

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 961 - The Mastermind Was Exposed

C961 The Mastermind Was Exposed

"Alright, alright, alright. I'll give you ten more exoskeleton Mechs for free!"

It could be said that this discount wasn't little, but it didn't seem to satisfy Blanche at all.

"That's it? I'll risk my life to keep you company, and you can use this little favor to send me away. You must think that I'm too gullible, no, I want something even more useful! "

Blanche finally got such an opportunity. How could she let Wu Tian off so easily?

Recently, there were always rumors spreading around Wu Group that their company had some of the latest technological research, which was already at the forefront of the world. If these scientific research were to be published, it would be enough to shock the entire world.

"I really can't fool you!" Wu Tian sighed. He also knew that he had to give Blanche some really good things.

"I'll give you a set of servers. This is the latest product developed by our company. It's definitely a top-notch one!" Wu Tian whispered into Blanche's ears. Currently, the production of Wu Tian and the others couldn't even supply themselves, let alone others.

"Although I don't know what exactly you're talking about, since you're the one who gave it to me, I'll accept it." Blanche, on the other hand, didn't mind his offer at all and agreed without hesitation.

Returning to the S City, because Wu Tian had already greeted the military region's Luo Huaicheng before, and even reported their battle situation to the military region, basically no one had any objections towards Wu Tian.

The country hoped for the destruction of sects like the Tianying Sect. It would be very difficult to capture them using ordinary methods of the rule of law. Most of the time, these people were hiding outside the country, and even if they returned back home, the police wouldn't be able to find any information on them.

With a person like Wu Tian who tried to kill them, the military would naturally not say anything. They might even want to encourage him.

After settling Blanche down, Wu Tian had no intention of resting. Instead, he went straight to the combat conference room on the top floor. This place had a huge screen where he could observe the scene from the satellite.

"What's the situation like?" Wu Tian was touched to see Loong Yun still standing guard at this place. If it wasn't for this group of people by his side, Wu Tian might not have been able to accomplish a lot of things.

"A speedboat landed beside S City's shore, but right now, I am not 100% sure that they are Tianying Sect. However, their movements seem very suspicious!"

Hearing Loong Yun's words, Wu Tian looked towards the direction she pointed. Sure enough, there was a small speedboat at the seaside. This speedboat wasn't very big, and it could only fit a few people.

"Investigate carefully. It's such a big fog, most people won't go out to sea!" Wu Tian felt that there was something wrong with these people just based on his intuition. This matter definitely had a very close relationship with them.

Maybe they were also from the Tianying Sect.

"Alright, I'll see if I can lock onto their communication device now!"

Loong Yun brought her people and started to operate the equipment here. Very soon, a few lines appeared on the screen, and from different parts of the S City, these lines simultaneously led to a place that Wu Tian was very familiar with.

"Just as I expected!" Previously, Wu Tian felt that this matter should be related to the Pulitzer Corporation more or less.

Otherwise, why would Elder Zhang be able to use 11 Devils to attack him?

Moreover, the timing of their actions was at the moment Wu Group Corporation made a decision that would affect the overall situation of the Pulitzer Corporation.

Now that he had this clue, Wu Tian could basically confirm that the mastermind must be Zhang Zerui.

This guy didn't seem like someone with any ability back then. In the end, Wu Tian didn't expect him to be hiding such a huge force.

"President Wu, should we do something?"

Loong Yun was not surprised by this outcome, rather, it was within her expectations.

"For now, we don't need it. We don't have any evidence, if we act rashly, Zhang Zerui might counterattack!"

Wu Tian waved his hand. He didn't have a clear train of thought right now, so he didn't dare to act rashly for the time being.

It had to be known that this Zhang Zerui was not an ordinary person. Back then, when he purchased Nanhe Securities Corporation, he had already brought Wu Tian quite a bit of trouble.

In terms of scheming, he was definitely not inferior to Wu Tian.

"Then I'll send people to keep an eye on him. President Wu, the satellite almost lost its effect on our mission. The cloud mist is too much for us. Do we need to launch another satellite?"

The Loong Yun asked tentatively. She had wanted to ask about this for a long time, but she had always noticed that Wu Tian was very concerned about the budget so she never brought it up.

Wu Tian started to have a headache when he heard about this. The cost of launching a satellite was not small. Just a rocket would cost a lot of money, so developing a satellite would cost at least 200 million yuan.

"If you really have no money, then this matter is not urgent." Loong Yun quickly changed her words. Right now, their satellite could barely be used.

"Alright, I understand. I will do my best to arrange it." Wu Tian rubbed his temples. All expenses needed to protect himself were very necessary in a sense.

"Alright, let's not talk about me anymore. Investigate this Pulitzer consortium. I don't believe they are innocent. Such a big consortium, isn't it good to stay in Britain? Why do they want to come to our place ..."

This doubt had long puzzled Wu Tian. They should have developed better in Britain. Wouldn't it be very troublesome if they came to China and had to redevelop everything themselves? Moreover, they would still encounter so many obstructions.

Wu Tian really didn't have any evidence in his possession to prove that this Pulitzer Financial Group was illegal in any way.

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 962 - Stirring up Trouble

C962 Stirring up Trouble

Wu Tian really didn't have any evidence in his possession to prove that this Pulitzer Financial Group was illegal in any way.

He even asked the tax bureau to check the accounts of the Pulitzer consortium carefully, but they were still flawless.

They should pay no less tax, and all investments, acquisitions are made within the limits allowed by law.

No matter how he looked at it, they were all good people, and there was a lot that needed to be said and done.

Wu Tian was very worried about this matter. He actually knew that the Pulitzer Corporation had done many disgusting things, such as when the Nanhe Securities Corporation shareholders were killed, and not a single one of them had found out about it, even though the culprit had already been settled by Wu Tian, but in the eyes of the public, this matter was still an unsolved case.

"There's no clue at all, it's fine even if it's a false accusation ..." Wu Tian looked at the evidence of the investigation in front of him.

Loong Yun also knew that Wu Tian was very worried about this, but such an investigation needed to be done in detail and slowly.

"President Wu, I think the best way for us to break through now is those few Tianying Sect people. As long as they meet Zhang Zerui or prove that they have a direct connection with Zhang Zerui, we might be able to help them."

Wu Tian looked at Loong Yun. How could he not understand this logic? However, since he understood, carrying it out was a different matter.

"Aren't they being watched by people with Security Team? It's been a week, but there's still no news from them. They're not idiots, we can't just wait for them to reveal themselves."

Wu Tian grumbled for a while, then turned around and remembered that he had asked them to investigate other things.

"Erm, have you investigated their background clearly?"

Loong Yun, who had always been very prepared, now appeared to be in a difficult position. She probably hadn't expected to encounter such a problem.

"This... I'm sorry, but there is still no news yet. We do not have any sources of information from Britain ... "

Wu Tian looked at Loong Yun with her head lowered. It was not good for him to criticize her. After all, she was trying very hard to do this.

"Let Wei Jiaming do it. He is an expert in this field. Even if it's Britain s, I believe he can investigate it well."

To let a professional do professional work, that was Wu Tian's simplest and most efficient way to hire people.

Mentioning Wei Jiaming, Wu Tian thought of another person. Coincidentally, he could use her at this time.

Wu Tian made up his mind and immediately prepared to leave. Loong Yun didn't even have time to ask where he was going.

However, the requirement to call Azure Dragon was that they would be able to choose a location with a certain range.

Sure enough, Wu Tian brought the two of them to Yin Rumeng's current residence.

Although they were still part of the underground organization, they had basically withdrawn from the suburbs. More than a hundred of them were working in an entertainment club opened by Yin Rumeng.

It was precisely because of her initiative that the police didn't attack them any further. After all, they weren't much of a threat anymore.

She saw Wu Tian coming, and Yin Rumeng was surprised.

"Isn't that President Wu? Why did you come to my place when you have free time today?"

Yin Rumeng quickly stood up from behind the bar. She was not dressed like an underground organization. Instead, she was wearing a suit and professional attire.

The entertainment club was doing pretty well, and there were quite a few people coming and going.

Wu Tian could see that there were a lot of people from the previous underground organization. However, most of them had hidden their abilities, not revealing their strength at all.

"Right, there's something I need your help with." Wu Tian said to Yin Rumeng as he sized her up.

He hadn't thought that Yin Rumeng was so capable during this period of time. Not only did a girl manage more than 100 people, she even set up a clubhouse.

"Big sister, who are these people?!" While they were talking, the few hulks noticed Wu Tian and the others and looked over with malicious intent. They hid Yin Rumeng behind them and asked in concern.

"You don't have to worry about Dazhuang, he's my benefactor!" Yin Rumeng's face was full of smiles. Everything she had today could be said to have been given by Wu Tian.

Naturally, Wu Tian was her benefactor. Otherwise, she would still be a mistress of a wild man.

"Big sister, no matter how I look at them, they don't seem to be comfortable at all. You should be more careful, just hide behind us."

Although Yin Rumeng had already said that, the four of them still didn't plan to give up.

Wu Tian was very satisfied with this point. It seemed that Yin Rumeng had gained her own prestige as the boss.

"Don't worry brothers, we won't be any threat to Yin Rumeng. This time, we're here to get your boss to do something for me."

Wu Tian cupped his hands towards them. Seeing that Wu Tian really meant no harm, the few of them let him go and let Yin Rumeng have a secret conversation with them.

"President Wu, just tell me what you want me to do. I will always be your subordinate."

Yin Rumeng brought them to a room and immediately said respectfully to Wu Tian.

"Actually, this is the case. I want to find trouble with the Pulitzer Financial Group, see if you can create some conditions for me."

Wu Tian's words were very tactful, but Yin Rumeng still understood what he meant.

"Of course it's fine. President Wu, don't worry. Is it going to be a big fight or a small fight?"

Wu Tian didn't answer this question. Instead, he looked at Loong Yun, who was behind him.

Loong Yun coughed, cleared her throat, clicked on her laptop a few times, and handed it over to Yin Rumeng.

"These are the buildings that Moka Company and Nanhe Securities Corporation have recently co-developed. It's said that they spent a huge sum of money to purchase this land, if you make this construction site unable to start construction, it would be a huge loss to them."

"President Wu, don't worry. Leave this to me. I guarantee that he won't work!"

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 963 - Mysterious Message

C963 Mysterious Message

He just wanted her to do something, so it was impossible for him to not give her benefits.

"I think you've done quite well in this club. After I finish, I'll get you a plot of land on the shore. You can move this club over there."

This clubhouse was good everywhere, but the location was no good. Yin Rumeng had been worrying about this for a long time.

"Really? But President Wu, we're in the suburbs, there aren't many cops here. If we go downtown ..."

Yin Rumeng was also starting to worry about this problem. The clubhouse had more or less a grey business, there was no doubt about it. Even if Yin Rumeng didn't have the mind to do this, she still wouldn't be able to stop her men.

"That's fine, you don't have to worry about it. I'll solve it for you."

The conversation between the two ended in a very good atmosphere. It could be said that Yin Rumeng's speed was very fast, and that night, the news had reported that there was almost an accident at the construction site of the Pulitzer consortium. As a result, many workers started to complain and complain.

As a developer, the Pulitzer Corporation immediately began to make amends, but with little success. The workers were still making all sorts of demands. In short, they were blocking the construction site, so no matter what, they would not let the construction site start.

In that moment, almost everyone in S City started to pay attention to this matter. Quite a few people went forward to interview them, but the members of Pulitzer consortium did not seem to be in a hurry.

They probably felt that this little loss was nothing to them. For a moment, what exceeded Wu Tian's expectations was that the Pulitzer Financial Group's rich and overbearing performance actually went on a rampage. Everyone on the streets started to discuss about it.

Which family did this consortium belong to and which companies contributed to it...

In short, there were all sorts of gossip, but these were all fake. What a joke, how could an ordinary person know that even Wu Tian couldn't find out?

Just when Wu Tian was at a loss for what to do, he suddenly received an anonymous email while sitting in his office.

He opened it and saw that there was indeed no information that could prove his identity. However, the message clearly stated that he knew about the Pulitzer Financial Group, but this information needed money to buy.

Wu Tian originally didn't think much of this email. No matter how he looked at it, it seemed like it was a scam.

But then he thought, basically, his own email never went public, and there wasn't any spam in the email, so how did he send this anonymous email over?

He must know something to be able to do this.

Secondly, there was a clear price written on the mail. This news required Wu Tian to contribute 10 million and he also needed to use the FTC's situation to pay for it.

This way, Wu Tian wouldn't know the other person's identity.

Seeing that his investigation showed no progress, Wu Tian couldn't help but focus his attention back on the email.

Of course, he wasn't an idiot, so he called Loong Yun over and had her analyze it together with him.

"This is the email. What do you think? Is what he said true? "

"This... Just who is he and why would he know about Pulitzer Financial Group? Moreover, why would he know that we need this thing? "

"You're asking me, and I wanted to ask you." Wu Tian rolled his eyes at Loong Yun. He still wanted to ask her for her suggestion, but this guy didn't know as much as he did.

"The key is this 10 million, if we were to pay from the bank account, we can easily pay for it and confirm our identity through the bank. But if we use FTC s, even if we get tricked, I'm afraid we won't be able to do anything. "

What Loong Yun said was the truth. This was equivalent to taking 10 million as a wager.

This amount of money wasn't a lot for Wu Tian, but it wasn't a small sum after all. He couldn't simply spend it.

Just as the two of them were hesitating, another email was sent by this unknown mysterious person.

"I can tell that you all are hesitating. However, you all don't have much time left. If you all are unwilling within ten minutes, then just pretend that I have never said anything about this matter."

He had actually come to count them down.

"What should we do?" Wu Tian was at a loss of what to do. Was this money spent or not? If it was spent, what would he do if someone lied to him?

"Wait a moment, I'll go ask around and see if this FTC can track the owner's account."

Loong Yun thought back and forth and felt that this was the only way. Wu Tian quickly waved at her, gesturing for her to hurry up and do it.

With that, Loong Yun quickly called Cheng Gui. He was the one who developed the FTC.

"Logically speaking, there's no way to track these FTC." Cheng Gui's tone was very firm and did not give any hope at all.

Wu Tian and Loong Yun were immediately disappointed. However, there was nothing they could do about it, after all, FTC s were known for their ability to be safe.

"But nothing is so absolute. We can't find any clues from the FTC, but if he uses the FTC to exchange for cash, then we will have the chance."

As a result, just as he finished his last sentence, Cheng Gui changed the topic and immediately gave Wu Tian and the other two their hope.

"Why didn't you say that earlier? You've caused me to be so disappointed!" Wu Tian couldn't help grumbling, but he was still happy.

Since Cheng Gui said so, he had nothing to worry about. He immediately transferred the ten million FTC into the mysterious man's account.

Following that, Wu Tian started to wait expectantly to see if he would bring him any explosive news.

His reaction was also very fast. The next email sent a huge compressed package. Wu Tian happily downloaded it for a long time.

In his heart, he felt that he had truly done something wrong.

However, when he happily opened it, both Loong Yun and Wu Tian were dumbfounded. There was nothing in the document but a line of words.

At the end of the sentence, there was a face text added. Wu Tian's and Loong Yun's expressions instantly changed from sunny to stormy.

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 964 - Partnerships

C964 Partnerships

This was probably the first time Loong Yun had seen Wu Tian so angry. It was also the first time she had seen Wu Tian and was fooled so easily.

Actually, not only Wu Tian, even Loong Yun was also very angry.

"When can you investigate it for me!"

Wu Tian roared at Loong Yun. Although 10 million was nothing to him, he couldn't lose his face. When he saw the email, he felt like he was slapped and spat on.

"I'll go investigate it now!" Without a word, Loong Yun ran off. She didn't dare to delay this matter.

Since the idea of the investigation came from Cheng Gui, he was also the main force in the investigation.

Cheng Gui and Loong Yun had been researching for close to a week, but they still couldn't find any clues about this mysterious man.

Wu Tian was getting more and more agitated. He knew it would be impossible to continue like this. Loong Yunguang was worried, but she couldn't come up with a better solution.

Since there weren't any good developments, Wu Tian could only focus on dealing with the Pulitzer Financial Group. During this period of time, the scale of the other side increased again.

They didn't know where they got the money from, but these people had now bought quite a few companies.

If it was just a purchase, it wouldn't be a big deal. The main thing was that Zhang Zerui had even split and reorganized the companies he bought, and in a short period of time, he managed to create a seemingly powerful and pure technology company that could directly monopolize the market.

Their actions were seen by Wu Tian as the number one enemy. This could not be a joke because more and more private business bosses started to contact Zhang Zerui. Some wanted to learn from this experience, some wanted to invest in them.

Suddenly, even the internet started to think that Zhang Zerui was one of the most powerful among the younger generation. Not only was the Pulitzer status of the Pulitzer consortium not affected by humans, it had even become a reason to praise and praise him.

He was a man of the China, yet he had thought of ways to use the money of foreign companies to support the construction of his own country.

He had worked so hard for so long, why was it that no one was willing to see the radiance of his own humanity?

"Pfft, it must have been done with money!" Wu Tian crumpled the newspaper in his hand and threw it to the side angrily.

"If you have something to say, just say it. Oh right, have you found any information on that person?"

"I'm very sorry, President Wu. He hasn't exchanged yet, maybe he isn't in need of money yet." Speaking of this matter, Loong Yun felt a little embarrassed. After all, this was her dereliction of duty.

"Alright, you don't have to worry about that. I know this isn't all your fault. After all, I was the one who paid for it, so you don't have to feel guilty. Just keep watching."

It was more of a strike by a group of workers, saying something about demanding a raise in wages and giving benefits.

These words were actually nothing. The key point was that Zhang Zerui's people never appeared. It was probably because they didn't think much of it.

It had been several days since the incident and the construction site had not been opened. The situation and progress were not optimistic.

"That was yesterday on the news. The situation isn't very good today. The police are already starting to enter."

Hearing Loong Yun's words, Wu Tian was shocked.

"Isn't it legal for them to protest? Why would there be such a thing?"

Loong Yun shrugged her shoulders helplessly, indicating that there was nothing she could do.

Yin Rumeng's side followed the law and applied for all kinds of things, but now they seem to have some kind of law that requires the police to protect their construction site. Now Yin Rumeng and the others have been expelled. "

"How can this be?" Wu Tian just couldn't understand. However, he didn't care much about it. Forcing himself to stick out for this wasn't necessarily a good thing.

"I think it's Zhang Zerui who found a way. I heard that their Ministry of Justice is very powerful and often finds loopholes in the law."

As long as they could find a loophole in the law, they would be able to avoid dying.

"How about this, let Yin Rumeng leave first. I'll think of another way later." Wu Tian saw that there was no point in continuing the stalemate, so he decided to follow the other party.

This news happened while Loong Yun and Wu Tian were talking. Loong Yun didn't refuse and brought Zhang Zerui's secretary to her office to discuss about it.

At this place, Yin Rumeng turned on her phone and shared the contents of the conversation with Wu Tian and the others.

"Miss Yin, should I still call you Sister Yin?" The secretary looked very young, but there were many scars on his arms. There were also some tattoos. No matter how he looked at it, he did not look like a businessman. Instead, he looked more like a member of an underground organization.

"That's up to you, what are you looking for me for?"

"It's like this. Our Director Zhang wants to talk about cooperation with you and see if there's any way for you to give up our rights and interests at the site. Of course, our company will give you some compensation."

The secretary said with a smile. He understood very well that this was just a favor to him, so he didn't want to cause any trouble for him.

"You still have this kind of heart, but I want a lot of them. If you come here to get rid of the beggar, it won't do for me."

The secretary nodded slightly, as if she was prepared for it.

"You don't have to worry about that. We will definitely not treat you unfairly."

As she spoke, the secretary slowly walked to the S City map on the wall in Yin Rumeng's office and pointed to a certain location.
