprised. "It's quite late, love. Do you really want to do it? How about going to sleep?"

Evelyn said, playing with her fingers. "If you are tired, then I don't mind. But if you are not tired, I want to spend some time with you."

Yasenia was energetic enough. She felt a bit tired previously, but after resting on Tatyana, she felt refreshed.

Yasenia approached Evelyn and leaned down to kiss her lips. "Dear, if you want to do it, just ask. I'll tell you honestly if I'm tired or not, so don't hold back your desires."

Evelyn couldn't hug Yasenia because Luna was leaning on her, but she could smile as she answered. "It's just... I really like our intimacy, Yasenia. Each time we have intercourse, I feel like you envelop my being as if my world is filled with your colors."

Yasenia's eyes softened. "Carry her to bed first, love. I'll visit you later, okay?"

Yasenia looked around and asked. "Do you all want to do it?"

They all nodded except Andrea.

She stood up as she said. "Love, this night, I'll pass. I'm still dead tired after creating that armor."

Yasenia smiled and went forward to hug her. "Goodnight, darling. Go directly to my bed tonight. I want you to hold me to sleep, okay?"

Andrea and Yasenia kissed for a minute softly and tantalizingly. Andrea poked her nose with Yasenia's and smiled. "Goodnight, love."

Then, Andrea left.

After asking the others, Yasenia carried them one by one to the extra bedrooms. Tatyana looked at the two S.L.U.T members and said. "Go to those rooms if you want to sleep. If you don't want to, cultivate."

They nodded and bowed. "Goodnight, headmistress."

Angel and the others waved. "Goodnight!"

"Have a fun time~." Said S.L.U.T. number one.

"If you feel like you want to add people, we are always available ~." Jokey S.L.U.T. number two.

They all giggled and waved at them.

Yasenia carried them to another room one by one and appeared every ten to fifteen minutes later. She didn't want to do something too tiring.

Whenever she exited, they all had silly smiles and flushed cheeks.

Yasenia started with Angel, then Cecile, Tatyana, Evelyn, and finally Kali.

Kali got carried the last inside in a princess carry, making her giggle. Her fox tails wagged as she leaned on her lover's firm arms.

Once inside the room, their lips met together. Then, the tongues got out and began exchanging saliva.

Kali was sensitive in her mouth because of the way Yasenia made her accustomed to sex again. When Yasenia sucked her tongue into her mouth and used the long reptilian tongue to coil around hers, Kali's legs lost strength as she moaned.

Their clothes didn't take long to disappear, and their soft bodies squished together.

Hugging another woman closely as you kiss is one of the best sensations to exist, as feeling each other softness rubbing together is delightful.

Yasenia slowly leaned Kali on her back and opened her legs.

Yasenia licked Kali's scars and said softly. "Honey, I'm going to enter, okay? You are already soaked down there."

Kali blushed and hugged Yasenia's neck tightly, burying her face there. "Mhm."

Her legs obediently opened as she prepared to feel Yasenia's dick entering her.

Yasenia laughed softly beside her ear, making her feel tingly. "Yasenia, it tickles~."

Yasenia turned Kali's head and smiled. "I was just thinking about how long we've come together."

Kali looked into Yasenia's golden eyes and smiled lovingly. She reminisced. "When you told me you knew how I felt for you, I felt like the world was crumbling right before me until I saw your smile."

Kali stated. "Your smiling face was and always will be like a ray of light in the darkness for me, Yasenia. I really love it when you smile."

Yasenia laughed happily and caressed her cheek. "Saying such sweet words, calling you honey, is not in vain~."

Yasenia sighed a bit. "But I was too hasty back then."

Kali was curious. "Why? Although you were much more inexperienced than now, I think you should've known, right?"

Yasenia smiled awkwardly. "I was... fearful. I thought, if this woman can't bear the pressure of a confession, then I can't take care of her. If she does, then I'll pour my soul into healing her."

Kali sighed in relief. "Thankfully, I got encouraged by you."

Yasenia kissed Kali's lips and commented. "When I felt your love for me, it felt heavy back then. Firstly, I promised the other girls I wouldn't add anyone more unless an exception happened. Then, your experience made me afraid that I couldn't make you happy."

Kali giggled. "So silly."

Yasenia laughed together with her and bit her lip. "Kali, when I admit a lover, my objective is not to have a superficial relationship. I want them to be the happiest they can be and continue developing in their path. I want to create a connection that can last millennia."

Kali nodded. "I can feel it."

Yasenia looked down. "Back then, you were as fragile as fractured glass. Thinking about how my actions could hurt you, how my actions could maybe push you further into the wrong path, I was scared of accepting you even when I clearly liked you."

Yasenia smiled wryly. "I selfishly thought to push you toward destruction by my hand or salvation by my hand."

Kali did not feel it was incorrect. It wasn't Yasenia's duty to take care of her. The fact that she gave her a chance was more than enough for Kali to feel grateful.

"Why did you like me?"

Yasenia laughed. "Who wouldn't love a smart, strong, determined, talented, and beautiful woman like you? I could clearly see who you truly were. External appearances don't blind me, Kali."

Kali teared up and bit and kissed Yasenia's lips. "I'm the happiest I've ever been, Yasenia. Even happier than before what happened back then."

Yasenia smiled happily. "That's honey for my ears~."

Kali laughed at the double meaning.

"Let's begin, love."

Kali was much more relaxed and nodded, nuzzling her face against Yasenia. "I'm ready."

Then, Yasenia used her hand to point her member against the narrow entrance and began pushing slowly.

Sex with Kali was always slow because of her tiny hole.

The first penetration was euphoric for both of them.

The feeling of opening her vagina with her penis and the feeling of being stretched and filled was otherworldly and made both of them groan with pleasure.

The Dragoness felt the tight entrance slowly going around the glans of her dick, and she bit Kali's fox ear. "Honey, I love how tight you are."

Kali bit her neck as a moan escaped her throat.

Her nerves were firing constant pleasure signals as her dear dragoness carefully penetrated her.

She loved having sex with Yasenia, the feeling of her filling her insides and the sensation of her fluids staining her core.

Yasenia's dick finally pushed through the tight entrance, and the tight vaginal entrance clamped around her shaft.

Then, Yasenia pushed. Piercing deeper was not that hard, as Kali's insides were very slimy and easy to pry open.

Kali's nails tried to dig into Yasenia's skin as she groaned. "Oh, so full. It feels so good."

Yasenia hilted herself as she pushed against her cervix.

The little kiss against it made Kali's waist jump a bit. Because of her arousal, it didn't hurt at all. It felt like a slight shock of pleasure cursed her body each time she felt the penis tip kiss her cervix.

Kali's legs went around Yasenia's waist, and their mouths searched each other to meet and begin kissing again.

Yasenia moved her waist and scrapped her insides.

Her entrance was so stretched that each movement touched Kali's best spots and sent electric currents across her body.

Yasenia moaned together with Kali. The fertile Yin energy of the fox was like heavenly nectar for the dragoness to absorb.

Their energies mixed as the pleasure increased.

With their sensations continuously building up, their moaning increased in volume.

Kali could feel Yasenia rotating her waist to press on her sweet spots and make her body tremble with pleasure.

At one point, the penis head hit that spot with a bundle of nerves connected to the clitoris, and Kali's eyes rolled about.

"Oh fuck!"

Kali screamed as her body tensed and her abdomen quivered.

Her eyes flashed white once as she orgasmed and felt the penis inside her twitch and inflate with her contractions.

Kali knew what was coming, and her heartbeat accelerated further as arousal and pleasure hit her body like waves.

"I'm cumming, love." Yasenia's deep and mellow whisper entered her ears, making Kali squeeze her vagina.

Then, a gush of hot white liquid stained her insides after the dick swelled.

As her legs and abdomen contracted and spasmed, Kali felt like something had electrocuted her.

"Ah!"

The pleasure forced her to close her legs, but the big-breasted beauty between her legs, pouring her semen inside her, blocked her actions because of their position, making her moan throatily as the pleasure further increased.

Her nails sunk into Yasenia's back as she bit the dragoness's neck while her green eyes rolled. Her legs tightly clamped Yasenia's waist, and her insides and muscles spasmed with euphoria.

Yasenia loved their sudden attacks. It felt like they were trying to mark her, making the pain feel exciting.

Yasenia slowly pulled out, but the fox's clamping strength proved to be superior.

Yasenia saw Kali's green eyes misty with tears of pleasure. "Yasenia, more, I want more."

Yasenia smiled, and her tail moved toward Kali's mouth.

She knew her fox was more sensitive to fucking her mouth than her ass, so her double penetrations usually involved her mouth and vagina.

Then, as Yasenia bit and played with the furry ears, her waist and tail pierced deeply until she came twice more in each hole.

Kali finally lost the strength to maintain her grip on the dick inside her and let it go as her body fell limp after reaching orgasm many times.

Yasenia also softened her member, and it naturally slipped out together with a white cascade of pearly white liquid.

The fox was breathing roughly and looking at Yasenia with a lovely and dependent expression.

Her arms were around the dragoness's waist as she buried her face between the breasts.

Yasenia was using her height advantage to make this possible and burying her honey with her body.

Valeria suddenly materialized below them and hugged Kali and Yasenia from behind.

Yasenia and Kali fell into Valeria's embrace.

Then, the three-meter-tall lady whispered with an ethereal tone as if speaking directly to Kali's soul. "Kali, focus on your dantian."

Yasenia did not move or interrupt and allowed the giant woman to embrace both of them in her soft and nice-smelling embrace. She stayed quiet and observed the situation.

Valeria followed. "Good girl. Look into your dantian and connect with the [Weather controlling Stone], darling. Use Yasenia's energy inside you and make it flow through your meridians toward it."

After Kali began doing what Valeria said, Valeria spoke to Yasenia mentally. 'Yasenia, she is evolving into a three-tailed fox. I need more of your energy to help her. You have three options. They have the same result, but the time needed for each is different.'

Yasenia said. 'Tell me from fastest to slowest.'

Valeria then began explaining the methods.

Chapter 497: [True Primordial Beast]. Kali's innate skills.

After Kali began doing what Valeria said, Valeria spoke to Yasenia mentally. 'Yasenia, she is evolving into a three-tailed fox. I need more of your energy to help her. You have three options. They have the same result, but the time needed for each is different.'

Yasenia said. 'Tell me from fastest to slowest.'

Valeria then began explaining the methods to Yasenia while guiding Kali on how to move her energy across her dantian and meridians.

To Kali, Valeria slowly whispered. "Move the energy counterclockwise, and simultaneously, make it flow across all your limbs. Focus on the limbs, especially your two tails, so your bloodline understands how to develop your body further. You are a Unification Realm expert, Kali, so use your soul's understanding to help."

Kali did so, and she felt her energy activating her bloodline. Her senses dove deep into herself, and her mind managed to tap into her bloodline's true potential.

The [Life's Origin Nine-Tailed Fox] bloodline felt like a Boundless Cosmos of life.

In front of Kali's eyes, the image of a nine-tailed green fox bigger than any star appeared. The majestic creature was like an Overlord looking over all creation.

With a wave of one tail, there was a supernova of life energy, creating countless Worlds around the fox.

As it drifted among the stars, the planets orbited around it.

With the energy surge of its second tail, all Worlds were filled with living creatures.

With its third tail, the godlike creature bathed all Worlds with another wave of Life energy, making all beings evolve and grow instantly.

Kali could feel that some of the creatures recently born in those worlds were even stronger than what she had felt from the real Tatyana, making her feel reverence for the creature.

The colossal fox's eyes moved and looked directly at Kali.

The gaze of a being above gods slammed onto her, forcing her to snap out of the vision.

This creature was a [True Primordial Beast], a beast that surpassed creation and destruction.

A creature above concepts.

These images were the awakening of Kali's most extraordinary Innate skills.

[First Tail: Nascent Life], [Second Tail: Blooming Life], [Third Tail: Developing Life].

Until now, Kali's innate skills were lackluster compared to what they should be. She had a skill called [Myriad Blooming Flowers] and Valeria's summoning skill, [Golden Flower Queen].

[Myriad Blooming Flowers] created a domain-type skill that covered everything in hundreds of meters around her as it summoned, as the name said, a myriad of flowers with different effects.

Poisonous flowers, healing flowers, parasitic flowers... Kali could create any plant she had understood to perfection and control them as if they were her fingers.

It was very strong, but with a bloodline related to a creature like the [Life's Origin Nine-Tailed Fox], it felt like not enough.

The main reason was that, unlike the other girls, Kali was still unlocking the potential of her bloodline. As her tails developed, she gained more innate skills.

Moreover, among the new innate skills was a fourth one named [Nature Fox Transformation].

Valeria's words entered Kali's ears again. The time to describe everything in Kali's mind was long, but it wasn't longer than a blink in the real world.

"Use the energy I picked from back in the Secret Realm's [Life Spring Lake]. Reach for it deep in your Dantian and absorb a part of it to mix it with the energy moving across your body."

Kali refocused and continued moving her energy by following Valeria's words.

Simultaneously, Yasenias heard Valeria's message in her mind. 'The first and fastest method to help is pouring your energy inside me, Yasenias. If Kali and I have your energy as a conduit, it will end quickly because our connection will deepen. Kali already has a good amount of your energy inside, but we may need to replenish it later because this method is the quickest but also the most energy-consuming.'

Valeria observed Yasenias's reaction and saw that she was looking at her with a pondering expression.

Valeria wasn't lying, but she thought Yasenias might think she had second intentions.

She had been quite eager lately to taste Yasenias and close their relationship.

Even then, if Yasenias thought she was using this moment as a chance to get close, Valeria would feel slightly disappointed.

But our Nature Spirit Queen had nothing to fear. Yasenias already had experience with seniors and rituals and knew they took it very seriously. Not to mention, Yasenias knew Valeria's attitude.

For Valeria, she was a fascinating creature with extraordinary and exciting qualities.

However, Kali was Valeria's center of the Universe.

Valeria would not hesitate to annihilate ten of herself if Kali were at risk. She might be the number two in Valeria's heart, but the distance between number one and two was the same between your closest person and a stranger.

Incomparable.

There wasn't any genuine love for her in Valeria. The ancient and eons-old creature only had curiosity and desire to spread her bloodline with a genetically superior creature like her, and Yasenias knew it.

This was one of the reasons why Valeria did not move Yasenias's heart and probably never will. Unlike Tatyana, who left her heart vulnerable before her affection and allowed it to be influenced, Valeria or Mirrory would never do something like that. These creatures had had conscience since time immemorial, and their feelings were reserved for their Masters.

The reason Yasenias was sure about Valeria's and Mirrory's feelings for their masters was what she had heard from them of their previous owners.

Looking at Valeria's previous master, it was clear that the Nature Queen was very fond of him since she defended him until the bitter end. Moreover, when Tatyana insulted him back then, Valeria got genuinely angry.

'Continue Valeria. Don't worry. I understand you are telling me the facts and nothing more to help Kali the best way you can.'

Valeria blinked her large and beautiful green eyes twice and then smiled. 'Thank you for trusting me, Yasenia.'

Yasenia smiled back. 'If I can't trust you with Kali's matters, I might as well distrust that the air is constantly poisoned.'

Valeria followed the explanation of the other methods she found feasible. 'The second method is to kiss Kali and give her energy mouth to mouth.'

'Not you?'

Valeria shook her head. 'The other methods don't include me. That's why they are much slower.'

'I see.'

Valeria said. 'This second method is much slower; we'll probably need two or three days to finish. Therefore, Kali would've to sacrifice her participation in the competition.'

'That's not a problem. Kali is the first priority. I will do it even if I have to spend a year straight.'

Valeria continued. 'The last method is to passively allow Kali to absorb the energy you emit from your body. We should end in a month or so. However, this method is much gentler, and we can move places. The drawback is that if Kali is not having skin-to-skin contact with you, it can go awry quite quickly, as you would be her balancing medium.'

'How long would it take for the first method?'

'Between six and seven hours. The competition is in the evening, so we should be able to make it by then. It is now four o'clock in the morning.'

Yasenia looked at the entranced Kali, who followed Valeria's guidance and got thoughtful.

'What about my blood essence?'

Valeria blinked twice as if she didn't understand.

Yasenia looked at her seriously and asked. 'What about giving her my blood essence coated in my Celestial Energy? Is that more helpful?'

Valeria nodded quickly but then furrowed her brows. 'Yasenia, although I would be delighted if you did that, that's actually harmful to you. You will need a few months at least, a few years at most, to recover the lost Blood Essence. If you don't control the amount well, it can cripple your cultivation speed. Blood Essence is a very delicate part of you.'

Valeria said it because she couldn't guarantee Tatyana wouldn't be angry if Yasenia did so.

Yasenia smiled and asked again. 'How would it be if I give you my energy besides giving Kali my blood essence?'

Valeria gulped, feeling that what Yasenia spoke was too delicious sounding.

'That would actually be perfect. Don't ask if giving me your blood essence would be useful because it wouldn't. I'm more like a channel and a guide. Your blood essence is only useful in helping Kali's beast bloodline to evolve. Moreover, if you give it to her, the benefits do not just speed; the chances of reaching the Nine Tails in the future would be much higher.'

'How are her chances of reaching her full potential now?'

Valeria shook her head. 'Even with my help, reaching seven or eight tails would be her maximum. Eight tails are guaranteed if you help, but nine tails would still be tough.'

'Seriously?'

Valeria smiled proudly. 'If Kali miraculously reached Nine tails right now, she would be basically invincible below Transcendence. As you are currently, she would mop the floor with you even if you become ten times stronger and wear Transcendence realm items from head to toe. Not to mention you, she may even have a chance to surmount realms to fight against Transcendent Realm cultivators.'

Yasenia was stunned for a moment.

'So, will we do the method you suggested?'

'Yes. Don't worry about anything else but Kali. I'll deal with the rest.'

Valeria nodded eagerly.

Then, Yasenia changed their position from lying side by side to lying on top of each other.

Valeria and Yasenia slowly moved Kali.

First, Valeria lay on her back and opened her legs. Valeria's three-meter height came in handy right at this moment as she could easily make Kali lean on her torso and create an easy way for Yasenia to crawl between them.

Their position changed to Valeria on her back, with Kali lying on her torso face up and Yasenia leaning on Kali.

After positioning, Yasenia communicated with her dears outside via Spiritual Sense. This was her last step for one reason. She knew they wouldn't mind.

However, even if she knew, informing them and not doing so were entirely different situations.

'Dears, you should've noticed the energy gathering in our room. Kali is growing her third tail, and my help will help a lot.'

'The method of helping will be pouring my energy into Valeria and becoming the medium between them so that Valeria can guide Kali in the process.'

Tatyana spoke first. 'Little Treasure, don't hold back when giving energy. Valeria can handle ten of you together. However, try to have one up on her and at least make her orgasm continuously and show an embarrassing face. The fact that she can absorb your energy doesn't mean she is immune to pleasure.'

Evelyn and the others were woken up by Yasenia's message, and they all answered.

Evelyn laughed. 'Tatyana said what I wanted to say. You should share with us how the spirit pussy of someone like Valeria feels later~.'

Cecile said with worry. 'Be careful, my love. Remember, she is a senior. She may suck too much energy.'

Angel commented. 'Yasenia, we'll protect the outside, so go ahead and help Kali! Sleeping on three tails must be super comfortable~.'

Andrea reassured our dragoness. 'If you can't finish today, don't worry. Focus on her, and we'll take care of the rest. Kali is the most important right now.'

Yasenia smiled softly. 'Be careful. I've chosen the fastest method. Yet, there is a method that needs much more time but allows us to move, so if you feel that we are taking too long and there is danger, don't fear communicating with us. I love you.'

They all responded with words of love and cut the communication right after.

Valeria smiled. 'They are much more understanding than I thought.'

Yasenia rolled her eyes. 'You should know our bond is that strong.'

Valeria laughed. 'You are right. It was silly of me to worry.'

Yasenia smirked. 'You will soon worry about other things, though.'

Kali was focused on her transformation.

However, Yasenia still spoke to her after asking Valeria if it would disrupt anything.

"Honey, I'm going to give Valeria my energy to help you with the process. Do you mind? The position will be the one we are in. Me on top of you while giving Valeria energy."

Kali was surprised. Her mind flashed with the image of the two women, and her cheeks flushed.

Valeria spoke. "Kali dear, focus. Your heart is beating too fast."

Kali took a deep breath to regain her concentration. "Okay, Yasenia. Be careful. I don't want to hurt you as I did in the past."

"Don't worry, honey. We are here for you." Yasenia kissed her lips softly and smiled.

Chapter 498: Valeria, Kali, Yasenia. (R-18)

After reassuring Kali, Yasenia prepared to penetrate Valeria. She was between her legs, so it was easy.

Yasenia aimed and pointed at Valeria's plump and greenish lips. Yasenia placed her dick between Valeria's labia and used her hand to move it up and down.

"You can penetrate me whenever you want, Yasenia. My insides are always lubricated."

Yasenia nodded and finally lifted her waist a bit, leaning on top of Kali a bit further up, and then she took a deep breath.

Unlike Tatyana, who accommodated her, Valeria would probably not at the beginning.

Yasenia's dick pushed open Valeria's labia, revealing a pinkish cave.

Then, the dragoness slowly lowered her waist and entered Valeria.

The feeling of her dick piercing into a tight, warm, and highly pleasurable vagina reached her mind.

Not knowing when, Yasenia pushed all she could and hilted herself with a moan. Then, she began pounding as if it was the last thing she wanted to do.

Electricity assaulted Yasenia all around her body as the otherworldly vagina clung around her dick and lit up every nerve there.

She felt as if her dick had become a clitoris. "Oh! My dick is melting!"

The Spirit Queen's walls were clinging around her and trembling, making the sensations ten times more pleasurable.

As if that wasn't enough, Valeria could suck Yasenia's Yang energy passively even before Yasenia came. This gave Yasenia the sensation of a gentle but continuous orgasm that, added to everything else, almost made Yasenia cum instantly.

Although the woman was enormous, her vagina seemed tailor-made for her dick as it wriggled, sucked, and squeezed her length.

Valeria moaned pleasantly. "As expected of you, Yasenia. You are so delicious. Hmm~, you feel much bigger than I expected, such a perfect size~."

Kali blushed to her ears when she heard Yasenia's moaning voice and Valeria's voice dripping with sensuality.

She could see Yasenia's pupils expanding as her golden eyes looked to the ceiling while the sound of flesh against flesh entered her ears. 'Valeria and Yasenia are connected~. I feel my heart pounding in excitement.'

Valeria was sharing a part of the sensations, and she could feel Yasenia's rough pounding as if the dick was inside her. 'Yasenia is so intense.'

Yasenia tried to keep it in, so she hugged Kali strongly and whispered between moans. "Honey, please bite my neck. I will burst already if you don't inflict pain to control the orgasm."

Kali blushed even more.

Thankfully, the process was already ongoing, so unless someone interrupted, the three of them could do as they wanted as long as Yasenia provided both of them with energy.

Kali saw Yasenia's eyes get watery as she pleaded to her to inflict pain, and her heartbeat accelerated. 'Are Valeria's insides that pleasurable? Yasenia's face is so erotic.'

Looking at Yasenia's blush and feeling her sweating and trembling body, she knew it was.

Yasenia pleaded. "Please, love. I'm going to cum!"

Kali reacted and opened her mouth, biting Yasenia's neck.

Nevertheless, our fox was a bit afraid of hurting Yasenia too much, and she didn't dare bite firmly.

Yasenia's elastic and hard-to-pierce skin didn't send the sensation of pain Yasenia searched for, but only pure and unadulterated stimulation of having her neck pleasantly bitten by her fox.

It was like the straw that broke the camel's back. "Fuuuck!"

Yasenia's eyes rolled up as she felt her tail organ squeezing out a huge ejaculation that burned her with pleasure as it traveled through her canals and exited from her dick.

The constant orgasm on top of the massive orgasm made Yasenia's dick spurt semen as if she was pissing herself.

If it weren't because our dragoness closed her tail's orifice beforehand, Yasenia's tail would have become a semen sprinkler.

Valeria felt for the first time Yasenia's release.

The semen exited strongly, and it pierced her whole vagina and cervix, flooding her uterus instantly.

Yasenia didn't hold back any energy. When the semen painted her insides white, Valeria's body tensed, her back arched, lifting both Yasenia and Kali, and she threw her head back with her eyes rolling up and leaving only whites.

"OHH!!! WHAT IS THIS!?"

Valeria's pussy squirted, something that had literally never happened to the Nature Spirit Queen, as the sensations created by Yasenia's semen were too much for her current body's strength.

It wasn't that Valeria had never had good sex. The problem was that her level was too high the times she did it, and it was impossible to lose control like this at higher levels unless the partner was related to the laws of sex.

The sound of the usually gentle and calm Valeria throatily screaming in pleasure as she came was quite the ear candy for Kali.

The contrast was infinitely attractive and erotic. 'Heavens, I didn't know Valeria could scream like that.'

An orgasm also assaulted Kali's body since she shared senses with Valeria, but it was much milder. Compared to the orgasms of Yasenia directly cumming inside her was still lacking, hence the lack of craziness in her.

Even then, it managed to make her moan aloud.

After her body finished orgasming, Kali focused on feeling her two favorite women cumming. 'I hope they get along better after this.'

Yasenia's Yang energy flooded the Nature Queen's insides. Without control because of the orgasm that was making her drool, her tail moved to her backside and tried to pierce inside.

However, Valeria didn't have an anus since her body was not truly human, just an imitation.

But the current Yasenia didn't give up. Her tail pushed while moving up until she found the only hole the dragoness could find.

Valeria began relaxing. "In the name of the goddess of Nature, that was intense. Hm? What are you doing with your tail-OMPH!"

Valeria groaned in pleasure as a second rod penetrated her vagina and opened her widely.

Then, the second rod that had firmly kept inside the liquid burst and released another ocean of delicious nutrients for the Nature Spirit Queen.

Valeria moaned again, her body greedily absorbing Yasenia's semen and getting electrocuted in pleasure.

Then, Yasenia began moving back and forth, her dick and tail fucking the Nature Spirit Queen as they both climbed to heaven together.

Yasenia bit Kali's fox ear and pleaded. "Honey, please bite strongly!"

Kali was too aroused by the two women that had her trapped between them and were moving back and forth. She was like a boat in a storm, with softness and arousing smells surrounding her all around.

Kali heard Yasenia and decided not to hold back. She opened her mouth wide, showing her fangs, and then chomped down.

The powerful teeth of the fox pierced Yasenia's skin and made her bleed.

The assault of pain woke up Yasenia's mind, but she didn't stop moving her waist.

After her mind woke up, thanks to the bite, she hastily used those seconds of clarity to move a drop of blood essence together with a strand of Celestial energy to exit from the wound into Kali's mouth.

Kali thought that Yasenia's blood was very sweet and tasty.

Suddenly, she felt a thing mixed with the blood and licked it curiously.

Her mouth and body burst with a wave of flavor and vitality as the drop of blood essence went down her throat.

'OH, MY HEAVENS!'

It felt like she had swallowed a drop of nectar from the Heavens.

Her body also felt the Celestial Energy in that drop of blood with infinite potential, and Kali's eyes almost rolled to the back of her skull.

The powerful wave was the strongest sensation Kali had ever felt as her body completely lost control, and every fluid she could release was released because of the monstrous wave of pleasure.

Kali joined the other two orgasming women.

Yasenia's Blood Essence and Celestial Energy nurtured her body like rain did in a dried-up forest.

"Ahhh!!!"

Yasenia continued moving her waist as Kali's fluids splashed on her, making a complete mess between all the women that seemed to be made of water.

Before losing her mind completely again, Yasenia shouted. "Valeria, start the process!"

Valeria bit her lip and placed her hand on Kali's dantian. "Kali, love, follow my steps."

Kali almost didn't remember her name because of the brain-melting pleasure she had just felt. However, Valeria's voice reached her soul directly, allowing her to follow her words.

Her mind was dazed because of the waves of pleasure around her body, but she pushed through and began the assimilation and transformation process.

Even then, Kali's mouth and tongue were licking Yasenia's wound and sucking the vitality-filled blood.

Yasenia hugged Kali between her arms and allowed Kali to lick her wound as her waist and tail moved continuously inside Valeria.

The Nature Spirit Queen's and the dragoness's body rocked back and forth as the process continued.

Kali was in heaven.

Her two most loved people squished her body, her nerves sent pleasure signals all the time, making her feel as if she was floating through the galaxy, and her mouth was filled with the sweet and delightful taste of Yasenia's blood.

Her beastly side was awakened entirely, and her two tails and legs coiled around Yasenia.

Her pussy was pressing against Yasenia's navel, and she kept rubbing with her legs locked around the dragoness's waist.

Then, Yasenia and Valeria also allowed themselves to succumb to their primal instincts and began fornicating like beasts.

They changed positions occasionally, and Yasenia also began fucking Kali.

Kali buried her face between Valeria's tits and hugged her waist as Yasenia pounded her pussy from behind. Valeria's index finger entered her butt hole and fingered her, and then Yasenia bit her nape to keep her in place as she smashed her womb with electric feelings of pleasure.

Yasenia's tail was deeply logged inside Valeria, literally penetrating the cervix with her practically infinite length.

"YES! POUND MY PUSSY! YES! YES! YES!" This was Kali.

"OHH! SO DEEP! YASENIA, PIERCE ME DEEPER AND FLOOD MY INSIDES!" This was Valeria.

"FUCK! YOUR PUSSIES ARE SO GOOD! GET CREAMPIED AGAIN!" This was Yasenia.

After getting their fill, Yasenia stopped biting Kali, turned her around, and then pushed her onto the bed.

Valeria's pussy suddenly grew a dick, and while Yasenia pinned Kali onto the bed to fuck her again, she suddenly felt her pussy being opened by quite a monster.

Yasenia roared in pleasure. 'SO BIG!?'

Then, the giant green lady used her body's size and directly pinned the other two below her.

Yasenia felt her vagina stretching to the limits as the Spirit Queen's dick crushed her womb.

The dragoness was basically made for sex, and her body spasmed in pleasure even when being roughly fucked.

Kali could feel Valeria move inside Yasenia because of the dragoness's elasticity and ability to take giant members while Yasenia pounded her own pussy with her dragon.

The dragoness's tail went around and did not lose time lodging inside Valeria again.

Valeria pounded Yasenia with wild abandon and delight and came.

Yasenia's uterus was filled with the superior Spirit Nature's semen, and she almost lost it.

The fertility of the load was something she had never felt before.

If she hadn't been trained before, this would have impregnated her because Although Valeria has Yin energy and couldn't impregnate normal women, Yasenia was Yin and Yang.

Valeria did it without any intention, as they were purely fucking on instinct right then.

The threesome was animalistic, to say the least, as the dragoness's essence came to light, and she dominated both women.

After getting creampie'd by the Spirit queen, Yasenia jumped on Valeria's dick while holding Kali with her arms and fucking her simultaneously.

Kali bounced up and down on Yasenia's dick, and Yasenia bounced up and down on Valeria's dick.

Valeria and Kali could only moan as Yasenia dominated them, and from time to time, Yasenia let them take the reins.

Both women licked Yasenia's body and kissed her all around as Yasenia would pound them together, alone, or fuck one while making the other lick her.

This went on for two hours before Yasenia was utterly empty.

Chapter 499: Kali's third tail. Valeria's lack of common sense. (R-18)

This went on for two hours before Yasenia was utterly empty.

After the dragoness put in so much effort, the energy around them flowed toward them rapidly.

Kali didn't really need Yasenia to advance. The reason Yasenia's help was needed was for speed.

If Yasenia didn't interfere, Kali would be able to unlock her third tail in half a year. It looks like much, but for cultivators who already have more than a thousand years of lifespan, half a year is nothing.

However, Yasenia's help could accelerate the process to under three hours.

As the energy was suctioned toward the fox, Valeria hugged them and used her aura to mix with the monstrous amounts of energy flowing around.

Kali's mind also focused on the energy, and as the pure Life energy entered her body, her tired mind reinvigorated, and she woke up from her groggy state after having sex for so long.

Her eyes opened, and her verdant green eyes gained a beautiful glow.

"Kali, love. Absorb everything without holding back, do not worry about your meridians. They can take all of this."

Kali felt her pores open as she sucked everything in. Her Dantian and meridians swelled as her body was inundated with the mix of Valeria's, Yasenia's, and her own energy.

Kali's cultivation increased wildly as she advanced several months' worth of progress in just a single moment.

Valeria aimed for this moment and used all the energy inside her as a medium to cushion the backlash of the wave of energy. Then, everything inside Kali merged and nourished while breakthrough the bottleneck toward the next level.

BOOM!

Kali's aura burst with extreme might as the shockwave blasted everything in the room.

The room walls would've collapsed without the preventive formations Angel and Tatyana had laid before.

Then, after her cultivation increased to the second level of the Unification Realm, Kali felt a burning sensation at the root of her spine, between her two tails.

Valeria and Yasenia observed their aura as her third tail delicately sprouted and quickly grew from the space between the other two appendages she had long possessed.

Valeria caressed Yasenia's back and tail root and asked softly. "Yasenia love. This will take ten more minutes. Can you hold on?"

Yasenia was drenched in sweat, and her waist had just stopped moving inside Valeria.

After so much sex, she felt as if her dick belonged in Valeria's pussy. Yasenia looked up with watery eyes, exhaustion filling her face, and asked. "Sorry, repeat the question. I'm a bit out of it."

Valeria felt her heart softening and asked. "Can you continue for ten more minutes?"

Yasenia frowned. Then, she asked. "Is it necessary?"

Valeria shook her head softly. "This will change the chances from a ninety-nine point nine percent to one hundred percent, nothing more."

Yasenia breathed heavily and wanted to move, but she couldn't move anymore after losing Blood Essence and most of her Yang energy. "Sorry, Valeria. I'm at my limit. I really can't. If you can make me cum without me moving, then go ahead, but my body is exhausted."

Valeria nodded and tried. Yasenia's member was ultra-sensitive, so with the Spirit Queen's expert care, it didn't take long for her to start twitching and spurting semen again.

Yasenia kissed Kali as she did so. Kali was semi-conscious and responding to the kisses of her lover.

The sensation of her third tail growing was comfortable and burning at the same time. "Mmmn, Yasenia, Yasenia, I love you."

Yasenia smiled tenderly and continued kissing her honey.

Valeria spoke. "Kali dear, use this last burst of energy and focus on the third tail."

She obeyed and continued the process in the same position.

Valeria caressed Yasenia's scalp and asked. "One last time, Yasenia. Fill me one last time with your delicious nectar, and we are done."

Yasenia grunted, and she relaxed her body completely. In no time, her sensitive dick and tail were stimulated enough to rock Yasenia's body with another monstrous pleasure wave, and she came one last time.

Valeria's insides greedily wiggled and squeezed, sucking all of it.

Then, her energy passed across to Kali via their connection, feeding her dantian directly and helping her make the last push.

BOOM!

The powerful explosion signified Kali's breakthrough well into the Unification Realm's second level and the end of her third tail's growth.

The new tail mirrored the beauty of the other two counterparts, shimmering with an otherworldly luster. The soft and comfortable fur cocooned Yasenia as Kali's mind returned to normal.

Yasenia saw Kali returning to normal and smiled. "Thankfully, everything went well."

Kali was about to answer when Yasenia's eyes closed as she fell forward, losing consciousness right before them.

This was the second most pleasurable sex she had ever had and the most tiring by far. Her body felt as if it didn't belong to herself anymore.

As mentioned before, giving that blood essence drop also took a toll on her body.

Valeria gently looked at Yasenia and woke up the confused and dazed Kali.

Kali had just broken through, so she was very energetic. "What happened, Valeria? Why did she faint?"

Kali slowly sat up and escaped the ultimate softness-prison that was Valeria's and Yasenia's bodies.

Yasenia fell onto Valeria, and the Spirit Queen gently hugged her.

Valeria hugged the dragoness and smiled happily. Yasenia looked like a petite woman between her arms. A scene that made Kali feel the warmth.

Our three-meter-tall lady chuckled and answered Kali. "She really worked hard. Such a good girl. She gave her all to help you, Kali."

The absolute chaos of night flashed in Kali's mind, and her face burned red. She had gone crazy on Yasenia, and the things she had shouted were not something she would have the courage to admit.

Kali was curious and looked at how Valeria gently hugged the dragoness and caressed her dark hair with her green hand as she rested her face on her breasts. "Say, Valeria. How do you feel about Yasenia after this?"

Valeria blinked and tilted her head. "Hm? How do I feel about her? I feel that I care about her, the same as before."

Kali lifted her eyebrow. "Really? Not more than before?"

Valeria was confused. "Why would I love her more or less than before?"

Kali nodded. 'As expected, sex does not affect seniors no matter how good it is.'

"By the way, I heard Yasenia grunt for a while. Did you grow... you know, a male organ?"

Valeria nodded. "When I saw Yasenia's vagina dripping with juices, I felt like I had to invade it and make it mine, so I used Yasenia to model after it and did so."

Kali nodded but paused mid-nod. "Wait, you modeled after her... With the same size?"

Valeria nodded, making Kali sigh of relief. But Valeria said. "As everything else, it is the same size proportionally."

Kali's eyes widened, and she hastily leaned below Yasenia to look at her vulva and vagina. After inspecting, she saw that other than being a bit red and leaking an emerald-white liquid, Valeria's cum, there was nothing wrong with it.

"Um, Valeria, can you summon it for me to see?"

Valeria nodded, and Kali saw Valeria's clitoris grow, and grow, and grow. Because she was hugging Yasenia, Kali saw the perfect comparison.

The penis went from Yasenia's waist up and touched her breasts, lodging the tip in the dragoness's cleavage's underside.

Kali remembered hearing Yasenia stopping Valeria from penetrating her, and our fox thanked her lover one thousand times. "This thing can kill a woman, literally. How is Yasenia only a bit red? Are her insides that elastic?"

"Valeria, this is too big for someone our size. Yasenia's could be considered too big for many. Your dick is a third longer and thicker!"

"Is it? I could perfectly take one like this, so I didn't really think things through."

Kali remembered that her dearest Valeria's common sense was on a "senior's" level.

The door was pushed open, and Tatyana entered the room. She looked around and blinked repeatedly. "You girls really went at it, huh? If we didn't have the pearls, cleaning all this mess would take a while-hm? What the hell are you placing against my girl, Valeria?"

"A dick I grew."

"I can see that! Did you use that on Yasenia?"

"I did."

"In the name of the Underworld, don't you understand the concept of size!? Are you trying to split my little treasure in half!? The only competition for that thing is a horse!"

Valeria coughed, feeling a bit embarrassed. "Kali just told me. You don't need to repeat it. Yasenia could easily take it, though."

Tatyana was speechless. "She can take it because her body is not normal, okay? She is basically an incubus and succubus combined into one. Try using that on Kali, and she will scream like a pig being slaughtered before you know it. Next time, let's use common sense, yeah?"

Valeria nodded again.

Tatyana looked between their legs, and her eyebrow twitched. "Kali has already finished transforming. Can you take my daughter's dick and tail out of you?"

Valeria blinked and smiled, hugging Yasenia closely. "Can I keep her inside a bit more? It feels really good."

Tatyana rolled her eyes. "You can't."

Valeria sighed. "Such a shame..."

Kali saw Tatyana walk forward and then snatch Yasenia away from Valeria's embrace.

Only now Kali realized that Yasenia had double penetrated Valeria. She instantly blushed when quite a literal gush of white nectar spilled out of Valeria, staining her light green skin and the bed with a white puddle.

She couldn't help but mutter. "Wow. So much!"

Valeria patted her stomach with a smile. "Yes. Sadly, Yasenia didn't lose control and fertilized me. Now that I felt it directly, she is really just right for my preferences."

Tatyana looked down and placed a hand on the dragoness, analyzing her body. "There is a bit of weakness, but she should be okay in a few hours."

"Really? That's much more resilient than I thought. Tatyana, please let me have her children."

Tatyana gave her a side-eye. "Dreaming is beautiful, horny spirit. I can sense that you've become a bit fonder of her. However, you are dreaming if you think you can have my daughter another night. Sorry to inform you, it is prohibited!"

Kali was surprised.

Valeria asked. "Why? It's not like you are losing anything. We've done it once. Doing it more times is not that bad, right?"

Tatyana sneered. "Right, if that logic were valid, how about if I kill one person, killing ten more is the same?"

Valeria and Kali were stunned. However, it was not because of the comparison but because of Tatyana's words.

Valeria said. "Tatyana, I can't feel exactly how many you've killed. This means that my senses are not sharp enough for that, and I'm confident in quantifying killing intent up to ten billion people with my current strength. This means that the number should be quite exaggerated for someone to have so many people killed that I can't even quantify it. The only ones I've encountered that killed so many are Gods related to slaughter, war, or death."

Tatyana felt that if she kept speaking with Valeria, her rolling eyes would send her flying away like a helicopter or something. "It was an example. Also, I'm a freaking Divine Lich Empress Demigoddess!"

Tatyana waved her hand. "You know what? Leave it. To think that I'm the person with logical thinking in this conversation. Kali, either you teach your second lover, I mean, summoned spirit, how to think normally, or I'll throw her to a place she can learn!"

Kali blushed and coughed. Tatyana spoke. "Don't try to deny it. I've seen your gaze stay on that green dick more than necessary. If you want to do it, remember to ask Yasenia first."

Kali blushed harder and nodded. "Don't worry, mother-in-law. I won't do it with Valeria if Yasenia is not present. She is my first and always will be."

Tatyana nodded. "That is a relief. Yasenia's love for you is very, very profound. I hope you do not do anything to betray her."

Kali seriously nodded. She would never, in a million years, do something like that.

Then, Tatyana carried the dragoness princess away and said while leaving. "Valeria, in truth, the reason for not letting you have intercourse with her is quite simple. However, until you understand how feelings work inside that empty Spirit head of yours, you can dream of fucking Yasenia again."

Then, she closed the door, leaving behind a puzzled Valeria and a wryly smiling Kali.

Chapter 500: Valeria's Shortcoming. Tatyana's Discovery.

Then, Tatyana closed the door, leaving behind a puzzled Valeria and a wryly smiling Kali.

Kali took out the [Body Scent Absorbing Pearl] and activated it. The transparent sphere the size of an apple pulsed, and every fluid in the room evaporated, creating a mist. Then, the absorption force of the item sucked everything in rapidly.

The room filled with the smell of their mixed scent was soon free of it.

Kali opened the window, and fresh air from the outside entered. She saw people below, and her eyes opened wide, remembering she was still butt naked.

However, the heart-rising moment was just a second before she remembered the formations shielded the view from the outside.

"My heavens, that scared me for a moment."

Valeria laughed and used a vine to yank Kali into her embrace.

The giant lady's softness soon surrounded Kali, her large breasts resting on top of her head.

Kali blushed as the green lady's member hit her back and went along her spine. "Cough, Valeria, please hide your dick. It is touching my back."

"Hoh? But I feel you like it."

"I do, Valeria. However, did you not hear what I spoke with Tatyana? No intimate contact without Yasenia's presence. Even if Tatyana didn't say so, I wouldn't have intimate contact with you if Yasenia was not present." Kali said earnestly.

"Even if she gives us the go-ahead?" Valeria asked with apparent confusion.

Kali nodded. "Yes. Having permission is not synonymous with an obligation to do things like that. Unless necessary, I want to avoid close intimate contact with you if Yasenia is not present."

"Strange." Muttered Valeria.

Kali felt the thing slowly shrinking and sliding down her back, giving her chills.

The thing fell between the root of her three tails and electrocuted her.

Then, it disappeared.

'That was an experience.' Kali sighed.

Our fox understood why Tatyana was against Valeria joining Yasenia's lovers' group. Her dearest Nature Spirit Queen did not understand the concept of "Love and Relationship."

For the Spirit Queen, relationships are based on four things: closeness, willingness to copulate, the possibility of betrayal, and compatibility of genes to give birth to children.

Closeness was related to trust, not feelings of love. Valeria trusted Yasenia, and Valeria knew that Yasenia trusted her. The possibility of betrayal was minimal with Yasenia since she greatly loved Kali, and Valeria felt it. The other two things, well, they just got confirmed during their night session.

Therefore, for Valeria, Yasenia was already close enough to enter a relationship with her. However, for Tatyana, these feelings were too volatile. Not to mention, Yasenia herself does not want Valeria in her harem.

Although Yasenia is balancing the "concubines" idea, she is still thinking about it. It will take a lot of time to reach a conclusion finally.

Valeria sighed and fell back onto the too-small bed. Kali fell with her. Her head squished between her giant breasts as only part of the ceiling was visible because the huge tits blocked her periphery.

"What am I missing? Do you know, Kali?"

Kali shook her head. "Valeria, it is difficult to explain. Moreover, even if you understand, you'll probably not know how to tackle it. It is not in your Nature, and that's not wrong. You are a Spirit born from Heaven and Earth. You've lived for many years and have your own ideas. Tatyana is honestly just being stubborn because she doesn't want Yasenia to have more close lovers."

Valeria. "Hm, I understand."

"Also, Yasenia herself doesn't love you, Valeria. She is comfortable with you, she doesn't mind having intercourse with you, but she doesn't love you."

"Love? That's right. It is an emotion that fleshy beings have to find a mate and copulate to reach the following generations. We, spirits, can reproduce alone. Hence, we don't need those feelings."

Kali turned around and climbed up her body, placing her waist between Valeria's breasts as she hugged her neck. "Valeria. Don't worry. I love you very much, even as you currently are. You are my savior, guardian, teacher, and guide. You are someone I will trust until the day I vanish from this world."

Valeria suddenly felt her heart skip a beat and blinked twice, unaware of what that feeling was. She couldn't help but find the scarred face of her Master cuter than before and more attractive.

She gently smiled and impulsively kissed Kali's forehead. "I see. Thank you, Kali."

Kali fluttered her eyes, feeling that kiss carry a strange warmth with it. Her three tails wagged, and she smiled.

The wag of her tails suddenly made her remember them.

She hastily stood up and walked toward a full-body mirror. This action brought Valeria's heart sweetness since Kali approaching a mirror in the past would have been something out of the question.

Our fox jumped away from Valeria's body and approached a full-body mirror.

"Look, Valeria! Three tails! Moreover, I've advanced in cultivation! I'm in the middle of the second level!"

Valeria smiled and stood up, almost hitting the high ceiling. Then, she walked behind Kali with everything still in sight and smiled. "Good Job Kali. You did very well. The tails look gorgeous."

Kali looked at the giant lady's body swaying and blushed as her three tails wagged. "Valeria, aren't you tired?"

Valeria blinked and smiled. "A little Unification Realm junior can't tire me even if she were the succubus progenitor herself at that level. However, I feel like my evolution path has slightly deviated."

Kali was stunned. "Really?"

Valeria nodded. "Either way, I wasn't supposed to have golden slit pupils. My pupils should be normal and black. Not to mention, taking this shape is very unusual. My body shape has always been more slender and more elegant, similar to Tatyana's body shape."

Kali asked. "Could you also, um, grow a penis?"

"No. That's also new. I think Yasenias has influenced me via you because she feeds you daily with her energy. I feed on your energy, so I've also been feeding on Yasenias's energy."

"Now, I can feel a deviation from my usual growth path. I could've stopped it, to be honest. However, something inside me tells me not to do so and allows everything to develop naturally. Very strange."

Kali turned around and almost choked. Her height made it just perfect to have Valeria's genitals right before her face. 'Whoa, she is similar to Yasenias even here... Not! What are you looking at, pervert Fox!'

She coughed and looked up past the impossible-to-ignore green mountains and asked. "Is it a good thing?"

Valeria walked back to the bed and sat. "Yes. I'm stronger than I should be. The path's limits are the only thing unclear to me. My final evolution with my usual path would be reaching the [Divine Nature Spirit Goddess] realm. Now, I'm not sure."

Kali gulped. 'A divine what now?'

Valeria smiled. "Well, let's leave unimportant things aside. Do you want to have a bath, Kali?"

Kali wanted to scream. "This is not unimportant!"

However, our fox knew that when a senior acted like this, it meant that it was not time to learn about it yet. "Sure. How about I try and massage you, Valeria? I've been learning from Yasenias's massages."

"Hm? The ones where she makes you twitch and squirt? Your face looks quite loose when she massages you like that."

'Why is she so direct!?' Kali blushed, but she answered anyway. "Cough, yes, those."

"Sure. Let's try them. I've always wanted to receive one."

Meanwhile, Tatyana was in her room, bathing Yasenia slowly and with care. Her hands had a special soap, and she slowly cleaned Yasenia's body.

Tatyana felt nothing about what happened, just a bit annoyed with Valeria because she didn't understand basic concepts. 'Well, it's not like a Spirit will learn these things. They do not make sense to them, after all. Only time can tell if she becomes someone worthy of Yasenia or not.'

The Death Empress remembered that Valeria had come inside, so she used her fingers and cleaned Yasenia's insides to avoid accidents. 'She is unconscious, so I can't risk it.'

Yasenia was so tired that she didn't twitch during the whole bath, even with this much movement. Tatyana's presence reassured the dragoness, so she slept like a log.

Tatyana smiled helplessly. "Sigh. Little treasure, you always go far and above for us...." Tatyana caressed Yasenia's face and smiled lovingly, kissing her lips once.

"Calling you little treasure is truly fitting. Let's see, can I do something about the Blood Essence expenditure? Hm..."

Tatyana observed Yasenia's dantian and smirked. 'Oh? The weakened Yin energy of the Spirit Queen! At least this will increase her cultivation by a lot, as she absorbs it slowly, it should reduce her cultivating time by half until the third level.'

Tatyana frowned. 'Why could Yasenia absorb it? It should be too strong... Hmm...'

Tatyana pondered. 'I've been holding back my Yin energy quite a bit. Maybe I don't have to hold it back so much? What is keeping it at bay?'

Tatyana observed the strange "solar system" Dantian she had and saw that the little Celestial Energy Star in the middle was releasing a powerful aura that made the Yin energy tame. 'Whoa! Is it that influential? I may have been underestimating the Celestial Energy.'

Tatyana then frowned. "Tsk. I can't do anything about the Blood Essence. This is one of the secrets cultivators have failed to decipher even until now. Or at least, the book I've read doesn't have anything substantial besides effects, uses, and how to aid natural regeneration with external treasures. There is nothing about directly 'healing' it."

Tatyana cradled her little treasure and took out a plant. She was about to feed it to Yasenia but stopped. 'Right, she can't chew.'

Without a single shred of hesitation, she placed it in her mouth and chewed. Then, she leaned down and fed Yasenia slowly.

Yasenia began dreaming about a tasty paste entering her mouth and eagerly swallowed in her dream. 'So yummy~. It has a bit of Mommy's taste. Delicious.'

Tatyana saw Yasenia licking and then smacking her lips. "So yummy~."

Tatyana had to stifle her laughter. "Why are you so cute, little treasure?"

Then, she carried Yasenia princess carry and laid her on the bed. The other girls had already come, Kali included, and all leaned around the dragoness, not minding her nakedness.

Angel looked at how fluffy the three tails looked and decided to sleep on them. Evelyn took the chance and took Yasenia's body for herself.

Then, all the girls asked Kali about the experience, and Kali didn't hide anything from them. They were all her family, so Kali was deeply fond of them, and so were they.

Not in a romantic tone, but a familiar one.... Well, Angel's love for Tatyana may exceed the familiar love.

The next morning came, but they didn't leave the inn because Yasenia was still asleep. She had used a lot of stamina against a senior, and she was burned.

Evelyn looked up, still lying on top of Yasenia, and asked. "Valeria, did you suck out her soul or something?"

Valeria answered mentally. 'My bad. I didn't expect her to be so delicious. Kali and I sucked her dry last night.'

Andrea commented. "That's quite the accomplishment. Anyway, let's stand up and leave. Do not bother our sleeping beauty."

Cecile said. "I want to see her sleep."

Andrea smiled. "Sure. If you are silent, I won't stop anybody from seeing her sleeping. It is quite a beautiful image, after all."

"Cecile, I want you to do something. Sorry, but you can't look at her today."

Cecile looked at Tatyana and easily nodded. "What do you want, Tatyana?"

Tatyana then asked Cecile to go with the two S.L.U.T. fans to find the others and see if they were still around.

Cecile nodded and left together with Kali. Kali was now one of the strongest combatants, as she had increased a level and multiplied her might.

Moreover, the recently nourished Valeria was extremely powerful. As she was now, she would probably be able to best Tatyana or Mirrory.

It had already been five years since Yasenia had begun the trial. During this time, her personality had undergone many changes.

Yasenia has changed from the initial approachable and smiling dragoness into an indifferent and stoic woman. Her only motive, desire, and focus seemed to be to win the war many considered lost.

"Yasenia, you should rest. You've been training for twenty hours, and we have a battle in five hours." The woman who spoke was Yasenia's second in command.

Yasenia swung her sword and danced with it elegantly, interlocking attacks with her tail, punches, and kicks.

She was much more elegant and refined than her previous brutish sword style that relied on pure strength. The dragoness realized that her strength was only a bit better than the average fighter in this war, so her previous tactics were quickly smashed one by one.

Only fighting smartly could make her feel like she could make a difference. Her skills were strong, her tail was a powerful trait, and her body was strong. Using all of this efficiently allowed her to dominate the battlefield.

Yasenia knew that if she wanted to increase in the strength ladder of this Trial, she needed to perfect these as much as she could.

She was at the Half-Step of the Mental Nourishing Realm. Hence, she didn't truly need sleep or rest. Cultivating for an hour was enough to recharge her energy and mental condition.

"Yasenia... I don't understand your fixation on this War. Why don't we leave the country together? My sisters and I are all worried for you."

Yasenia stopped her sword dance and looked at the beautiful woman. "I told you since day one. I either finish this war, or I die trying. If any of you want to leave, you are free to do so and bear the consequences."

Yasenia's cold and aloof tone made the woman tremble for a second. She could be called the closest one to her. But they could all feel that Yasenia's heart was as cold as stone, and her closeness to them was only physical closeness.

"Sigh, Yasenia. How about we relax together for a while? We all want to support you in battle, but resting is also important."

Yasenia walked to her side. She was clad in full-body silver armor. However, even this armor could not hide the perfect body curves of the dragoness, making the woman gulp.

"Relax together? Or do you want me to fuck all of you? Stop the nonsense and prepare for battle."

The woman paled a bit and looked at her disappearing back. The triple-sectioned tail with the first third black, the second third blue with golden rings, and then the last part of the entirely golden tail tip swayed with Yasenia's body, making her steps naturally seductive as her waist balanced from side to side with each step.

"Well, even if she is like that... I can feel she at least cares for us."

Yasenia walked to the top of a tower in the camp and sighed. "Will they forgive me?"

Yasenia's mutter was carried in the wind, and nobody heard it. She didn't know who she was speaking about, her dears, or the virtual women she was using without remorse for her goals.

Every sensation here was too real, and sometimes Yasenia had to meditate to remember where she was.

Often times she became too engrossed in killing enemies and almost lost her mind.

Yasenia looked to the horizon, and her sharp eyes could spot their enemy's camp. "We are five thousand, and they have eight thousand. I need to perform extra well, or the defeat can become tragic. Moreover, my promotion to the general rank will slow down by a lot if I lose. I may also lose one of those girls...."

Yasenia thought of the harem she was building in this trial where everything was not real. 'Sorry, but I can't love any of you. My heart must remain steady.'

She sunk into her mind and remembered her dears. Angel's sweet smile, Cecile's refreshing presence, Kali's scarred face, Evelyn's mischievous laugh, and Andrea's pampering gaze. Then, she remembered her mother's caring red eyes, which looked over her and protected her from the shadows. 'Good, their faces are still clear to me.'

Yasenia took a deep breath and exhaled. "Maybe, I should write a note or diary. I don't want to forget anything about them. I should read it before I leave this place so that Angel and the others don't find anything wrong with me...."

Yasenia frowned. "Angel and the others? Since when did I stop calling them my dears? It is happening more and more often...."

"Yasenia~."

The dragoness heard the sweet voice of a girl, and Angel's face flashed in her mind. However, she knew that this voice was not hers.

Angel's voice was silvery and soft like cotton, making you feel she was lovely, pure, and with a transparent heart like glass.

This one was sweet, like candy, and cheery, making you feel like she was a vivacious and gentle girl.

The dragoness turned around, her face cold, and looked at the short black-haired girl smiling at her. The petite woman walked forward and hugged the armored Yasenia. "Why are you here, Yasenia?"

Yasenia looked at her in a daze, and her hand subconsciously went to her head to pat her.

The girl giggled and pushed against the hand, snapping Yasenia out of her daze. She calmly retrieved her hand and asked. "Why are you not training, Flame? Last time you almost got into an accident."

Flame pouted. "But I want to be with you, Yasenia!"

Yasenia frowned. It has been four years since she knew this girl. Yasenia had always liked petite, soft, and cuddly girls, so when she decided to create a harem, she did not hesitate to add her.

'This might have been a mistake. My heart is sometimes too soft to her....'

"You know you can't, Flame. I need to spend equal time with all of you."

Flame frowned. "Yasenia, I feel you shouldn't be like this, spending the same time with each of us as if it were a duty. We all love you, so you being natural and spending however much time you want with us should be the correct thing."

Yasenia answered almost hastily. "I can't."

Flame was surprised by the firm rejection and pouted again. "Can I at least have a kiss?"

"No. Today is not your turn to have intimacy."

Flame sighed and separated. "Okay. We all know how stiff and cold you are. It is our fault for falling in love with a stone plate."

'Cold and stiff, eh....'

Yasenia turned around and sighed.

"Say, Yasenia..."

"Hm?"

"If any of us dies... Would you be sad?"

Yasenia frowned, feeling uncomfortable. "You won't die. I could take care of all of you until now, and that won't change."

Flame saw Yasenia's expression and smiled. "Ha! You indeed love us a little bit, or else you wouldn't have been sad."

Yasenia's heart shook, and she said coldly. "Leave."

Flame was confused. "Huh?"

"LEAVE!"

Flame jumped with a start. Then, she ran away while laughing. "Yasenia, you can't hide your heart from me~. I love you!"

Yasenia returned to her tent, sat cross-legged, and began cultivating. She took a deep breath and calmed her mind. 'You are five years in, Yasenia. At this pace, the war should last at least another five, so remain focused. You need to win this assault to capture the region they are defending. Then, with the current general's plan, we can launch a big offensive in this passage. The main army can't come because the general is taking care of it.'

Yasenia opened her golden eyes, a tint of red staining them gradually. 'I must slaughter all those bastards so I can finish this quickly. In this battle, I will go at a faster pace. I can protect myself. After five years of fighting, I'm much more refined and stronger.'

'The girls should also have proper ways of defending themselves after what I've taught them.'

Yasenia cultivated until the morning before the battle. Then, she stepped out of the tent and climbed onto a wooden platform.

She turned around and saw the five thousand people right before her eyes. At the front, a group of one-hundred-and-twenty-six women stood in different armors than the rest. They were her elite group and also her harem.

She had been recruiting them one by one during the last five years. Whenever she saw a competent woman with potential, she approached and asked directly.

Her fame was widespread in the army, so few women denied the seductive high-ranked woman with great sex techniques that increased the strength of others.

The general also knew that only those Yasenia accepted could benefit, so nobody tried tying down Yasenia and changing her into a sex slave.

Therefore, each female that wanted to be stronger would most likely not reject Yasenia.

"Today's battle is a turning point. The enemies managed to gather three thousand more men than us. However, numbers mean nothing when each of us can fight two of them. Our strength is undeniable. Our battle tactics are superior. Our armors are tougher. Our spears are sharper. They have nothing but numbers against us."

Yasenia's cold and powerful voice spread throughout the camp, reaching everyone's ears.

"My elite group will be the spearhead. Once we open a tear in the formation, enter like starving dragons, and rip apart our enemies!"

"YEAH!"

The collective shout of five thousand soldiers filled the land, reaching even the other camp.

Yasenia summoned [Draconic Heart] and walked to the front of the formation, mounting a war horse. There weren't many, but the country would give you one after reaching a certain strength. It was a sign of honor and accomplishments in battle.

Of her elite group, ten of them had one. Flame was between them.

Flame approached Yasenia's black horse with a smile and spoke. "Yasenia, please take care of your little girls one more battle."

The others chuckled and said simultaneously. "Take care of us, husband~."

Yasenia nodded. "Today, I'll go a bit faster, like we trained before. Try to keep up. If you feel it is impossible, remember to use the signal so we can regroup and change strategies. I'll be the spearhead, so follow behind me and rip through our enemies."

"Yes, husband!"

Yasenia didn't say anything, her face as cold as winter and her golden eyes shining with killing intent.

After reaching the flatland where they would fight, Yasenia commanded.

"Group one to three, advance from the right."

"Group six to eight, prepare long-range attacks to cover our brothers and sisters."

"Group fifteen, begin preparing the traps in case we need to retreat or use attack formation seven."

"The rest follow me into a frontal attack."

Then, Yasenia pointed her giant sword forward and pulled the reigns of her horse. "CHARGE!"

Yasenia's horse began galloping together with everyone else.

Her face had no hesitation as she charged forward.

"Huh? They didn't tell us the Cruel Dragon was against us!"

"Fuck, that murderous thing is here?"

"Oh my heavens, she is still undefeated!"

"Don't falter! We have three thousand more troops! Not even that crazy woman can overcome this numerical advantage!"

Yasenia took a deep breath and then roared to the sky.

"ROAR!"

Her deep and resounding dragon roar spread around the battlefield as her throat trembled because of the power behind it. The dragon cry made Yaseenia's enemies tremble, and her allies shouted with her.

"[Sun Assimilation]." Yaseenia absorbed Sun's energy like crazy, her golden slit eyes shining more brightly as she approached the enemy army.

When the distance between the armies finally reduced, Yaseenia roared. "[Sun Dragon Claw]."

The enormous forty-meter-wide phantom claw slashed at the front soldiers and exploded in a golden nova of flames.

However, many spells rained on that area, dissipating the heat and healing the ones that didn't die instantly.

Yaseenia's warhorse slammed against the first shield wall and blasted a few of them flying. Then, Yaseenia used [Sunrise], [Sunset], [Starry Sky], and her domain, [Moonless Night], to dominate the battlefield.

Her giant sword swung up and down, precisely slamming against her enemies.

She dodged, blocked, parried, and sliced heads in half. Her energy emissions from the attacks damaged the enemies near the ones she fought.

Flame galloped behind her, together with another three women, casting defensive spells to block most of the barrage directed at Yaseenia.

'There is an attack coming from the left.'

'Use that weakness in the armor.'

'Dodge that spear.'

'I need to generate more Sun energy.'

'Good, I have enough stars.'

"[Starfall]."

Over three hundred stars rained on the battlefield, damaging many people. However, the strength of the soldiers made even a direct hit not strong enough to finish them off. 'As expected, they are strong. They all would be considered geniuses back at home. Hm?'

Flame shouted. "Yaseenia, be careful! A strong foe is charging at us!"

Yaseenia turned her head carefully while she fought and saw another person charging at her on a red warhorse.

Yaseenia squinted. 'Strong. I need to use [Day and Night] to fight him. Who is he?'

"Oh! The Captain has made it in time!"

"Hahaha, that dragoness is done for!"

Yaseenia felt her heart sink. 'Captain? Why is someone like him here? He is one rank above my current strength!'

"Cruel Dragon, today is the day you die!"

"We'll see about that! [Absorption of Celestial Light: Day and Night Cycle]!"

BOOM!

Yasenia's aura burst with monstrous momentum, pushing away every soldier and skill near her. However, even with that show of strength, the captain's face didn't change as his charge didn't even slow down.

"[Thousand Miles Spear charge]."

Yasenia saw the spear shine brightly as he and his horse accelerated toward her with blurry speed.

Yasenia's face turned fierce as her voice echoed like a whisper. "With the coming of the night, I call upon the [Crescent Moon]! Coat me in my [Celestial Dress] as I dance with these fools in my [Moonless Night] Domain!"

Yasenia's armor disintegrated in particles of light as her body-hugging white dress appeared on her body. The long skirt covered the black warhorse's body as Yasenia's aura further skyrocketed.

Yasenia then swung her sword without holding back an ounce of her strength and slammed it against the incoming spear.

BOOM!

The shockwave blasted everyone around them.

"KYA!"

Yasenia heard Flame's shout and used her Spiritual Sense to see what had happened.

The shockwave had flown her away from her horse.

"Yasenia, focus on the battle. Leave Flame to us!"

Yasenia's heart clenched, feeling a dreadful premonition. However, her sword kept swinging against the captain, sending waves of Moon Energy everywhere.

"To think that the Cruel Dragon was this strong! You've surprised me, but you are still not strong enough! [Thousand Bodies Spear Thrust]."

Yasenia's heart clenched as she saw the spear gain enormous energy. Out of pure reflex, she quickly chanted. "As the Crescent Moon grows, it becomes [FULL MOON]."

All her Moon energy exploded from her and formed a silver sphere around her in the shape of the Moon.

Then, the attack released by the captain arrived.

BangBangBangBangBangBangBang!

Yasenia could barely see the spear as it repeatedly struck against her shield. The [Full Moon]'s absolute defense quickly weakened as Yasenia felt the aftershock through the skill.

CRACK!

"As the [Full Moon] collapses, [Dusk] arrives, and my strength increases!"

Yasenia swung her sword vertically, timing it perfectly with the destruction of her [Full Moon].

CLANG!

The two warhorses took many steps back as the attacks canceled each other.

Yasenia didn't lose the chance of the distance they gained after the collision.

Her tone increased and became loud and clear. "After dusk and the [Sunrise], time passes, and it becomes [NOON]."

With dusk, Yasenia's Moon energy transformed into Sun energy and combined with the previously accumulated Sun energy.

Then, Yasenia pointed her sword at the sky, and it shone with the brilliance of the Sun.

"DIE!"

Yasenia swung her sword as her meridians pumped energy wildly and summoned a monstrous beam of Sun energy.

"Cruel Dragon, I'm not that fragile! [EMPIRE'S SHIELD]!"

BANG!

Yasenia saw incredulously how her attack was stopped entirely. 'Shit, maybe only [Midnight] can deal with this man. But I need to gather energy and keep being alive.'

"AHH!!"

Yasenia heard the loud shriek, and her heart sunk to the bottom of her stomach. She turned her head and saw Flame's arm gushing blood as most of it flew into the air.

Then, he heard the captain's laugh. "Finally, you've arrived!"

A woman holding a white saber looked at them with an indifferent face. "The fact that you can't deal with that youngling shows you are getting old."

"Don't speak like that to your Master!"

Yasenia felt something inside her heart slowly awakening as she looked around and saw three of her girls, decapitated, lying on the ground.

"Y-You... You! ROAR!"

Yasenia turned her warhorse and charged at the white saber woman with golden-red eyes.

"Cruel Dragon, we are not done yet!"

Yasenia's aura exploded as she turned around and smiled wildly. "I knew you would follow, old man. [SOLAR STAR CHARGE]!"

"MASTER!"

Yasenia became a golden meteor surrounded by stars and smashed against the Captain in a head-on collision.

BOOM!

An enormous golden explosion illuminated the battlefield as the white stars created hundreds of secondary explosions.

The captain's body was flung far away, and they could all see its bad shape.

He had an arm missing, and his skin was severely burnt.

Yet, the man actually flipped in the air and landed on his feet, making Yasenia look at him incredulously.

"Tsk, I let my guard down. It has been seven hundred years since I received a wound like this one."

"MASTER! BE CAREFUL!"

"Huh?"

"DIE ALREADY!"

Yasenia dismounted and arrived before him rapidly, swinging her sword downwards while it shone brilliantly, her white dress flowing behind her because of her speed.

"[SUNSET]."

"[Thousand Spear Swipes]."

The man swung his spear with the remaining arm, ignoring the carbonized skin falling off, and collided against Yasenia's attack.

[Sunset] activated the secondary effect, exploding on contact and burning him more.

"Cruel Dragon! I'm Going to slaughter your toys!"

Yasenia didn't turn around and continued attacking the almost-dead man. She had to finish him off first.

The captain shouted. "Girl, run away quickly. I can't contain her much longer."

The saber woman's face twisted in hatred, and her gaze became murderous.

Yasenia finally smashed the spear away and went forward, dodging his final punch.

The man smirked, and then his leg quickly moved, aiming at Yasenia's waist. Yasenia sneered as her tail moved and blocked the attack.

The man's smirk turned to surprise as he felt the sturdiness of the tail.

Yasenia's feet sank into the ground because of the kick's strength. However, she recovered quickly, and her body spun, her giant sword making a swift arc and landing on his neck, slicing the head off high up into the sky.

"CRUEL DRAGON, THIS IS MY VENGEANCE!"

Yasenia turned around quickly and saw the saber of the woman piercing forward toward Flame's chest.

Yasenia's eyes turned mostly red with golden cracks as every muscle in her body tensed to the limits. Her meridians ruptured as her dantian fed her body with monstrous amounts of energy.

The floor below Yasenia sank as she pushed against it, and her legs went from bent to straightened.

The skin on Yasenia's legs ripped open, and blood flowed because of her utterly ridiculous strength.

Then, with a Boom that resonated in the battlefield, Yasenia shot forward like a cannonball fired from a powerful weapon.

"DON'T YOU DARE!"

However, it was too late.

Even with her ridiculous speed far above her current limits, the saber was faster and pierced Flame's heart, releasing an energy wave that burst Flame's chest open.

"AHH!!"

Yasenia's lamenting scream echoed as the last shred of golden in her eyes was consumed by red.

The woman wanted to run after killing Flame. Yet she didn't have time to do it because Yasenia arrived one instant later, her sword coated with pure energy.

[Draconic Heart] impacted the woman, and the colossal momentum and energy burst her body like a staff hitting a water balloon.

Yasenia's momentum carried her forward, and she used it to destroy a line of people from the enemy army.

After stopping, Yasenia turned around and looked back at the place where Flame was.

However, what entered her eyes was a corpse without life left. Not only Flame but seven of her girls had died.

"No..."

Yasenia's face twisted with wrath as she roared like a wild beast. "AHHHH!!"

Then, everything turned red for Yasenia.

She used every single skill in her arsenal to enter the enemy lines and slaughter everyone without a shred of mercy.

Her sword was like the scythe of death as bodies flew across the battlefield with each swing of her sword.

"DIE! DIE! DIE!"

The dragoness rampaged through the battlefield until there was no one left alive from the enemy camp, as the harsh feelings of losing someone close consumed her for the first time.
