

Her Mates Her Protectors Chapter 14

After making much preparations. Prince Lennox and London out for their journey to Starfight Pack, but before they could leave the palace, they were surrounded by Crown Prince Freddie's men.

"What's the meaning of this?" London and Lennox let out a groan, glaring at the men

"I asked them to stop you, you don't need to get upset with the Freddie immediately appeared before them.

Why are you doing this? Lennox stepped closer to Freddie and growled at him.

"Where are you heading to You look fully prepared, trying to hunt for your nonexistent mate? Freddie smirked.

"And what does that have to do with you!" Lennox snapped back

Well, it has everything to do with me: I am the crown prince of this nation" And beside that, I am also your big brother, you need to inform me before you leave the palace"

"Are you using your power to bully us? Has it come to this" London also stepped closer to him.

"No Bully" Why would I bully my brothers? His Majesty gave me an instruction. He asked me to monitor your movements, you both will be under close watch until you choose a mate and settle down"

"What! The king never gave such orders; why are you lying? London snapped.

He never did? Oh really? Freddie pursed his lips and looked around his surroundings.

"Yes, he never did, I was just playing around with you I don't know why you two are so uptight, Freddie broke out and suddenly started laughing. He laughed for while, then stopped. At his signal, his men disappeared from their sight.

was only joking around. Why don't we have a drink together? The three of us."

"No thanks" Lennox brushed past him and moved out of the palace.

"Will you go with him?" As London tried to leave, Freddie grabbed his shoulder. "Can't you drink with me? You should drink with me like you more than your twin. You are more cool-headed, and I think we'll get along very well. What do you think?" Freddie looked at him

"No thanks," London simply said before moving out of the palace.

“Those fools.” Freddie clicked his tongue as he fixed his eyes on the exit door.

“Your Highness,” his personal guard, Jet, appeared behind him.

“Did you find out?”

“No, Your Highness, but I’ll ask some of our men to follow them, But I don’t think you need to worry about the twin princes, finding their mate is their priority, so I don’t think they’ll harm your position or prevent you from ascending the throne,” Jet said

Freddie scoffed, “You can never be too sure. They might already be planning something; we can’t let our guard down. Before they think of attacking me, I’ll destroy them.”

“Yes, your Highness, but you also need to create a bridge between them. That’s the fastest way to destroy them. You need to make them hate each other.”

“You know that’s almost impossible.”

“It’s almost impossible but not totally impossible. You can still do it”

Do you have a plan then

“No. Your Highness, but I’ll come up with one.”

“What did he say to you?” The moment London sat beside Lennox in the car, Lennox brought up the question.

“He said he likes me better. I guess I’m lucky to be his favorite; you should try to change your bad behavior,” London joked, and Lennox sniffled a laugh.

“You are very lucky, I guess,” Lennox shook his head.

“But Lennox, why is brother that way? Why does he think we’ll attack him and take the throne from him? He’s only acting this way because he is scared. We are not even interested in the throne; we have our priority; when will he understand that?” London sighed.

“He has always been wary of us, mainly because of our bond. He never understand us, even if you explain it to him. You don’t have to waste your breath. Let’s go to our Mate now.”

“Yeah, let’s go to her London turned to the driver and gave him a signal.

Starlight Pack

What is going on?" Chesney walked into the dining room of the packhouse to see the pack members setting the table up

"Luna," one of the pack members ran to her with a big smile on her face.

"Lady Rose, what is going on? Are we having a visitor? Chesney inquired.

"No, we aren't

"Then, why are you setting the table up?"

"This is supposed to be a surprise. Alpha Joel asked us to prepare this for tonight."

"Tonight? What's happening tonight?"

"It's your birthday. He wants to celebrate you. Have you forgotten that your birthday comes before your son's birthday? He wants to celebrate you, so he secretly asked us to prepare all these Lady Rose drew closer to her and whispered.

"Oh no!" Chesney's shoulders fell.

"What is it?"

"We don't have too much money to waste for a party. He shouldn't have asked you to prepare this let me go talk to him." Chesney turned and tried to go to Alpha Joel's office, but Lady Rose stopped her on time-

"No! It's a surprise. You shouldn't ruin it; if you go to him right now, you'll ruin the whole thing."

"It's better to destroy it now, it's not too late Chesney tried to leave again, but Lady Rose stopped her.

"No, I think he wants to use the opportunity and propose to you. If you go to his office, you'll ruin his plans"

"What? Propose? He wants to propose to me." Chesney probed, lightly taken aback by the revelation.

"Yes, Luna. That's what the others are saying. One person saw a ring box with him the other day. So we think he wants to use this opportunity to propose to you and officially make you his Luna. He'll also make Wyatt his son. This is great! Since Wyatt's father is dead, Wyatt will get a new father if you accept the Alpha's proposal; Wyatt might also end up as the future Alpha of the Starlight Pack Lady Rose jumped in happiness. "Tana Chesney, you should accept his proposal."

Chesney returned to her room with a heavy heart and sat down on her bed.

What will I do? What will I say if Alpha Joel proposes to me tonight? I hope he doesn't: I can't be with him. Relationships are not for me, I've told him that

All I want is to raise my son. I think I should talk to Alpha Joel, Chesney rose to her feet and quickly left for Alpha Joel's office.

When she arrived, she knocked on his door before turning the doorknob. She opened the door and pushed her head in to see him behind his desk. He is on a call.

Chesney entered the office and cleared her throat before sitting on the visitor's chair. She observed Alpha Joel, wearing a serious expression, as he conversed with the individual he was on call.

"Any problem? Chesney murmured as she stared at him, and Joel replied with a nod

Alpha Joel dropped the call a few seconds later and then focused his attention on Chesney.

"What happened? Who is coming? Chesney immediately asked

"No, nothing happened"

"Who were you on call with? You sounded pretty serious, and you also looked worried."

"Yes, you do. Even now. Who is visiting?" Chesney probed again

"It's not something you should worry about, Chesney. It's nothing big, Alpha Joel smiled.

"Hmm, Chesney gazed at him with a disbelieving expression on her face. Her facial expression made Alpha Joel laugh.

"So, why are you here? Do you have something for me?"

"Um... No, I don't, I just wanted to check up on you, Chesney replied.

"Oh, that's very nice of you, my lady. I appreciate your concern

"Yes, of course, I've got to go." Chesney rose to her feet again.

"Leaving so soon?" Alpha Joel frowned.

“You seem busy; I’ll check up on you again, Chesney said before walking out of his office—She went straight to her room from there, the moment she entered her room, the conversation Alpha Joel had with the caller flooded her mind. Although she wasn’t able to hear the whole thing, she was able to hear these two lines.

The twin princes. They are coming”

I clearly heard that. But why is Alpha Joel hiding this? I need more information from him: I need him to come clean to me to this pack, then I should leave before they arrive. about that. If Lennox and London are coming

Why is he hiding it! It’s not something he should keep to himself. He needs to make an announcement for the entire pack to know If a royalty visits a pack, then the entire pack will celebrate their visit. That’s how it’s always done. Alpha Joel can’t keep it a secret

But just in case, I need to prepare myself. Just in case the twin pres truly visit this pack. Yes, I need to prepare myself.

After spending six hours on the road looking for the entrance to Starlight Pack, they finally found it, but they were stopped before they could go in

The guards guarding the border immediately rushed to them to find out who they were.

“Where are you from?” The head of the patrol guard moved to their driver and questioned him.

“Didn’t your Alpha inform you yet?”

Who are you, answer the damn question??”

“How dare you act rude before the princes? Have you gone nuts Their driver fired back at the patrol guard.

“What? Princes? What princes? Is this a joke? The patrol guard thundered.

“What do you mean, is this a joke? Are you calling the prince a joke? Do you want to be executed?!”

“What prince? No member of the royal family has ever taken the time to visit this pack. They don’t give a damn about our living conditions here. So what is this bullshit about a prince being here?” The guard slammed his fist hard against the window.

“I think I should step in; this is so exhausting.” London groaned before stepping out of the vehicle.

As soon as they saw his face, the guards drew back and away from him, giving him a strange look. "Where is Joel!" London calmly inquired, ignoring their strange behavior.

"He. He just mind-linked me, he'll be..."

"I'm right here. I'm right here, your Highness" Alpha Joel appeared out of nowhere od before Prince London

"Your Highness, please forgive him. I didn't make an announcement, so none of them knows about this Alpha Joel bowed politely.

"And why didn't you make an announcement? London grimaced.

"Because it's too sudden. I don't know how to break the news to them. We've never had a king's member in our pack since its existence, and to be honest, I'm not sure how the pack members will react to the new development. Please forgive us for our incompetence.

"Lead the way, London made to enter the car, but Alpha Joel stopped him.

"Your Highness, I have arranged a suitable abode for you and your twin. The living conditions of our pack members are low, so I have arranged the best house in the pack. Do forgive us for this."

"Look up, London ordered.

"Your Highness?"

"Look at me," London repeated, and upon his command, Alpha Joel lifted his gaze to meet London's, but the moment their eyes locked, Alpha Joel flinched and moved back in shock.

"Are you okay!" London couldn't help but ask; he wasn't using any of his powers on him; he wasn't doing anything, so why
