

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1051

'Poor President Luke. He just wanted to show affection to his wife, but the fans didn't give him a chance.'

'Looking back now, I wonder whether the fans intentionally didn't want him to show affection.'

'I saw the questions in the live chat. They were explicit questions. I'm really curious to know how President Luke would answer.'

'So, is Vania really pregnant with another baby?'

'Please give President Luke another chance to show affection in the live broadcast. We want to know the answers!'

As the netizens teased Hanson's misfortune, they also secretly enjoyed it.

Netizens had a weird enthusiasm for celebrities' mishaps.

Amidst the enthusiastic comments from the fans, Vania posted on her Twitter.

VaniaGreyson: 'Is no one sympathizing with me? That was my live broadcast account.'

She had been promoting only positivity in her live streams. But when Hanson took over, in less than five minutes, he got her account suspended.

She felt sorry for her account, but most importantly, she was embarrassed about having her account suspended due to explicit content in the live broadcast. Not to mention that the incident had now become a hot topic on the internet.

'Hahaha. I almost forgot about Vania. Now, this is even funnier.'

'That's right, Vania's the most unfortunate one. Vania, why don't you retaliate and get your husband's account suspended as well? We would love to watch that.'

'President Luke should hold a Q&A on Twitter instead

More people will participate.'

'Nah, forget about that. His Twitter account might end up getting suspended too.'

Nevertheless, netizens were very enthusiastic about it and tagged Hanson in their comments.

Vania looked through the comments and was speechless. Netizens have no pity for me.

Why am I the one who ends up bad?

In the midst of netizens' enthusiasm, Hanson took Vania's phone away.

He tweeted using her account.

VaniaGreyson: 'Hi, this is Hanson.'

'Does this mean we can start asking questions?'

'Looks like the lovey-dovey moments are coming.'

'Well, now that you're here, we're going to start asking questions.'

'Hahaha. Why is this so funny to me?'

Netizens reposted their questions from the live broadcast on Twitter.

Vania felt her scalp tingling. She had a sense that her Twitter account was going to get suspended too.

However, with Hanson taking her phone now, she couldn't do anything about it.

She had no real say even though she was his wife.

Coincidentally, just as netizens were posting their questions, internet police showed up.

Under that tweet, the police made a comment. 'This is a warning. Further violations will result in account suspension.'

With netizens' likes, the comment quickly rose to the top as the most popular comment.

'Guys, hurry and tag President Luke. His wife's account is in danger!'

'President Luke, you're being watched.'

'Now, even the official authorities are getting involved. This is getting amusing.'

'Aren't they afraid of pissing President Luke off?'

Because of the precedent set, various law enforcement accounts also joined in to ride the wave of Hanson's popularity.

They all threatened to suspend his account.

However, they all overlooked the fact that the account was actually Vania's.

Even Luke Corporation's official account gave the warning comment a like.

The employees were amused to see their boss being involved in such drama.

Only Hanson could cause such a sensation in the entertainment industry with just a small move.

Seeing the popularity of him and Vania, netizens couldn't help but sigh that the couple left no opportunities for other celebrities in the industry.

The drama came and went quickly. Before long, everyone returned to usual.

Seizing the opportunity, Vania snatched her phone from Hanson's hand. "From now on, you're not allowed to touch my phone."

She had to be on guard against him at all times. Being a public figure now, she couldn't afford to be as shameless as him.

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1052

Hanson didn't argue with her and beamed brightly instead. "Sure. But can I touch you instead?"

"Of course not," Vania refused loudly. This guy truly doesn't miss any chance to tease me.

He was good at seizing the moment.

In the meantime, Hanson continued to smile mischievously. "Darling, I've been wondering about something."

"Yeah?" Vania scrutinized his expression, trying to see what trick he was up to.

With a proud look, Hanson whispered in her ear, "Do you know how I managed to score a bullseye in a single shot?"

Surprisingly, the question from the netizens gave him inspiration.

He impregnated Vania with seven clever babies in one go. Now, the more he thought about it, the more he felt that he must have exceptional capabilities.

Vania snorted in silence.

The question was directed at him, but he shamelessly asked her instead.

Looking away, she answered indifferently, "Don't try to flatter yourself. That was just a coincidence."

What she said was true. At that time, they were both victims of a setup.

Their act was an unconscious one. It was something neither of them could control.

If one had to describe the pregnancy, one could only call it a coincidence

Getting her answer, Hanson still seemed very proud of himself. "Tell someone to replicate that coincidence and see whether they can achieve the same exceptional result just like me."

There were many accidental encounters. Yet, he had never seen anyone else score the bullseye and conceive seven babies in one go.

He was exceptional after all.

"Yes, yes. You're exceptionally capable. No one can match you." Vania nodded and even clapped for him.

Her gesture was as insincere as it could be.

However, Hanson didn't bother about it and asked eagerly, "Darling, do you remember that night?"

Shaking her head, Vania answered, "Nah, I don't remember it much."

It had been so long. Now that she had found her children and was living happily, those unhappy memories had faded away.

There was no need to recall them from time to time.

With a solemn look, Hanson agreed, "Yeah, I don't remember it at all either."

Vania felt that there was more to his words and looked at him, asking, "So, what are you trying to say?"

"Darling, you're really smart. You know that I have something on my mind to say."

"Ha." Vania sneered. Was she really that smart, or was he being just too obvious?

He might as well have written "I have something more to say" on his face.

Nevertheless, Hanson still pretended to be mysterious and whispered softly in her ear, "Let's reminisce about that night together."

Of course, he was referring to the sex.

He even smirked. "Who knows? Maybe this time we can bear seven little gourds again."

Seven little gourds? Vania rolled her eyes inwardly.

"Once is enough."

"How can once be enough? I wish we could do it all the time."

Hanson continued to caress her and even found an excuse for himself. "There are rumors online that you're pregnant with your eighth baby."

"So, if we don't make it happen, netizens will think that I'm impotent or something."

Hearing that, Vania comforted him. "Don't take netizens so seriously."

"It's enough as long as I know the truth."

"Darling, you have so much trust in me. In this case, I have to perform even better."

Is Hanson seriously thinking of having another child? But, I'm not ready for it yet! In the end, Hanson showed Vania that he meant it through his actions.

The two had a good night, while online, netizens had their own fun.

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1053

Yvonne, who had been focusing on Vania and Hanson's news, could no longer tolerate the two's overwhelming popularity.

She couldn't just sit around and do nothing.

Eddie had been inactive lately, and she voiced her dissatisfaction. "How are you enjoying it? You've been just spectating."

Eddie calmly sipped his coffee and replied, "Miss Kepler, your words are profound as always. I find it increasingly hard to understand. Please, speak directly so that we can understand each other more easily."

"Ha." Yvonne let out a cold laugh. "Didn't you always claim to want to take away everything from Hanson? So why aren't you taking action now? Are you scared?"

"Oh. You're taunting me, aren't you?" Eddie smiled insincerely at her. "Miss Kepler, you've been quite active lately, leaving me no opportunity to make a move."

"I'm worried that if I take action, it might interfere with your plans. That won't be good."

With a puzzled look, he then continued, "Speaking of that, Miss Kepler, how come you've sent so many people, and still, not a single attempt has succeeded?"

Actually, he knew the answer. He was just mocking Yvonne.

Facing his mockery, Yvonne retorted, "Whether I succeed or not is my business."

"You, on the other hand, haven't even made a move. So, there's no success to speak of, right?"

"Who said I haven't made a move?" Eddie countered

Yvonne was caught off guard, as she wasn't sure.

Nonetheless, she continued to express her dissatisfaction. "Anyone can talk. What matters most is to take action."

"I prefer to play the long game and wait for the right moment. I believe that soon, you'll see the results," Eddie calmly explained.

However, Yvonne just coldly snorted. "Soon? When is soon? Do we have to wait for another five years?"

Saying that, she even smirked sarcastically at him. "Just don't end up creating another happy union by then."

She was mocking Eddie for using means but still failing to defeat Hanson. In fact, he even gifted Hanson with seven sons and Vania.

While Hanson was living a happy life now, Eddie had to keep hiding.

Eddie's composure was well-trained in the presence of Yvonne.

He could remain calm no matter what she said.

Lightly, he responded, "A gentleman's actions speak for themselves. Besides, doing a good deed is also a merit."

"A good deed? Hahaha. They don't seem to appreciate your kindness though."

"Our actions are being watched. Karma always comes back.

What's the rush?" Eddie even started lecturing Yvonne on the principles of life.

Yvonne wasn't convinced, as she believed that he wasn't in a hurry because he must be afraid of retribution. After all, what they did was immoral.

Her expression turned cold. She decided not to engage in a battle of attrition with him.

With a warning tone, she said, "I came to tell you that I'll give you one more chance to deal with Bryan and Vania.

"If you fail again, our cooperation ends here."

Now that she had Benjamin's support, she didn't have to rely on Eddie anymore.

Whenever she wanted to leave, Benjamin would surely arrange it for her.

Eddie saw through what she was thinking and asked, "Miss Kepler, are you so certain that you can leave?"

When Yvonne heard him questioning her family's power, her face darkened immediately. "What do you mean? Are you looking down on my family?"

"Not at all." Eddie remained composed as he spoke. "I'm just reminding you.

"If your father truly has the ability to help you resolve all this, you wouldn't have needed to come to me in the first place.

"Since you're still stuck here, it means that there's no way out for you."

With disdain, he added, "Besides, when you do manage to get out, it's a different story whether your father can find you a place to stay."

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1054

In terms of power, Eddie was completely overshadowed by the other major influential families.

But when it came to evading and hiding, he was undoubtedly second to none.

Otherwise, with Hanson's power, he shouldn't be having a hard time finding Eddie as if looking for a needle in a haystack.

After years of confrontation with Hanson, Eddie naturally had some tricks up his sleeve.

Yvonne squinted at Eddie with an indeterminate expression.

He did make a valid point. Besides, she couldn't afford to consider much at the moment.

Dealing with Vania and Bryan was the top priority.

Maintaining a condescending posture, she looked down at him and asked, "So, are you rejecting me?"

"How could I reject you, Miss Kepler? I've always been on the same front as you."

Eddie sighed helplessly and patted his chair.

It seemed like he was being oppressed by Yvonne.

"Okay, I'll send someone to take action now. Give me some more time, Miss Kepler."

Yvonne snorted. The sarcasm in her eyes became more and more obvious.

She believed that Eddie was just a useless man.

Looking down at him from a superior position, she demanded, "I want to see the results today."

Eddie sighed helplessly again. "Alright, I'll do as you say."

"Don't waste any more time. Act quickly."

Yvonne didn't want to waste even a single minute when it came to dealing with Vania

Eddie called Brandon over and whispered something to the latter's ear.

After that, Brandon left.

Yvonne didn't know what they had spoken about.

But she didn't bother to ask.

All she wanted was to see the results.

With everything set in order, she lazily returned to her room.

She no longer completely trusted Eddie's ability to get things done, so she called Jasmine.

Ever since Jasmine had received a call from Yvonne, she had been waiting by the phone, afraid of missing Yvonne's call.

Now, seeing the incoming call, Jasmine picked up immediately. "Yvonne, are you ready to come back? I'll have your dad pick you up."

"Mom, not so fast. There are still some things that need to be settled."

Jasmine was deeply worried about Yvonne. She immediately asked, "What things? Tell me. I'll help you right away."

As long as she fulfilled her daughter's wishes, her daughter would return to her side.

Jasmine was extremely eager for that to happen.

Yvonne didn't mince her words. "There are bounties wanting my arrest all over the place now, and I'm really scared.

"Please ask Dad to remove the arrest warrant."

Once the arrest warrant was lifted, Yvonne would be free.

And she would be able to do so much more.

"Alright, I'll tell your father right away. He'll definitely help you settle this. Don't worry too much."

Jasmine agreed without hesitation.

She knew that because of the arrest warrant, her daughter dared not show up.

"Thank you, Mom." Once again, Yvonne used the tie between them to her advantage.

Jasmine felt even more sympathetic toward Yvonne and comforted the latter for a moment. Upon hanging up the phone, Jasmine went straight to see her husband.

"I just received a call from Yvonne."

Instantly, Benjamin stood up. "What did she say?"

Jasmine didn't relay the exact words Yvonne had said. Instead, she made a strong demand. "You need to find a way to revoke the arrest warrant. Once that's done, we can see Yvonne."

Then, their precious daughter wouldn't have to wander outside anymore. Hearing his wife's words, Benjamin, who had initially stood up in excitement, slowly sat back down.

He was pondering over how to handle the matter.

When he didn't answer, Jasmine thought that he refused to help and angrily chided, "Vania is the culprit of all this! Once we deal with her, Yvonne won't face any more threats."

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1055

Benjamin nodded. "Okay, you can leave now. I know what to do."

He wasn't brushing Josmine off. He genuinely had a plan in mind.

But Josmine, who wholeheartedly focused on their daughter, didn't grasp the meaning of his words when she saw him so calm.

She asked, "Are you no longer concerned about our daughter?"

"How could that be? You just go out and wait."

He planned to acquire Golox Corporation, and now, he needed to hold a meeting to thoroughly discuss the matter.

Acquiring Golox Corporation would bring him a huge benefit. If he succeeded, his company would gain significant advantages.

Even Luke Corporation would receive a corresponding blow.

Then, if Vonio wanted to reclaim the company, Benjamin could use the opportunity to get back the secret base.

No matter how he saw it, it was a good move.

Though Josmine had her doubts, seeing that Benjamin had already started taking action, she didn't interrupt him and could only leave the room for the time being.

Benjamin immediately arranged manpower to short-sell Golox Corporation.

On that day, the stock price of Golox Corporation experienced abnormal surges, followed by mysterious drops.

Eventually, it hit the bottom limit.

"Boss, should we take action?"

Vonio had been aware of those anomalies, but she didn't bother to pay attention.

Those were just common and elementary tactics. She didn't expect someone would still use those kinds of tactics.

Without a doubt, it was the Kepler Family's doing.

Coldly, she responded, "Don't bother about it. I want him to know what it feels to climb high and fall hard."

She wanted to deliver a heavy blow when he was at his hoppiest and most elated. That would be truly meaningful.

Lindo looked at her boss with some confusion and asked, "But, so far, you haven't done anything yet."

How could they deliver a heavy blow to their opponent this way?

"Don't worry. I'm fully prepared." Vonio appeared even more confident.

Lindo had complete faith in her boss now. "If there's anything you need, just let me know."

"Sure."

At this moment, seven small figures were gathered around a computer, sitting in perfect order.

They crossed their arms and wore the same looks

Mockingly, they stared at the screen, not even bothering to lift their fingers.

They quietly watched the operations on the computer. Right now, Benjamin had already accumulated a large portion of Galaxy Corporation's stocks in his hands.

With a little effort, Benjamin could overturn Galaxy Corporation's ownership.

Vania had been aware of those anomalies, but she didn't bother to pay attention.

Vania had been aware of those anomalies, but she didn't bother to pay attention.

Without a doubt, it was the Kaplar Family's doing.

Coldly, she responded, "Don't bother about it. I want him to know what it feels to climb high and fall hard."

She wanted to deliver a heavy blow when he was at his happiest and most alert. That would be truly meaningful.

Linda looked at her boss with some confusion and asked, "But, so far, you haven't done anything yet."

"James, what do you think the old fart's expression will be when he finds out that his newly bought stocks have vanished?" Jacob asked in a soft voice, but his words were cruel.

"James, what do you think the old fart's expression will be when he finds out that his newly bought stocks have vanished?" Jacob asked in a soft voice, but his words were cruel.

In a professional manner, Lily answered, "In such a situation of great joy and sorrow, he can easily get a heart attack.

"In my opinion, it would be best to have emergency medical assistance on standby for him."

"You're kind, Lily." Monitoring the screen, Jack added coldly, "It'll be too easy on him."

"The old fart is determined to bring down our mommy's company after all."

"Yeah, being hospitalized would be too light of a lesson for him." Jude's face was equally cold. "I say, we don't need to act in a hurry. I want to see what his next move will be."

He believed that Benjamin wouldn't end it there.

"Yeah, we'll act when the critical moment comes." Morales and Morgan agreed with Jude's idea.

Just then, James oversaw the situation and decided, "Let's observe for now. Anyway, the old man can't escape from our hands."

They had already hacked into the Keplers' financial intranet.

They could easily transfer Benjamin's money away.

Making his subsidiary companies go bankrupt would be as easy as ABC.

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1056

The Keplers' network department hadn't detected any intruders.

Seeing that he had succeeded, Benjamin immediately went to Golox Corporation with his people, full of smugness.

Originally, he wanted to force Vonio to go to his company and beg him, but he couldn't wait any longer.

He was filled with excitement, as he was about to regain everything that belonged to him.

When Benjamin entered the lobby, the employees of Golox Corporation were all busy.

Their expressions were gloomy as if the sky was about to collapse.

Seeing that, Benjamin felt even more pleased.

He stopped a staff member and arrogantly ordered, "Take me to President Greyson."

He emphasized the words "President Greyson" with a mocking tone.

After all, it wouldn't be long before Galaxy Corporation became his.

The young employee was in a hurry and pointed in the direction of an elevator.
"President Greyson is upstairs. Please go by yourself, sir."

With that, she hurried away with the documents in her hands, as if her life would be in danger if she wasted another minute.

"Useless." Benjamin sneered and headed straight to Vonio's office with his legal assistant.

There was a mess in front of the office. With broken tea cups and shredded documents littering the floor, it looked like a war had just taken place.

"Hohoho." Benjamin laughed wildly. His sound echoed.

Naturally, Vonio heard him.

Just then, there came a loud noise. Apparently, another teacup was shattered.

Benjamin's smile was unstoppable as he ordered his assistant to kick open the door.

At the sight of Vonio slumping in her chair, looking dejected, he mocked, "Oh, what happened to you, President Greyson? Why are you in such a bad mood?"

Vonio looked up. Her eyes were bloodshot. She glared at him with hatred and hissed, "How dare you come again?"

Bursting into another loud, malicious laugh, Benjamin responded, "Why not? Galaxy Corporation will soon be mine after all."

He now had control of the shares and had absolute authority to make decisions.

Vonio stared at him with her eyes wide open. It was as if she couldn't utter a word due to fury.

But inside her heart at this moment, she was dancing.

She almost wanted to applaud herself for her increasingly outstanding acting skills.

If she was in the film industry, she would definitely win awards

Nonetheless, on the surface, she gritted her teeth and hissed, "You wish! It'll never be yours!"

Benjamin signaled for his legal assistant to step forward.

"Hahaha." Benjamin laughed wildly. His sound echoed.

Bursting into another audacious laughter, Benjamin responded, "Why not? Galaxy Corporation will soon be mine after all."

Benjamin signaled for his legal assistant to step forward.

The assistant revealed a contract.

The assistant revealed a contract.

"The truth is right in front of you. Stop resisting in vain."

"Just sign the agreement. This will make things easier for you." Benjamin was consumed by his past grudges and hatred at this moment. "You took over my secret base and harmed my daughter."

"Taking away Galaxy Corporation from you is far from enough. This is only the beginning!"

Vania threw the file he handed over. "What will happen if I don't sign it?"

"You have already lost, Vania. I gave you a chance, but you refused."

"Now, we'll call for a shareholder meeting and follow the proper procedures."

Without delay, Benjamin's assistant went to inform everyone.

Soon, the company's top executives and shareholders gathered in the meeting room.

Standing in the center, Benjamin's assistant announced, "Based on the shareholder ratio, I hereby announce that Mr. Benjamin Kepler is the new president of Galaxy Corporation."

The executives and shareholders remained expressionless.

They listened to the announcement with indifference. It was as if they had no objections to the decision and accepted it as a matter of course.

Seeing no opposition or resistance, Benjamin felt a great sense of relief.

Chapter 1057 Give Me Back the Secret Base and Release Yvonne

Looking at Vania arrogantly, Benjamin mocked, "Go ahead and sign, former President Greyson."

His tone was full of ridicule. Even his assistant next to him was giving Vania a mocking look.

"Sign what? I refuse." Vania clenched her fists tightly, expressing her anger.

"You're refusing me?" Benjamin adopted a bossy manner. "Vania, you don't have that right anymore."

Coldly, he gestured to his assistant. "Take action."

Immediately, four bodyguards came into the meeting room and shot Vania hard glares.

They were all large in size. If they wanted to capture Vania by force, she would have no chance of escaping.

Of course, that was just Benjamin's assumption.

Nonetheless, Vania didn't seem to be intimidated at all. Benjamin narrowed his gaze and ordered, "Since she won't do it herself, you guys do it for her."

He didn't want to waste any more time. He wanted a swift resolution.

"Mr

Kepler, you're oversimplifying things." Suddenly, Vania stopped being angry and sneered. "Now, I see why Miss Kepler has been presumptuous from a young age. It turns out that she's learned that from you."

By intentionally mentioning Yvonne, Vania aimed to provoke even more anger from Benjamin.

As expected, Benjamin was infuriated to the point that his hands were shaking. When he thought of his daughter, as well as his son who had left home because of this, he wished he could end Vania right there.

Suddenly, Benjamin changed his mind and suggested, "Why don't we make a deal?"

"What kind of deal?" Vania seemed to be interested and restrained her emotions.

But the way Benjamin saw it, Vania was intimidated and planned to beg for mercy.

With a fierce look, he replied, "Give me back the secret base and release Yvonne. Perhaps then, I might consider letting you continue as the president of the company."

"So, you're saying there's no guarantee?"

Vania seemed to be seriously considering his proposal.

In a high and mighty demeanor, Benjamin replied, "Of course. The rest depends on my mood.

"If Yvonne decides to let you off, then, of course, I will too."

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1058

Chapter 1058 An Unexpected Event

Vania snorted. If Yvonne decided to let her off, it would probably be the end of the world.

But, even if it was the end of the world, Yvonne would never let her off easily.

Vania scoffed. "Mr. Kepler, your promise isn't trustworthy at all. I don't buy it."

Benjamin noticed that her tone had softened and signaled his assistant to bring out the documents. "I've prepared the terms. You just need to sign them."

More terms. Vania sneered.

He came well-prepared.

She couldn't help but ask, "Mr. Kepler, have you never thought that there might be unexpected events?"

"What do you mean?" Benjamin frowned.

Looking at Vania's meaningful smile, he gradually grew uneasy.

Somehow, he couldn't help but worry that something might go wrong.

Under such a gaze, Benjamin found her somewhat inscrutable.

Even at this point, she remained very composed, proving that she was not an ordinary woman

Was she hoping that Hanson would come and rescue her?

It was possible. But even if Hanson came, he wouldn't be able to save her.

The reality was right in front of them. No matter who it was, they couldn't change the rules of the game.

Suddenly, the assistant, who was searching for information, let out a terrified scream. "M-Mr. K-Kep—"

He wanted to call Benjamin, but despite several attempts, he couldn't utter the words "Mr. Kepler."

He was Seth Melendez, Benjamin's most capable assistant. Seeing Seth in such an incompetent state, Benjamin kicked him and scolded, "Straighten your tongue!" However, Seth was still in a state of panic with his eyes wide open.

Involuntarily, Seth's body even began to tremble. "I... M-Mr. K..."

It was as if he had malfunctioned and thus was unable to articulate a complete sentence.

At that moment, all Seth could think about was whether it was his own hallucination or something else.

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1059

Chapter 1059 The Keplers' Losses

Earlier, Seth himself prepared the shareholding pattern document of Galaxy Corporation. The person with the most shares in the company right now should clearly be Benjamin. How did it suddenly become Vania?

When did that happen?

Seth was well aware that Benjamin couldn't have made any changes at this time.

That would only mean that someone must have hacked into the Kepler Family's financial intranet.

But so far, no one in the company had reported it.

At the thought of that, Seth couldn't help but take another look at Vania. He began to fear her from the bottom of his heart.

Based on the current situation, the Kepler Family's losses would amount to a few hundred million at the very least.

At the realization, Seth trembled with fear.

On the other hand, seeing that his assistant was being incompetent, Benjamin snatched the phone from Seth and demanded, "What's going on?"

He took a look at the screen that showed the distribution of shareholdings.

Taking a closer look, he suddenly noticed that there was a zero next to his name.

"The real show has only just begun."

"What do you mean?" Benjamin felt his heart racing, as he sensed an impending crisis.

But, his people hadn't called him yet. He had no idea what problems awaited him next.

Vania lazily raised an eyebrow

"Mr. Kepler, you barged into my company with your people and caused a lot of trouble.

It made me very uncomfortable. So, in a moment of perturbation, I prepared a big gift for you. I hope you'll enjoy it."

Hearing that, Benjamin felt short of breath, and his face turned purple.

As his breathing became rapid, he felt dizzy and disoriented.

Is it Yvonne? Did she do something to Yvonne? This was Benjamin's only thought.

While Benjamin was in great distress, Vania remained indifferent. It was all his own doing after all.

She hadn't even taken action against the Kepler Family yet, but they had already targeted her company. Benjamin had brought this upon himself!

Giving him a cold glance, Vania said nonchalantly, "I heard that you guys have two more secret bases in the north of Hillsworth."

She deliberately spoke slowly to give Benjamin enough time to react. She didn't want her words to hit him too quickly and not have enough impact.

As soon as Benjamin heard the words "secret base," perspiration ran down his forehead, and he began to pant heavily.

Seth immediately supported him and asked, "Mr. Kepler, are you okay?"

Benjamin's face turned pale and his body shook violently. He breathed hard, still holding on.

Seeing him in this state, Vania felt that her mocking skills had weakened. Is it not working on Benjamin?

She continued adding fuel to the fire. "The locations of the two secret bases are excellent. My people who happened to pass by took interests and seized them."

Then, Vania laughed smugly as if she was sure to win.

Benjamin's mouth was agape. It was like he was suffering a stroke, and he could only glare at Vania, unable to utter a word.

"What's wrong, Mr. Kepler? Is my story not interesting?"

Vania's smile grew increasingly larger in Benjamin's pupils, and his body stiffened.

"Ah..." He wanted to say something, but he couldn't.

He knew too well about his father's methods. How could he easily let Vania go once he stood at the peak and got what he wanted?

When he arrived at the hall, his heart was racing faster than ever before

The scene before him was something he had never imagined.

The ground was covered with shredded paper, and employees' belongings were scattered all over, as if the place had been looted. All the items had been smashed and burned.

He instinctively thought it was Benjamin's doing.

At that moment, he was in so much agony and trepidation. He feared that his already tense relationship with Vania would never be reconciled.

"Young Master, look..." His assistant suddenly tapped his shoulder. His voice was full of terror. "Isn't that the Old Master?"

Thomas didn't understand why his assistant was so frightened to mention his father.

He frowned and followed the direction his assistant was pointing.

The next second, he stood up from his wheelchair directly despite his broken bones. He ignored the pain in his body.

"Dad?" he exclaimed in surprise.

A team of medical personnel carrying the stretcher hurried past as they shouted, "Make way, please! Make way for the patient!"
