Chapter 981 Without Lifting a Finger

Thomas' temper flared again when he saw Yvonne mentioning a 'dream girl' in her message.

However, it hadn't been easy for him to finally get in contact with her. Now wasn't the best time for him to cut short the communication that was hard to come by.

'Yvie, I have no choice but to do this for your and the Keplers' safety. Furthermore, it's only right that you receive your punishment after you make a mistake.'

Thomas continued to bombard her with advice. 'Also, you don't have to worry at all about your life ahead. I'll send you abroad so that you can live happily there.'

'Are you telling me what to do?' Yvonne was also enraged when she read Thomas' messages. 'The conclusion is that you're not going to help me, are you? In that case, don't blame me for not holding back.'

'What are you going to do?'

Thomas had started to worry upon seeing her reply. He had a feeling that Yvonne was going to make the video public.

If she did that, she would ruin the entire Kepler Family.

At that point, he received a voice message from her. She coldly said, "What I will do is none of your concern, dear brother."

Thomas immediately shuddered. He was so close to slamming his phone on the floor.

The video held too many of his secrets that should never be revealed to the public.

He immediately sent her a message on WhatsApp. 'What do you want me to do? I'll do anything, but you must never post this video.'

Yvonne patiently looked at the dozen messages she received in less than 30 seconds.

She could tell how anxious he was from the rate he was sending her messages.

And this was exactly the favorable outcome she wanted. This was the only way he would help her.

He is my brother. Why would he not help me and that sl*t instead?

She deliberately did not reply to Thomas' messages. It felt awesome to watch him beg.

Thomas, who didn't understand why she wasn't replying, sent her messages like he was firing off a cannon at an enemy.

As he did that, he kept his eyes on the news online for fear he would see something related to the video.

The reason he was pleading only got more obvious after half an hour.

It pleased Yvonne to no end when she saw this.

He should have done this right from the start.

Eventually, she lazily wrote him a reply. 'I haven't thought about what you can help me with for now. I'll contact you right after something comes to mind. You have to help me when the time comes, dear brother.'

When Thomas read the message, he could imagine the kind of terrible things she would want him to do.

However, he had no choice but to agree to it now. 'Fine. I will.'

Chapter 982 Runaway Bride—Liam?

Liam subconsciously wanted to refuse Thomas. "I honestly can't handle you after you drink. Why not just say what you have to on the phone?"

If we're meeting up twice a day, we're seeing each other more than a couple would.

Just the thought of him comparing themselves to a couple sent goosebumps all over his body.

Thomas' panicked voice rang out from the phone. "It's urgent. I have to talk to you about it face to face. It's hard to explain on the phone."

Worried that Liam didn't want to meet up, Thomas added reassuringly, "And there's no alcohol involved this time."

It only made sense for them to not drink when it was about something so big.

Thomas finally had someone he could talk to, now that Liam was back.

In the end, Liam reluctantly agreed. "Fine."

After the two decided on their rendezvous, Thomas immediately rushed over to the agreed venue.

Since he got there way earlier than Liam, he kept pestering Liam with phone calls throughout the time Liam hadn't arrived.

Liam's phone had run out of battery by the time he reached the restaurant.

"It's not like I'm your runaway bride. What's gotten your panties in a knot?"

Thomas didn't waste time bantering with him. He immediately put his phone in front of Liam and played the video. "Watch this."

"Someone dared to follow you and take a video of you?" Liam was taken aback. "That's a pretty gutsy move."

Thomas grunted a reply.

Looking at him, Liam asked again, "And you haven't found out who the mastermind is?"

'I have." Thomas then let his head hang as he fell silent. It felt like his words were stuck in his throat.

Liam exclaimed in shock when he saw how disheartened Thomas was. "Don't tell me it's Vania!"

That would be terrible!

Even though everyone had their view about this incident, no one had opened up about it.

If this video was made public, Thomas would definitely be branded as the paramour who destroyed Hanson's marriage.

That would only be the beginning of a whole lot of problems!

"It's not Vania." Thomas must have thought of something as he hit the table hard as if to vent his anger. "If only it was her."

"It's not Vania? Who did it, then? Was it Hanson?" The result will be the same if it was either Vania or Hanson!

No matter how Liam thought about it, he had never once suspected Yvonne.

It was only then that Thomas revealed the truth. "Liam, Yvonne was the one who got someone to take the video."

Chapter 983 Can't Get Any Worse Than This

"That's why I called you." As Thomas spoke, his eyes suddenly went wide.

Noticing his strange gaze, Liam turned in the direction Thomas was looking at. "Is that... Vania and Hanson?"

What are they doing here?

Thomas wasn't sure if it was because of the video, but he clearly got nervous upon seeing the couple.

Liam asked for his opinion. "Should I invite them to our table?"

There was a glint in his eyes as he added, "Or you can be honest with them. You will be safe from Yvonne's threat."

Thomas was considering the possibility of doing that as a slight frown appeared between his eyebrows.

Liam reminded him again. "You have to remember that Kepler Properties and the Luke Corporation cannot have a fallout."

Judging from the current situation, the Kepler Family stood no chance against an attack from the Luke Corporation.

Being on Hanson's side would be the best thing to do now.

Thomas eventually nodded. "Let's share a table, then."

Hearing Thomas give his permission, Liam immediately stood up and went to the couple.

"I just knew there was something magical about the way our paths cross."

Vania and Hanson were taken by surprise when they heard that. They didn't think they would bump into Liam here.

Vania even found it strange to hear such words from him.

That's a weird way to describe a friendship, she thought.

As she looked behind him, she saw Thomas sitting there. "Magical, indeed," she commented with a smile.

Liam proceeded to unhurriedly invite Vania and Hanson to their table. "We got here just a while ago. How about we have a meal together?"

Vania was still smiling when she said, "I'm sure you and Thomas have something to talk about?"

"I just came back from a week-long trip abroad. We were just sitting together and having an idle talk." When Liam spoke, he deliberately glanced at Hanson with a gaze that screamed, "I know that you were the one who pulled some petty trick to have me sent abroad!"

Hanson only quirked his eyebrows. He was unfazed by the fact that Liam knew the truth. "It would be ungracious not to accept your kind invitation," he murmured. "We will do you the honor."

Liam itched to give Hanson a big slap when he watched the other man acting like he was superior to them.

But considering how strained their relationship was, he had no choice but to smile and reply, "This way please, oh great President Luke."

Thomas quickly gathered his emotions when he saw the trio walking in his direction.

However, he still looked awkward no matter how he tried to calm down.

"You must be in a pleasant mood to come out and have an idle talk at a time like this." Hanson was the first one who spoke up. He seemed to be hinting something as he spoke to Thomas, who forced a smile and replied on behalf of the Keplers.

Chapter 984 Absurd Intentions

Thomas thought that he would be embarrassed at this very moment, but he ended up facing it head-on.

Vania and Hanson, too, were not surprised when they heard Thomas talking about how he liked Vania.

After all, even they knew about this supposed secret.

Still, they didn't think Thomas would lay his cards on the table.

Hanson was the first to ask, "What is the meaning of this?"

Surely, he's not trying to compete with me for Vania's hand? Even if he has confidence, Vania won't lay her eyes on him.

She hates people who are spineless and indecisive the most.

Also, Vania and I are parents to a few kids. He definitely can't compete!

Thomas knew that Hanson would be agitated, but he remained calm. "I'm already aware of how absurd my intentions are. I've said what I wanted to say in the video. I promise I won't do anything."

"And why are you showing me this?" Hanson was judging if Thomas meant what he said.

"It's Yvie. She is using this to escape punishment by threatening me."

The frown on Hanson's face softened a little when he heard those words. "It seems like you still have a way to contact each other."

Thomas shook his head. "She is the one who initiates a call every time. I can't get any information on the numbers she calls me from."

Hanson's and Vania's eyes lit up at those words. "Give me the latest number she used to call you," Hanson said.

Thomas didn't hesitate, but he stated, "Can you let me know before you make a move if you find out anything?"

Not wanting Vania and Hanson to think that he was helping Yvonne escape, he quickly added, "The Keplers will never help Eddie."

Vania could only sigh. "Yvonne should be grateful for having a family like yours. She is unexpectedly paranoid."

Thomas' heart felt lighter when Vania spoke to him. "It's all our fault."

He then looked at her sincerely. "I've already suppressed those unrealistic thoughts. My feelings will not affect you in any way."

"Okay." Vania nodded. "I'll pretend they don't exist."

Thomas was elated when he heard that.

His impression of Vania only got a few times better.

Chapter 985 You're Dining With a Shark

"You can pack up and leave if this young lady doesn't forgive you!"

None of the diners here were people they could afford to offend, and spilling the food onto their clothes was, even more so, a big no-no.

After all, Vania's shirt alone was worth a year of their salary. As if they could afford to pay for compensation!

The manager's tirade only got uglier, making the server bawl in fright.

"It's just a shirt. There's no need to make such a big deal out of it." Vania spoke up nonchalantly, then took a gander at the server standing next to her—whose head was hung low—and said, "Why don't you help me get my shirt cleaned?"

At that, the three guys glanced at the server, then said nothing, for a common thought arose within them. Has the operation begun? It's happening faster than expected.

Meanwhile, Vania stopped abruptly when they arrived in front of the washroom.

"Nothing's impossible. You'll understand after watching this, Ms. Greyson," the manager assured confidently, surprising Vania.

With that, she played the video with hesitation, and bit by bit, shock replaced her calmness.

Vania gave herself a thumbs up, for she thought her acting was superb, and it was obvious she managed to dupe the manager as the latter asked smugly, "Well, Ms. Greyson? Do you believe me now?"

At that, Vania shook her head in exasperation. "No, that's impossible! There's no way he'd think like that! This is an act!"

"One of our servers recorded it by chance, and I can confirm this is genuine. If you don't believe me, you can ask Mr. Kepler about it."

Vania seemed completely shocked by the issue as she snatched the phone from the manager and dashed right back to their table without even cleaning her clothes.

Bam! She slammed the phone on the table and even knocked over the dishes.

"Enough chit-chat. Just tell me if you'll do it or not." Yvonne gave him one last chance to make his call.

Just then, Liam nodded at Thomas, indicating the Luke couple had located Yvonne.

Thomas finally let out a sigh of relief and answered Yvonne solemnly, "Alright, I'll do it."

"Remember, dear brother, you only have one day," Yvonne reminded, then ended the call.

At that, Liam and Thomas got up and rendezvoused with Vania and Hanson.

"Where is she?" Thomas asked frantically as soon as they gathered.

"At Haling Villa."

Haling Villa was a rich neighborhood. Those living there were either rich or powerful, and because of that, the manpower dispatched to the area was relatively fewer for their city-wide search.

Finally realizing the potential danger, Yvonne insisted at once. "I can't stay!"
At that, Eddie glanced at his subordinates, signaling them to drag the young woman out.
As though it wasn't already enough that Yvonne was in a discomfiture, Eddie added salt to injury and ridiculed her, saying, "Looks like your sweet, big brother doesn't care about you at all!"
"Did Thomas rat me out?!" Yvonne seemed to have gotten it instantly.
Is he not afraid of my threats at all?! Or could they have scripted the conversation in the clip?

The two assistants, too, were out cold. While the incident struck terror among the employees, they hadn't forgotten to call the police.

On the other hand, the driver panicked upon the turn of events, for it was his first murder.
