

Chapter 104 Entrapment

At Lin Fang's pleas, Chen Yuzhou glared at her annoyingly, "As my girlfriend, how could you plea for another man?"

Lin Fang had tears all over her face. She seemed concerned, but she didn't know what else to do.

Looking at how miserably she cried, my heart ached, but I couldn't feel thankful of her at all. Always jumping sides, it only served to irritate me, if not disgust me.

"Zhang Chao, don't be hiding behind a woman's pleas now. We the Black Dragons are reasonable people after all. Today, you leave one of your arms behind, and we'll walk away. I know you're a fighter, but we have numbers. You'll probably get out of this unscathed, but that girl behind you won't. So, either you leave your arm with us, or we'll have some loving time with that girl behind you."

Before I could even speak, Chu Xiaoxiao already burst out, "Why don't you go crying to your ma if you needed love so much!?"

I was going to get mad at them, but now, I just wanted to laugh. Chu Xiaoxiao really was something, always knowing exactly what to say.

Jin almost jumped in rage at her retort, and pointed at her with his shaky fingers, "I'll be damned if we let you walk out of this place alive today!"

When Lin Fang heard that they wanted one of my arms, tears of regret finally flowed from her face. She finally realized that all of this was only Chen Yuzhou's elaborate scheme to get back at me, and that he used her it, but there was already nothing she could do now.

At this point, Chen Yuzhou gave up all manners of pretense. He waved his hand at Jin, "Jin, give him a beatdown first. Do put on a good show for me. Oh, and remember, be creative about it."

I knew that careful and composed man back there couldn't have been Chen Yuzhou. Instead, Chen Ruhai probably taught him to say all that he did. This man before me right now, flaunting and gloating in his sense of superiority, this was who Chen Yuzhou really is.

And those so called "classmates" of mine, all they ever did was watch on with interest. Nobody even tried to speak up for me, or tried to call the police at all that was happening around this place.

Chen Yuzhou continued to gloat, "Zhang Chao, you wouldn't happen to be waiting for Big Long would you? Let me let you in on a little secret, I hired someone to get him drunk. Right now, he shouldn't be able to even walk properly. No one will be able to save you today."

Chen Yuzhou laughed, there was a hint of insanity in his laughter. All this time of being trumped over by me must have been a little too hard to accept for some with a head as big as his is. And today, he was finally getting that sweet taste of revenge.

I said, "That was pretty well planned, I must say. You've waited for this day for a long while now have you?"

Chen Yuzhou didn't even try to deny it, "That I have. For maybe a month, give or take."

I looked at Lin Fang's eyes with my own reddened eyes, "So you two were together since a month ago?"

Lin Fang averted my gaze, afraid of meeting my eyes. She regretted what she has done, but she didn't dare defy Chen Yuzhou's wills.

Jin yell impatiently, "Just cut all this damned chatters! You're all alone today, and no one will come to your aid. Change of plan, either your arm, or your life. Take your pick."

They planned this, and I stepped into their trap.

I lowered my head and said softly and apologetically to Chu Xiaoxiao, "Looks like I put you in a bind. Later on, I'll make an opening for you, leave when you have the chance."

But she wouldn't agree with me, no matter how hard I tried to persuade her, "The only way that either of us will leave, is together. How could I leave you to face this danger alone? Besides, you're thinking too much. You think that those two trash of society, Chen Yuzhou and that Jin of his, would let me go in peace?"

I knew what Chu Xiaoxiao said was true, but if at all possible, I really didn't want to put her in danger...

Jin tapped his foot impatiently, "Done choosing yet?"

"How about if we choose 'no'?"

Right this moment, a loud voice boomed from upstairs, with power and anger.

A man ran down the stairways. With each step he took, the whole stairway shook and creaked. Though the Spring Garden was built on an older establishment, all the furnishing had been built anew, but under this man's foot, the stairway trembled and almost looked as if it would give way to his weight at any seconds.

And then it hit me, Zhao Zichen's Red Lanterns are also having a gathering upstairs!

And this bulging mass of a man, was Meng, Zhao Zichen's right hand man. Or atleast, one of them.

Meng nodded at me, and also coming down behind him was a group of Red Lanterns, having filled their tummies with food. I looked around and behind them, and of course, Zhao Zichen himself was nowhere to be seen.

Jin and the rest of the Black Dragons were shocked, and looked on as more and more Red Lanterns appeared behind Meng, with gaping mouths.

To add to their stress, those Red Lanterns seemed to be on pretty good terms with me, and it seemed like they were going to back me up in this fight.

Some time ago, Zhao Zichen brought his Red Lanterns here to have a feast, but unfortunately Chu Xiaoxiao had booked this entire floor, so I had him bring his people to one of the private rooms upstairs.

With all that was happening, I actually forgot about them. But now, the Red Lanterns came to my aid.

Coming near me, Meng greeted me with a pat on my shoulder, and asked me if I was alright. I answered and asked him in a low voice where their boss was, and he gave me a 'silence' gesture and shook his head.

Jin mocked him, "Meng, so you finally went backward and accepted just anyone into the Red Lantern? Doesn't the Red Lantern have standards anymore? How fitting of a useless bunch, teaming with useless people."

With more and more Red Lanterns coming down from the stairs, both Chen Yuzhou and Jin wanted to call this fight off. This really wasn't their day today. After all, who would have known that my help was right upstairs?

Jin wanted to back out of this fight, so he only attacked me verbally, trying to turn this into a battle of tongues. Chen Yuzhou seemed to have similar ideas, and the two of them laughed and jeered at me, mocking me that I was merely a little security guard and a part time driver, unworthy of a highclassed place such as this.
