

Chapter 12

Amelia's pov

Laying on my bed after a long day I definitely needed to rest, after taking my bath and putting on my pajamas I was ready to sleep.

But a sense of unease crept upon my thoughts making me uncomfortable, I enjoyed day date I had with sin earlier today even though he had been acting out of character, it was something I had anticipated and longed for.

Laying on my bed covered with my bed sheet and looking at the ceiling, my dominating thoughts became my parents, thinking about them gave me relief that didn't let me sleep.

Agitated to hear my mom's voice once again I picked my phone up from the drawer beside me and dialed her number.

As the phone rang, a feeling in me couldn't help but think if she might have been asleep already, rolling my eyes around room, the deem lights from my lamp gave a calm and satisfying feel to my room.

After a while of ringing my mom finally picked up, her voice laced with tiredness "hey, honey how are you baby?,I've missed you" she says in a calm and pleasant tone,

My body longing for her warm hug I replied "ohh I've missed you too mom" a small grin enveloped at the edge of my lips.

"And how is dad?" I inquire want to know about his well-being as well.

"Your dad is asleep honey, I'm trying not to raise my voice not to wake him" she says with joy in her voice, I couldn't help to smile at her words.

"And how have you been honey, how are things going at the lycan palace?" She asked sounding eager to hear positive news.

"Everything is going according to plan mom we are working together to find a solution to the mist, we would be going on a journey tomorrow to find someone who can give us some answers" I explained reassuring her that all was indeed under control.

"Okay baby, please make sure to look out for yourself and be good okay? Love you" she says blowing me kisses and wishing me a good night rest.

I ended the call and placed the phone on my chest before a smile crept up my face, a sense of ease evident in my smile knowing my parents are safe.

Placing the phone on my chest, I turn over and close my eyes to get a much needed good night rest after considering the long day ahead.

Waking up in the morning to pack my bags and prepare for the big day we had, I selected a few of my clothes and packed some weapons to protect ourselves from whatever might be out there even though we were werewolves we had to be well prepared for anything considering we are going to an enchanted forest.

After arranging my bags, I entered the bathroom to shower and prepare for breakfast, wearing my signature jean and a top, I rolled my curly hair into a ponytail and made my way to the dining.

Walking there the thought of our kiss last night out a smile on my face but the prevailing smell of eggs dominated the air and make my tommy grumble slightly.

Walking to the kitchen and meeting rissa there already she smiled at me weirdly and I could sense she wanted to ask me about my date with sin.

"Someone seems happy this morning" she says sarcastically winking at me, knowing what she meant I shake my head "you're a pain in the ass" I say making her giggle.

"So! What happened?" Her voice laced with a burning desire to hear what I have to say.

I try to hide my grin but was ultimately defeated by the look on rissa's face "well, went to the mountain, and spoke a little that's all" I say in a manner that exposed my secret.

Knowing I was hiding more information, rissa call out to me looking at me from the corners of her eyes "rissa!"

Giving up my secret I say "alright we kissed" I say in a joking manner but rissa paid no attention to me as she screams in excitement.

"Shh, you gonna alert everyone" I say covering up her mouth with my palm.

Recalling the main point that drove me to the kitchen, I say "hurry up rissa, I'm starving" I moan as my stomach grumbles louder this time.

Walking straight into the dining, I see Lukas, Henry and nico who are already seated in the dining waiting for breakfast.

"Hey boys" smiling I greet as I take a seat with them.

Henry looking at me curiously he says "someone seems rather happy today" he says to which I only roll my eyes.

"You look happy today" Lukas backed Henry's claims looking at me while rubbing his fingers together in thought.

"So what's going on then?" Henry inquired making me smile even harder.

"Something is definitely up with you" Lukas insisted applying pressure to get me to talk, I ignored all the attempts to get me to talk just laughing before rissa walked in cutting our attentions

"Breakfast is served" she says placing plates of food before us and planting a kiss on nico.

Same moment, sin and Adonis walked in to join us as we all sat and enjoyed breakfast discussing our plans to find the woman.

After our breakfast, and going through how we would find her with the map sin placed on the table, he stated "it's time."
