

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 766 - Replacement of Hostages

C766 Replacement of Hostages

When these words came out of Wu Tian's mouth, Su Cancan, who was beside him, stared at him with eyes as wide as a bronze bell.

She quickly grabbed Wu Tian, who was about to walk in, and stopped him.

"What are you doing? Are you crazy? "Do you not know what your fate will be when you fall into their hands?"

Su Cancan couldn't believe that Wu Tian would say such a thing.

"This won't do, we don't have enough time. Only by doing so can we buy some time for our rescue. Also, don't forget that I'm not an ordinary person either. I don't place these small fries in my eyes yet. "

Wu Tian had made up his mind. He was just waiting for them to agree or not.

The robbers did an accounting, and it seemed that it was indeed better to do so.

Wu Tian was of course more valuable to them.

The few of them did not report to their superiors and happily agreed.

Just like that, Wu Tian walked into the Li Family Village. Not long after he walked along the road, he saw a few people wearing headgear holding onto Xi Chengwen as they stood at the entrance of a small alley.

"Let her go, I'll be your hostage." Wu Tian stood up straight. He was not scared at all. He gave off the feeling as if he was here to play.

"President Wu, leave quickly! Don't worry about me!" Xi Chengwen immediately shouted at the top of her lungs. She really didn't want to see Wu Tian enter this bandit's nest in her place.

"You don't have the right to speak here!" The bandit gave Xi Chengwen an impolite blow, but she immediately fell silent.

The few of them quickly walked over and searched Wu Tian's body. It seemed that he didn't have any weapons, so they brought Wu Tian back with ease.

As for Xi Chengwen, she was thrown to the side. She cried like a tearful person, especially when she saw Wu Tian winking at her and making a face while sticking out his tongue.

She didn't find it funny at all. These people really killed people without blinking an eye. If he went in, he would only have a slim chance of survival.

Su Cancan led her men to rush in, take Xi Chengwen away, and then quickly left the Li family village.

What was going on inside? Where was the base of those people? Xi Chengwen had spoken clearly, and Su Cancan felt that by relying on this information, they should be able to force their way in to rescue Wu Tian.

However, when they rushed in again, the previous courtyard was already empty.

However, there were no signs of anyone going in and out of the village.

These criminals seemed to have vanished from the face of the earth. It was as if they had never existed in the Li family village.

The messages Loong Yun sent them had never been answered.

"What's going on?" Su Cancan saw that there were still some footprints in the yard.

"Their trail has disappeared, but the smell hasn't." A senior brother carefully sniffed the surroundings and was sure that his judgement was not wrong.

"Then how can they escape?" There was nothing out of the ordinary about this yard. The house looked very old and shaky. If a storm were to break, this place would become a demolition site.

The few of them had no idea what to do. They could only extend their search to cover the entire Li family village.

Wei Jiaming still didn't show himself. He had just seen Wu Tian being brought to that small house in the yard by these people, but he knew he couldn't say it out loud.

He still didn't know if there were any traps behind the enemies. If he said it out loud, Su Cancan would immediately rush in. This would not be beneficial to Wu Tian.

Enemies who were frightened would instead be able to kill Wu Tian.

Wu Tian was also surprised. He didn't think that there would be such a dark tunnel here.

These masked men seemed to be no ordinary people. They moved fast and there were almost no sounds of their footsteps. They moved like the wind.

With Wu Tian's keen senses, he immediately noticed that this group of people did not seem to be ordinary underworld forces.

"Just who are you people? What are your plans? Do you want money, or what? "

Although Wu Tian was tied up, his mouth wasn't sealed.

However, none of them answered Wu Tian's question and all remained silent.

After walking for an unknown amount of time, the tunnel finally came to an end. The masked man had opened a lid. They got out of the tunnel.

It was a huge warehouse outside, and it was similarly dilapidated.

It was unknown how long it had been since someone had come, but a thick layer of dust had already accumulated on the ground.

The few men in black brought Wu Tian over and tied him to the machine on the side. They formed a semicircle and stared at him carefully.

Wu Tian wanted to look behind him, but his vision was blocked and he could not see anything.

He could vaguely hear the sound of someone talking behind him, but this voice was extremely soft and he couldn't hear it clearly.

But soon, he would be able to solve the puzzle.

The sound of high heels came from behind the human wall.

"This is Wu Tian?" A melodious voice that sounded like silver bells rang out. It seemed that the person in his twenties was actually the mastermind behind Wu Tian's kidnapping.

The wall of people parted to reveal a path.

Wu Tian looked over and saw a masked beauty leisurely walk in front of him. She was wearing a tight black leather suit, showing off her figure perfectly.

She was plump. Although her face was covered, her eyes were filled with emotion. Under her long eyebrows were a pair of bright eyes. A man could be captivated by her and lose his soul just by looking at her.

"It looks like it's no big deal. I really don't know what's so valuable about this guy."

The masked beauty stretched out a finger and touched Wu Tian's chin. She put her hand down in disappointment, like a bored child throwing away a toy that he was tired of.

She turned around and was about to leave, but Wu Tian called out to her from behind.

"Who the hell are you? Did Chang Zairong spend money to hire you?"

These people seemed to be professional killers, Wu Tian could feel the murderous intent from them.

The masked woman's body stopped, she turned her head and stared at Wu Tian.

He didn't know what kind of expression she had under her mask, but she said slowly with a voice that was neither angry nor happy, "So what? "So what if it isn't?"

"No matter how much money he pays, I'll pay double, as long as you let me go!" Wu Tian said it out loud without any hesitation.

"Oh, then I want to see if you can afford it." As if she was interested, the masked woman turned around and put her face close to Wu Tian. The distance between the two of them was already very close.
