

Her Seven LBG 941

Chapter 941

Hanson narrowed his eyes slightly and looked at April.

April gave him a slight nod, indicating that he had checked this room, and no one would be able to spy on them.

Only then did Hanson massage his temple and drag Vania up from the hospital bed. "That's enough. They are long gone. Stop your acting."

Vania instantly stopped wailing and instead regarded every one with a bright grin. "What do you think? My acting is brilliant, isn't it?"

Hanson nodded in agreement, although his mind was saying something else. Her acting was brilliant, albeit a little too exaggerated, but he did not dare to criticize her. So, he turned his focus to Lily.

"What's going on?"

James answered, "It's Lilith. She poisoned her, so we outwitted her with her trick."

"Lilith," Hanson snarled viciously. "How did you guys find out?"

Jack snorted derisively before he commented, "She wrapped the poison in the shape of candy and gave it to Lily. Thankfully, Lily's highly skilled in medicine and immediately noticed that the candy was laced with poison. She gave us the look, and we instantly acted out the play."

It was fortunate that Lily knew medicine... Otherwise, he couldn't bear to think about the consequences.

The rest of his children were also filled with righteous fury. "Daddy, that woman is vile! We can't let her off the hook so easily."

"That's right!" Morales and Morgan were equally indignant. "How dare she hurt Lily!"

"This is outrageous!" Jude was even more furious because the same people had poisoned him the other day.

It was Lily's turn this time, which would only mean there would be a next time. What would happen then? Maybe all his siblings would be poisoned one day.

The children were also frustrated because they were still young and couldn't go up against adults. Otherwise, they would find the bad guys and beat the crap out of them.

Hanson reassured the children, "Don't worry, kids. I noted every action they took. I'll make them pay for what they have done to you."

The children knew that they needed to remain calm. It would likely affect the whole situation if they acted rashly and unwisely. Hence, they nodded obediently. "Okay, got it."

"Good." Hanson ruffled their hair gently in comfort and then asked Lily with concern, "Are you sure your body is fine?"

"Don't worry, Daddy. I'm fine."

Nevertheless, Hanson was still worried. The poison was so noxious that it gave him creeps whenever he thought about it. Thus, he turned to April and urged, "You'd better check on her one more time. Make sure she's excellent."

Chapter 942

"Yvonne?" April looked a little skeptical. His expression was similar to Bryan's when he heard the news, and his entire being radiated disbelief. "What do you mean that they teamed up? Do you mean to say that the Keplers are also going after Hanson?"

Vania shrugged indifferently. "I heard that she ran away from home. Maybe she had nowhere to go, so she defected to Eddie."

"Ran away from home?" He was even more confused. This gossip was so bizarre that he couldn't help himself from asking.

He knew very well how much the Keplers valued Yvonne, their youngest daughter. She could go anywhere, even if she ran away from home because she was upset. Moreover, why would she go to Eddie? She was jumping right into a trap.

He had always been convinced that Eddie could not lay his hands on Luke Corporation.

"Are you so shocked that you were stunned speechless?" Vania chuckled as she observed his expression.

April nodded blankly as he was indeed shocked. Then, he looked at Lily on the bed and asked seriously, "She has something to do with today's matter, doesn't she?"

"I think it was her idea and Eddie's doing." There was a hint of ruthlessness in Vania's voice.

Lily's poisoning should be a gift from Eddie to her.

"In that case, we're in big trouble." He was worried that Thomas would strike because he was in charge of the army.

"No, we're not." Vania was not worried at all. She knew the Kepler Family's various secret bases like the back of her hand. Even if the Keplers united with Eddie for the sake of Yvonne, at the end of the day, they had no chance of winning.

"Does Thomas know about this?" April cared about Thomas' thoughts.

"I think he knows." Vania didn't want to talk about this.

Even though April was shocked, he noticed her reluctance to discuss this matter, so he stopped pursuing the topic. "I'm going to work now. Someone will deliver your lunch later."

Hanson nodded. "Alright. Watch out."

They had no appetite after what happened to Lily, so they didn't care about lunch. In fact, they should show to the world that they were utterly preoccupied with Lily's condition to bother about food.

"Don't worry. I'll be careful."

Meanwhile, Eddie came to Yvonne and showed her a video.

It was the video where Vania was making a scene in the hospital.

Chapter 943

Unbeknownst to Yvonne, Eddie also regarded her as lesser. Both of them despised each other, but they feigned friendliness for the sake of their goals as they conspired to take over Luke Corporation.

Eddie thought for a moment and suggested, "To show my sincerity, I'll allow you to decide whom you want to deal with next. Say a name, and I'll get it down."

It didn't matter how he loathed her. He still needed to gain her trust now.

Yvonne's eyes turned icy as she went through the names of those who stood against her in her mind and finally made a decision. "Bryan Jones! I'd like him to suffer for a bit."

He was a rich kid without any worries, so she would let him feel the viciousness of reality. She would make him pay for what he did to her at the film festival.

Eddie nodded. "Oh, him." His tone carried a note of incredulity; he honestly didn't believe she would name that person.

This person was not a part of his plan, to begin with, nor did he want to offend the Jones Family, but he couldn't refuse Yvonne's request.

After all, his collaboration with her had just taken place, and he did not want her to backtrack at this moment.

How could he lose what he had gotten his hands on with great difficulty?

After he hesitated for a moment, he said, "Give me some time to plan on how I'm going to deal with him."

"What?" She glared at him in great disdain. "It's such a simple thing. What do you need to plan?" She had a feeling that he didn't plan to do anything.

"Do you have any suggestions?" Eddie frankly didn't have a plan in mind right now, so her idea could come in handy.

Despite his expectation that she would at least have something cooking, she blurted, "No, I don't have any suggestions. Don't tell me that you won't be able to do such a simple thing?"

She sized him up. "If you can't even do this, I'll have to consider our future collaboration."

Yvonne's threat drove Eddie up the wall, but he couldn't blow a fuse and have her dealt with. He knew that pissing her off wouldn't do him any good as she was a valuable resource to him.

After he thought over his options and took the time to calm himself, he chuckled. "Okay, I'll do it since you want me to."

Although his tone was doting, it did nothing to endear him to her. If anything, she was even more repulsed by him. She leaned on the sofa leisurely and said, "I'll give you one day. I want to see Bryan pay for what he did to me."

One day?! Eddie's gaze turned stone cold, and his resentment toward Yvonne had risen to extreme heights.

That's easy for her to say! How can I come up with a complicated plan in one day?! She, of all people, should know that these plans need a delicate touch unless she wants to be prosecuted by the law or worse! She wants me to piss the Jones Family off completely, doesn't she?

Chapter 944

Eddie was nothing but a loser's son who wasn't even presentable to upper society. He achieved nothing after competing with Hanson for so many years, so Yvonne didn't expect anything from him.

However, she was forced to work with Eddie since he could help her deal with Vania for the time being.

After Eddie walked out the door, he demanded Brandon, "What do you want to say to me?" He sounded a little grumpy and frustrated.

"We can't afford to fall out with Yvonne for now. She's a valuable asset for us."

"I know!" Eddie snapped. "But she's too bossy. I'll consider replacing her if she continues to be so arrogant."

"You have to be patient to achieve great things. Sometimes, we have to swallow out frustration no matter how hard it is," Brandon advised. He viewed the entire situation from an outsider's perspective. Hence, he had a more big-picture view of their current situation.

"But I've been patient for so long now," Eddie gritted his teeth and snarled. He had been suppressing his anger for many years and had had enough.

"Young Master—"

"Alright. That's enough," he hissed impatiently. "Let's think about what to do with Bryan."

He didn't want to make a move against Bryan at all because he didn't intend to have one more enemy. However, if he harmed Bryan, the Jones Family would team up with Hanson and attack him.

"But even if we didn't do anything to Bryan, the Jones Family would show their support to Hanson, too," Brandon stated blandly.

Eddie frowned at his astute observation. He had thought of this too, but it would still be better if he didn't harm Bryan.

Brandon understood his dilemma, and he sighed. "But we have to meet her demands now."

"A troublesome demand, that is. Do you have any ideas?"

Brandon said with a cunning grin, "I heard that Bryan's new drama is about to start shooting. How about we do something on his work and frame Yvonne for it?"

It was her idea in the first place. It would be better for the Jones Family to hate the Keplers than to hate them.

Eddie suddenly huffed in amusement. "I heard that she had harmed Vania in the drama set before, but she was discovered."

"That's because her methods were subpar," Brandon scorned. "Of course, she was discovered."

"Okay. Let's use her method again." Since she had done it before, he would copy her method and didn't have to bother thinking about a new idea. It would be best for him to do so, considering that she had a history of doing such foolish things in the past. "Tell our men to be more careful this time. We can't leave anything that would implicate us behind."

"Alright." Brandon nodded. "I'll assign our men to do it immediately."

Chapter 945

"How about I call you Mr. Bryan?"

It sounded neither too formal nor too casual. Bryan found it acceptable, so he nodded in approval.

"Sure."

He turned his head and was about to leave when Minnie kept smiling at him and quipped in an ambiguous tone, "I'm a fan of you and Jennifer. I support both of you."

As she spoke, she made a cheering gesture.

When he heard the mention of Jennifer's name, he had a slight smile on his face. "Thank you for your support."

"You're welcome." Minnie kept smiling. Then, she approached him and asked in a gossipy tone, "When will Jennifer come to visit you on set? I would love to have her autograph."

The first thing a fan would ask from their idol was an autograph.

Bryan's smile became even more genuine. "She has a commercial shooting these days. So, she will visit the set after her shoot is over."

He was instantly delighted at the thought of his girlfriend coming to visit him on set.

His smile was so brilliant that Minnie was dazed for a moment. Then, she regained her composure and clapped her hands. "Wonderful! Please ask for her signature on my behalf."

"Sure," Bryan said immediately.

"I have some wirework and action scenes today. I'll be getting ready first."

"Alright, see you later." Minnie also turned around and went to the dressing room.

This drama was a period drama. The role played by Bryan was a martial arts expert, so he had a lot of action scenes.

When the staff saw him coming over for early preparation, they greeted him enthusiastically, "Hi. We are ready. Do you want to start shooting now?"

Bryan checked the environment and gave the green light, "Okay."

He had always been serious about filming and would never use a body double as long as he could complete the act himself. Therefore, he was familiar with wirework.

He rehearsed the action scenes in the drama repeatedly and performed his wirework flawlessly. Only then did he say to the director, "Okay, we can start now."

The director was satisfied with his professionalism and dedication. "Alright! Attention, all departments! Make sure we can get one good take."

Then, when they were about to begin the official shooting, there was a sudden shift of staff who operated the wirework. Bryan unconsciously felt that there was something off with them. He didn't remember seeing the employee on the set. In fact, the staff seemed to avoid his gaze and didn't dare to look him in the eye.

"Where's the staff member just now?" Bryan asked.

Chapter 946

Just as everyone panicked, he began to plummet.

At first, he was falling slowly. The director thought that it was a miracle and hoped that Bryan could continue to descend at such a speed

Alas, things went against his will. As soon as he thought of this, the wire began to unravel quickly, and Bryan plunged rapidly.

The director extended his arms forward without hesitation and used himself as a cushion.

Bryan was free-falling at high speed and almost landed on the ground in a blink of an eye.

Everyone gasped in terror and was about to scream when he suddenly stopped.

"Huh?!" everyone shrieked in confusion.

"Quick! Come and help him!" The director was the first to react. He hurriedly gathered his men to save Bryan.

Bryan is patronized by the goddess of luck! The director thought as he frantically tried to get everything in order.

Meanwhile, Bryan was stumped too. Just now, he instinctively closed his eyes and adjusted his falling posture. The wire suddenly stopped just as he was about to hit the ground.

It turned out that the wire machine once again malfunctioned, and the wire suddenly jammed when he was about to hit the ground.

The malfunction saved his life.

After a moment of panic and confusion, everyone went over to help Bryan up. Bryan instinctively turned to look at the staff who operated the wire machine and spotted his bewildered expression at a glance.

Everyone was still reeling when Bryan leaped forward to subdue the aforementioned staff member.

Chapter 947

Minnie's hand froze mid-air as he dodged her approach, but she still looked worried. "Alright then, but you must see a doctor immediately if you don't feel well."

Bryan nodded and left the set.

He called Vania immediately and was surprised to know she was in the hospital now. He thought that something terrible had happened to her since they couldn't talk in detail on the phone. Only after arriving at the hospital did he understand the situation.

"You look quite pale. Are you alright?" Vania asked.

Bryan didn't tell her what happened, but he asked instead, "When are you going to make a move on Yvonne? Count me in."

Vania was taken aback when she heard his harsh tone. "What did she do to you?"

Bryan's face immediately morphed into a furious scowl as he told Vania about the incident on the set. "She's gone too far!"

The word 'vicious' was an understatement to describe Yvonne now.

Vania chuckled. "That's not all. You'll know when you see Lily."

Bryan had seen Lily in the bed when he walked into the ward, but he didn't spare her any thought as the whole family sat around the bed chatting and laughing happily. So, he naturally assumed that she had a minor fever or something similar.

However, he couldn't help being a little worried when he heard Vania's remark. "What's wrong with her?" He then walked to Lily and asked, "How do you feel? Are you okay?"

"I'm fine." Lily nodded. "Mommy's making a big deal out of it."

She felt a little uncomfortable now because she had to lie on her stomach, but other than that, she felt fine.

Vania recounted Lily's incident, and as Bryan listened, he clenched his fists tightly, and a cracking sound came from his knuckles.

Chapter 948

Bryan once again embraced her tightly and gently comforted her, "It's okay. I'm fine."

Jennifer closed her eyes and enjoyed being in his arms. Regardless, her anxiety reached new heights when she heard about Bryan's free-falling due to the malfunctioned wire machine. It was so terrible that her fingers and toes turned cold in unadulterated fear.

"Ahem." Vania cleared her throat in amusement and interrupted the couple's private moment.

Only then did Jennifer notice her. "Sugar mama?! Why are you here?"

Vania said nonchalantly, "This is my daughter's ward." As a parent, she should be here.

Daughter? Jennifer took a look at the patient on the bed, and her heart started pounding like hummingbird wings. "Lily! What happened?"

"She has a cold, but Hanson made a big deal out of it."

Bryan didn't plan to tell Jennifer about the attack because the lesser she knew about it, the safer she was. Despite that, he confided solemnly, "If anyone asks you about Lily, just say that you don't know anything, got it?"

"Got it." She knew the complexity of the world of the rich and powerful, so she sensibly nodded and didn't ask further questions.

"You're the best." Her actions touched Bryan, and he surged forward to hug her.

Vania teased when she watched the loving couple sticking together like magnets, "You'd better leave and stop flaunting your affection for one another in front of us."

Bryan was in a better mood now. Therefore, he grinned and mocked, "What about you and Hanson? Oh, we can't show off our relationship, but you can, huh? This is unfair."

Chapter 949

Her snobbish face drove him up the wall. Hence, he gritted his teeth and snarled, "If you think you're better than me, be my guest and handle this matter yourself. I don't have to work with you either."

Brandon quickly came forward and mediated between them when he saw them arguing. "Miss Kepler, please don't mind him. He isn't angry at you. He's frustrated with himself because he couldn't accomplish the task."

"Did I give you my permission to speak?" Yvonne cut him off rudely.

Brandon shut his mouth with a snap, and his expression turned awkward as no one had ever spoken to him like this before. He suppressed his rising anger and unwillingly apologized, "I'm sorry."

Since he couldn't talk to Yvonne, he turned to Eddie and persuaded him instead, "Young Master, please apologize to Miss Kepler. You have the same goals, so working together is the best choice for you now. Please don't split up because of this matter."

Eddie was in a black mood because of the failed mission. Not only did he fail to kill Bryan, he almost exposed himself. It was an utter waste of his time and money, to say the least.

He wouldn't be in this situation if it weren't for her. He couldn't apologize to her. Thus, he shut his mouth tightly with a stubborn tilt of his chin.

Brandon knew what was running through his mind, so he discretely reminded him, "Young Master, I know that you're upset, but please think of your father."

Eddie glanced at Brandon with a complicated expression. Brandon would never have brought up his father unless he was forced to do so.

At the thought of this, Eddie restrained his rage and apologized to Yvonne with a frown, "I'm sorry for lashing out at you due to my failures. Don't worry. I'll succeed next time."

Chapter 950

"I heard that she is The Great Chemist's apprentice." Eddie frowned. "Can she detoxify the poison?"

It was only a rumor that Lily was the apprentice of The Great Chemist, and no one had confirmed it. Thus, Eddie needed to learn Lily's fundamental skills.

Brandon shrugged indifferently. He was confident, as the poisons in their laboratory were highly deadly. "So what if she really is The Great Chemist's apprentice? She's only five. I don't think she can do anything about the poison."

"But Hanson was detoxified, remember? And also one of his kids." Eddie had lost the means to control Hanson.

Brandon didn't have any explanation for that, but he refused to believe that a child could have the skills to detoxify the poison. "Maybe it's just a coincidence, or maybe The Great Chemist gave them an antidote or something."

Hanson was so fortunate to know The Great Chemist in person.

Eddie, however, did not share the same opinion as Brandon. "You can't be too careful."

He could foresee Yvonne's wrath if he failed again. Meanwhile, another idea flashed in his mind. "Maybe, we can think of a way to convince her to be on our side."

If they could get Lily to submit to them, it would mean that The Great Chemist would be on their side too.

Brandon nodded in agreement with his plan. "What a brilliant idea. I'll make the necessary arrangements immediately."

"Good."

On the other hand, Thomas frowned as he read the news on his phone.

There were many different opinions about Bryan's incident and the malfunctioned wire machine. Nevertheless, most people commented that someone tried to kill him, which was in line with Thomas' assumption.
