

Her Revenge 61

Chapter 61

At the entrance of the court.

Matilda's phone rang a few times. She was a busy person with a lot of work to do every day. If a message came in, it must be something important. She took out her phone immediately.

After seeing everyone's reaction, she couldn't wait to open it

However, when she saw the page of the video and a portion of the message, her hand tightened around her phone. Her entire body froze, her pupils dilated, and her gaze was fixed.

Helen asked, "Mom...what's wrong? What message did you receive! Why is everyone looking at their phones?"

Helen did not have a phone and did not receive any messages

However, she had never seen her mother so frightened. Coupled with the change in the scene, she was very afraid, Christian in the parking lot was also shocked. When he heard some comments about Helen, his heart trembled.

He turned around and saw Lea scrolling through her phone. "What are you looking at? What is it?"

She tapped the phone with her fingertip and the screen darkened. She stuffed it into her pocket. "Don't you have your own phone? I heard it ring just now."

Christian saw a few messages on it. When he opened it, his body swayed

Christian was stunned for a moment. He took out his phone from his pocket. There were a few and his face turned ashen

Lea reached out to steady him.

She thought, "As expected, he is old and could not withstand fear. He cares a lot about Helen. After all, she is his eldest granddaughter, the person he had high hopes for Shannon looked around and suddenly thought of something. She rushed forward and snatched the passerby's phone. She opened the video and smiled.

Tears also flowed down her cheeks

The video of Helen pushing Lily down the stairs was posted, and so many people saw it.

There was also a video of her mother on the operating table. There was even a caption

This was enough for her.

She raised her head and took a deep breath. She felt that the sun above her was incomparably bright and brilliant. She was so free and happy.

Her breathing was so beautiful..

She thought, "Who sent the message and saved me?"

She slowly lowered her head and saw Lea in front of her. She held Christian and looked straight at her.

Shannon thought, 'It was her! She was the one who helped me. Only she could do it, I have bullied her for three years, Although I did it because I was told by Helen, I have indeed hurt her. However, when I am desperate, she is the one who helps me'

Shannon only felt that the current Lea was brighter and more dazzling than the sunlight above her head.

Lea looked at her. There was no denial in her eyes.

She was indeed the one who had just sent the message.

When she was playing with her phone in court, she was processing this information in case she needed it

This time, she had to save Shannon.

to say

She wanted to repay Shannon's kindness in her previous life and give her a chance.

Last time, after talking to Shannon at the detention center and doing a DNA paternity test for her, Lea had been collecting information about Donna in Fraley Hospital.

The video she sent out was intercepted by hacking into Fraley Hospital's electronic equipment while she was in court.

But after Shannon confessed in court, Lea still hadn't figured out how to save her.

She did not know what Shannon had discussed with Helen just now,

«, but Shannon suddenly changed her mind. So Lea sent the information out

In a moment of desperation, she could only send it to the phones of the people around her. She even uploaded it online and on the school's forum. With these videos, the entire country would probably not agree to the conclusion of the case

"Grandpa, get in the car first! Lea immediately opened the car door and helped him into the car. She said to the driver and Jeffrey who were waiting inside. "Send Grandpa back immediately?"

Most of the media reporters in the square were here for this news traffic.

There was a sudden turn of events. Helen had just been found innocent when new evidence pointed to Helen's murder was posted at the entrance of the court.

It was too explosive,

Obtaining any information could bring about a huge amount of traffic. Traffic was money for news media.

A reporter had discovered Christian in the parking lot and was rushing over.

A legendary figure like him could attract people's attention just by existing, let alone interviewing him

“Bang!” Lea pushed the door shut “Drive”

The driver was also anxious. He started the car and drove forward.

Under such circumstances, Christian had no way to respond to the media. He didn't want to believe that Helen was a murderer, however, he could. not explain the new evidence.

1. e. Seeing that she was left alone outside, Christian called out worriedly, wanting to take her with h

The car had already driven a distance away. The media squeezed past Lea and chased after the car.

Lea had not appeared in the media, so no one recognized her.

him

“Mr. Christian, you don't have to worry. No one recognized Miss Lea” In the car, Jeffrey comforted him.

Christian paused, feeling a little guilty and sad.

In the Berry family, Lea was not even as popular as a servant and was completely invisible.

“Mr. Christian, are we going back to the residence? the driver asked.

Christian was still holding his phone in his hand. He turned it over and saw that it was a video of Helen pushing someone down a tall building

Previously, he even called the higher ups of various industries and swore that his granddaughter was innocent. He had lost all his face.

At this moment, he did not have the face to face anyone.

“Let's go back.” His voice was old and weak, and his face was dejected

Jeffrey was shocked Christian had been all-powerful for decades, but he had never been so injured. He suddenly aged. “Mr. Christian, perhaps there's more to this matter. You... you take care of yourself.”

Christian thought, Secrets? What else can there be! I have seen it with my own eyes:

He did not want to talk about this again. He only said. “Send someone to bring Miss Lea back.”

Jeffrey said, “Yes.”

The auxiliary police escorting Shannon was wearing walkie-talkies. They still didn't know what had happened, so they could only escort Shannon to the car.

Shannon said, "Let me go. I'm innocent. There's new evidence to prove that I'm not the murderer. Can't

The staff ignored her and forcefully dragged her forward.

you do you see? I'm really not at the murderer..."

She was pushed into the car.

The car door closed. The special vehicle used to escort the prisoners had reinforced the iron mesh.

Shannon p

gave up shouting.

The video had been released and so many people had seen the evidence. She believed that under the supervision of public opinion, the case would definitely be reopened and she would regain her freedom

The car drove out of the plaza and passed by Lea.

When Shannon s aw Lea, she put her hands on the car and smiled at her. She had never been so filled with hope and gratitude.

Lea was stunned by her gaze

Then, she frowned.

Shannon was still going to be escorted to prison

The reopening of the case required a lot of procedures. In order to save Helen, Matilda would definitely think of ways to delay the confession. The result of the case would always remain inconclusive.

With Matilda's style of doing things, in order to get away with it, she would definitely kill Shannon and Donna.

Lea raised her eyes and looked at the entrance of the court, She saw Matilda looking in her direction. She could not see Matilda's eyes behind the sunglasses, but she could feel the viciousness and determination.

If Shannon was imprisoned again, it would be difficult for Lea to save her.

Lea immediately walked away, took out her phone, and called Alfred. "Mr. Andrews, can you help me stop the prison van and get Shannon out?"

Alfred said, "Alright, my men will go now!"

After hanging up the phone, Lea held the phone tightly, her breathing trembling.

She had called him without thinking just now. She did not expect him to agree immediately.

It was no small matter to hijack a prisoner carriage

Shannon was innocent, so Lea wasn't afraid. However, now that Alfred was involved, she was a little nervous.

She couldn't care less. When the time came, she would just bear the consequences alone.

She had to save Shannon

Chapter 62

A black Maybach was parked on the side of the road about half a mile away from the courthouse.

Eddie sat in the driver's seat Craig Allen was on the passenger seat.

Alfred sat in the back row with the world's only smart laptop on his lap. Two windows opened on the screen. They were Berry Group and Fraley Medical's graph of stock price changes,

Not long after Lea and Christian arrived at the court, they arrived.

Eddie and Craig knew that Alfred was here for Helen's case, but they didn't go to the court. Instead, they parked the car here.

Alfred hung up the phone and said to Craig, "Go get the prison van and bring Shannon out"

Craig's eyes widened. He thought. Rob a prison cart? Are we hijacking a prison van just because Miss Lea called? Alfred has already reached the point where he lets her do whatever she wants. He is the man that no one in the Iverton dared to interfere with. No one has ever made him like this

He is obsessed with Lea

Seeing that he was sitting still, Alfred frowned. "Do you want me to go?"

"No, no, no. I'll go. I'll go. How can I let you do this yourself?" Craig was frightened.

He got out of the car and made a call. Not long after, a racing motorcycle came to pick him up and chased in the direction of Shannon's prison car

Lea hung up. After thinking for a moment, she called Lorand Phoenix. Dr. Phoenix, arrange for someone to fetch Donna from Fraley Hospital

She could not let Matilda have the time to react and tamper with Douni to silence her.

She added, "Get some reporters to go with you

"Okay, Miss Lea" Lorrand never asked about her requests and was only responsible for implementing them.

After hanging up, Lea sent the video to Lorrand

As soon as Lorrand saw it, he knew the cause and effect of the matter. He immediately arranged for his most trusted subordinate to drive an ambulance to Fraley Hospital.

At the entrance of the court, Lea looked at Manida agam

A group of media reporters and the crowd surrounded them.

Helen looked at the surging crowd and trembled. She held her mother tightly to steady herself, “Mom..... what.. what should we do?” Her lips and teeth were trembling, and her voice was trembling violently. “I can’t be arrested. I don’t want to go to jail for the rest of my life. That kind of dark life doesn’t belong to me. I want to be a celebrity. I want to be loved and worshipped by everyone! Mom... Help me, help me.”

Matilda was also shocked. Her face was ashen, and she could barely stand straight. She was at a loss.

The video of Helen pushing Lily down the stairs was sent to everyone’s phones. Everyone saw it and knew that Helen was the real murderer. They surrounded them with anger.

This was the first time Matilda was facing such a situation. Her identity and power were useless in front of such a situation.

She said, “Go, let’s leave this place first!”

But the exit was already blocked.

“Let’s go back first.” She protected Helen and went into the court. Only inside was safe.

“Helen!” A pair of hands grabbed her clothes. “Did you really kill Lily?”

“Let me go!” Helen struggled with all her might “Let go!” Matilda panicked and quickly pushed the person away

Helen’s white dress was torn off at the shoulder and the cloth slid down

The weather was scorching hot, and she was wearing skimpy clothes. A large part of her skin was exposed, and she was in a sorry state.

Helen screamed and tried to escape, but her hair was grabbed again.

“Let go of my daughter” Matilda anxiously pushed the person who was pulling her away to save Helen.

Someone grabbed her hair and she cried out in pain. “Let go!”

Her sunglasses fell to the ground and shattered with a crack. Her meticulously coiled hair was also pulled and scattered, and she looked ferocious “Let go! Let go! You’re hurting her. It’s against the law. I’m going to sue you... Matilda roared and screamed, completely losing her image as an elegant noblewoman.

The crowd knew that they could not let Helen and Matilda go. If they went back to their mansion, with the advanced security system and skilled bodyguards protecting them, Helen would never be seen again.

The crowd also was not scared of being sued.

Helen and Matilda were caught for an interview

A reporter asked, "Helen, did you really kill Lily?"

Another person asked, "Aren't you good friends? Why did you push her down the school building? You were the one who pushed her. Why did you say that it was Shannon? Did you really threaten Shannon's mother, Donna, with her life to confess for your

Someone else said, "Why did the judge set you free? Did you buy him off? Who else did you bribe besides the judge! It's not easy to bribe the judge and manipulate the trial. May I ask if your grandfather, Christian, also used his power to help you? You're still a student. You're not even 18 years old. How can you do this? Who helped you? Is it your mother, Matilda?"

A pile of microphones surrounded Helen. Her lips, cheeks, head, and eyes were poked by the microphones. She was in so much pain that tears were about to fall.

The barrage of questions hit her like a bomb, making her dizzy and disoriented. She just wanted to escape, but she was being held fast.

"Mom" She could only ask her mother for help but she couldn't even speak.

Matilda struggled to protect Helen and pushed others away. A microphone was thrown directly at her face.

A reporter asked. "Matilda, you were behind all of this, right? Matilda, for 19 years, you've been the role model for Vaporleon City's wealthy ladies. You're an impeccable mother. Your daughter is also a genius girl, a kind and helpful angel. Are these all fake? If the daughter you raised is a murderer, what kind of person are you? Are you also a person with no bottom line, morals, and disregard for the law?"

Another person asked. "There are rumors that you abused Miss Lea for nearly 19 years. Is that true! Why did you abuse her? Was it because you held a grudge or was it because you were vicious! There's news online that you beat up your husband's lover and caused her to miscarry. Is that true? The child was forming and about to be born. Even if it is premature, it will survive. Why can't you give the baby a way out? After all, the child is innocent. You and Mr. Ewan have always been the best as a model couple. Have you long been separated in private? There's also a lot of news online saying that Mr. Ewan has been with another woman for a long time. Is that true! Does he not love you at all? Is the union between the two of you purely a family marriage, with benefits tied together? Is it because you're so vicious that he doesn't love you? Or is there something else going on? As the mistress of the Berry family, your true appearance is so horrible. Is Christian, the upright general and hero, also like this? Miss Matilda. please answer and give everyone an explanation!"

Matilda's body swayed as she was pushed again. She staggered and almost fell. She was terrified.

With so many scandals, her image and Helen's image were ruined. Her persona had collapsed and even implicated Christian, smearing the Berry family's reputation.

Her entire life had been smooth sailing while she had risen to the top. She did not expect to suffer such a huge setback this time.

Chapter 63

Matilda thought, “No one could defeat me! This is just a small setback. I will settle it like before and return to the peak. I will become a model and be worshipped by others.

Matilda perked up again. She straightened her back and stood up straight. There’s no such thing! This is all slander! What you see is not real Someone wants to harm us and the Berry family. They want....

“Bang!” A pile of dog poop hit her directly in the face.

A person said. “Matilda, do you think everyone in the world is a blind fool With concrete evidence, do you still want to quibble and escape? When will you admit it? Are you trying to use the Berry family’s power to change the facts and fool the public again?”

The crowd clumed, “Murderer! Beast!

A pile of trash was thrown at Matilda and Helen. Many of them were thrown at Shannon previously. Now, they were picked up and thrown at them.

There were also a few people nearby who grabbed them. They pulled their hair, scratched their faces, and punched and kicked them.

The people who had business dealings with the Berry family and the Fraley family were afraid of them. They did not dare to say anything. The media reporters who were targeted and bribed by Matilda were afraid of her. However, these ordinary people did not have any business dealings with her. They were not afraid of them at all. They did not take them seriously and enforce justice.

The students from Vaporlean High School had the most intense reaction.

A student said. “Helen, Lily has been your classmate for three years. You actually pushed her off a tall building and fell to her death. You’re simply inhumane.”

Another student said, “Genius girl? First place? The daughter of a prestigious family! You’re worse than a beast!”

Someone else said, “You’ve disgraced Vaporlean High School. It’s a disgrace to be in the same class with you”

A person said. “Matilda, you’re insulting the word “model. Only a vicious mother like you would raise a murderer like your daughter. Go to hell, you don’t deserve to live in this world!”

Matilda wiped the trash on her face. The stench came and some of it stained the corner of her mouth.

She almost threw up.

She possessed a lot of wealth and power: Once, the entire Vaporlean City was prostrated at her feet. At this moment she and her precious daughter had fallen into the dirt and were beaten up and trashed in public.

They looked so pathetic and felt embarrassed and miserable

Matilda’s eyes were red. For the first time in her life, tears of humiliation were about to fall.

She slowly raised her head and saw Lea standing in front of the crowd, smiling at her. She almost laughed out loud.

Lea thought. "Is that dog shit on her face? It is almost in her mouth. These people are too adorable. Matilda and Helen are both covered in trash and their faces are scratched. They used to be high and mighty, insufferably arrogant, and did not possess anything other than luxury goods. Now, they are like this. It is worse than letting them die, right? This is so satisfying and pleasing"

Seeing Matilda and Helen like this made Lea even happier than skinning them and drinking their blood.

She suddenly found a new Inspiration for revenge.

Matilda was furious when she saw how happy Lea was.

She thought, It is her! It is this liule bastard's doing! Everything has yet to be determined. I have yet to collapse, I will not lose to a little girl.

She faced the trash thrown at her and used her body to protect Helen She slowly stood up and said sternly to the bodyguards hiding in the distance. "Why aren't you going to protect Misst Are you all dead?"

Max led a group of bodyguards and their legal team to hide far behind.

They were shocked by the sudden news and changes. For a moment, they froze on the spot, not knowing what to do.

When they reacted, they were frightened by the surging crowd again.

It was unprecedented and unheard of that people would attack Matilda and Helen.

Now that they heard her scolding, they braced themselves and rushed forward to separate the crowd, helping Matilda and Helen retreat.

The bodyguards had also been beaten up quite a bit, and some trash had been thrown on their bodies, faces, and heads.

"Drive the car to the back door and go home first Matilda ordered and escorted her daughter to the back door

Max immediately called the driver.

As soon as they reached the middle of the corridor, several police officers and auxiliary police officers came forward to greet them. The judge led the way

"Miss Helen, we have received new evidence that you are suspected of murder. We have the right to arrest you. As the police officer spoke, he came forward and cuffed Helen.

"Mom!" Helen was scared and hugged Marilda's arm tightly.

Matilda felt her daughter's fear and nervousness and reached out to protect her arm.

The police said, "Mrs. Matilda, please don't interfere with us, or we'll arrest you too “Mommy...” Helen cried anxiously. “Don’t leave me behind. Don’t leave me alone. I won’t be able to take it Mommy, save me...”

you let me take my daughter back first? When the evidence is presented in court, we will

“Your Honor, Matilda immediately pleaded humbly. “Can y be examined” arrest are mer. Take her away?”

The judge had a dignified expression and a firm attitude. The evidence is sufficient. The conditions for an

The direct evidence had been sent to his phone. The judge had no excuse to let them go.

If he did the crowd would not let him off.

Even if Christian case to interfere personally, the result would be the same.

The judge really did not know what was going on with the Berry family. To think that Christian was so wise and had countless merits, however, he actually raised such a shameful granddaughter.

The judge felt embarrassed for Christian,

Helen was handcuffed, and the police brought the auxiliary police officers and escorted Helen. The group of people walked away majestically.

Helen was still crying, resisting, and afraid.

She didn’t want to be sent back and sentenced to prison for the rest of her life.

Her life was bright and dazzling. She was the center of everyone’s attention and people would agree to anything she asked. She also wanted a man like Alfred to be with her.

Maulda watched as her daughter was forcefully taken away As she listened to her cries, unknowingly, tears flowed down her face.

It was only when she could no longer hear anything that she slowly calmed down. She slowly straightened her back and stood up straight. She reached out to wipe the tears off her face and regained her serious expression,

She turned around and looked at the door. Her gaze was sharp as she looked at Lea, who was in front of the crowd.

Helen was acquitted shortly before being arrested again.

She originally thought that Matilda might really be able to bring her back. She was a linle surprised to see such an outcome.

Lea thought, ‘Look at how Matilda looks at me. She is so angry that she probably wishes she could kill me right now. Well, the angrier she is, the happier I am

Matilda stared at Lea coldly for a few seconds before turning around and leaving-

Lea looked at her with a smile until her figure disappeared into the building.

The phone in Lea’s pocket vibrated. A call came in. She took it out and saw that it was Alfred.

She moved away from the crowd, found a quiet place, and answered the phone.

Alfred said, “Shannon’s been taken and sent to the hospital”

“Okay, thanks I’ll be right there

Lea hung up the phone and saw a black Mercedes–Benz parked by the roadside. The window was rolled down and Jason waved at her.

She walked over, got into the car, and drove in the hospital.

Helen was arrested again and Matilda left in a sorry state. The onlookers were satisfied and dispersed under the shooing of the court staff.

The media reporters had long gone to work. They scrambled to post messages online, snatching the traffic and fans.

When Lea arrived at the hospital, Shannon was already sent to the examination room. When Lea came to the corridor, she saw Alfred.

He stood in the corridor with his back against the white wall. He was dressed in black, and his shiny black silk shirt was very ironed. The first two Jade buttons on his collar were unbuttoned, and his chest was slightly exposed. His perfect curves were faintly discernible. His skin was snow–white and suffused with jade, cold and lustful.

Every time she saw him, Lea could calm down.

She walked up to him. “I’ve troubled you too much with this matter. If the police pursue the matter, blame it on me. I’ll take full responsibility”

Stealing a prisoner carriage was a serious crime.

“Lea Alfred approached her and breathed into her neck. “Are re you still not used to being my girlfriend? You don’t know the use for a boyfriend?”

Lea’s eyes reddened. She shook her head and said. “My heart would ache for you.”

Her heart ached for him for working so hard for her.

Alfred’s eyes were instantly filled with warmth. He stroked the bridge of her nose with his finger and said in a doting and heartbroken tone. “Silly Nothing will happen. It won’t be traced back to us

Craig cleverly set up a roadblock. The prison van overturned on the way. The auxiliary police and Shannon were both injured. He disguised himself as a passerby and called ambulances to send the auxiliary police and Shannon to different hospitals.

Even if they investigated, they would not find any major problems.

Moreover, the person they had taken was innocent and had been wrongly accused, matter was easy to resolve

Moreover, there was nothing Alfred couldn’t do in Vaporleon City.

It was mainly because this matter involved Lea that he asked Craig to do this and not leave any evidence behind.

She looked up at him and her eyes darkened as her thoughts traveled back to her previous life.

If it wasn't for her in her previous life, Alfred definitely wouldn't have been schemed against by Milton Andrews and lost his position as Andrews Group's successor and died.

He would definitely have extraordinary achievements and life.

She thought, 'Perhaps meeting me is his misfortune. In this life, I will do my best to love and protect him. But in the end, her heart still aches for him:

"Lea' rubbed the corner of her eye with restraint, bringing her back to the present.

Lea asked, "Yes!"

Alfred asked, "Do you love me to death?"

1... Her voice was hoarse, and she did not know how to speak.

Alfred smiled brightly.

She felt her vision blur. Everything was no longer important.

Only then did Alfred get down to business. "I asked Chris Foster to arrange for a lawyer to rush over. He should be here soon. Let your classmate directly file a lawsuit to court and this matter will be over."

"Alright." Lea had already regained her composure.

Chapter 64

She thought so too. She would strike while the iron was hot and clear Shannon's name. Shannon would only be safe if she got out of this matter

This way, Len would not be affected.

At the same time, she could also attack Helen and put pressure on them.

Her phone rang again. It was Lorrard "Miss Lea, we've received Donna, but her health is extremely poor. If she doesn't use our medicine, she shouldn't be able to last long"

She knew what to do.

Fraley Hospital did not care about Donna's life at all. As long as Shannon admitted the crime and was sent to prison, Donna would have died, which would be beneficial to Helen and Maulda.

Lea asked, "What if she uses our medicine?"

Lormand answered, "She should be able to recover by seventy to eighty percent."

"Yes, let's save her first." After hanging up the phone. Lea let out a sigh of relief.

Shannon's maner was almost resolved.

In the infirmary at the end of the corridor, a nurse bandaged Craig's wound and left. He tidied his sleeve and asked Eddie. "The next time Miss Lea asks Mr. Andrews to kill someone, will he not hesitate to let us do the job?"

Eddie answered, "Your worries are unnecessary. Miss Berry isn't that kind of person. She won't let Mr. Andrews do that kind of thing"

Craig was stunned. "Eddie, why do you trust her so much? This is not your style"

Eddie was a suspicious person by nature. He would only believe it after everything was verified. However, ever since Lea helped them and Alfred out of trouble last time, he felt that Eddie had started trusting her.

Eddie handed his phone over. "Shannon was wronged and threatened. Miss Lea is not afraid of the powerful forces in the shadow. She dares to save people in such a crisis. I think she's very impressive and admire her very much.

Craig flipped through it and immediately understood

However, he was still a little resistant to Lea. She was an accident to Alfred. Because of her appearance. Alfred repeatedly made exceptions. This was a disadvantage to him.

Exklie said, "What kind of person is Mr. Andrews? If he doesn't want to, no one can force him. He's willing to make an exception for Miss Lea because she's worth it

Craig was silent for a moment. The skepticism and resistance in his heart were swept away, "Gar it" Since Alfred cared about Lea, he would take good care of her in the future.

Shannon left the examination room and was sent to the ward.

Lorrard handed her reports to Lea. "She's not seriously injured. She has a moderate concussion and a few scratches on her skin. She'll be fine after a few days of bed rest."

He handed her another stack of reports. This is Donna's. The hospital rushed her for a comprehensive checkup. All the reports are here. She just had a kidney transplant and is very weak. She's already showing signs of rejection. Our medicine can help her and there won't be a big problem, but her body is severely exhausted. It's still difficult for her to recover"

Lea said, "Let's try to cure her first."

She still had use for this person.

Lorrard nodded. "From her examination report, Fraley Hospital is indeed tampering with her condition, fabricating kidney cancer, and controlling her life.

His eyes darkened, and anger surged in them.

This was not the first time he had seen such a situation in Fraley Hospital

He thought, 'Do they often do this? Is what happened to my wife and daughter the same as this incident?'

He thought about how his daughter had only been born for a few months and had already lost a kidney. If not for his medical skills and his encounter with Lea, she might have already died.

Clenching his hands into fists, Lorrard was about to turn around and ask Nixon about it.

"Dr. Phoenix!" Lea called out before he came back to his senses.

The girl in front of him had a dignified expression. Her deep and clear eyes were filled with a biting cold glare, carrying a reminder and warning. Traley Hospital will send people to ask for Donna soon. They will turn our hospital upside down. Your license has been revoked, and you have a criminal record. You should think of a way to protect yourself and your daughter first”

Nixon and the Fraley Hospital were all part of her revenge against Helen and Matilda. No one could stop her.

If Lorrard went now, he would only ruin her plans

Lorrard was shocked and immediately sobered up,

The girl in front of him was calm, rational, clear-cut, and methodical. He should be like her.

“Miss Lea, I’m sorry,” Lorrard said, “I’ll take care of it.”

Lea nodded.

She took the report and turned to go to the ward. Just as she reached the door, she heard a voice coming from inside, “Miss Yancey, you have a moderate concussion. You must rest in bed. The nurse tried her best to dissuade her.

“I have something very important to deal with. The police have already found me. I’ll get to work first.” Shannon struggled to pull out the IV tube.

The prison van overturned on the road. When she was dragged out of the van, she struggled with all her might. That person told her that Lea had sent him to get her.

Shannon knew that she had to settle the TCM of the matter and not have Lea implicated since she came to rescue her.

At the door, Lea looked into the corridor and saw a middle-aged man in a black formal suit carrying a briefcase. He invited three police officers and two auxiliary police officers to the end of the corridor, handed them thick documents, and talked to them.

He was a lawyer arranged by Chris and could be considered as a subordinate of Alfred. There was no doubt about his strength and loyalty.

Her phone vibrated. It was a message from Chris. [Miss Lea, the lawyer for Miss Yancey has arrived. Leave it to him completely. There won’t be a problem. I’ve already arranged for the media to increase the exposure of the incident on the Internet and use the pressure of public opinion to speed up the investigation of the incident]

She had sent Lea messages to inform her about the hospital. It was the same for this matter.

She replied: [Alright, thanks for your hard work]

Chris said in her heart. You’re welcome! She did not reply to her message and took up Lea’s time.

She loved doing things for Lea.

Although Lea was young and did not talk much, she controlled the direction of the hospital's development. Her vision and strength far exceeded theirs. It was a little strenuous for them to keep up with her, but her prospects were limitless.

On the other hand, Lea trusted them completely and let them do whatever they wanted. It was extremely simple to communicate with Lea, and it was twice the result with half the effort.

Chris thought, "As expected of the person that Mr. Alfred has taken a fancy to. In the medical field, Lea is simply an all-rounded genius

Of course. Chris only knew part of it by now.

Lea put the phone back in her pocket, pushed open the door of the ward, and walked in.

Shannon looked up and saw her. She froze and stopped pulling out the IV tube.

"Miss Lea!" The nurse was respectful to her.

The nurse did not know her identity, nor did she know that Lea was the boss of the hospital, but Dr. Phoenix was very respectful to her. So the nurse knew that she had to show respect to Lea.

Lea said, "You ahead."

"Okay. The nurse left the ward and closed the door,

Shannon was stunned again. Judging from the nurse's attitude. Lea had a very high status in this hospital.

Lea sized her up.

Shannon's forehead was bandaged and her cheeks were bruised. She looked a little disheveled, but she looked in good spirits. She looked very motivated.

Shannon asked, "You... you saved me?"

Lea did not deny it. It could be considered that she had saved her.

Chapter 65

"Don't worry, I'll take care of it later, I won't implicate you. I'll go to the police now to explain the situation." As Shannon spoke, she went to pull out the IV tube.

Lea said, "There's already a lawyer talking to the police. Lie down," Clutching the IV tube, Shannon paused and looked at her with a puzzled expression.

Lea said, "I've hired a lawyer for you. He'll take full responsibility for your affairs. You can communicate directly with the lawyer after that. He'll take care of everything else."

With the strength and methods of Matilda and the others, even if there was evidence that was beneficial to them, they could still suppress the matter

Lea had to help Shannon in this matter.

“Lea, why are you helping me like this? guilty.

treated you like that in the past. Why are you helping me? Her eyes were red. She was ashamed and Lea said, “I’m not trying to help you. I’ll do anything that can hurt Helen and her mother.”

Her rebirth was a secret. What happened in her previous life could not be revealed to Shannon

Lea said, “If you hadn’t left a message on the note, I might have been the one pushed down the stairs Consider it my way of returning the favor. Eve brought your mother here. The hospital will take care of her treatment” She handed over the medical report. This is her medical report.”

Shannon was shocked and reached out to take it. “You... you brought my mother here too?”

it was something Shannon didn’t even dare to think about.

Tears suddenly streamed down her face.

If it was just to deal with Helen and the others, there was no need for Lea to do so. She should do the opposite and let Matilda and Helen attack Shannon and Donna.

Shannon realized that Lea was sincerely helping her and thinking for her and her mother.

Ever since she was young, no one had ever helped her like this and treated her sincerely.

“You and your mother are safe here. Res well Lea’s face was cold and almost heartless, but the words She said were very considerate.

With that, she turned and walked out. She had just grabbed the door handle.

“Lea!” Shannon shouted with a sobbing tone.

Lea turned around and saw her kneeling down.

I’m sorry for what happened in the past? Lowe you!” As Shannon spoke, she lowered her head. She was too ashamed to face Lea and cried in self- reproach.

In the past three years, she had been ordered and arranged by Helen to bully Lea

Although an apology was useless, she had to give her a sincere apology

Lea was stunned for a moment. Her eyes turned slightly red.

Because she knew the reason why Shannon did this in her previous life. By now, Lea no longer cared about this matter.

Shannon looked up. “I will expose this matter to the school and give you justice”

“There’s no need” Lea’s eyes turned and her face was cold and solemn. “The SAT is coming up soon. I don’t want this to affect the exam. I’ll settle these scores with Helen personally.”

Lea looked at her deeply and her gaze softened. “If you really want to make it up to me, like good care of your mother. The kidney that was removed from her can be enough evidence to send Helen to prison.”

A sharp light flashed in Shannon’s eyes.

The power behind Matilda was too great. Although Helen had been arrested again. Shannon did not know what was going to happen.

It was a good thing to have more leverage.

Shannon was shocked and immediately understood.

The incident between her and Helen was not an ordinary campus conflict. It was a life-and-death battle.

“I understand. I’ll definitely keep an eye on her,” she said with a determined expression.

She had no intention of pursuing the matter with Donna, but Lea had saved their lives. She had to do this.

Lea’s eyes darkened, but she did not have much hope.

After seeing the DNA test results, Shannon could still take the blame for Helen in order to save Donna. Lea didn’t think that Shannon could change and threaten Donna,

Although Lea didn’t understand what made Shannon fall out with Helen at the court and change her mind, she could somewhat guess it

Shannon must have used the v video to threaten Helen. In the end, she angered that lawless Helen and said something she shouldn’t have Fortunately, Helen was still young and had been protected too well by Matilda. She was bold and gave Lea countless opportunities,

If Helen successfully grew up, like how it was in Lea’s former life, life would not be easy for Lea at that moment.

“Rest,” Lea said and went out.

Shannon stood up straight and looked at the closed door. She clenched her fists and looked determined.

She thought, I have to do this. Lea has given me a new life. I have to spend the rest of my life returning this favor to her. I only have an opportunity like this once.

Chapter 66

Shannon turned around and picked up the report from the bed.

Although she had personally heard Helen say it and was mentally prepared, now that she one by one, her eyes turned red again and she was burning with anger.

she saw these reports with her own eyes and examined them

There was no need for Donna to do the surgeries in Fraley Hospital and use those expensive medicines,

Because of this, her body's immunity decreased, many organs failed, and her kidney functions regressed.

She originally just had a cold and was forced to become seriously ill.

This time, in order to get Shannon to plead guilty, Helen removed one of Donna's kidneys and gave her a new one. There was already a moderate rejection phenomenon.

They had never cared about Donna's life. They just wanted her to make Shannon plead guilty.

Shannon thought. What kind of monster is Helen in order for her to do this kind of thing?"

Lea got out of the elevator. It was lunchtime. She planned to treat Alfred to a meal,

She thought, "What does he like to eat?"

She searched her brain but couldn't remember anything.

In her previous life and this life, she knew too little about him.

"Miss Berry!" Charles Wessen greeted her politely. "Do you have time now! We've found some problems and bottlenecks in our research. Can you give us some guidance?"

The two research projects she had given him last time, the immunologic drugs and blood test, were both major projects. They had studied a lot of things and encountered many problems.

When he found out that she had come to the hospital, Charles rushed over immediately

Lea said, "Yes, let's go."

The medical research project was her job and her weapon of revenge. She also needed to use it to repay Alfred. She cared about it very much.

Charles excitedly led the way,

These two research projects fascinated him. Her guidance would advance the project, just thinking about it made his heart surge. "Miss Berry, the newly recruited researchers have adjusted to the lab. They are all very capable and their work attitudes are very serious. Do you want to talk to them

Although he was fully in charge of the laboratory, he knew that his skill was far inferior to hers. He followed her lead and would ask her for instructions for important things

Lea said, "No, you can take care of it. I'll take a look at their experiments"

These new recruits had either worked with her in her previous life or she had seen their abilities and character. They were completely trustworthy.

A few people's research direction was different from the current research. She needed to guide them to develop new research projects.

Charles paused. He did not expect her to trust him so much. He wanted to repay her with the rest of his life.

The laboratory was even larger than before. The entire floor was opened up, and a few research spaces were separated by glass for the researchers to use alone.

There was not enough space. He was planning to connect to the upper level.

A few new research instruments were added. They were purchased from overseas by Alfred. A portion of them had yet to arrive.

A new batch of computers had also been added. The computers used in the past could no longer satisfy the research needs.

There were also 3D printers and some models. There were a few more core researchers. They were wearing work clothes and were focused on research

Many computer screens display model presentations and formula calculus.

They did not notice that Lea had come in.

She followed Charles into his office. All five computers were working. She checked them and knew what the p problem was. She took care of it herself

It was not guidance, but she did it herself

These projects were all completed in her previous life. She did not directly show the results because she did not want to be too deified in front of these people and trigger conjectures

She solved a few questions and handed them to Charles before checking the Laboratory. The computers they were using now were too cheap compared to the computers in her previous life.

If she wanted to improve the research productivity, she had to use more powerful computers to process the data.

In her previous life, the reason why her research was so fast was because she used the third-generation artificial brain to produce high-performance computers specially used for research.

he had to find a way to produce those computers.

Lea believed that it was time to activate the third-generation artificial brain.

An hour later. Alfred was bored to death waiting in the office of the inpatient building.

He estimated that an hour ago. Lea would have come to him and invited him to a meal.

He thought. Why isn't she here yet?"

Eddie asked, "Mr. Andrews, are you waiting for Miss Berry to have food together!"

Alfred was stunned. He thought, Am I that obvious?

Eddie said. "Miss Berry and Professor Wessen have gone to the laboratory. They probably won't go out for lunch. Why don't I invite her!"

Alfred asked, "Eddie, are you very free?"

Eddie was confused

Alfred said, "Go order food for the lab."

Scientific researchers were all abnormal humans, When they did experiments, they completely forgot about everything else. They are differently from ordinary people.

and slept

Alfred knew that there must be something important going on for Lea to spend so much time in the lab. He did not want to disturb her.

Eddie paused for a moment before he understood. He sighed and thought 'Mr. Andrews is too attentive and considerate to Miss Lea. No wonder people say that once a person who is emotionless becomes affectionate, he will be more affectionate than ordinary people.

He answered, "Mr. Andrews, I understand. I'll go order now."

Alfred took the paper and pen, quickly wrote down a few dishes, and handed them to him. "Order these dishes for them"

Eddie took it and looked at it. He understood that these were Miss Lea's favorite dishes.

However, they had only known her for a short period of time and did not have a deep understanding of her. Eddie didn't know how Alfred was able to know these things.

In the laboratory, half an hour later, Eddie said, "Miss Berry, here's your lunch. You can eat first,"

Only then did Lea snap out of her work. Her stomach was rumbling with hunger. It was already past two in the afternoon. She only had breakfast with Christian in the morning and did not have anything cheater.

She turned around in her seat and was stunned when she saw Eddie.

He had been following Alfred all the time.

"Where's Mr. Andrews?" She finally thought of Alfred.

Eddie uid, "He's busy"

"Oh" She nodded and took the takeout box.

Eddie added, "Mr. Andrews is treating the ting the people in

in the laboratory to a meal today. He ordered the meal"

She was stunned for a moment. When she opened the lunch box, she saw the main dish, fried fish. The delicious taste assaulted her nose, heart surged.

and her in her previous life, she had overused her brain. Sea fish was food that the relied on. Due in the long-term overdraft of her body for research, her health was not good and she was very picky about the taste of food. She only liked this style of food

She thought, I never told Alfred about my eating habits. How does he know that I like this? It must be a coincidence.

Chapter 67

Charles was also called to eat. Only then did he remember that everyone had yet to eat. He asked his assistant to send the food to everyone so that they could eat.

Their current research was not a sudden discovery or passionate research. It was a big and long-term research. The daily aspects of researchers were also very important.

The standard of this takeaway was very high. It was all good dishes with high nutritional value. Even people like them, who had a high salary, felt that it was a little expensive.

Charles thought, "Why is Mr. Andrews so considerate and bought food for everyone?"

He looked at his office. Lea was eating and Eddie was guarding on the side. As smart as he was, he immediately understood.

He thought. "The elusive Mr. Alfred seems to come to this hospital a lot recently. Although I have been in charge of the research in this hospital for several years, this is the first time I have met him after he brought Lea to the hospital. Not only did he sell the hospital belonging to Andrews Group, but he opened a new one with Miss Berry, I think I know what he is up to. A genius like Miss Berry, coupled with Mr. Alfred's background, power, and wealth."

He thought about it and got excited again. He finished his meal as quickly as possible and went to do research again.

Lea stayed in the hospital to do research. Alfred did not leave the hospital and started working in the office.

He did not deal with his own work. Instead, he carefully checked the few research projects that the hospital was doing and called the system development team to get Chris to change the company's information.

Chris used the internal system to send him a message. The hackers from Fraley Hospital have been searching for information about the Riverview SmartMed. They've been trying to crack our encrypted information for two hours. If this continues, they'll probably be able to crack it in another two hours.]

Alfred held the phone and thought for a while before replying. (Let them crack it.)

His system team, which serves the financial system, operates with funds that could buy a developed country in Creland.

Not to mention two hours, even if they cracked it in twenty minutes, the information they saw was only what he wanted them to see.

He must not let them discover the relationship between Riverview SmartMed and Lea. Otherwise, they would do anything to get rid of her.

She was still underdeveloped. With the strength of those people, it was too easy to get rid of her.

Chris wrote: [Mr. Andrews, someone has entered the encrypted database.]

His brow furrowed, his expression grim.

There was too much information about Riverview SmartMed, and his people had just come into contact with it. It was not easy to modify so much information in one go.

Chris added: [Our people can't stop them. I'm working on this guy's PIP]

Chris's messages were sent one after another. It could be seen that she was very anxious, and so was his team.

Alfred was also very anxious

All the hackers that they could not deal with worldwide had been recruited by him. He didn't understand why Fraley Hospital would have a hacker of the same level.

If Lea's information was leaked, he would have to help her in another way.

Chris texted: [Mr. Andrews, the IP came from the hospital's laboratory. This person is in our hospital!]

Alfred turned his head and looked in the direction of the Medical Research Building. Through the glass window, he could see half of the building

His heart skipped a beat, and he immediately understood.

The two projects that Lea was leading the laboratory to do now used intelligent and computer technology that was financial system. He had been negligent and only realized it now.

complicated than their

Chris added: [Mr. Andrews, some technicians in the system department are a little crazy again. They plan to hack into the laboratory's surveillance cameras and take a look at that person! They've already invaded a few times, but they didn't succeed. They're trying to breach the wall!]

Alfred's expression darkened as he opened the chat group of the system group and sent a message. Those who hack into the hospital system will all be fired]

The group instantly fell silent...

They were all top hackers recruited unconditionally by Alfred. They couldn't believe that Alfred would fire them in order to protect the identity of that mysterious hacker. They wondered who that person might be.

Once Alfred fired them, no one in this world would dare to use them. With their professional experience and attributes, they would no longer have a place to live.

A person wrote: Mr. Andrews, please calm down. We just wanted to pay some respect to that person
Another person commented: [Yeah, no one can do this. This person is the best hacker in the world!]

Someone else wrote: [Let's get back to work.]

A person asked: [What about this breach? Should we stop it?]

Alfred texted back: [No need. You don't have to worry about her.]

When everyone saw the word “she“, they fell silent again.

They didn't expect that as the best group of hackers in the world, they were bested by a woman.

In the future, when they found out the person's age, they were so shocked that they lost their temper.

Although the group chat didn't have more conversation going on, people still wanted to ta drama

He had a few outstanding female subordinates who had never been treated as women. This hacker was the first to be treated so specially by him.

They supported the operation of the world's largest financial system. The team was operating twenty-four hours a day. They felt that they were hired to work for the person Alfred mentioned

This was too shocking for them.

However, no one dared to gossip about Alfred openly. They soon went back to work.

In the laboratory, Lea sat in front of the computer, her fingers tapping on the keyboard from time to time to retrieve information. However, when she realized that the encrypted information was being replaced and her name was replaced, she more or less understood the situation.

She backed out silently, clearing the access trail.

Her phone rang. It was a message from Chris. The information about the hospital and Dr. Phoenix will be taken care of soon. The information found by Fraley Hospital will not affect us]

Lea heaved a sigh of relief and replied: I got it

Just now, she had accessed the encrypted information and fought with the technicians. They were very skilled. Needl for Alfred.

He had such powerful subordinates, and not just one. It could be seen that his sphere of influence was extraordinary.

Lea thought, 'Can he protect himself from the competition for Andrews Group in the future?

She had no idea.

She had to hurry up and get stronger.

Just as she was deep in thought, there was a commotion outside.

they were working

An ambulance drove directly to the entrance of the hospital, followed by two SUVs. They maintained a certain distance. There were many cars around, so they were not eye-catching Nixon sat in the private car and looked at the hospital. He narrowed his eyes, his gaze sharp and his face dark.

He had something urgent to attend to in the morning and wasn't at the hospital. After he saw Shannon's statement at the entrance of the court on the Internet, he immediately called the hospital and asked them to control Donna. In the end, she was snatched away from the hospital.

He didn't believe that someone would be able to steal the person he wanted in Vaporleon City. This incident made him feel provoked.

Matilda also ordered him to take control of Donna no matter what.

Otherwise, Helen and Fraley Hospital would suffer a huge blow. The consequences would be unimaginable.

Chapter 68

"Did you get access to the encrypted message Nixon's tone was sinister and exasperated.

"No not yet" In the backseat, the hacker holding the computer's voice was trembling. He had been hired at the last minute. The employer had offered a high price of 20 thousand dollars, but the other party was too powerful. This was the first time he had come into contact with such a powerful person).

The hacker said. "Please give me some more time. I... I can definitely crack it"

Nixon was furious, but this was not the place or the time to be angry. "Break it Continue to crack in He thought, Where was this Riverview SmartMed established? How dare they go against Fraley Hospital

He had to find out the information behind it.

In the past, whatever he wanted to investigate, the hackers he had hired would be able to solve it. Only this time, he had no choice but to hire more powerful hackers from outside.

After giving the order, he looked up.

Donna's attending doctor, Peter Dunlap, alighted from the ambulance with a medical team and a group of people behind him.

They were tall and muscular while wearing a white coat, a hat, and a mask. They were dressed in the attire of doctors and medical staff, but anyone in the know could tell at a glance that they were professional bodyguards.

A group of over twenty people headed straight for the hospital's entrance, Lea frowned and thought, Fraley Hospital is indeed anxious and has come to watch Donna. Upstairs in the inpatient department, Alfred stood under the window and looked downstairs.

"Mr. Andrews, should we send some people over to help Looking at the people downstairs. Eddie was a little worried,

Since they dared to brazenly snatch Donna away, they must have made sufficient preparations.

Alfred was also worried. But he shook his head.

Lea dared to leave Donna in the hospital without asking him for help. He felt that she must have been prepared.

Peter led the way. Just as they reached the entrance, the security guards blocked their way,

Dr. Phoenix had already told them that someone might come and cause trouble today, so they had to be careful

Seeing this, more than ten security guards rushed to the hall.

One of them asked, "Who are you" What are you doing here?"

As soon as the person in charge of security in the hall opened his mouth, he was pushed away by someone. The bodyguards disguised as doctors stepped forward to separate the security guards and let Peter lead them in.

The hall instantly became chaotic.

The work at the service counter was interrupted. The patients and the family members were also shocked and retreated to watch.

The staff came forward to stop these unfriendly people.

Seeing that Peter and the others were walking towards the elevator, a security guard rushed up to stop them and was pushed down. These people are here to cause trouble. Call the police!"

Someone immediately went to make a call.

Peter's gaze sharpened and he continued to walk towards the elevator

He thought, So what if they call the police? We have already made arrangements. Someone will take care of the police!

"What are you doing? Are you trying to cause trouble in our hospital in front of everyone!" Larrand led a team of doctors down the stairs.

There were doctors, nurses, assistants, interns, hospital staff, and those who were not busy with work.

When Peter saw him, he took off his mask and looked surprised, "Lorrard, is that you?"

Lorrard used to be one of the best doctors in Fraley Hospital. He was the center of attention in the hospital. Later, because of his imprisonment, he left a deep impression on his colleagues. It was really difficult to forget him.

Peter had a deep impression of him

In the past, the two of them had competed for the position of department director. With him around, Peter seemed mediocre and incompetent. There was no possibility of him being promoted:

After going to prison and having his certificate revoked, Peter thought that Lorrاند's life would be ruined and that he would never become a doctor.

But now, he was a doctor in this hospital. His name tag said that he was the director of the entire hospital.

Peter had worked hard in Fraley Hospital for many years and did not even dare to think about that position.

He thought. The doctor of this hospital went to our hospital in the morning and actually took the patient in the ICU away under such circumstances. Without some strength, background, and courage, they would not dare to do such a thing”

“Dr, Dunlap, it's your Lorrاند also had a very deep impression of Peter. As a doctor, in order to cam money and get promoted. Peter had to professional ethics at all and blasphemed patients lives. “Why did you bring these people to our hospital

Lorrاند's gaze swept across the people behind him. As a senior doctor, he could tell at a glance who was a doctor, who was a nurse, and who was a bodyguard.

Peter said, “Lorrاند, we're here to pick up Donna. She's a critically ill patient in our hospital. She just completed a kidney transplant in the morning. For the sake of her safety, we have the right and the obligation to bring her back.”

Lorrاند said. “She's admitted to our hospital now. She's our patient. We'll take full responsibility for her. Please go back.”

“You're a prisoner whose certification has been revoked. How are you going to take responsibility?” Peter shouted loudly and ordered the person behind him. Take the patient away!”

His words shocked everyone in the hall.

A few bodyguards quickly came to the elevator door and pressed the button to go upstairs.

These people are robbing our patient. They have ulterior motives. Stop them Lorrاند ordered.

Peter led a few people to block them and shouted at the crowd who had yet to figure out the situation. This Lorrاند, the director of this hospital, has been in jail before. He was released more than half a year ago. He was charged and imprisoned because he killed a patient. How can a murderer and prisoner be qualified to be a doctor and even the director of this hospital Patients, compatriots, for the sake of your lives, you should leave this hospital quickly!”

He looked at the families of patients around him and shouted at them. “Hurry up and bring your family out of here. Go to another hospital for treatment. Staying here will only be more dangerous”

A person said, “Dr. Phoenix is a murderer?”

Someone asked. “He killed a patient before? He has been in jail half a year ago!”

When it came to the lives of the patients and their families, the surrounding onlookers panicked

In recent years, the relationship between doctors and patients had been rene. The public's trust in the hospital was low to begin with, so everyone suddenly lost control.

Someone rushed up and questioned, “Dr. Phoenix, is what he said true? What’s going on in your hospital? I hope you can give everyone an explanation”

Others chimed in, “Yes, we need an explanation! We need to know the truth!”

The crowd gathered around, and their spirit was high.

Lorrard stood on the spot with a serious expression.

The staff behind him were also stunned.

They had not spent much time with Lorrard and did not know much about him. They only knew that he was the director of the hospital and had excellent medical skills. He had performed many critical surgeries and saved the lives of many patients

Many times, he worked overtime and stayed up late to perform surgeries for patients. He was conscientious and professional. Everyone admired and respected him.

They didn’t expect him to be a murderer.

“Lorrard, quickly give everyone an explanation. You don’t dare to say anything because these things are true. You have nothing to say” Peter’s words were like a flame that ignited the crowd again.

Seeing such a scene, a smile appeared on his face. He was excited and complacent, and his face was a little twisted and ferocious Previously, their attitude was very unyielding. Peter was still worried that he could not bring Donna out of there. Looking at the current situation. Lorrard could not even settle the patients and families here.

Peter felt that he was going to succeed.

He turned to the elevator and gave the bodyguards a look

Now, he could directly snatch Donna away. Even if something really happened, with Lorrard’s background, he could completely push the blame to him

Even if Donna died, he could push the blame to Lorrard, which was even better for him. After Donna died, there would be no more evidence.

Chapter 69

“Ding” The elevator door opened and the bodyguards rushed in. A young lady came forward and blocked their way.

“Don’t even think about snatching my mother away again and controlling her!” Her words shocked everyone.

Everyone looked over and saw that the young lady was wearing a hospital gown and her head was wrapped in gauze. She looked very fierce.

Peter turned around and his heart sank. It was Shannon.

If she stepped forward to interfere, things would not be easy.

He gave the bodyguard a look. They would take Donna away no matter what Shannon grabbed both sides of the elevator door. If they wanted to enter, they would have to remove her arms.

Shannon said, "Don't think I don't know your intentions. Helen used my mother's life to threaten me to take the blame on her behalf. You're here to match my mother away because you want to control the evidence!"

Helen's matter had been made known to everyone in Vaporleon City. When they heard her say this, everyone was in an uproar, Someone squeezed forward and took out a microphone to interview her. "Are you Miss Shannon? Aren't you in police custody? Why are you here! Does that mean that you are innocent? My God, did Helen really threaten you to confess on her behalf? How did she do it?" More than twenty people surrounded Shannon and squeezed the bodyguards out of the way at the narrow elevator door. Microphones and cameras were all aimed at Shannon, taking pictures, broadcasting, leaving messages, and so on.

Tim Shannon Yancey. The patient they came to snatch is my mother, Donna Yantry. My lawyer has presented the relevant evidence to the police to prove my innocence. I have been acquitted. Helen asked Fraley Hospital to remove one of my mother's kidneys in order for me to plead guilty on her behalf. My mother was on the verge of death. Then, Helen asked me to plead guilty on her behalf in exchange for a kidney transplant for my mother. My mother's kidney transplant was done at ten in the morning. At that time, the court was in session to hear the case. This is the relevant examination report Look! Shannon held up the report so that everyone could see it clearly.

A few cameras zoomed in and took photos.

A few media reporters immediately turned around and surrounded Peter and the others. "Dr, Dunlap, right? You're Donna's attending doctor? Did you remove her kidney! How could you remove a normal kidney? Who asked you to do this? Helen? Marilda? Or someone from the Fraley family! Have you been bribed by Helen?"

The media reporters were aggressive, and every question was fatal.

Peter was was pushed back repeatedly. The colleagues around him who did not know the inside story were even more afraid and retreated.

The bodyguards who rushed forward were pushed out of the door.

Peter looked up at Lorrard behind him and saw him standing indifferently, looking at them coldly.

His heart sank and he immediately understood.

Peter thought. These media reporters were arranged by them. Otherwise, why will so many media reporters suddenly appear in the hospital lobby! They have long been prepared to wait for us here.

Lorrard's assistant stood out and said to the patients and family members around him. "We don't want to say anything about the previous question. If everyone wants to transfer to another hospital, we will arrange a fast transfer channel for everyone. The related medical fees will be refunded"

The matter behind Lorrard was very complicated. Now was not the time to respond directly.

Everyone was stunned that Lorrard was not going to explain himself.

The staff at the reception desk in the hall went forward. "This way, please"

The family members of the patients looked at each other and hesitated.

Someone voiced their opinion, "We're not transferring. My grandmother was transferred from Fraley Hospital. She has been hospitalized there for three months and spent 100 thousand dollars. Not only has her condition not improved, but it's getting worse. Last week, she fell ill and the situation was critical. They were afraid that the patient would die in their hospital, so they forced us to go through the discharge procedures and chased us out of the hospital. That's why we came here. She has only lived here for a week, but she's already much better. She can eat and sleep properly now. The doctor also said that after some treatment, her body will recover by seventy to eighty percent and she can return to normal life. My grandmother is already in her seventies. She's very satisfied to be able to recover to this extent"

With someone taking the lead, everyone expressed their opinions.

A person said, "We were also kicked out of Fraley Hospital. Now that the patient's condition has improved a lot, we won't transfer to another hospital

Another person said, "We went to Fraley Hospital first. They didn't accept us, so we came here"

Someone else said, "A few days ago, our neighbor's child injured his eye and went to Fraley Hospital. They said thus they couldn't do the surgery and he was transferred here to do it. Now, the child is still hospitalized here. We went to take a look. The child is in good condition and his eye can recover.

A person said, "We have a relative who has been in another place for a few years and hasn't been cured yet. He's also here to be treated. He's already been discharged and gone home."

Someone pointed at Peter. "Transfer to Fraley Hospital? They can even do such a thing. It's obvious how evil that hospital is."

Someone else said, "That's right. Their fees are expensive. We'll go bankrupt just to treat an illness there

A person said, "Forget it. I'll just stay here and be treated. It's all pretty good so far!"

Everyone spoke one after another. The more they spoke, the more confident they became. There was no better choice. They had all decided not to transfer.

Only some of the patients were very vigilant and left silently.

Only then did the assistant shout at the hospital's security personnel and colleagues, Listen carefully. These people came to our hospital to snatch a patient. They are planning to commit a crime. Our patients can't be taken away"

The guards responded, "Gorit

Everyone crowded around Peter.

In addition, the media reporters were angry. The brave family surrounded the people from Fraley Hospital and chanted, "Get out of this hospital" Everyone began to chase them away.

Peter and the others were forced to retreat repeatedly, Sweat rolled down their foreheads as they looked out anxiously.

In the black SUV behind the ambulance, Nixon had already seen the situation inside through the glass door. When he saw so many media reporters, he knew that they had miscalculated

When he heard the discussions of the people outside, he almost exploded with anger.

Not only did he fail to snatch Donna, but the reputation of Fraley Hospital was damaged.

"The password is cracked!" The hacker behind shouted happily

Nixon turned and snatched the laptop across the car seat

Chapter 70

There was no relevant information about Lea and Alfred in the encrypted message. It was mainly information about a few drug production companies that the company had bought. It was very long and Nixon did not have time to read it

The names of the shareholders that appeared were also a long list of foreign names

He skimmed through it and came to the following conclusion that two companies, which mainly produced drugs, had opened a hospital in Vaporleon City. They had a strong backing and abundant resources.

They wanted to establish a foothold in Vaporleon City and had to compete against Fraley Medical for the market.

The business world was like a battlefield. They did this to attack their hospital.

Nixon thought. Their methods are very good and bold. However, it is impossible to destroy my hospital and establish a foothold in Vaporleon City just like that

He stared at the entrance of Riverview Hospital with a dark and ruthless smile on his face. The teeth he revealed were sharp and cruel.

Everyone from Fraley Hospital, including Peter, was thrown out of the door one by one.

The scene was a little comical

It was not very harmful and was extremely insulting.

The smile on Nixon's face froze. He gritted his teeth in anger.

“Drive,” he ordered the driver.

The car turned around and drove onto the road.

Peter and the others got up from the ground, got into the ambulance, and fled.

Upstairs, in front of the glass window, Alfred’s lips curled up slightly.

The people from Fraley Hospital were thrown out. The scene was spectacular and comical. They really did not get any advantage.

Eddie pursed his lips and held back his laughter. He thought, This Lea. No wonder Mr. Andrews wasn’t worried. He didn’t need to at all!

Alfred asked, “Where’s Miss Berry?”

Eddie immediately pursed his lips and said seriously. “She’s still in the laboratory

Alfred nodded, returned to his seat, and went back to work.

In front of the laboratory window, Lea watched the ambulance leave dejectedly. Her gaze shifted to the black SUV in front of it, and a ruthless smile flashed across her face.

She thought. Fraley Hospital has asked for it. This time, I want them to bleed a little so my hospital can develop and annex them in the future!

Shannon was still standing at the entrance of the elevator. When she saw Peter and the others being thrown out and running away in a panic, she was shocked. At the same time, she heaved a sigh of relief. Her body went limp and she almost fell.

This was the first time she had faced such a big scene. Moreover, she was facing some high-ranking nobles and vicious and menacing people. She was very afraid.

Fortunately, the lawyer had mentioned to her in the morning that if the Berry family continued to target her and her mother, she would have to look for the media. In addition, the hospital would do its best to protect them so she would be safe.

However, she did not expect the hospital to arrange such a thing.

After having the reporters, they had the advantage in numbers.

She knew that the hospital would do this because of Lea

After the farce, the sky quickly darkened.

At the Berry Mansion, warm yellow light shone from the big iron gate all the way to the hall. The light from the villa shone on the lawn in the garden. The white marble garden path was dyed layer by layer. It was exquisite, beautiful, and grand.

“I am getting off here. Lea said to Jason and put her phone into her bag.

The black Mercedes stopped outside the big metal gate. She pushed open the door and got out of the car.

Jason drove forward and left.

The busy servants in the garden saw that Lea had brought herself home again

Lea walked to the big iron gate. The iron gate opened automatically. She was about to enter when she heard the sound of a car. She turned around and saw a red Bentley.

It was Matikla

She was really busy today. She only had time to look for Christian now.

This time, the car did not drive into the garden, Instead, it stopped directly outside the gate. As soon as Matilda got out of the car, she saw Lea

Lea was looking at her with a smile and Matilda was instantly furious.

Lea was wearing her school uniform and in her prime.

However, Helen was still being detained in the name of the murderer: She was frightened and tortured.

Matilda was also in deep trouble. This was all because of Lea

Lea was also sizing her up.

Matilda was wearing a black suit dress and only had light makeup on. She tried her best to look elegant and appropriate, but she was very huggand The black and blue under her eyes could not even be covered by her foundation, and the wrinkles at the corners of her eyes were deeper,

She could not hide the anxiety on her face.

The smile on Lea's face deepened when she saw how helpless Matilda looked while seemingly wanting to tear Lea apart.

She asked. "You're here for Grandpa, right? Aren't you going in"

She didn't want to address Matilda as mother unless Christian was around.

Matilda's gaze sharpened, and she walked into the big iron gate in her high-heeled shoes.

The driver, Max, and the bodyguards stayed in the car, not daring to show their faces.

Lea followed her and then they walked in together.

She went forward and pushed open the door to the hall for Matilda like the owner of the house.

Christian was sitting on the sofa, holding his walking stick with both hands. He had been in this position for a long time.

The front door opened and he looked up with an imperious expression. "Where have you been? What took you so long?"

In the morning, outside the courthouse, Lea asked Christian to go home first. The person he sent to pick Lea up did not find her. He did not even get through to her.

The Berry family's situation was very chaotic. Christian was worried about Lea Lea said, "Of course, I went to school. The SAT is in a few days. I have to attend the school's supplementary classes.

Christian's expression softened a line.

He thought, "It's a good thing that she still cares about school. However, it makes sense. What happens at the villa had nothing to do with her!"

Lea walked away and Matilda walked in.

When Christian saw her, his expression darkened and his body trembled with anger.

Lea put down her bag and sat down beside him. She poured a cup of coffee that the servant had made for Christian and took a sip. She frowned. The coffee was cold.

Lea realized that Christian had been sitting here for a long time.

Lea looked up at Maulda.

She loved this kind of scene.

Matilda secretly gritted her teeth and thought, "This little bastard is purposely watching me make a fool of myself again."

However, she could not avoid it. She had to ask for Christian's forgiveness. If he gave up on Helen, things would be difficult later.

Maulda said, "Dad."

"Get out!" The moment she opened her mouth, Christian interrupted her. "Don't go to the company in the future. There's no need to hand over your work."

She looked up, surprised and angry,
