

Strongest Necromancer Of Heaven's Gate

Chapter 801.3: R18

Truth be told, Cai had never thought of having a relationship with anyone.

Since her body constitution was a bit special, her Grandpa had gone to great lengths to keep her secret safe from those who might take advantage of her.

The Legacy of the Celestial Maiden.

That was a blessing but also a curse that was bestowed upon Cai the moment she was born. She was blessed with a body that would allow her to raise her Rank smoothly, and yet, if anyone were to take her chastity and mark them as their own, they would gain this ability as well

Not only that, but they could also absorb Cai's strength until her Rank regressed to that of a beginner.

Although she could regain this rank in a short period of time because of her body constitution, she could still lose it in a matter of minutes the moment someone had their way with her body, without regard for her well-being.

Because of this, Cai wore a mask.

A mask that was the body of a Boar, which she transformed into whenever she traveled outside of the safety of her tribe.

And now, she would surrender her Fate to the red-headed teenager, who was now looking at her with love and lust, which made her heart beat wildly inside her chest.

"Are you really sure?" Lux asked. "I may not be able to stop myself any longer."

The tip of Lux's swollen member was now at the entrance of her nether lips that were parted and slick with desire, waiting for that moment when the two of them would become one.

Both knew that the moment they took that final step, their relationship would never be the same again.

Right now, they could still stop and return to their usual skinship without breaking the final barrier that protected the High-Priestess' chastity, as well as identity.

"Yes," Cai replied as she wrapped her legs around Lux's waist, pulling him close to her. "I'm sure of it."

Seeing the determination in her gaze, Lux knew that there was no longer any need to ask any more questions.

As if to assure her that he would take full responsibility, he once again kissed her lips. This time, it was a gentle yet passionate kiss, making Cai feel loved.

When the kiss ended, Lux moved his hips, making one powerful thrust. Cai tightly clenched the bed sheets as she endured the pain of her deflowering.

Tears formed at the corner of her eye, and yet, they didn't fall, for she held them back.

Lux, who had taken Cai's chastity, didn't move and waited for a little while until Cai's pain subsided. His fingers wiped the tears that were threatening to fall from Cai's eyes.

Only after a minute did Lux start to move his hips.

He did it as gently as possible, slowly loosening her tight cave and helping her adapt to his shape and size.

Cai, who was in pain earlier, also noticed that a tingling sensation was starting to spread from her lower abdomen, where she and Lux were joined.

Lux could feel this as well, as a power that he never felt before started to wash over his body. This sensation felt warm and intimate, and he couldn't help but groan due to how good it felt.

The High Priestess of the Rowan Tribe was feeling the same thing as the red-headed teenager, whose throbbing manhood was going deeper inside of her with each thrust.

Her fears of being used as a tool to advance the Ranks of others shattered like a crystal vase. Right now, she was feeling one with the Half-Elf, who had promised to take responsibility for her.

She knew that Lux would keep his word, and with this belief, she no longer resisted the strange and intimate sensation that she was feeling for the first time in her life.

As Lux and Cai were both intoxicated with the feeling of pleasure, they noticed something at the same time.

Their powers seemed to be mingling with each other in the place where they were joined.

Simply put, it was a pleasure beyond words.

They didn't know if this was a good or bad thing, but there was no way for them to stop.

Lux's hips started to move a little faster, while Cai's sensuous moans started to grow louder.

Unknown to both of them, the entrance of Cai's womb had fully opened, allowing the tip of Lux's member to reach the place where it had never gone before.

At that moment, he felt as if his little brother had been electrocuted, making him release his essence directly into the place where babies were made.

Lux's orgasm was so strong that he even felt pain as his seed spurted endlessly inside Cai's womb, milking him dry.

A minute passed, but for Lux, that one minute felt like an eternity.

Only when the last drop of his essence was released did the tingling sensation stop.

Lux then felt his world spin around him, making him fall on top of the lady under him.

Cai didn't feel burdened by Lux's weight.

In fact, she even wrapped her arms around him, not letting him go.

Since both of them were hugging each other, they didn't notice that a mark, similar to a tattoo, had appeared on Cai's lower abdomen.

It looked like a heart with six wings spread wide on the sides, glowing faintly amidst the dimly lit room.

As Lux's consciousness slowly faded, rows of text appeared inside his head.

The Half-Elf no longer had the strength to read the words that appeared in front of him and welcomed the darkness that caught him firmly in its embrace.

If only Lux took some time to see the information that was written on the notification, he would surely be surprised by what was written there.

< Congratulations! >

< You now gained the power of the Legacy of the Celestial Maiden. >

< You have gained 10,000 Bonus Stat Points that you can freely distribute. >

< Strengthening your bonds with her will allow you to raise your Rank by leaps and bounds! Just make sure not to overdo it, or you might harm her body instead. >

< If you go past the safety quota each week, you will absorb the Celestial Maiden's Rank, making it regress for every stat that you drain from her. >

< Remember, do things in moderation, and the two of you will be able to complement each other. This would allow the two of you to mutually increase your strength, and reach the pinnacle of the Mortal Ranks in a few years' time. >

Chapter 802: Preparation For The Gate Of The Apocalypse

When Lux opened his eyes, he found his head nestled between Cai's breasts.

He was still half-asleep, but the softness, similar to that of a marshmallow, felt so comfortable that he decided to remain in that position for a while.

Due to his sensitivity, he could also feel someone hugging him from behind, pressing her body against his, sharing her warmth.

As he listened to the gentle breathing of the two beautiful ladies by his side, the cogs of Lux's brain finally started to turn. The events that happened several hours ago washed over his mind like a flood.

The Half-Elf could feel his cheeks burning in embarrassment, not because he was sandwiched between two peerless beauties, but due to the fact that he only managed to last one round with Cai.

In short, he only did it once each with his two fiances, and for someone who thought that he could handle both of them for 40 rounds, he fell short of his goal by leaps and bounds.

After remembering his one-sided defeat against the High Priestess, Lux decided to be petty and planted a kiss mark on Cai's cleavage, making the young lady's eyes flutter a bit.

But due to how tired she was, her expression returned to normal, and she remained peacefully asleep without a care in the world.

Lux knew that he was being petty, so he kissed the part that he lightly bit a while ago. Cai wasn't the one at fault.

He was just caught off guard by her uncanny ability to milk him dry after doing it once.

'My weakness also came into play,' Lux thought as his right hand caressed Cai's backside, feeling the smooth, plump buttocks that would make most young men howl like wolves.

Perhaps due to Lux's gentle and sweet caress, Cai's eyelids fluttered open.

She then lightly patted the Half-Elf's head in a daze before guiding his lips towards her nipple, treating him like a baby who wanted to drink some milk.

Lux was more than happy to accept Cai's invitation and using his lips and tongue, he started to suckle and play with the pink tip that was starting to get hard.

After making sure that the "baby" was obediently doing what he was supposed to do, Cai once again closed her eyes to sleep.

For some reason, Lux also felt drowsy, and not long after, he once again fell asleep, still suckling the High Priestess' breast.

Two hours later, Lux suddenly woke up after he felt that his surroundings were shaking.

The first thing he saw was his fiancée, Iris, who was looking down at him with an amused expression on her face.

The blue-haired beauty was on top of him, and it didn't take long for Lux to realize what was happening.

"Good morning, Lux," Iris said as she moved her hips, giving Lux the strong temptation to grab the two beautiful breasts that were swaying enticingly in front of him.

"Good morning, Iris," Lux replied as he placed his hands on her waist, supporting her body. "I never thought I'd wake up seeing you on top of me like this."

Iris stopped moving her hips and lowered her head to kiss her fiancée.

"Last night, I didn't get enough," Iris said softly. "I was hoping that we could do it one more time before breakfast."

"We still have time," Lux replied. "Let's take things slowly."

An hour later, Lux, Iris, and Cai bathed together in order to prepare for breakfast.

The Half-Elf and the blue-haired beauty noticed that Cai was blooming like a beautiful flower, making them wonder if this was the side-effect of her becoming Lux's woman.

"What's wrong?" Cai asked with a smile. "Why are you two looking at me weirdly? Is there something wrong with my face?"

"No," Lux replied. "Actually, you look more beautiful today than yesterday."

"How can that be possible?" Cai lightly pulled the Half-Elf's ear, making Iris giggle.

"But it's true, you know?" Iris commented. "Although you look the same, your aura has changed a bit. It feels more mature."

"Really?"

"Yes."

Although Cai doubted Lux's words, she didn't doubt Iris' comment.

Not long after, all three of them got dressed. The two ladies then went into the next room, where Eiko and Fei Fei had slept for the night.

To their surprise, the two Baby Slimes were no longer asleep and were simply making Blast Bombs as if it was a fun game to play.

The corner of Iris' and Cai's lips twitched as they looked at the pile of Blast Bombs that were on top of the bed.

Both of them knew that if these Blast Bombs exploded, a good chunk of Iris' Residence would be destroyed.

"Ma!"

"Wei!"

Eiko and Fei Fei noticed the two ladies and immediately jumped into their arms, completely ignoring the dangerous bombs that were still piled up on top of the bed.

Naturally, Lux was the one to do the cleanup, encasing all the Blast Bombs inside a Skeleton Bomb, ready to use at a moment's notice.

After his discussion with Garret, he no longer thought that Eiko's and Glee's addiction to making bombs was a problem. In fact, he wanted them to make more bombs, so that when the Divine Army of Light came knocking on their doors, he could give them an explosive welcome that they would never forget.

When Lux, Iris, and Cai arrived at the dining table, Maximilian gave Lux a wink, which the latter returned with a wink of his own.

He had noticed the changes in his granddaughter's temperament and quickly figured out that she had taken that final step, which would bind her Fate to the red-headed teenager, whose aura had changed as well.

Whether Vera and Alexander also noticed that something was different with Cai, they didn't show it on their faces.

They simply asked the teenagers to sit, so that they could have breakfast together.

Halfway through their meal, Maximilian spoke up, telling Lux about the move that his Rowan Tribe was planning to make.

"I will send Rankers to explore the Gate of the Apocalypse," Maximilian stated. "Since Rankers are allowed to enter it, I'm guessing that it isn't something simple. Cai will be going there as well because she feels as if something inside is calling out to her. Don't worry, Hector and the rest of our Elite Warriors are going to accompany her to ensure her safety."

(A/N: Hector is Xander's father. If you forgot who Xander is, he was Cai's protector during the previous dungeon expeditions.)

Lux nodded his head in understanding before shifting his gaze to his stepfather, Alexander.

"Barbatos Academy will also be sending Rankers," Alexander stated. "Alicia will be their leader in this expedition. Henrietta and her Guild Members will also be joining as well. I want them to gain as much experience as possible before breaking through and becoming Rankers themselves."

Henrietta was the Guildmaster of Barbatos Academy's Guild, Serenity. She was now a Peak Initiate, but her Ranker Trial had something to do with the Gate of the Apocalypse.

Because of this, she still hadn't made her breakthrough and was waiting for the Domain of the Fallen to open in order to ascend to the next Rank.

"And Iris?" Lux asked as he held the hand of the blue-haired beauty beside him.

Alexander paused for a bit before nodding his head. "She is going to go as well. I have kept her away from the Sacred Dungeon long enough. It is time for her to participate as well."

Lux held Iris' hand a little more tightly, but he understood what his Stepfather was trying to do.

Neither of them wanted Iris to become a greenhouse flower—one that would easily wilt when taken out to the wild, unable to handle harsh environments.

Although they were overprotective of her, they also understood that holding back her growth would be detrimental to her future and would prevent her from reaching her full potential.

"Don't worry. I'll be fine," Iris said with a smile. "I have gone to dangerous places before. Besides, I have my Guardians to protect me. Also, Alicia and the other Rankers of Barbatos Academy will be there."

Lux nodded. "Don't worry. I know you'll be safe."

"What about me?" Cai asked in a teasing tone. "Aren't you worried about my safety?"

"Of course, I am worried about you as well," Lux replied before holding Cai's hand under the table. "Be safe for me, okay?"

"Okay," Cai replied.

This exchange made Maximilian chuckle, while Vera and Alexander simply smiled.

If not for the reason that his Guild Headquarters was in danger of being discovered by the Divine Army of Light due to their location, Lux might have also accompanied his two fiances.

Even though he wasn't interested in exploring the Gate of the Apocalypse, he wouldn't mind tagging along to ensure their safety.

"When will all of you leave for the Domain of the Fallen?" Lux inquired.

"Two days from now," Alicia replied. "Our preparations are almost finished. The Rankers of the Rowan Tribe and Barbatos Academy will move as one to explore the Gate of the Apocalypse."

"I'm sure that the other Factions are thinking of doing the same thing. After all, if we find valuable resources, we don't want to share them with others. Basically, it's on a first come, first served basis. The Six Kingdoms and our Factions have already talked about this. No one will steal the others' resources, and we will all mind our own business."

Maximilian smirked. "If they try anything funny, I'll make sure that they regret it when they return. After all, we will be monitoring the events that will happen through the artifacts that everyone will be carrying with them."

The Saint of the Rowan Tribe had also warned the Six Kingdoms, as well as the Xynnar War Pact, that anyone who would target his tribe, as well as the members of Barbatos Academy, would receive his wrath.

Knowing how hot-tempered and easily angered Maximilian was, the rulers of the Six Kingdoms warned their members to not antagonize their candidates inside the Gates of the Apocalypse.

Chapter 803.1: Dance Of The Fairy Princess [Part 1]

"Fight!" Eiko shouted as she looked at the White Unicorn, Astra, whom she hadn't managed to defeat in the past.

Right after breakfast, the Baby Slime went looking for her rival to demand a rematch.

"Fight!" Eiko repeated as she glared at the Unicorn, who was looking down at her with an annoyed expression on his face.

Astra simply snorted in response to Eiko's demands, but the baby slime continued to pester him to fight.

"Fight!" Eiko shouted when Astra was eating.

"Fight!" Eiko repeated when Astra was simply walking in the hallways.

"Fight!"

"Fight!"

"Fight!"

Everywhere Astra went, the Baby Slime would follow him, demanding a fight.

However, no matter how Eiko insisted, Astra ignored her challenges, making the Baby Slime so angry that she started to throw Blast Bombs in the Unicorn's direction.

Iris' residence was protected by powerful barriers that only Saints would be able to destroy.

However, even though Eiko's Blast Bombs didn't damage the surroundings, the loud explosions made some of the students wonder if they were under attack.

Astra simply teleported away each time Eiko attacked him. Unfortunately for the Unicorn, he wasn't the only one with the ability to teleport.

Soon, a battle of teleportation commenced with Eiko throwing Blast Bombs at the Unicorn who was teleporting everywhere within Iris' residence.

"Are the two of you not going to stop them?" Cai asked Lux and Iris, who were calmly drinking some tea on the balcony.

"Eiko won't rest until she gets her rematch," Lux replied after he finished drinking his tea. "She had been striving to get stronger in order to win against Astra. Even if I ask her to stop, I doubt she'll listen."

Iris, on the other hand, smiled because she had an idea why Astra was avoiding the Baby Slime.

After she became a Ranker, Astra and her other Guardians also became stronger. However, Eiko had also improved.

Perhaps, the White Unicorn knew that the current Eiko was someone he couldn't beat easily. Because of this, he was avoiding a fight with her so that she wouldn't be able to have the satisfaction of beating him.

Currently, Iris' hands were tied. She loved Eiko and Astra, and she didn't want to pick sides.

Because of this, she just waited until the Baby Slime managed to convince the White Unicorn to fight her.

Soon, the explosions became louder and more intense with each passing minute. Eiko had already summoned five clones and attacked Astra with growing intensity.

The Unicorn also summoned five clones in order to confuse the baby slime, but for some reason, Eiko was able to detect the real one, and she focused all of her attention on her target with a determined look on her face.

This time, the students were really starting to panic because the explosions were truly hard to ignore at the moment.

Even Alexander and Alicia, who were in the Headmaster's Office, knew that this couldn't go on.

"I'll handle this," Alexander said before disappearing from where he sat.

Alicia could only shake her head helplessly before walking out of the office. She wanted to know how the Headmaster of Barbatos Academy was planning to deal with the Baby Slime, who would stop at nothing to have her revenge.

""Fight!""

Eiko and her clones shouted in unison as they all threw Blast Bombs in Astra's direction, making the White Unicorn teleport once again.

However, this time, he wasn't able to go anywhere because the space around him twisted, locking him in place.

Eiko was also frozen in place, and the Blast Bombs she tossed fell harmlessly to the floor without exploding.

"Stop making a ruckus inside the Academy," Alexander said, making the Baby Slime and the White Unicorn avert their gazes.

Alexander sighed before tossing the two of them to the Arena of the Academy.

He also understood that Eiko wouldn't stop with her terrorist antics until she got what she wanted, so he decided to just let the two of them fight and get it over with.

The Headmaster of Barbatos Academy placed a strong barrier in the arena, preventing the two from escaping.

Deep inside, he was curious to know how strong the Baby Slime had become after accompanying the Half-Elf on his adventures in Elysium.

Seeing that the only way out was to fight, Astra no longer hesitated and neighed angrily at the Baby Slime who annoyed him.

Eiko, on the other hand, had a fearless smile on her face as she prepared to fight her rival.

The two stared at each other for half a minute before both of them disappeared from where they stood. When their figures appeared, they clashed at the center of the arena.

A loud explosion took place, creating a dust of white smoke in the surroundings.

However, within that white smoke, two figures were moving at high speeds, creating shockwaves each time they collided with each other.

"Wow...", Cai muttered as she looked at the battle between Eiko and Astra. "I didn't know that Eiko had become this strong."

Lux, who was seated beside her, had his arms crossed over his chest with a proud smile on his face.

"You ain't seen nothing yet," Lux stated.

A strong gust of wind blew the dust cloud away revealing the two combatants inside the arena.

On one side, a flying White Unicorn with lightning streaking from the tip of its horn appeared.

On the other side, a young girl, with long blue hair and blue eyes, looked at her opponent with a devilish smile on her adorable face.

A blue crown nestled on top of her head, and a pair of butterfly wings flapped behind her back.

Iris and Cai, who were seeing Eiko's Fairy Princess Transformation for the first time, weren't able to resist being charmed by her cute appearance.

Even Vera and Alicia, who had come to watch the battle, were surprised by Eiko's current form.

Eiko spread her arms wide and countless Blast Bombs materialized around her, covering nearly half of the arena.

"Boom Boom Bakugan!" Eiko shouted and the countless Blast Bombs flew toward Astra like a swarm of bees, eager to sting their prey whom their mistress wanted to defeat the most.

Chapter 804.2: Dance Of The Fairy Princess [Part 2]

The countless Blast Bombs flew towards Astra, but the Unicorn simply snorted before teleporting away from his location.

However, Eiko had already expected him to make the same move, so she scattered all the Blast Bombs across the arena and detonated them at the same time.

This caused a chain reaction to take place, and soon, a series of explosions shook the entire arena.

A thick dust cloud appeared in the surroundings, but Eiko knew that this kind of attack wouldn't be able to reach the Unicorn, whom she treated as her rival.

With a wave of her hand, the dust cloud disappeared.

At the far end of the arena, Astra hovered in the air, with a dome of light protecting him.

The Unicorn then eyed the Fairy Princess with a serious expression before flying high up in the air.

It then raised its horn toward the sky, creating dark storm clouds above the arena.

With a neigh filled with defiance, Astra summoned countless lightning bolts which rained down upon Eiko.

He intended to finish the battle as early as possible because his opponent made him feel that the longer the battle continued, the less chances he had of winning.

However, just as the countless lightning bolts were about to hit their target, all of their trajectories changed, as if being attracted by something.

At the center of the arena, a five-meter tall Thunder Slime absorbed the countless lightning bolts, resulting in its entire body glowing white.

The corner of Astra's lips twitched after seeing the Argonaut-Ranked World Boss that appeared out of nowhere.

He then neighed angrily at Eiko which meant, "Girl, this is a one-on-one battle. Why are you summoning World Bosses to our fight?!"

Eiko, who could understand almost all the languages of the Beasts in the world, smiled fearlessly.

"I don't fight one-on-one battles," Eiko replied with a smile.

Lux, who was watching on the stands, nodded his head in satisfaction.

"That's my girl," Lux said with a smug expression on his face.

Clearly, he approved of Eiko's way of fighting, which resembled his own.

Iris and Cai, who were seated beside him, didn't know whether they should laugh or cry at the way Eiko and Lux handled one-on-one battles.

The Thunder Slime then growled in anger as if it didn't like Astra's treatment of its mistress.

It then leapt into the air, turning into a blur, and charged at Astra with great speed.

Just as the Unicorn was about to use its teleportation again, the space in its surroundings seemed to distort, preventing the Unicorn from breaking free from the space created by the Argonaut-Ranked World Boss Thunder Slime.

Thunder Slimes not only specialized in attacking their opponents with Lightning Bolts, but they also had the ability to distort space, creating booming shock waves that was followed by roars of thunder.

Astra was quick to react, once again summoning a barrier to protect himself.

The moment the Thunder Slime smashed against Astra's barrier, a loud thunderous sound ensued, making the students of the Academy cry out in shock and fear, due to how loud and scary the sound was.

Astra might be strong, but his strength was only equivalent to that of an Argonaut-Ranked Alpha Monster.

If the Unicorn were to be matched with one of Lux's summons, he would be equivalent to the Half-Elf's Nightgaunt, Shax.

The barrier didn't break, but the Unicorn was blown away, smashing into the corner of the arena, where a barrier was erected, preventing anyone from escaping the battlefield.

The Unicorn then crashed to the ground, making Iris clench her fist.

At the end of the day, Astra was still her Guardian Beast. As a Beast Summoner, she had full faith in her friend and protector, who had accompanied her in many dangerous situations.

As if sensing her gaze, Astra looked at the stands where Iris was seated. The Unicorn then propped himself up from the ground and neighed loudly.

"...He is undoing his seal," Iris said with a serious expression on her face. "Astra is now going to fight for real."

The Thunder Slime, who had no idea what Astra was doing, didn't give a hoot and once again charged at his opponent with the intention of beating the crap out of him.

At that exact moment, a blinding light erupted from where Astra stood, making everyone briefly cover their eyes.

A loud explosion followed as the Thunder Slime collided with the brilliant light.

When the light receded and everyone was able to see again, they saw the Thunder Slime crashing toward the opposite end of the arena, forming a crater around where it landed.

Eiko narrowed her gaze as she looked at her rival who had transformed into a demi-human creature.

A handsome man with long white hair looked at Eiko with a solemn expression on his face. He had the wings of an angel, and the golden horn on his forehead glowed faintly.

He was holding a sword in each hand, which made him look like an angel that had descended from the heavens to punish those who defied heaven's will.

Astra's strength had now risen to the peak of an Argonaut-Ranked World Boss, giving him a slight advantage over the Thunder Slime that Eiko summoned.

Suddenly, a giggle reached everyone's ears.

Eiko, who was currently in her Fairy Princess form, giggled as if she found something very interesting.

A few seconds later, she flew towards Astra with a fearless grin on her face as if challenging him to fight in close combat.

Astra, who had already reached the limit of his patience, flapped the wings on his back and met Eiko in mid-air.

He then swung his sword without mercy to the adorable little girl, who had repeatedly pestered him to fight.

Now that he had transformed into his Ultimate Form, he decided to teach the annoying Fairy Princess a lesson she would never forget... or at least, that was what he meant to do.

When Eiko and Astra were only a few meters away from each other, a five-meter-tall Skeleton wielding several weapons in each hand appeared behind Eiko.

It was none other than Eiko's Corpse God, which she had learned to use in combat when Lux was training with Hereswith inside the Necromancer's Ancestral Lands.

Just like her Papa, Eiko had learned the skill Death God's Aura, which created a crimson mist that manifested around the Corpse God's body.

Astra, who initially thought that the Fairy Princess was courting death by challenging him in close combat, now faced the Corpse God, whose role was to protect its Master from any kind of attacks, no matter what form it took.

"Is this really a Slime?" Alicia asked Vera who was seated beside her. "I've never seen Slimes fight like this."

"She's not an ordinary Slime," Vera replied with a smile. "She's my grandson's and granddaughter's Baby Slime. Also, she calls me Manma."

Clearly, Vera also thought of Eiko as an important family member, making Alicia rub her forehead as she tried to digest the information she was receiving.

The beautiful secretary of Barbatos Academy then glanced at the Half-Elf who was watching the battle from the stands.

She was wondering what kind of food he was feeding Eiko, and she wished to know the secret to raising a Baby Slime, who was just as strong and cute as the one in the arena.

Even Alexander, who was watching from his VIP seat, didn't expect Eiko to have such high fighting prowess.

To be honest, he didn't think too highly of Eiko in the past. For him, a Slime was only a Slime, and couldn't be treated as a Rare or Unique Monster.

But, after seeing this battle, his impression of the Baby Slime, who was always perched on top of Lux's head, changed by leaps and bounds.

Maximilian, who had secretly come to investigate the commotion, was also shocked by the things he witnessed in the arena.

Similar to Alexander, he only thought of Eiko as a pet. But after seeing the battle, he realized how wrong his first impression was.

Chapter 805.3: Dance Of The Fairy Princess [Part 3]

The sound of weapons clashing reverberated in the arena as Astra and the Corpse God exchanged blows with each other.

Although he was now an Argonaut-Ranked World Boss, Astra was still feeling pressured by Eiko's tenacity and fighting ability.

Not only did the Unicorn have to block the Corpse God's attacks, he also had to evade Eiko's punches and kicks, which forced him to distance himself from the Fairy Princess.

However, since Eiko could teleport, she would always reappear in front of him, giving him no time to catch a breath.

Left with no choice, Astra created five clones of himself in order to help him attack the Fairy Princess. However, this was a mistake.

He wasn't the only one who could make clones!

"Eyah!" Eiko shouted.

A moment later, five Fairy Princesses appeared behind her.

Since these five copies could use all of Eiko's abilities, they also summoned their own Corpse Gods, almost making Astra and his clones puke blood.

An all out dogfight took place in the skies of arena as six Astra's and six Eiko's fought tooth and nail against each other.

""Dragon's Breath!""

Eiko and her clones unleashed purple Dragon's Breaths, which was imbued by the power of the Pseudo-Transcendent Flames she received back in the Blackrock Clan.

This power burned the mana of its targets, which also dealt an equivalent magical damage to them.

Astra, who was caught by this attack at point-blank range, barely avoided the attack. However, he wasn't able to evade it completely.

His left arm was hit by the attack, and his face distorted in pain. Astra immediately backed away to a safe distance.

Their battle momentarily came to a halt as Eiko and her clones hovered in the air with their arms crossed over their chest.

Clearly, they were giving their enemy time to recover so that he could continue to fight them to his fullest.

"I admit that you are strong," Astra said in a cold tone. "But this won't be enough to beat me. You lost your opportunity to win the moment you stopped attacking me."

Unknown to Eiko, Astra had been secretly channeling an Ultimate Spell while fighting her.

Now that Ultimate Spell was completed, all Astra needed to do was unleash this devastating attack that encompassed the entirety of the arena.

Without any warning, Astra threw one of his swords towards the sky.

This sword then exploded, forming a giant magical array on the heavens.

"Magna Kyrie Eleison!" Astra roared.

He knew that Alexander had also activated the safety mechanism that would instantly teleport anyone that was about to receive a fatal injury. Because of this, Astra threw caution to the wind and unleashed his ultimate attack that could instantly kill a Dreadnaught-Ranked Monster.

Eiko and her clones were bathed by the brilliant light that descended from the heavens.

Although the light was quite intense, the people watching the battle didn't cover their faces and simply waited for the outcome of the battle.

The arena shook repeatedly, and cracks appeared on the barrier. However, since Alexander was there, it didn't break and endured the brunt of Astra's strongest attack.

A minute later, the light finally faded.

Iris', Cai's, Alicia's, Alexander's, and Maximilian's eyes widened in shock because what they saw in the arena wasn't the outcome that all of them had envisioned.

Eiko and her clones were perfectly unscathed by Astra's full-powered attack.

In fact, the Fairy Princess was even eating some cookies, which the maids had secretly given her this morning after breakfast.

"H-How?" Alicia muttered in disbelief. "Why does she look perfectly fine?"

"That's because Eiko is immune to Holy, Light, and Divine Magic," Vera replied as if this was a very obvious thing. "No matter how strong the attack is, unless it surpasses the Divine Rank, it won't have any effect on her whatsoever."

This information made Alicia and those who heard Vera's explanation look at the Fairy Princess in disbelief.

They just couldn't comprehend how a Baby Slime was able to be completely immune to an attack that could turn a Dreadnaught-Ranked Monster into ashes.

"Done?" Eiko asked after finishing the last cookie in her hand. "My turn?"

Due to how shocked Astra was, he was unable to reply to Eiko's question.

Assuming that his silence was a yes, Eiko raised her hand and summoned a Skeleton Bomb that was at least twenty-meters tall.

This was a lesser version of Eiko's tactical Nuke that could obliterate a quarter of an entire city if detonated.

She had ten of these Skeleton Bombs in her possession, which she had made with Glee's help.

Since Astra had used his ultimate attack, Eiko decided to also use her own ultimate attack, which would end the battle between them.

"Boom Boom," Eiko said as she casually tossed the giant Skeleton Bomb at her opponent. "Bakugan!"

"I-I concede!" Astra shouted.

The Unicorn no longer had the strength and willpower to continue fighting, especially after using his strongest attack that was supposed to be his trump card.

Not to mention, his strongest attack didn't even harm a strand of Eiko's hair, making him wonder if he was just having a dream of fighting against the Baby Slime, who had wanted to have a rematch with him for a very long time.

After hearing Astra's surrender, Alexander waved his hand, making the giant Skeleton Bomb stop mid-air and preventing it from exploding.

Although he was confident that the barrier wouldn't break as long as he was around, he no longer dared to underestimate the destructive power of the Fairy Princess, who had made his world views turn upside down.

"Yay!" Eiko spun her body round and round before dancing in the air like a ballerina.

She was so happy about her victory over Astra that she couldn't help but express her emotions by letting her body move as she pleased.

Dancing was an unknown concept to her, but that was what exactly happened.

Eiko danced happily above the arena, making those who saw it smile due to how happy and charming she looked as she allowed her emotions to run free.

A minute later, she flew towards Iris and hugged her tight.

"I won, Mama!" Eiko said with a big smile on her face.

"Congratulations," Iris replied before planting a kiss on the adorable girl's face.

Eiko giggled happily before kissing Iris back. After that, she returned to her Baby Slime form and nuzzled Iris' cheeks.

The blue-haired beauty then lightly patted the Baby Slime's face, making Eiko very satisfied.

A moment later, Iris glanced at her Guardian, Astra, who had also returned to his Unicorn Form, with his head down and looking very dejected.

'You did well, Astra,' Iris said softly through telepathy. 'There is no shame in losing to Eiko. Just like how she strived to become strong in order to beat you, you must also strive to become stronger in order to beat her next time.'

Astra, who hadn't looked at this angle, slowly raised his head and looked at his Master, who was giving him an encouraging look.

'Let's become strong together, Astra,' Iris stated. 'Next time, it will be you who will be asking Eiko for a rematch. Have you forgotten? You have beaten her twice. She only beat you once. So the score is 2 victories, and 1 loss. You are still ahead by one win.'

Although Astra knew that Iris was merely consoling him, her words had moved him and stroked his desire to become stronger.

Now that he had a goal in mind, the Unicorn decided to train harder so that the next time he met Eiko, he would be the one to challenge her in a battle. And this time, he would no longer be the one losing.

Seeing that her Guardian had regained his willpower, the blue-haired beauty secretly thanked Eiko in her heart.

Because of this incident, Astra would not be the only one who would become serious about becoming stronger.

Her other Guardians, who had also watched the battle from their connection with her, also became determined to not let the Baby Slime, whom they didn't take seriously in the past, to get ahead of them in terms of strength.

Fei Fei, who was perched on Cai's head, looked at Eiko with a determined expression on her face.

After seeing her best friend fight, a desire that wasn't there in the past started to bloom in the Baby Golden Slime's heart.

Perhaps sensing her Beast Companion's thoughts, Cai held Fei Fei in her hands and kissed her forehead.

'Let's also become strong, Fei Fei,' Cai said through her connection with her Baby Slime.

'Wei!' Fei Fei nodded her head.

Later that day, Cai rummaged through her Grandpa's collection of Beast Cores and picked the ones she could feed to Fei Fei in order to make her stronger.

Maximilian, who had seen the battle, also thought that making Fei Fei strong was a good investment.

If Fei Fei could become as strong as Eiko, then he would feel more assured that his granddaughter would have another layer of protection that would shield her from those who wished her harm.

Chapter 806: My Intuition Tells Me That It's A Girl

A day had passed since Eiko's and Astra's battle.

"Tomorrow, the Rankers of Barbatos Academy and the Rowan Tribe will depart for the Domain of the Fallen," Alexander said after they had just finished their lunch. "I talked to Mother, and she agreed to accompany Iris and Cai to the meeting place to ensure their safety.

"This is also our way of telling the Xynnar War Pact, the Skystead Alliance, and the Six Kingdoms, that we have one more Saint on our side. I'm pretty sure that they will be shocked after seeing her, and this will also make them take our Faction more seriously."

Lux nodded his head in understanding. He felt a lot better after knowing that his Grandma would escort Iris and Cai to the entrance of the Domain of the Fallen.

If possible, he also wanted to come with them, but time was not on his side.

He had to meet with the Steward of the Crystal Palace as soon as possible so that he could ask whether his Guild could take asylum in their territory.

An hour later, Lux, Iris, and Cai went to the blue-haired beauty's residence to spend the remainder of the day together.

Iris even told her Father and Grandma that they would not be joining them for dinner.

Because of this, Vera volunteered to take care of Eiko and Fei Fei for the time being, understanding well what her granddaughter wanted to do.

Since they only had a day to be together, Lux and his two fiances planned to make the best of it before the sun rose, when all of them had to depart to carry out their respective missions.

As soon as they entered Iris' bedroom, the blue-haired beauty dragged Lux to the bed without another word.

Naturally, the Half-Elf didn't resist and even allowed his two fiances to remove his clothes, while the two ladies took turns in kissing his lips.

Lux's lean and toned body, which had become more attractive after becoming a Ranker, was something that Iris and Cai were both secretly happy about.

Of course, this was also what the Half-Elf thought as Iris and Cai also removed their clothes in front of him.

After becoming Rankers, the two gorgeous ladies even became more seductive in his eyes.

His only problem was that his eyes automatically darted to their thighs, which made him swallow hard and his little brother stood up like a warrior that was about to fight a war every time.

Seeing his reaction, the two ladies glanced at each other before lowering their heads to take turns in kissing the little guy, which made Lux breathe deeply.

Lux felt that he was the luckiest and happiest man in the world as the two ladies did their best to make him feel good.

After losing her chastity, Cai seemed to have gotten bolder. She even took the initiative to take the Half-Elf's member inside her mouth, while Iris licked and sucked his balls.

Lux's hands weren't being idle as he played and teased the entrance of their caves, which his little brother would be exploring later.

A few minutes later, a groan escaped Lux's lips as his seed spurted inside Cai's mouth.

The High Priestess closed her eyes as the Half-Elf's member twitched inside her mouth. She kept her mouth around his member, making sure that she didn't spill a single drop.

When Lux's climax ended, Cai covered her lips with her hand before swallowing.

For some reason, the sight of the High Priestess swallowing his essence made the love and desire in Lux's chest flare up, allowing his member to retain its hardness.

Fortunately, what happened with Cai the other day didn't happen again, allowing Lux to make love to the both of them six rounds each.

He didn't want to overdo it because his second fiance had a limit on the number of times that she could make love to Lux.

Also, since both girls were headed to the last Gate of the Apocalypse, he didn't want to tire them too much.

After their love making ended, the three of them took a bath and returned to the bed just to cuddle and hug each other.

"How long do you think it will take for the three of us to be together again?" Iris asked as she rested her head on Lux's chest.

"I don't know," Lux replied honestly. "After going to the Crystal Palace, I have to go to Agartha to meet with someone."

"Hmm... my intuition tells me that it's a girl," Cai commented with her head resting on Lux's shoulder. "Am I right, or am I wrong?"

"You're right," Lux answered. "Her name is Aurora."

"She has a beautiful name," Iris said. "Is she also beautiful?"

"Yes," Lux replied.

"More beautiful than us?" Cai inquired in a teasing tone.

"Just as beautiful as the two of you," Lux answered in a heartbeat.

Iris and Cai gave each other a knowing glance before sucking Lux's nipples hard at the same time, which made the Half-Elf's body stiffen.

Lux knew that his two fiances were merely teasing him, so he decided to retaliate by pinching their nipples as well!

A moment later, the three frolicked on the bed, which ended with Lux making love to them two more times before finally calling it a day.

"This is the first time you've asked me to do something like this," Iris asked.

"I just want to experiment a little," Lux replied while his head rested on Iris's thighs.

"Experiment a bit?" Iris arched an eyebrow as she lightly brushed Lux's hair.

"Yes."

"And the result of your experiment is?"

"Your thighs are amazing."

Cai, who didn't want to lose to Iris, decided to join in on the fun.

Soon the Half-Elf found himself sandwiched between the thighs of his two fiances, making him wonder if they planned to send him on a one-way-trip to heaven.

Right before sunrise, Lux, Iris, and Cai stood at the gates of Barbatos Academy.

The three of them were reluctant to part with each other, but they understood that each of them had their own responsibilities.

They hugged each other till the very last moment, with Eiko and Fei Fei joining them as well.

"Protect Mama!" Eiko said to the White Unicorn who was standing a few meters away from Iris.

Astra gave the baby slime the "You don't have to tell me" glare, which Eiko responded to by glaring back at him as well.

"It's time to go," Vera said as she gave Lux a hug. "Make sure to send some reports to the Guild Chat from time to time."

"I will, Grandma," Lux replied. "Please also update me on the recent happenings in the Gate of the Apocalypse."

Vera nodded and promised her grandson that she would do just that.

Soon, Iris, Cai, Henrietta, and Xander, along with the other Rankers of Barbatos Academy and the Rowan Tribe, entered Maximilian's portable teleportation gate that would send them a mile away from the entrance of the Gate of the Fallen.

Keane and Gerhart were still in the midst of doing their Ranker Trials, so they were unable to join this expedition.

As for Cethus, he was waiting for Lux in the Crystal Palace, as part of their agreement.

Although the Dragon Born felt that it was regrettable to not enter the last Gate of the Apocalypse, he understood that his Guild's safety was the top priority.

Iris, Cai, and Vera were the last people to enter the portal. However, before they did, they waved goodbye at Lux one last time, making the Half-Elf almost want to join them on their adventure.

Still, he endured and waved back at them with a smile on his face.

Only when everyone had left did the Half-Elf sigh deeply, making him feel a little lonely.

Alexander, who stood by his side, rested his hand on his stepson's shoulder.

"If you need my help, feel free to call me anytime," Alexander stated. "It doesn't matter if you are facing the Divine Army of Light or other strong opponents. There is no shame in asking for help, especially when you are dealing with Saints."

Lux nodded and promised his stepfather that he would not hesitate to ask for his help if he truly needed it.

Maximilian said the same thing as Alexander and even playfully messed with Lux's hair, making Eiko bite his hand out of annoyance.

The Patriarch of the Rowan Tribe roared in laughter after seeing the feisty Baby Slime protect her Papa from his actions.

As a Saint, Eiko's bite did nothing to him. He even felt that the Baby Slime was quite cute as she latched onto his hand, not letting it go.

"Eiko, it's fine," Lux coaxed the Baby Slime to let go of his soon to be grandfather-in-law's hand. "Sir Maximilian is just teasing me."

Eiko also understood that she wasn't doing any damage to the old coot, so she decided to just stick her tongue out at him, making the old man laugh out loud for the second time.

"I'll be going now," Lux said as he gave two of his strongest allies a nod of farewell.

"Be careful," Alexander replied. "I'll always be free to lend my hand if you need me."

"I as well," Maximilian stated. "One of these days, I'll visit your Guild Headquarters and see what kind of fun things you are cooking up in there."

Lux smiled before pressing his closed fist over his chest.

"Open, Heaven's Gate!"

A flash of light wrapped around Lux's entire body.

A moment later, he disappeared from where he stood and returned to the Outer Reaches to handle the matter of his Guild Headquarters.

Although he felt a little anxious about his two fiances going inside the last Gate of the Apocalypse without him, he tried to brush it off, assuring himself with the fact that there were many Rankers who would protect them.

He wasn't aware that within the last Gate of the Sacred Dungeon, an incident that no one had anticipated was about to unfold.

Chapter 807.1: The Crystal Palace [Part 1]

Outer Reaches...

"You're finally back, Lux," Gaap said with a smile. "How was your family reunion?"

"It went well, Master," Lux replied. "We can now go to the Crystal Palace to talk to their Steward. Did Cethus already make the preparations?"

Gaap nodded. "He returned here yesterday and set the coordinates to one of the Strongholds near the Capital City of the Crystal Dragons. However, he didn't stay for long and went to Rex Lapis to meet his other Grandma, Faustina. It seems that he needed to report to her that he had successfully become a Ranker or something."

Lux smirked due to how filial Cethus was. Because of his two exceptional grandmothers, the Dragon Born was able to walk unhindered in both Karshvar Draconis and the Crystal Palace.

"Well then, shall we go now?" Gaap asked as he finished drinking his tea. "The sooner we talk to the Steward, the better."

The Half-Elf nodded his head in agreement and followed his Master to the teleportation gate.

Truth be told, he was feeling slightly anxious about meeting Lady Augustina, who was the Steward of the Crystal Palace.

Although she was Cethus' grandmother, he couldn't be as calm and collected as the arrogant Dragon Born. After all, he was going to meet a Supreme.

Perhaps, noticing his anxiety, Gaap only patted his shoulders and gave him a reassuring smile.

"Don't be so tense," Gaap stated. "Even if she doesn't agree, we can always just wander around and look for a place that we can call our home."

Lux smiled and felt less anxious about meeting the Steward of the Crystal Palace. He once asked Keoza if he knew Lady Augustina, but the Dragon Token remained silent, no matter how much the Half-Elf asked about the Crystal Palace.

It was as if Keoza had gone into hibernation and didn't want to bother answering Lux's inquiries.

When the Half-Elf and the Halfling entered the teleportation gate, they were welcomed by dozens of armed Dragon Borns, who seemed to be waiting for their arrival.

To Lux's surprise, the one at the very front was a very familiar-looking Dragon Born, who was looking at him with a very big smile on his face.

The smile was so wide that Lux felt as if his liver was itching—more especially so when he was reminded that it was coming from a Saint who had waited for him for nearly a month at the entrance of the Gate of the Fallen.

"H-Hello, Uncle Piccoro," Lux greeted the Dragon Born with a smile.

Piccoro didn't reply. Instead, he walked towards the Half-Elf in a steady pace, with the same smile plastered on his face.

When he was only a meter away from the red-headed teenager, he reached out his arm and grabbed Lux's robes, lifting him high up in the air with one hand.

"You brat, how dare you make me wait at the entrance of the Gate of the Fallen for a very long time?!" Piccoro roared in anger, making all the Rankers that had come to welcome Lux and Gaap snicker. "Also, who are you calling Uncle? I have no recollection of having a bastard like you as my nephew!"

Piccoro was one of the highest-ranking nobles of the Crystal Palace, and only a handful of individuals could make the hot-tempered Dragon Born rein in his anger.

Lux, who received Piccoro's anger, as well as flying spittle, could only hang helplessly as the Dragon Born continued to spout a litany of curses.

Although he was being berated, the Dragon Born looked and sounded cute, at least compared to the curses that he received from his Grandmaster, Hereswith.

After the Half-Elf's face was drenched by Piccoro's spittle, Lux calmly wiped his face with a handkerchief, which made the Saint even angrier.

Just as he was about to shake Lux's body to oblivion, an amused voice resounded in the sky, which made the Dragon Born cease all hostilities.

"Piccoro, bring him here to the Palace," Lady Augustina ordered. "I want to have a proper talk with him."

Piccoro glared at the Half-Elf before putting him back down on the ground. "Follow me!"

He didn't even bother to wait for Lux's reply before turning around to fly in the sky.

Lux summoned his mount, Jed, and helped his Master, Gaap, to mount him as well.

The Thunder Warg King then flew high in the air and followed the Dragon Born, who flew at a steady pace, not leaving them behind.

The other Rankers just watched them from a distance.

Since Piccoro was the one to personally pick up Lux from the teleportation gate, they no longer needed to escort him to the Crystal Palace, where their Steward was waiting for him.

After traveling for half an hour, Lux noticed something shining in the distance. As they came closer to it, he realized that he was staring at a structure that looked as if it was made from crystal.

Lux had seen many things, but he had never seen something like this in his lifetime.

"It has been a while since I've been to the Crystal Palace," Gaap commented from behind Lux. "It looks just as majestic as I remembered it."

The Crystal Palace was a palace literally made up of crystals.

However, these crystals were a bit special.

It was made from the Dragon Breath of a Supreme-Ranked Crystal Dragon, creating a nearly invincible stronghold that wouldn't break even if it was hit by a full-powered blow from a Supreme.

Similar to Lux's Guild Headquarters, the Crystal Palace was located in the middle of a Mountain.

At its base was the Capital City of Rex Zariza, which served as the main city of those that belonged to the Crystal Palace.

As Lux, Gaap, and Piccoro approached the airspace of the capital, the Half-Elf frowned because he could feel the power of a being that far outclassed a Saint.

His Dragon King's Aura was domineering, but he mostly reigned it inside his body.

This aura, however, was radiating so intensely, like an invisible sun, making beads of sweat form on Lux's forehead.

A few minutes later, Piccoro descended from the sky. The Half-Elf followed suit and guided Jed to land at the entrance of the Palace, where several individuals were waiting for them.

"Welcome to the Crystal Palace, Lux."

Aur, who looked as handsome as ever, greeted Lux with a smile that made the Half-Elf wonder if he was looking at the same person.

The Dragon Prince that he had met in the past wasn't this friendly, which made the Half-Elf feel as if something was out of place.

"Hello, Your Highness," Lux bowed respectfully at the Dragon Prince, which made Piccoro nod his head in approval. "It's a pleasure to see you again."

Aur eyed the Half-Elf before shaking his head.

"There is no need for formalities between us," Aur stated. "I know that you've come here to discuss an important matter with Lady Augustina. She is already waiting for you in the throne room. Please, follow me."

Lux took a deep breath before following the Dragon Prince inside the Crystal Palace. Now that he had arrived in their territory, he needed to do his best to be as polite and respectful as possible in order to create a good impression.

What he didn't know was that the moment he had arrived in the territory of the Crystal Palace, Lady Augustina had already been observing his every move.

'So this is the person you chose, Your Majesty,' Lady Augustina thought as she leaned back on her throne. 'I look forward to meeting him personally.'

She had heard many things about Lux through her grandson, Cethus, and wondered if he was just exaggerating or telling her the truth.

But after sensing the Dragon Token in Lux's possession and feeling a familiar aura inside it, the Steward of the Crystal Palace smiled in her heart.

She knew that after many years of separation, she would finally get a chance to talk to her true Master, whom she believed to be the only rightful King of the Dragon Race.
