

Her Revenge 211

Chapter 211

As soon as Lea got out of the car, Jason and Craig came up to her.

They had arrived when she got into the car. They saw it and stood guard by the car. They did not hear anything, so they did not move.

Lea's two roommates followed her and looked at her

r with concern

Shannon knew that Lea was already Alfred, so she would definitely not accept Milion. However, judging from their attitude, they actually wanted to force her. Fortunately, Yannis and the others arrived.

Willow pursed her cherry lips in disdain and thought, So what if Milton is in charge of the Andrews family? Why does Lea have to agree to him asking her out? Why can't she reject him? What kind of attitude is that?'

She said, "Lea, don't be afraid. In today's society, no one can force anyone!

Lea looked at the pure and determined girl who was encouraging her with full positive energy. Her heart warmed and she nodded.

She said to Jason. "Send them back to school.

She got into Craig's car. The cars drove forward.

"Where's Alfred?" Lea asked.

Milton's appearance disturbed her mood. Seeing that Alfred did not come to pick her up, she felt uneasy Craig answered, "Mr. Blake asked Mr. Alfred to go on a business trip overseas. He said he would be back soon!

Lea thought for a moment and nodded. "Where's the birthday present Milon gave me?"

After knowing that Alfred was the same as her and had been reborn, she knew that he was the one who intercepted the gift. Only he could do it

Craig was shocked. His back was covered in cold sweat. He thought. No wonder she got into my car instead of getting Jason to send her back.

He said. "Miss Berry.....

He wondered if Lea could wait for Alfred to return before dealing with it since he was in charge of this matter.

Alfred didn't like the gift. If Craig didn't handle it well, he felt that Alfred would destroy him.

Lea said, "Send it back to Milion. Tell him that the servant received it by mistake. I didn't know about it, and I didn't see it."

He was stunned, "Okay""

Craig felt that Alfred would definitely like this way of handling things. Moreover, he could not reject the order from the future wife of Alfred.

He asked, "But... are you really not going to take a look at it?"

"No" Lea felt that a gift from Milton would only disgust her.

Craig explained. "The birthday present from Mr. Milton is a set of diamond jewelry worth 240 million dollars. The back-to-school gift is a villa on the campus of Conrad University and a van. I'm saying this because I want you to understand Mr. Milton's actions a little more. I'm afraid he won't stop it here. You should get ready. Compared to Mr. Alfred, his gifts are really shabby. Mr. Alfred is much richer and more generous than him."

It was obvious that Craig was not confident enough. He did not expect that he would be saying this to Lea one day. From what he knew, it was impossible for Alfred to be as rich as Milton.

Even if Alfred had some money, Milton still had assets from his parents. It was unimaginable how much wealth he possessed.

Lea felt speechless. She said, "Don't compare him to Alfred. He's not worthy

However, Lea could see Milton's determination and felt pressured after seeing how generous he was with the gifts.

Craig immediately straightened his back in an imposing manner. He first sent Lea to West District.
neet

Originally, Lea had planned to meet Alfred first, but he was on a business trip, so she went back to work.

In less than a week, she had completed the renovation design of the hospital. Chris and the others had also moved to Iverton from Vaporleon City. Last night, Chris had sent a message to tell Lea that the renovation was more than halfway done.

There was an experimental building on campus mpus that was divided into two the Medical Research Area and the Intelligent Technology Area.

The core of the Intelligent technology area was researching artificial brains. Five of the core teams were transferred over from Berry Technology. They intended to use the technology of artificial brains in the flight control system and were arranged to be on an entire floor.

There was another floor with only a few new employees. Lea had asked Chris to hire them recently to develop some of the smart technology that Les had given them.

Everyone's research direction was different. It was only a small part of artificial intelligence, but it already contained endless work.

Milton's invitation gave Lea a strong sense of shock and danger would definitely do

Even if it wasn't for Lea, when Milton learned about Riverview Hospital's core research project and the artificial brain, I everything he could to take her apart. She had to become stronger quickly, so she went to work at the laboratory.

After returning to school and packing up, Shannon came to the hospital. She was in charge of the installation and testing of the security system Yannis came with Archer. Just like before, they still planned to stay in the hospital.

But now.

in addition to his own training, Yannis also had to train the hospital's security personnel.

After a trip abroad, Lea picked up a few more candidates from a pile of boxers who lost to Yannis. Now, there were already 15 people on the team. The third floor in the basement was specially renovated for them to train.

Outside the base, after Lea and the others left. Thomas got into the car. He opened the partition and saw Milton looking at loss. He could not help but feel pity for him and feel resentment towards Lea.

He did not expect that Milton's meticulous preparation and sincerity would be ruthlessly trampled on by that little girl.

Having stayed by his side for nearly 20 years, this was the first time Thomas had seen Milton act like this. Milton was really hurt by Lea

At the same time, Thomas hated Lea for being cold and heartles

Thomas asked, "Mr. Andrews, where are we going now?"

According to the original plan, they were going to the restaurant on the top floor for dinner

Milton said. "I have an important client to see at eight o'clock tonight."

On his schedule, this meeting was arranged after he and Lea finished their meal and sent her back.

un this meeting and change his mood.

"Now was the perfect time to move up

Milton added. "Head back

Thomas's heart sank. This time, he knew that Milton was really hurt. In the past, he would never change his schedule for anything and put down his work. Moreover, it was this important client that they had to meet for tonight.

More than an hour later, the car arrived outside Madicia Villa. When Thomas saw a black car parked outside, he stopped the car and rolled down the window.

Craig got out of the car and took out a gift box that was half the height of a person. He delivered it to Milton through the car window. "This is from Miss Lea Berry. He told Milton everything she said.

Milton's expression became even gloomier. The wrinkles between his brows became even deeper, and I his face w

was filled with pain

He thought, 'She didn't even want to look at me. Why does she hate me so much? I have clearly not done anything to let her down!

Soon, anger flashed across his deep eyes. He realized that these expensive gifts that he had carefully chosen were all intercepted by Alfred. Originally, he wanted to show his sincerity to Lea, however, it turned out to be in vain.

Milton thought, Alfred you will pay for this

When Alfred was three years old, which was 18 years ago, Blake suddenly announced that he had chosen Alfred as the successor of the Andrews family.

In the past 18 years, Milton had never taken Alfred seriously. He felt that Alfred was just an idle, ignorant, and incompetent playboy who was able to have a place at the Andrews Group because he was favored by Blake.

Moreover, Milton also learned that Alfred had a hidden illness, so he had always stayed overseas when he was little.

Milton felt that Alfred was unable to compete against him, who had repeatedly created business miracles. Moreover, he had the support of his parents and grandfather.

However, Lea had obtained Lea, the only woman that Milton ever wanted in his entire life.

He did not know how far they had progressed, but Lea's attitude made him certain that she had chosen Alfred.

However, as long as the two of them were not married, Milton felt that he would have a chance.

His dark eyes lit up with determination and determination. He would never give up on Lea. He was always able to get what he wanted. He didn't think that Lea would be an exception.

He ordered, "Investigate thoroughly about Lea and Alfred. Don't leave out any details"

He felt that he could only win this battle by knowing them completely.

Abigail was sent home by her personal chauffeur and servant

In the car, her mind was filled with the scene of Milton's meticulously arranged confession to Lea in public, only to be mercilessly rejected by her..

She thought, I am clearly the most outstanding socialite in Iverson. The Erickson family is second only to the Andrews family. Why didn't Milton like me but that lowly Lea?'

Ever since Abigail was young, there had been an endless stream of aristocratic families who wanted to marry her to ally with the Erickson family

She felt that the Erickson family was clearly the best choice for the Andrews family.

Such a feat clearly belonged to her, but now, it was snatched away by Lea.

Abigail thought. How does she deserve to get that? No, I cannot let this end like this.

She ordered, "Investigate Lea again. I want all her background information. Don't leave out any details"

Chapter 212

Lea spent the two-day weekend in the laboratory. She only returned to school at eight o'clock on Sunday night to attend the welcome party

Ever since. Res was carried away from the orientation site, he did not return in to participate in the training. He did not return to school after that, Lea felt that he probably wouldn't come

She did not know if it was because he had quit school since he lost the bet, or because of his leg injury. The students were already busy and received endless new things every day. They quickly forgot about this matter. However, Lea knew very well.

For someone as arrogant and self-righteous as Rex, since his leg was crippled and his self-esteem had suffered a serious blow, he would feel so inferior that he would not dare to return to school.

Most of the content of the welcome party was the students' talent show. The student union and the publicity department had programs to welcome this batch of new students.

Lea, Shannon, and Willow held their phones and waited for the party to end, Lea and Shannon could use their phones to deal with work matters, Willow could also study her learning materials and not feel bored.

When it was about to end, the freshman representative, Abigail, performed the finale.

The host called out her name and invited her on stage.

The spotlight fell on her, and the room fell silent. All eyes fell on her, and they held their breath.

She was wearing a light pink princess dress and diamond hair accessories. They were all high-end designs from big brands. In such a simple and ordinary party, she looked luxurious,

Lea frowned when the dazzling light reflected from Abigail's body shone into her eyes. She kicked up an Abigail and glanced at the piano on the stage. It was a high-end piano worth millions. Her frown deepened,

Lea thought, Abigail is really anxious to be in the limelight in school and gain fame. This gala is completely used to show her beauty and talent. The performance just now was just to pave the way for her. They were all her stepping stones:

Her phone vibrated. She looked down and saw a message from Alfred. (I'm coming |

She paused and thought, 'He's back from the business trip?'

She received another message. [Behind you.]

She turned to look. Behind the audience, a tall figure in a black shirt stood in the crowd. He was surrounded by staff, performers, and students coming in and out. He was squeezed among them. For the sake of the stage effect, the lights on his side were very dim.

However, she could see him clearly at a glance. His deep eyes were suffused with a graceful light that was as bright as the stars as he smiled at her. She only felt that her vision was bright and beautiful, and the gloominess was instantly swept away.

For the pass

two days, she had been in a bad mood because of Milton. Now, everything was fine.

Abigail went on stage and sat down in front of the piano. She looked at the audience below the stage and was shocked.

Alfred was standing at the back of the audience, blocked by the crowd and shrouded in darkness. The light reflected in the distance outlined his distinct facial features. Her heart suddenly stopped beating.

It jumped again with a bang as if it was going to break out of her chest.

Abigail thought. It is Alfred! Why is he here?'

Unable to think too much about it, she gazed at him intently and tears instantly welled up in her eyes.

The host began to introduce the song she wanted to play. "Next, the beautiful and talented Abigail will play an extremely difficult but beautiful song forma."

"How difficult is this song? Only famous pianists who are respectfully called masters can play it perfectly. Of course, Abigail also can. She's already reached the highest level of the national piano test before she was ten years old"

Abigail was completely attracted by Alfred. She did not hear a single word of her praise from the host

It was not until the host finished speaking and called her a few times that she came back to her senses. She immediately wiped the hot tears on her face.

The host aseld, "Shall we begin!"

"Yes" She nodded, blinking as she adjusted her facial expression.

She thought. That's great!"

Originally, she just wanted to take this opportunity to show her talents to her peers and gain a good reputation as a talented woman. Then, she would take a few photos and upload them to the forum to run for the school belle.

Ever since Lea displayed her powerful shooting, archery, and combat skills during orientation, her popularity had surpassed Abigail's, be it among the freshmen or on the forums. Her votes had even surpassed hers. It made Abigail look ordinary and unremarkable.

Hence, as soon as she returned from orientation, Abigail meticulously planned this welcome party performance to regain her dignity.

Unexpectedly, Alfred came. Abigail felt that she was meant to shine that moment.

The timing was perfect. She was determined to impress him with her superb musical skills.

She thought, 'Lea being publicly confessed to by Milion is nothing. When I receive Alfred's recognition, I can ruthlessly surpass her. Mr. Alfred is much better than Mr. Milton. He is even better looking and is the Andrews family's successor. In the future, the entire Andrews Group will be his Abigail raised her hands and placed them on the piano. She elegantly pressed the first key. The beautiful notes sounded, and the hall immediately fell silent. Only the sound of the piano lingered, gradually bringing people into the beautiful music.

It had to be said that her piano skills were indeed very high, and she had chosen a a very good tune.

In the beginning, Lea could still listen to it, but soon, she became a line frustrated. In order to show her skill, Abigail chose a very long piece.

Additionally, Abigail's eyes were always looking behind her. Lea already knew who she was looking at Following her gaze, she looked back again, and her expression instantly turned cold, She hated it the most when others coveted her man, not to mention that Abigail was her mortal enemy. She felt even more irritable.

It was not easy for Lea to hold on until Abigail finished playing. She packed her bag and wanted to rush out to go home with Alfred as soon as the gala ended.

"Lea. The host suddenly called her.

She looked up and saw the host smiling at her.

At this moment, Abigail was also walking down the stage with her skirt. He glanced at Lea and a malicious sneer flashed across her dark eyes.

The host continued, Lea, you're the first among our batch of new students and also the representative of this batch of new students. You even obtained first place in the orientation. The gala is about to end. You should come up and perform for everyone."

Lea's expression immediately turned cold.

Originally, there was a segment at the gala to commend the outstanding results of the orientation, but this segment was gone. It was as if the star had forgotten about it.

Now that the host said this, Lea understood. In order to prevent hier from being in the limelight, she deliberately missed that segment.

Now, in order to trick her into going on stage, the host brought this segment back.

The host said, "Lea, come on."

"That's right, that's right. We also want to see Lea's performance" Lea looked over and saw some people around Leona cheering. From the looks of it, they wanted to coax her to go on stage. The way she looked at her was full of provocation and challenge.

The students also shouted Lea's name.

No one had any intention of forcing her, nor did they respond to Leona and the others. Instead, they indeed were impressed by Lea and wanted to see her perform

Lea did not respond. She just looked at Leona and the others.

Leona did not hide it. "Lea, don't tell me you don't dare to go on stage? After all, Abigail played so perfectly just now. If your standard is not as good as hers, the students' ears will suffer.

Lea even touched a piano before? How is she going to compare to Abigail in terms of music?

Leona thought,

ht, Has Le

Lea saw her expression and stood up.

"Lea!" Shannon immediately became nervous.

From Helen, she had almost completely understood how Lea grew up. Matilda never even gave Lea enough food to have while growing up. There was no chance for her to cultivate musical skills.

"Welcome, Lear The host shouted happily when she saw her stand up.

Just now, she was afraid that Lea would not come up. She was so anxious that her palms were covered in cold sweat

"These people are too shameless!" Willow was indignant

She thought, "Abigail had spent such a long time practicing the piano and had indeed achieved results, but what is there to show off? Who wouldn't be able to do the same with resources like hers! She played such a famous song and pushed the audience's expectations to the peak. Then, she called Les up. No matter what song Lea performed, it would seem boring, Lea is called up now to compete with Abigail in front of all her classmates because Abigail wants her to be embarrassed. If she got up on the stage, she would lose. If she didn't go up on the stage, she would automatically admit that she is inferior to Abigail. This is simply despicable.

Lea gave the two of them a reassuring look and walked onto the stage.

Abigail had already returned to the audience seats. Her seat was surrounded by Leona and the others.

A few of them were wearing their own private collections. They were beautiful and luxurious. Some classmates privately called them the group of wealthy girls of Conrad University.

Abigail looked back and saw that Alfred was still there. She blushed again.

She then looked at Lea on the stage, her eyes filled with smug mockery.

She thought, “Lea, what are you going to do since you’ve never touched a musical instrument or even a piano in your life? Just wait to lose all your Face in front of Mr. Alfred, you vulgar and lowly bastard from the Berry family!

Chapter 213

Lea came to the center of the stage. The host walked to her side. “There’s only one violin left here. Play it with the violin.”

As she spoke, she handed the violin to her and arranged everything clearly for her.

Below the stage, Abigail and Leona exchanged glances. They were so excited that they could not sit still.

Not to mention that Lea had never touched an instrument before. Without a few years of practice, she would not be able to control the violin.

Lea reached out to take it. Then, she looked up at Alfred, Her sparkling eyes were filled with gentleness and love as she smiled. Tam going to play the piece of Pleasure of Love for someone I like.”

The hearts of the people below the stage suddenly skipped a beat. Then, as the violin played the first note, their hearts skipped a beat. Their heartstrings were plucked as they looked at the stage in a daze

This was not an official stage. There were no rehearsals, no lighting settings, and only a faint light shone on Lea.

She was wearing a white school uniform, a short-sleeved T-shirt, and black pants that were loose. However, the way she played the violin was so free and unrestrained. Her long hair that fell on her shoulders floated up, and she was so stunning and eye-catching.

“For someone I like.” Her every frown and smile and every note was so alluring. The students knew that she was not talking about them, but their faces turned red and their hearts beat faster. Not only all the boys felt that way, but also some girls

After a few short notes, everyone was already immersed in the violin music and forgot about everything else.

At the last note, Lea pulled the bow from the string. It was elegant and perfect. She looked up at Alfred with sparkling eyes.

Alfred looked at her and felt tears welling up in his eyes.

Ever since she was reborn, he naturally knew that her feelings for him were deep.

From her tune, he felt a deeper sense of love.

From his previous life to this life, he had finally obtained the love of his life. There was nothing else he could ask for

The entire venue fell silent for a few seconds before thunderous applause suddenly sounded.

A student said, “What kind of godly person is Lea? She can even play the violin so well.

Another person said, “That’s right. I went overseas to listen to a violin master play during the holidays. They’re not as good as Lea. Lea can debut on the spot and go on a world tour. I’ll buy all the tickets.”

Someone else said, “I didn’t know that playing the violin could be so cool and beautiful. I’m going to find my mother and continue practicing the violin. As expected of a member of the Conrad University. The standard of the gala is already so high.”

Lea’s performance gave everyone an extreme musical experience and directly raised the level of the entire gala.

Many girls were already in tears. “This song can actually move people so much and make them so happy. I’ve studied music for eight years and this is the first time I’ve felt the power of music.”

A girl said, “I want to be the main character in the song”

Another girl said, “Mom, I want to fall in love,”

Someone else said. “I want to hear it again.”

The current Lea was a fearless and unrestrained person. This song was played for Alfred. All her feelings were in it. The deep love, beautiful sweetness, and cherishing and care for the two of them were revealed. The students were touched.

Abigail felt as if she had been struck by lightning. The expression on her face could not be retracted.

Shock, shock, disbelief, regret, unwillingness and anger. All kinds of intense emotions intertwined and pulled, causing her face to contort and her eyes to split open.

She thought, ‘Didn’t they say that Lea has never come into contact with musical instruments? Even I am attracted and conquered by this hall-of-the-world performance. What went wrong?’

Abigail didn’t have a clue and her mind went blank.

The students’ exclamations and praises drilled into her mind. It was noisy and her head was about to explode.

They only had Lea’s songs in their minds now, and Abigail’s outstanding performance just now had been completely forgotten.

She was the one who had personally brought Lea’s talent to such a high level and sent her to be worshipped by every student in front of Alfred. Abigail thought. “Alfred must be attracted to her music. If he falls in love with her as a result of this Tears fell from Abigail’s eyes.

She suddenly lowered her head, crossed her lips, and held back her tears. Since she was in public, she tried her best to protect her image and dignity.

Leona was not much better than her. Rita, Beatrice, and the others were also in pain and embarrassment.

They looked at Abigail in confusion.

This morning, the few of them gathered for a small meeting and strolled the streets

Abigail was the one who introduced Lea's background to them. That was why they cooperated and chased Lea onto the stage, trying to embarrass her and make her fall off the altar. However, things didn't turn out the way they expected.

Blood rushed up their throats and they were about to vomit.

Under everyone's exclamation and worship, Lea calmly walked down the stage and returned to her seat. She said to her two roommates, who were still dumbfounded, "Hurry up and pack up

She was eager to return home.

The two of them came back to their senses and were overjoyed.

The host stood in a corner of the stage in a daze, completely forgetting about carrying on with the show.

The audience was in an uproar. Everyone was in high spirits as they discussed Lea's performance.

A staff member woke the host up and told her to quickly end the gala

Only then did she return to the center of the stage and speak into the microphone.

Everyone fell silent. Just as she was about to summarize, she suddenly heard a cry of surprise.

"Abigail, where's your bracelet? Rita stared at Abigail's wrist and exclaimed.

Abigail had already secretly wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes and tidied up her face. When she heard her shout and touched her wrist, she was also shocked.

She wore an expensive blue diamond bracelet to showcase herself in the show.

"Hurry up and look for it... Leona was anxious for her.

This morning, Abigail had specially shown it to them. They were envious and jealous, but more than that, they were nervous. They had even instructed her to take good care of it and not lose it

Everyone was interrupted by them and looked over. When the surrounding students heard this, they also helped to search. Seeing this, the host could only let them look for it first.

"Over there!" Beatrice shouted and rushed towards Lea and the others aggressively. She grabbed Shannon's wrist and raised it high. She pointed at the bracelet on her wrist. "Abigail, she stole your bracelet"

This was a report to Abigail and also an announcement to everyone. "She actually put them on. What a bold and shameless thief! As she spoke, Beatrice forcefully pulled Shannon and swung her other hand forcefully, slapping her face,

Chapter 214

Shannon fell to the ground.

"Shannon Willow shouted in shock

Lea reacted quickly and supported Shannon.

Shannon got up, grabbed Beatrice's collar, and slapped her back.

After following Lea for so long, she was no longer the weak and useless person who was bullied by others.

Under Yannis's influence, her ability to take action had also improved.

Beatrice was also slapped to the ground. However, she fell to the ground without anyone to help her.

"You thief, how dare you hit me! Beatrice's eyes were red. She got up and was about to hit her.

Shannon grabbed her collar. "Listen carefully. This bracelet is mine!"

It was a birthday present that Lea had received. During the auction, Lea had kept it for her.

Leona and the others came over to help Abigail snatch the bracelet and catch the thief. At the same time, they took the opportunity to step on Lea

They could not get any advantage from her and Shannon had such a good relationship with Lea. Now that they had such a good opportunity, they wanted to make Lea embarrassed.

"Yours!" Leona raised her chin and mocked. "Shannon, do you know the origin of this bracelet! It's a limited edition from a top luxury brand this year. There are only five of these in the world. It's worth a hundred thousand dollars. Can you afford it"

When the students heard this, they also sighed,

Most of them were either rich or noble, and they used big brands. However, a bracelet cost a hundred thousand dollars was still an astronomical price to most of them.

"You're from a single-parent family. No, I heard that your mother has run away and doesn't want you anymore, Leona circled around Shannon and analyzed it. "You got a full scholarship to get into school, and you have to work part-time outside. You usually get your clothes from thrift stores. "Have you ever bought makeup? How dare you say that the bracelet is yours? Do you think anyone will believe you?"

When they were investigating Lea, they happened to find Shannon and investigated her background. The way the students looked at Shannon changed. They pointed at her and discussed.

Indeed, Shannon was the poorest student in the entire grade. She never used makeup or skincare products, and her clothes were all from thrift stores, so everyone had a deep impression of her. It was true that she could not afford such an expensive bracelet.

Shannon stared at Leona. Her hands were clenched into fists and her eyes were bloodshot. She was so angry that her entire body was trembling

She thought, Just because I came from a poor background and had an adoptive mother like Donna Yancey, all the valuable things I obtained are meant to be stolen from others? How can you use your rules and doctrines to restrict and suppress my life?

Shannon wanted to charge forward and fight back fiercely,

“It’s her ability to get a full scholarship. If you have the ability, go and get one too.”
The person who spoke was Lea. She had a mocking smile on her face. “She doesn’t buy cosmetics because she’s naturally beautiful. Unlike you, if you don’t put on seven or eight layers of makeup on your face, you won’t dare to come out and meet people, right? Do you dare to remove your makeup in public?”

Lea stared at Leona sarcastically. “And unlike you, she doesn’t need luxury brands to decorate herself. If you have the ability, find a job to support yourself

The students were shocked and immediately reacted.

Most of the people still had upright values. The way they looked at Shannon changed back to respect and admiration.

Leona’s expression changed drastically. She wanted to retort, but she could not say a word and almost fainted. But she stole the bracelet. She’s a thief!”

“You saw her steal it with your own eyes!” Lear’s expression turned cold. She took a step forward and stood in front of Shannon.

If Leona dared to call Shannon a thief again, Lea would slap her to death.

Leona was so frightened by her fierce aura that she took a step back and stuttered, “Then where did her bracelet come from?”

Lea took another step forward.

Leona quickly took another step back and slammed into the seat. Explain, why is Abigail’s bracelet...

“Here!” Before Leona could finish speaking, a student in front of Abigail said in surprise. He bent down to pick up the things on the ground.

Everyone looked over and saw the student straighten up. He was holding a blue diamond bracelet in his hand, which was exactly the same as the one on Shannon’s hand.

Leona felt a lump in her throat and her face turned pale.

She thought, “How is that possible?”

She looked at Abigail in disbelief.

The student said, “Abigail, here you go. You just dropped it here, right?”

Abigail took it with a pale face. Only then did she realize that the bracelet was broken by her when she lost control of herself after she saw Lea play the violin. Then it fell to the ground. She was so angry that she did not notice this

Just now, when she saw the bracelet on Shannon’s hand, she also thought that she had stolen it. She was just happy that she could embarrass Lea with this excuse

Now that things had turned out this way, she was once again caught off guard. Unwilling to give up, she bit her inner lip.

A person said. "So it's really Shannon's bracelet. They didn't even ask clearly and takt that she stole it. They are surely looking at people with prejudice

Another person said, "No. Shannon already said that she didn't steal it. However, they insisted on imposing a crime on others. Abigail usually looks so glamorous Who would have thought? What a character,"

Beatrice and the others did not feel good

They had targeted Lea and Shannon several times. Not only had they not succeeded once, but they had now ruined their image and reputation. They were angry and a little afraid. "Shannon, tell me, why can you afford such an expensive bracelet? Where did you get the money""

Lea glared at them with murderous intent. "Apologize."

Leona stared at them in disbelief. It was impossible for her to apologize in public

"Call the police," Lea said sternly.

Shock flashed across Leona's eyes

Lea stared at her without blinking. I should have hired a lawyer to see you for defamation

Hearing this, Willow immediately took out her phone and started to call the police.

The students were also silent as they looked at them,

Abigail and her crew had misunderstood and framed Shannon in public. They even hit her without even apologizing, People felt that they really shouldn't have done that..

Leona's scalp went numb when she heard the dial tone. She immediately shouted. "I'm sorry! Lapologizer

The Moore family was not an ordinary family. If she was taken away by the police in public, her reputation would be affected. The company would also be affected. She could not let that happen.

Willow

stopped pressing the buttons and looked at Lea and Shannon.

Leona calmed down a little. She restrained her aura and softened her ione. I'm sorry. I misunderstood you."

However, her eyes were dark and sharp, and she was unwilling-

"Willow, call the police," Lea continued.

Willow could also see that Leona was being perfunctory. She understood what Lea meant and pressed another key. "Beep"

Leona's scalp went numb again, and her gaze softened. "I'm sorry"

Lea's expression was cold and unmoved.

Leona repeated, I'm sorry

Lea remained unmoved.

Her tone softened and her attitude became more sincere as Leona repeated herself.

She apologized more than ten times in a row. In the end, even her tears fell. All the students could tell that she was sincerely apologizing.

Beatrice, who was standing at the side, trembled. She once again experienced the fear of being dominated by Lea, just like the first time she met Lea at Conrad University during the interview.

She immediately apologized sincerely as well

Lea then said to Willow, “There’s no need to call the police anymore“.

Beatrice and Leona suddenly raised their heads and looked at Willow in shock when they heard the call connecting.

Willow explained, “My mom called me,”

Their bodies went went limp and they wanted to fall to the ground.

“Mom, what’s wrong?” Willow turned around and answered the call

Her mother said, “Willow, your brother... is dying!”

Her expression changed, and tears rushed out “I’ll be right there.”

She hung up the phone and ran out in panic and grief without even taking her bag

Lea and Shannon looked at each other. Lea turned around and saw that Alfred was no longer where he was. He was not in the venue either. She felt that he must have gone out.

She said, “Let’s go take a look

Shannon took Willow’s bag and the two of them chased after her.

Chapter 215

The two of them chased Willow to the school gate and saw her hailing a taxi.

Lea called Jason. “Bring the car here.”

The black Mercedes-Benz drove over and the three of them got into the car one after another.

Lea got into the car with one foot and suddenly turned her head to look behind her. At the intersection in the distance was a branch road leading to the family hospital.

The alley was deep and dark. The street lamps were old and dim.

She said. “You guys go first

“Miss Berry?” Jason also noticed the abnormality and looked worried.

Lea added, “Yannis and the others are here.”

He nodded and drove to the hospital according to Willow’s instructions.

Lea watched them leave. She carried her bag and walked along the sidewalk towards the car parked in the distance.

Just as she passed the intersection, two men in black suddenly appeared in front of her and attacked her.

Before they could touch her, they were caught and pressed to the ground.

Yannis walked out from the dark with a person in his arms. “Miss Berry

She asked. This is all of them!

He nods.

She instructed, “Break all their legs and send them back to the Oliver family.”

After the orientation ended, Lea realized that someone was following her. With a casual investigation, she knew that it was someone from the Oliver family

They obviously couldn’t get anything out of her, and they couldn’t have the police do anything to her, so they came to play dirty

When she found out that they had followed her to the school tonight, Lea decided to deal with them directly.

At Lea’s command, there were a few sounds of bones breaking and two muffled groans. She raised her eyebrows and looked at her people in surprise.

She thought. ‘Good lord, that will do:

Lea sized up a man. “What’s your name?”

He answered, “I am Luke Herman, 21 years old this year. Thank you for saving my life. Miss Berry?”

Luke was one of the boxers she had picked up from the underground boxing arena and trained by Yannis,

She said, “Okay, you can work for me by my side from now on.”

Luke answered, “Yes”

In the darkness, there were two more bone-cracking sounds and a grunt. It was Yannis dealing with the person he had captured.

They got the three of them into the car and drove to the Oliver family’s house.

Craig drove over and Lea got into the car.

“Where’s A

Alfred? Lea asked.

Craig answered, “He’s still on the phone”

Just as the party was about to end, Alfred received a call and left

Lea said, “Send me to Conrad Hospital first”

it, it was a critical situation

Willow and the others went over there. From the looks of 20

Craig said. “Okay”

In the luxurious traditional-style hall of the Oliver family’s villa.

“Mom, it’s so late. You should go to bed first.” Rebecca said to Beata.

“How can I sleep Beata said and glared at her angrily, complaining that she had yet to seek justice for her precious grandson.

Rebecca was also waiting for news. She felt that her subordinates should have succeeded tonight.

“Bang!” The butler rushed in with a panicked expression.

“Speak, I’ll take responsibility for anything that happens” Beata stood up.

She knew that Lea had some background. If she sent someone to secretly hurt her and was found out, it was impossible for her to be taken out of the picture. However, as long as she was able to break Lea’s legs and crippled her, Beata would be willing to bear the consequences, Anyway, in the end, the Oliver family would deal with it cleanly. No one could do anything to her.

The butler said, “They’re back”

Take me to them. Beata wanted to hear them tell her what happened and look at the photos they had taken. She wanted to understand clearly how Lea was crippled and see her pain

Rebecca helped her out of the door. When they reached the entrance, their expressions changed drastically, “How come?” Beata rolled her eyes and almost fainted.

The butler said, “I heard a sound just now. When I came out to take a look, I saw the three of them lying here.”

Rex had already been brought home. Coincidentally, there was a family doctor at home. He came to check on the three men and shook his head.

“It’s impossible for them to stand up again” The situation was far worse than Rex’s.

Rebecca and Beata were shocked.

Rebecca asked. “Why are they here!”

The security guards at home had already gathered around. “We checked the security cameras. All we got was the car that brought them here. It was “a black SUV, but we didn’t get a license plate number. We’ll keep investigating”

“That won’t be necessary. These three men were sent by Beata to break Lea’s legs. She knew about it. Now, the three of them had their legs drooping on the ground. They had been completely broken.

Not only were they hurt instead, but they were sent back as a message to show the Oliver family that this was the consequence of targeting Lea.

Beata’s mind was filled with Lea’s unruly and profound appearance. This time, she felt that the Oliver family had kicked a nail.

However, she felt that the Oliver family had faced much greater difficulties before. She didn’t think that Lea would be that difficult to deal with.

Rebecca instructed the servant, "Carry them away and deal with them."

The servant said, "Yes, Ma'am."

"Mom. I'll send you to rest." Rebecca helped Beata, who was dizzy with anger, into the house.

"Send more people to hire some professional killers. I don't believe that we can't kill a little girl like her Beata was furious and only wanted to take revenge on Lea

Rebecca said, "Mom, we have to consider this matter at length. I will deal with it. You should take good care of yourself"

Beata finally calmed down a link.

Lea rushed to Conrad Hospital and asked the nurse at the front desk. When she arrived at the ward, it was already crowded.

A tall, thin man in his late fifties, wearing glasses and a white lab coat, was holding a woman in her mid-forties. The woman's hair was tied back in a bun. The strands were already in disarray, and she was whimpering.

Willow was hugging them. They were her parents. There were also nurses and doctors around,

"We... tried our best." The attending doctor looked at the family of three with reddened eyes and a troubled expression. However, he gritted his teeth and said to his assistant, "Let's give them a critical notice.

The assistant doctor gave the notice of critical illness and said to the family members, "Stay with him tonight,"

However, the patient had already stopped showing vital signs

Sydney Alvarez let out a whimper and cried even harder. She was depressed and sad. Willow also cried. Marcus Alvarez also shed tears.

Shannon stood at the side. In this situation, there was nothing she could do. Her eyes were sore and filled with tears. Lea frowned and went straight into the ward.

Joey Alvarez was in the ICU. He was lying on the hospital bed with mbes all over his body. There were various instruments placed around him to monitor his vital signs.

Under the light. Lea saw a young man.

He was about 24 years old, yet he was already so thin that he had lost his looks. However, his bones were strange and his proportions were exquisite, if his body was normal, he should be a handsome man. His face was pale and ashen.

When Lea looked at the electrocardiogram, she realized that his heartbeat was already very ery weak. He was indeed critically ill.

Lea picked up the medical record beside her and quickly flipped through it

The door of the ward was pushed open a little more. A man in a white coat and silver-rimmed glasses entered. "How is it? Did you find anything?"

Lea turned around and saw that it was Marshall Wiley, the dean of Conrad University School of Medicine.

She had seen him at the birthday banquet and made a note of him. She had also seen him outside just now.

Marshall naturally saw her too. Seeing that she had sneaked in and did not go out, he followed her in. He did not expect her to be reading the medical records.

Perhaps he knew that she was Riverview Hospital's boss, a genius, and knew that "Dr. Berry, he suddenly had a glimmer of hope and asked her.

Chapter 216

Lea placed the reports aside and read them while asking. "What's his situation!"

The patient had been in the hospital for half a year. The various physical examinations and laboratory reports could already fill the ward. She could not finish reading them in a short period of time and asked Marshall.

"He..." It was inconvenient for him to reveal the patient's identity. He changed his words and said. "He was seriously injured to the point of brain death"

When Lea heard this, she immediately rummaged through the report

Seeing this, Marshall took the initiative to pass the important report to her

Although he was not the attending doctor, he was as familiar with the patient's situation as the attending doctor.

"Here." He handed a stack of reports to Lea

She quickly flipped through it.

Marshall watched as her eyes darted around rapidly. She was thinking and analyzing. For some reason, he became nervous and excited.

The door opened again. This time, it was Lorenzo.

When he received the news that Joey was critically ill, he rushed over immediately. The three members of the Alvarez family were still crying outside, so he came in first

"Lea?" He walked over in confusion and saw her reading the medical records. What was even more unbelievable was that Marshall was handing her a report like an assistant. In Iverton, Marshall was one of the top doctors

Lorenzo wondered if Lea was even able to understand those reports

Lea looked professional and focused, as if she could understand it, so he did not ask.

Soon, Willow's family of three composed themselves and entered the ward.

Marcus saw that there was someone inside and went forward. He wanted to ask them to leave.

The family of three had come to bid farewell to their son. They had a lot to say to each other.

“Mr. Alvarez, let Lea take a look first Marshall interrupted him

Marcus was stunned. Then, he turned around and looked at his wife, who had already buried her face in her son’s body, and his daughter, who was covering her mouth and not daring to cry. His eyes turned red again, and tears flowed out, “How is it?” Marshall could not help but ask Lea again. He knew what Marcus wanted to say and was very anxious.

Lea did not answer. Instead, she asked, “What about the computer that stores medical records?”

Marshall paused for a moment and asked the medical staff to bring the computer in.

She w ent to the computer, entered the code, and brought up the data she needed. Soon the window was full of scrolling data.

The surrounding medical staff, Marshall, and Lorenzo were all stunned when they saw her operate the computer to such an extreme.

Soon, the information she pulled up was printed on the printer.

Shannon immediately went over and brought the printed information to her.

Lea checked it, picked up a pen, and quickly wrote down a set of content. She handed it to Marshall “Now, go and test these data.

He took it and his pupils dilated. These were indeed important physical indicators of the patient, but there were several of them that they had just checked half an hour ago. When he looked at them, his eyes were filled with struggle and despair.

“Anyway, we can’t do anything else now, right?” Lea said indifferently.

He could not help but be stunned. Then, he handed the paper to the nurse. “Check these data. Be quick.”

The patient was about to dic.

“Yes, Mr. Wiley! The nurse immediately drew the patient’s blood.

Although the hospital was not owned by Conrad University, the Conrad University School of Medicine, as a consultant and technical support enjoyed 30% of the hospital’s dividends, which the hospital donated to the school.

The hospital’s laboratory was also one of the laboratories of the Conrad University Medical School. Every year, it brought huge benefits to the hospital.

As a consultant and a hired doctor, Marshall was the soul of the hospital. His influence was even greater than the director’s. The entire hospita listened to his words.

Therefore, the things that Lea wanted to test for were immediately put on the priority list.

Lea and the others left the ward and waited outside for the test results,

Lorenzo couldn't stand the scene of the Alvarez family bidding farewell inside and followed them out.

to a trace o

Like Marshall, he didn't dare to have any hope for Lea's retest. However, they were unwilling to let Joey die now. They still held onto a and refused to give up

On the other hand, Shannon knew Lea's ability. Seeing Lea calmly leaning against the wall and standing at the side, she knew that there was still hope.

Joey was still so young. Shannon could understand the pain of Willow's parents being so sad about watching him die.

Willow was the first true friend they had made since they came to the university. The Alvarez family didn't have much power in Iverson. Although Willow didn't have much power, she still repeatedly stood up for Lea and Shannon

She was such a strong and kind girl. As long as there was a chance, Shannon did not want her to suffer like this.

In less than ten minutes, a test report came out. The nurse brought it over. Shannon immediately went forward to take it and handed it to Lea,

After Lea read it, Shannon asked, "How is i

Marshall and Lorenzo also pricked up their ears to listen

Lea only said. "Let's wait for the other test reports"

Not long after, the medical reports came out one after another. Twenty minutes later, more than a dozen reports had come out.

How about now! Shannon asked again.

Lea read the report again and again. She frowned and analyzed, "We still have to wait for the last report.

As she spoke, she raised the brain scan to the light. Her clear eyes were sharp

The hearts of the two men at the side tightened, and they could not breathe properly.

The corridor was lit up by lights. It was dark and the night was already late. It was quiet and deserted

From time to time, the Alvarez family's suppressed cries could be heard from the ward. Other than Lea, everyone was a little suffocated They waited for almost another ten minutes. Every minute and second felt like a year. The nurse finally delivered the last report. Shannon ran over to get it, then ran back and handed it to her. "Lea!"

She took it and looked at Marshall.

He could not help but stand up straight. "How is it" His voice was suppressed, but it was still trembling.

Lea asked. "You want me to say it here?"

ry strict. It was obvious that

Although they did not specify Joey's background, the guards around the ward and the Alvarez family's actions were very Joey was not an ordinary patient,

Marshall could not help but pause.

Lorenzo was also munned. "You found something?"

Lea nodded

Marshall said, 'Let's talk inside.'

The three of them entered the ward. Shannon was waiting outside.

After entering, Marshall looked at Marcus "Mr. Alvarez, we need to do another checkup on Jory. Mrs. Alvarez and Willow, please leave first."

Marcus understood and restrained his emotions. He comforted his wife and daughter and sent them out of the ward.

They could not accept this fact, to begin with. When they heard that Joey was going to have another checkup, they composed themselves and restrained themselves as they left the ward.

There were only four people left in the room: Lea looked at the three of them and said, "It's not brain death. It's viral poisoning"

The three men were shocked. Marcus looked at Marshal in confusion.

He noticed that Lea was wearing Conrad University's school uniform and knew that she was his daughter's classmate who had come to visit them with his daughter

Lea had long, soft hair. The long hair on the left side of her face slightly covered her face, making her face look even more young and tender. He felt that she was probably not much older than his daughter. He did not know how to interpret her words.

Marshall went forward and took the report from her hand to read it again. His hands were shaking so much that the paper rustled. His liule weak and he could not see it clearly. He read a few pages and reordered the comparisons, yet he still had no clue.

Lea took it and reordered it for him. She circled a few values with a pen and wrote a few words. His eyes shook as he looked up at her.

Lorenzo clenched his fists rightly. His heart was beating like a drum, and he couldn't breathe.

Seeing this, he asked, "Did you find anything?"

Marshall turned to look at him and Marcus "It's not brain death

The two of them were shocked again. Their sorrowful and desputing eyes lit up with hope again.

guze

Since Joey was sent here half a year ago, he had been diagnosed with brain death. In the past six months, he had been monitored and followed up in the ICU, and the diagnosis had never changed.

Now that he was on the verge of death, such diagnostic variables gave them new hope.

Marcus rushed over and took the report. He stared at the data Lea circled and the words written on it. His body trembled as he looked at Len.

“What did you say?” His voice was shaking badly. He was very agitated.

“Viral poisoning.” Lea’s tone was gentle but very certain.

“It can be treated, right?” Lorenzo couldn’t hold it in anymore. He came forward and shouted at Lea.

Even though she was only 20 years old and a freshman, Marshall and Marcus both confirmed that her diagnosis was correct, which meant that she was a genius doctor.

Chapter 217

Lea said, “We have to test which virus it is before we study the corresponding medicine.”

The patient’s current situation was very critical. Whether the medicine could be developed or not before he died was uncertain.

“I’ll go to the laboratory to investigate now, Marshall frowned, his face filled with struggle.

Since it was proved that this hospital had given Joey a misdiagnosis for the past half a year, he was still in self-doubt and had no confidence.

“Send him to Riverview Hospital.” Lea made a prompt decision. She had better medical equipment and medicine there.

Marcus and Lorenzo looked at Marshall. He thought for a moment and nodded.

Just Lea being able to discover the patient’s condition in such a short period of time and make the correct diagnosis was beyond his reach. He trusted her. Furthermore, Dr. Berry was at Riverview Hospital.

Marcus said, “Alright, let’s transfer him to Riverview Hospital now. Where is this Riverview Hospital?”

Lorenzo looked at Lea and told him the address. She had given it to him last time, Lea took out her phone and called Lorrard.

Jory was immediately transferred to Riverview Hospital. When Sydney heard that there would be further treatment, she quickly wiped the tears off her face and became tenacious again.

Shannon hugged Willow, whose eyes were red and swollen, and patted her back to comfort her silently.

She was about to tell Willow not to worry. Her lips moved, but she didn’t say anything.

Marshall and Conrad Hospital represented Iverson’s top medical standards, but they were still unable to treat Joey. It was still hard to say what would happen even if Lea tried her best to save Jory.

When they arrived at the West District, it was already two in the morning.

Iverton was a city that never slept, but the hospital had yet to open for business. The surrounding business district and residential area were not fully developed yet. It was pitch-black, and only a few buildings had lights on. Some construction workers were still working, and from time to time, they would make ear-piercing sounds.

Marcus looked at Marshall with a puzzled expression

Marshall, Lorenzo, and the ambulance driver all fell silent

Just as Marcus was about to ask where the car was going, the lights in front of him suddenly lit up. The words "Outpatient Department" appeared. The door opened and someone came out.

Lorrard brought a few medical staff and Charles Wessen out to pick them up.

Everyone felt relieved. The car drove over.

Lorrard and the others helped to carry Joey out of the ambulance.

Lea had also gotten out of the car. Lorrard reported, "Miss Berry, the ward has been arranged"

"Okay, Lorrard said to the series Co

Lorrard said to the staff of the Conrad Hospital, "Leave it to us."

The doctors were stunned and looked at Marshall. He looked at Lorrard and the others. They were calm, professional, and confident. Although the hospital was still being renovated, they were very convincing.

He nodded. "Leave it to them."

Everyone handed the patient over to them. Lorrard quickly signed the papers and pushed the patient through the door with his subordinates.

"Marcus Alvarez?" Charles called out in shock.

Marcus, who was about to follow the staff in, turned around and saw him. He was also surprised.

"Mr. Wessen?"

Charles looked at him, then at Marcus's wife and daughter who had followed behind him, and then at the person on the bed. "Let's go in first"

Joey was sent to the ICU on the fifth floor of the outpatient department. Lorrard brought his subordinates to reexamine him and draw his blood for testing.

Lea was waiting outside the ward. The Alvarez family of three, Lorenzo, Shannon, and Charles were also waiting outside.

The corridor was very quiet, but everyone was holding back an unwavering conviction

A man in his forties in a white coat came out of the elevator and ran over while panting. When he saw that there were so many people around him, he hurriedly raised his glasses, feeling very uncomfortable.

Then, his eyes lit up when he saw Charles. "Mr. Wessen, were you looking for me?"

Charles went forward and introduced him to everyone. This is the director of our laboratory, Dr. Trenton Wilson. He's mainly in charge of virus research.

At the mention of his profession, Trenton's eyes lit up and he smiled shyly. His curly hair, which had not been styled for more than half a month, covered his ears. He exuded the wisdom of a genius and was full of ambition.

Marshall could not help but be shocked to realize that there was actually a laboratory there that specialized in virus research.

He immediately shook hands with Trenton and greeted, "Hello, Dr. Wilson. I'm Marshall Wiley," Trenton shook his hand and smiled.

Marcus hurriedly came forward to shake his hand, his eyes filled with gratitude. His son's illness depended on Trenton.

This is Professor Marcus Alvarez. I'll introduce you to him in the future, Charles said. He immediately got down to business. "Miss Berry is looking for you. There's a patient who needs your help?"

Trenton came in front of Lea as if he had seen a god. His eyes emitted a pious light. "Miss Berry!"

He was originally a doctor in charge of virus research at the laboratory under Fraley Medical

Not only was Nixon anxious for quick success, he even tried to use the virus to do illegal things for personal gain.

In the end, seeing that this program required a lot of investment for a few years and had not returned any profit, Nixon declared the laboratory bankrupt and pushed all the responsibility to Trenton.

Not only did Trenton's years of hard work go to waste, but he also went bankrupt, became heavily in debt, and his family's house was auctioned off. His parents and children had no place to go

After Lea bought Fraley Group, not only did she restart the laboratory, but she also retired Trenton's research results and patent rights to him. She paid him a high salary to repay his debt and let his family live a normal life again.

She also provided him with funds, manpower, and smart research technology.

To Trenton, Lea was his life savior

He reached out to shake her hand and realized that there was a stain on it. He had just come out of the laboratory and hadn't washed his hands. He quickly pulled back.

Lea reached out and grabbed his hand without a trace. "Dr. Wilson, the patient inside is suffering from viral poisoning. Please take a look at him."

Trenton said, "Miss Berry, I understand. I'll go look for Mr. Phoenix to take a sample."

He went to the sampling department.

Marshall looked at Lea again. Whether it was the Charles he knew or the Trenton and Lorrard he did not know, they were all completely convinced and respectful of Lea. It could be seen how powerful and good she was. He felt that he didn't know this freshman well enough. Marcus and Lorenzo couldn't help but respect her even more.

There was only one patient in the hospital now, and all the equipment needed could operate normally. The test was completed in about half an hour.

The patient's condition was the same as Lea's diagnosis at Conrad Hospital

Dr. Wilson said, "I need to bring blood samples to the laboratory for research before I can obtain further information about the poison."

"Alright." Lea nodded.

Lorrand said, "The patient's condition is very critical. We can only use the serum to stabilize his condition temporarily and wait for Dr. Wilson's results."

The situation was critical. He was discussing a temporary treatment plan with her. This was the only way. Lea nodded.

Lorrand brought the assistants into the ward and everyone else waited outside.

After injecting the serum and observing for a while, he came out and reported. The serum is effective. It can temporarily stabilize the situation.*

Marcus staggered and held onto the wall to stabilize himself. He was already in tears of joy.

Sydney and Willow also came out of the lounge. Marcus told them the news. The family of three hugged each other and were so excited that they burst into tears.

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief

Other than the staff of the virus research lab who were working through the night, everyone else had gone to rest

Only then did Lea think of Alfred. She bid farewell to everyone and went downstairs. As she walked to the elevator, she called Craig.

She found the number and was about to dial it when she saw a person waiting at the staircase. She suddenly stopped.

Then, she smiled and put her phone back in her pocket. She walked over. "You've been waiting for a long time, right?"

Alfred reached out and pressed the elevator button "Fortunately, I also had something to do, I just finished a call not long ago."

They entered the elevator. His car was parked downstairs.

He opened the door for her and let her into the car. Then he got in and drove to the apartment.

As soon as they entered. Alfred hugged Lea from behind. "I should have picked you up the day your orientation ended."

He did not expect Milton to go to the orientation site to look for Lea in such a grand manner. At that time, he felt that she must have felt terrible.

Thinking of this, he hugged her even tighter.

not love

“What?” Alfred held her waist and pulled her closer to him. He felt some comfort in his heart.

“In my previous life, Milton and I didn’t have true love”

Alfred subconsciously tightened his grip.

Lea continued, “At that time. I was a criminal on death row. I was willing to give up everything to fight for a chance to live. I needed a little light, and he was like a sun in my world. Under the pressure of death, I felt that I could freely live however I wanted. That was a very happy thing. Therefore, I defended him to repay him until...”

Until she heard what Abigail told her about Alfred before she died in her previous life.

“After that.” Lea touched his face with her gentle hand and looked into his eyes that were as deep as the sea and as hot as fire. “I finally know what true love is like.

She saw Alfred’s love for her. She also knew very well how much she loved him.

“Alfred, I’ve already fallen deeply in love with you. No one can affect my feelings for you anymore. Moreover, her mortal enemy was Milton

Alfred’s throat moved. Her voice was hoarse, and the heat of her breath spread to her neck. “Lea...”

She stood on tiptoe, unable to kiss him deeply.

After speaking of the things that had been buried deep in her heart in her previous life and current life, this part of her heart was opened and she was filled with love.

That night, she was exceptionally enthusiastic

In the middle of the night, after they were done, Alfred looked at the woman under him in the moonlight. Her wet hair was stuck to her red face.

“Lea,” His voice was hoarse, and his eyes were dark. “Sooner or later, I will die on you

“Lea lifted her long legs that had landed on his waist. Her slender toes hooked onto his strong waist again. Her red lips moved, and her hoarse voice was soul–stirring. “I don’t want you to die. I can make you want to die.”

The retreating flames in his eyes suddenly surged, and he leaned down again.

That night, Lea was extremely tired. He did not even take a shower and went straight to sleep.

Alfred knew that she did not like to sleep with sweat like this. He fetched water and rubbed a hot towel for her to wipe. Before he was done, she fell asleep.

When she woke up, it was already the afternoon of the next day.

“If you’re tired, you don’t have to get up. I’ll bring cereal in later. Alfred hugged her and gently rubbed her fingertips to relieve her fatigue.

Before the blush on her face faded, it returned. “It’s alright. I’ll lie down for a while more.

She was indeed very tired, but there were many things to do at school. In the hospital, Joey's life was in danger, and there were many things for her to deal with.

"Okay." Alfred raised his hand and massaged her shoulders. It was so comfortable that she wanted to lie far

Lea asked. "By the way, Craig said that Blake asked you to go on a business trip!"

Although Blake was no longer in charge of the company, he was still the head of the family. Alfred was also the heir he raised. Blake still held a lot of power. Their marriage would need his approval in the future.

In her previous life, Lea had already been his granddaughter-in-law and had a certain understanding of him.

The last time Alfred brought her to the Kentside Garden to see him, she had already sensed his attitude. He would never agree Alfred to be with her.

The two of them had been together for some time. Coupled with Milton's confession, Lea felt that her relationship with Alfred would probably be discovered soon. She had to plan ahead.

"Yes." Alfred did not hide anything. "I brought you a gift"

Lea felt angry and uneasy. She grabbed Alfred's arm and turned around. She wrapped her arms around his waist and looked up into his eyes. "It's not love."

As he spoke, he took a document from the bedside and handed it to her.

She took it and flipped through it. She was shocked. “This”

Alfred gave her an acquisition contract. The other party was one of the top live semiconductor companies in the world. Riverview Hospital acquired 15% of its shares. In her previous life, she was very familiar with this company, Mihon would acquire this company’s shares in the next four years. With the integration of the artificial intelligence she had developed, it would become the number one semiconductor company in the world. The hospital’s equipment development. Berry Group’s technology, and many of her future projects relied on this technology.

As for the biochips that the hospital was developing, they relied heavily on such manufacturers.

Tonight, when Lea encountered Joey, if there was a biochip, it could accurately detect which virus he was infected with and the extent of the infection, and he could be treated directly. She was desperate to produce the biochip.

This was only her initial idea. After the artificial brain was updated, it would involve more chip production and application. The scale was something she could not estimate yet.

When she first founded Riverview Hospital and started research and development, she already had designs for this company.

However, with her current strength, it would be difficult for her to even work with this company, let alone acquire it.

Unexpectedly, she now owned a part of this company. Lea’s heart could not help but beat faster.

“What about Andrews Group” She had already guessed that this was what Andrews Group wanted.

With their strength, acquiring such a company was not a problem. This was also what they needed to plan for their development.

Alfred smiled smugly. “Of course, I’ll give the best to my wife.

His words made her heart soften. “What are you going to tell Blake?”

“I bought him 5% of Pioneer Electronics

Blake would be very satisfied with this result since Pioneer Electronics was ranked one of the top ten companies in the world in chip production. provided that he did not know about this contract for Lea.

-Lea turned around and looked at him. “This is a huge sum of money. Are you short of money?”

Not to mention him, even the Andrews Group, a corporation that had been around for nearly a hundred years, would not be able to take out so much cash at once.

Alfred lowered his head and kissed her forehead. “In the past two years, I’ve been doing financial investments overseas and made a lot of money. I sold some funds and a few companies. It’s possible to gather this bit of money.”

He said it briefly, and Lea understood.

They had both been reborn. It was as if they had a cheat code. They had absolute advantages in doing business

However, he was definitely a genius to be alive to make his assets so big.

Besides, don't love you to support me now?" Alfred lowered his eyes and looked at her, waiting to be pampered by her.

Lea tracked out and tapped the tip of his nose. "Okay, I'll support you."

As soon as she finished speaking, her phone rang. The call was from Lorand "Miss Berry, Dr. Wilson's preliminary results are out. We can't find out what kind of virus it is for the time being. The situation is not optimistic"

"Okay. Fill come over" As soon as she hung up the phone, she was pulled into the blanket by Alfred. She felt like she was about to be honest again after they skin came into contact

She said, "be good, I'm going to the hospital Jory's life is at stake"

Jury!"

"Yes, he has a stater called Willow Alvarez, my y roomunate. In my previous life, she saved me and helped me a lot"

Alfred immediately understood. She would definitely take revenge on her enemies and repay the favours to those who helped her. She would definitely think of ways to save him.

"Alright. I'll go back to the Andrews residence" He stood up and covered himself with his black shirt. As he put on his clothes, he said. "Recently, Grandpa was me to enter the company. I plan to accept his arrangements"

If Million hadn't targeted Lea, Alfred wouldn't be in such a hurry. He wanted to save more time and energy to manage Riverview Hospital and pave the way for Lea

He wanted to forge a field that belonged to her so that she could do whatever she wanted.

This was something he had wanted to do since the more moment he was reborn.

And now, Milton had barged in between them in such a domineering manner. He would never allow him to succeed.

Milton's biggest trump card was the Andrews Group. As the I heir, Alfred would take his trump card

Lea got dressed and turned around to face his silent back.

She came forward to help him button up his shirt and said, "Alright."

Of course, she knew the reason for his actions.

"Wait for my

call tonight. I'll pick you up. Call me anytime if you need anything. With that, he lowered his head and pressed his lips against hers.

The two of them kissed goodbye and went to do their own things.

Jason drove her to the hospital. It was not even eight o'clock yet.

Outside the ward, Lorand and Trenton were waiting for her. Marshall, Lorenzo, and the Alvarez family were all there. Shannon was accompanying Willow and the others.

"Lea, let's go to school first. I'll apply for leave for you. Shannon looked at the time.

Lea looked at Marshall. The patient's situation was complicated. She could not go back to school for the time being.

Marshall said, "I'll call Greg and tell him that you're doing a medical experiment with me."

She had chosen a major in genetics, which she had originally chosen in her previous life. The dean of this college was Greg Black.

In addition, she also chose to major in medicine and mathematics. As soon as she entered the school, she chose three majors. This was unprecedented at Conrad University, and it was specially approved by John Brooks. The prerequisite was that she had to graduate with outstanding

Results

"Thank you, Dean Wiley. Lea thanked him.

Since he had helped her apply for leave, she could go to school whenever she wanted.

Shannon understood and asked Willow, "Willow, what about you?"

Sydney comforted her daughter. "Willow, go back to school. Your father and I will be here."

o her life

For the past six months, they had struggled to offer their daughter a normal life. Willow was still young. They did not want her to give up for Joey. Moreover, the current situation was optimistic for them at the moment.

In the end, Shannon and Willow went back to school for class. Jason drove them back

Lea took Trenton's research report and read it,

He explained, "I extracted this viral protein and some nucleic acid from the blood, but many viruses contain this protein and nucleic acid. It's almost impossible to find out what kind of virus it is... It'll be hard, but I'll try"

Lea was silent for a moment before nodding at him

Trenton added. "Then I'll get back to work."

"Thank you for your hard work, Lea said with concern, "Remember to take care of yourself."

Everyone could tell that Trenton had stayed up all night last night to get this result in such a short period of time.

Trenton was sacrificing his life to do research

Lea took his research results and the new medical record from Lorrard to the office next door.

She checked in her office for a while, and the result was the same as theirs.

Even if she personally w went to the laboratory to do experiments, she wouldn't have a better breakthrough in the short term. There was another way.

She waited in the office for a while. Sure enough, the door opened and Lorenzo walked in.

Chapter 219

Lorenzo subconsciously closed the door and walked over. When he saw Lea waiting for him calmly, he felt a chill run down his spine

As a former SWAT leader, Lorenzo wasn't used to being seen through. But for Joey's life, this was nothing.

He asked. "We have to find out what kind of virus it is to save him, right?"

Lea nodded. "Yes"

Lorenzo was silent for a while before saying. That was an attack... Everyone died on the spot except me and Joey."

As soon as he opened his mouth, his breathing trembled and dark red light surged in his eyes. He looked up at her. Is this... a clue?

Lea looked at him for a moment and knew that this involved military strategies. He could not reveal anything more.

"Sort of... At least we know that someone went to great lengths to use this virus to take his life. As long as we can find the source of the virus, we can solve the problem."

He suddenly trembled, and a strange light appeared in his eyes.

He realized that Joey was the target of the attack.

From the look on his face, he seemed to have thought of something

Lea asked, "Give me the information about the attacker at that time. We... we'll search together,"

He stared at her, stunned.

She asked, "Don't tell me you have a better idea?"

He said, "No."

"Bang The door was pushed open from the outside and Sydney came in aggressively. "Miss Berry, I'm Joey's mother, Sydney Alvarez. My son was one of the researchers on the military flight control system. He entered the base when he was eighteen. He was attacked six months ago. If there's anything else you want to know, feel free to ask me. I'll tell you."

"Lea's pupils dilated when she heard about the military flying control system's research,

The first time she heard it was when she asked Jeffrey Thompson about her background

He said that Christian had a son who was a researcher. However, he passed away eighteen years ago when there was an uprising:

"Sydney... Marcus followed her in and reached out to pull his wife to calm her down

She shook him off directly, her red and swollen eyes shining. "Why can't I say it Joey is about to die. Is there anything more important than his

Now, she was just a mother who was about to lose her son. The person lying on the bed was no longer a researcher.

She added, "The research center should provide clues to find the source of the virus and save my son's life!"

Marcus gritted his teeth. "Alright, alright. I'll contact them to save Joey.

Marshall stood guard outside the door. Other than Lea, everyone else knew about these matters and knew that they did not involve any specific confidential matters.

He said, "I'll help as much as I can."

The research center was also in contact with Conrad University. He could also find connections to deal with it.

Lea roughly understood. "It doesn't have to be too troublesome. We just need to provide some relevant information about the attackers at that time and find them to find the source of the virus"

The hospital would not involve the research center and pry into their secrets.

Lorenzo nodded. "I'll handle this matter.""

Sydney calmed down a little and looked at Lea. "Miss Berry, please save my son!"

Her eyes filled with tears again, and her tone was pleading. She wanted to kneel down and beg

Lea stood up. "Madam, don't be like this. This is the duty of this hospital."

In her previous life, this was how Joey passed away. Sydney also collapsed and died of illness a few years later. Willow and her father were the only ones left in the Alvarez family. Her father was also deeply affected, so in the end, she was sent to a mental hospital.

Therefore, Lea had to save Jory.

Lorenzo left and only returned in the afternoon. He brought a copy of the dossier of the attack and some relevant information. "That's all we have on the attackers"

He handed Lea a set of photos. The people in them were either dead or disabled. In the end, they were all dead.

At that time, the attacker sent out a five-person team. Lorenzo led a seven-person team. In the end, only he and Joey were alive,

His hand that was holding the

The tragic scene at that time surged in his mind like a movie, and his body t photos was trembling. His gaze was weak and his eyes we dy trembled even more violently.

“Lorenzo, Lea called out to him and forcefully pulled the photos from his hand.

His mind was pulled back, and he took a sharp breath, trying to calm himself

Lea took the photo and looked at it. Her brows gradually furrowed and her face turned pale.

Although she didn't come to the scene personally and the photos she saw were only the tip of the iceberg, she could already feel the tragic massacre and was terrified.

This feeling was a little familiar. She seemed to have seen it somewhere before.

She searched her memory, but she had no recollection of it.

It was no wonder that Lorenzo would have such a reaction. Anyone who experienced such a scene would have aftereffects. Moreover, he had lost a his staff and was crippled. The friend he saved was dying.

Just these photos? There were several of the attackers, and they were unrecognizable.

Lorenzo had already calmed down a lot. Seeing that her expression was normal after seeing these photos, he was also a little surprised.

“Ordinary girls were probably already frightened.

He felt that she was indeed not an ordinary person

There are only these photos. The higher-ups have already investigated thoroughly, but they haven't found any information. They speculate that those people were agents from another country who tried to steal our research information” This was also the reason why Lorenzo did not take action immediately. Without information, there were no clues. It was useless to do anything.

Lea said. “Anyone who has lived on this planet will definitely be discovered eventually.”

Moreover, it was someone who could cause such an attack.

Lorenzo looked at her in shock.

Lea said, “I'm looking for Dark Union.”

Lorenzo was shocked again.

Dark Union was very famous, and he had paid attention to them before.

However, he did not expect Lea to have connections with them at such a young age.

Investigating these people would not involve the research center, so he could let her investigate without worry.

Looking at Lea's confident and calm appearance, Lorenzo heaved a sigh of relief. If there's anything else you need, just tell me. I definitely think of a way to satisfy you, as long as

All Lorenzo wanted was for Joey to be saved. He was a friend that he had grown up with. It was also a responsibility that he needed to maintain.

Lea grunted in agreement and organized the photos. She took a picture and sent it to Quicksilver to investigate

However, there were only photos, and they were incomplete. There was no way to check them. They needed to be modeled.

It was already time for school to end, and Shannon and Willow had just arrived.

Chapter 220

The virus research department was only accessible if one wore a special research suit. Alfred could only watch the people inside through the glass door in the corridor outside..

Among them, he saw a rather petite person. She was the only woman in the entire laboratory and was very easy to recognize.

Furthermore, this was the figure he was most familiar with. No matter what she wore, he could tell at a glance.

Jason asked, "Mr. Alfred, do you want me to inform Miss Berry?"

Alfred looked at Lea who was being surrounded by Trenton, Charles, and others. Then, he shook his head. "Don't disturb her."

He looked at Lea for a while before leaving. He went to the CEO's office and called Chris and Eddie, who had just arrived at Iverton. for a meeting.

Chris had rushed over from the airport. Recently, because of the hospital, she had been going back and forth between Iverton and Vaporleon City. She was exhausted

As soon as she arrived outside the office, she saw Eddie, who had also rushed over. "What's wrong? Why did Mr. Alfred call us for a meeting now?"

She raised her wrist and looked at her diamond wristwatch. It was twelve o'clock at night.

Eddie answered, "I heard that Miss Berry is in the laboratory. She probably won't come out tonight"

Chris wailed.

She thought, Would I ever be able to have a good night of sleep while I woke for these two workaholics?

Lea led everyone and stayed in the laboratory for the entire night. She was eventually called out by Quicksilver's call. "Indeed, I didn't find any information about those people, let alone any viruses related to them. However, I think I found something similar to a totem. I'll send it to you."

After hanging up, he quickly sent a message.

She opened it and her pupils dilated. It was a rose totem.

The rose was beautiful and eye-catching. It was filled with thorns and emitted a sharp light, making one's heart beat wildly.

“She immediately replied: [There's no need to investigate further.]

She

was very familiar with this totem. It was the totem of the wealthiest family in the world, the Rizzo Family.

In her previous life, she had come into contact with this totem when she was years old.

At that time, her artificial brain had already been updated to the sixth generation and was used in various smart products. Her career was in full bloom, and Andrews Group entered the top 20 of the world.

The core members of the Rizzo family came forward to poach her, and she could name any conditions she wanted. After knowing her relationship with Milton, they even sent out the young men in the family for her to choose.

A lot of those young men were mixed-bloods. All of them had handsome appearances and were outstanding people from all walks of life. They were the perfect male idols in the hearts of women. She didn't agree and almost died at their hands.

When she was almost 26 years old, Andrews Group relied on annexing a large number of leading companies and monopolizing many emerging industries. They relied on her research results and patents to barely compete with the Rizzo family.

However, in terms of strength and resources, they were far inferior to this family which had more than 200 years of history.

About a hundred years ago, after the rise of technology, the Rizzo family began to infiltrate various industries around the world through acquisitions and investments.

they were invisible and not known by

After hundreds of years of ups and downs, this family had already infiltrated various worlds, but it was as if they were the public..

In addition to their terrifying capital strength and dominance over the various fields, they also specially nurtured their own army to help the family deal with things that could not be dealt with openly. Those people were called the Sweepers.

The people who ca me to deal with Joey and the others were the Sweeper of the Rizzo Family. They had no names, no background, and would not leave any traces on the Internet, so it was very difficult to find them.

leave

If they continued to investigate, Dark Union might be targeted by this family. It was very dangerous.

We are not investigating anymore? Why? Quicksilver asked.

Knowing that Lea was going back to the source to save someone, he mobilized all his resources to investigate.

Lea replied: [I found a way to save him]

Last night, she had already guided Charles and the others to study an extremely strong serum

This was a powerful serum that she had developed for several toxins in her previous Life. As long as it was reproduced, she was 70% confident that it could cure Joey's poison.

Quicksilver texted back: [Okay.]

After communicating, she gripped her phone tightly and looked outside. Outside the enclosed glass corridor, the morning sun had already risen and the sky was clear.

Hearing footsteps, she turned around and saw Alfred.

He was wearing a light gray silk shirt and looked lazy and cool. He smiled at Lea and it was instantly bright and radiant, even more dazzling than the sunlight outside.

The fatigue from not sleeping the entire night and the haze from finding out about the Rizzo Family were instantly swept away, and Lea became energetic.

She took off her protective suit and walked over. "You're here!"

"Yes." Alfred looked into the laboratory. Is it done?"

As he spoke, his slender fingers brushed away the hair on her small face.

When she entered the laboratory, her long hair was tied up. Now, a few strands fell down and covered her face.

Lea tilted her head and rubbed her face against his hand. "It's almost done!"

"Let's go and have breakfast. She had worked so hard, so he had to feed her first.

"Give me a minute. I'm going to see the patient,"

Previously, Lorenzo said that they suspected that the people who attacked them were agents from another country. The Rizzo family wouldn't attack a flying control researcher in a country. Then there was only one reason. They were there for Joey.

Even if she cured him, they could do it again at any time.

The Alvarez family was also in a dangerous situation

If she wanted to help Willow and save Joey, she had to let them know about this.

Although she didn't know if they knew, she wanted to go and tell them.

Alfred said, "Okay, I'll wait for you"

She went to the changing room to change before coming out and going to the ICU to look for Willow's parents,

At dawn, the Alvarez couple had already come to the ward to guard their son. Lorenzo was also there.

Knowing that Lea had also gone to the laboratory, he quickly went up to ask about the situation.

Sydney asked, "Miss Berry, did you find anything?"

After two days of rest, her mental state was much better.

"We'll talk about it now." Lea invited the couple into the room next door, and Lorenzo followed. "I can tell you that the person who attacked your son was not targeting the research center."

The three of them looked at her in surprise.

"What did you find?" Lorenzo was shocked and asked anxiously.

In the past six months, he had been searching for the mastermind behind the attack even in his dreams. He had also secretly investigated the enemy's information and wanted to avenge his staff and Jory, but he had found nothing. He yearned for new clues more than anyone else.

She looked straight at him and shook her head. It wasn't that she hadn't found out, but that she didn't want to tell him.

It would be equivalent to sending him to die if Lea told him to look for the Rizzo family.

He clenched his fists and gritted his teeth to suppress the surging emotions in his heart.

Lea said, "You can leave. I have something to ask Professor Alvarez and Mrs. Alvarez

He backed stiffly out of the room

Only then did the Alvarez couple come back to their senses.

"Miss Berry,

you saying that those people are here for Joey" Sydney was shocked.

Before she could answer, she murmured again. That's true. If they were targeting the research center, why was there only that one attack? Why was Joey hurt? The research center hasn't been invaded since"

Lea came to those conclusions based on these conditions.

Obviously, Sydney knew some inside information.

Marcus was also shocked. He had the same thoughts as his wife.

They were all highly intelligent and lofty figures. It was not difficult for them to figure this out.

He looked at Lea "What does Miss Berry mean!"

He was a little flustered and his tone was trembling, not much better than Sydney's

Lea asked, "I want to know how much you know about the person behind the scenes. Can you provide some information so that we can track down the original virus?"

She could only use this as an excuse to see if they knew about the Rizzo family.

The couple was at a loss. They looked at each other and shook their heads.

Sydney said, "Miss Berry, to be honest, we don't have a clue about this at all."

Lea took a deep breath. It was not surprising that they did not know about the Rizzo Clan. However, Lea still wondered why those people attacked Joey

Sydney looked up at her husband again and said, "I trust Miss Lea Berry"

Her husband was stunned. He looked at her and then at Lea, not knowing how to make a decision.

She was a genius doctor and was very capable. This was undeniable, but they had only known her for two days,

"Marcus, Miss Berry can save Joey's life. Why can't she be trusted?" Sydney relied on her intuition. They didn't have a better choice.

He lowered his head and stopped talking.

She turned around and said to Lea, "Actually, Jory is not our child. We adopted him. When we adopted him, his closest family all died. If he hadn't been protected, he would have died with his family. I think those people must have discovered his background. We adopted him from the Military Flight Control Systems Research Center."

Lea was shocked. She was was also p

given to Christian by the research center.

Sydney added, "Also, Joey has just turned 18 this year. In order to hide his identity, we fabricated his age. He developed very quickly and has a very high IQ. On this point, outsiders can't tell

Lea was shocked again

In other words, Joey and she were both born at the same time and were sent out by the research center to be adopted. She wondered if there was a relationship between them.

is Lea Berry, is there a problem?" Seeing that she was in deep thought, Sydney asked.

Lea said, I'm I'm fine

Sydney asked again. Then what do you need us to do now? Should we go to the research center to investigate Joey's background and find the mastermind?"

Then, they would find the original virus.

Lea shook her head. "That would be too complicated, 100 time-consuming, and too risky."

The mastermind was in the dark and they were in the light. If they knew that Joey could still be saved, they might immediately attack again. Sydney and Marcus knew this very well.

“Then what should we do now!” Sydney became even more anxious after learning about this.

Lea said. The laboratory is already developing a new powerful serum it will be more effective against the virus. There’s a high chance it can detoxify him. However, if the person behind this finds out that he’s alive, he won’t let the matter rest. I wonder what your plans are”

The Sweepers from the Rizzo family had never failed a mission.

Joey only survived now since he had met Lea.

However, once they discovered that he was still alive, they would definitely attack again. There were many ways, and no one could defend against them..

The couple looked at each other and were in a dilemma.

When the other party first attacked, even Lorenzo’s team was wiped out and couldn’t protect their son. They didn’t know how else they could protect him.

The few of them discussed in the office for another ten minutes before coming out.

Lorenzo was still waiting outside. Seeing that Marcus and Sydney were down and Sydney was wiping her tears, his heart sank.

Marcus helped his wife to the ward.

Seeing Lea come out, he shouted, “Lea...” His voice was hoarse and trembling.

The lab is working on a strong serum. I hope it works on him,” she said, and left,

Alfred was still waiting to bring her to breakfast. She was also very hungry.

When she entered the elevator, Lorenzo sagged against the wall, covered his face with his hands, and slowly lowered himself to the door. He reeked. of despair.

He had finally found a new hope, but it was suddenly going to be gone.

Lea entered the elevator and went downstairs.

She thought for a moment, took out her phone, and sent a message to Lorrard.

He asked him to test the DNA information of Joey her, and Christian

She stepped out of the elevator and saw the black Cullinan parked at the door. Alfred was already waiting in the car.

The hospital had yet to open for business and there was no one at the entrance. The car could drive in directly.

she

into the car and Alfred took her to a nearby high-class restaurant for breakfast

He reached out to wipe her eyebrows. Did you encounter some difficulties? Why are you frowning so much?”

Joey's background has another origin. He's not the biological son of the Alvarez family, I think the person who attacked him did it for his background." She did not need to hide anything from him. She also wanted to share it with him. "You know Lorenzo Patton, right?"

He nodded. "He's kind of a distant relative of the Andrews family!"

Lea paused.

Alfred raised his eyebrows. "The group of attackers killed his entire team?"

She nodded.

As expected. Alfred knew more about the inside stories of the rich families in Iverton.

Alfred commented, "That's pretty impressive"

She nodded. "The background should be very strong."

She didn't tell him it was the Rizzo family, and she didn't know if he was aware of their existence: But for now, she didn't want these things to bother him

If one day, she bumped into this family, she would tell him

He saw the flicker in her eyes and knew she hadn't told him everything

But he believed her. If she didn't say anything, there was no need to ask.

He only said, "Don't forget that your boyfriend is also very powerful,"

She was stunned for a moment. When she came back to her senses, she couldn't help but smile. Her curved eyes were hot and sour.

She thought, "But also want to protect you. I don't want you to get hurt again, and I definitely can't let you get hurt because of me

"Eat up." Alfred pushed the breakfast served by the waiter in front of her.

After breakfast, Lea returned to the hospital. She didn't have to worry about Jory for the time being but the hospital was about to open for business and there were many things waiting to be dealt with. She could take the opportunity to work overtime. Alfred sent her back.

"Get enough sleep first," he told her before she got out of the car

Lea said, "I know. I want to live healthily for a hundred years. Otherwise, I won't be satisfied if such a good boyfriend is taken by someone else." Alfred smiled in satisfaction. He watched Lea get out of the car and watched her enter the building before driving off to do his own things. There was a special office in the hospital for Lea. There was a bedroom inside. She took a nap in the morning and went to Chris's office in the afternoon to ask her to coordinate work

At six o'clock in the afternoon, when it was almost time to get off work, Lorrard came to her with the test report. "Miss Berry, the test results you wanted are out

Seeing his strange expression, Lea's heart skipped a beat. She immediately took the report and looked at it. Her hand trembled.

She and Joey were related by blood. She guessed that they were direct relatives three generations ago. Joey and Christian also were related. According to Jeffrey, Jory was the child of Christian's son in the research center, which was Lea's current identity. She felt that Joey's birth mother was related to her by blood.

Now that their identities had been swapped, Lea realized that the people from the Rizzo family were supposed to come for her.

Her face paled and her heart sank.
