C969 The Identity of the Mysterious Person

Wu Tian didn't have much of a reaction as he looked at the ban, as if he had expected it.

"I understand. I won't leave this place for the time being. However, I hope that you can make progress in your investigation as soon as possible."

Sunn Hongsheng nodded worriedly, then took out a cigarette and lit it up.

"Of course. Our police won't let a bad person go, nor will we wrongly accuse a good person."

Although he said that, a day later, the investigation still didn't have much effect. Even when Wu Tian tried his best to provide the police with the help their company could provide, there was still no progress.

The black car seemed to have disappeared from the world, and there were no more traces of it.

If the police were to investigate it on a large scale, the labor cost would be too high. This was something that Sunn Hongsheng and the others could not bear, and the police could not only investigate this matter.

Wu Tian didn't feel that his life was much different from before. Originally, he spent most of his time managing the work in Flower Island.

In such a tense environment, there was really some good news. In the evening, Cheng Gui received news that the mysterious person whom they had been monitoring had finally started to exchange for his things.

Cheng Gui, who had been preparing for a long time, immediately wrote down this person's account and excitedly sent the news to Wu Tian.

"Loong Yun, go and investigate who this account belongs to!"

Information on accounts was not enough. They needed to know where the head of household was. However, Wu Tian was not that worried about this matter. There were a lot of policemen on the Flower Island, so he could easily find out all the relevant information from them.

Very quickly, Loong Yun had already investigated everything.

"This is the account for Britain, the owner seems to be a foreigner, currently residing in a hotel in S City."

"Let's go take a look now! I just want to see who exactly is it that dares to come and cheat me of ten million! "

Wu Tian waved his fist. He still kept this in his heart. No matter what, he would punish this person.

How could he, Wu Tian, be easily bullied!

"President Wu, you're still grounded ..." Loong Yun smacked her lips. She didn't expect Wu Tian to want to leave as well.

"I will definitely go!" After being humiliated so much, Wu Tian decided that he had to take back the dignity he lost.

As for this restriction, to be honest, Wu Tian didn't care about it at all.

"Let's go out secretly and not let Sunn Hongsheng find out!"

Hearing Wu Tian's words, Loong Yun nodded helplessly in agreement. After all, Wu Tian was the boss.

After some preparation, Wu Tian got into a car and set off with Security Team.

They only had five or six people this time, so it wasn't very eye-catching. The police didn't pay much attention to them and just let them go.

At this time, the mysterious person still didn't know that a calamity was about to befall upon him. He had exchanged the FTC in his hand for money and was thinking about how to spend it.

Unexpectedly, there was a knock at the door.

He didn't think too much and immersed himself in his joy. He didn't have any vigilance and went to open the door. When he opened the door, he was dumbfounded when he saw Wu Tian.

"Why is it you?"

Wu Tian was also stunned, because he knew the person in front of him. She was the Liu Yue who had argued with him in court.

This was one of the people that Wu Tian hated the most recently. Wu Tian looked inside and confirmed that there was only one person in the room, which meant that he was tricked by the Liu Yue that he despised the most.

When Liu Yue saw Wu Tian's appearance and the few people behind him, she immediately realized that she had been exposed. She wanted to shut the door as soon as she saw Wu Tian, but Wu Tian had already snuck his body in.

He blocked the door with his body. Seeing that she wanted to escape, a few of them rushed forward to subdue Liu Yue.

Wu Tian sat on the sofa with mixed feelings. Looking at Liu Yue who was tied up like a dumpling, he couldn't figure out why.

"What enmity do I have with you ..." Why did you send such an email to fool me?
"Besides, how do you know my mailbox?"

This made Wu Tian very curious, his mailbox wouldn't be announced to the public under normal circumstances.

"I guess you really want to know the news about the Pritt consortium, so I sent an email to your email. I didn't think I would actually succeed ..."

"Then how did you know about my mailbox?"

If it was really because of his bad job of keeping the secret that this secret was leaked, Wu Tian felt that this was not a trivial matter and had to quickly make up for it.

"The items are in my pockets ..."

At this time, Liu Yue was completely terrified by the Security Team Enforcers. She didn't dare to lie. She would answer whatever Wu Tian asked her.

Wu Tian nodded at Loong Yun. Liu Yue was still a girl after all, so it wasn't appropriate for him to touch her body.

Loong Yun fumbled in her pocket a few times and really let her touch a card. She took it out and saw that it was the name card Wu Tian gave to the fat manager who gave it to Liu Yue.

Wu Tian's email address was clearly printed on it ...

Seeing this, Wu Tian also smiled. He didn't expect things to be so simple.

He rarely gave out business cards, and that was the only time he did. He only gave his name card to a few people, so Wu Tian didn't care about it at all.

He didn't expect Liu Yue to keep the business card so well and even did bad things with it.

"So that's how it is ..." Let me ask you, do you know anything about the Pulitzer Financial Group? "

Wu Tian knew there was no point in pestering this woman, so he just let his men let her go.

Liu Yue lowered her head and shook her head. She said somewhat timidly, "I was lying to you about all those things ..." It's because I'm so short of money right now that's why I said that. "

Hearing that, Wu Tian himself didn't know if he should be angry or find it funny.

Loong Yun walked over and wanted to teach this girl a lesson, but she was stopped by Wu Tian.

"Forget it, there's no need for us to bother with her. Take her away and hand her to Sunn Hongsheng. Let Sunn Hongsheng deal with her on the crime of fraud."

Wu Tian looked at Liu Yue coldly. He really didn't want to feel any hope or pity for her.

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 970 - Disclosing Clues

C970 Disclosing Clues

She seemed to feel that her fate had been arranged in a rather miserable manner. No matter how poor or miserable she was outside, she was still happier than in jail.

Thinking of this, Liu Yue quickly kneeled down, grabbed Wu Tian's pants and started crying.

"I beg of you ..." Don't let me go to jail, don't turn me over to the police. "

Wu Tian looked at the crying Liu Yue. At this moment, he didn't feel like she should be forgiven at all.

"The point is that you have no way to help me and you are a fraud. If you can provide information about the Pritt consortium then maybe I can consider letting you go."

Hearing those words, Liu Yue seemed to grasp at the last straw of hope. She nodded with all her might. She tilted her head and thought for a moment. Then she quickly said, "Although I don't know, I know who knows about these things."

"Let me remind you, if I find out that you are still lying to me, then you must be mentally prepared to accept anything that is possible."

Wu Tian's threat was very obvious. He didn't want to be treated like a fool again.

Liu Yue nodded with all her might. Her current appearance looked quite comical. Although she was dressed in a foreign manner, her face was covered in tears and snot. She looked very dirty, without any of the previous air about her.

Not to mention when she was at Britain, she rolled her eyes at Wu Tian and the others.

Now, even if she was given ten times the guts, she wouldn't dare to do it again.

"Don't worry, I've heard about the Pritt consortium. However, with my level, I have no way to contact their secrets. But I can give you directions, I know who will know about their secrets."

Hearing Liu Yue's words, Wu Tian and Loong Yun looked at each other. To be honest, the two of them were hesitating about what to do.

"Take her away, and bring her back to the Flower Island first."

Wu Tian waved his hand at her in the end. He pointed at Liu Yue. In any case, they definitely couldn't let her go.

"It's not appropriate for us to do this... "Firstly, she is not from our China. Secondly, would we violate the law by doing this? Furthermore, Sunn Hongsheng and the others are ..."

Wu Tian knew what she meant without Loong Yun finishing her sentence.

Indeed, they were currently being watched by thousands of people. Every single move they made at this moment could become their weakness.

"It would be too dangerous for us to take her back. She could easily be found."

After all, she was a living person and not a thing or object.

Seeing Loong Yun and Wu Tian argue, Liu Yue finally felt relieved. At least she wouldn't have to worry about her safety. They didn't seem to want to kill her because of this.

"Tell me what kind of people know about the Pritt consortium."

Wu Tian didn't directly answer Loong Yun's question. Instead, he turned his gaze towards Liu Yue, giving her a fright.

"He's a big boss in Britain and Chinatown. I grew up there since I was young. He knows everything."

Hearing Liu Yue's words, Wu Tian immediately sighed. He really had some expectations for her just now, but he didn't expect her to say such words. It really disappointed Wu Tian.

A large corporation like this was not something a big boss of Chinatown could come into contact with. Furthermore, it was not a place that hooligans could get their hands on.

Of course they'll tell you a lot if you ask them, but I'm afraid only a small part of it is true.

"What I said was true! You only need to go and see! I really didn't lie to you! "

Seeing that there was something wrong with Wu Tian's eyes, Liu Yue immediately emphasized that she wanted Wu Tian to trust her again.

"Why do I feel like I don't trust you that much ...?"

Wu Tian glanced at Liu Yue coldly and did not say much.

"How about this, how about I bring her to the Britain, then we'll know if what she says is true or not. If she's lying, I can kill her on the way back. "

Loong Yun heard that their negotiations seemed to have reached a stalemate, so she offered them a solution.

Wu Tian nodded as if he was deep in thought. This seemed to be a pretty good idea.

However, when Liu Yue heard that she was going to be killed, she immediately became extremely frightened, crying and making a ruckus. The room was filled with her voice.

Seeing her like this, Wu Tian felt that she should be telling the truth now. Such a timid girl like her wouldn't lie anymore now that the situation had become so serious.

But she still insisted that the boss knew everything. Could it be that everything she said was true?

After thinking about it, Wu Tian decided to follow them.

"How about this, you arrange a plane right now and we will go to Britain together. If what she says is true, then everything will be fine."

"How can that be? President Wu, you have to stay in the company. If Sunn Hongsheng finds out anything, if he can't find you ..."

"I can't care so much anymore. Our business is more important."

Wu Tian waved his hand. Anyway, he didn't kill anyone. No matter how hard Sunn Hongsheng and the others tried to investigate, he wouldn't be the murderer.

Sunn Hongsheng couldn't lie. He, Wu Tian, was also not someone to be easily bullied. Sunn Hongsheng and the others probably wouldn't do such a thing.

Seeing Wu Tian so insistent, Loong Yun didn't say anything more and went to complete the ticket procedures.

Although he was grounded, Wu Tian could contact some private jet. He didn't need to report to the airline to take the private jet to Britain, so naturally the police wouldn't know Wu Tian's whereabouts.

Originally, returning to the Britain should have been a happy thing for Liu Yue, but now, all kinds of feelings were mixed within her.

Although she did get on the plane back, there were two security guards on her left and right.

The muscles on their bodies were as hard as stone. With a single glance, it was obvious that they were filled with explosive power. Liu Yue seemed to have no intention of escaping.

She had no doubt that if she ran, the two of them would only need to hit her once before they could break her.

In front of absolute strength, any little intelligence was but a lie.

C971 Rascal

It was also on the plane that Sunn Hongsheng had cancelled his ban on Wu Tian after a series of attempts.

No matter what, Wu Tian didn't have evidence of a direct crime.

Furthermore, Wu Tian had all kinds of alibis, which were the type with surveillance videos.

Even if the police wanted to suspect Wu Tian, they couldn't link this matter with him.

It was only said that the corpse's Flower Island was lost, which in itself was a very bizarre situation.

After all, the dead did not die here ... Of course, Wu Tian naturally hid some of the information, so he couldn't reveal his secret.

However, Sunn Hongsheng still investigated wholeheartedly. It had to be said that stealing corpses was a way to expose himself.

When he stole the corpse, the person who benefited the most was naturally the murderer, or someone who wanted to catch the murderer's weakness.

As long as he found the body, he would understand.

Therefore, life made them decide to focus all their energy on this matter. Naturally, no one had the mind to care about Wu Tian.

The police had made their choice, but public opinion had reversed itself.

Quite a few people did not know what kind of news Wu Tian used to find out that he had left the China to go to the Britain. With what had happened recently, many netizens thought that Wu Tian was doing it for the sake of escaping.

Immediately, they started swearing at Wu Tian and Wu Group company on the web. Of course, some of them couldn't avoid the tempo.

It was like a stone that caused a thousand ripples. No one knew what the truth of the matter was. It was just that Wu Tian was now their target and had been beaten to a pulp.

However, while on the plane, Wu Tian didn't have the energy nor did he have the mood to bother with these questions. His entire mind was focused on thinking about this Pulitzer Financial Group.

He interrogated Liu Yue again and again. With regards to the information about the Pulitzer Financial Group, he also found out some questions.

For example, the patent battle this time, seemed to be the advice that the Pulitzer Corporation gave to those companies.

Of course, Wu Tian had already thought of this. After all, what happened happened was a bit sudden and it didn't have any warning signs.

It would not be normal to say that it had nothing to do with the Pulitzer Financial Group.

The plane quickly landed, and this time when they arrived at Britain, Wu Tian did not feel as fresh as before, because he knew that this place was not that much better than China.

"Hurry up and lead the way."

Loong Yun glared at Liu Yue. They got a car and drove directly towards the Chinatown that Liu Yue had mentioned.

"All these years, the boss of this place has always been Elder Chu. He is also the richest man in Chinatown. You must not underestimate us, the people here are all very strong. "

Liu Yue led them to Chinatown, where she had grown up.

It had to be said that these places were indeed impressive, and they looked quite impressive.

In one of the rooms, there was an ancient plaque with the words 'Yuexiang Branch Hall' written on it. It looked as if it had been hung on it since a hundred years ago.

"Is this the place?"

Wu Tian tidied up his clothes. After all, he was here to pay a visit, so he had to pay more attention to etiquette.

"That's right, I'll lead you in."

Liu Yue said in a submissive manner. Right now, she really didn't dare to make any moves, nor did she dare to do anything to go against Wu Tian.

Inside was a small pavilion with a tea table and a chair.

An old man was lying on the bed. He was wearing silk clothes and was leisurely basking in the sun. He was holding a purple clay teapot and looked very relaxed.

"Isn't this Liu Yue? Didn't you say she won't be back until the end of next month?"

The old man glanced at these people and noticed that he recognized some of them. He greeted them cordially.

"Grandpa Chu, quickly take a rest. I haven't brought you anything good either. How's your health recently?"

"You can buy anything you want right now, but if you can get me some special products from the China, that would be for the best! I miss our tea leaves that crossed the river. "

This Old Master surnamed Chu looked very amiable and talkative, which gave Wu Tian a good first impression.

It should be easier to communicate with your eyes.

"Right, who are these people?"

Old Master Chu looked at Wu Tian and the others. He felt that they looked a bit fierce.

Liu Yue hurriedly explained after hearing this, "Old Master, these people are here specifically to visit you. They came here from China."

Only after hearing Liu Yue's words did Old Master relax his guard a little, but he did not fully trust Wu Tian and the others.

"So that's how it is. Come quickly, please take a seat."

Although he was said to be the wealthiest person in Chinatown, his clothes were no different from those of the old ladies outside.

No one would have thought that he was so rich.

"May I know your name?"

Old Master Chu cupped his fist and looked at Wu Tian with interest. He was experienced and knowledgeable, so he immediately recognized Wu Tian as the pillar of support.

"My name is Wu Tian."

Wu Tian also responded very respectfully. He was quite respectful to this kind of old man.

"We are here to find out more about the Pulitzer consortium. If you know anything then I hope you can tell us something."

Hearing the words Pulitzer consortium, Old Master Chu's expression started to turn a little angry.

"What? Were you cheated by them?"

Hearing Old Master Chu's words, Wu Tian was also stunned. What kind of lie was this? Could it be that the Pulitzer Financial Group had done a lot of things in the Britain?

"What are you talking about? I don't quite understand. This Pulitzer consortium is currently oppressing my company, so I want to know more about them to see if there are any flaws. As for the deception you spoke of just now, I think they ... "

After hearing Wu Tian's explanation, Old Master Chu understood Wu Tian's intentions for coming here.

"Don't mention it. I get angry whenever I think of it! At that time, this Pulitzer consortium had a new person with the surname Zhang. I saw that he also belonged to our China, so I gave him an investment.

"What happened after that?"

Wu Tian got excited listening to it and felt that there must be a lot of stories in it.

"Later on, these people took my money but did not give me any shares. They signed a promissory note and threw it to me. Afterwards, the entire company ran off!"

Thinking about this matter, Old Master Chu hated it very much. This was not a small number. Even if he was the richest man in the world, there would inevitably be some damage.

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 972 - Causative Outcome of the Event

C972 Causative Outcome of the Event

Seeing Old Master's attitude surprised Wu Tian.

He didn't think that there would actually be someone who had the same idea as he did. He just wanted the Pulitzer consortium to die as soon as possible.

"Do they owe others a lot of money?" Wu Tian asked about his doubts tentatively. Although he was mentally prepared before, he was still very surprised when he heard it in his ears.

What was this Pulitzer consortium planning to do that they would actually owe others so much money?

"Don't mention it!" Old Master Chu said as he almost smashed the purple clay teapot in his hands.

Lili, who was standing nearby, was shocked. She shrunk her body and stood far away.

Wu Tian and Loong Yun exchanged glances, they both felt that they came to the right place this time.

Luckily, he chose to believe Liu Yue. Otherwise, he wouldn't be able to know these things.

"Old Master, you have to talk it out with me. Maybe we can cooperate!"

Wu Tian started to have some ideas in his mind. He wasn't willing to miss such a good opportunity.

"Cooperation? How can we work together?" Old Master Chu was confused. To be honest, he didn't know how strong this young man in front of him was.

"You can tell me about the Pulitzer consortium."

Old Master Chu nodded as if he had thought of something. This young man didn't seem to be a bad person. Even if he said those things, he shouldn't have any problems.

"Alright, actually, we were too stupid back then. If you come to the Britain frequently, you should be able to see it.

We don't actually have a very good life here. If they want to succeed, they only need to put in 5 points of effort, but as expatriates, we have to put in 20 points of effort. Even if we do that, we still might not be able to get the reward we deserve.

So in the last few years, every single one of us in the diaspora actually wanted us to have a strong company or company that could represent us in the diaspora. "

When Old Master Chu talked about these things, he was really describing this scene, which made the two of them relish in listening.

These words couldn't be false. Liu Yue, who was beside him, was a good example. Why did she want to please her white superior? That was the reason.

The reason why they looked down on Wu Tian and the others was also because of the strong fanaticism of the converts.

In order to gain the recognition of the white man, they had to keep separating themselves from their own people. This was a very foolish action.

However, if they did so, it would only make their situation worse.

"What did the Pulitzer consortium do after that?"

Old Master Chu took a sip of water, nodded and said, "Don't worry, there's more coming."

"The person they started with should be surnamed Zhang, I forgot what his name is. This person started raising money in our Chinatown, visiting us old people who had a little money every day. We gave him some money to act as a voice." "Actually, it wasn't much in the beginning, just a few hundred million."

Wu Tian suddenly felt like he had misunderstood something. Although their circumstances were difficult, they were indeed very rich. An existence that was far beyond his imagination.

"With just these few hundred million, he's still doing quite well. Elder Zhang started developing the company, and later on, he started to continuously raise funds, constantly saying that he's going to strengthen the prestige and influence of our people. We were temporarily confused by him, so we continued to invest for him." "Now that I think about it, he was really too naive."

"Does that mean the debt starts to go higher and higher? But if they do business properly, wouldn't they have so many problems? "

Old Master Chu shook his head, obviously disagreeing with Wu Tian's suggestion.

"You are too naive. This Elder Zhang was like this at the beginning and started to make real estate noises. At the same time, he also started to have a lot of money in his hands and his business also became better and better."

However, this made him very popular. He didn't expect that his competitors would find out about this.

Those white people started to give the Pulitzer consortium trouble, and Elder Zhang's company started to lose money. "

Wu Tian and Loong Yun listened very seriously, even taking notes as they listened.

"But if we lose money like this, then we definitely won't say anything. After all, this is normal, how can it be possible to always make money and not lose money.

But this Elder Zhang really disappoints us a little. To obtain the project, he actually started to collude with the white people's companies, buying our Chinatown land at a low price, then building our real estate and selling it at a high price. Isn't this using our flesh and blood to earn money from him ...

It was also at this time that we realized, there might be a problem with this Pulitzer Corporation, because they have started to pay back their debts on time. "

Old Master Chu's tone became heavy. His expression showed that he was somewhat blaming himself.

To be honest, this sort of thing was completely deceptive. In such an environment, only a few people could see the reality clearly.

"In that case, I think I understand. I have to say, this Elder Zhang is exaggerating the truth. If he couldn't do it himself, then he shouldn't have promised at the beginning. Now it's fine, he can't even pay the money he owes."

Wu Tian also started to feel emotional, but he felt that this was a pretty good opportunity.

If he himself could do anything, it would be equivalent to picking up a powerful gun. These huge amounts of bonds were like the sword in the head of the Pulitzer consortium, they could kill him at any time.

But now that the Pulitzer consortium had reached China, if they wanted to use this kind of method to get the money, they would first deny it and drag it out as long as they could.

"I really don't know if we can still see our money. I might have invested over a billion into it!"

Wu Tian rolled his eyes and smiled at Old Master Chu, "Do you still have a lot of people like you? I have a request here, if not directly from you, can you agree to it?"

"Tell me about it first." Old Master Chu didn't know what Wu Tian was planning.

"I want to see these people. If possible, it would be best if we can gather them all together. We can hold a meeting to see if there are any solutions to this problem."
