Theodore

“Melony, I don’t know if that’s a good idea. I would feel terrible if you woke up tomorrow regretting it. I would feel like I took advantage of you in a state of fear and sadness. Trust me, I want this, I want this so much, I just need to make sure you are 100% sure.” I had to tell her exactly what I was feeling.

“Theo, I appreciate you being so concerned about this, but I am serious. This isn’t something I am asking for just because I want to have a connection with someone, so I’m not scared the next time I run into a rouge. Either way, I was going to ask this of you tonight. Even if I didn’t have a smelly rouge that threatened me. I know I am yours. I don’t ever want anyone else. You’re my person. My Alpha, my soulmate. I want to be bound to you for the rest of my life. The moon goddess blessed us and we have already taken longer than any other mates to officially complete our bond. You have been there for me and supporting me through this entire journey the last several days. I want this.” Melony was looking and talking directly into my soul. I could feel her talking straight from her heart. She had no doubts about it.

I pulled her down so her forehead was resting on mine. I looked directly into her beautiful green-blue eyes. “I am yours also, Melony. Always.”

I couldn’t wait any longer. I smashed my lips into hers. Our lips move in sync with each other, until I can feel her tongue brush against mine asking for entrance. I allowed her this little bit of dominance for now, letting her take control of the kiss. I could feel her hand wrap around my neck and slightly tug on my hair. A moan escaped my mouth in approval. I felt her chest heaving up and down on my chest. My hands were gliding up and down her sides. When she started to rock back and forth on my lap, brushing her pussy on my cock, I couldn’t take it anymore. I grabbed her by her hips and flipped her over on the bed so she was looking up at me. Tonight I would ravish her, I would make tonight all about her.

Melony always looked perfect beneath me. Her hair sprawled out across the bed and her eyes lustfully looking up at me. I need to get the dress off of her. I extended my claws and ripped the dress into pieces. Melony gasped. “Olive is going to kill you for ruining her dress!”

“Fk that dress, I’ll buy her a new one. I’m sure it looked better on you anyway.” I smirked. I looked over her body and she looked absolutely perfect. Her n.ude lace thong, and all she had on to cover her b.reast were some nile pasties. I ripped them off knowing it would send a quick shock of pain. I hurriedly and placed my mouth over one of the little nubs. I fl!cked my tongue over it and then s.ucked it into my mouth. Using my hand to play with the other one. Melony let out the smallest, cutest m0ans ever while I played with her perfectly full b.reast. I started to k!ss her belly, leaving a trail, making my way to her sweet glorious puy. I didn’t give her time to protest before I ripped her panties off. “If you keep ripping my clothes, I’ll have to walk around this place n.aked.”

I let out a growl. “Over my dead body. Only MINE to look at Melony. Yes?” I snuck my thumb down between her folds. She was so w.et for me. I let out a pur. I found her cl!t and started to rub circles gently. Such an amazing sight to see my mate come undone before my eyes. Knowing only I would ever make her feel this way. “Say it Melony, I need to hear you. Say your mine.” M0an after m0an, she couldn’t stop m0aning to answer me. I stopped my movement. She looked instantly fl.ustered.

“I’m your’s, Theo! Only yours! Please. Please more.” she was practically whimpering and begging at this point.

“I need to taste you, I need to eat this precious pink kitty.” I started to devour her. I fl!cked and s.ucked on her little cl*t. When Melony grabbed my head, I looked up and knew she was close. That just made me work harder to get her there. I inserted a finger inside and started to move it in and out. Melony was pushing back against me like she was craving more. I added a second finger, stretching her, preparing her to take my giant c0ck. “Damn, baby, you are so tight.” I moved the two fingers in and out, and used my tongue to massage her cl*t. I felt her back arch off the bed. She started to clench my fingers that were inside her. I knew she had reached her peak when she yelled out my name, just making my c0ck harder for her. I didn’t stop moving until she rode out her entire high.

I stood up at the end of the bed, I took my two fingers into my mouth to fl!ck off her sl!ckness. “Mmmm, you taste so sweet baby. You are becoming my favorite thing to eat.”

“Theo, I need you....” She was practically crying, needing more.

“Patience, my love, patience.” I kicked off my shoes and socks, I was going to start on my shirt when Melony reached up using her claws and ripped it off of me. “Now whose eager?” I gave her a flirty smirk.

“Your taking too long.” As I worked on taking my pants off, Melony had her hands and mouth all over me. Turning me on even more. Her hands roamed all over my chest and shoulders, her mouth kissing and licking my neck. I slipped out of my underwear, both of us now completely naked. I pushed her back on the bed again. I took my forehead to hers. “I know you said you were sure, Mel, but I need to hear you say it one more time.”

“Please Theo, make love to me.” That was all I needed to hear from her. I lined myself up at her entrance and slowly pushed myself in. I kept my eyes glued to Melony the entire time. I could see the discomfort, but I also saw all the raw emotions of lust, curiosity, and need. I pushed little by little until I reached her hymen. I brought my hand and mouth down to her perfect mounds and started to play with them. I kissed up and down her neck, doing everything I could to help take her focus away from me, breaking through her innocence. She let out a loud gasp as her nails dug into my back and her pussy clenched my cock, suffocating it.

“You tell me when your ready.” For a few seconds longer we sat not moving while she got used to my size, then she started moving her hips against me. Testing the waters. I let my head fall back and moaned. “Fuuuuu*k baby, your so fu*king tight. Your pussy was made for me.”

“Move Theo, I need more.” That was my breaking point. I gripped Melony’s hips and thrust myself in and out of her, hitting all of the right places. Her moans pushed me closer and closer to my release. “Yesss, yes my alpha, keep going!!” She had my wolf on edge talking to me like that. She was so sexy, I watched as she pushed her hips back into me, her full breast bouncing with every thrust. Her eyes were swirling with purple, full of wanting. I hurried and flipped our positions so I was now sitting on the bed with her straddling me.

“Ride me baby, show me exactly what you need.” I could see the slight hesitation on her face. She wasn’t sure what to do. I placed my hands on her side and helped her move up and down, getting her started. It didn’t take long before she picked up the pace and had her own movements going. She took me deeper like this and it felt so wonderful. I looked at our beautiful mate and watched her while she rode me closer and closer to my orgasm. My eyes settled on her neck, just above her shoulder. The place she should would wear my mark. I saw her eyeing the same place at me.

“Do it please, mark me, make me yours, Theodore.” That was all the confirmation I needed at that point in time. I grabbed Melony by the back of her neck and brought her closer to me as I felt my canines elongating. I licked her marking place, and she let out another moan. I eagerly sunk my canines right into her spot. Melony screamed my name as I had brought her to her high, her pussy clenched my cock, milking every drop.

As I licked to seal my mark on Melony, I felt her canines sink into my neck. I saw stars. I had never cummed so hard in my entire life. She rode me until I was finished. Melony sealed her mark on my neck. When she pulled back she had a little bit of my blood still in the corner of her mouth. I used my thumb to wipe it away. She threw her arms around my neck, bringing us nose to nose. “Now, Theodore Nix, you are mine. Forever.” She placed a light kiss on my lips. The goddess truly blessed me with this perfect girl.

I wrapped my arms around her, laying us down on the bed. Melony snuggled into my chest with her arms tightly wrapped around me. I kissed the top of her head, “I am yours, forever. You are now mine, always.” It didn’t take long to find ourselves in a deep slumber.

Melony

As I stirred awake the next morning, I started to stretch my limbs when I felt a sore pull from between my legs. I was confused on why I would be sore, then my eyes shot open as I remembered the night before. I mated and marked with Theodore. I was mated and marked to my wonderful mate. I shot my head at his side of the bed. When I saw it empty, I hate to admit I felt a tinge of disappointment run through me. Did he leave me in the night? Was he regretting his decision? I started to panic, and my heart rate started to increase.

I was startled when I heard a voice run through my head.

“Melony! Whats wrong?! Are you okay?!”

Theo?

“Yes baby,” I heard him chuckle at my words. It wasn’t so much of a question as it was that I forgot we could mindlink now. “Are you okay, Mel? I can feel your panic through the bond.”

I let out a sigh of relief, Yes, Theodore, I am okay. I just woke up and you weren’t here. I th-thought that maybe, y..you regretted your decision...and left.

“Oh, Mel, I’m sorry. I just woke earlier than normal, so I could finish some business and hopefully be free of my duties for today. I would really like to spend the day with you. I just wanted to get this work out of the way first. I will be there soon to collect you and we can go eat breakfast together.”

A smile broke out across my face. I will start to get ready then! I jumped up from the bed and ran to my room and into the bathroom to take a quick shower. As I waited for the water to warm up, I str!pped out of my clothes and turned to have a look in the mirror. I looked at my very n.aked self and gasped. How is it possible that I feel and look stronger than I did yesterday? I have always been a very curvy female. I just look like I have a little bit more muscle than I do now. My eyes roamed everywhere, eventually they settled on my mark. I couldn’t help but touch it. It was a moon with a black wolf looking up at it and the whole thing was sparkling. It was beautiful. I quickly took my phone out and took a picture of it to send to Theo with the words, “Forever” as the text.

I jumped into the shower and quickly washed up. As I stepped out of the shower, I saw Theo had replied to my message. “If you think yours is beautiful, wait till you see mine.” Then I saw he sent a second message with a picture of his mark and the word “Always” attached with it. His was... breathtaking. I’ve never seen anything like it before. It was a full moon surrounded by stars. My white wolf laid down in a grassy area howling. The entire mark shined bright just like mine, but instead of a white shine, his shined purple. It was gorgeous. I felt love run through my entire body. I loved this man so much already, and I was happy. Truly happy. I decided to play some music as I got ready. I clicked on Pandora and hit a random station. I grabbed a black b.ralet and a black silk thong. I picked out my outfit, selecting my white b.utton up. I would just tie the bottom up in a knot and the rest would be exposed with my b.ralet and green army capris with a white pair of vans. I carried my clothes out by swaying my h!ps to the music. I placed my outfit on the bed to get dressed when ‘Man I Feel Like a Woman’ by Shania Twain came on. I started to sing and dance all around my room. I grabbed my brush off my vanity and jumped on my bed to dance around, I shook my b.utt and moved my h!ps, fl!pping my hair all over. After last night and how happy I was with my mate, I really did feel like a woman now. I was still jumping around when I heard another voice join in with me. I turned to see my co-singer and couldn't help but laugh.

There standing before me was no other than Mark, my body guard and the Alphas gamma grabbing my curling wand as a microphone. He sung out the chorus, kicking his leg out in front of him when he said 'Man, I feel like a woman'. Then, as quickly as the entertainment came, it was gone when Mark was grabbed by his collar on the back of his shirt and tossed toward the door.

"Go feel like a woman somewhere else, Gamma, just not where my half-naked mate is." Theodore was glaring at him and growling.

Mark finished singing as he made his way to the door. Giving me a quick wink as he walked out. I had to stifle my laugh with my hand. Theodore was shaking his head as he walked toward my bed. "Sometimes I swear he is still a boy, and I question why he is my Gamma. Then I remember growing up with him and his fighting abilities and I let it slide, BUT damn does he push my buttons sometimes."

I moved toward the end of my bed and wrapped my arms around Theo's neck. I ran my finger down the length of his nose, kissing the tip of it and moved to whisper in his ear. "Depending on your punishments, I think I would like to push a few of those buttons." I heard a throaty growl escape from my mate as he lifted me by my bottom. I wrapped my legs around his waist. Theodore connected his lips to mine. I moved my head to the side to deepen our kiss. We pulled away, as we both needed to restock air in our lungs. Theo released his hold on me and my feet landed on the ground in front of him.

"After your little show that I walked in on, and you whispering your dirty words, if you don't go get dressed now I am afraid we won't leave this room at all. My sexy little mate." Theodore slapped me on my ass as I walked by him to my clothes.

I turned around and gave him my best mischievous smile I could. I ran into the bathroom and put my outfit on and put my hair up in a high messy bun. I placed some small hoop earrings on and gave my lips a good coat of gloss before I exited. "Ready?!" I caught Theo off guard as he had jumped a little bit. When he turned and looked at my outfit, he mean-mugged me. MEAN-MUGGED.

I threw my hand over my chest in mock shock, “Did I just get mean-mugged by the big bad Alpha?!”

“Melony, are you trying to kill all my men in this pack? The things you dress in sometimes, I swear, it’s a death wish on them.” He had his fingers pinching the bridge of his nose and shaking his head at me.

I moved over to him, with my hands up on his chest, I stared into his wonderfully blue eyes, “Babe, I am yours. I bare your mark now, everyone will smell you on me and none of them would dare try to take something away from the fiercest Alpha of our kind.” Theo placed his hands on my hips and kissed my forehead.

“Okay, fine, ONLY because I am spending all day today with you am I allowing this wardrobe malfunction to happen. All that aside, you look beautiful today, Mel. I love it when you aren’t wearing make-up. You’re absolutely perfect.”

“Thank you babe. I think you look perfect without make-up also.” I smiled.

Theodore just shook his head and laughed at me. Hand in hand, we made our way out of my room. When we exited and entered the hallway, I saw Mark standing there waiting for us. \

“Hey Shania, when your done borrowing my curling wand you can place it next to my door, I am going to need that back

Mark stuck his tongue out at me, “I was just joining in on the dance party. I always wondered what girls do during their sleep overs and if it’s anything like that, and wearing stuff like that, I think I need to find myself an invitation to one.” He sat my wand next to my door and started to follow. “So that being said, when will you and Olive be having a sleep over?”

I felt my mate tense beside me and his eyes started to flicker with his wolf. He turned toward Mark with his chest vibrating. Mark shot his hands up in surrender. “It was just a joke, Alpha, I swear.”

“Your damn right, it was just a joke. You will never be having a sleep over with my mate and your Luna, or see her in that attire again. Do you understand, Gamma?!” Theodore was very on edge. I rubbed my hand over his back and rested my head on his side, hopefully calming him down.

Mark lowered his head in submission. “Yes Alpha, no sleepovers, and no witnessing our Luna in her undergarments.”

Theodore huffed and started to relax against me as we turned to head to the dining room for breakfast, just as we were descending the stairs. I turned my head around to look at Mark and then stuck my own tongue out at him. He took his hand to his forehead with an ‘L’ shape facing me, and mouthed “loser”.

I don’t know if this is what it feels like to have a brother, but I really feel like Mark would be mine.

Theodore

We ended up making it the entire way to our dining room and I didn’t have to kill my Gamma. Melony thought she was sly, but I could see her from the corner of my eye antagonizing Mark. Poking her little tongue out at him when I became angry. She was so adorable. Her shananagains always throw me off guard. Sure, to some people it may seem immature, but I love the fact she is so full of life and goofy. I have never really found that in myself, so she brings life to me, happiness, goofiness. All the things I am not, Melony is and so much more. Her dancing her little heart away and busting out a tune in her room when no one was around, swelled my heart. I knew that is exactly who she is. Some people change around others but she is just herself 100% of the time. I admire that about her. She doesn’t hold back what needs to be said. She knows there is a time to be serious and careful with her words, but she can still make a room fill with laughter in a matter of seconds. I suppose my father was right, she does remind me of my mother. My mother, Luna Julie, was the heart and soul of this pack. Everyone loved her. She cared for all the members as if they were her own. She made everyone smile, and also had no problem putting someone in their place if need be. I couldn’t help but ponder what it would be like around her with mom and Melony together. Dad would probably have a heart attack, and I would most definitely be bald. I can’t help but giggle thinking of all the antics they could get themselves into.

Melony places her hand on mine, with a smile shining in her eyes. “What has you so happy babe?”

“My life, Mel, my life makes me happy. You, and all the joy you bring to it. I couldn’t help but think of how much you would have loved my mother. You two would have been the best of friends, and up to no good, without a doubt.” I gave her a sly smile. She tilted her head to the side with a smile, giving my hand a gentle squeeze, giving me all the reassurance I needed at that moment.

Just as we began to eat our food, loud footsteps were heard stomping our way. I perked my head up, and just as I saw who was coming through the door, Todd popped into my head. “Alpha, I am apologizing to you for mate, because of whatever she might do now, and forever more. She is kind of crazy and I am a tad bit scared of her.” My face was full of confusion as I watched Olive storming over to my mate rambling on.

“Oh, so what am I now?! Chopped Liver?! I am your best friend, Melony Tucker! I mated and marked and you were the first person I ran to. I had to find out from my blabber mouth mate about you!” then she biffed Mel on the back of the head! I shook my head a moment to make sure I actually saw her place her hand on my mate and Luna. Then Todd comes skidding into the room at a halt as he realizes what has just happened. If looks could kill, Olive would be 10 feet in the ground already. I was pissed! I let out a ferocious growl, “Olive!! Did you just place your hands on my mate, and your Luna?! Do you understand the consequences of disrespecting her like that?! Disrespecting me?!” I was now standing and moving over to where her and Todd stood. Both of the down and necks bared to me in submission.

I didn’t even notice that Melony had gotten up from her seat until she was standing in front of me and grasping my face. “Baby, Theo, look at me... It’s okay. She didn’t hurt me. She is like my sister. I should have told her about us because she is my family. She really didn’t mean any harm.. Please calm down.” She leaned up on her toes and placed a light kiss on my marking spot, sending shivers and sparks through my body, and I slowly started to calm down. Melony turned away from me when she realized I was no longer a threat to her friend, and stomped over to Olive. Flicking Olive hard on the nose, “Now, that is pay back. Don’t hit me upside the head again. I am sorry I didn’t tell you, BUT in my defense, Olive. It is only 9 in the morning! Calm down, and eat your breakfast

Olive was rubbing her nose in a small circle, "Fine, I will let it go this time, but next time when something big happens you better at least send me a text!" Melony took her finger and drew across her chest.

"Cross my heart." She smiled. Olive shared a similar smile and walked to the table to take her seat with Todd beside her. I could hear Todd release his breath he had been holding. Before we can all get back to eating, we hear a chair skidding across the floor from the other end of the table. We all looked up at the blonde, staring daggers our way, and marching out of the room mumbling something about a "mark", and "we will see Melony glanced at me and I just shrugged my shoulders. Olive gave Mel a questioning look. Melony only responded by pointing her fork in the direction the blonde left, saying "That's the blonde bimbo" and went back to eating. Olive nodded in understanding, and Mark was stifling a giggle like a little kid. I feel like I am surrounded by a bunch of children sometimes.

After breakfast, I took Melony on a walk around our pack grounds. I showed her where the kids play, the little shops we have, and our training grounds. Her face seemed to light up at the mention of training. Melony asked if she could join in on the training. I felt proud that she wanted to make herself stronger. We both agreed she would only train every other day as of right now. We haven't had our ceremony yet to make her Luna and until then we are keeping her identity a secret. If she trains every other day, then they will train in their wolf form the days she's not there. As we walked away from the training ground, Melony asked me a question that caught me off guard.

"Theo? Do you feel different since last night? Like something changed

I thought about her question for a second. "I am not sure I know what you mean. I know my answer, but I guess I want to make sure we are talking about the same things

"I feel different, I feel stronger. Mentally and physically, I feel stronger. My body looks stronger, I look more toned. My aura has more of a dominating power to it, I can feel it myself

I nodded my head in understanding. I noticed all of that about her this morning. Her body in fact looked more toned. Still my very curvy mate, but just more muscle on her. Her aura I noticed after tossing Mark out of her room. Even when she wasn't angry, she had a commanding aura around her. Then, when she and Olive were fighting at breakfast, her tone had almost everyone in the dining hall submitting to her. Her aura was just as strong as mine. “I’ve noticed, I noticed your body this morning in your room, which, by the way, will not be your room anymore. We will have all of your things moved over to mine...our room. I also noticed your aura this morning at breakfast. I think I have changed a little also. I trained with Todd this morning for a little while, and he mentioned that he thought I had gotten faster and stronger. The odd part is, I haven’t even trained since you arrived, so it’s not because I have put extra work into it.” I could see all of her wheels turning and she was going to start to over think things. “You want to go on a run? Jackson is dying to meet Harper finally and you haven’t been able to shift since you arrived

Melony had excitement all over her face with her eyes flickering with purple. I knew her wolf was trying to come forward so she could be released. Melony quickly got a grip on Harper and jumped up and down in excitement. “EEEEK! Yes!” She suddenly stopped and a pained expression rested upon her face with her head dropping to the ground. “I can’t be seen by anyone though, Theodore, we will have to wait.”

I closed the distance between us. I placed my hand on the side of her face and neck, using my thumb to tilt her chin toward me. “No waiting. I have a spot we can go to. No one knows about it, and it is still safely in our pack territory. I’ll tell Mark to patrol the area at a distance away, also.” She gave me her beautiful smile and I leaned down to kiss her. We started off with just a sensual kiss, but Melony wrapped her arms around me, deepening it. When I heard the whistles of pack members, I pulled away, grabbing her arm and pulling her toward our forest. “Let’s go!” and we took off so Jackson and Harper could finally meet.

Theodore held my hand as we ran through the forest to the meadow. It was a sight to die for. Colors were splashed all around with beautiful wild flowers. “This is gorgeous..” I looked around in awe.

” It’s one of my favorite places in our territory. My mother used to bring me here when I was little. She said nothing could ever be more beautiful than nature itself. I always agreed with that until my eyes met yours. Since then, I have a hard time believing that anything is more beautiful than you.” I felt my cheeks heat up at his words. "Why don't we shift? Jackson is going to give me a headache if I don't let him meet his mate soon." I agreed, so we started to strip our clothes off to allow our wolves to take over. I have to admit I was super nervous. Besides my mother and father, no one had ever seen Harper before.

Calm down Melony, everything will be fine. They are our mates. We have made it this far, and with everything thrown our way, they haven't left yet. Besides, we're gorgeous. He would be an idiot to think anything less.

Your right. Let's do this. With the reassurance from my wolf, I relaxed my body and let Harper completely take over. I could hear the sounds of cracking and popping bones. I was surprised when I didn't feel any pain. I don't get to shift very often, so it slightly hurts when I usually do. When the noises stopped and Harper opened her eyes, I was looking down at the shiny white fur on our paws. We looked up and standing before us was Jackson. He was a midnight black wolf, and huge in size. Because Harper had always been a bigger wolf, we still stood almost as tall as Jackson. Jackson was still bigger than the average Alpha though. I would say I was as big as the average Alpha. Harper met Jackson's eyes and they showed nothing but love.

Jackson made his way over to us and rubbed his head along the side of Harper's head. She was doing the same thing back to him before she quickly licked his snout. "Melony, Harper is beautiful. Jackson is in love with her." Theodore said through our link.

Harper loves him also. We're both very happy to love our mates. Harper froze. Did I just tell him I loved him? So dumb Melony, I mentally chastise myself. First time you tell him you love him and it's through a mind link.

"Melony, stop. Your overthinking again. I love you too."

I could practically jump up and down with joy when he said it back. Enough with the sappiness, Harper needs to run and release her pent up energy. Alright Alpha, Let's see what you got, shall we? Harper ran up to Jackson, nipping at him before taking off running in a different direction. I could hear Jackson's paws gaining up on us. For several hours, we just ran around playing with each other. Rolling around in the meadow, we chased some butterflies, and halfway through, our wolves even took a break to get to know each other better. Watching their intimate moment with each other wasn't something I wasn't too keen on. To pass that time, Theodore and I just had our own conversation. Now we were headed back to our clothes so we could shift and head back to the Pack house to get ready for dinner.

We were about 50 feet from our clothes when we heard the rustle of bushes and snapping of twigs. We both stopped, and our ears perked up. It wasn't long before the awful smell of rouge hit us both in the face and standing before us were about 10 of them. I knew what they were here for. I knew they were coming for me. My heart was pounding in my chest. I had never been in a fight before. Sure, my dad has taught me how to defend myself, but I never got full on training with other wolves. They slowly made their way to us, Theodore jumped in front of me growling and showing his teeth. They started to make their way closer, snapping their jaws at us. "Melony! RUN! Get out of here now! I linked Mark to meet up with you! GO!"

I hesitated. I turned to run to the packhouse and to find Mark, when I heard the sound of tearing flesh and bones cracking. I looked back and Theodore had one of the rouges by the neck and he just snapped it as he threw it to the ground, and fought off two more. He was still surrounded by 7 more. If I left him, he wouldn't stand a chance. I was NOT leaving my mate here to die while I ran away! I ran as fast as I could when I saw one of the rouges attacking Theo from the side, aiming right at his neck. I jumped and had just got my jaws locked around its neck in time to save my mate. I shook my head once and snapped his neck, throwing him to the side. I am NOT leaving you here alone to die, Theodore. Not happening.

Jackson snapped his head toward me when I said that. Growling at me, he tried to use his Alpha command. "MELONY! LEAVE RIGHT NOW!"

Absolutely not, Mate. Your commands don't work on me. Now, keep fighting so we can go home. I am NOT leaving you. Theodore let out another threatening growl at me, but stopped when he realized I wasn't budging. I had a rouge come up behind me and bit my back leg. He broke through the skin but it would heal very quickly. I turned around to attack when Theo already had him by the neck. I set my eyes on another one that was coming right for me. We circled each other and eventually he made his move. He tried to come at me low, so I jumped high, landing on his back and ripping into his side. I weakened him enough that his next move was sloppy and I ripped out his throat. We were down to 4 when I heard another wolf approaching. It was a pretty gray color and looking at his bright hazel eyes, I knew exactly who the wolf belonged to. Mark

With Mark there to help, all 3 of us made it through the rest of the rouge's in no time. The very last one we had cornered and Theodore used his Alpha command after he shifted to make the vile creature shift back to his human form. Mark and I followed suit and I quickly grabbed Theodore's shirt to slip over me. Theo now had the rouge by the throat pinned up against a tree. "Why are you here?! Who sent you here?!" Theo was asking.

"I think you know exactly why we are here, Alpha. We simply want something that belongs to you, and my oh my, is she more gorgeous than we were told? She's very pretty, Alpha Nix. So pretty I think my boss is really going to enjoy himself once he gets his hands on her." The rouge spoke back with a cocky smirk on his face.

We were about 50 feet from our clothes when we heard the rustle of bushes and snapping of twigs. We both stopped, and our ears perked up. It wasn't long before the awful smell of rouge hit us both in the face and standing before us were about 10 of them. I knew what they were here for. I knew they were coming for me. My heart was pounding in my chest. I had never been in a fight before. Sure, my dad has taught me how to defend myself, but I never got full on training with other wolves. They slowly made their way to us, Theodore jumped in front of me growling and showing his teeth. They started to make their way closer, snapping their jaws at us. "Melony! RUN! Get out of here now! I linked Mark to meet up with you! GO!"

I was resisting the urge to vomit, when Theodore spoke again. "Your boss will NEVER lay a finger on my mate. I will tear him to shreds, and if you like having your eye balls, I suggest you keep your eyes on me." he was seething with rage. "Now, Who is your boss!?" The slime ball refused to answer. Two of our warriors showed up with cuffs when Theodore threw him toward the ground and told the warriors to take him to the dungeons. I grabbed our clothes and tossed Theo his pants to put on, while Mark had found a pair of gym shorts to wear. As I was getting ready to head back to packhouse Theo's voice stopped me. "And what exactly do you think you were doing by disobeying me?! I told you to go find Mark!" His hands were clenched at his sides.

As I was getting ready to answer, I heard a mocking 'OHHH' come from Marks' direction. "Disobey?! Are you kidding me?! I am your MATE, your EQUAL Theodore. I am not something you can just command and do with as you please. Your commands don't work on me!" I yelled at him, throwing my arms out.

“Yeah and she did find me, see I’m right here!” Mark said proudly. I squinted my eyes at him.

Theodore’s jaw was clamped tight. “They were after you Melony! They were coming for you! You don’t get to stay and fight when I tell you that you need to leave. Besides, how much training have you had, Melony?! You could have been seriously hurt, or even worse, die, and there would have been nothing I could do about it!”

“The exact reason your yelling at me for not leaving is the exact reason I stayed! You could have died and there would have been nothing for me to do about it, Theodore! There were 10 of them, and just you! You want to talk about my training?! My training came in handy when I saved your life from the rouge that was about to tear your throat out!” Now I was starting to see red.

Another remark came from Mark, “Oooo..She has a point.” When me and Theo both turned to him at the same time shouting, “SHUT UP MARK!”, Mark put his head down and walked off sulking like a child who just got caught stealing a cookie. I turned my attention back to Theodore.

“You can sit here and continue to be mad at me and yell at me like a child being grounded all you want. I WILL NOT apologize for having your back and staying to fight for you! For me! OR for US! I am either your equal in this life we share and will be treated as such, or I will not be sharing this life with you at all.” I saw Theodore flinch at my last words. “Now, if you will excuse me, I am not going to continue standing here arguing about something that you clearly need to move on from, and when you do move on from it you can come and find me. Until then, leave me alone. I am going to go now and wash off this bl00d and dirt from myself.” Without giving him a chance to reply, I stormed off to the packhouse headed to take a shower.

Her Burning Desire Chapter 30 - Tips

Melony

As I made my way into our bedroom, I remembered I had told Olive I would inform her if anything important were to happen in my life. Grabbing my phone, I sent her a quick text.

Hey, was in a fight with rogues. I’m fine, everyone is fine, except for the rogues. Your Alpha I am still deciding on letting him live or not though.

I sat my phone down on the stand and made my way to the bathroom. I decided on taking a bath instead of a shower. I could really use the relaxation. After the tub was done filling up, I lit a couple of the candles and turned the lights off to really get settled. I was thinking about my argument with Theodore. I really didn't feel great about arguing with him, but I also just wanted him safe. The same reason he was arguing with me was the same reason for my argument with him. I was upset that he thought so little of me and that I wouldn't be able to defend myself. No, I haven't had the normal training that werewolves usually go through, but I have still trained. My dad is a Beta, and one of the best fighters in our pack next to our Alpha. He most definitely didn't let me slack off. Harper hated the fact I was fighting with our mate, she had been going crazy in my head since I took off. I decided I would reach out to Theo, anyway. I would really like to move past this. Then I got an evil idea in my head. Maybe I could tease him a little bit, push him, and make it worth my while. I'll definitely make it worth his time.

Theo... you there.

"Baby...I'm so happy to hear your voice." I could practically hear his sigh of relief through the mindlink.

We need to talk, Theodore. I did my best to still sound mad and upset.

"I know, I'm sorry Melony, I think I was just carried away at the moment. Seeing you so close to danger had me and Jackson going crazy." I could hear the sincerity in his voice. It almost made me feel guilty for what I was about to do.

Okay...We still need to talk. I tried to hide my emotion again. I so badly wanted to tell him it was okay and I felt the same.

It was as if I could see the big gulp in his throat. "O-okay...I will come to you..are you still in the room?"

Yes. I sat and waited in the bath for about another 5 minutes before I heard our door open. "I'm in here!" I yelled out to him. Theodore pushed the door open to the bathroom when his face landed on mine. "Have a seat Theo." I pointed in the direction of the chair that sat across from me in the corner. "I am going to talk and you are going to listen. Alright?" He nodded in understanding. His eyes never left mine, even though I knew he desperately wanted to take in my appearance, being n.aked in front of him in the tub.

“I understand that to everyone in the pack you are their Alpha. What you say goes. I respect that, but here, between you and I,” I used my finger, moving it back and forth between both of us. “you are not the Alpha. I am your equal. I won’t accept anything less than that. You really hurt me out there today. You doubted my fighting abilities. Which is a bit uncalled for considering I was trained by my father, the second in command of their pack. You wanted me to leave you, my mate, behind to practically die so you could make sure I was safe. I did what I needed to do to make sure you were safe also. I knew that Mark would find us and we would have more back. I just wasn’t going to walk away and let you sign your death wish. What would I have done without you? You think I would have been safe after that? Absolutely not. You talked to me as if I was your child and not your mate. Now tell me, Alpha, what would you do if one of your members were to talk to you like you were beneath them?”

Without hesitation, he answered my question. “They would be punished.”

I nodded, “Hmm...I see. Well, I’ve thought about your punishment for a little while now.” I scooted myself up higher in the bath so I was sitting straight up. With the bubbles in the water, the only thing visible to Theo now was my face, shoulders, and my b.reast. I took one of my hands and took it up to the side of my face and slowly rubbed it down in the direction of my c.hest. I watched as his eyes moved with my hand. “I couldn’t really think of a good punishment that wouldn’t embarrass you in front of your pack or be little you...” My hand was now on my c.hest, I circled my finger around my perky little peak, then used my palm and started to massage one of the mounds. I let out a little m0an, and watched as Theodore started to battle with his wolf, his eyes fl!ckering with black. “Then I had an idea, what would really drive my mate crazy?” I started to move my hand down my stomach and eventually landed right on my core. I moved my fingers between my slits and found my little sensitive numb and started to circle it. I let out another m0an. Then I lifted one of my legs out of the water and rested it on the side of the tub. “I think it would drive him crazy to have to sit and watch his mate give herself pleasure, but not be able to touch her himself.” I put more pressure on my cl!t with my finger as I began to move a little faster, I heard a growl verb.rate out of Theos c.hest, and gave him a seductive smirk. I kept rubbing and then entered a finger and moved it in and out of my entrance, creating more pleasure. I threw my head back, closing my eyes, “Ohhh...this feels amazing..hmmm.”

Without even realizing it, I look up and Theodore is n.aked, stepping into the tub with me. I gasped, “Theo...”.

“Two can play this game, little mate.” I watched as Theodore sunk into the water and his hand moved to his very erect c0ck. His movements of running his hand along his thick, delicious, manh00d were creating ripples in the water. I slowly kept my pace on myself but I kept my eyes directly on my target. The sight before me was turning me on even more. Watching my mate pleasure himself, just by watching me. He let out a m0an and I couldn’t take it anymore. One swift movement, I went across the tub, straddling my mate. “I thought I made it clear when I said this was your punishment, Mr. Alpha.” I whispered in his ear, and then nibbled on it. I lifted my bottom and placed myself right over his c0ck. Looking deep into each others eyes, I sank myself down on him hard. He stretched my p.ussy to the max. Then pain was mixed with pleasure when I started to move my h!ps. I gripped onto his shoulder and started to move faster up and down his long length. My head was thrown back with my back arched, causing my b.reast to be directly in his face. “Yes, my Alpha, YES!” I cried out. I felt Theodore’s hands grip my h!ps as his started to meet me thrust for thrust.

“Goddess Melony, you feel amazing.” I latched my !!ps to his and put all the desire I had burning within me into the k!ss. Our tongues battled with one another while I released my m0ans into his mouth. I felt my release near, “Theo, Im close. c.um with me, Alpha.” Theodore was loving my words, he let out a purr almost. I felt my body start to tighten. I reached behind me and started to massage his balls. My walls started to clench him tight, hitting my org*asm, when I then felt Theo stiffen and his released inside of me.

We rode out our highs together, slowly coming to a stop. When I took my eyes back to Theodore, he gave me a very loving k!ss. I smiled with our !!ps still connected as I started to lift myself and out of the tub. Theodore followed behind me, grabbing his own towel to dry off. “I will gladly take punishment from you any day of the week, my love.” he slapped my bottom as he walked past me to our room, and k!ssing my check on the way out.

As I made my way into the closet to grab clothes, I couldn’t help but circle back to our problem. “Theo...?”

“Yes baby?” He poked his head in the doorway.

“Everything I said back there though I was serious about. To everyone here in this pack, you are Alpha, but us, I am either your equal or it will never work.” I glanced his way, trying to read his face. I pulled on my dark gray joggers and a loose white crop top. Just as I pulled the shirt over my head, Theodore grabbed my face with both of his hands.

“I listened to you, I heard you, and.... I saw you” He wiggled his eyebrows at me. I felt a blush sweep across my cheeks. “I understand what you are saying, I was in the wrong back there with how I reacted. I just can’t lose you Mel. I love you too much to let that happen.” He embraced me and hugged me tight. I wrapped my arms around him, returning the hug, happy that we got past that issue. “I love you too”, I reassured him and kissed his cheek when I heard my phone ping.

I ran to it and saw I had a response from Olive.

Well, let’s make him suffer. Game night?? Meet downstairs in 30 minutes.

I couldn’t help the smile before turning back to Theo, “ We’re going to have a game night tonight with Todd and Olive, who we are meeting up with in 30 minutes. Make sure you wear something comfortable.” I gave him a wink.
