C825 The Offensive and Defensive Forces Were Once Again Reversed

Wu Tian's subordinates moved very quickly. Some of them were responsible for installing the equipment while the others started to debug the equipment.

Before long, the entire hall was filled with hundreds of screens.

At this time, the reporters and media were also rushing over in a steady stream. Now, everyone knew that something big was happening. A lot of people wanted to squeeze their way in.

"Are you done?" Wu Tian looked at Wu Zaibin, the commander of the equipment at the scene. Ten minutes had already passed.

If this dragged on, there would be no more time for a vote.

"Alright, all the equipment has been connected and the network is now connected."

Receiving Wu Zaibin's confirmation, Wu Tian also nodded towards Guan Ruonan.

Everyone present began to hold their breaths, anticipating what would happen next.

"Alright, Chairman Chang, let's begin."

As Guan Ruonan's voice stopped, Chang Zairong's heart also started to become tangled.

At this moment, the screens in the hall lit up one by one, and soon after, people started connecting in through the internet.

There were really both men and women, young and old, and these people were all registered members of the China Main Chamber of Commerce.

Although it was said to be the main chamber of commerce, there weren't many members here. However, all of them were bosses of China.

If the company could not be opened nationwide, or even up to several billion funds, no one would have the qualifications to enter this Chamber of Commerce.

In other words, this General Chamber of Commerce was equivalent to a top-level club for China merchants.

Chang Zairong originally thought that it wouldn't be easy to contact these people. However, the screens that were constantly lit up were like lights in the night, illuminating the darkness bit by bit.

It had only been a minute or two, but all of the two thousand members had logged into the meeting.

This efficiency, this time ... if they hadn't planned this out well, no one would have dared to believe it.

Chang Zairong was speechless. He never thought it would be like this.

"We shall now proceed to the vote. Those who agree to the resignation of President Chang Zairong!" As Guan Ruonan's voice sounded, words of agreement popped up on the screen.

It was like a drop of ink dripping into clear water. Very soon, the faint sensation began to dissipate, and everyone present chose to agree.

Everyone present was surprised to see such an orderly arrangement.

I'm afraid the reporters did not expect this either. Chang Zairong had been impeached just like that and was going to step down because of this.

"This is impossible ..." Chang Zairong's body suddenly became unsteady. If it wasn't for the secretary beside him supporting him, he would have fallen to the ground.

"Guild Leader Chang is not feeling well right now. We can discuss about this matter in the future!" The secretary knew what he had to do, so he quickly told Guan Ruonan and the others.

Such an excuse was obviously impossible to pass through. Guan Ruonan directly walked over, blocking the direction that they wanted to leave in.

"You want to run when you see that the result is not good for you?"

"That's right. You want to escape even if you're fired, are you even a man or not ..." Not to mention the angry masses. Even the members and advisers of the Chamber of Commerce expressed their dissatisfaction with Chang Zairong's attitude.

However, Chang Zairong suddenly stood up at this moment. He stretched out his hands to support his body and a smile appeared on his face.

"I admit that you used the rules to beat me, but let me be clear that I can't resign now, and you can't let me resign either!"

"What are you talking about? The result is already very clear. Everyone wants you to step down!"

Guan Ruonan thought that Chang Zairong was fighting like a cornered beast. He made the final struggle.

"You're really too naive. If I remember correctly, according to the rules of our Chamber of Commerce, if the Chamber of Commerce is in a critical period, Commerce Chamber Chairman has to adhere to his responsibilities and cannot resign."

Chang Zairong's eyes rolled around and changed from his previous dejection.

To be honest, he had thought of this all of a sudden. He didn't know what else to do.

This was also the last straw, and it was now firmly grasped by Chang Zairong.

"Guan Ruonan, is what he said true?" Wu Tian felt that something wasn't right. Chang Zairong was indeed an old fox, he actually had this kind of trick up his sleeve.

"There really is such a thing ..." Guan Ruonan did not take this matter seriously. Just as Chang Zairong had said, there was a prerequisite for this rule: the Chamber of Commerce had to be in a state of emergency during a critical period.

"This rule requires that the Chamber of Commerce must be in a critical period, a state of emergency. Then, I would like to ask you, what urgent matter does our Chamber of Commerce have right now?"

This was Guan Ruonan's confidence that she was not afraid of anything.

Chang Zairong grunted and instructed his secretary to bring a document.

"This is the account book of the year that the China Main Chamber of Commerce spent, and inside it are the records of the revenues and expenditures of this year! Didn't you say you didn't know what a state of emergency was? Let me tell you right now, the debts of the China General Chamber of Commerce are nearly a trillion! "

This sentence caused a huge commotion, and even the members who were working together were shocked.

Everyone began to discuss in whispers, because this was really not a small number.

That was a trillion...

Wu Tian immediately frowned as he felt something was wrong.

"If this is not a state of emergency, then I would like to ask you guys what is a state of emergency."

After knowing this, they were hoping that Chang Zairong would step down. At this moment, they also started to ask Chang Zairong not to leave.

Because he was the one who created this debt. If he left, who would solve this problem?

"So, you better think about it carefully. Do you still want me to step down? If there is no way to resolve this debt, then it will be distributed to everyone in the entire company."

Chang Zairong saw that everyone started to hesitate and he immediately started to make this matter more serious.

He was once again sitting on his throne, and this time he was even more stable than before.

Guan Ruonan's face was ashen. Everything had gone smoothly before this. Why did Chang Zairong suddenly survive here and complete the reversal in one fell swoop?
