

Her Seven LBG 731

Chapter 731

Hanson, however, was extremely pleased with himself as he enjoyed tricking his wife.

.....

Every day, Kiki would turn up at the hospital with her notebook and take down details of the sights and news that she had seen or heard there. The key thing that she would take down was the situation in Hanson's ward. She also recorded in detail if she saw Vania there.

As she was deep in thought when staring at the notebook, she had decided to give up on pursuing Hanson since it was impossible to be with him. On top of that, the reason she had her attention on Vania and Hanson was so that she could have a smooth sailing career in the entertainment industry. She smirked as she thought of making money by selling their information.

Soon, the internet was flooded with news about Vania turning up at the hospital. The headline read, 'Vania Greyson seen at Hammond Hospital looking miserable. President Luke is in dire condition.'

'Haven't heard the news about President Luke and Vania for a while now. How is President Luke's condition?'

'What is causing Luke Corporation's share price to drop? Why hasn't an official announcement been made?'

'I heard earlier that President Luke is dying. What is the situation now?'

There wasn't any clear statement being released online. Now that Vania was trending on search engines, rumors about Hanson were getting out of hand. Even so, Luke Corporation didn't respond to any of the rumors, which made the whole situation seem confusing. Somehow, rumors about Eddie taking over Luke Corporation had been spread online too.

By then, Eddie had already shifted to another den which was safer than the previous location. The reason he could escape from Hanson wasn't that he was lucky, but it was due to his ability to hide. However, ironically, he didn't have the ability to lead Hanson Corporation.

"Brandon, what do you think of the news online?" Eddie asked in a deep voice. He had to stay in hiding until the day he captured Hanson.

As Brandon was punished earlier on, his body had gotten weaker, and he couldn't stand up straight. "It could be true, but Hanson is still hospitalized."

"Are you that sure?" Eddie sounded displeased.

"Our men had been stationed in the hospital all along. However, we weren't sure about his condition," Brandon replied vaguely after hearing Eddie's tone.

'I heard earlier that President Luke is dying. What is the situation now?'

Chapter 732

The anger in his heart was going to explode at any moment.

At this moment, Brandon didn't dare tell him anything, so he could only leave quietly. One week had passed again, and it was the 49th day. With the medicine in her hand, Lily told Hanson, "Time for medicine, Daddy."

Vania was holding a cup of water on the side too. "Come and take the medicine."

They didn't look like they were giving him medicine. Instead, they looked like they were giving him poison.

Looking at their behavior, Hanson really felt like they were poisoning him, but it was just his delusion. He believed in his daughter very much, so he drank the medicine in one shot.

When he finished the medicine, Vania quickly asked, "Do you feel anything special?" There was still worry in her eyes since this was an antidote and not a candy after all.

At this moment, Hanson nodded casually. "Yes."

"What do you feel?" She was growing anxious.

On the other hand, Lily was not worried at all since she knew her abilities well. Also, there wouldn't be any reaction after consuming the medicine. Here we go again. He's just tricking her.

Hanson was still thinking about what adjective words to use and kept quiet for quite some time.

The wait was making Vania feel even more anxious. "Yes? What's wrong?"

Then, he chuckled and said, "I just feel very energetic, like I can even fly."

If her children weren't there, she was going to curse at him, for sure. "Haha." Her laughter sounded rather sarcastic.

Meanwhile, Lily had her hand on Hanson's pulse, as if something was wrong. "You still need to be under observation for another 49 days."

When James heard about the observation period, he got a little anxious. "Is anything wrong?"

"Nope. I'm just doing it subconsciously. I didn't read anything special." Lily shook her head.

What... The six boys were speechless. Great. She has completely inherited our fine wicked gene.

Hanson's expression was frozen too. I think our family can probably shoot a fantasy drama together.

"How confident are you in this medicine, Lily?" Although Jack believed in Lily, he was still worried about the observation period that she mentioned just now.

"100% of course." Lily was very confident. There was no poison that she couldn't detoxify in this world. It just depended on whether she wanted to do it or not.

Chapter 733

The six boys had no interest in Hanson's company at all.

Hearing their answer, Hanson could only rub his nose. It seemed like his dream of not working couldn't be achieved for now. Then, he told Vania, "Darling, set up the reporters then. We'll be at the entrance of Luke Corporation tomorrow at eight in the morning sharp."

"Do you think I still need to set up the reporters? There are countless reporters surrounding your company every day." I bet they're craving first-hand information about Hanson.

Hearing that, Hanson nodded. Okay, My charm is just so strong. Then, he tugged on Vania in a sulk. "Darling, I'm going back to work tomorrow." He didn't finish the second half of his sentence.

Vania just pretended she didn't understand and kept quiet. However, he didn't give up talking to her. "Don't you think you should give me some commencement reward?"

Seriously? She couldn't understand what he was thinking. "You know you have tons of kids, right?" She was trying to tell him to stop thinking so childishly anymore.

Without shame, he still attempted to defend himself. "I've just recovered after so long. I think I deserve some reward. I'll be more motivated to work too."

What kind of fallacy is this? Vania didn't want to bother him, but he just kept coaxing and pestering her. In the end, she gave up. "Okay, okay. What reward do you want?"

Such a laborious little devil. On the contrary, she felt like she was a powerless poor thing.

Hanson was still thinking about the bunny costume, so he asked her, "Will you fulfill all of my wishes?"

Hearing that, she looked at him in disdain. "I'm not the genie of the lamp. I'll think about it after you tell me."

Genie of the lamp? What's that? He decided to let go of such a complicated name for now and said schemingly, "It's nothing hard. You can do it for sure."

In her head, Vania had already refused. She decided that she must reject whatever request he'd come up with.

However, Hanson held up her hand and said affectionately, "Follow me, darling."

Although she refused in her head, she followed suit. When she saw that the direction they were heading was to the dressing room, her heart started racing. Is it some dress-up game again?

As expected, she guessed it right.

As soon as they reached the dressing room, Hanson took out the bunny costume he had prepared. Then, he put it in front of Vania as though he was showing her his treasure. "What do you think? You'll fulfill my little request, right?"

What kind of fallacy is this? Vania didn't want to bother him, but he just kept coaxing and pestering her. In the end, she gave up. "Okay, okay. What reward do you want?"

"Fine." She sighed a few times in her heart. Please quickly return to the company, President Luke, so you won't have time to think of these random things anymore.

Chapter 734

Whenever he used this trick, Vania would cave in for sure.

Fortunately, Hanson wasn't being perverted or anything, and the photos he took were just ordinary ones.

After looking at what he had photographed, he even said happily, "I can look at these photos whenever I miss you at work."

"You better not." Vania stopped him immediately. What if his staff saw the photos by accident? She would lose all of her dignity. After all, she was a famous president too.

However, her rejection was of no use as he had already moved on...

...

The next morning, Hanson energetically appeared at the entrance of his company.

On the contrary, Vania looked a little exhausted.

When the reporters saw Hanson, they surrounded him at once.

"President Luke, have you recovered completely?"

With a cold face, he asked the reporter rhetorically, "Who said that I was sick? Did our company release an official statement?"

His aura was as usual, making the reporter tremble in fear. Then, the reporter stammered, "T-There were r-rumors on the internet saying that you were hospitalized for emergency treatment. Adding to that, you hadn't shown up in such a long time, and there was no news from your side either. Thus, everyone said you were seriously ill."

"You said it yourself that they were just rumors." Hanson took the microphone from the reporter arrogantly. "I'll hold those involved accountable."

They were frightened by his words and didn't dare to ask questions anymore.

At that moment, Hanson pulled Vania into his arms. Obviously, his attitude was drastically different from when he faced the reporters. "I was at home, and I took time off to keep my wife company all this while."

If it wasn't because he needed to come to the company, he wanted to continue staying home with Vania.

Then, the reporter summoned his courage and asked, "President Luke, could you explain why there was an ambulance at Luke Corporation the other day?"

"If you ever find yourself in my position, you'll understand that people will make a fuss about the littlest things like a sneeze." Hanson spoke with his usual charisma.

Almost immediately, there was an uproar among the reporters.

Hanson waved his hands in front of them. "Alright, that's enough. While I was on a break, my staff worked tirelessly. Please don't hold me up from giving them their bonuses."

As soon as he left, video clips of the exchange were uploaded to the internet.

'To those spreading the rumor on the internet, are you guys afraid now?'

'Indeed, President Luke's aura is incredibly domineering.'

They were frightened by his words and didn't dare to ask questions anymore.

Chapter 735

The audience's breath was taken away when the award-winning works were presented in front of them.

'Scientists really think differently. They come out with ideas that seem impossible.'

'It seems that all these designs have come true.'

'It is all so dazzling I can only scream at the sight of it!'

'Good luck, scientists! All of you are the best!'

Among the many works on display, the one that drew the most attention was the design of a flight vehicle.

Even though it was somewhat difficult to implement this type of flying vehicle, he had managed to win everyone's heart with his ingenious thinking and well-backed theories.

The crowd unanimously thought that the scientist that designed it would be the first choice for aerospace insights in the future.

'I'm really looking forward to seeing this scientist. It's amazing.'

'It won't be long before we discover extraterrestrial beings.'

'Let our cutting-edge technology make Hillsworth mighty and powerful!'

Just as everyone was looking forward to it, the host had already gone on stage and was standing at the podium when he solemnly announced, 'Next, we will announce the champion of the International Scientist Competition, and the names of the 10 winners of the Outstanding Scientist prize.'

Hearing that, the audience applauded and looked at the podium expectantly.

They wanted to know who the first-place winner was, so that they could learn from them.

'Congratulations to the winner of the first prize—Liev Brothers!'

'Oh, it is a pair of siblings! They did great.'

'I can't wait for them to make their appearance.'

The comments section was full of encouragement from the netizens.

Then, James and Jack, who seemed to appear at the competition venue out of nowhere, calmly walked to the podium.

'Look! It's two children.'

'Did two kids win first place at the International Scientist Competition?'

'Children nowadays are shockingly talented.'

Seeing their babies, Hanson and Vania immediately got on their feet.

Did the babies participate in another competition behind our back? they wondered. And they even got first place! Isn't this too much of a surprise?

Even the children's parents were also caught off-guard. One could only imagine how shocking this was for the others.

Naturally, the camera captured their abrupt reaction.

The Internet went crazy again at the sight.

'Why are President Luke and Vania so agitated? Did they see something?'

'Could the children be her sons?!'

The commenters instantly fell into another heated conversation the moment they thought they discovered the big secret.

Chapter 736

However, this didn't stop Vania from finding her babies impressive. Even better, she was on the verge of becoming their fans herself.

Hanson then let out a low chuckle beside her ear. "I have great genes, don't I, darling?"

That earned him a side glance from the woman. "Why don't you say that it is my genes that are great?"

"Are you sure you know what they are talking about?" he asked in return.

Hearing him mock her, Vania scoffed and proceeded to turn away, thereafter ignoring him.

While they intimately looked at each other, they weren't aware that reporters had surrounded the outside of the room. Hanson and Vania were the people they wanted to interview the most now.

As soon as the duo came out, a reporter immediately handed over a microphone. "Did you know that your children would win a prize, President Luke and President Greyson? They won first place at that."

Vania solemnly replied, "I am as surprised as you all are."

"Are the children naturally gifted? Or have they specially learned about all this?"

It was Hanson who proudly announced, "It is because of my good genes."

The crowd was speechless upon hearing that and they mused, We will quietly give you a thumbs up.

The reporter had no choice but to be envious after hearing that. "The Internet says that teaching children is the hardest thing to do. On behalf of the Internet, I would like to ask who is it between you both that is the children's teacher usually?"

The couple glanced at each other then. "More like they are our teachers," Vania commented, to which Hanson added, "There is no place for me at home."

Amused by their witty answers, the reporters laughed out loud.

The interview had somehow turned into a parenting show as Vania went on and generously shared her experience on being a mother.

However, the people of the Internet only got triggered when they heard what she had to say. The children were obviously geniuses!

As such, Vania and Hanson's popularity skyrocketed once again because of the competition.

Vania, in particular, had received many endorsements from educational institutions.

However, brands couldn't afford to pay Hanson to make an appearance.

As Vania looked at a bunch of endorsement contracts, she couldn't help but sigh, "Do I look like a parent who is good at educating children?"

It was always the children in the family who surprised her.

Hearing that, the seven babies nodded earnestly. "Mommy is the best!" they exclaimed simultaneously.

"Your mommy is far behind compared to you bunch." Vania chuckled. Truth was, she had high hopes for her children.

Hanson also chipped in excitedly, "You are all the best, my children. With such abilities, you will be able to take over my company soon."

The couple glanced at each other then. "More like they are our teachers," Vania commented, to which

Hanson added, "There is no place for me at home."

Truth be told, the man was constantly preoccupied with thoughts about taking a back seat and traveling around the world with his wife in his arms.

Truth be told, the man was constantly preoccupied with thoughts about taking a back seat and traveling around the world with his wife in his arms.

Chapter 737

As they had been sending people to keep track of Yvonne, they would definitely know when there was the slightest bit of trouble.

"Interesting." Eddie smiled. "Leak the news to Hanson and Vania."

At that, Brandon suggested, "Just get the media to expose it."

"Don't reveal ourselves."

"That is for sure."

A menacing smile appeared on their faces, and it didn't take long before Yvonne became a trending search.

'Yvonne Kepler at the Airport'

For some reason, it only took a few seconds for this search to appear in the first place of the trending topics since it was posted.

The reason for this was because everyone was curious about why she would be a trending search, now that they had almost forgotten about her since a long time had passed.

What was there to report about when all Yvonne did was appear at the airport anyway?

The comments section in the news article was subsequently filled with either comments that were curious about her, or criticisms about her previous foul behavior.

All in all, none of those remarks were positive.

"Sh*t!" Thomas quietly muttered after seeing his sister become a trending search.

How did anyone find out even with my flawless arrangement? Just who the hell dares to challenge me head-on like this?

He then immediately barked an order, "Find out who was the one who leaked news about Yvonne."

"Yes."

What concerned him the most now was how Hanson and Vania would react to the news.

On the other hand, as a young woman who was addicted to social media, Vania would naturally have seen it first hand.

However, she wasn't surprised at all, as she had known that there would eventually come a day when Yvonne would come back to Hammond.

The only thing was that Vania hadn't expected Yvonne to come back this soon.

She must have rubbed someone the wrong way for her to be a trending search now, Vania thought as she read through the news.

But who is paying such close attention to her?

Despite the question she was wondering about, Vania already had a name in mind.

Seeing her staring at her phone in a daze, Hanson sat in front of her and took the phone from her hand. "Is the person you are looking at on the phone better-looking than I am?"

"No," Vania replied subconsciously. Deep down, she knew that no one could compare to him.

"Then why are you zoning out while looking at your phone?" Hanson grumbled in a jealous voice.

A photo of a male celebrity was displayed on the screen of her phone then.

She must have pressed on it by accident when Hanson grabbed the phone out of her hand earlier.

When she saw it, she immediately blurted out an explanation, "I wasn't looking at him!" She almost brought a hand up and swore.

"Yes."

What concerned him the most now was how Hanson and Vania would react to the news.

Chapter 738

At the same time, the Kepler Family had already arrived at another villa, where the whole family sat together, all of them overwhelmed by emotions.

Thomas had his head hung low as he worried about what had happened that day.

Unlike him, Yvonne was especially calm—it was as if a different person had come back instead.

"They will know sooner or later since I am back. Don't sweat over it, Thomas."

She didn't mind publicly becoming their enemies. It didn't matter if it was Hanson or Vania; Yvonne was going to take her revenge regardless.

Thomas went stiff when he heard that. The woman felt like a stranger to him.

Despite that, Yvonne continued to say, "Isn't Vania very good? I will have to compete with her to see who is better."

She wanted to start from being an actress.

She would snatch Hanson from Vania's side, and then ruthlessly dump Hanson. Yvonne wanted them to feel the pain she had to go through.

Knowing that his sister had been corrupted, Thomas worriedly cautioned, "It is too dangerous for you to do this. You might not win."

At that, Yvonne declared, "Thomas, you should trust me."

"Fine."

She was his sister, after all. He couldn't possibly let her face her enemies by herself.

With that, he used his personal connections and opened a new entertainment company just to prepare Yvonne for her first movie.

Other than that, the actors and actresses who will star in that movie would all be newbies, as their main goal was to make Yvonne famous.

Vania had laughed out loud when she heard the news. It seems like the Keplers are willing to go all out financially for Yvonne this time, she mused.

Since Yvonne hadn't done anything that would compromise Vania's life, Vania didn't see a point in making the first move and getting herself in trouble. She hated anything troublesome.

The second movie she invested in had also started filming right about then. She wasn't the director this time, but Jennifer and Bryan were still the protagonists.

Come to think of it, it was coincidental how the filming location of their movie was the same as Yvonne's. In a way, bumping into each other time after time again was fate at work.

Jennifer didn't have a good impression of Yvonne.

Even their meeting now was like their first time seeing each other. There were sparks of anger coming exuded out of them both.

"Gosh, I was wondering who you were. Aren't you the young miss of the Kepler Family?" Jennifer sneered. Her attitude was different depending on who she was dealing with.

Yvonne's face went cold after she heard her words. No longer the person she used to be, she spat, "I must have given you the impression that you can walk all over my head anytime you want before."

Chapter 739

Bryan was caught off-guard by Yvonne's words. He never thought he would hear such ridicule coming out of her mouth. "You really have changed," he commented.

He then opened his mouth again as though he was going to say something again, but he ended up not saying anything.

Sporting a cold look on her face, Yvonne didn't have the slightest intention to respond to his words. Truth was, she did change, and it was all because of Vania and Hanson.

However, Yvonne almost forgot she also had Bryan she needed to deal with.

Bryan had already decided on ignoring her then. "Let's go," he said to Jennifer.

"Mm." Jennifer glanced at Yvonne before she left with Bryan.

After they walked away, Bryan sighed at the thought of Yvonne's change. "Let's just ignore her in the future."

He couldn't help but think that the current Yvonne was somewhat scary. He had to tell Hanson about her.

"Got it."

Jennifer, who also felt the same way, sent a message to Vania about the encounter.

Vania was quite surprised to receive the update from them both.

What a pair of cuties, she cooed to herself. I need to make them as popular as I can afford to.

Since our paths keep intertwining with Yvonne's, we will just wait and see what happens.

Right when she was deep in her thoughts, Linda knocked on her door and came in. "Boss, Mr. Jones is here."

Upon hearing the name, Vania raised her eyebrows and asked, "Liam Jones?"

"Yes." Linda nodded. "He is waiting for you at the lounge."

Why did he suddenly come to the company without warning? Vania quietly wondered.

It wouldn't be right for her to not meet Liam. However, her man might be jealous if she did. After all, Hanson wasn't on the best terms with Liam.

Even Vania felt that Liam's attitude toward her was inappropriate.

But I could be the one who is reading too much into it...

After pondering over it for a while, she finally instructed, "Please bring him here."

She then took out her phone and texted Hanson right after she said that.

'Reporting to my darling. Liam Jones has just arrived at my workplace.'

Hehe, I am such an obedient wife to automatically report about things that happen to me! Vania proudly thought as she adorably looked at her phone.

Hanson's reply came almost immediately. 'Good girl. I will give you a reward at home.'

Reward? Vania subconsciously stroked her waist when she saw the word. She had a feeling Hanson's 'reward' wasn't going to be something nice.

Chapter 740

Liam continued to keep mum until he finished the entire glass of juice. ""I haven't seen Bryan for a while. I am going to see him on set tonight. Let's have dinner together."

It indeed had been a long time since the few of them last had a meal together.

Knowing that it was useless for her to refuse, Vania nodded and agreed, "Sure. I can check the progress of the filming as well."

"We'll leave it as that, then." He stood up to leave.

Vania quickly got up to send him off as well. She had been hoping that he would leave soon, lest she kept feeling awkward like this.

As he reached the door, he stopped in his tracks and offered, "I will pick you up tonight."

"No need to trouble yourself," she smilingly blurted out her rejection. "Hanson will be here."

Liam understood what she meant, so he stopped pushing. "Alright. I will see you on set."

"Okay."

Vania was definitely confused by his behavior then. Did he come just for something like that?

Couldn't he have called or messaged me? Why did he make a trip here?

She always felt that Liam's gaze when he looked at her was as if he was looking at another person through her.

It always gave her discomfort when his eyes fell on her. She was Vania Greyson, not a substitute for anyone.

Putting aside these thoughts, she continued to work until evening came, and she and Hanson went to the set together.

However, they didn't expect that they would meet Yvonne and Thomas as soon as they got together.

The sudden meeting made Thomas flush in embarrassment. After all, he was the one who arranged for Yvonne to come back from abroad.

He could only start the conversation first. "What a coincidence," he muttered.

As he spoke, his eyes, which were filled with inexplicable emotions, were plastered on Vania.

Vania, however, had her gaze on Hanson the whole time. She didn't even spare Thomas one glance.

Liam kept playing the part of the peacemaker as he suggested with a chuckle, "Since we have met, let's have dinner together. We haven't seen each other in so long, anyway."

Thomas rejected that idea from the bottom of his heart upon hearing that. He didn't think it was right to do so with Yvonne around.

But before he could speak, Yvonne already answered, "Are you sure you will be able to enjoy the dinner if I were to join?"

Everyone was shocked when they heard her words.

In the past, she would have tried any way possible to have a meal with them because she would have the chance to get closer to Hanson.

Putting aside these thoughts, she continued to work until evening came, and she and Hanson went to the set together.

Her saying something like that only earned her odd gazes from everyone, Thomas included.

Her saying something like that only earned her odd gazes from everyone, Thomas included.