

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 17 - Someone Is Causing Trouble -

C17 Someone Is Causing Trouble

The two of them arrived at the Fuyuan Restaurant.

This place was truly worthy of being the biggest restaurant with the most unique menu in Luzhou. It was very lively here, and there were a lot of customers waiting in line for their meals.

After entering the restaurant, the waiters greeted Shen Xue one by one. At the same time, they looked at Wu Tian with those weird eyes and couldn't help but to discuss something in whispers.

"Wait a moment, I'll go cook something good for you." Shen Xue smiled and went into the kitchen.

After greeting her colleagues in the kitchen, she began to work.

Perhaps she wanted to show Wu Tian her best skills, so she cooked very seriously today and handled every detail perfectly.

"Boss Shen, it's been a long time since I've seen you so serious. You're going to cook for your boyfriend, right?" One of her colleagues, who was usually on good terms with her, came over and teased her.

"Don't talk nonsense." Shen Xue rolled her eyes at her colleague and continued to cook meticulously.

"Xue, don't hide this from us. Just now, someone saw you bringing a boy into the restaurant. Are you going to cook for him?"

"Right."

"Is that boy your boyfriend?"

"No." Shen Xue quickly waved her hand and explained, "He and I can only be considered ordinary friends."

"I've never seen you cook for a boy before. Tell me honestly, do you like that boy?"

"Nope."

"No? Then why are you blushing?"

"Go to hell, who's blushing?" Shen Xue rolled her eyes slightly and continued with her work.

After working hard for over an hour, she finally cooked four dishes, her best dishes.

She asked the waiter to take the four dishes out and place them on the table.

Wu Tian was playing with his phone when his eyes lit up as he saw the waiter bringing over four dishes.

These four dishes were all perfect in shape and color. Putting aside the taste, just the appearance of the dishes themselves was extremely exquisite. They were pleasing to the eye and appetizing.

"You did this?" After staring at the dishes for a long time, Wu Tian's gaze landed on Shen Xue.

"Yes."

"I really didn't know that your cooking skills were so refined."

"Taste them." Shen Xue sat opposite to Wu Tian, waiting for his evaluation with a look of anticipation.

"Alright, I'll try them." Wu Tian picked up the chopsticks, picked up a piece of crab cake, and put it in his mouth. The taste was smooth and light, and a strong fragrance assaulted his nose.

"Delicious." Wu Tian nodded with satisfaction and then tried the second dish. He also felt that it was extremely delicious.

It was only after he had tasted the fourth dish that he could not help but stick out his thumb. "You are truly worthy of being the head chef. Your cooking skills are indeed exquisite."

"It's good that you like it, hurry up and eat." Shen Xue was very happy to have received such a high evaluation.

"If I can marry someone as skilled as you, then I'll be able to eat delicious food for the rest of my life." Wu Tian blurted out as he enjoyed his food.

Shen Xue's pretty face reddened as she snappily retorted, "Hmph, I wouldn't marry a man like you."

"If you don't want to marry, then don't. Why are you blushing?"

"Eat your food, don't talk so much." Shen Xue grumbled as she scooped up some food and placed it in Wu Tian's bowl.

"Not bad, it's really delicious." Wu Tian did not say anything else as he gobbled down the delicious food.

It had been a long time since he had such delicious food. It was even more delicious than the food in that 5-star restaurant

Very quickly, he finished all the dishes. He wiped his mouth with a paper napkin and asked with a smile, "How much is the price for this table of dishes?"

"I'm treating you to a meal. It's not for money." Shen Xue waved her hand generously as she smiled and said, "Treat it as my compensation."

"Such a delicious meal, one meal isn't enough."

"How many meals do you want?"

"I want to eat for the rest of my life."

"Stop it," Shen Xue rolled her eyes in annoyance and said with a red face. "I didn't expect you to be like the other boys and be so glib with your words."

"I'm just joking with you, don't be angry."

"I'm not that petty!"

"Thank you for your hospitality. Then I'll be going. Goodbye." Wu Tian waved and stood up to leave.

Just as he reached the door, he was stopped by a tall and mighty man in a suit.

A silver badge hung in front of his chest. From the information on the badge, his name was Huang Jian, and he was the manager of this restaurant.

Huang Jian raised his hand to block Wu Tian's path, deliberately raising his voice. "You want to leave after eating without paying?"

His words instantly attracted the attention of the other guests. Everyone treated Wu Tian as someone who was trying to leave without paying after eating and couldn't help but reveal a look of despise.

"Manager Huang, I was the one who let him eat." Seeing that the situation wasn't looking good, Shen Xue hurried forward to help.

"Shen Xue, what right do you have to make customers eat without paying?" Huang Jian glared at Shen Xue as he scolded her angrily. His entire body was bursting with anger.

He usually pursued Shen Xue, but was always rejected. Unexpectedly, she brought an unfamiliar man into the dining hall and personally cooked for him. The two of them were chatting happily and flirtatiously to the extreme.

Whenever he thought about how Shen Xue usually ignored him and was so close to another boy, he couldn't help but feel angry, which was why he intentionally made things difficult for him by blocking the door.

Shen Xue's face stiffened slightly. She didn't expect Manager Huang to be so angry today.

Rubbing her arm, she forced a smile and whispered, "Manager Huang, according to the rules, the chef is entitled to treat a guest to a meal every month."

"The restaurant's rules are now up to me. If I say you don't have the qualifications, then you don't." Huang Jian raised his head, looking like a bully who was protected by power.

He kept trying to curry favor with Shen Xue. After working for a few months, this woman didn't even look at him, but she was attracted by a brat.

In his heart, he was naturally displeased. In his rage, he had torn off all decorum and planned to take this opportunity to thoroughly humiliate Shen Xue and that kid in public.

"You ..." The corner of Shen Xue's mouth twitched as she did not expect Huang Jian to become so deranged. She suppressed her anger and said, "Since that's the case, then let's take it from my salary."

"No, we need you to pay in person." Huang Jian looked at Wu Tian, purposely making things difficult for him.

"Alright, I'll pay." Wu Tian also didn't want to make things difficult for Shen Xue. He took out his bank card and asked, "How much?"

"Fifty-three thousand."

"What?" Hearing this, Shen Xue's expression changed. "Manager Huang, these four dishes clearly only cost three thousand yuan. How did it get to fifty-three thousand?"

"The penalty for trying to leave without paying is fifty thousand yuan, plus three thousand yuan for the dishes; that makes fifty-three thousand yuan." Huang Jian put his hands in his pockets, looking as if he did not fear any consequences for what he was doing.

He had already planned to make things difficult for this brat, seeing that he was trying to steal his woman.

"You ..." Shen Xue was so angry that the corners of her mouth were trembling. No matter how foolish she was, she could tell that Huang Jian was trying to take revenge.

Huang Jian had always wanted to impose unspoken on her, but she firmly rejected him every time. She did not expect that he would actually resort to such despicable means to exact revenge. How shameless.

Wu Tian had probably figured it out and sneered at Huang Jian, "Are you sure you want to fine me?"

"Of course."

"Alright, I hope you can continue to be so tough." After Wu Tian said this, he turned to Shen Xue and said, "Call your boss."
