Chapter 7

The scenery of the whole place was a beauty to behold, I've never seen a place this magical before

"Come in" Adonis said to us, leading to way to entrance of the house.

The front entrance had a gold chandelier which fitted the castle perfectly,

When we entered behind Sinclair and Adonis, taking a look around, the inside was painted white with a touch of gold, suiting the couch, tables and lamps.

It was a beautiful sight to behold, Sinclair led us to the dining room still which was a also gold in colour and a chandelier just above it giving it a unique look, we met two persons I've never seen before.

Sinclair introduced us to them saying "this is Nicolas and Karissa here who are mated together" gesturing towards them before pointing at us "and here we have members of my must trusted park, deepwater. Lukas being the alpha, henry the beta and amelia the alpha warrior" he said to Nicolas and Karissa.

"Hi" Karissa waved at us, "you can call me rissa" she said with a smile, before Nicolas followed her "you're welcome, and you can call me nico" he said with a welcoming hand shake to Lukas and Henry and a wave to me.

"You guys need to rest now because tomorrow we will discuss how we would stop the ravaging black mist" Sinclair declared

"Why don't I show you guys to you're rooms" rissa said with a warming smile, she lead the way claiming up the stairs and leading us down the hall by our right, signaling to Lukas and Henry their rooms before getting to mine.

"If you're bored later I can show you around the castle" she offered with a smile

"Sure that would be really nice" I said to her before entering my room to rest from the long day we've had.

It was really nice to speak with a girl like myself for a change, considering I'm always with lukas, Henry, and Alex.

The next morning I was awoken by a knock on my room door, when I answered the door I saw rissa standing there, she waved with a huge smile on her face "morning" she said

"Hi" I replied while clearing my eyes with my fist

"Hello sleepy head, I was just checking up on you and I wanted to let you know that Sinclair wanted to speak to you in his office".

Instantly the sleepy eyes I had vanished and was replaced with a pounding heart.

"Y-yeah sure, tell him I'll be there shortly" I stammered.

Closing the doors immediately standing right behind it with my hands behind my back against the door, looking up at the roof I taught "what does he want from me this time" I muttered trying to reason what he could possibly want to tell me, the taught sending my heart racing uncontrollably.

But still I was excited because I would look into his piercing blue eyes and his huge well defined muscles which always gets me on the edge.

I immediately took my bath, dressed up and put my hair in a ponytail with light makeup, because I wasn't really a makeup kind of person.

I left my room, heading straight right to his office, when I got there I placed a soft knock on the door,

Hearing Sinclair's deep voice saying "come in" I turned the door handle to enter his office, seeing him on a black plain shirt and joggers, he said

"Morning sweetheart, how was your night" he said calmly causing me to smile uncontrollably before I replied

"I had a good night rest sir" I replied which made his expression change from a grin to a slightly annoyed look

"You can call me Sinclair sweetheart" he said pulling me closer where I could see his beautiful blue eyes.

I haven't felt this way about anyone since William rejected me, I looked downwards to the ground to hide the joy of his touch but he used his finger to pull my face up, looking directly into my eyes.

"You have gorgeous eyes Amelia" he said before pulling me into his lap as he sat in his office chair, I tried to resist but I just couldn't resist him for some reason.

"What did you want to tell me?" I said shyly. He looked at me and let out a breath of air before saying

"I wanted to let you know how incredible you are, I like woman who are strong and courageous just like you sweetheart"

I had a small grin on my face because nobody had told me sweet things like this before, I muttered a small thank you to him, then he put his hand on my lap and rubbed it slowly and softly which comforted me.

He moved his face closer to mine in an attempt to kiss me, then suddenly his office door was pushed open.
