

Chapter 179 Pretense

Suddenly, there was a banging on the door. I was about to make my move, but quickly held back and continued pretending to be unconscious. Liu Rong jumped and let go of the noose. He glanced at Lin Fang, eyebrows raised.

"Zhang Chao, are you in there?" Chu Xiaoxiao's voice came from the other side of the door.

Liu Rong asked in surprise, "Why is there someone here?"

"I called them," Lin Fang replied in a bored tone.

"You're crazy! Crazy woman, do you want me dead?!"

She said in a faraway tone, "There's a big closet in the back. You can hide there. Give me ten minutes, then when you kill Zhang Chao, no one will suspect you."

Liu Rong sounded doubtful. "What are you doing?"

"That's Zhang Chao's girlfriend outside the door. In a moment, she'll come in and catch Zhang Chao in bed with me. I know what her temper is like. She'll go crazy and fight him..."

"Oh really? And if she doesn't?"

"Hoho, if not, she's still going to be the one who killed him. The knife will be covered in her fingerprints and bloodstains. Even if she's unconscious at the scene, she'll still be the murderer. Don't worry."

Liu Rong smirked. "You're using someone else to commit murder."

"I'm not using someone else, Mr. Liu," she said, "You need to forget about that concept. Chu Xiaoxiao is the murderer here."

They chuckled together. I heard Liu Rong's footsteps move towards the back of the room I was in and heard the closet door open and close.

Lin Fang heaved me up from the floor. That was when I realized that we were in her rental. I had been here before, but it had never felt as terrifying as a demon's den as it did now.

I had also never expected that Lin Fang could be as terrifying as a demon. She was using such a vicious strategy to harm both Xiaoxiao and me!

Did this woman even have a heart?

I was filled with remorse. If I had never helped her and saved her, and never fell for her, this would never have happened.

While I had previously never regretted my feelings for her and never hated her, I was now regretting everything. I thought she was just a vain and flighty woman, but she was even more venomous than a snake.

In the darkness, I slowly opened my eyes, just happening to meet Lin Fang's gaze head-on.

She gasped in shock, perhaps because of my bloodshot eyes. But once she realized that I could not move, she relaxed again.

"What are you doing?" I asked hoarsely.

Lin Fang's giggle was definitely abnormal, it sounded as if she had cut ties with the real world.

She laid a kiss on my forehead, pressed her palm to my chest, and tore my shirt apart. She leaned on my chest for a moment's rest, then began to undress herself. She very quickly stripped down to her underwear, revealing her beautiful body.

In the darkness, the beautiful promise of her naked body felt more like being seduced by Medusa, the Greek Gorgon with venomous snakes as hair. I would never have guessed that Lin Fang was this type of person.

She burrowed into my arms and kissed my cheeks. I could feel that she was crying, and her body was trembling. She laid multiple soft and hot kisses on my earlobes and my neck, weeping as she did so.

I scoffed. "What are you still pretending for? Just kill me already."

"You can't bear to part with Chu Xiaoxiao, can you? I want to kill you because you deserve it. You don't love me anymore, that's as good as dying. Will you still hate me when you're dead? I would rather you hate me than forget me. Do you know what I hate most about you? I hate that look on your face that says you don't care. Why don't you care that I've done so many horrible things to you?"

I could barely speak. I had only just opened my mouth when Lin Fang continued, "You love Chu Xiaoxiao. Are you willing to do anything for her? I want to destroy the woman you love. Zhang Chao, you don't know how much you've hurt me. I can't wait to kill you, but I can't bear to kill you. What should I do?!"

Chu Xiaoxiao was still banging on the door outside. Maybe I was hearing things, but to me, it sounded more like she was here to save me rather than to catch me cheating.

I said coldly, "You've already said everything. You say you love me, but you didn't treasure the time I loved you. You waited until I stopped loving you, then you wanted it back for your own pride. Lin Fang, you've never loved anyone before. You only care about yourself. Leave Xiaoxiao alone, or I'll make you regret it for the rest of your life."

She puffed up with anger and sat up suddenly and her fair cleavage bounced.

"Even now, you're still speaking up for her! What's so good about that bitch?"

"Leave her alone. I told you, if you touch her, I'll make you regret it for the rest of your life."

Lin Fang laughed and said tearfully, "I'm looking forward to your making me regret this. I'll be so happy if you haunt me when you're dead. I'll let your darling in now, Zhang Chao, remember, I can't bear for you to die, but you don't belong to me when you're alive..."

Then, she got up to open the door.

I struggled to move and managed to sit up. The woman had become perverted in her insanity!

The sound of the door opening came from outside. Chu Xiaoxiao must be shocked to see Lin Fang barely dressed.

After that, I heard Chu Xiaoxiao's hurried footsteps as she ran in, Lin Fang following her.

"Xiaoxiao, don't blame Zhang Chao. He was drunk... You know how he used to like me," Lin Fang murmured weakly.

Oh my God, this woman should have been an actress. She would definitely get an Oscar.

Lin Fang made it sound like I had bullied her. "Men are like that. If you want to blame someone, blame me. Zhang Chao told me that he did use to like you. You're such a good woman, he even dreamed about sleeping with you. But now that he's got you, he remembered me. He just wanted the taste of something fresh..."

Lin Fang was halfway through her babbling when a slap cracked across her face.

Lin Fang was surprised by the blow. Chu Xiaoxiao followed it up with a few more hits, much harder this time. Lin Fang was knocked down to the floor, bleeding from her mouth. I pushed myself into a sitting position, and watched Lin Fang cover her face in shock.

Chu Xiaoxiao was furious. She spotted the fruit knife on the bedside table and snatched it up.
