

Chapter 173 Unforgettable

"I—I'm doing this on Chu Xiaoxiao's behalf. If something happens between you and Lin Fang, I—I'll castrate you for Chu Xiaoxiao."

I felt a chill in my lower body when she said that and I smiled wryly. "Alright, that's enough. Enough of the nonsense. Hurry up and drive the car over. It's not that far from your house. Oh yes, I still have one thing that I need you to do..."

I turned to glance at Lin Fang's room to make sure she was not eavesdropping, and quickly whispered to Qingqing. Then, I heard Lin Fang's steps approach me from behind, and I hung up the phone.

Lin Fang asked me if we could leave yet, and I told her that I was waiting for someone to bring my car over. We sat on the sofa to wait. I was planning other matters, and Lin Fang kept watching me. We just sat there until she could not stand it anymore. "Let's... do something?"

I knew what she was thinking. She was wondering why the drug had not taken effect.

I pretended not to understand her. "I'm not interested in doing anything. We're going out later anyway. I'm a bit tired now."

Lin Fang continued to ask, "Your face was really red just now. Were you feeling warm?"

"I was really warm just now. I suspect that I was poisoned. I underwent anti-drug training in the army though. Most drugs do not affect me."

I observed Lin Fang's eyes as I spoke. Her pupils clearly constricted slightly. There was no need to hypothesize. There had been an aphrodisiac in the cup of tea.

It was not past eight and the loan sharks had not shown up. This was probably because Lin Kang was not around. Instead, Qingqing arrived. She called me to come downstairs and get the key from her.

Lin Fang was dressed to the nines. Her high heels were unsuitable for walking downstairs, and she had to make her way down step-by-step, lifting the hem of her skirt.

While I "tenderly" helped her, I could not help but wonder at the absurdity of this woman. She was already living in such dire straits—the corridors filled with particularly vulgar curse words—yet she still wore a beautiful evening dress as if nothing had happened.

I really could not understand how she could be so detached and yet so vain.

Qingqing had been waiting downstairs for a while. The weather was a bit chilly, but her clothes were a bit thin. She stomped her feet and gave me an annoyed look.

Lin Fang was clinging to my arm. When she spotted Qingqing, she raised her chin into the air and stuck her chest out.

Qingqing rolled her eyes. "A chicken shouldn't pretend to be a phoenix."

Normally, Lin Fang would never argue with Qingqing because she would lose. Today, however, Lin Fang tugged at me and gave me a pitiful look. "Zhang Chao, why did she say that?"

I figured I would act the part and appease her with a few words. After all, I still had a good show arranged for her later.

But before I could open my mouth, Qingqing pointed her finger straight at Lin Fang and, like a firecracker that had been lit, started scolding her. "Why am I saying that? Isn't it the truth? Why are you clinging on to Zhang Chao? Did you break your leg and can't stand, or have your personal shortcomings resulted in a physical disability? Don't you know whose boyfriend this is?!"

"You..."

Qingqing interrupted Lin Fang, not giving her a chance to speak, "Me? I think something's wrong with your brain so I'm giving you a free wake-up call. Do you even consider yourself a human? Chu Xiaoxiao has been so nice to you, while you discard people once you have no use for them. When she treated you like her sister, why didn't you say she was arrogant? Also, when you didn't know Zhang Chao was rich, you kept leading two men on every day. No one knew about it but me because I was keeping an eye on your work attendance! You attached yourself to Chen Yuzhou, and the whole company knew about it. You even got engaged, then Chen Yuzhou suddenly dumped you. Do you dare to tell Zhang Chao why you two suddenly broke up? We all knew that your family wanted a dowry of three million but his family refused. You then chose to break up with him. Why didn't you tell Zhang Chao about this?!"

Lin Fang was bright red, but there was nothing she could say to Qingqing. After a long time, she could only come back with a "Damn you!"

Qingqing sneered. She had the upper hand in this fight. She kept her finger aimed at Lin Fang's face and ruthlessly continued, "Lin Fang, you've been working in Lutong Advertisements for two years now. I might know you better than Chu Xiaoxiao and Zhang Chao. We used to have a good relationship, but every time Lu Tong told me off, you wouldn't even talk to me. I knew from the start what a snob you are."

Lin Fang had already lost. Even though she was very frustrated, all she could say to me was, "Zhang Chao, don't listen to her. She's always been jealous of me. You know how it is, she's just a receptionist with no status in the company. That's why she's trying to frame me."

I did not say anything, because there was no need and no place for me to say anything.

There was no need for me to speak up for Qingqing, and I was not strong enough to help Lin Fang face Qingqing.

Lin Fang had been absolutely berated by Qingqing. She had nothing to say in her defense, while Qingqing's attacks were becoming bolder.

"In your eyes, everyone is jealous of you. Even kings and queens are jealous of you. You know very well what kind of person you are. Zhang Chao fell out with Chen Yuzhou because of you. Where were you when Chen Yuzhou put him in prison?"

"I saved Zhang Chao!" Lin Fang suddenly cried out.

Qingqing scoffed. "Really? If you saved Zhang Chao, why would Chu Xiaoxiao distance herself from you? Lin Fang, you're a failure of a human being. Even your best friend distanced herself from you. Do you dare speak the truth? When Zhang Chao was in prison, you immediately hooked up with Chen Yuzhou. Do you dare to tell him that?!"

"You're lying, there's no proof!" Lin Fang's rose in pitch. Qingqing just turned and walked away as if nothing had happened.

Lin Fang was all worked up. "Are you just going to watch her slander me like this?"

She had just asked me that when Qingqing spun around and told her, "Oh, one more thing I forgot. From tomorrow, I'm no longer a receptionist. I'm Lutong's administrative staff. I can put official pressure on you. Why should I be jealous of you?"

Scolding complete, Qingqing turned and walked away without giving Lin Fang a chance to react.

Lin Fang was gasping with anger. Her tears threatened to fall and she stamped her feet indignantly.

"You promoted her?" she asked me. "She's just a receptionist. How can you promote her?"

I smiled. "But she's good at her job. She's never made any mistakes with our clients."

"She...she scolded me..." Lin Fang whispered to herself. Then, she probably realized that since she was only my fake girlfriend for a day, I was not going to rescind Qingqing's promotion for her. There was no point in getting distressed about it.

I gave her a few false words of comfort, then chivvied her into the car.

"Where did you arrange to meet them?"

Lin Fang had been unhappy, but her mood lightened after getting into a luxury car.

"At Spring Garden. It's one of your restaurants, isn't it? We can save money if we treat guests there."

I wanted to curse her out, but I just smiled in response. I knew that Lin Fang wanted me to show off to our old classmates and improve her reputation. The good show I had arranged happened to be there as well.

This was definitely going to be an unforgettable "show". Lin Fang was going to remember it for the rest of her life!
