

Chapter 431: Su Bei Is Married?

She said loudly to the crowd, "Everyone, please be quiet."

Hearing that Su Bei had something to say, the crowd was silent for a moment. The reporter pointed the microphone at Su Bei.

At the same time, Lu Heting had his back turned to everyone. He was facing Su Bei and protecting her from all angles, leaving no room for negotiation.

"Everyone, I respect all the works I've taken on and the arrangements of all the brands. I hope that others can do the same. I believe life will not let down everyone who works hard," said Su Bei.

With that, she walked away from the crowd and did not say another word.

Lu Heting protected her and they quickly got into the car.

Yue Ze and Lv Shan followed suit.

However, it was obvious that the reporters did not approve of Su Bei's response.

What did she mean by that? Did she mean that she deserved the job and Sun Man was slandering her? She was a hardworking person and Sun Man was not?

Sun Man's fans were even more dissatisfied. They launched a series of vicious attacks against Su Bei online, calling her a malignant tumor in the industry and a monster in the modeling circle.

Cai Anying took this as an opportunity to gain more popularity.

"Heting, why are you here?" Su Bei was surprised and touched.

"If I didn't show up after such a huge incident, it'd be a waste of your husband's identity."

Yue Ze sat in the back row, flabbergasted. Su Bei was married? Why had he never heard her mention such a big matter before?

Lv Shan said to Yue Ze, "Su Bei has already told President Tang. Plus, Su Bei got married five years ago. It's a fact that she entered the industry after getting married."

Yue Ze was silent. If that was the case, then it would be a test of his ability as an agent.

No wonder he felt that Lu Heting was a little different. His aura was different from ordinary bodyguards, but he just thought that he was a retired special forces bodyguard hired by Su Bei.

Su Bei dealt with many things on her own, and Yue Ze was unaware of this, which was why he misunderstood.

Now that he knew Lu Heting was Su Bei's husband, he knew why he had such an imposing manner. He exuded such a strong aura because he wanted to protect his loved one.

It was an aura that came from the heart.

Lu Heting saw Yue Ze and Lv Shan together and knew that Su Bei still had work to do. He asked, "Where are we going now?"

"We're heading to HU to look for evidence that Sun Man took a leave of absence because she was feeling unwell," Su Bei said.

Lu Heting nodded and drove toward the address Su Bei gave him. Sometimes, he should just be a chauffeur and stay by her side—even if it was just for a minute.

Su Bei, Yue Ze, and Lv Shan met the person in charge of the brand.

Mr. Walter, who was in charge of the Asian region of the brand, was temporarily in S Nation because of some work.

He happily welcomed Su Bei.

"Miss Su, I saw you model the wristwatch previously and our designer kept praising you as well. To be honest, I wanted to talk to you at that time but you had already left."

"Sorry, I had something urgent to attend to at that time, so I left first." Su Bei smiled.

Mr. Walter knew that Lv Shan had fainted. He looked at her and asked, "Is Miss Lv feeling better now?"

"Much better. Thanks for asking."

"Are you guys here to discuss the endorsement deal? Come, have a seat."

Su Bei sat down. "I'm sorry, Mr. Walter, but I'm not here because of the endorsement. I haven't taken any endorsements so far."

Chapter 432: Scheming B*tch

Mr. Walter's expression changed slightly. He looked at Su Bei with disappointment in his eyes. "Why? This is a very good opportunity. It'll greatly benefit your career."

"I'm sorry. I really don't have the capacity to think about this at the moment."

"Is it because of your agent's arrangement?" Mr. Walter looked at Yue Ze.

Yue Ze shrugged. Su Bei then explained on his behalf, "It's because I don't want to take on any long-term jobs. It has nothing to do with the company."

Mr. Walter stood up and said, "I'm not in any position to interfere with your work. However, I don't like working with people who don't care about their future career development. Miss Su, perhaps you should take your leave now."

In the past few days, he had already seen many articles. On the internet, there were many accusations against Su Bei. Other than suppressing newbies and snatching jobs from her seniors, there were a lot of doubts about her work arrangements and her lack of motivation.

Although Mr. Walter was not Su Bei's fan and Su Bei's matters had nothing to do with him, he liked hardworking and diligent people. Those who coveted quick money and were content with their current situation were incompatible with his work philosophy.

He was a very direct person and expressed his thoughts bluntly.

Su Bei made her request. "Yes, I'll leave soon, but I'd like to ask you to clarify the rumors of me snatching the Sun Man's job. After all, you know very well what happened during the show."

"These are two different things. I'll deal with the matter involving Sun Man. After all, her accusations against you are starting to drag our brand down as well. But that doesn't mean I agree with your work attitude."

After they left, Lv Shan said, "Mr. Walter is too nosy. What does it have to do with him whether you accept endorsements or not?"

"This is the reality. There are already many doubts in the industry about Su Bei not accepting any long-term jobs. He's not the only one like this," Yue Ze calmly said.

Even he could not understand, let alone Mr. Walter.

Su Bei's choice made it difficult for him to do public relations. It was a huge problem.

Su Bei looked at him apologetically. She did not want to do this either. 'Sorry, Yue Ze.'

Yue Ze nodded. "Since I've agreed to work with you, I can only accept your request. I'll go get evidence that Sun Man applied for leave from the brand. You can go back first."

When Su Bei and Lv Shan went out, Lu Heting was still waiting outside. Su Bei and Lu Heting both bid farewell to Lv Shan before heading home.

At the same time, Yue Ze had launched a counterattack against Sun Man.

He posted the evidence. That night, Sun Man did not complete HU's wristwatch event as scheduled because she had applied for leave.

The evidence was a medical leave slip issued by the hospital. Sun Man's assistant had personally handed this medical leave slip to the show director and brand to obtain their permission.

There was no way Su Bei would snatch Sun Man's job.

It was her body that was in poor health.

"So Sun Man was sick. That means Su Bei was helping her out. Why is everyone scolding Su Bei?"

"That's right. One minute on stage and two hours of preparation below the stage. Su Bei walked for the opening show and even helped fill in Sun Man's slot after she left, but she's being accused of snatching others' work. Shouldn't those who criticized Su Bei come out and apologize now?"

"Sun Man is too much. She watched Su Bei get scolded but didn't say anything. She's undoubtedly a scheming b*tch!"

Chapter 433: I Was Sick, So I Have An Excuse

When Sun Man saw this, she scolded her assistant, "Why did you get a medical leave slip? Why did you leave evidence behind?"

“The contract stipulates that you can’t be absent unless you’re seriously ill. If you don’t have a medical leave slip, you’ll be breaching the contract...” The assistant felt wronged.

This was such a difficult job. Whether she did one thing or the other, she would be blamed all the same. If she did not get a medical leave slip for Sun Man, would they wait for the brand to sue Sun Man for breach of contract, then?

Sun Man wanted to suppress Su Bei, but Su Bei easily turned the tables.

Sun Man talked about her condition on Weibo, writing: “I’m sorry, everyone. I’ve been in the hospital for a few days now to undergo check-ups and recuperate, so I didn’t see the criticisms online. If I’ve caused any inconvenience to you, I’d like to express my apologies. I would also like to thank everyone for your concern over my health. I’d like to thank HU for their trust in me as well. When I’m discharged from the hospital, I’ll walk for HU’s next wristwatch show. See you all.”

She used her illness to gain a wave of sympathy and also cleared her name as to why she did not clarify things for Su Bei. In short, she said she was sick and used that as her excuse. She distanced herself from the harsh criticisms that were aimed at Su Bei previously and promised to continue working hard after she recovered. She wanted to tell everyone, ‘Please forgive me.’

It made Su Bei’s fans who wanted to seek justice for Su Bei appear as though they were being unreasonable.

She was already sick, yet they still forced her. Sun Man, who was standing on the moral high ground, beamed with happiness.

“I’ll give you a hug, Sun Man. Get well soon.”

“Sun Man, don’t let this affect you. Get well soon.”

“My Sun Man is the best. No one is allowed to slander her!”

“Shameless!” Lv Shan called Su Bei and said, “She’s shameless to the extreme. She caused so much trouble for you but has even gotten the sympathy of countless people.”

Su Bei also saw the news. “Sun Man being able to get this far means that her position is really high up. Let’s see how she falls one day.”

She was tired too. She needed to rest.

Gun Gun lay on her lap and played with some toys. Meanwhile, Da Bao was reading a thick English book...

Lu Heting was reading the newspaper.

Su Bei felt that such a life was the best.

There seemed to be something in this house that blocked out the foul atmosphere of the outside world. No matter what problems she encountered, when she saw the scene before her, she would recover her energy and could face her troubles again.

However, what Su Bei did not know was that Lu Heting had secretly sent the things he had found out after his investigation to HU.

Sun Man wanted to participate in HU's next wristwatch show? It would not be so easy for her.

He walked toward Su Bei and smiled. "Do you want to go to the amusement park tonight?"

"I want to go!" Gun Gun was the first to raise his hand.

Although Da Bao was not interested, he knew that Su Bei had been working hard recently and needed to relax. He put down his book. "I'll go too."

"Okay, I'll go with my two babies!" Su Bei immediately put down his phone.

Lu Heting suggested that everyone should not bring their phones and other devices so that they could just have fun. He did not want Su Bei to be affected by the criticisms.

Su Bei agreed. She did not want to continue reading what was being said on the internet.

Da Bao glanced at Lu Heting and agreed with the man's suggestion. He wanted Su Bei to relax, but he was not as thoughtful as Lu Heting.

Lu Heting drove them to the amusement park.

As it was a weekday, there were only a few people in the amusement park apart from Lu Heting's family of four.

Chapter 434: Open His Heart

After disguising herself, Su Bei looked very different from her usual appearance.

Not many people could recognize Lu Heting either, so the family of four did not stand out—especially since it was nighttime.

With Gun Gun, the enthusiastic little prince, wanting to go on all the rides, the four of them were very happy.

It was also at this time that HU responded to Sun Man, telling her to rest well. They also said there was no need for her to attend the next show and her health was the most important thing.

The outside world might not have understood the meaning behind HU's statement, but Sun Man quickly understood. It meant that HU no longer wanted her for their next runway show!

How did it turn out like this?

She immediately asked her agent and assistant to ask Mr. Walter why such a situation had occurred.

The other party was very perfunctory with his reply. "Miss Sun is sick. She should rest well and not take on any work. We respect everyone's rights."

"But we're willing to join the next runway show. By then, Sun Man's condition will be better," her agent argued for Sun Man.

"Unfortunately, HU won't be working with Sun Man anymore."

“Why?” the agent asked.

HU’s person in charge replied, “We think Miss Sun should be well aware of this.”

Hearing this reply, Sun Man and her manager were very unhappy.

Clearly, this was not the usual attitude a brand would have toward talents.

Of course, Sun Man was not willing to take this loss in silence. She stepped forward and questioned HU in public about why they canceled her next show with them.

She could not participate in the last show because she was sick. She had submitted a proper leave application according to the procedures as well. HU had no reason to replace her unless someone else had snatched her job.

Another wave of uproar followed.

Although the matter had nothing to do with Su Bei, there were still people who linked it to Su Bei.

Especially Sun Man’s fans, who were so noisy that they immediately began questioning HU.

“Does HU intend to give Su Bei the job this time? Is that why?”

“Sun Man was sick the last time and asked for leave. Now that she’s recovered, why is HU still doing this?”

“And you guys still say that Su Bei didn’t snatch her job. Isn’t this clear proof? Isn’t this a slap in the face? She has snatched Sun Man’s jobs twice now. This time, she snatched it openly. Tsk tsk tsk.”

“Paper can’t put out a fire. This is all happening too fast. HU and Su Bei have revealed their true nature.”

“HU and Su Bei colluded together! I’ll never buy HU’s wristwatch again! It’s best if you get out of S Nation and don’t come for our money!”

Su Bei was once again dragged into the mess and received a harsh scolding from Sun Man’s fans.

After Lu Heting got off the roller coaster with Su Bei, he took out his phone and looked at the situation online.

He knew that HU was probably going to use the evidence he had sent to them.

Su Bei took Lu Heting’s phone away and said, “Lu Heting, you said it yourself. We’re not allowed to use our phones and we’re not allowed to handle work matters. You have to focus on having fun. I’m confiscating your phone.”

“Alright, I’ll listen to you.”

Lu Heting smiled and picked up Gun Gun and Da Bao. “Let’s ride the drop tower.”

Da Bao never liked being carried, especially by Lu Heting. He always felt uncomfortable.

However, Gun Gun was laughing very happily. Lu Heting was also very engrossed in these childish rides. This made Da Bao gradually open his heart... It seemed that playing with them was not so bad?

Chapter 435: Fake Sick Leave

At 10 p.m., HU held a press conference.

This time, it was Mr. Walter who publicly responded to Sun Man's allegation. He would also take this opportunity to explain things to everyone.

A supermodel and a brand were involved in a public fight, and another model was also dragged into the matter. Naturally, the reporters rushed to the meeting hall where HU was holding the press conference.

Mr. Walter appeared on the main stage.

"Mr. Walter, why did you cancel Sun Man's appearance in HU's next show? Did you replace Sun Man with Su Bei?"

"Did Su Bei steal Sun Man's job, or was it a decision from HU?"

"This incident has caused serious damage to Sun Man and her fans. Is HU planning to publicly apologize?"

"Will Su Bei appear and apologize with you?"

Mr. Walter got right to the point. "Today, HU will make a public statement about the matter. But it's not an apology. We're just letting the public know the truth.

"As you all know, during the last HU wristwatch show, Miss Sun Man applied for leave due to her illness, which affected our show. Fortunately, Su Bei saved the situation at the last minute and we got to avoid a crisis.

"However, there are rumors that Su Bei stole Miss Sun Man's job and it has brought a huge negative impact on Su Bei. Today, we'll be apologizing to Su Bei."

The reporters were more concerned about why Sun Man's appearance was canceled. "What about this time? Sun Man didn't apply for leave because of her illness. She was making sure she got enough rest so that she could return to work as soon as possible."

This was what Mr. Walter was going to explain tonight.

He said, "Hu and Miss Sun Man initially shared a working relationship and we wouldn't have canceled her runway show. However, we found out that Miss Sun Man was actually not sick during the last runway show. She was drinking and dancing in a nightclub!

"I don't know why Miss Sun Man would do that, and I don't want to pry into other people's private matters either. However, HU won't tolerate lying and having deceitful working partners.

"This is the real reason why we terminated our cooperation with her!"

The reporters instantly went into an uproar. "Sun Man wasn't sick? But she showed her medical leave slip."

"She doesn't even care about her job and went to have fun in a nightclub? She even caused Su Bei to be criticized so harshly. She shouldn't blame others for canceling her appearance."

“But where’s the evidence? If there’s no evidence, how can you wrongly accuse a female artist?”

Mr. Walter showed a photo. It was a photo of Sun Man drinking and singing in a nightclub with some investors on the night of the HU’s wristwatch show.

Mr. Walter had received plenty of such photos. Sun Man had probably drunk no less than ten bottles of wine that night.

How could a sick person who needed to be hospitalized drink so much?

Mr. Walter was a cautious man. When he received the photos, he made a special effort to investigate and verify the authenticity of the photos.

When the photos were confirmed to be real, he was extremely angry.

In order to be qualified to work with HU, the models not only needed to have potential but had to be diligent as well. They needed to be honest and have good morals!

Otherwise, the brand would have to pay for the scandals the models got involved in later!

“So Sun Man really wasn’t sick! She put on an act and even made a fake medical leave slip!”

Chapter 436: Never Work With Sun Man Again

“Not only was she never sick but she even drank so much wine and wore such a sexy outfit! I wonder if there are any other photos?”

“Where did she get the confidence to question Su Bei for stealing her job and accusing the brand? Did Su Bei force her to drink the wine?”

Mr. Walter was considered to be sparing Sun Man a little dignity. He only showed a few photos and did not take them all out. Otherwise, Sun Man’s reputation might be ruined on the spot.

Mr. Walter said, “Although HU isn’t the world’s top brand for wristwatches, we have our own corporate spirit and culture. We value our partners very much. We hope that our partners are outstanding people who are as hardworking, motivated, and honest as us.

“We not only hope to provide quality wristwatches to the world but also hope to inspire taste and grace, as well as moral qualities.

“Upon discovering fraudulent behavior and that a partner had harmed a colleague, we’ll naturally strongly condemn it. Today, we solemnly announce the termination of our working relationship with Ms. Sun Man in our next runway show. We will also demand compensation from her as per the laws. On behalf of HU, I can say that we will never consider working with her again!

“This is the statement HU wanted to share today. Thank you for coming.”

The reporters recorded this scene. “HU will never work with Sun Man again!”

“Sun Man lied! HU made an appearance to seek justice for the brand and Su Bei.”

“What an expose! Sun Man’s lie has been exposed and her image has collapsed.”

Mr. Walter had no idea who provided him the photos but was grateful to the person.

Obviously, that person was not only helping HU but also Su Bei.

After the news was exposed, the biggest beneficiary was Su Bei. Not only could she clear her name from wronging Sun Man but she would also gain sympathy.

Mr. Walter's feelings for Su Bei and Sun Man were different. Now, he only wanted her to be successful!

As for who took the photos...

Of course, Mr. Walter would never think that Lu Heting had gotten someone to take the photos.

He discovered that Sun Man was targeting Su Bei, so he immediately arranged for his men to find out Sun Man's whereabouts and see what she was doing.

That was how these photos were taken.

Lu Heting had his own reasons for handing these photos to Mr. Walter and not Sheng Tang.

Firstly, Mr. Walter held a more convincing role.

Secondly, he did not want Su Bei to go back and forth between the company and home just to clarify the matter about Sun Man.

He would shield his woman from the wind and rain. This was just a small matter.

Sun Man did not expect the photos of her drinking with the investors to be exposed.

This was supposed to be kept a secret.

She had wanted to embarrass Su Bei. After applying for sick leave, she immediately went to see the investors for other projects.

Those investors were all very influential and wealthy. For the sake of future resources, Sun Man drank a lot of alcohol.

Moreover, she firmly believed that no one would dare to secretly take photos of them. After all, no media outlet was willing to offend these investors.

However, she had underestimated Lu Heting. No matter who it was, his men would still take photos of them all the same.

She had misjudged Mr. Walter too. Of course, he had to expose the photos that should be exposed.

Chapter 437: Felt Like They Were A Ship

"Who was it? Who could have secretly taken my photos?" Sun Man did not even think about Su Bei. Even Sheng Tang might not dare to take photos of her with the investors.

She immediately called Liao Xintong to ask her to save herself.

Liao Xintong did not pick up the phone at all because Sun Man was too stupid. She was afraid that she would be implicated as well, so she had already blocked Sun Man's number.

Sun Man found her agent. Her agent was also in tears because of her stupidity. They said directly, "There's nothing we can do about it. Now, the internet is saying that you drink and sleep with big shots to climb up the social ladder. The rumors can't be stopped anymore. More photos have been dug out as well."

"I only did it to get resources for myself. If I don't accompany the investors, how would I get resources?" Sun Man was unconvinced.

"But you shouldn't have left so much evidence behind by lying. You even stepped on Su Bei! All your future work has been halted. Other brands are also unwilling to work with you. They're afraid of planting a ticking time bomb in their brands."

Sun Man grabbed her agent. "I can still do other jobs. Don't give up on me..."

"There's no job for you now. You go ahead and rest first," the agent said mercilessly, shaking off Sun Man's hand and leaving.

Sun Man slumped onto the floor. She knew everything was done for now.

"Supermodel Sun Man slept all the way to the top and drank 12 bottles of liquor in one go! She used 'sick leave' as an excuse to accompany the big shots!"

"Su Bei took the blame for nothing. The entertainment industry is indeed a pitiful place for female artists."

"The person-in-charge of HU personally slapped Sun Man in the face. That's right, brands should never collaborate with an untrustworthy model!"

The incident with Sun Man quickly spread across the internet. People were also talking about how she was sleeping with big shots to gain resources, which was something female artists wanted to be the least involved in. However, there was no evidence to refute it. Sun Man's star career was looking bleak.

Su Bei's fans could finally hold their heads high.

Not only did she clear her name and prove that she did not snatch the jobs of others, but her goodwill was also publicized. It was indeed a stark contrast to Sun Man.

While Sun Man was drinking, Su Bei was hard at work.

While Sun Man was on leave, Su Bei was hard at work.

When Sun Man was talking bad about Su Bei, Su Bei was still hard at work.

Even Su Bei's fans who prioritized her career could no longer bear to reprimand Su Bei for not taking on long-term work. Su Bei was already working hard enough. Why would she need to take on long-term work?

After returning from the amusement park, Da Bao and Gun Gun were so tired that they fell asleep.

With one in each hand, Lu Heting easily tucked the two little ones into bed.

Su Bei returned his phone to him and accidentally touched it. She saw that it was her photo on the lock screen!

However, she was not dressed in women's clothes in the photo but was Lu Bei in men's clothes.

"I didn't expect you to like this sort of..."

"Yeah." Lu Heting especially liked how Su Bei had imitated him. Her gaze and temperament made him feel like they were a ship.

Su Bei found her phone and turned it on. The moment she switched it on, messages flooded in like a tide.

"Su Bei, you've avenged yourself! That deceitful Sun Man has been slapped in the face." Lv Shan's message was the first one Su Bei saw.

Su Bei immediately looked at the situation online.

Sure enough, Mr. Walter's statement was powerful and resonant, slapping Sun Man and her fans in the face.

Su Bei revealed a smile and replied, "This is how committing many acts of injustice will bring you to your doom! This is the first time I want to praise the paparazzi who took the photos."

"Hahaha, the paparazzi are really impressive. They were even able to take such photos."

Chapter 438: I'm Here

Lu Heting asked, "What happened?"

"Sun Man has been slapped in the face. She took a sick leave and didn't complete her work but went to drink with big shots in a nightclub instead." Su Bei handed her phone to him.

Just as Lu Heting had predicted, everything was under his control. He was the one who had sent these photos of Sun Man.

Lu Heting was satisfied with this result. A smile appeared on his cold face. "Not bad."

Su Bei felt that it was a little strange. "Why do you think the paparazzi didn't try to sell the photos to Sun Man but sent them directly to Mr. Walter?"

"Perhaps there are people in the industry who can't stand Sun Man and have taken action."

Su Bei gently sighed. "That's true. In this industry where there's fame and fortune, even if you're upright and not afraid of the shadows, you still have to be careful of many things. What more with Sun Man, whose character is full of flaws?"

She passed her phone to Lu Heting again. "Look, I just finished talking and here it is. This comment says that even if I didn't steal Sun Man's jobs, I can't erase the fact that I'm suppressing Cai Anying. They say I'll never be able to clear my name!"

Lu Heting sat beside Su Bei with an indescribable sense of danger on his face.

Yue Ze had tried his best, but he could only secretly suppress the news of this. He could not thoroughly settle the matter with Cai Anying.

Lu Heting put his arm around Su Bei's shoulder and whispered, "With me around, no one will hurt you."

Su Bei smiled. He had already kept his word and did it well. He protected her from the crowd when she was surrounded by reporters and fans.

When she was caught up in work matters, he took her out to relax.

He shielded her from the wind and rain. He gave her his strong arms and chest to lean on. He also allowed her heart to be in peace.

'Thank you, Lu Heting, for being by my side.'

Su Bei did not respond to Cai Anying's scandal, but Lu Heting would not watch Su Bei be slandered and mocked.

Cai Anying wanted to use Su Bei's popularity?

She had to ask Lu Heting for permission first!

He called Lu Weijian and made a series of arrangements.

Lu Weijian followed his brother's arrangements and did not respond on Weibo.

In fact, he pretended that he did not see anything at all and ignored the photo of him and Cai Anying.

However, Lu Weijian's interview was published in the Finance Daily this morning.

According to the interview, Lu Weijian had been overseas recently, preparing for the International Open Competition for his gaming team!

The competition had officially started a few days ago. Lu Weijian had been accompanying his team throughout the competition and was the one commanding them.

In other words, when the photo of Cai Anying and Lu Weijian 'together' was taken, Lu Weijian was in a spectator stand far away in America, watching an international competition!

At first, very few people knew about this interview.

Qiu Minxuan and Cai Anying were even less likely to pay attention to this. Cai Anying even accepted an interview with a reporter and said, "Please don't pay too much attention to my private life. If there's good news, I won't hide it. I'll definitely share it with everyone."

"Then is the matter between you and Mr. Weijian true?"

Cai Anying smiled shyly as she fiddled with the ring on her finger. "I can't reveal that now. Please wait and see."

Chapter 439: Good Things Are Coming

It was such a vague answer. Although it wasn't a direct admission, the effect it caused was better than an admission!

Seeing the shy smile on her face, everyone thought that the rumors were true. Cai Anying and Lu Weijian would soon be sharing the good news!

Cai Anying's popularity had reached its peak since her debut. Countless people would compare her to Su Bei.

Many people also thought of Su Bei as a joke now. Without Lu Weijian's support, would she still be able to earn quick money and be successful?

At this moment, Lu Weijian's gaming team appeared on the list of hot topics. S Nation had won their first international match!

The citizens of S Nation had always been patriotic. Everyone had a strong sense of camaraderie when it came to matters of national honor. They all paid attention to the news and reposted it.

At this moment, everyone noticed Lu Weijian's figure in the spectator stand.

Mr. Weijian also had fans.

Not only did he have a lot of homebody gamer fans but also many fans who obsessed over looks. The homebody gamer fans might not be involved with the entertainment industry, but these fans who were obsessed with looks were the link to the entertainment industry.

Soon, everyone began to dig up Lu Weijian's schedule. When Cai Anying's photo was taken, Lu Weijian was not even in China.

The financial magazine's interview was also dug out. The interview clearly stated that Lu Weijian was with his team throughout the training and even directed the logistics work.

Lu Weijian's fans originally did not want to bother themselves about Cai Anying's matter, but they had changed their minds.

"Rookie, come out and get beaten up! Can you explain how Lu Weijian managed to sneak into America while being with you?"

"How shameless! From the moment I started paying attention to Lu Weijian, I knew he loves games and has no interest in women at all. We pretended not to see the hype you created previously, but you're still trying to ride on his coattails."

"That's right. Do you think so less of Mr. Weijian? Do you think that he'd be interested in someone who has had plastic surgery?"

"In the past, Su Bei was the game's spokesperson personally chosen by Mr. Weijian. However, there have never been any photos of them meeting in private. Su Bei participated in all sorts of activities and interviews, but she never once mentioned Mr. Weijian's name at all. She stuck to her duties and worked hard. On the other hand, this Cai Anying has nothing to do with Mr. Weijian yet she photoshopped a photo of them and started rumors herself. I really don't know who gave her the audacity."

"The person above is right. She still has the cheek to compare herself to Su Bei. Is she even worthy of carrying Su Bei's shoes?"

After hearing what the fans were saying, everyone realized that Su Bei had never relied on Lu Weijian to gain popularity.

She had never even responded to the matter with Cai Anying.

Cai Anying, on the other hand, was a troublemaker.

Immediately, a genius analyzed the photo of Cai Anying and Lu Weijian. They realized that it was indeed photoshopped. The traces of photoshop were mercilessly pointed out by this genius.

Before Su Bei's fans could attack Cai Anying, Lu Weijian's fans had already launched their attack.

Everyone who was paying attention to Lu Weijian's gaming team that participated in the international competition was also mocking Cai Anying.

Cai Anying's popularity had fallen to the lowest point in history.

No matter what kind of news she released or what activities she participated in, all she got was ridicule. The few fans that she had were struggling.

She stepped on Su Bei to gain fame only to suffer a complete defeat.

Chapter 440: Staying Home

Su Bei regained her popularity.

Many people had also discovered that although Su Bei did not have a long-term career plan, she did her best in every short-term job she took on. She did not create hype or get involved in scandals. She was truly a good artist who worked hard.

Lu Weijian called from America. "Brother, the stock price of my gaming company has risen by a lot. I didn't expect that by helping my sister-in-law clear her name, I would have benefited from it as well. I heard that everyone is looking forward to our team's future development."

"After all, you're making the country proud."

"Then I'll go and win glory for the country. If there's such a good opportunity next time, let me know as soon as possible."

Lu Heting put down his phone. Next time? How could Cai Anying have a next time?

Lu Heting was right. After this incident, Su Huixian had hidden Cai Anying away.

After offending Lu Weijian, Cai Anying was not only ridiculed but also had tomatoes and eggs thrown at her.

Lu Weijian's die-hard fans were too passionate. They even labeled Cai Anying as trash.

In order not to get into trouble, many organizers had already canceled their work with Cai Anying.

Cai Anying's biggest duty now was to stay at home.

As for Su Bei, she was so busy that she did not even have time to rest.

Yue Ze looked at her apologetically. "You don't take any long-term jobs but there are a lot of short-term jobs. My email inbox is almost full. I've already tried my best to filter them so that only the good ones with high pay remain."

"Okay, okay, no problem. As long as there's money, anything is negotiable." Su Bei agreed.

Yue Ze had previously disliked Su Bei's attitude toward life. For the sake of quick money, she took on a bunch of individual runway shows, giving up so many good endorsement deals.

However, he discovered that Su Bei was always hard at work to put on the best performance for each and every runway show.

Yue Ze was starting to see her in a new light.

Yue Ze placed the contract in front of her. "I need you to prepare for this. For this project, just arrive at the venue tonight."

"No problem." Su Bei took it.

The amount of money she had in her card was increasing very quickly. Seeing those numbers gave her a huge sense of security.

As she was reading the contract, Lv Shan walked over and said, "Su Bei, I may not be able to help you during this period."

"What happened?"

"I... am pregnant." Lv Shan was a little embarrassed and shy, but also apologetic toward Su Bei.

Su Bei stood up and smiled happily. "This is a good thing. Congratulations! I know that your relationship with your fiancé is quite stable. It's good that you're pregnant."

"Thank you, Su Bei. I feel bad that something like this happened when your career needs me."

"This is a beautiful accident. It's okay. Yue Ze can help me." Su Bei had a child of her own and knew that it was not easy to get pregnant. She could understand Lv Shan's current situation.

Besides, she only had a three-month contract with Sheng Tang. It was halfway over now. If she left in the future, Sister Lv would have to find a new artist as well.

It just so happened that Sister Lv was pregnant now. It would be some time before she gave birth, so Su Bei did not need to worry so much.. After all, her departure would only inconvenience Lv Shan in her career.
