

Chapter 471: Key Evidence

An unnatural expression flashed across Zhang Baozhen's face, but she remained calm. "Don't think that you can clear your name with some false evidence. Some things can be used to deceive others. You all may believe her, but I won't!"

As the main wife, she knew better than anyone how coldly her husband had been treating her and how he had changed from his previous passionate self.

It was just that she did not know who to share this pain with...

Lv Shan looked at her coldly. "Madam Zhang Baozhen, your current actions have already caused great harm to Su Bei. If you don't repent, the consequences won't be as simple anymore.

"As for whether you'll apologize to Su Bei or not, I can't force it. But I believe that everyone thinks you owe Su Bei an apology."

As Lv Shan was pregnant, it was hard for her to say so much.

Yue Ze asked her to sit down and took her place. Standing up, he said, "Madam Zhang Baozhen, I know that you've always suspected your husband of having an affair. That's why you found someone to vent all your anger on her.

"So, in order to prove Su Bei and Lv Shan's innocence, we found clues provided by the paparazzi and bought information on your husband's recent whereabouts from them. Unfortunately, your suspicions have been verified. Here are photos of your husband and his real mistress.

"Your husband, Mr. Liang Hanwen, indeed has a mistress. He's the root problem that made you suspect Lv Shan."

"I also think it's time to release the photos of him and his real mistress."

After Yue Ze finished speaking, a photo of Liang Hanwen and a woman immediately appeared on the screen in front of the reporters.

Actually, normal paparazzi would not be able to take these photos at all. Firstly, they were afraid of Liang Hanwen's identity. Secondly, Liang Hanwen was very discreet and cautious whenever he went out.

Therefore, Lu Heting was the one who sent someone to take the photos.

This was also why Lu Heting chose to wait until today to clarify matters for Su Bei. These photos were the key evidence.

In the first photo, Liang Hanwen was holding the woman's waist. They were walking into a hotel room. The photo was taken from a hidden corner.

Several different photos showed that they had not just gone on one date but at least several.

It was just that this woman was always wearing a mask and it was hard to see her face clearly. However, judging from her height, she was obviously a model.

Could it be Su Bei?

Doubt flashed across everyone's eyes.

Zhang Baozhen could not help but stand up as well. When she saw that the real mistress was being exposed, her entire body was trembling. She could not suppress her anger, as well as the shame and frustration of being mocked for getting the wrong person.

As everyone took a closer look at the photos, they realized that the woman did look like Su Bei, but she was not.

Instead, it was a model who was very similar to Su Bei. Recently, she had been fighting for Su Bei's resources and stepping on Su Bei to climb up to the top.

Cai Anying!

Everything could be seen clearly. Although Cai Anying's height was similar to Su Bei's, her legs were much shorter and thicker than Su Bei's. Her waist was also wider.

In the photos, she was seen with Liang Hanwen in an intimate manner. It was obvious that she was the mistress whom Zhang Baozhen had always suspected.

Zhang Baozhen gritted her teeth. Cai Anying was the one who made her suspect Lv Shan.

Cai Anying was a friend she had recently made.

It turned out that the other party approached her not because she wanted to be friends with her but because she liked her husband!

Chapter 472: A Good Show

Zhang Baozhen was a reputable socialite, yet she was tricked by Cai Anying.

She was so ashamed that she could not face the countless cameras of the reporters.

However, she really had the demeanor of a big shot and dared to say to all the reporters, "Okay, I, Zhang Baozhen, solemnly apologize to Su Bei and Lv Shan. I shouldn't have taken my anger out on you. I'll take responsibility for my own actions. This is what I owe you! Whatever you want in the future, I, Zhang Baozhen, will do it all! And thank you all for helping me find the true mistress."

Su Bei finally arrived at this moment.

She walked past the crowd and approached Zhang Baozhen.

"I heard your apology, but I won't accept it. Because of your stubborn character, you caused me and Lv Shan too much harm. As for your thanks, there's no need for that. The reason we found the true mistress wasn't to help you but to clear our names.

"I hope that in the future, you and your husband won't make your family matters a public affair. It's really a waste of resources!"

Su Bei looked coldly at Zhang Baozhen and said.

Zhang Baozhen also proudly raised her head and looked at Su Bei, unwilling to admit defeat.

However, after being betrayed by her beloved husband, her eyes were no longer filled with confidence. She could not hide the pain and humiliation she felt.

However, this had nothing to do with Su Bei.

Su Bei looked at the reporters.

At this moment, these reporters were looking at Su Bei with looks of shame and apology. They were unable to look her in the eye because they had hurt her without knowing the truth.

Su Bei faced everyone and did not mention the incident.

The more she behaved like this, the more the reporters felt that she was a rare treasure. She had suffered so much slander recently, yet she was still holding back.

Su Bei smiled and said, "I want to announce to everyone that I will temporarily leave the modeling industry to accompany my family and take a rest. Therefore, I won't be doing any work for the time being. Thank you for your understanding."

"Why? Does it have something to do with you being accused of being a mistress?"

"When do you plan to come back?"

"Do you have any other plans? What's Sheng Tang's plan for you?"

"Su Bei, is this because of Zhang Baozhen?"

Su Bei did not answer any of these questions.

The reporters were secretly regretful and speculated that Su Bei must have been affected by this matter with Zhang Baozhen to make such a decision.

The fans on the internet would probably make Zhang Baozhen the target of their criticisms.

Zhang Baozhen stood at the same spot and did not leave. She had also realized that if Su Bei was temporarily leaving the modeling industry, she would be scolded to death.

Su Bei actually did not want to announce that she would be putting a halt to her work at a time like this, but the hospital had already gone the extra length to contact her. Besides, Zhang Baozhen should pay the price for her actions.

Getting scolded by her fans was just Su Bei wanting Zhang Baozhen to have a taste of what she went through.

Su Bei suddenly thought of something else and said, "I think I heard that Cai Anying went to the hospital. I don't know why she's there, though..."

Hearing her reminder, Zhang Baozhen remembered that she still needed to deal with Cai Anying!

Cai Anying went to the hospital for a check-up? Could it be because she was pregnant with Liang Hanwen's child?

Zhang Baozhen immediately drove off.

The reporters also heard Su Bei's words and knew that there was going to be a good show. They quickly followed Zhang Baozhen.

Chapter 473: Stay Away From That Scumbag

The reporters quickly left.

Lv Shan walked toward Su Bei and said in surprise, "Su Bei, are you going to stop working? I'm sorry, it's all because of me. I caused you so much trouble."

"It has nothing to do with you. I only signed a three-month contract with Sheng Tang in the first place. Now that the contract is about to end, I'm choosing to rest for a while."

Lv Shan still felt guilty toward Su Bei. Previously, she was Su Bei's manager and now she was Su Bei's assistant. She had not done anything for Su Bei but even caused her to be criticized.

Yue Ze said to Su Bei, "When you're done resting, I hope you can come back to Sheng Tang. Su Bei, I look forward to working with you again."

His words came from the bottom of his heart. She was the most promising and special artist he had ever worked with.

"Yes, if I want to continue working, I'll definitely choose Sheng Tang."

Yue Ze sent Lv Shan off.

Su Bei looked at Lu Heting and ran toward him. "I said that after this is over, I'd go to America with you. I meant what I said."

"Don't you regret giving up such a great opportunity?"

"There's nothing to regret. I know what's most important to me. However, you have to give me a few days. I want to pack my luggage and prepare what Da Bao and Gun Gun would need when I'm not around."

Lu Heting felt that there was a deeper meaning to the woman's words, but the smile on her face was too bright, so Lu Heting did not think much of it.

Su Bei held his hand. "Thank you for today's matter. Where did you find the information? You practically dug out all of Liang Hanwen's secrets."

"After working in Lu Group for so long, I've learned how to handle a lot of problems." Lu Heting chuckled.

"I know. You learned this from Mr. Weijian as well, didn't you? But why do I feel like you're even better than Mr. Weijian? Is it because Mr. Weijian has been in his position for a long time and many of the things that happened in the past were actually dealt with by people like you? Is that why you've gradually become better than him?"

"Maybe." Lu Heting's eyes were full of smiles and pride.

His woman could finally tell that he was much better at handling things than Lu Weijian.

...

Shocking! The mistress isn't Su Bei but Cai Anying, the copycat.

Su Bei clarifies everything in public.

Scumbag Liang Hanwen, not only did he cheat the feelings of others but he also has a real mistress.

Plot twist! The truth behind Su Bei's mistress allegation is out and everyone is rejoicing!

Pity! Su Bei temporarily leaves the modeling industry!

All sorts of news were trending.

Any one of them could have been at the top of the rankings. However, at this moment, all of them were placed at the top. It was a dazzling sight, indeed.

Su Bei's fans were elated. When they commented, the sight of their fingers typing on the keyboard was magnificent. "My Su Bei is always great at fighting back with the truth. She never disappoints!"

"Fans, declare that you'll always believe in Su Bei and that she won't do anything wrong!"

"Zhang Baozhen, go die! You forced my Bei Bei to give up her beloved career, you piece of trash!"

"Liang Hanwen, Zhang Baozhen, Cai Anying, I warn you to stay away from Su Bei!"

"Stay away from that scumbag and keep yourself safe, Su Bei. It's just a pity that you were tormented by this couple."

"Bei Bei, have a good rest. Your fans will always be waiting for you!"

Chapter 474: What Ability Is This?

"No, no. Su Bei hasn't left yet but I'm already starting to miss her. Can anyone tell me what I should do?"

"I've saved tons of pretty pictures and videos of Su Bei. I'll continue stroking my screen until she gets back."

At the same time.

The reporters had followed Zhang Baozhen to the hospital where Cai Anying was at.

If Cai Anying was really pregnant, Zhang Baozhen would beat her until she miscarried!

Compared to feeling betrayed, Cai Anying's schemes just made Zhang Baozhen feel scammed.

The reporters swarmed around Zhang Baozhen, hoping to catch a big piece of news.

Sure enough, when they arrived at the hospital, Zhang Baozhen soon learned that Cai Anying was meeting a doctor in a certain department. However, she could not be bothered to ask which department it was and asked the nurse to bring her over.

The nurse had no choice but to do as she was told. Moreover, she had seen the news on the internet. She despised Cai Anying, so she decided to help Zhang Baozhen.

Zhang Baozhen kicked the door open, and the people inside the room were stunned.

The doctor's hand shook and tilted, causing Cai Anying to scream out in pain.

It turned out that Cai Anying was not here for a pregnancy check-up. As she was slapped in the face by Lv Shan before this, her nose was disfigured. She came to the hospital to fix her nose.

When Zhang Baozhen interrupted them, the doctor could not continue.

Cai Anying did not expect Zhang Baozhen to find out about her appointment at the hospital to fix her nose. She smiled and was about to greet her when the reporters behind Zhang Baozhen rushed in and started taking photos.

"Little Su Bei? A rising star in the modeling industry? It turns out she just did plastic surgery to look like Su Bei."

"Only one's face can be retouched, so her face looks like Su Bei's. But her short and thick legs are a far cry from Su Bei's legs."

"What kind of ability is this to not rely on yourself but instead rely on others to climb up the ranks?"

"So this is the kind of woman who would step on Su Bei. She's even a mistress. Apart from Su Bei, what kind of despicable people are Qianyu Entertainment producing?"

Cai Anying covered her face. "Who are you? What are you doing? Get out!"

Although plastic surgery was no longer a taboo, the consequences of her face being discussed by the public and this current scene being photographed by reporters were a completely different matter.

When the reporters heard her shouting, they took even more photos.

The doctor was in a difficult position. Zhang Baozhen had barged in in a rage and wanted to give Cai Anying a few slaps. However, seeing Cai Anying's crooked face and nose, she could not be bothered to argue with her anymore.

She asked the reporters to leave.

The reporters took photos till they were satisfied. As they did not want to offend Zhang Baozhen, they all left.

Only then did Cai Anying put down her hands from her face. She also understood that her relationship with Liang Hanwen had probably been exposed.

She nervously looked at Zhang Baozhen. "Sister Baozhen..."

"Stop being so hypocritical, Cai Anying. You've been calling me your sister so that you could seduce your brother-in-law, huh?"

"Sister Baozhen, it was really an accident. Brother-in-law and I made a mistake when we were drunk and wronged you. I really do treat you like an older sister..." Cai Anying still wanted to deny it.

Zhang Baozhen looked down at her. "Cai Anying, you're already dead in my heart!"

Cai Anying was trembling all over.. Of course, she was aware of Zhang Baozhen's family background.

Chapter 475: No One Can Get A Man's Love For Long-Term

For Zhang Baozhen to squash her, it would be easier to do than squashing an ant.

Her only chance now was for Liang Hanwen to protect her.

Even if she could not become a model, she could still live a carefree life with him.

Zhang Baozhen seemed to have seen through her thoughts and said coldly, "Do you really think Liang Hanwen will care about your feelings? If he doesn't even care about Lv Shan, why would he care about you? If something happens to you, he'll probably be the first person to go against you."

Zhang Baozhen did not appear mad at all.

She might not be able to obtain all of her husband's love, but she was able to share his assets and power as his wife. In fact, he even had to be wary of her feelings.

With that, Zhang Baozhen turned around and left.

Sure enough, not long after Zhang Baozhen left, Liang Hanwen called Cai Anying. "You'd better get out of the capital and out of my sight. I can give you a sum of money. Otherwise..."

He did not finish his sentence, but Cai Anying knew the consequences.

This meant that this sum of money would buy off her life, her future, her modeling career that she was so proud of, and even her chance to be in Beijing.

Cai Anying covered her face and burst into tears. She had lost everything for a few moments of happiness.

After Zhang Baozhen left, she bumped into Su Bei and Lu Heting who were walking toward her.

Zhang Baozhen did not know who Lu Heting was, but she could tell that he was special.

She took out a cigarette and lit it up. She said to Su Bei, "Why? Are you here to laugh at me?"

"What's there to laugh about? I just want to tell you something. Your husband is out there with another mistress. They already have a son together. He's four years old."

Zhang Baozhen's lighter and cigarette abruptly fell to the floor.

No one knew better than her how strong Liang Hanwen's desire to be a 'dual income, no kids' couple was when they got together.

They had agreed to spend the rest of their lives together without having to bother themselves with children. That way, they could also give each other more time and love. Those sweet words had now turned into a joke.

Even though she knew that her husband had a mistress, she still maintained her pride and arrogance in front of Cai Anying earlier. However, when she heard this piece of news, she suddenly collapsed. Her delicate facial features had been unmasked, and she looked like she had aged a decade.

She was already old when she married Liang Hanwen. Liang Hanwen was also in his 40s at that time, so he wanted to be a 'dual income, no kids' couple. Although she struggled with the decision for a short while, she still felt that enjoying life was more important. Hence, she even aborted the child she was pregnant with at that time.

However, the man's words... were all lies. She originally thought that he at least loved her and she could still enjoy the perks of being in the Liang family. Now, it seemed that her husband had planned everything out long ago for his mistress and illegitimate child.

Zhang Baozhen looked at Su Bei and smiled bitterly. "Su Bei, you're really good. Really good."

Lu Heting reached out to protect Su Bei from Zhang Baozhen.

Seeing that the man in front of her was protecting Su Bei, Zhang Baozhen laughed. "When every man begins loving you, their feelings are real. But who knows how long these feelings can last? No one can obtain a man's love for long-term. Su Bei, you can't either!"

Chapter 476: Slipping To The Edge Of The Cliff

It was as if saying these empty words could give Su Bei a heavy blow!

Lu Heting glared at Zhang Baozhen, but Zhang Baozhen remained unmoved. She continued, "Do you think you can love her forever just because you love her now? Men are just animals who love the new and hate the old. They are beasts who are controlled by their lower halves!"

"I will," Lu Heting said calmly. His voice was strong and magnetic. "Don't judge everyone with your narrow mind."

Su Bei heard his words and her heart overflowed with warmth. It was sweet, but she could not return his feelings.

Lu Heting hugged Su Bei and whispered, "Let's go back."

Su Bei and Lu Heting turned around and left.

Zhang Baozhen's dignity, pride, and youth had all been taken away. She sat on the floor, no longer looking like a noble lady.

Lu Heting said to Su Bei, "Zhang Baozhen has a strong family background. Her father and few brothers are extremely sinister people. From now on, Liang Hanwen will not have a good life. The entire Liang family will probably be destroyed..."

This was the way he had chosen to deal with Liang Hanwen. He did not need to make a move himself, but the man's consequences were even worse.

Liang Hanwen and Zhang Baozhen would never have thought that Lu Heting's request to see Liang Hanwen previously was their only chance to save themselves.

Once you made a mistake, there would be nothing left. Life would go toward the edge of a cliff, one step at a time.

If Zhang Baozhen had known, would she have posted that Weibo post about Su Bei?

"It's just a pity that Liang Hanwen has an illegitimate child. After all, the child is innocent." Su Bei sighed softly. "However, to have become Liang Hanwen's illegitimate child, their fate was destined from the start. It'll be a bumpy road. Even if such a thing didn't happen this time, there would be another incident and another."

Hence, Su Bei did not think that Lu Heting was cruel in revealing this secret. If this secret was revealed and used by someone else, it would have been even crueler for the child.

At this point, Zhang Baozhen, Liang Hanwen, and Cai Anying's fates had already been determined.

Su Bei was not concerned about how miserable they would be.

Lu Heting took off his jacket and placed it on Su Bei's shoulders. He hugged Su Bei tightly. "It's late. Let's go home and rest. Don't think about anything else."

"Alright." Su Bei gently nodded.

Lu Heting realized that recently, this woman would not resist his intimate acts. They had gotten much closer than before.

Although he had doubts in his heart and was worried that something might happen, he could not help but feel happy that she was being so close to him. Therefore, he did not want to think too much about it.

...

On the internet, the news of Cai Anying's plastic surgery and the photos taken by the reporters became trending news.

She was a mistress who had even undergone plastic surgery. Most importantly, she kept trying to step on and use Su Bei. Cai Anying's popularity was completely ruined overnight.

"Get the f*ck out of the entertainment industry! We want peace in the entertainment industry!"

"Go to hell, mistress! Even if you die 10,000 times, it won't be enough!"

"A scumbag and a slut, what a good match the two of you are. Just don't do anything to harm Su Bei anymore."

"I'll hide away my Su Bei. She won't have any more interactions with you!"

"Zhang Baozhen is too much. She doesn't even know what kind of person she's sleeping with yet still dared to come out and fight with the mistress. She even needed Su Bei's help to find out who's the mistress."

Cai Anying's work, including endorsements, was all canceled. It was not only because of her scandal but also because of Liang Hanwen himself.

Chapter 477: I Don't Need You To Do Anything

Right now, Liang Hanwen wanted to kill Cai Anying more than anyone else. She was the number one scumbag in the world.

Cai Anying was terminated by Qianyu Entertainment. She was even asked to compensate for the loss of reputation by several brands that she was initially endorsing.

The sum of money Liang Hanwen gave her was not enough to compensate for all these.

"Sister Min, can you ask Sister Huixian to help me?" Cai Anying cried.

"Huixian is busy now and is working overseas. You should just leave for now." Qiu Minxuan rejected her.

With such a thing happening, Su Huixian could not wait to sever ties with her. Why would she help her?

After Yue Ze sent Lv Shan back, he realized that she had already packed a few suitcases.

"Are you moving? Not many netizens are cursing you for this matter. Do you need to move?" Yue Ze asked.

"I don't want to stay here anymore. I'll find a moving company tomorrow." Lv Shan smiled.

There was a knock on the door. Lv Shan looked toward the door and saw that her fiancé had returned.

Seeing this, Yue Ze said, "I'll take my leave, then. Call me if you need anything."

Her fiancé walked toward her and said guiltily, "Shan Shan, I'm sorry. I misunderstood you. I've already seen the video of your clarification and the DNA report of the child."

Lv Shan looked at him and said, "You came back just in time. I'm going to move out, so I have something to return to you."

"Shan Shan, you're moving out?"

"Yes. We'll break up and annul the engagement as well," Lv Shan said calmly but firmly.

Her fiancé said angrily, "Why do you have to do this? Don't forget that you're pregnant with my child!"

"Have you ever cared about this child? Did you even remember that the child I'm carrying is yours before this? When I and the child needed you the most, you were the one who said that you wanted to give the child up. There are some things that once you give them up, there's no turning back."

"Lv Shan!" Her fiancé was exasperated.

Lv Shan looked at him, her attitude abnormally firm. Her eyes appeared cold as well.

Her fiancé grabbed her shoulders and squeezed them tightly. "What do you want me to do to make things up to you?"

"I don't need you to do anything." Lv Shan pushed him away.

She could not even bear to stay here tonight.

However, she could only move into the new house she had just rented tomorrow.

She picked up her bag and phone before leaving.

She would just stay in a hotel tonight.

Her fiancé slammed the door shut behind her.

However, it did not stir any emotions in her heart.

Lv Shan slowly walked down the stairs and was about to hail a taxi when Yue Ze's car appeared. "Are you going out?"

"I'm looking for a place to spend the night in."

"Let's go, I'll drive you." Yue Ze didn't ask any questions, but he seemed to know everything.

In another two days, Su Bei would be going to America.

For the past two days, she no longer had any work to do. She was focused on spending time with Da Bao and Gun Gun. She played games with Da Bao and accompanied him to create those programming codes that he liked.

She also accompanied Gun Gun to eat durian and made him all kinds of food that he wanted to eat. The two played with trains and robots too.

"You and Daddy are going to America. You must bring me along next time!" Gun Gun raised his hand, wanting to make a pinky promise. "No, you can't bring Daddy along next time. You can only bring me. Wait no, you can bring Big Brother Da Bao along too."

"Okay, I'll bring all of you." Su Bei rubbed his little nose.

"Then you have to come back as soon as possible. Big Brother Da Bao and I can't bear to part with you." Gun Gun hugged Su Bei and acted in a spoiled manner in her arms. He was soft like a little ball.

Chapter 478: Take Care of Each Other, Love Each Other

"Definitely." Su Bei rubbed the tip of his nose.

Gun Gun kissed her. "Bei Bei, you have to video call me every night so you can give me a kiss."

Su Bei lowered his head and kissed his chubby cheeks. "You and Big Brother Da Bao have to take care of each other and love each other. Don't quarrel. Bei Bei has written many letters for you. When the time comes, they'll all be sent to you."

She had prepared birthday letters for them to receive every year until they turned 18.

She hoped that at that time, they would be leading new lives and have become better people, as well as have people to cherish them.

“Da Bao.” Su Bei carried him over. “Take care of Gun Gun, okay?”

“How many days are you going for?” Da Bao asked coolly.

“No matter how many days I’ll be gone for, you have to promise me.” Su Bei rubbed his face. “You’re a big kid, you can’t go back on your word.”

Da Bao nodded. “I know. You’re talking as if you’ll be gone for a long time.”

He had always been indifferent and never showed his emotions on his face, but Su Bei was making his nose feel sore. He got up and hugged Su Bei. “Go, relax for a few days. Don’t miss me too much. I’ll miss you.”

Gun Gun also hurriedly hugged Su Bei. “I’ll miss Bei Bei too. Bei Bei has to miss me as well.”

The next day, Da Bao and Gun Gun went to school.

Meanwhile, Su Bei went to the mall to buy things.

She wanted to buy more clothes for Da Bao and Gun Gun.

She walked into the shop and casually looked at the children’s clothing.

Although it was no longer possible for her to go on stage, Su Bei still disguised herself. She wore a pair of wide-legged pants that covered her perfect long legs. She had also changed her makeup style so that it was no longer bright and innocent. Instead, she looked very ordinary. At a glance, she looked like a passerby on the street. She was comfortable and natural, so was not as eye-catching.

She came here to buy children’s clothes. She thought that it might be the last time she could buy clothes for Da Bao and Gun Gun, so she specially chose a luxury brand and planned to buy a lot.

Many of the staff in luxury stores were arrogant.

Seeing Su Bei enter, the sales assistant saw that although she had a unique temperament, her clothes were too ordinary. The clothes on her were probably cheap goods. The sales assistant casually asked, “Miss, what age are the children you’re planning to buy clothes for?”

“Four years old. No, four to eighteen years old. Let me take a look at them all,” Su Bei said.

“Take a look, then.”

When the staff heard her request, she thought that Su Bei was not someone who really wanted to buy clothes here.

The age range was far too big! Who would shop like that?

Su Bei did not mind the other party’s arrogant and rude attitude. If it were in the past, she would probably go to another shop.

However, time was very precious to her now. She did not want to waste it, so she casually looked around.

Da Bao was cool, while Gun Gun was cute. This clothing store was indeed a world-renowned brand. There were countless clothes suitable for the two little munchkins.

Su Bei carefully picked the clothes. She knew in her heart that she could only buy clothes for them until they reached 18 years of age. After that, the two young men would definitely have their own style and would much prefer to do their shopping themselves. If she bought too many clothes, they might not even wear them.

As she was choosing, a woman carrying a new leather bag entered the shop. Her makeup was exquisite, and her wavy hair was meticulously styled. She was wearing the latest clothes from an Italian brand that was from their winter collection. She also wore a pair of branded boots. She looked very stylish.

The moment she walked in, the staff's expressions changed immediately. They went forward to welcome her.. "Miss Han, you're here? Please come in."

Chapter 479: Turned Out To Be An Old Friend

The attitude of these sales assistants was completely different from how they treated Su Bei earlier.

Su Bei subconsciously looked over and recognized that the person they greeted as Miss Han was Han Junting. She was a young lady from a wealthy family and was friends with Su Huixian. She used to visit the Su family a lot.

However, the Han family's current development was even stronger than the Su and Du families now. Han Junting's relationship with Su Huixian had also deteriorated when she entered high society.

Su Bei had not seen her even once when she returned this time around.

Su Bei merely took a look before averting her gaze. She continued to browse through the clothes.

Han Junting was here to buy clothes for her friend's child, so she started browsing and selecting at the side.

Of course, the sales assistants crowded around her and fought to be the first to serve her. They were afraid of missing out on a big deal.

As for Su Bei, almost no one paid attention to her. Who would think that she could afford the clothes here?

The sales assistants in luxury shops would always feel that they were superior to others. They would only serve people who were clearly of a higher status than them. As for ordinary people, they didn't care if they wanted to buy or not. After all, they didn't have any pressure to sell when it came to these customers.

Only a new sales assistant called Xiao Huan couldn't take it anymore. She walked toward Su Bei and asked, "Miss, what would you like to see? Let me help you."

"Thank you. Help me take these out for me to have a look," Su Bei politely said.

Hearing Su Bei's voice, Han Junting looked over. Clearly, Su Bei had not disguised her voice and Han Junting recognized her. She slowly walked toward Su Bei and said with a smile, "I was wondering who you were. It turns out to be an old friend."

Su Huixian's friend was naturally not Su Bei's friend. In fact, because of Su Huixian, she previously had a dispute with Su Bei too.

Of course, Su Bei did not think that the other party would be so kind as to really greet her.

She glanced at Han Junting briefly as a greeting before lowering her head to look at the clothes.

Han Junting saw that she was looking at a bunch of children's clothes. Of course, she did not expect that Su Bei had already given birth to a son. She thought that Su Bei was like her, buying children's clothes for other people's children.

She smirked and asked, "You're buying so many? From what I know, models like you don't earn much, right?"

"I don't dare to compare myself with you, Miss Han, but I can still afford a few pieces of clothing."

"Then do you know that the jacket in your hand costs 50,000 yuan?" Han Junting crossed her arms and said, "Are you planning to buy half of it or just a button?"

When she said that, the surrounding sales assistants burst into laughter. They thought that Su Bei was just a random model who could not afford the clothes here.

The reason why Han Junting looked down on Su Bei was that the Han family was now rich and had long crushed the Su family. Therefore, she had a sense of contempt for Su Bei.

Su Bei smiled, and a trace of laziness flashed across her eyes. She could not be bothered with Han Junting. So what if she had become rich now? So what if she was a prestigious heiress?

It was a shame her brain and wisdom did not improve as her family developed.

Su Bei continued to browse through the clothes slowly. Her movements were neither fast nor slow, as if she was taking a leisurely stroll.

Han Junting did not want to waste any more time talking to Su Bei. As far as she knew, the income of a model could not be compared to that of an artist. However, the cost of being a model was not any less than that of an artist. On the surface, being a model seemed glamorous. But in reality, a model's purse would be barren.

Chapter 480: Can You Really afford it?

Otherwise, Su Huixian would not have been so eager to get on Du Luo's good side.

Su Bei rose to stardom later than Su Huixian, and she was not welcomed by the family. How could she so recklessly spend money to buy this many clothes?

Moreover, Su Bei never had any long-term career aspirations and only took up short-term jobs. Now that she had announced she was going on a break, her income was probably not high.

Han Junting only knew that models did not earn much, but she did not know that Su Bei's net worth was miles apart from ordinary models'.

The commercial Lu Weijian gave her previously had raised her value, causing her talent fee to rise exponentially. Her appearance fee had also increased by a great margin.

Su Bei was not rich, but she had more money than Han Junting imagined.

Han Junting chose three pieces of clothing and said to the sales assistant, "Wrap them up for me."

"Okay, Miss Han. It's a total of 200,000 yuan. You're a high-level VIP member of the shop, so you get a discount on all of them," the sales assistant said especially loudly, as if she was telling Su Bei about it.

Another sales assistant said, "We're really happy to see a customer like Miss Han enter the shop. It makes our bodies and minds feel at ease. Unlike some people who keep touching the clothes here without the intention of buying anything. They're doing whatever they please, it's really annoying. After she leaves, we'll have to tidy up that pile of clothes. Our workload would've increased for nothing."

"Yes, that's why Miss Han is a VIP member. The others are nothing."

As they talked, the other sales assistants also complained. It was obvious that they really hated customers who only browsed but did not buy.

Han Junting pursed her lips and said, "You should really set some rules in this shop. Those who don't buy shouldn't even think of browsing. Otherwise, people will just keep laying their dirty hands all over the clothes. This makes us, the real customers, always feel frustrated when we buy tainted goods."

"Miss Han, don't worry. The clothes you chose are all brand new from our warehouse. They haven't been touched by anyone, let alone tried on."

Han Junting looked at the clothes Su Bei was choosing and shook her head as she said, "That's good. But I'm afraid you guys won't be able to escape having to tidy up and reorganize that big pile of clothes."

As Su Bei had picked out a lot of clothes, there was already a small mountain of clothes in front of her. Moreover, she was picking out clothes for the age range of four years old to eighteen years old. Hence, the sales assistants thought that Su Bei would definitely not buy them.

Those who really wanted to shop for clothes would have a specific age in mind.

"Miss, if you don't want to buy any clothes, then just stop browsing. You've seen all the clothes in the shop," a sales assistant said with a hint of sarcasm. "How old is the child you're buying clothes for? Have you made up your mind?"

"I told you, I want to look at all the clothes for the age range of four years old to eighteen years old." There was a hint of annoyance in Su Bei's tone.

She was used to being the eldest miss. When she said this, all the sales assistants were suppressed by her aura and did not speak for a moment.

However, they felt uncomfortable in their hearts. Looking at Su Bei, could she really afford to buy so many clothes?

Everyone looked at her with disdain. Fine, they would let her do whatever she wanted. If she could afford all of these clothes, they would take it as their loss.

Han Junting chose to slowly make her payment to see just what Su Bei could afford.

Su Bei lazily looked up.. “Wrap all of these up for me.
