

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 995 - Retribution

C995 Retribution

Boss Wu drank a lot of wine, but he didn't know when he fell drunk.

However, when he woke up, he had no idea how much time had passed.

When he came out of the bar, a breeze blew past. Boss Wu felt that his body was a little itchy, so he scratched his head.

However, when he scratched, his entire body began to crawl like an ant, and every part of him began to itch.

"Strange, did I not take a bath or am I allergic?"

Boss Wu was puzzled, why did his entire body suddenly itch at the same time?

He hurriedly scratched here and there, but this kind of method was nothing more than a drop in the bucket.

Just as he was about to collapse, the itching on his skin suddenly disappeared. At the last moment, the Wu family's boss calmed down.

After some thought, he decided that he should hurry home. After taking a bath, he would probably be fine.

He thought he was allergic, but when the boss came home to take a bath, he found that his skin wasn't red or swollen at all, so he decided to forget about it.

As a result, he felt like he had fallen into hell for the next few days.

Every day, he would suddenly feel an intense itch at an unknown time. And not a single part of his body was intact.

No matter how he scratched it, or how he applied the ice and hot water on it, Boss Wu had tried everything he could, but it was useless.

Boss Wu hurried to the hospital, but the doctor could not find the cause of the disease.

because his skin looks normal... There didn't seem to be any skin disease. There were even quite a few doctors who suggested that he go to the Psychiatric Department to have a look. They thought that Boss Wu was suffering from some kind of hallucination.

Knowing that going to the hospital wouldn't have any effect, Boss Wu really didn't know what to do.

At this time, someone told him that there was a doctor in a small clinic in S City who could treat this kind of illness.

Boss Wu had no other choice at this time. Regardless of whether this rumor was true or not, he had already decided to take a look.

When they arrived at the place, it was Loong Zaian who received Boss Wu. With regards to Boss Wu's situation, he concocted a set of medicine for him without any hesitation.

"This disease of yours, there's only one way to cure it, it's the Five-Colored Butterfly's scales."

Loong Zaian said thoughtfully, but at least he gave him a plan to treat him.

"Doctor, where do I have to go get this medicine?"

"That I don't know. I heard that this medicine is very expensive, and the people who sell it shouldn't be many ..."

"But that doesn't matter! I have plenty of money now! "

Boss Wu didn't care about anything now. He already had a vague feeling that his next round of harassment was about to come. It was a feeling that made him want to die.

Therefore, if he could spend money to solve this problem, he would be more than happy to do so.

"Alright, I can give you the medicine then. But you have to be mentally prepared. I'm afraid the price will not be low."

Seeing him like this, Loong Zaian could only nod his head. Actually, this thing was set up by Wu Tian.

Although it was a bit sinister, Wu Tian felt that this was his due.

If Boss Wu hadn't been the first to do something bad, he wouldn't have used such a method to deal with him.

Soon, Loong Zaian gave Boss Wu a bag of pills. Just this small bag of medicine could manage two days, but its price was already over a million.

Although Boss Wu was a bit distressed over the money, he still paid for it. He found it to be very useful as he didn't feel itchy for two days straight.

The next few days, he came here again and again to buy medicine, but the price of medicine kept rising.

"It's already five million now, doctor, how could it be so expensive!"

Boss Wu had one hundred million yuan in his possession. However, if the cost was that high, even he might not be able to handle it.

"I have no choice in this matter. The cheaper the raw materials are, the more expensive it is. I'm only taking them from someone else. If you think it's unreliable, you can actually take the initiative to ask someone else for them."

Loong Zaian didn't care. After all, Loong Zaian wasn't the one who was itching.

Although Boss Wu was reluctant, he still paid the money.

In less than a week, he had spent almost all of his 100 million.

He spent a lot of money just to buy the antidote. Boss Wu was worried that the money for the antidote would continue to rise, so he just bought a lot for 5 million each.

However, spending money like this was not enough. After spending 100 million, he had no choice but to place his sights on his own company.

He was the boss of the company and began to misappropriate some of the company's liquidity.

In just two weeks, Boss Wu had almost used up all of his savings.

However, the disease that had been tormenting him for so long still hadn't recovered. He could only rely on the two packets of medicine he received every day.

This itch had become even more powerful. Once it started to act up, it would make people wish they were dead.

What made things worse was that the supplier and customers above and below all started to protest.

Their delivery went wrong because Wu's boss misappropriated the money. These people all chose to stop cooperating with him.

For a moment, the entire company was stuck in a deadlock. Even the Wu family's boss didn't know what to do.

Stopping work meant that he wouldn't be able to earn money. If he couldn't earn money, it meant that he wouldn't be able to buy medicine. This was a dead end.

At this time, the boss of the Wu family had already reached the point where he had no other choice. Recalling the matter of Wu Tian coming to buy Niu Tengyun, he couldn't help but secretly regret his decision and beat his chest and stomp his feet.

If he had accepted the money and fulfilled the contract, he might not have suffered this retribution.

Thinking about this, he suddenly realized that he might have another chance. If Wu Tian still wanted Niu Tengyun, he might be willing to pay another price to buy him.

He didn't know where the courage came from, but Boss Wu contacted Wu Tian and expressed his opinion.

He was full of expectation that Wu Tian would agree to his request, but he didn't expect Wu Tian to directly hang up on Boss Wu.

What kind of joke was that? He messed with Wu Tian a lot back then. He didn't have any money now, so he turned back to Wu Tian. Wasn't he messing with him?

Although Boss Wu was full of expectation, he even went to Wu Tian's company.

However, Wu Tian was very kind and directly kicked this guy out.

"I don't need it now. You'd better go far away." Wu Tian only said one sentence and chased this guy away.

Since Boss Wu heard this, he didn't know what to do. On the drive back, he was in a daze.

When he arrived at the entrance of the company, he saw that there seemed to be a few people standing there, pointing with their briefcase towards the inside.

"You are?" Boss Wu got out of the car and looked at them, not knowing what they were up to.

"Are you an employee here? We heard that this place was going to make a move, so we wanted to come over and take a look, but it seems like the boss isn't here. "

The man in the suit said politely. He even passed Boss Wu a cigarette.

Boss Wu was a bit shocked. He had never said those words before, why did these people say they were here to buy a company? He really didn't know what was going on.

"I don't know either. You should go back." What a joke, Boss Wu still doesn't have any plans to sell his company.

"Sir, please wait a moment. This is our name card. If your boss wants to do that, let him contact us."

As he said that, the man in the suit handed over a name card, which said "XX Investment Company".

Boss Wu originally didn't want it, but somehow, he still accepted it. As Boss Wu watched these people leave, he still looked at their backs and felt that it was very strange.

"What kind of person is this, it's so strange." The moment he finished, before he even reached the door of the company, his itch started to cause him to lose his balance. He laid on the ground like a bug, constantly twisting.

Many of the surrounding bystanders saw his sudden movement, no one knew what was going on and no one dared to come over, nor did they dare to speak as they watched from afar.

Only Boss Wu was alone at the entrance of his company. He screamed helplessly, but he couldn't say anything good. It wasn't the first time he met something like this.

Boss Wu had also gained some experience. He tried his best to crawl to the side, turn on the tap and use the cold water to stimulate himself.

However, when he saw that the tap was right beside him, he could no longer stand. He couldn't even keep thinking calmly in his head anymore.

At this moment, the people in the company saw their boss fall at the door and quickly ran out to move him back.

After a period of tormenting, Boss Wu had finally calmed down after half an hour. However, all of his clothes had been torn to shreds and his clothes were drenched in sweat.

"Boss, are you alright?"

A staff member came over to look at his boss. He was now lying on a sofa, unable to move at all.

Now that there was no longer any business in the company, and even the salary could no longer be paid, many employees had resigned.

The once popular company was now left with only a few people.

Of course, Niu Tengyun still hadn't left the company.

Boss Wu looked at the employee who was talking to him, then retracted his weak gaze. He took out the name card from his body while trembling.

Previously, he thought he would never be able to do that. After all, he poured a lot of effort into this company, but now, compared to that heart-wrenching itch, Boss Wu only wanted a moment of peace.

"It's alright, you guys don't have to worry. It's just that I'm a bit sorry to you guys." Boss Wu took out his cell phone, smiled at his employee and went to the side to make a phone call.

Very quickly, those people in suits drove their cars back to the company.

Looking at Boss Wu's listless and weak appearance, they were all shocked, not knowing what had happened.

However, they still exchanged glances with each other and quietly discussed the matter of the purchase.

"Well, we are an investment company, and the main business is to buy some of the companies that are going out of business, change their systems, and sell them. You should know this. "

The one leading them was actually Nangong Ying. This guy was now sent by Wu Tian, and the higher-ups of their original Nanhe Securities Corporation had already been pushed out.

"I know, but my company is very good! It's not like they're going to close down! " Boss Wu didn't seem to be satisfied with these words, but he didn't have any reason to say it now.

"Alright, Boss Wu, I know what you mean, but we are sure of the price. You have to be mentally prepared."

Nangong Ying had a smile on his face. He had done this kind of thing who knows how many times. He had already gotten used to it, so there was nothing to be surprised about.

"I got it, name a price, I'm going to sell the company." Boss Wu seemed to be in a trance. At this moment, he felt like it was the next time the itch was about to hit him.

The few remaining employees not far away also heard this. Their expressions were very complicated.

"I thought the company would try harder, but after selling it, will there be more here?"

"I don't care who's the boss. The key is, if this company is still here, then it would be great. My home is close to this place, and I can even take care of the kids."

Niu Tengyun didn't say a word. He just looked at Boss Wu silently.

"The price, in our opinion, is only 100 million." Nangong Ying's price was very low. Honestly speaking, this place was not small at all.

"One hundred million huh ..." Boss Wu didn't feel that this price was too low. To be honest, in a company without people, the remaining value was only these machines and fields.

At this moment, Boss Wu looked at his few remaining employees, and his gaze suddenly fell on Niu Tengyun.

"Sure, but I have a request. We must keep this company!"

Boss Wu suddenly stood up and then kneeled down. Everyone present was shocked and didn't know what he was going to do.
