

Chapter 13

Loading our lodgage into the van in preparation to head for the airport, I stood beside the van and glanced at sin and Adonis who were talking to each other at the entrance of the house. My wolf could pick out something odd about their behaviours of late.

I walked towards them, a sense of unease and mystery filled the air as I looked into Sinclair's eyes.

"Are the tickets ready now?" I asked and I could feel a sense of relief on their faces.

"Sure" sin sighs, putting both hands into his pockets in relaxation "they were ready three days ago" he says calmly.

"Alright, just making sure" I smile right before Rissa and Nico come out with their bags.

"Is everyone ready?" Nico asks.

"Yes! Over 30 minutes ago" sin moaned "we had to wait for you both to make out before we leave?, our flight is in an hour!" he expresses his frustration.

A feeling of guilt is visible on both their faces as Rissa's cheeks turn red.

Adonis scoffs, "alright let's get going before we get late" he says glancing at his watch.

Lukas and Henry also make it out of the house as we all load our bags and leave for the airport.

Sin drove us, and Adonis sat beside him on the passenger's seat, the rest of us sat at the back seats.

We sat in silence, a sense of unease lingered in the air because we had no idea what we were going to face in our quest.

Rissa rested on Nico's chest just by my side, while Lukas and Henry were behind us, Sinclair drove glancing at me every now and then through the rear view mirror and Adonis was by his side looking out the window.

Hesitantly breaking the silence I asked sin "where is this so called forest even located, how come we never spoke about this" my voice firm and filled with curiosity.

"Because no one has asked, and by the way it's in Finland" he let out gently.

I looked back at Lukas behind me with a worried eye but he just shrugged.

We remained silent till we got to the airport, we loaded our bags and went through all the necessary procedures before going onboard.

It was the first time I was travelling and by flight, no one knew about this and I kept it so and maintained my cool.

We were onboard with several other people, we flew first class and the reception was great as we were given snacks and food.

"Not a bad experience for my first time flying" I muttered to myself, fixing the headphone on my head to take a short nap after downing all my snacks.

Chapter 13

I was awakened by a tap on my shoulders as I winced, opening my eyes slowly and taking off the headphone. I see Rissa standing in front of me.

"We are there sleepy head" she says, I stretch my whole body before standing up to follow rissa out of the plan.

Meeting with the guys down, we grabbed our bags and entered a mini suv van that was booked to take us to our hotel where we would spend the night before we began our little adventure.

It was a black suv with tinted glasses, a man in a black suit was the driver, we relaxed at the back of the van which was like a small living room.

The chilled atmosphere in the van reminded me of the lycan kingdom.

Silence eluded us as we drove to our destination, on reaching there we grabbed our lodgage into the hotel where sin had already made reservations for us before we had arrived. I was very impressed with how sin had planned everything.

We each had our separate rooms, except rissa and Nico who opted to stay in one room, I entered my room, to settle down but I couldn't help feel the unrest of my wolf bothering to shift and have a run, it's been a while I shifted and my wolf hasn't been at rest ever since.

Sin called for a meeting to speak with everyone before we went to bed. We gathered together at the hotel's restaurant, where we ordered some food for the meeting.

Sitting together while only sin stood in front of us to address us "so I wanted to let you all know how proud i am that all of you are here" he voice illuminating a sense of calmness

"It's a dangerous journey we would be embarking on tomorrow and I want everyone to look out for each other because we have no idea what we could encounter there, and hopefully we get what we came for and return back home safely."

"See you all in the morning" he says with a sheepish smile.

Comments

Support