Chapter 751 Meet his childhood sweetheart

Instead, Spencer took Lyra's phone and called Anthony himself.

"Anthony, I'm on the way to the aquarium with Daddy, Mommy and Molly right now."

Anthony was stunned for a while and a little overjoyed, "Are you finally willing to accept that aquarium?"

Spencer on the other end of the phone was very arrogant, "This is a gift from you. It's already in my hands and I can't refuse it. Why can't I accept it now?"

"All right."

Hearing this tone, he knew that Spencer still didn't forgive him.

It seemed that he thought too much.

He was not discouraged, and asked in a more gentle tone than before,

"Spencer, you call me for the first time, but you just want to talk about this? The aquarium belongs to you. I just paid an agent to manage it. You can play there whenever you want without asking me."

Spencer snorted proudly, "You think too much. I just want to tell you that I plan to remodel the aquarium and put some new and interesting animals in it."

"Of course, no problem. You can raise any animal you want."

"Hmph, don't say that too early. I'm afraid you won't be able to buy them at that time. If you are free now, come over and talk to me."

Although his voice was immature, it was a little calm and scheming, like a little adult.

"Okay." Spencer offered to invite him over. Anthony didn't need to think twice and couldn't refuse.

The phone was hung up decisively by Spencer, without any "bye bye", which was extremely cold.

Anthony decisively turned the steering wheel at the next intersection and went to the aquarium in the opposite direction.

Seeing that he had changed his route, Mavis hurriedly asked, "Where are we going?"

"Mr. Malcolm and his family are visiting the aquarium. I'll accompany them."

"Then do I need to get out of the car now?"

Anthony thought for a while, "Let's go together. Molly is here too. You worked in the aquarium for a few years before. You are more familiar with it than me. If you introduce the two kids about marine life, I am afraid you can be more detailed than me."

Molly was there too.

Chapter 752 He knows how to discriminate

Because Molly wanted to see the little dolphin named Jingles, a group of people took the lead in going to the place where the dolphin lived.

This was where Mavis worked for a long time, and no one knew it better than her.

She smiled and introduced to Lyra, "The little dolphin named Jingles is the one with the brightest complexion and the roundest head in the pool. Very smart."

"She can giggle at Molly, play balls with Molly, roll in the water and be cute. It has a very high IQ. She is Molly's best friend in the aquarium, and the other dolphins are specially bought by Anthony for Jingles' company."

Lyra heard what she said and watched from the edge of the pool.

When the little dolphin Jingles saw Molly, she was so happy in the water that she swam to the shore and stuck out her bulging head for Molly to touch.

Molly hadn't seen her in a long time, and laughed happily.

Spencer sat in his daddy's arms, staring blankly. No one knew what he was thinking.

Malcolm noticed and asked, "Would you want to meet Molly's dolphin friend? Seems like a good-natured little girl."

Spencer shook his head and raised his chin arrogantly, "I don't like such scheming little animals. I like fierce ones that can eat people in one bite!"

He simulated a big shark and his cute little face looked fierce.

Malcolm curled his fingertips and gently flicked the tip of his little nose dotingly.

Knowing that he was duplicitous, Malcolm took the initiative to say, "But I'm very interested in that little dolphin named Jingles. Can you accompany me to say hello?"

"Okay then." He frowned, being very reasonable.

Malcolm chuckled lightly, bent down to let him stand on the ground, and held his little hand to the pool.

Molly, who was playing with the little dolphin by the pool, immediately introduced to the little dolphin enthusiastically, "Jingles, this is my twin brother. He is very smart and handsome. Can he touch you?"

Jingles shouted in the water, clucked, and swam in front of Spencer. Then she lowered her head, and enthusiastically let him touch.

Chapter 753 Reach its limit

It was time to go home.

Lyra took Molly from Anthony's arms, and the family of four took the lead getting in the luxury car and left the aquarium under the gaze of Anthony and Mavis.

After they left, Anthony turned his head to look at Mavis, "I just saw you chatting with Rara all the time. What were you talking about?"

"She's concerned about our relationship." She said concisely, carefully observing Anthony's expression.

Anthony looked at ease. Looking into his deep blue eyes, no one can't see through what he thought.

"How did you answer?"

Seeing that he really cared about everything about Lyra, Mavis felt a little embarrassed and didn't answer, but took the lead sitting in the passenger seat and waited for him to drive.

Anthony sat on the driver's seat, quickly ignited the engine, and drove away from the aquarium, but he kept asking, "Why didn't you answer the question I just asked?"

Mavis looked serious, "This question is important?"

"Of course."

He answered almost in seconds, making Mavis's heart sink to the bottom.

"If you don't tell me, how do I know if you will play the role of my wife when you face the Callahan's relatives in the future, and whether you can manage the terms of the agreement between us?"

Mavis: "I talked to her about the last date. We met in Teflayria and we met again in Crana. She seems to know you very well and compliments you. She hopes we can go on well. That's it. Is it detailed enough?"

Anthony raised his eyebrows, and seemed to be in a good mood.

It seemed to be because of the sentence, "she seems to know you very well and compliments you".

But Mavis's attitude made him uncomfortable. "What kind of tone are you using? Wasn't you okay before you came to the aquarium? Why did you suddenly talk like someone who messed with you?"

"I didn't. Maybe... the menstrual period is coming."

A woman's short temper before and after her period can be the culprit behind everything.

Anthony was a little embarrassed, stopped asking questions, and concentrated on driving.

When they were chatting in the dining room, Mavis quickly went downstairs.

The red ribbon around her neck added a bit of charm to her business attire. It was not consistent at all, but it was like the finishing touch, which was particularly noticeable.

Rebecca saw it from afar.

"It's the first time I see Mavis wearing a silk scarf. It's so gentle. Mavis is tall, and looks like a flight attendant."

Timothy looked back and nodded in admiration, "It's really good. Rebecca, you can learn more about how to dress from her. She can wear professional clothes with such a charm. You have to learn."

Rebecca gagged him, "Timothy, you're so annoying. It's all about me."

The atmosphere between siblings was harmonious.

Only Anthony lowered his eyes and ate the vegetables. He had no special reaction to Mavis's dress, "Come here. We're waiting for you."

"Okay..."

Mavis pinched her palm, walked over quickly, sat on her dining chair, and began to eat without saying a word.

As if she had no appetite, she just stuffed the food into her mouth. Then she said she was full, and went back to the room first.

Rebecca felt vaguely that something was wrong.

"Anthony, Mavis seems to be in a bad mood tonight. You came back with her. Did you quarrel?"

Anthony chuckled, "No, why quarrel? Eat your food."

"Then why is she unhappy? She said she was full after eating so little." Rebecca asked worriedly.

"How could I know?"

His tone was casual and extraordinarily indifferent.

Rebecca was very upset and complained for Mavis, "Why are you like this? As your wife, Mavis, of course, you should pay attention to her mood, enlighten her, and make her happy."

Anthony was a little impatient with her arguing, and in the end he didn't say anything but said, "Okay, I'll go see her after dinner."

"Yeah, you should."

Chapter 755 She's going to get a driver's license

She was afraid that she would be embarrassed to ride with Anthony in the car again, but now she didn't need to worry, because he didn't want to take her out at all.

Mavis sighed, looked at the roadside of Callahan Residence where she could no longer see the end of the luxury car, and deeply realized that she should put herself in a proper position.

When Anthony was in a good mood, he can tolerate her being herself and speaking freely.

Once she touched his limit, she was nothing in his eyes, and she will even be punished.

She felt uncomfortable only for a while, soon determined to make money to bring her mother to Suham. And she had an idea that they would live a comfortable life in the future.

She took out her mobile phone and planned to take a taxi to the company.

After breakfast, Rebecca was preparing to go out when she saw her standing by the road from a distance.

"Mavis, why are you standing outside alone? Where's Anthony?"

Being discovered by Rebecca again, Mavis was a little embarrassed and could only laugh, "He's going to the lab today, and he's in a hurry. It's not the way, so I didn't ask him to take me to the company. I'll take a taxi by myself."

"This area is all our family's territory. You have to go a long way to get a taxi, and you may not be able to get there. Why not take my car to the company?"

She couldn't even get a taxi, so she had no choice but to agree, "Okay then, thank you, Rebecca."

"It's okay. I have nothing to do anyway. It's just my best friend ask me to go out with her. She won't be angry with me if I arrive a few minutes later."

On the way to the company, Mavis once again determined to make money.

When she got the first month's salary, she will go to get a driver's license!

In the future, she will buy a car and drive herself, without begging Anthony to take her out.

Along the way, Rebecca asked a lot of questions, all of them sidetracking to ask if they had a fight and wanted to be a peacemaker.

Mavis didn't say much, and it was the same set of explanations that Rebecca had to give up.

It was time to get off work again.

Mavis was a bit torn about going to the underground parking.

When going out this morning, Anthony didn't want to be with her.

Won't he... come to pick her up from get off work?

But if she didn't go to the parking, and Anthony did come to pick her up, he'll be pissed off when she wasn't there.

Although they quarreled only yesterday, the atmosphere between them was really suffocating.

There were still eleven months left for the contracted marriage.

They had to meet every day.

After hesitating for a while, Mavis decided to send him a message, take the liberty to ask, and then apologize to him by the way.

Everyone had their own past. She and Anthony were just an agreement couple. She had gone too far and shouldn't ask him about his past, let alone talk to him about him and Lyra.

Having made up her mind, Mavis opened Facebook and glanced at the chat window with Anthony she had topped.

As she just tapped it and was about to type, Nyla suddenly came over.

Mavis responded very quickly and turned off the phone.

Nyla didn't see anything.

"Is there anything strange? Are you sending a message to Zack? It's about to get off work. Do you want him to pick you up from work? What kind of car does Zack drive?"

Mavis felt a little disgusted, "I don't know what car Zack drives. I have nothing to do with him. I have explained it but you still don't believe it. I am too lazy to talk about it."

Nyla rolled her eyes and went back to her workstation.

Mavis was holding the phone. She just decided to send a message to Anthony, but now she was hesitant.

Chapter 757 He's fierce and anxious

At dinner time, Callahan Residence.

The three people all waited at the dining table, and Mavis didn't come back.

Rebecca was a little suspicious, "Anthony, didn't you pick up Mavis today? Why hasn't Mavis come back yet?"

Anthony's face looked heavy. No one knew what he was thinking. "I have something to do today, so I went home early."

"This is your fault. What could be more important than picking up your wife from work?" Timothy complained.

Rebecca also said, "Anthony, Mavis came to our home not long ago and is not familiar with this place at all. Did she go home by herself and get lost by accident?"

Anthony looked grim, kept looking at his watch, and said nothing.

The three siblings waited for another twenty minutes.

Seeing that it was getting dark and Mavis hadn't come back, Rebecca was anxious.

"Anthony, you're going too far. You don't pick up your wife from work. She hasn't come back yet. The food is cold, but you're not anxious."

Anthony looked at his watch again, but still didn't speak.

Rebecca took out her phone and called Mavis.

"Anthony, Mavis's phone is off and can't get through. Will something happen to her!?"

Timothy looked at the sky outside and said coldly, "It's getting dark quickly today and it's overcast. It looks like it's going to rain. If it really rains, the way back to home will be even harder to find."

Now Anthony couldn't sit still, got up suddenly, and took a few steps out of the dining room.

Rebecca got up immediately and wanted to find Mavis together, but was stopped by Timothy.

"Don't follow along and cause trouble. The couple seems to be quarreling. They have to talk about it themselves. You will affect them by your side."

It made sense.

Rebecca had to give up and looked worriedly at the rain outside the window.

The rain was getting heavier and heavier, the dark sky was extremely oppressive. Under the street lights, one could see the fine rain.

Anthony held an umbrella and went all the way from home to look for her.

Chapter 758 The first kiss

Mavis frowned and endured the pain. She was too hungry to break free, and the feeling of grievance continued in her eyes instantly.

"I'm just your contracted wife. After a year, we have nothing to do with each other. I only made you angry yesterday. You warned me that you won't come to pick me up today. It's clearly a punishment for me. Do you want me to leave my self-respect, call and beg you to pick me up?"

"I could have come back by myself, but I didn't expect my phone to run out of battery, and I didn't mean to get lost."

"Anthony, it's you who told me not to rely on you. I also know very well that I can't rely on you. Otherwise, when we divorce after a year, how will I live without you?"

"I have to familiarize myself with the route to work sooner or later. If I suffer a few more losses, I will memorize it."

Her cheek that he had just pinched was still hurting, and the grievances were flooding her whole chest.

"Anthony, why are you doing this to me? I know it's wrong. I won't ask about your past with Lyra. I know I don't deserve to know your past, and I know I can't compare to her in your heart, but I am working hard. I chased you all the way from Teflayria to Crana for five years."

"I don't ask you to like me anymore. I just ask you not to be so cruel to me. At least let me still feel that you are beautiful in my heart after one year. Um..."

It was raining heavily. Anthony threw his umbrella, held her head, and kissed her lips without hesitation.

The domineering kiss came overwhelmingly.

Her heart felt like there was an electric shock in an instant.

Mavis was stunned.

Her mind went blank, and even her breath was almost taken away by this sudden kiss.

Anthony actually... kissed her?

Was he crazy?

Mavis slapped his chest wildly, but her strength couldn't cause any harm at all. Instead he held her tighter and tighter, and her nose was full of his breath.

The secluded road was devoid of pedestrians, let alone vehicles passing by.

Only the luxury car that Anthony drove, the two beams of headlights shone on the figure of the two embracing.

Even the cold air of the rainy night became sweet because of this kiss.

The tender kiss continued for several minutes until Mavis fainted and fell softly into his arms.

Feeling wronged for Mavis, Rebecca patted the back of her hand distressedly, "Mavis, if you are bullied and dare not deal with Anthony, just tell me. I will scold him for you."

Mavis chuckled and held her hand instead, feeling very happy to meet such a cute and young sister-in-law.

"Even if I tell you, do you dare to scold him for me? He is the head of the Callahan family, and he has the final say in everything in the family."

Rebecca's anger quickly faded.

Although Anthony was no fiercer than Shane, and had never punished her, she was very aware of Anthony's character. If she really annoyed him, he will not let her go easily.

Rebecca was terrified and quickly deflated, "I'm sorry. I dare not."

Mavis smiled and touched her face, "It's okay. I'm just mentioning it. Anthony didn't treat me badly, really..."

Rebecca didn't believe it at all, "Mavis, don't hold it back. I'm uncomfortable watching it. You're the daughter-in-law of our family. We can't treat you badly."

Mavis was very moved.

Fortunately, in this family, Timothy really treated her as his sister-in-law, and Rebecca also cared about her as a friend and relative.

The things that Anthony had bullied her on purposely before seemed to suddenly be less important.

Holding back to not let her eyes turn red, Mavis could only change the subject, "I'm so hungry, Rebecca. Can you bring me the porridge? I want to eat."

"Great."

Rebecca immediately handed her the millet porridge on the bedside table, "Be careful."

When she was having the porridge, Rebecca continued, "Mavis, Anthony ... seems to have gone to work. If you really pissed him off, I see he just walked away sullenly, and he doesn't seem to be relieved yet."

Mavis could only harden herself and answer, "Then I'll ... find a chance to apologize to him again."

"You don't have to be so humble. Just let him be. Don't apologize. You're his wife and you just married. How long can he be cold to you?"

Rebecca said angrily and covered her with a quilt, "I'll ask the driver to take you to work recently, and pick you up after work."

Chapter 760 Callahan's Pretentious Affection

With bitterness in his throat, Anthony hung his head in frustration.

Faced with Spencer's accusations, he was speechless.

"Sorry..."

Thousands of words were not enough to express the surging guilt in his heart, and his thin lips trembled several times. Finally he could only say this word.

Spencer snorted, "If an apology is useful, why do we need the police?"

Anthony stood by the hospital bed. His throat choked with discomfort, and his eyes were red.

Spencer noticed his expression and pursed his lips, "Actually, I'm not such a stingy person. I know it's been so long, and you never thought of harming me. I just want to tell you. Be willing to spend money for me, and you must try your best to make me happy."

His childish voice sounded very arrogant.

Anthony nodded firmly, looked at the list of plans for the renovation of the aquarium in his hand, and showed no temper.

"You're right, as long as it can make you happy. Even if it's because of this aquarium, I should go bankrupt, I will definitely complete the aquarium you planned."

Spencer waved his hand impatiently, "Go on with your work. Don't bother me."

"Okay, have a good rest." Anthony restrained his brief gaffe, took the planning paper, and turned to leave.

As soon as he left the door of the ward, he met Malcolm in the corridor, who had returned from buying durian.

Malcolm saw his red eyes from a distance, and jokingly said in a low voice, "Why do you look like you are about to cry to death? You were scolded and cried by my son? You can't even win a five-year-old kid? When is your enduring capacity so weak?"

Anthony did not explain, folded the plan sheet in his hand, and carefully put it into the lining of the suit.

"If you have nothing to ask me more, I'll continue cleaning the toilet."

Malcolm looked indifferent and nodded.

Anthony bypassed him and left, and heard what he said again, "Now that you are in a relationship, you have to take care of her, and don't let her down."

Anthony turned his head suddenly, "What do you mean?" Did Mavis say something to Lyra?
