

Her Seven LBG 771

Chapter 771

However, Linda came in with the information soon afterward. After all, it was a piece of cake for them to look into such things. "Boss, he does have a jade mine under his name that's been operating smoothly, but the Kepler Family is the jade mine's largest shareholder."

That explains it, thought Vania with a sneer. "Is it Benjamin or Thomas?" The right to control the Keplers' family business had always been in Benjamin's hands, but there had been signs of Thomas taking over the family business recently. Moreover, Thomas didn't care much about what happened in the army anymore.

"It's Thomas." Linda had found out the shareholder's name.

When Vania heard this, her sneer deepened. Liam really is Thomas' close buddy, huh? To think that he came up with a business collaboration in order for me to make it up with the Keplers. What a brilliant scheme! That being said, I'm not someone who'd take relationships into consideration. Since I can take 70 percent of the profits, why should I say no? She smirked. Apparently, she already had plans of her own. She said to Linda, "Just pretend that we don't know this. Let him follow up on it slowly."

Linda instantly realized what Vania meant. She replied with a smile, "In that case, I'll draft an agreement." Didn't he say that we can make demands as we please? In that case, we'll make more demands.

Vania smiled meaningfully. "Go ahead."

"Yes, Boss."

Meanwhile, Thomas had been showing up on Yvonne's film set these days for the purpose of meeting Vania by chance. However, he didn't expect that Vania hadn't come to the movie set over the past few days. There wasn't any good news from Liam either, so he had no choice but to be patient.

This afternoon, however, he couldn't restrain himself anymore. Walking into the movie set, he found Bryan, who was taking a break. Sitting beside the man, he said with a smile, "I never thought you'd like acting so much. To think that you can persevere for so long." Bryan had never shown perseverance in anything before.

Bryan smiled. "Well, I have to show my talent in some way, right? I can't keep being outshone by you and Hanson." His attitude toward Thomas had never changed. After all, relationships between men weren't as complicated as those between women.

"How much longer before this movie of yours wraps up filming?" Thomas tried to pump Bryan for information. "Why doesn't Vania come here anymore?"

Bryan told Thomas the whole truth without hiding anything. "The recent scenes are relatively simple, so Vania seldom comes here. We'll wrap up filming in two more months, I think."

Thomas pondered for a moment. Yvonne would finish filming her scenes in a month's time, upon which time he'd no longer have an excuse to visit Vania's movie set. By then, he wouldn't be able to meet her by chance.

Chapter 772

In her opinion, Bryan might have grown weary of how Thomas was. However, as Thomas' mind was somewhere else, he couldn't detect the sarcasm in Yvonne's words and only said, "Just idle talk. They'll be leaving a month after we do."

That means my film will be done ahead of schedule, Yvonne thought before she mentally noted the timing down. She wanted her film to be released before Vania's so that she would be able to win back the public's favor and be a winner in the Hillsworth Film Award that was to be awarded in two months. Since the award wasn't too prestigious, it would come down to a vote of popularity instead. That meant if Vania were to be nominated along with her, the chances of her being a winner would be slim. With an idea already in mind, she said, "Thomas, you don't have to fetch me home tonight."

"You have plans?" Thomas immediately became wary upon hearing his sister was going out.

Yvonne smiled. "Thomas, aren't you being too wary with me? I'm just planning to go meet my old friends."

Thomas knew that Yvonne would always go partying with her friends. However, he still felt uneasy, as the timing for this was suspicious. Looking into her eyes, he tried gauging the truth to her words. In the end, though, he caved to her pleading eyes and nodded in assent. "Alright then. Don't be reckless out there. Do call me if something happens, alright?" What he feared the most was his sister going out there and starting some problems for Vania. Not only would his sister be in danger from doing so, but he would also no longer be able to meet with Vania anymore.

Naturally, Yvonne knew of her brother's worries. Smiling, she said, "Don't worry." She knew better now than to start problems with Vania on her own. This time, she would instigate others to do it for her. With a frosty look in her eyes, she said, "Thomas, I'm going for the shoot now. You can head back home first."

"Alright." Thomas left a few instructions for the people on the scene before he left.

Meanwhile, at 6:00PM in a certain café in Hammond.

Chapter 773

Yvonne gave a cold snort upon hearing Kiki suggesting a luxury car without any hesitation. Here I thought she was a smart one, but I guess this is all she amounts to. She knew now just how greedy the woman in front of her was with her first demand being a luxury car that was worth tens of millions. Then, she said meaningfully, "That would depend if you can seize the opportunity here. As long as you do that, even a newcomer like you can become a worldwide celebrity." Then, she deliberately used Vania as an example. "Just look at how popular Vania had made Bryan Jones. All it took was four months for a trackless newcomer like him to become a movie star."

Kiki understood what Yvonne meant, but still kept a smile on her face. "But, I don't have such an opportunity. I haven't met anyone that could help me that way."

"True." Yvonne nodded. "With how complicated the entertainment industry is, not everyone is able to make a living here." Tapping the table with her finger, she moved closer to Kiki and said quietly, "But, there is an opportunity right here in front of you. The question is whether you want to take it."

Surprised, Kiki grinned from ear to ear, which showed her intention of accepting Yvonne's offer. "How could I refuse? I've been waiting all my life to have a chance to climb to the top of the ladder."

Yvonne chuckled in disgust. "Even with your silver tongue, you still weren't given any benefits from Vania? It must be hard on you to keep treating her with this much respect."

Naturally, Kiki knew of the feud between Yvonne and Vania. However, since she couldn't fully comprehend why Yvonne had asked for her, she could only lower her head. She said in a slightly aggrieved manner, "Perhaps it's because I'm still not good enough to be noticed by Ms. Greyson."

Clicking her tongue inwardly, Yvonne thought, What an act. No wonder she could fool Vania for a moment there. If only she wasn't so impatient, then she might have already succeeded by now. Before meeting Kiki, she had already investigated just what kind of person Kiki was and what she had done. If she could even go as far as drinking poison herself, she must not be a simple woman.

Seeing that Yvonne had remained silent for a moment too long, Kiki started to feel uneasy. She anxiously asked, "I wonder just what is the opportunity you have mentioned to me, Miss Kepler?"

As impatient as ever, Yvonne thought with disgust. However, she confidently said, "Naturally, it's an opportunity that will grant your heart's desires."

My heart's desires? Kiki didn't know which desire Yvonne was referring to, as she had many desires.

Chapter 774

However, Yvonne kept a neutral expression and said while stirring the coffee in her hand, "That's fine."

Unable to read Yvonne's expression, Kiki was in the dark as to whether Yvonne was angry with her.

Kiki was still keeping her eyes discreetly on Yvonne's expression when the latter said, "From today onward, you'll be under me. I will help you achieve whatever your wishes are."

Kiki believed in Yvonne's words, as she knew the Kepler Family was capable of doing so. Even when Yvonne was in such shape, the Kepler Family could still overcome all obstacles and prepared for their daughter to have a large production for her upcoming film for the sake of winning an award. Kiki knew that turning someone like her into a first-rate superstar in the entertainment industry wasn't a difficult task for that family. Hence, she decided to accept the deal with Yvonne. "Miss Kepler, since you're generous to give such an opportunity to me, I will definitely be your hands and legs."

"You'd better remember what you've said here today. I wouldn't like for you to go back on your word." Yvonne gave Kiki one last chance to back out here. If the latter affirmed her decision, then she would no longer be able to go back on the deal by being vague.

"Since Miss Kepler will be helping me in my journey to be a first-rate superstar in the industry, you're basically my talent scout. How could I ever betray my own talent scout?"

Yvonne sneered, "I'm glad to hear you say so. I will arrange for a staff member to discuss with you about your new contract tomorrow. From now on, that staff will come to you whenever I need you. There is no need for you to come and meet me on your own."

Slightly taken aback at how soon the contract would be ready, Kiki hurriedly nodded. "Understood, Miss Kepler. I will keep that in mind." Although she knew that Yvonne was using her, she was using Yvonne as well.

Listening to Kiki's attempts to flatter her, Yvonne was quite pleased. Then, she got up and gave a sidelong look at Kiki. "I've already ordered the specialty of this café as your dinner. You must have never tried it before, right? Go ahead and have a taste." As the café they were in was a famous and expensive café in Hammond, the common man wouldn't have the chance of having them. Naturally, that meant Kiki wouldn't have been a customer in the café before.

"Then I will enjoy your generosity, Miss Kepler," Kiki replied, albeit uncomfortable with Yvonne's patronizing attitude.

However, Yvonne didn't bother with Kiki's feelings. Before she left the café, she gave a warning to her. "Remember not to let anyone know about our deal."

Submissively, Kiki said, "Yes, I will do as I'm told."

Meanwhile, in Eddie's darkroom.

"So, something like that happened?" Eddie was lying sideways on the couch sluggishly. However, he immediately perked up the moment he heard what had happened.

Chapter 775

"But, make sure our men stay alert in tracking them. They're a bunch of sly foxes and aren't as easy to deal with, unlike Yvonne and Kiki."

"I will have our men be extra careful." Brandon agreed with Eddie as always.

Tired of listening to the same old answer, Eddie lay sideways back on the couch and gestured for the others to leave.

Elsewhere, Hanson, who had always picked his wife up from work on time daily, had sent a message to Vania stating that he wouldn't be picking her up from work today. Looking at her phone in slight confusion, Vania thought, What is wrong with this man? He's been acting weird all day.

Meanwhile, Hanson was humming to himself while pouring himself a cup of tea before he sat on the couch and leisurely took a sip of the tea.

Vania was greeted with the same scenery of Hanson sitting on the couch when she got back home. Blinking in confusion, she said, "You look like you're in a good mood today."

Turning his attention to his wife, Hanson said in joy, "Darling, don't you think that something's different today?"

Hmm? Vania thought to herself before she scanned the room. After noticing that everything in the house was the same as usual, she asked, "Did something change here?"

This woman can't even notice it when it's right in front of her? Hanson sighed before he said, "Did you not notice that I am sitting inside the house here, darling?"

Vania's confusion grew after she heard Hanson's question. "Where else would you be if not inside the house?"

"That's not the point." Hanson felt his wife wasn't on the same page as him.

"What is it, then?" At this point, Vania felt as though she was playing a game of charades with Hanson, as she had absolutely no clue what the latter was saying.

With a smug expression, Hanson said proudly, "Darling, didn't you say you wanted to keep me from coming back inside here? Yet, I am now sitting here as usual."

Ah, so that was it. How childish. Does he think that I would keep him out of the house when it was just a casual remark?

"Darling, just look at yourself. What kind of expression is that?" Hanson acted like an angry child, as he was dissatisfied with Vania's reaction.

Just as Vania wanted to say that Hanson was being childish, she changed her mind upon seeing his current expression. "Wow, I never thought my husband was this good. Let me give you a round of applause." She then clapped her hands.

Chapter 776

'Looking forward to seeing you two on a reality show.'

When Hanson saw the comment, a thought came to his mind at once. A reality show? What's that?

Despite not knowing what it was, he could create a whole new show without regard to how it was usually filmed.

If Vania participated in a show with him, they could be lovey-dovey on TV. That was just what he wanted; he desired to illustrate that to Liam to avoid Liam looking for his wife on a daily basis.

At any rate, he couldn't wait any longer and arranged it in an instant.

On the other hand, when Vania saw him posting such random news on the Internet again, she wasn't as agitated as the first time. She just laughed to herself, not expecting her man to be a president who loved to show his affection in public.

The next morning, there was a knock on the door around 5.00AM.

Of course, Theresa was the one who opened the door since Hanson and Vania were still asleep at this time; they had never been awake at this time.

When she opened the door, she saw six people pointing cameras at her. She was startled by this and stammered, "W-Who are you?" She hadn't been in such a situation before, so she was afraid that these people were reporters who were trying to stir up trouble.

In that instant, a chubby man said politely, "Hi, we're the production team from 'On the Road With You'. We're here to film."

A production team? Theresa was stunned for a moment. If a production team came to film, Vania would've told her beforehand to let her prepare, but her employer mentioned nothing of this. Did she forget about it?

She didn't dare make the decision herself, so she replied politely, "Please wait for a moment. I'll get Mr. and Mrs. Luke."

"Okay. Take your time." The director, Silas Barnes, was still very polite.

This was the president's house, after all, so the cameramen, host, and director didn't dare to film without permission.

However, this didn't stop them from exclaiming in secret. This house is really magnificent. There were hundreds of antiques at the entrance of the house, making it look extremely luxurious.

At this moment, Hanson was still in his dream with his wife in his arms.

Theresa came to the door of the master bedroom and knocked softly. "Mr. Luke. Mrs. Luke..."

When Vania heard the knock, she kicked Hanson unhappily, asking him to get down and open the door.

Chapter 777

If that simple instance of Hanson coming down the stairs was posted online, it would probably be the most popular post on the internet.

The director said smilingly, "Today, we will be filming at a place quite far from here. We're short on time, and we have an important mission to carry out. We can get more materials to work with if we start filming early."

Hanson nodded. "Let's begin, then."

Director Barnes coughed slightly and reminded him, "President Luke, this is a reality show about couples, so we can't just interview you alone. Your wife has to be here as well."

Hanson was instantly troubled. He hadn't told Vania about this yet.

What if Vania declined? Hanson would be in an awkward spot by then, wouldn't he?

He couldn't help but clench his fists, feeling a little nervous. "She hasn't woken up yet. I'll go get her."

Then, he asked Theresa to serve the crew some drinks.

Hanson returned to the master bedroom and said in a gentle tone, "Darling, it's time to get up."

Vania cracked open an eye and glanced at the time, then turned around with her back to Hanson.

She obviously didn't want to get up.

Hanson could only change direction and say to Vania, "Darling, it really is time to get up."

"Darling, wake up..."

After Hanson called her a few times, Vania finally responded. She said in dissatisfaction, "What is it? Why are you waking me up so early?"

Hanson touched his nose and said truthfully, "I accepted an invitation to film a reality show, and the crew is already here. We'll be departing in a bit."

"Huh?" Vania immediately perked up. "What reality show?"

Which director was bold enough to invite Hanson to their show?

Hanson touched his nose again as he said guiltily, "It's a reality show about couples. I'm not very sure about the details, either."

After all, he had arranged for this show overnight, so he still wasn't clear what exactly was going on.

He couldn't help but complain in his mind that Larry was getting worse at his job.

Hanson only told Larry to arrange it immediately, but he never asked Larry to establish a crew.

Now that the recording would be starting so suddenly, he felt like he couldn't quite manage it.

Vania glanced at Hanson and sat up. "Are you saying that I won't be able to reject this show?"

Hanson nodded. Even if she could reject it, he wouldn't agree to it. It was a good chance for them to display their love for each other in public, so of course he wouldn't give up.

Vania scratched her head. This timing was too much of a hurdle for someone like her, who had difficulties getting up in the morning.

After quickly changing her clothes and heading downstairs, she made it to the living room to see everyone seated on the couch, looking at her.

Chapter 778

Faced with Vania's reprimanding look, Hanson said quietly in her ear, "Sorry, my bad."

Vania ignored him and said awkwardly to Silas, "I'm still not quite sure how this show is structured."

Silas immediately explained, "This is a reality show about couples going on vacation. We've invited a total of four couples to go on vacation together. However, we'll be going to lesser-known spots—locations where you might not be familiar with. Then, we'll throw in some games to strengthen the couples' relationships."

Vania nodded. Since they would be leaving the babies behind, she asked, "Where are we going this time?"

"Since it's the first episode of the show, we've chosen Alp Village as our destination. From Hammond, it would take about six hours to arrive there."

Six hours wasn't too far, but it wasn't too near either.

"What are we doing after that?" She didn't want to leave her babies for too long.

After that, Silas hesitated for a bit because they had only received this project overnight, after all.

They had planned shows overnight before and were experienced in producing similar shows. However, to proceed smoothly, they had only made arrangements for the first episode without thinking about their next steps.

At Vania's sudden question, he could only smile awkwardly. "We'll keep this a secret for now. It adds to the mystery, doesn't it?"

Hanson nodded. Just as expected of a director, this person had great reflexes.

She nodded and stopped asking. "Let us begin, then."

There was an awkward smile on Silas' face. In actuality, the cameras had been rolling for quite some time now.

Then, the hostess spoke up. "Why don't we make the introductions?"

Hanson smiled as he said, "With my extreme popularity, do I still need to introduce myself?"

Is there anyone who doesn't know who I am?

Hearing that, Vania rolled her eyes while sitting aside. Her actions were too obvious, and it was caught on camera.

The cameraman had a feeling that this expression would be a trending meme soon.

As soon as Hanson finished speaking, the atmosphere instantly froze.

The crew didn't know what to say in return.

Moreover, they even thought that Hanson had a point.

Fortunately, Vania handled the situation and patted him, saying, "Let's just follow the crew's orders, alright?"

If she were the director, she definitely wouldn't get Hanson on her show. It would be a nightmare to film him, so she pitied Silas greatly.

Chapter 779

Just then, the hostess held back a smile as she said to the two, "In that case, let's pack up and get ready for departure."

Just then, Vania spoke up. "Can you give me ten minutes to organize my work? The great president didn't tell me beforehand that we're going on a show, so I haven't arranged my work yet."

"Of course." The crew was very accommodating of the two famous figures.

Vania went to the study, leaving the crew and Hanson behind.

Just then, Silas spoke up in a trembling voice. "President Luke, can we film the house for a bit? It might provide us with more materials to work with."

Hanson said, "Sure."

He wanted to show everyone his lovey-dovey everyday life with Vania.

The hostess pointed at some antiques and asked, "Can you tell us about these, President Luke?"

Hanson said nonchalantly, "These are all fake."

"Fake?"

Everyone in the crew exclaimed in surprise.

"They all have minor defects. My wife said that only this type of work can be unique, and it can increase its value that way."

Hanson shrugged. "Sadly, even until now, these things haven't budged in value."

The hostess smiled unabashedly.

However, she never expected Hanson to say right into the camera, "I let the woman of my dreams do whatever she wants to. After all, I can afford it."

His display of love came all too sudden.

Even the professional hostess couldn't say anything in return.

After thinking for a while, she finally said, "President Luke, do you usually tidy up around the house? In particular, do you pack the things you need when you go on a business trip?"

"My wife packs everything for me," Hanson said stubbornly, "She always prepares everything I need. It's too bad that I can't bring her along as well."

As Hanson said that, he even stuck out his tongue, expressing how unfortunate it was.

The hostess thought, Even though this is a show about couples, you don't have to pile on the PDA so much.

She coughed and said, "In that case, why don't you pack the luggage for this trip? President Greyson is busy with work right now, so it's a good opportunity to surprise her."

Hanson said jokingly, "It'll be more of a scare than a surprise."

He had no idea how to pack luggage.

Chapter 780

This was the closet of her dreams!

It took up the entire half of the second floor, and it covered more than three thousand square feet.

Also, it was divided into many areas. Cosmetics, outfits, and accessories were all in here.

The hostess said in shock, "Does this closet belong to President Greyson alone?"

Hanson nodded. "Yes."

Ever since he got married to Vania, he only had a wardrobe to himself, which was located in the guest room.

Even now, his wardrobe hadn't gotten an upgrade.

Looking at his wife's things, Hanson started to complain. He allowed the camera to track him up close, then he began muttering, "Do all women like to collect makeup?"

The hostess nodded cooperatively. "That is correct."

Hanson said in confusion, "Your face is only so big, though. Where do you put all these things?"

He looked curiously at Vania's cosmetics while touching and feeling them.

The hostess reminded him out of kindness, "President Luke, I think you should stop touching them."

As soon as she finished speaking, the item in Hanson's hand fell onto the floor.

The scene froze instantly, and the others could feel Hanson's face cracking.

Hanson was so terrified that he hastily picked up the item. He checked it, but he wasn't sure if it was alright. He found a corner and carefully placed the loose powder there.

After all, there were so many things, so his wife might not notice it.

Then, he ran far away. "You all saw that; I never touched anything."

The crew was speechless.

They had never seen Hanson so scared before.

"President Luke, let's start packing." The hostess nudged the program forward.

Just then, Hanson spoke up in a troubled manner. "I still don't know where the luggage cases are."

The crew was beginning to wonder if this really was Hanson's house.

Fortunately, Hanson claimed that he could find it.

However, in the end, it was Theresa who found it for him.

Looking at the empty luggage case, Hanson grumbled, "Let's start from the top and work our way down to the bottom of the human body."

However, when Hanson looked at the items on the dressing table, he gave up.

"I think we should let my wife do the packing." He honestly had no idea what those things were for.

Fortunately, Vania didn't take more than ten minutes to finish assigning her work.

Seeing her husband standing woefully in front of the luggage, Vania asked, "What's wrong?"

Hanson held Vania in his arms as if it were the most natural thing in the world. "I'm trying to pack up. We're leaving soon."
