Strongest Necromancer Of Heaven's Gate Chapter 562.1: Terror Of The Plains [Part 1]

"Everyone, rally to me!" Pietro shouted within the blizzard.

Right now, the Town's Guards, and Lux's allies were trying to protect everyone. However, since the monsters were randomly ring a barrage of attacks at the blizzard, it was very hard for them to protect everyone.

Because of this, Pietro decided to gather everyone into one spot, so that the defenders could effectively protect them. They had already suffered several losses and the cries of pain, sadness, and anger within the blizzard made his heart ache.

The remaining residents were now less than two thousand people, and more died with every passing minute.

All the residents gathered together after hearing their Mayor's shout. Families huddled with each other, while others prayed to the Gods to save them from the Monsters that were out to kill them all.

When all the remaining residents had merged together in one place, Asmodeus, Eiko, and their clones synchronized their Skeleton Make Skill to create a Skeleton Dome to protect the people from further harm.

For a brief moment, the people sighed in relief after they were enclosed by the protective dome made of bones. However, this relief disappeared when loud cracking sounds were heard as the Ants' Iron and Steel Bullets collided with their shelter.

The Mosquitoes also shot Wind Blades into the Blizzard, hitting the Skeleton Dome relentlessly. Little by little, parts of the dome shattered. But, these places were immediately repaired as Asmodeus, and Eiko, continued to channel their mana to the skeletal structure that was keeping everyone safe.

Outside the raging blizzard, Lux and his clones unleashed countless spinning blades that shredded everything they came in contact with.

His Skeleton Gang Bangers, and Rock Golems were dealing with the remaining Giant Ground Beetles, while his Skeleton Arcane Hunters and Skeleton Mages were helping their Master attack the Tetramorium Ants

Just as everyone was being pushed to their limits, all of them heard a loud buzzing sound coming from the South.

"You have got to be kidding me...," Lux almost cursed out loud after seeing the new threat that was approaching them from behind.

Hundreds of monsters that Lux was all too familiar with were approaching them at a rapid pace.

They were none other than Red-Eyed Terror Mantises, which was one of the low-ranked Alpha Bosses of the Figaro Garden of Leaf Village.

ADVERTISEMENT

Standing out among them were dozens of Golden-Eyed Crimson Mantises that had given Lux a scare of his life back then.

But, these monsters were nothing compared to the lone, seven-meter tall, Red Mantis that reminded the Half-Elf of how the Red-Eyed Terror Mantis and the Golden-Eyed Crimson Mantis looked when they activated their Berserk Ability.

Lux immediately summoned his Soul Book to identify the new arrivals, and this time, he didn't hold back and cursed out loud.

"F*ck!" The Half-Elf knew then and there that their chances of clearing their mission was now next to impossible.

Just dealing with the current monsters around them already made things extremely difcult for them. Now that a newthreat had arrived, he was very tempted to raise his middlenger to the world.

< Crimson Berserker Mantis >

- Terror of the Plains
- Deimos-Ranked World Boss Monster
- Berserked Hunter

Health: 43,200,000 / 43,200,000

Mana: 1,200,000 / 1,200,000

Strength: 5,000

Intelligence: 2,000

ADVERTISEMENT

Vita	lity:	4,	0()(

Agility: 4,000

Dexterity: 4,000

Active Skills: Crimson Slash, Berserker Barrage, Hunter's Mark, Cross Slash, Sky Dive, Fury Cutter, Burst Speed.

Passive Skills: Blood Rage, Blood Lust, Blood Thirst

Special Ability: Berserker Fervor

< Berserker Fervor >

– This monster is always in Berserk Mode, giving it a permanent 300% increased Attack Damage.

– Any Mantises that were being led by this monster will also gain a 300% increased Attack Bonus.

– This monster is immune to any status debuffs.

A World Boss Monster was on a different level compared to an Alpha and a Field Boss Monster.

defeat a Deimos-Ranked Wo	rld Boss.		and it would take at leas
		ADVERTI	SEMENT
Lux had the impression that be World Bosses as well. But				e Red Giant Hornets r	night
Their main purpose was to g harm.	ive birth to workers and	d soldiers, whose ro	ole was to provide her wi	th food and protect he	er from
Although they were hard to k Mantis, who was an Apex Pre		, j	reat. They couldn't be co	ompared to the Crims	on Berserker
With an ear-piercing screech	, the Crimson Mantis ar	nnounced its prese	nce, making all the Mons	sters shift their attentio	on to it.
Just as Lux was thinking abo Hornets immediately retreat		nething unexpected	happened. The Mosqui	to Swarm and the Red	d Giant
The Ants, on the other hand, barrage of Iron and Steel Bu		shifted their attentio	on to the approaching M	antises and unleashe	d a
The three Deimos-Ranked Ad grown signi cantly smaller	damantium Ants also st ⁻ and weaker after		ne seriously injured Gian ee Deimos-Ranked oppo		ames had ne.
Two of the Giant Termite's si under its body. Despite how	0		n its body. Puddles of ma ght didn't decrease, in
However, its opponents' atte	ntion had turned elsev	vhere, allowing it to	catch its breath.
Although the Deimos-Ranked unscathed and their bodies		0	Giant Termite serious injo ow hard, and strong thei
Two of the Adamantium Ant fought them tooth and nail,		 	of their body from the b	ite marks of the Giant	Termite, who
Although the Mosquito Swar Mantises, something was tel			the Ants seemed to be I	keen on	ghting the
In fact, his gut instincts were	telling him that they w	ere in more danger	compared to what they	faced earlier.
Just as the Half-Elf was think escape, the Crimson Berserk		ý.
Crimson Wind Blade that an					5 a
			SEMENT

The Adamantium Ants immediately attacked it with Steel Bullets, but the Giant Crimson Mantis easily avoided it due to its high agility and dexterity.

Its movement was so fast that it managed to close the gap between it, and the three Deimos-Ranked Ants within seconds, catching the three by surprise.

The Crimson Mantis ew past them before soaring towards the sky, ying towards the Red Giant Hornets who had decided to escape from the battle eld.

Suddenly, one of the Adamantium Ants, who were ve-meters-tall, collapsed on the ground.

Two of its Adamantium-Coated legs were cut off from its body, spraying black blood in the surroundings.

Lux couldn't believe what he saw because even his full powered strike wouldn't be able to accomplish such a thing.

While the Half-Elf was still trying to understand what just happened, the Crimson Berserker Mantis had already caught up with the Red Giant Hornets and started to cut them all in half.

In just a span of a minute, all of the Red Giant Wasps were dead, including the people that they had carried away to bring back to their nest.

After dealing with the Hornets, the Giant Crimson Mantis made a U-Turn before unleashing dozens of Crimson Blades,which annihilated the Giant Ground Beetles, Skeleton Gang Bangers, as well as the Rock Golems that had beenghtingagainst each other since the battle started.ghting

While this was happening, the Red-Eyed Terror Mantises, and the Golden-Eyed Crimson Mantises, engaged the Mosquito swarm and started a one-sided massacre.

They were led by three Savage Hunter Mantises, which were Rank 5 Field Boss Monsters.

Since the Crimson Berserk Mantis' could bestow its Special Ability, Berserker Fervor, to its allies, all the Mantises' attack power was boosted by 300%. This allowed them to slice through the mosquito swarm like a hot knife cutting through butter, decimating them without mercy.

It was at that moment when Lux realized why his Sixth Sense was screaming for him to escape from the place as far as he could.

Clearly, the Mantises had no intention of letting anyone leave the battle eld. They were Apex Predators who killed for the sake of killing.

ADVERTISEMENT

As long as they decided to attack, they would not stop until their targets were sliced in half by their razor sharp claws, which were now stained by the blood of the insects that they had killed.