

Her Seven LBG 451

Chapter 451

The staff was in her most passionate self, carefully introducing Vania to other outfits in the hope that she would purchase more sets since there were nine shirts in one set.

While Vania was choosing the outfits excitedly, Hanson brought the children to sit on the couch where they were having coffee. Their actions were so uniform that it was obvious that they were a family.

At this moment, Vania had chosen more than ten sets of matching outfits. If it weren't because that was all the newest addition they had, she wouldn't have stopped.

In the end, she looked at her trophies and waved to Hanson. "Darling, time to pay."

"Okay." Hanson stood up immediately. He had been waiting for this moment for a long time, since there was nothing happier than paying for his wife. He had earned so much, but he just lacked a wife who liked to spend.

He took out his unique black card and gave it to the staff. Then, he pointed at the limited-edition handbags on the upper rack. "Pack that all up and deliver them together with the clothes."

Those handbags were the ones Vania looked at just now. Since everyone says that women like bags, it won't be wrong to buy them.

Hearing that, the staff was in shock, and the card in her hand nearly dropped. "Y-Yes, Sir." How can he be so lavish? Her commission today was about her commission for half a year. How charming.

At this moment, all the other staff looked at her, envious. They stared at Vania and then at Hanson.

In the end, one of the staff gasped and covered her mouth excitedly. "I-Is it President Luke and Ms. Greyson?" They didn't look closely just now. Now that they took a closer look, they recognized the two of them.

When Hanson heard them, he raised his eyebrows and thought, After so long?

It seemed like there was really something wrong with his looks, only getting recognized after so long. He needed to figure out a way to let people recognize him at a glance, to let people recognize that he was Vania's man.

At this thought, he walked forward and embraced Vania. "Do you want a photo together?"

Hearing that, everyone was speechless, including Vania, her babies, and the staff. They all stared at Hanson in confusion.

The staff didn't seem to have that request. From where could he tell that they wanted a photo together with him? They were just too excited after seeing him in person. Now, all they could do was smile awkwardly since they didn't know what to say. After all, rejecting the president straightforwardly was not very good.

From their expressions, Hanson knew that they were too excited for sure since their fans were begging for a photo of them together on the internet.

Chapter 452

"Oh..." Vania followed beside him stiffly while still in a daze. Only then did the staff awaken from their trances and begin softly conversing.

"It's really President Luke. He's so charming."

"Such largesse! This broach is super expensive."

"I hereby declare that I'm Hanson Luke and Vania Greyson's fan." Not becoming their fan after accepting a gift from them didn't seem like the right thing to do.

"Oh, oh! Let's post this on Twitter. This is big news..."

The staff was becoming more and more excited as they talked about it. They were all complementing Hanson and Vania. When Hanson heard them discussing him, the smile on his face turned deeper. On the other hand, the seven children were slightly embarrassed. The way their father's brain functioned was a little weird.

"Why did you ask them to take a photo together just now?" Vania couldn't understand. She didn't know what this president in the house was thinking. The staff members were just excited, and it was obvious that they didn't plan to take a photo with them.

"Isn't the whole internet asking for us to be in the same photo? I'm just responding to my fans' requests," Hanson said seriously.

At this moment, she wanted to pour on his parade and see how he would react. So, she said, "They might not be our fans." Since Hanson and Vania were both not people in the entertainment industry, it was normal for them not to have fans.

When Hanson heard that, it was obvious that his body froze. He looked at her as if he was asking 'Really?' with his eyes.

"Haha!" Vania laughed out loud after noticing his stunned expression. She then answered with a nod, "Really."

However, Hanson was just stunned for a moment. He returned to his normal self almost immediately. "It's okay. They'll soon be our fans." He had already thought of a way. Later, he would hold an event online, giving people who became his and Vania's fans an exquisite gift.

Of course, Vania didn't know about the prodigal act that he was thinking about. She just nodded and said, "Whatever you say." Then, she held Lily's hand. "This is the stationery shop. You can go and take a look to find what you like."

Although it was just a stationery shop, everything here had top designs, so even a pencil was expensive.

"I think we should go to another shop, Miss Vania," Lily said after looking at the prices.

Vania, on the other hand, looked at her with affection. "You're the little princess in our family, so you're supposed to enjoy all these. And all your brothers bought their stationery here too."

Chapter 453

Lily couldn't reject Vania, so she chose some of the items that she liked.

Looking at the piles of supplies, only then were the children satisfied. "Let's go have dinner, Lily." Then, they looked at Vania and said, "Mommy, let's go to Fairyland."

Fairyland was a concept restaurant designed with characters from fairytales. Everyone who dined in the restaurant could dress up as their favorite character, but it was quite pricey.

Usually, the children wouldn't choose this place for sure since it was kind of childish in their eyes. But now, they chose this restaurant without a second thought because they thought their sister would like it.

"Okay. Let's go to Fairyland then."

When they entered the restaurant, they attracted the eyeballs of the crowd once again, since a family with seven children was rare.

When the waitress saw Hanson and Vania, she just felt that they looked familiar and served them passionately. "Let me take you to your seats, Sir, Madam."

Vania didn't feel anything special about how she addressed them, but it was different for Hanson. It was obvious that his expression had changed; the smile on his face was getting brighter and brighter. He must have shown all the smiles that he had kept for all these years.

"Give us your best course meal." His talking manner was as though he was giving a chance for the restaurant to shoot up its sales.

Hearing that, the waitress was stunned for a moment. No one had ordered the best course meal before since it was really expensive. She then studied Hanson secretly and knew that he was wealthy, but she still dropped him a note. "Yes, Sir. The top-course meal we have here is 888,000."

It was normal for her not to recognize Hanson since he didn't appear on TV often, and seeing him in person would be quite different from seeing him on TV.

Of course, he was more handsome in person. Also, nobody knew that the mighty President Luke had seven children.

When Hanson heard the price, he was not startled at all. "Okay. You can start preparing." It didn't matter how much it cost because it was for the children. After all, it was their first meal together since he officially became their father, and he wanted nothing but the best for them.

After the server heard his reply, her eyes widened, unconsciously nodding, but her professionalism made her regain her calmness almost immediately. "Sir, Madam, let me introduce you to the benefits included in the top-course meal."

She was introducing the course professionally, but in short, it meant that they could play whatever they wanted and eat whatever they wanted in Fairyland.

Although it was a concept restaurant, it could be seen as a giant playground. One could eat and play there.

Chapter 454

"What does the huntsman do?"

"Hmm..." Vania straightforwardly gathered her thoughts and explained Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs to Hanson. "The Huntsman revealed to Snow White that the Queen wanted her dead."

"Which means that his relationship with the Queen was bad?" Come on! This is the most important question!

"Of course. He betrayed her." Without thinking much, he explained the relationship between the characters in the animation.

"No way. I want to be on the same side as you." He rejected her immediately. Even though it was just cosplay, he didn't want to be against her.

"The Magic Mirror is the only choice then." Vania showed him the costume.

Looking at that horrendous costume, he ground his teeth and said, "Okay. I'll choose this." He could endure it as long as he was on the same side as her.

Meanwhile, the seven children shook their heads resignedly. He really loves his wife, huh?

At this moment, a professional styling team was helping them to design their styles. Soon later, all of them were done dressing up.

The stylist's words were full of compliments. "All of you are so good-looking. This style is just perfect."

Vania already had eyes that looked just like the Queen. With the makeup on, she looked even more charismatic.

The seven children were adorable too. It looked like a photo with all of them standing together.

On the other hand, Hanson didn't look good at all. How would he look good dressing up as the Magic Mirror? Just then, he stared at the stylist with dissatisfaction.

Noticing the man's grim look, the stylist quickly pocketed her smile and left immediately.

Vania felt that this cosplay today was a special moment to remember, so she told the stylist, "We would like to take a photo as a memento."

"Sure. Hold on. We'll arrange a photographer for you." This was part of the service provided in the top-course meal as well. "Madam, we have a sculptor here too. We can design a set of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs figures based on your images for you."

"Good. Thank you." Vania was pleased.

When the photoshoot ended, the dinner had already been prepared.

The waitress led them to the other part of the restaurant. The design of this place followed exactly the design of the seven dwarfs' house. "Enjoy your meal. Personal services will be provided later on." After she said that, she left the place and left the space for Vania and her family.

Without anyone beside them anymore, Vania looked at Hanson's look and finally laughed out loud. "Darling, can we take a photo together?"

"No." Without thinking twice, Hanson rejected his wife's request. He could see her intention to post his photo on Twitter. How could he allow her to tweet such an ugly picture of him?

Looking at his awkward behavior, she laughed and said, "I don't think you can say no, darling."

At this moment, he thought that she had already secretly taken his photo and tweeted it, so he quickly grabbed her phone from her.

Chapter 455

#WishingPresidentLukeAndVaniaGreysonALongLifeTogether

When Hanson saw this hashtag, he lifted his brows. These netizens really have good taste.

Looking at the proud Hanson, Vania knew he didn't scroll down the trending chart, so she reminded him. "I think you should scroll down."

When he noticed her cunning look, he pocketed his proud expression and scrolled down. Just then, there was a sudden change in his expression.

#HansonLukeTheMagicMirror

It came with a photo of him and the character in the original animation as a comparison. He was definitely recognized by the passerby, and they tweeted it on Twitter.

'This is in Fairyland, right? Why did President Luke choose this character? Haha...'

'It doesn't look weird on him at all. Did Vania Greyson choose the Queen?'

'Such a big contrast. So cute! I'm becoming a big fan of President Luke.'

'I suddenly feel like President Luke is a man who knows humor.'

Since only his aloof image was recognized by the people, the sudden exposure of this photo of him contrasting his usual image became a source of happiness for the netizens in an instant.

His photos were even made into memes, taking over the front pages of all news websites.

At this moment, Hanson was looking through the comments with a darkened face. Are these journalists trying to lose their jobs? No one dared to spread my photos in those days. I'm banning them. They need to be banned.

This unpredictable president was not the same President Luke, who wanted to provide fan service and take photos just now.

Seeing his darkened face, Vania quickly comforted him. "Calm down. Don't be so agitated. This photo is really cute, though. The netizens like you."

Cute? This was the first time he had received such a comment. When he saw her beaming smile, his face wasn't as dark, but it was still tense.

So, she continued to comfort him. "I really like this photo. Let's make this our matching profile picture and then tweet a photo together, so the public will know we're together."

Matching profile picture? Tell the public? When Hanson heard those words, his face finally turned gentle, and he suddenly felt that the photo wasn't as bad as it seemed. He changed his profile picture with much cooperation.

As soon as they tweeted their photo together, the netizens were even more enthusiastic. However, Vania and Hanson had already switched off their phones and were enjoying dinner with their children.

Chapter 456

Vania's voice was as if she was coaxing a little kid, so soft and gentle, making Hanson's ears itch. He actually planned to finish dinner quickly and come home as soon as possible, but the children were having too much fun, so he could only endure his desire until now.

At this moment, with a change in the gaze of his eyes, he asked, "What punishment will I get if I don't be a good boy?" As he said that, he couldn't control himself and moved closer to Vania.

Shocked, Vania shuddered out of nowhere. She was afraid that he would push it, so she said threateningly, "The consequence of not being a good boy is that you won't be allowed in my room in the future."

"In the future?" Hanson caught the point sharply. "Which means that I can still be here this time."

Hearing that, she had no comeback. Haha, such a clever guy.

With a serious face, she said, "It's a no this time too. Let go of me. I'm gonna sleep."

Hanson let go of his hand cooperatively, but his body was still pressing against her.

At this moment, Vania was quite puzzled. Why is this man so obedient? It's okay. I can have a good rest then. But just as she finished speaking, Hanson turned around once again and put on a proud face. "I want to be a bad boy, darling."

"You..." She was slightly pissed, but before she could finish her words, her lips were blocked by Hanson's.

The next morning, Vania appeared in front of her babies with obvious dark circles and said weakly, "Good morning, darlings."

"Good morning, Mommy," the children greeted their mother passionately, but their gazes were focused on her eyes.

At this moment, James started teasing her, asking, "Mommy, did you go to Australia last night?"

"What? Australia? Of course I didn't. Why did you ask?" Vania didn't react at that moment and looked at her babies in a daze.

After glancing at Hanson, James explained kindly, "Why did you become a panda if you didn't go to Australia, Mommy?"

"Ya. Mommy looks sick" Jacob and Jude were discussing their mother's health condition, obviously concerned. June was even nodding as he said, "Yeah, I know, right? That's some serious panda eyes right there."

On the other hand, the two little cuties, Morales and Morgan, weren't as sharp-tongued as their four brothers. They asked innocently, "Did you not sleep well, Mommy?"

Vania didn't know what to say, for she was awakened by their series of questions and wanted to dig a hole to bury herself. This is it! I've lost my status in this family!

Chapter 457

"Hmph!" Vania hummed and stayed far away from this man.

"What's wrong, darling?" Hanson couldn't hide his smile. She was okay just now, but why was there a sudden change in her attitude?

"Daddy, Mommy didn't sleep well last night," Morales and Morgan explained kindly.

Hearing that, Hanson understood immediately and raised his brows before saying expressively, "Yup. Your mommy didn't sleep well last night."

At this moment, she thought, I'm already embarrassed. Can we stop talking about this already?

Then, Lily worsened the situation for her by saying, "If you're really not feeling well, I can prescribe medicine for you. I promise your dark circles will vanish in no time, and you can sleep well tonight."

Vania thought, I really want to lie down and die. Yet, she still maintained her smile. "Don't worry, darling. I'm fine. I'll be better tomorrow." As she said that, she decided in her head to chase Hanson out tonight and have a good sleep so that she wouldn't be this awkward tomorrow morning.

However, Lily still seemed to be worried. "Are you truly okay, beautiful miss?"

Okay. I'm more than okay... There was nothing making her more embarrassed than she was today.

On the other hand, not knowing what was wrong with him, Hanson was on cloud nine while looking at Vania, all embarrassed. However, in the end, he still regained consciousness and saved Vania from the situation. "I'll take care of her. You guys quickly have your breakfast. You can't be late for school later."

"Okay." The children stopped asking and nodded obediently before they started eating their breakfast.

This topic has finally ended. An awkward Vania heaved a sigh of relief.

All of a sudden, Hanson patted her shoulder from behind, scaring her.

"What?" she said unhappily.

He just kept smiling. "I just want to let my darling have a good rest."

Hearing that, she glared at him and thought, Oh, save it. How can you be so kind? I begged you last night, but you still didn't stop. Why is he pretending to be the good guy all of a sudden? He sure has some bad intentions.

Hanson was ignored, but he wasn't embarrassed at all. Instead, he just touched the tip of his nose and thought, I really need to calm down tonight, or else I'll need to sleep alone.

After having breakfast with the children, Hanson and Vania sent them to school.

"Darlings, remember to take care of Lily."

Chapter 458

"What is it? What's wrong?" Vania was puzzled.

With a darkened face, Hanson answered, "That man is Eddie's butler."

Instantly, her expression froze as her heart started racing. Does it mean the girl beside that butler is my daughter?

Anxious, she wanted to know the answer immediately. As she looked at the child, her emotions couldn't be deciphered.

On the other hand, Hanson remained calm. "Darling, you're the headmistress of the school. Can't you find out when this child enrolled?"

"Sure. I'll ask someone to look into it." She then gave the instruction to her people instantly.

At this moment, both Vania and Hanson weren't sure whether their guesses were right as they looked at the little girl. After all, they didn't feel the familiarity and affinity of meeting a family member for the first time.

Hanson frowned slightly at the thought of this. When he first saw his other children, the power of blood ties was very strong, so why didn't he feel anything this time?

He was being cautious of everything. "We still need to look into this child. Don't rush things, darling."

"Okay." Vania nodded. Other than a moment of shock she experienced just now, she didn't feel anything special toward that little girl either.

Just then, she received the results of the investigation on her phone.

"She enrolled today," she said, telling Hanson the news.

Hearing that, he smirked in irony. "I see." Then, he looked at Vania and started analyzing the situation. "I think he deliberately wants us to notice the kid. It looks like we should prepare ourselves."

"She's in the same class as our babies, so I think I should tell them about it." She had to ask her babies to be careful since she didn't want anything to happen to them again. Almost immediately, she sent a message to her children in their group chat.

Soon, the children replied to her that they would be careful.

In the car, Hanson comforted her by saying, "Let's head back first. They won't do anything if we stay here." Eddie has finally appeared, and I'm really curious what this loser is about to pull off.

Meanwhile, Vania looked at the disappearing figure and said, "Who knows? We might be able to witness a good show today." There was a hint of playfulness at the corners of her lips.

All of a sudden, something seemed to come across Hanson's mind. He turned the wheel and sent Vania to Galaxy Corporation.

Meanwhile, on the top floor of Gray Condo, a man was immersed in his thoughts as he sat by the window and looked out of it. Gray Condo was a relatively low-profile condominium in the city center of Hammond with a great security system.

Chapter 459

While looking at the middle-aged man in front of him, he asked again, "Are you sure that they saw her with their own eyes?"

"I'm very sure. I even calculated the timing before bringing Lilith by Hanson's car." The middle-aged man talking was Eddie's butler, Brandon Larson.

This butler was a very loyal man. He was always beside Eddie's father, but when the latter had his downfall, he went overseas with Eddie.

"We can proceed according to our plan, then." As Eddie spoke, he lit up a cigarette.

"Understood, Young Master Eddie." Brandon nodded and relayed another matter respectfully, saying, "Melanie sent a message this morning and asked for some money."

Hearing that, Eddie scoffed and said disdainfully, "Not anybody can take my money." He looked at Brandon with an icy gaze. "She hasn't completed anything that I've asked her to do. I've already done more than enough by taking her in and providing her a place to stay."

After training her for so many years and giving her chances one after another, he still didn't receive anything in return. Hence, keeping such a person was just a waste.

"I'll reply to Melanie accordingly."

Just as Brandon was about to leave, Eddie stopped him. "Hold on. I'm giving her another chance. I'll give her the money if she can finish the job well this time."

"Understood."

In school, the children had a new homeroom teacher. It was an enthusiastic and energetic young teacher named Ms. Foster.

She stood on the rostrum and said happily, "Good morning, children."

"Good morning, Ms. Foster," the students in the class greeted the teacher in unison.

Then, Ms. Foster said, "Allow me to introduce our two new students today. Class, give them a round of applause to welcome them."

As she said that, she brought Lily to the middle of the rostrum and introduced her, "Her name is Lily, and she's the little sister of the six brothers. Let's welcome her."

Lily took the initiative to greet the students by saying, "Hello, everyone. I'm Lily. Nice to meet you all."

"Welcome, Lily!" The students cheered on passionately.

From the moment Lily entered the school until now, she was always polite and well-behaved, so the students liked her very much.

On the contrary, the little girl next to Ms. Foster didn't show much emotion. There was a cold look on her face, and no one knew what was on her mind.

After introducing Lily, Ms. Foster brought the other girl to the middle of the rostrum and introduced her to the children in the class passionately as well, saying, "This is also our new friend. Her name is Lilith. Class, give her a round of applause."

Chapter 460

Ms. Foster kindly arranged seats for the two new students.

"Sure, I'll follow your arrangement. Thank you, Ms. Foster." Lily was very polite.

On the contrary, Lilith still didn't say anything. In fact, she looked at Lily disdainfully.

"You two can sit here." Ms. Foster brought them to their seats.

Lily's seat just so happened to be behind James and Jack.

At this moment, the six boys thought about their mother's earlier message, feeling confused while looking at Lilith. Is she really our sister? Something doesn't feel right, though. They were feeling hostile toward Lilith and even hoped that she wouldn't hurt Lily. This kind of feeling was very strange to them.

At this thought, James and Jack secretly used their high-tech watches to look into Lilith's background information.

"Class, who wants to answer this question?" Ms. Foster was conducting the class, and it was a question-and-answer session.

Lily understood Ms. Foster's question, so she raised her hand.

Just then, Lilith shouted all of a sudden before she burst out crying. "Why did you hit me?"

Lily looked at her, puzzled. She was a little enraged by that sudden accusation, so she rebuked, "I didn't even touch you."

However, Lilith didn't say anything and just hugged her head while crying.

Hearing that, Ms. Foster went up to them and comforted Lilith, saying, "It's okay, so don't cry. You two are classmates and good friends. Can you tell me what happened?"

"I didn't hit her. She just started crying herself," Lily answered first, her face innocent. In fact, it was slightly red from the anxiety and anger she was feeling.

Ms. Foster hadn't seen the situation clearly just now, so she couldn't conclude anything. As such, she could only comfort Lilith by saying, "Don't cry. Perhaps it's just a misunderstanding. Can you shake hands and reconcile with her?"

However, Lilith refused to listen to Ms. Foster as she kept crying non-stop.

At this moment, James spoke up coldly. "Don't we have surveillance cameras in the classroom, Ms. Foster? We can look at the footage and find out what happened."

As soon as Lilith heard about the surveillance cameras, she stopped crying immediately. She then lifted her head and looked at Ms. Foster; there weren't even any tears in her eyes at that point.
