Chapter 8

After the door was pushed open, rissa walked in on us, seeing me on Sinclair's lap, I immediately became shy.

"Uhh I'm really sorry, I should have knocked first" she said, her cheeks visibly red in embarrassment.

I quickly stood up from Sinclair's lap, adjusting my clothes without making any eye contacts with rissa because I was shy as well.

"The meeting is supposed to start shortly" rissa says hesitantly.

"Oh, thanks for the reminder" Sinclair says slightly annoyed, without saying any further words he stood up and walked out of the office leaving me and rissa there.

Rissa looked at me with a surprised expression as her eyes widened and her hands were in her cheeks.

"You are so telling me everything later" she tells while pointing a finger at me in curiosity and surprise.

We made our way to living room, where everyone was sat waiting for us to arrive.

Sinclair stood while everyone was sitted with his arms folded.

Rissa sat beside Nico and I sat in between Lukas and Henry, making Sinclair give me a dangerous glare like he wanted me next to him instead.

After we all sat, Sinclair cleared his throat by saying "thank you all for making it here, so we invited the deepwater park here to help us in solving this black mist problem that that has been going on in all parks for a while now" he says standing still with a numb expression on his face as he continued.

"So obviously we have been having issues figuring it out alone which is why I came to the conclusion to involve the deepwater park, even though they are normal wolves their contributions will be of help to us as they have proved numerous times in the past".

"We all know nothing about this black mist but here at the lycan kingdom we have a historic library dating back to the ancient days back so I'm sure in there somewhere, there must be a book that can give us a clue" he explained calmly

"The hell, there are over a billion books in there" rissa moans out.

"Yes which is why you will be helping us with one of your magic spells then" Adonis replies to rissa.

"You have magic?" Meself, lukas, and Henry all say simultaneously in shock. Chuckling at how surprised we were she says

"Yes, yes, yes I have magic" she says rolling her eyes with a grin.

"I'm also a lycan but I inherited my powers from my grandmother who wasn't a lycan, then my lycan power comes from my mom and dad" she says with excitement.

"Alright then let's get to work, rissa you think you can pull a spell to help us find the book?" Sinclair questioned her

"I guess so, but you'll have to give me little time to get the spell"

"Let's begin looking first at least before she comes up with a spell" Lukas says.

"Good idea let's go then" Sinclair states leading the way as we all follow him behind.

Rissa grabs my hand and whispers into my ear, "you're telling me everything later" she said, to which I rolled my eyes.

We made our way to the library, looking at this large room with over 50 tall shelves it would be impossible to find a book here.

We began looking for the book while rissa made attempts to cast a spell to find the book, Sinclair and I exchanged stares as we looked which got me blushing.

"Yes I've got it" rissa says catching all our attentions.

"Ahh finally, I'm freaking tired of looking there are over a billion books here" Adonis moaned out.

"Cabrai machetre findei estante" rissa said flicking all her finds.

"Well did it work?" I asked after a few seconds of nothing happening and us just standing there in silence.

Rissa growls out "I guess i will try..." her frown turned upside down as she pointed to a book floating towards her.

She began to jump on her toes and clapping her hands in excitement "yes I did, I did it" she says as the book floats into her hands.

We all gathered together to see what the book says but looking at it we could not understand a single word, it was written like a child was playing around with a pen, I've never seen anything like that.

"Let me have a look" Sinclair said, rissa handing the book to Sinclair, he took a look for a while before continuing "this written in an ancient secret transcription, I can read but it will take a while" he said.

"And how do you know this" Henry asked with stroking his chin

"Because I'm over 800 years old" he says raising his brows with a slight shake of the head.

"What the hell" i said squeezeing my face in surprise.

"Well it's a good start, as long as it helps us find solutions" Lukas said

"Yeah, because I'm really tired" Henry chimed in.

We took a break and relaxed having launch and making jokes, while Sinclair and Adonis tried to decode the book in his office.

After about 3 hours, they both came out to meet us in the dining room as laughter filled the air, they stood in front of us with their arms folded bringing out their muscles clearly.

"We have been working on translating this book all this while and you guys are just here laughing?" Sinclair groans. Still laughing rissa replied

Chapter 8

"Well we're not a million years old are we" to which Sinclair just rolled his eyes.

"So what does it say?" Lukas asked.

Taking a deep breath, "well according to this book we will have to go into an enchanted forest to find our answers" Sinclair said.
