

Hidden 1626

Chapter 1626 Repaying A Life-Saving Grace

“So is Brother Haoyang in love now?” someone asked curiously.

“This is a life-saving grace, right? There’s nothing wrong with repaying a life-saving grace!”

“But I think Brother Haoyang is planning to repay the grace by offering up his own body!” someone said bluntly.

Ah Guo quickly covered the man’s mouth. “What are you saying? Watch what you say about Brother Haoyang! Brother Haoyang has always been a career-minded person.”

Someone shushed him and said, “Let’s listen to what Brother Haoyang and Doctor Lin are saying, okay?”

Ah Guo went over and slapped the man on the head. “Aren’t you afraid of death? Go away!”

After chasing this group of people to the side, Ah Guo did not dare to leave and guarded the side.

...

Lin Wenyu looked at Yuan Haoyang as if he was a monster. “Not only are you not arguing with me, but you’re also being so gentle. Are you really going to copy Guo Xintao’s image?”

Yuan Haoyang rolled his eyes at her. Did she only have Guo Xintao in her heart?

“It’s not that I want to criticize you, but based on your enthusiasm when you sing and dance, you’re not suitable to be as gentle and refined as Guo Xintao.”

‘You were born to be a king, so you should maintain your arrogant and cool appearance.’

Lin Wenyu didn’t say the second half of the sentence. That was what she had learned from watching his performance last night and editing his photos in the middle of the night.

This person was so talented that it was simply a waste for him to change anything about himself.

Yuan Haoyang lowered his eyes and finally looked angry.

“By the way, if you want to be angry, just be angry. It doesn’t matter if you have a vicious tongue or not. That’s what you should be like.” Lin Wenyu was trying to guide him.

“How can I be angry when I see you doing all these things for me?” Yuan Haoyang glanced at the rubber dummies on the floor. He looked up with a mocking smile.

Lin Wenyu smiled. “You’re really shameless. Who’s doing it for you? I only agreed to let Ah Guo participate in this first aid training because I saw his sincere and humble attitude. Besides, this is also a way of contributing to society. In the future, when they succeed, it’ll be their good fortune to be able to save someone.”

“Really, Doctor Lin?” Yuan Haoyang took two steps forward and stood in front of her.

He lowered his eyes. His face without stage makeup was full of seriousness at this moment. Her figure was reflected in his unusually handsome eyes. He was born to control the stage, but at this moment, he was only born to control her.

He happened to be a head taller than her. His condescending control made Lin Wenyu speechless for a moment.

The wind blew past, brushing her hair. A slight chill spread from the top of her head to her toes.

The woman's adorable expression, which was rare, made Yuan Haoyang's heart skip a beat. He smiled and said, "Then I'll learn from you and be more humane, alright?"

"Okay... Ah." Lin Wenyu came back to her senses and quickly used the excuse of tidying up the dummies. She lowered her head to hide her blush and absent-minded look.

She rubbed her face. Seriously, it wasn't like she hadn't seen his face before. What was with this reaction?

Yuan Haoyang called the group of people outside to come in and learn again.

When everyone came in, no one dared to make a sound. They tiptoed in one by one. Seeing Yuan Haoyang's calm expression, everyone looked at Lin Wenyu.

Lin Wenyu put on her mask and covered her flushed face, revealing only her eyes. She said, "Everyone, get into position. Let's start over."

Everyone hurriedly got into position. Ah Guo saw that Yuan Haoyang had also gotten into position. Seeing that there was no dummy in front of him, he quickly gave him his dummy.

For the rest of the class, this group of people trained obediently. No one dared to say a word in front of Yuan Haoyang.

The two-hour class was over in an hour.

Before leaving, Lin Wenyu stopped Ah Guo. "Ah Guo, take this dummy back."

"Won't this be inappropriate?"

"I got my senior to buy one more when he was out shopping. There's nothing inappropriate about it. Take it back and train more when you have nothing to do."

Ah Guo hurriedly took it. "Thank you, Doctor Lin!"

Everyone filed out and whispered to each other, "Do you think Doctor Lin likes our Brother Haoyang?"

"I think they have a good chance. Doctor Lin is good-looking and gentle. She matches Brother Haoyang perfectly."

"I approve of this marriage!"

Yuan Haoyang's lazy voice sounded. "What are you talking about?"

“Nothing, nothing. The moon tonight is really big and round.” After saying that, everyone looked up. There was not even a star in the dark sky. There was no moon either.

Everyone hurriedly scattered.

Lin Wenyu locked the door of the first-aid training room and walked out.

Yuan Haoyang held the car keys in his hand and said, “I’ll drive you.”

Lin Wenyu’s driver had already come to pick her up, but she still got into the car with Yuan Haoyang after thinking of something.

“By the way, didn’t you say you had a question to ask me last time?” Lin Wenyu asked.

The last time Yuan Haoyang brought it up, they were interrupted by a sick person.

Yuan Haoyang looked lackadaisical when driving as well. It was very different from when he was on stage.

However, the car was stable and he did not make any mistakes.

Hearing Lin Wenyu’s question, he smiled. “I wanted to ask at the time, but I figured out the answer later.”

“So you’re not gonna ask me anymore?”

Yuan Haoyang nodded and said gently, “Yeah.”

“It’s up to you.” Lin Wenyu couldn’t be bothered with him.

“Do you really want to know?” Yuan Haoyang asked. His voice was very pleasant to the ears, and when he spoke, he had a seductive charm.

Lin Wenyu ignored him and looked out the window at the night sky.

After a moment, she couldn’t help herself. “Go ahead and ask. I’m listening. I can’t let my patient die, can I?”

‘Doctors were benevolent,’ she said to herself.

Yuan Haoyang held the steering wheel with one hand and raised his chin slightly. He lowered his eyebrows and said, “At that time, I wanted to ask if mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was required during CPR. Now, I know.”

“Of course. What’s so strange about that?”

“Yeah,” Yuan Haoyang repeated in a low voice. Did that mean he had given her his first kiss?

His words were lingering and ambiguous. His tone was low and gentle as if he was singing a tune.

Lin Wenyu didn’t react just now, but at this moment, she could hear the teasing in his words... She also felt a trace of other indescribable emotions.

She was instantly annoyed. “Yuan Haoyang, what are you thinking? I’m a doctor! Do you really think you’re special?”

“No, it’s my honor,” Yuan Haoyang said with a low laugh.

His sudden gentle attitude made Lin Wenyu’s temper subside halfway. She was about to glare at him when he tilted his head upon seeing the neon lights in the capital.